Dominion Rubber System Belting is Uniform and Dependable

A uniformly high quality of materials put together by a process into which no element of chance can possibly enter insures an infallible uniformity of construction.

This gives to our transmission and conveyor belting a sturdy dependability that enables it to carry loads in excess of its intended capacity.

This dependability for service is maintained throughout our entire organization and it is on this basis that all of our products have been made for more than fifty years.

Although uniformity, dependability, economy and satisfaction are built into each foot of our belting, we maintain a staff of belting experts to make its dependability doubly certain.

These experts will analyze all of your belting equipment without charge, and any recommendations they may make will provide a belt that will not only live up to our claim for dependability but it will create a greater efficiency in your plant.

This service is obtainable through any of our service branches. Phone, wire or write the one nearest to you and let us prove its value to your satisfaction.

The Urbanites Will Be Allowed to Keep Pigs Within City Limits

Matter Was Discussed at Meeting of Local Board of Health—Wrapping Bread.

MILK TESTS

The Board of Health dealt with several important questions at a meeting held yesterday afternoon. The question of keeping pigs within the city limits came up for discussion, and Dr. C. H. Amys, M.O.H., left the impression that although he was opposed to having pigs inside the city, he would not object if a citizen already had a pen and was keeping the pigs within bounds, and everything was kept in a cleanly manner.

Paint the Hospital.

Miss Alice M. Price, matron of Queen Mary Isolation Hospital, asked for painting and other improvements to the hospital. The chairman and Mr. Murty moved and seconded a resolution to advertise for tenders for painting of the hospital.

Three petitions for sewers were received, one from Mr. W. J. Robson and others on Dublin Street, for a sewer from Gilchrist to Park Streets, another from Mr. Tony Fibian, 543 Gilchrist Street, for a sewer on Gilchrist Street, between McDonnel and London Streets, and another one from Mr. David Mahood, 19 Conger Street, who asked that a sewer be constructed on that street.

On motion of Dr. Amys, seconded by Mr. Murty, the Mayor and the chairman were authorized to investigate the requests, with authority to report to the Board of Works and make such recommendations as they deem advisable.

Wrapping Bread.

The City Council's letter regarding the wrapping of bread, which was favoured by the Board of Health at a previous meeting, but which met with short shrift at the hands of the aldermen on account of the tendency to raise the price of bread, was read, and Dr. Amys promptly moved a resolution, asking that the City Council be asked to act, if only on sanitary grounds. He thought that the tendency to advance in price was no excuse. He said that two bread companies in the city were in favour of wrapping bread.

After a great deal of discussion pro and con, Chairman Buller finally seconded the motion, but it failed to receive the support of the members.

Dr. Amys also moved that the City Council be asked to require all vehicles carrying bread to have a door on the rear only, and that the door shall at all times be closed. Mr Murty seconded the motion, and it carried without a dissenting vote.

Mr. Murty moved, seconded by the Mayor, that the Council be requested to require all milk vendors to have their names painted conspicuously on their delivery vehicles. Carried.

Gus Hill's Minstrels Coming to Grand

A Minstrel show on entirely new lines, combining original features, surprises and original entertainment, is promised at the Grand Opera House Monday evening only, where Gus Hill's Minstrel Company will hold forth. There are sixty people in this aggregation and in their particular line at least half of these are regarded as stars. Among those who will be found are George Wilson, Jimmie Wall, Arthur Deming, Golden & Heims, Leighton & Kennedy, 5 Saxophones, Chas. Kent, Wm. H. Hallett, James Baradi, Markwith Bros, Walter Cate, Sidney Dale, Eddie Horan, Al Fontaine, Carle S. Graves, Frank L. Long, Arthur Fulton, James Brenan, and Al Lewis. There will also be a street parade.

CITY HALL NEWS

The Board of Works will make their annual inspection tour of the city on Tuesday, April 29th.

Veterans' Tickets Available.

Twenty-five returned soldiers called at the City Clerk's office this morning for their tickets for the city's banquet to the Veterans. It will be held at the armouries on May 1st. The men are urged to call as soon as possible.

Begins Surface Drain

Work on a surface drain on Simcoe street between Rubidge and Bethune streets will be begun tomorrow morning, City Engineer Parsons announced this afternoon. Mr. John Thirnbeck will be in charge of the work and the labourers have already been engaged.

Steel Tank Secured.

A big steel tank for the storage of road oil has been purchased from the Henry Hope company, who used it during the period of munitions making. It is already to be connected to the pipes and will be completely set up and made ready for use shortly.

Stand Pipes Opened To-day.

If and citizens demand to know why the watering carts have not been turned loose upon the dust, they are answered in the statement that the sandpipes were not opened until today because of the danger of freezing. Mr. Ross Dobbin's department turned on the water today, and the dust should be soon dampened.

Many Applications for Work.

City Engineer Parsons states that many men have been asking for work recently. The number of unemployed is far below the register of 1915 when there were 400 of them card-indexed in the Engineer's office. To distribute the present work, the men are working two weeks on and off.

BEFORE OR AFTER INFLUENZA

The cool fighter always wins and so there is no need to become panic stricken. Avoid fear and crowds. Exercise in the fresh air and practise the three C's: a Clean Mouth, a Clean Skin and Clean Bowels. To carry off the poisons that accumulate within the body and to ward off an attack of the influenza bacillus, take a good liver regulator to move the bowels, such as Castor Oil or a pill made up of May-apple, leaves of aloe and root of jalap, to be had a any drug store, and called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

The system should be built up by the use of a good iron tonic, such as "Ironic" tablets, to be obtained at some drug stores, or that well known blood-maker and herbal tonic made from roots and barks of forest trees—sold everywhere as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

For a tonic that will freshen up the blood, clean the digestive tract and put new force and vim into you, I know of nothing better than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—and it contains no alcohol or narcotic so is perfectly safe to take.

WINDSOR, ONT.—"Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and his Pleasant Pellets' are wonderful medicines for home use. I used to suffer with weak lungs, smothering spells and sick-headaches, but since I have taken the above mentioned medicines these conditions have left me.

"Such medicines as Dr. Pierce's are worthy of praise and I am very glad to add my testimonial to the thousands of others."—MRS. ELLEN HARDING, 11 [illegible] Street, West.

AUTOMOBILE BACKED INTO THE OTONABEE

The Occupants had a Narrow Escape—Car was Recovered.

Only the extreme presence of mind of Mr. Findlay of Cavanville, saved a serious accident yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at Auburn. Mr. Findlay with Mrs. Fred Findlay, his son, and two ladies, were motoring to Mr. White's home, on the Lakefield road, on the Peterboro side when he met a friend returning to Peterboro, and decided to return to the city with him. To do so he attempted to turn his car just below the culvert below the pumping station, but while backing the brakes on the car refused to work and the automobile ran backwards over the sloping bank into the river, about 40 feet, to a depth of several feet.

Mr. Findlay jumped out of the car and held it from running farther into the river, as a few feet more would have carried it into the swift current. The boy who was on the front seat with Mr. Findlay was covered with water up to the shoulders, and the ladies in the back seat to about their waists.

Immediately he had the car stopped Mr. Findlay carried the ladies on his back to the shore where willing hands lent assistance, and the party was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mitchell, a few feet from the accident. The car was rescued from the river in the evening by the help of a cable and later towed to Peterboro. Among other losses sustained by the party was a purse containing a sum of money. All the contents were destroyed or lost.

County Will Not Participate

City Clerk Armstrong has received the following communication from Warden McIntosh, of Peterborough County:

S. R. Armstrong, Esq., City Clerk.

Dear Sir,—Kindly convey to the Mayor and Council my sincere regrets that the county cannot participate in giving a banquet to the 93rd returned veterans due to limit of time to confer with such veterans throughout the various municipalities and members of the County Council.—Respectfully yours,

John McIntosh, Warden

War Veterans Will Parade

MONTREAL, April 23.—Justice Dulos this morning issued an order transferring stock in the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, to the value of $22,000,000 held in New York on behalf of enemy aliens, to the Finance Minister of Canada.

THE LAKE OF BAYS.

There was never a region better designed for vacation purposes than the "Lake of Bays" district. Huntsville, on the Grand Trunk Railway, 145 miles north of Toronto, is the gateway through which you pass to this lovely summer playground. Good fishing, high altitude (1,000 feet above the sea) immunity from hay fever, lovely water trips, good hotel accommodation and golf are some of the many attractions. An interesting booklet telling you all about it sent free on application to C. E. Horning, D.P.A., Toronto, Ont.

Automobile Owners

If you enjoy having your car run smoothly and at the same time increase the life of the bearings and the tires, it is essential you should use the following

GRAPHITE PRODUCTS

Dixon's Motor Graphite

Recommending for lubricating the Cylinders. It improves Compression, increases Power greatly reduces the amount of lubricating oil required and cures smoky exhaust.

Use it in place of talc on the TIRES. It will not allow tube to stick to casing, thereby reducing heat, preventing blow-outs and prolonging the life of the tube and casing. ¼ pound tin, only ..... 75c.

Graphite Grease

NO. 677

A grease of medium density which will last far longer than any other grease because the parts remain so cool, it does not waste away. It reaches all bearings and provides a graphite coating that prevents the wear of parts. Reduces friction and causes cool running at all times.

1 pound tin 65c
5 pound tin $2.50

Graphite Gear Oil

NO. 675

A very light bodied lubricant for worm gears and transmissions that require a light oil. Due to the flake Graphite in No. 675, it gives much longer and better service than is possible with a plain lubricant of the same density. 5 pound tin $2.50

Overhead Charges and Pulleys

To reduce overhead expenses without impairing efficiency is the eternal problem of all employers and factory men.

Yet in many factories a most obvious waste of power is being ignored.

We refer to places where metal pulleys should be replaced by Dodge Wood-Split Pulleys. The money value of the power wasted by the excessive weight friction and belt slip of the metal pulley is calculated at an annual average of $8.00 for each pulley.

Dodge Wood-Split Pulleys prevent this waste of power.

This is a bold assertion, but we do not make it lightly.

Call up our stocker and ask him to demonstrate our pulleys to you.

Rural High Schools Enriched Denmark's Agricultural System

Agricultural Transformation of Denmark Crowned Two Generations of Effort.

TORONTO, April 23.— In a paper read before the Inspectors' Section of the Ontario Educational Association yesterday afternoon on "The Influence of the Folk High School of Denmark on its Rural Life," Albert Odell, of Cobourg, stated that in less than two generations the poorly ordered agricudtural system of Denmark had been changed to the best on the European Continent through the influence of these schools, which are private boarding schools, receiving substantial grants from the Legislature, chiefly composed of representatives from the rural parts. "That the founhation of Danish progress lies in its broad general intelligence furnished through its remarkable system of new rural High schools cannot be to strongly emphasized," he said.

Free elementary schools are compulsory for children of seven to fourteen years. From fourteen to eighteen years the young people engage in practical agriculture and household science, and at the age of eighteen they are admitted to the Folk high school where history, literature sociology, political economy, mathematics, constitutional law and English literature are studied. A course in the High school is a prime requisite for admission to a course in a local agricultural school or school of household economics.

Mr. Odell claimed that the Folk High schools had emancipated the Danish agricultural population from a state of dependence and illiteracy to one of independence and culture; had made the rural people leaders in production, distribution and politics by teaching them to think for themselves, and had created an attractive social atmosphere. Although conditions in Denmark are somewhat different to those in Canada, he argued that the same underlying principles are applicable to both countries, and that the centralized school system should be adopted in Canada by organizing special schools in the neighborhood where the farmer lives.

"THE BETTER 'OLE"

The rapidity with which the popularity of the "The Better 'Ole," the comedy with music which will be seen at The Grand Friday and Saturday, matinee Saturday, swept through New York City following its first performance last October at the Greenwich Village Theatre, was noticeable on all sides, where "Ullo," the familiar exclamation of "Old Bill," the leading character of the play, has become a catchword. Captain Bruce Bairnsfather and Captain Arthur Eliot wrote "The Better 'Ole," basing it upon three of the Bairnsfather characters found in his "Fragrants From France," Mr. and Mrs. Coburn produced it at the little theatre down in the village, but so great was the demand for seats they were compelled to move it up town on Broadway, where at the Cort Theatre crowds are being turned away nightly. Four other companies have been formed and are now playing in Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and on tour in Canada. The special Boston Co. is to appear here.

Storage Battery Troubles

Experience in motor car battery construction is necessary for the expert handling of the battery troubles and affords a good guarantee to car owners that all such repairs will be intelligently handled. Mr. A. Fisher the head of the new Premier Storage Battery Co., of 180 Charlotte street, over the old English Canoe Co., is receiving a large number of orders both in the city, and from the outside, for his services in this line. Being a thoroughly practical storage battery engineer and with years of experience in battery construction, he promises to give "service that counts."

CONVENTION REPORT BY DELEGATES OF IND. LABOUR PARTY

At a regular meeting of the local branch of the Independent Labour party last night the delegates who attended the annual convention of the Provincial organization, the Independent Labour Party of Ontario, gave a report of the proceedings at the several sessions on Good Friday. Mr. Peter McArthur presided.

Mr. T. McMurray stated that he was impressed by the ability shown by the representatives from the branches throughout the province. There were 84 delegates including quite a number of women some of whom were particularly good speakers. The question of affiliation with the Labour Party of Canada was discussed at length. Mr. T. Tooms amplified the report. In the Canadian Labour party is sought a common platform for all the labour organizations in the Dominion including the United Farmers, the Great War Veterans and other associations, whose objects are believed to be identical in many respects with the Independent Labour Party. It was decided to invite the farmers to affiliate with the Labour party.

The Tariff issue was also debated at length, and it was finally referred to the local branches for a referendum of their opinion, which will be taken in the near future.

Mr. Tooms emphasized the need of serious study of Labour problem by the local members. At the convention were many delegates who were familiar with all phrases of the tariff and other questions in which the Labour Party must be intelligently and thoroughly informed if they hope to build up a strong and progressive organization, Mr. Tooms stated. They would have to be prepared for the next election at which this subject is likely to be of first importance. There was an opinion among many of the delegates that Labour should remain neutral on the tariff issue. However, before any voice is taken by the local branch the question will be fully discussed at an early meeting. Mr. Tooms also mentioned the aggressiveness and ability of some of the lady delegates, and with Mr. McMurray was delighted at the leadership and capacity of not a few of the eighty-four delegates who attended the convention.

Budapest Going Through a Crisis

A Wave of Bloodshed is Feared — Leaders Losing Control.

(Canadian Press.)

BUDAPEST, April 23. — The city is going through a crisis now worse than that of April 3rd. There is apprehension that there will be a violent swing to anarchy, with the Socialists losing control to the Bolshevik leaders, like Bela Kun and the chiefs of the Red Guard.

Looting, which hitherto has been held in check or legalized as "nationalization of property," and assassination of the old political leaders, and the aristocracy, are feared.

Will Decide On a Finish Fight

Fifteen Thousand Employees may be Called Out.

(Special to Examiner.)

MONTREAL, April 23. — Refusal of the master carters and transportation companies to arbitrate in the strike, has caused the leaders of organized labor here to decide on a fight to a finish.

It is officially announced this morning that if the strike is not settled to-day all the freight handlers, clerks and checkers on the railways and the wharbes will be brought out to-morrow morning. This would mean a total on strike of 15,000

SEEDING STARTS IN PRAIRIE PROVINCES

Alberta Farmers Have Already Started

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, April 22—Seeding started all over Manitoba yesterday, J. H. Evans, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, announced. He said the outlook was better than he had seen it for twelve years. Seeding in Saskatchewan will be well under way next week. Alberta farmers have already started.

RETURNED SOLDIER IS ROBBED IN PARK

(Special to Examiner.)

KINGSTON, April 22.—Harvey E. Welton, a returned soldier, reported to the police today that he had been robbed in Macdonald Park last night of a $50.00 watch and chain, discharge papers and button. He went out to the park with a man he met in a pool room. In the park they met two other men and the three men stripped the returned soldier of his valuables.

To Properly Treat Obstinate Wrinkles

Particularly where wrinkles are long and deep, the massage devotee is apt to rub too hard and too frequently. This loosens the skin, causes the muscles to sag, aggravates the wrinkled condition—just the opposite result from that sought.

Better than massage or anything else, for the most obstinate wrinkles, as well as the finest lines, is a remarkable formula which you may readily avail yourself of, as you will have no difficulty in procuring the constituents from your druggist. It is this: One ounce of powdered saxolite, dissolved in one half pint witch-hazel. Bathe the face, neck and the hands in this. The effect is really marvellous, not only as to wrinkles, but also in cases of baggy cheeks and chin. The application is cooling and soothing, tending to relieve fatigue. Both the witch hazel and the saxolite are of course entirely harmless to the skin.

FIRE IN OPERA HOUSE

Panic Averted by Oscar O'Shea—Pipe Ignited Overcoat

TORONTO, April 22.—When an overcoat in the check room of the Grand Opera House took fire on Saturday evening it was found that the cause was a lighted pipe in one of the pockets, Oscar O'Shea, playing the role of Father Kelly in "The Rosary" prevented a panic among the audience. He stepped to the footlights and asked the people to keep their seats, the orchestra immediately played some lively tunes, and the audience settled once more to see the play. The firemen were called and extinguished the blaze which caused $5 damage.

To Grow Hair On Bald Heads

Specialist Gives Simple Recipe That Works Fine.

Thousands of people suffer from baldness, and falling hair who having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomforts. Yet their case is not hopeless; the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and it also is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist: Bay Rum, 6 ounces, Lavona de Compose 2 ounces, Menthol Crystals, one half drachm. If you wish it perfumed add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics. Ladies using this prescription should be careful not to get it on the face or where hair is not desired.

Council Expresses Appreciation of the Service of Ald. Murray

Bade Farewell to His Colleagues Last Night at the Close of the Board of Works' Meeting—Has Deep Regard for Peterboro.

HAS BEEN PROMINENT HERE

At the conclusion of the Board of Works meeting last night, Mayor Duncan diverted the thoughts of the members from the wearisome details of the Hunter street bridge contract to bid good-bye to Ald. Alex. Murray, who leaves for Scotland to-night.

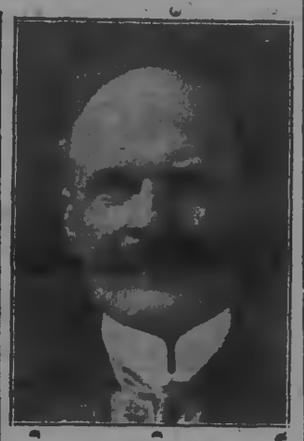
"I regret very much that Ald. Murray has found it necessary to part from us," said Mayor Duncan; "but I sincerely hope that he will regain his health and that he may return to Peterboro to take a place in the Council again. I trust that he and Mrs. Murray shall have a pleasant voyage. For the Council, and the citizens, I wish that Ald. Murray may be completely restored to health in Scotland."

Replying, Ald. Murray said: "There is no place I have been in in all my life that I was so taken with as Peterboro. That is why I wanted to see a bridge built at Hunter street that would be a credit to the city. I am confident that the people would not begrudge the money providing it was properly spent. Nothing is surer than that I shall come back to Peterboro if I am granted good health."

Ald. Murray thanked the council for their good wishes and expressions of appreciation and assured them that he would never forget Peterboro.

Ald. Phelan seconded the Mayor's motion of appreciation and regret, which was carried by a standing vote.

Ald. Murray will be missed from the City Council more than the ratepayers will realize. His earnestness and sincerity were outstanding qualities and they were woven with a strong sense of duty and a spirit of independence that were all guarantees of disinterested service in the Council. He has lived in Peterboro for seven years and has made many friends, at the same time this city has won his affections even as no other he has known. Ald. Murray displayed a zeal to assist in developing Peterboro that should cause many a "native son" to blush. He shared his attention between the general affairs of Peterboro and the welfare of organized labour. In neither direction was he self-seeking. The Trades and Labour Council chose him to represent them in the last municipal elections because of his ability and the fidelity with which he had acted as the sole member of the municipal committee. For more than a year he attended the meetings of the City Council, sitting alone in the gallery, with something of the faithfulness of the soldier at the gate in Pompeii.



ALD. ALEX. MURRAY
He has resigned from the City Council and departs to-night for Scotland in the hope of regaining his health.

Ald. Murray, it may also be said, had the courage of his convictions. He spoke as he thought—a quality that alone is rare in an elective council. Of the returned soldiers he was a staunch friend, giving of his time and thought to assist them whenever the opportunity offered. He played in the G.W.V.A. band in its inceptive stage before many of the men had arrived home, and in the City Council he accepted every occasion to show his appreciation of the Veterans.

In the affairs of the Machinists' Union he held a place of responsibility. He attended the sessions of the C.G.E. Board of Arbitration, and had for a long time been a delegate from his Union to the Trades and Labour Council. Where he could serve he did not spare himself, and it is more than likely that his activities may have hastened his breakdown.

If Ald. Murray's zeal for the ordinary citizen influenced some persons to asperse his ideas as too radical, they are completely refuted by his record. He was filled with the desire to promote Peterboro and to advance the welfare of the working class. He is a clean living Christian, and when he reaches Scotland he hopes to meet his son just returning from France. In brief he has proved himself a good citizen, willing to accept his share of the work of the community, and by those who knew him best he will be greatly missed. He has well deserved the council's appreciation and it is hoped that he may fully recover his health in his native Scotland.

FEELS LIKE BURDEN HAS BEEN LIFTED

Mrs. Clark Had Almost Given Up Hope When Tanlac Restored Her to Health.

"I feel like Tanlac has lifted a big burden off my shoulders," said Mrs. Mary E. Clark, of 24 Buttonwood Ave., Mt. Denis, Ont., Canada, recently.

"I had a severe attack of pneumonia," she continued, "that left me in a terribly run-down condition. I lost my appetite and fell off so much and lost so much strength that I wanted to sit down and rest all the time. My nerves were in such a bad fix that I hardly closed my eyes at all, and would get up in the morning feeling worse than when I went to bed. Often my head ached all day long. I could hardly get through my housework, and was afraid I would have to give up altogether.

"Before I had finished half my first bottle of Tanlac my appetite improved, and I haven't had a headache since I started on it. I sleep like a baby and am so much stronger than I was that I am actually doing every bit of my housework, and don't get tired in the least.

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

Expedition For the Antarctic

Another Party is being Fitted out for the Trip.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April 23. — Another Antarctic expedition is being prepared according to a statement printed in the morning newspapers. John Cope, a biologist with the British Antarctic Expeditions 1914-1917, will be the leader and expects the expedition to start June, 1920. He proposes, besides carrying scientific investigations, to ascertain the extent of the mineral and other valuable deposits on the Antarctic continent. He has secured the famous exploration ship, Terra Nova and intends to take an airplane for surveying the interior of the continent. He hopes also to make a flight to the North Pole.

Nothing Heard From the Fleet

News of Soviet Government in Turkey is Discounted.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April 23. — The rumor that a Soviet government had been set up in Turkey, remains entirely without confirmation, and is now treated with considerable incredulity. It is pointed out that the source of the news, "Odessa," is in the hands of the Bolshevik, and that British warships at Constantinople, might have been expected to report the fact if the rumor were true, but nothing has been heard from the fleet.

NO POLITICAL CRISIS IN HUNGARY, SAYS KUN

Bolshevik Lose Russian City of Vilna to the Enemy.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON April 23.—Bela Kun, the Hunarian Foreign Minister, in a telephone message to Vienna, denies the accuracy of reports regarding the political crisis in Budapest. He says the Communists are still exercising their dictatorship and are successfully resisting opposing forces, even gaining ground.

VILNA OCCUPIED.

LONDON, April 23.—The important city of Vilna has been recaptured from the Bolsheviki, according to official admission in a Russian wireless despatch. The Russian message reads: "The enemy attacked with considerable forces in the Vilna region, pierced our lines and occupied the town.

ANOTHER REVISION OF PENSION SCALE

More Consideration for Children of Dead Soldiers

Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, April 22.–Some changes in the existing scale of pensions will undoubtedly be made in the new pensions bill being drafted by a special committee. In addition to some increases in pension allowances, it is understood the bill will in some instances, extend the privileges of children of soldiers killed, or who died in service, in regard to education.

The Cow is a Good Foster Mother

Provided the Raw Milk is Made Safe by Pasteurizing and Clarifying

Not otherwise is Raw Cows' Milk Safe for Babies or Grown-ups.

A unique demonstration of the value of pasteurization in preventing milk-borne diseases has recently been made, purely by accident. A milker on one of the large dairy farms in California developed typhoid fever. The milk from the farm was sold in two cities. In one it was pasteurized, in the other it was not. In the second city there developed a number of cases of typhoid fever that were traceable to the milk, in the other city there were no cases. Through such accidental experiments on human beings, the value of pasteurization of milk is gradually being brought to the notice of the people in general.

The Peterboro Milk Products Co. Guarantee to give you clean, clarified, pasteurized milk at no greater cost than raw, unsafe milk. The old addage: "Prevention is better than cure," applies here.

The pasteurizing process aids the milkman in furnishing milk that will keep well and that has an appetizing taste, and is just as legitimate a process as cooling the milk.

MonthlyIncomeInsurance

Is your wife an experienced financier? If not, take your insurance on the income plan.

Is your wife better at saving than at spending? If not, take income insurance.

When a man dies there are three deaths:—
The death of a husband.
The death of a father.
The death of the income.

If you should receive your salary for a whole year in one lump sum on January 1st, how much would you have left on July 1st?

If your insurance is paid in one sum how long will it last?

For husband and wife who have no dependents the life income contract on the endowment form is the best policy. At the end of twenty years the income will begin. It will sustain them both as long as they live, and will provide a life income for the survivor if one should die.

The Peterboro Public Library Has Opened Children's Section

Formal Opening of New Department Will Take Place in About Two Weeks.

BIG DEMAND

To keep pace with the ever increasing number of children who become members of the Public Library, the Board recently decided to open a special children's department, absolutely separate from the general Library and for this purpose have had the large room on the south side of the building upstairs fitted into a splendid library room. No detail of a modern library has been overlooked in the furnishing of the new room and the Board has been specially fortunate in securing the services of Miss Effie Munro B.A., a graduate of St. Hilda's College as children's librarian.

Average Day.

Before the inauguration of the new department, Mr. Dela Fosse and the assistant librarians, Miss Dorothy Aylmer and Miss Genevive Sullivan had on specially busy days, over five hundred applicants for books and an average since Christmas of two hundred and fifty a day. The usual children's day amounted to about one hundred and thirteen applicants, which involved a great deal of time and work on the part of the Librarians.

Under the new system all the children's books will be placed in the special library and a large number of well chosen books will shortly be placed at the children's disposal.

The Room.

The room is a spacious apartment, finished very tastefully in buff colourings. A large centre table occupies the centre of the room and comfortable benches and chairs have been placed around. Miss Munro has a desk at the west end of the room which, like the rest of the furnishings, is of fumed oak. The formal opening of the room will, it is expected, take place in about two weeks.

G.W.V.A. Tag Day in Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, April 23.–Saturday, the fourth anniversary of Ypres was Tag Day for the G.W.V.A. in the village. In the morning the Boy Scouts did the work and in the afternoon and evening the work was done by ladies. Among those who tagged were Mrs. Marling, Miss Thompson, Miss Hilliard, Miss Finnemore, Miss McNabb, Miss Ogilvie and Miss Graham. The exact result of the collection will not be known until the boxes are openedin Peterboro on Monday night. It is quite likely that the Lakefield money will be devoted to G.W.V.A. work in Lakefield when a branch will be formed shortly as there are now in Lakefield and in the adjacent country about fifty qualified men.

G.W.V.A. MEMBERSHIP.

Association is Rapidly Increasing—100,000 Estimated at Present.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, April 22.— The Dominion secretary, C. G. McNeil, states that more than 70,000 G.W.V.A. badges have been issued and that 30,000 more are on order, with four manufacturers endeavouring to fill the demand. He estimates that the present membership of the G.W.V.A. is in the neighbourhood of 100,000.

Record of 2nd Battalion

Peterboro Made a Splendid Contribution to This Unit.

"The Second Battalion is now on its way back to Canada, having left England last Monday," is an official announcement which had a deep and thrilling meaning to every resident of Eastern Ontario who understands the tremendous contribution this part of the province made to the winning of the world war against the Huns. The Second Battalion has returned after having been in the thickest of the fighting since February, 1915, and to its standard have come honours which will go down in Canadian history, marking the citizen-soldiers of this city and this part of the province as the bravest of the brave.

The battalion arrived early this week and will go direct from Halifax to Kingston to be demobilized. Its strength is given as nineteen officers and 800 men, but few if any will there be, who were in the original unit which Major-General D. Watson formed in August, 1914, at Valcartier Camp and toow to France. A reception will be carried out at Kingston when the battalion arrives, and at Ottawa when the men from the Capital reach there after demobilization is completed. To every other city in Eastern Ontario, and to every other village, hamlet or county home, the call to unite in a welcome is extended and these returning soldiers of the Second Battalion are to be given the best there is.

The First Commander.

A glance at the history of the battalion throws some light on the really wonderful part that its men played in the war.

When the war broke out in 1914, the Minister of Militia drew together the First Contingent at Valcartier. He selected Lieut.-Col. D. Watson, O.C., of the 8th Royal Rifles of Quebec, and a newspaperman of wide reputation, to take the command of the battalion composed of men from Eastern Ontario. It was numbered the Second Battalion of the Canadian Expeditionary Force. Col. Watson is now the General Officer Commanding the Fourth Division, and earned his present rank through his work with the famous Second.

Col. Watson commanded the battalion in Valcartier, and until the battle of Givenchy in August, 1915, when the command was given over to Lieut.-Col. Swift, also of Quebec. Col. Watson took over the command of the 5th Brigade and Second Division, holding that position until being appointed to his present command in May, 1916. He has been decorated with many orders by the British and other Governments. At present he wears, among other decorations the ensign of K.C.B., C.M.G., Legion of Honour of France, Order of Leopold.

Col. Swift held the command for over a year of trying war activity, turning it over in the autumn of 1916 to other officers who held it for various short terms. The present commander is Lieut.-Col. L. T. McLaughlin, of Port Hope, who wears a D.S.O. and bar decoration.

Tracing the story of the battalion's movements since it was organized at Valcartier in August, 1914, one finds the story, almost a complete history of the war. There have been few notable engagements in which it has not been engaged. It has won the most strategical victories and important gains. It has gone into action and suffered appalling losses, only to return after a short period of rest into the trenches for another blow at the Hun hordes.

At Salisbury.

The battalion went into Salisbury camp on October 19, 1914, and was there until February 7, 1915. When it arrived in France about the middle of February the men were indeed happy when the announcement was made that they would go into the trenches at Armentiers. The first trip in was for instructional purposes and the battalion was accompanied by an Imperial Division which taught the officers and men all that was possible to be learned, up to that date, in the art of trench warfare.

The battalion came out of the trenches (it was either in or out when in France) going "in" again into the Lafleur Braix Sector. This was the first piece of the battle line held by a Canadian unit as part of a division in France. The battalion faced the Huns there until the end of that month. The first battle was that of Neuve Chapelle, which in the later stages of the war would have been called a "demonstration," but it proved very real to the Huns who thus faced Canadians for the first time at that point.

The next move was the Ypres Salient and the Battalion was stationed in the Viamertinghe Sector, with the Third Brigade. At midnight of that historical day, April 22, 1915, the attack began and the Battalion lost in casualties some nineteen officers and over 700 N.C.O.'s and men. Among those officers were Lieut. Calvin Day of Kingston, who was killed almost instantly by a bullet, and Capt. Culling, of Ottawa, who also made the supreme sacrifice.

At "Ploegstreet."

After a week's well earned rest after that great encounter, the movements included Festubert, then Givenchy and Messines Ridge and finally to Ploegstreet, where battles of consequence were fought. The Battalion remained at "Plugstreet," as it is familiarly called, until the spring, when it was very prominent in what is now called the "June Show" at the Ypres Salient. In August, 1916, it moved to the Somme as part of the First Division, and after some weeks of training at St. Omer, the Second Army Training Area, it took a prominent part in the Somme offensive and defensive. It was at St. Omer that the Battalion first learned the theory of going over the top in waves proved successful for a time.

The battalion left the Somme about the middle of October and with the First Division went to Vimy Ridge, spending the winter on that battle ground. It took part in the spring offensive in April, 1917, which resulted in the capture of Vimy Ridge and few of the survivors will ever forget that rainy, blizzard of the morning of April 9, 1917, on which day this bit of history was made. It remained in this vicinity until the end of May when the Division went out for a rest, returning to Hill 70. In August 1917 it took a prominent part in the Passchendaele battle and, relieving the 3rd Division, which had taken the preliminary objectives, was successful in the actual capture of the ridge.

After some months the battalion returned to the First Army and went into the line in the Lens Sector and spent that winter in the trenches. It will be remembered that during this period of the war there were usually three divisions in the line and one out resting, so that the Second Battalian as part of the First Division was "in" and "out" several times.

With the offensive opening on the Arras front, the battalion moved there in the spring of 1918 and after its successes came out to the Rest Area in May. Here the 1st, 3rd and 4th divisions remained for two months training in open warfare, returning into the line on the Arras front for a short time. Then occurred the little known secret move to Amiens early in August and every true Britisher remembers the glorious victory of the Canadians at this battle when over 22,500 yards of enemy territory, over 10,000 prisoners and 196 guns were captured.

At the end of August the battalion went with the First Division back to Arras to relieve the 2nd Division and taking a great part in the capture of Monchy-Le-Preux and in the battles leading up and including that fought for the possession of the Canal du Nord and finally Cambrai in September 1918 and succeeding battles until the armistice was signed.

Army of Occupation.

After the signing of the Armistice the Second Battalion as part of the 1st Division went with the 2nd Division as part of the British Army of Occupation, occupying Bonn and Cologne, until withdrawn last January to a concentration camp in France preparatory to returning home.

Without dealing with the N.C.O.'s and men, which would take too much space, a short account of the work and disposition of some of the original officers is interesting.

At Kingston there are a number of Second Battalion officers. Lieut.-Col. F. E. Birdsall, who commands the Dispersal Area, after being badly wounded returned in 1916. Major T. Ashmore Kidd, who is on the District Staff at Kingston was also severely wounded at the Second Battle of Ypres. Major Clyde R. Scott, M.C. Records Officer on the District Staff and Major W. H. V. Hooper, who commands the Casualty Company of the Dispersal Area at Kingston, were taken prisoners of war at the Second Battle of Ypres and were not released until two years later reaching Switzerland in December 1916. Major G. G. Greer, the original Medical Officer of the Battalion, has been in France until the end of last January and is now in Kingston to take a position on the District Medical Staff. He has won the Military Cross and Croix de Guerre for his work overseas. Major L. F. Goodwin, president of the Kingston G.W.V.A., was the only Kingstonian who went overseas with the Second Battalion and returned. "Killed in Action" was the fate of Captain George T. Richardson and Lieut. Calvin Day of the old Limestone City and the same sacrifice was demanded of Lieut. H. Stewart of Harrowsmith. Lieut. J. A. Atkins, who went in the ranks of the private is now on the staff at the District Depot.

Originals in Ottawa.

Ottawa has a proud share in the glory of this famous unit. There are a number of officers of the old originals, who are now in the Capital. Major Charles H. Ackerman, whose home is in Peterborough, was hit at Givenchy. He is now on the Headquarters Staff at Militia Headquarters. Major A. Gordon McLeland, who was also wounded, is on the Provost Marshal Staff. Captain Otis C. Whalen was wounded at Ypres and returned to Canada and is now in the Civil Service. Major G. Geoffrey Chrysler, M.C., was severely wounded. He returned to Canada, but went again to England. Ottawa contributed Captain E. C. Culling to the list of those killed at the Second Battle of Ypres. Col. Hector B. Verrett, D.S.O., has returned to Ottawa and is now in the Postmaster General's Department. Lieut.-Col. Rene de Salaberry is back in his law office after a war career which began with the famous Eastern Ontario unit. Major Hugh M. Fraser, Ottawa. Col. William Beattie, who was taken prisoner, is back as Director-General of Chaplain Services, was a Major and the original chaplain of the battalion. Major H. Willis-O'Connor, D.S.O., and who is at present A.D.C. to General Currie, Corps Commander overseas, was adjutant of the Second Battalion. Lieut.-Colonel A. G. Turner, M.C., was assistant adjutant with Major Willis O'Connor and he is now G.S.O. in the Seaford Area. Lieut. John E. O'Brien was Orderly Room Sergeant of the battalion and is now on duty in Canada.

Peterborough made a great contribution to this unit. Major G. W. Bennet, who was killed in the second battle of Ypres will not soon be forgotten. Peterborough is the home of Major Ackerman. Lieut.-Col. Joe Mills, of Peterborough, was quartermaster. Major R. W. F. Jones was invalided to Canada in 1915, but returned to France with the 124th Pioneer Battalion and was killed in action in April, 1917. Last, but not the least, is Major Greer, who is one of the few of the First Division or "Rainbow" Division as it is now called, who was in France when the Armistice was signed. Though not an officer when he left the memory of Peterborough residents still goes out to one of its sons who went with the 2nd Battalion and although this chronicle deals with officers it cannot pass without a reference to Arthur Ackerman, M.C., who was granted his commission on the field and gave his life for his country when he died of wounds received on the Somme in the fall of 1916.

PTE. JOHN FREDENBURG

Who arrived in Halifax this morning

Belleville has two representatives of this famous old unit among the list of officers but contributed mightily in filling its ranks. Major R. D. Ponton who returned in June 1918 and Lieut.-Col. E. Duckett O'Flynn who was adjutant of the unit for a time are well known Bellevillites.

Campbellford has a splendid memory of this unit in Captain H. E. Hodge, M.C., who was its machine gun officer when it was formed. He was wounded and returned to Canada, falling a victim to influenza on the coast some time ago.

By to-morrow the Second Battalion as a Unit will cease to exist, but its sacred memory and its wonderful war career will go on forever.

GREAT WESTERN IS SAFE, SUBSTANTIAL, PROGRESSIVE—A COMPANY WHOSE SECURITIES OFFER TO YOU AN UNPARALLELED INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY! CAN YOU DOUBT IT—IN THE FACE OF THESE FACTS?

Do you know that a few hundred dollars invested in the right oil company frequently makes a fortune for the investor? Standard Oil Company in 1860 had a capital of $700, in 1910 their capital was $525,000,000—after paying stockholders $2,000,000,000 in dividends. WE CALL YOUR ATTENTION TO THE FACT THAT THE GREAT WESTERN CORPORATION IS TODAY OPERATING ALONG THE SAME LINES THAT THE STANDARD DID—which is to say that we are making EVERY PROFIT THERE IS IN THE OIL INDUSTRY from the producing of the crude oil until it is marketed retail and in this policy lies the essential and absolute safety of Great Western as an investment. We acquire at one and the same time a number of sources of revenue and a wide distribution of risks. These two elements constitute in the financial world what is termed SAFETY. When the price of oil goes down we buy the oil for our refinery and center less of our activity in new production. On the other hand when oil goes up we concentrate on increased production. Thus our revenues are protected and we profit in both cases.

WHY THE OIL BUSINESS IS UNUSUALLY PROFITABLE:

For one reason, the labor requirement is almost nominal. A crew of 9 men can operate a refinery earning several thousands of dollars a day. Second, your dollars invested in the oil industry work 24 hours out of 24 instead of 8 hours a day, thereby giving you a three time earning capacity. Third, thanks largely to the example set by the Standard Oil Company, there are no brokers in the oil business. You do not pay transportation charges because you use your own pipeline to your refinery. After you have refined the oil it is shipped away in your own tank cars and a large corporation like the Great Western has its own storage facilities and distributing stations which sell direct to the public. At no stage of the operation from beginning to end has a broker profited one penny. Another fact that militates in favor of the oil operator is the high average of success in drilling oil wells and the very small percentage of loss. An oil well costing, for instance, $40,000 to drill has frequently been known to pay for itself in ONE DAY. Such instances, of course, are not typical by any means—still it would surprise you to know how really small is the percentage of risk involved in the drilling of oil wells.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE OIL BUSINESS IS SAFE:—

The average man's preconceived idea of the oil industry is that it is essentially A GAMBLE. THE FACT IS THAT THERE IS NO SAFER BUSINESS ON EARTH. STATISTICS WILL BEAR OUT THIS STATEMENT, Duns or Bradstreets state that 60% of the men who start in business are failures. Compare this with government oil statistics. The United States Government issues a year book through its Department of Geological Survey which states that out of all the wells drilled in the state of Oklahoma in the past 13 years 80% of them produced oil in paying quantities. According to these statistics the average oil company drilling a well has a 20% better chance of bringing in an oil producer than a man starting a new business has of succeeding.

THESE STATISTICS APPLY ONLY TO THE HONEST OIL COMPANY—TO THE COMPANY WHO IS LEGITIMATELY ENGAGED IN THE PRODUCTION OF OIL. Of course, if you invest your money in wild-cat stock promotion you should expect to lose it, but you cannot well blame this loss on the oil industry as a whole or on the reliable oil company that honestly invests your money in the drilling of oil wells.

GREAT WESTERN IS NOT ONLY AN HONEST COMPANY LEGITIMATELY ENGAGED IN THE OIL INDUSTRY—BUT IT IS A SOLID SUBSTANTIAL COMPANY THAT IS FIRMLY ESTABLISHED IN THE PETROLEUM INDUSTRY. WHEN BRADSTREET RATES A CORPORATION AT $500,000 HIGHEST CREDIT AND DUN GIVES A NET WORTH OF $2,648,320, IT MEANS HONESTY AND SOLIDITY BACKED BY LARGE TANGIBLE ASSETS.

Great Western's assets today are far in excess of its outstanding capital stock—AND YET GREAT WESTERN RIGHT THIS MINUTE IS ON THE THRESHOLD OF ITS GREATEST PERIOD OF DEVELOPMENT. An increase in the price of the stock has already been announced, 5% effective May 1st. An additional increase of 10% is anticipated very shortly.

Great Western is growing larger daily. Within the last few weeks 30 additional tank cars have been added to our fleet and a 1000 barrel oil well has been reported in connection with our Texas interests. This report comes from the famous Burkburnett Field. To date 63 OIL COMPANIES IN TEXAS ALONE HAVE PAID DIVIDENDS AMOUNTING TO $2,000,000 AND YET THIS FIELD WAS NEVER HEARD OF UNTIL SIX MONTHS AGO. Many of these companies paid dividends ranging from 100 to 1000%. The Fowler Farm Oil Company paid its stockholders $75,000 for every $500 invested.

AND GREAT WESTERN MAY BE ADDED TO THIS LIST OF FORTUNE MAKERS ANY DAY.

Of course we do not guarantee that Great Western will make you a fortune but we do say that Great Western will certainly pay large dividends, and that Great Western has not only as good but a better chance to make its stockholders a fortune than these smaller companies had.

100 wells have been contracted for in connection with some of our lease interests and no one can say what these wells may mean to our stockholders. We will also build an additional refinery. LAST CHANCE TO BUY AT PAR—5% INCREASE MAY 1st

REMEMBER:—GREAT WESTERN IS AN ESTABLISHED COMPANY. GREAT WESTERN IS SAFE. GREAT WESTERN OWNS ENORMOUS ASSETS. GREAT WESTERN IS RATED HIGH. GREAT WESTERN HAS ALREADY PAID THRHEE DIVIDENDS AND W. R. Jones, President of the Company, says: "When this sale of stock is effected and our present plans completed, I am firmly convinced that Great Western will produce revenues of $4,000,000 per annum or 80% on its entire Capital Stock."

Here Are Mighty Fine Suits Men And They're Great Values!

Remember this, that after a long period of topsyturvy markets and restricted production, industrial and business conditions can't change overnight.

Right now good quality clothes are still hard to get. Good fabrics are high. You must be just as careful about buying clothes as you were during the past months.

These Spring Values commend themselves from every standpoint by which good clothes are judged. They are clothes that were built with "Give Good Service" as the central idea; clothes made on the basis that quality determines economy and priced on the basis of actual cost rather than their present greater worth.

Makes You Feel Lively and Young —Removes That Tired Feeling

Makes you Feel Lively and Young—Removes that Tired Feeling.

At some period in our lives there is sure to come a time when the stomach is "off"—not working well—failing to enjoy and digest its food. Main thing then is to get the right remedy. You really want a soothing medicine, one quick to act, sure on results, combining the virtues of a gentle laxative with a tonic effect upon the stomach, liver and kidneys.

Certainly the world affords no better medicines, for the stomach than Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Their laxative effect is ideal—can't be beaten! But in addition to their helpful action upon the bowels, these pills contain certain ingredients that strengthen and invigorate the muscles of the stomach, thereby relieving all sorts of stomach misery, indigestion, sourness, rising gas, headache and biliousness.

Just take Dr. Hamilton's Pills — they'll make you full of energy — brimming over with snap; they bring and maintain robust, sound, vigorous health, and isn't that just what you've looked for these many months? REFUSE A SUBSTITUTE FOR DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS. 25c per box, all dealers.

Clear Sightedness

Clear sightedness is to a business man what the telescope and microscope are to the scientist and what the compass is to the mariner—they enable him to steer a clear course. The thinking man of business becomes very much interested when he finds he can secure a scientific Eye examination and the proper Glasses at the price we charge. And then he pays us a visit.

Russell-Townsend Company's Tender Approved by Board

original figures, but that he could not give a guarantee on that figure. He thought that he could keep traffic open for $2000.

Extremely Late Session

It was close to two o'clock this morning when the Board of Works finally reached a decision after six hours of deliberation. The Committee seemingly followed a plan of elimination and during the last two hours or more centred their attentions upon the Russell-Townsend Company and their tenders. It is one of the largest contracting firms in Canada with extensive experience in bridge building. They have a complete plant, and in a sense there would have been little difficulty in letting the contract if this Company would have tendered on the bulk sum basis.

Guarantee Their Work

When urged to present a guaranteed tender, Mr. Townsend replied that his company could not think of it.

"We don't know what the labour conditions are going to be in Peterboro," he explained. "If there were fixed wages that might alter the situation. You are the authority and have the fixing of wages that shall be paid. In our tender you have the means of building the bridge at the lowest cost. We are asking a very small profit for ourselves."

Upon Ald. Turner's suggestion Mr. Townsend and Mr. Nevin also of the company, retired to consider the lowest price they would quote for the construction of the bridge with all the eliminations except in width. Returning he announced $249,200.

"We haven't the slightest doubt about the long span arch. That does not enter into our objections to making a lump sum bid," Mr. Townsend said. "We are prepared to guarantee our work."

Ald. Turner—"Can the work be done for sum?"

Mr. Townsend—"We conscientiously believe it can and we are prepared to stake our reputation on it. If you look in our records you will find that only one occasion in which the actual cost exceeded our estimate."

Ald. Turner computed the Concrete Constructors' tender at $241,200 but the exactness of this was questioned by other members.

Ald. Turner and Ald. Edgar chrystallized the facts of these two tenders by remarking that it became a question for the Council to decide whether for $8,000 difference they should accept the tender of a company that had long experience, a complete plant, and other resources of engineering and material equipment.

It was pointed out that the Russell Townsend tender was not guaranteed, and for that reason several of the members declined to vote when Ald. Murray moved, seconded by Ald. Garside, that this tender be accepted with a guarantee of the long arch, performance bond and other details.

Ald. Murray said he was anxious to have the Council reach a decision. If the meeting were adjourned there would be no progress and nothing would be gained by deferring decision.

Ald. Hamilton, seconded by Ald. Taylor, moved an adjournment, but their motion was lost.

Slim Voting

On the first vote for Ald. Murray's motion, Aldermen Murray, Garside and Edgar supported it, and Aldermen Turner and Hamilton voted negative.

Mayor Duncan suggested that the Board adjourn if they were not prepared to act. Ald. Phelan agreed with him.

"Try it again," said Ald. Murray, and the vote was as follows:—

For—Aldermen Turner, Murray, Edgar, and Garside.

Against—Ald. Hamilton.

"Well, I can't get a club and make them vote," said Ald. Phelan, impatiently. "Gentlemen you must vote on an important question like this."

Ald. McIntyre and Ald. Gauley stated that they were in favour of a guaranteed lump sum bid, and without that they declined to vote.

After more desultory comment, Mayor Duncan asked the chairman, Ald. Phelan, to put the motion again, and it passed as follows:—

For—Aldermen Turner, Edgar, Morrison, Murray, Garside and Mayor Duncan.

There were no opposing votes. Hence, only a bare majority, excluding the presiding chairman, of the Council voted for the motion.

The City Fathers at that stage were hungry enough to eat the biggest T-bone steaks in town, and somebody suggested that they rouse up a restaurant, but everything was closed up.

Probable Cost

It may be remarked that there is nothing concrete about the recommended tender except the material, and Mr. Townsend's assurance that the bridge can be built for $249,000. To this sum must be added indemnities for land damage which will bring the estimated total to about $300,000.

Against this cost there is some $260,000 provided, together with a roughly estimated $30,000 grant from the Dominion Government, making a total of $290,000. These approximate totals may be inexact, but they will suffice to indicate the cost of the bridge and how it will be paid.

Mr. Townsend stated last night that after all estimates in a work of this extent count for little. The salient fact will be the actual cost. Mr. Russell has an interest in a cement company and will be able to supply this material at a considerable saving, from $2,000 to $6,000 was mentioned last night.

Mr. Frank Barber volunteered his assurance of the qualifications and general competency of the Russell-Townsend Company.

Bradstreets and Dunn's Reports on the Great Western Corporation

Is Offering Its Stock to the Public for the Legitimate Production of Oil.

It is refreshing in this day of wildcat oil companies and worthless stock promotions to find a company that is offering its stock direct to the public for the legitimate production of oil.

In to-day's Examiner we are carrying the advertisement of a Company that is rated in Bradstreets for $500,000 highest credit and is reported by Duns as having a net worth of $2,687,310.

Mr. Tobias who is underwriting this issue of stock in Canada states that although the Company has only sold approximately one-half of its capital stock, amounting to $2,500,000, the Company has already paid three dividends and still are rated by Duns as having a net worth of $2,687,310, which exceeds the amount of their capital stock.

The need for oil production is very great, just as it was when the war was on and had it not been for the enormous production of oil in the United States, there is no telling how long the war might have been prolonged. It is the duty of everyone to assist in the increasing of the production of oil and its by-products and those who are looking for opportunities of investment should have every information, in order that they may be able to distinguish the difference between a Company that is safe dependable and legitimate and the wildcat company that is a gamble.

Money can be made very fast in good oil stocks and it can be lost just as fast in wildcat schemes. To those who feel like investing, the Great Western Petroleum Corporation investment is one that invites the very closest scrutiny of all their activities and financial standing.

WOMAN WAS STABBED TO DEATH.

Canadian Press:

MONTREAL, April 23.—The body of a woman who had been stabbed to death, and an unconscious man registered under the name of A. Laubith, Toronto, was found this mornnig in a room in the Windsor Hotel.

The man is believed to be an Austrian and the young woman an Italian or Syrian. She had been shot once and stabbed several times. Carl Sawyck cut his throat and little hope is held out for his recovery. On the table was a pile of letters addressed to people in Toronto and St. Catharines. A note read, "We are dying for love and sickness." Money was left for the postage on the letters.

McCullough's Sweetheart Arrested

Vera De Lavelle Was Released on Bail—Denies Allegation.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, April 23.—If anyone had stood in the corridor in front of the police court at the City Hall at half past nine this morning they would have seen a large man in a brown suit who is a well known member of the city detective force, and a quiet little woman descending the stairs to the cells.

The woman was Miss Vera De Lavelle, who was arrested last night, and who admits that she was a sweetheart of Frank McCullough who escaped from the Toronto jail a week ago to-day. She was small, scarcely more than five feet high and very quietly dressed. Upon her head was a black sailor hat.

The straw hat was new and shiny and had much the appearance of having been bought just before Easter. About her neck was a fur and she wore a black suit.

Although she had been examined for over two and a half hours last night, Miss Lavelle was taken to the police headquarters at the City Hall for further examiantion this morning before she appeared in court.

During her sojourn about the city in the last week, Miss Lavelle says she nearly perished from cold some nights and at other times suffered from hunger. She also told of taking a large cake to the jail for McCullough, but the jail officials refused to take it to him, and on the same occasion refused even to allow her to see him.

Denies Charge.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, April 23.—Vera Lavelle, arrested last night, when charged this morning in the woman's police court with assisting Frank McCullough, the condemned murderer, to escape from Toronto jail, pleaded not guilty and was remanded for eight days and bail fixed at $2,000. She denies having any part in effecting McCullough's escape from prison.

Sawing the Bars.

By a test performed yesterday morning it was conclusively proved that McCullough's preparations for his escape had taken longer than at first was thought. By actual time it was found that it required 72 minutes to saw through a bar the same size as the ones on McCullough's window. At this rate four cuts, a 72 minutes per cut, would take five hour with one saw, or nearly two hours with half a dozen good steel saws. It was stated that any noise made in the operation would be unlikely to arouse a sound sleeper.

Annual Meeting of Baseball League

Peterboro will be Represented at the Toronto Meeting.

(Special to Examiner.)

TORONTO, April 23. — The first annual meeting of the Ontario Baseball Association, will be held at the Canadian Foresters' Hall, College St., on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock (daylight saving time.)

Delegates are expected from Hamilton, Kitchener, Brantford, Oshawa, Guelph, Peterboro, Lindsay, Central Ontario League; and the Inter-County League.

Numerous amendments to the constitution have been received, which will doubtless create a great deal of discussion. The election of officers will be held and a number of new faces will be found on the executive.

SOLUTION THOUGHT TO BE IMPROBABLE

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 23.—An early settlement of the Italian difficulty is thought to be improbable, with Premier Orlando still absent. Premiers Lloyd George and Clemenceau and President Wilson resumed this morning consideration of questions concerning China and Japan.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear son, Private Samuel McKinlay, who was killed at the Battle of Langemarck, on April 23, 1915, also my beloved husband, who died May 26, 1916.
Many one has travelled with me,
Reached that portal long ago,
One by one they have left me battling,
With a dark and crafty foe.
They are watching at the portal,
They are waiting at the door—
Waiting only for my coming,
All the loved ones gone before.

WEDDING BELLS

NICHOLES—BRADY.

In All Saints' Rectory on Monday evening, Rev. R. B. Grobb officiating, the wedding was solemnized quietly of Robert Nicholes and Mrs. Margaret Brady, 125 Rubidge street. They will reside in the city.

McARTHUR—McQUAIG.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. David McQuaig, 474 Sherbrooke street, this afternoon, a pretty wedding was solemnized when their daughter Kathleen Eunice was united in marriage to James McArthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. McArthur, of Brownton. Rev. B. J. Greatrix, pastor of St. James' Church officiating.

The bride looked charming in a dress of tan satin with overdress of beaded georgette. She carried a shower bouquet and wore the groom's gift, a pearl sunburst. To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Greta Mills and followed by her two pretty flower girls, Miss Doris Wilson, her niece and Miss Rena McArthur, the groom's little niece, the pretty bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father. She was attended by her sister, while Mr. John Smith supported the groom. Miss Greta Mills acted as maid-of-honor. During the signing of the register, Mr. John Smith sang "Until".

After the ceremony about fifty guests assembled in the beautifully decorated dining room where a buffet luncheon was served, after which amid showers of confetti Mr. and Mrs. McArthur left by the 3:35 train for a short honeymoon in the West On their return they will reside in Orillia.

The many and valuable gifts received testified to the esteem in which the young people were held.

FOWLER'S PEBLO GLASSES

REMORSE IS SURE TO COME

Remorse is really a sour memory. Care for your eyes in youth if you would avoid it, and your old age will produce sweet recollections. Age is not the only reason for failing eyes. Children have weak eyes which often is not known, but should be attended to. If they have trouble with their studies it may be from weak, tired eyes. Bring them to Dr. Fowler for examination.

Italian Delegation Leave Peace Conference on Fiume Issue

Japan Will Join League in Spite of Rejection of Racial Clause—Great Britain and France Will Honour Signatures of Peace of London—Roumanians Advance in Hungary —Wednesday Evening Bulletin.

Thursday Morning Bulletin:

PARIS, April 24.— After a conference yesterday afternoon the Italian delegation announced they would leave Paris today. Premier Orlando in his communication to Premier Clemenceau, stated that as a result of President Wilson's declaration, his delegation had decided to leave Paris at two o'clock this afternoon.

Japan is Willing.

TOKIO, April 24.— It is generally conceded here that Japan will join the League of Nations even if the racial clause in the covenant is rejected by the Peace Congress.

Reach Versailles May 1.

PARIS, April 24.—The German government has officially notified the Peace Conference that their representatives will reach Versailles on May first.

Will Honour Signatures.

LONDON, April 24.— It is understood that Great Britain has advised Italy to forgo some of her claims, but if the Italians insist on her rights under the treaty, Great Britain and France are prepared to honour their signatures.

Roumanians Advance in Hungary.

LONDON, April 24.—The Roumanian advance into Hungary is progressing rapidly. Roumania is acting on the orders of the Allies.

Wednesday Evening Bulletin:

LIMERICK, April 23.—An alliance between the Limerick strike committee and the Irish Trades Union Congress and the Labour Party was arranged this morning. A statement was issued declaring that the strike had now become national.

Unparalleled Situation.

NEW YORK, April 23.— The Associated Press issues the following statement this afternoon: Italy's claims concerning Fiume and the Dalmatian coast have brought the Peace Conference before a situation unparalleled since the peace delegates assembled in Paris, despatches indicate.

Preparing a Statement.

PARIS, April 23.— When Premier Orlando received President Wilson's statement at four o'clock this afternoon he immediately called a full meeting of the Italian delegation. The meeting is now preparing a statement to be presented to the Italian people.

Killed the Christians.

SEOUL, April 23.— It is reported that Japanese soldiers in a town forty-five miles south of Seoul, summoned Christian families to church and shot them and afterwards burned their houses.

GRAIN MARKET

Cash markets stronger again today. Oats, barley, corn, all showing sharp advances. Heavy commission house buying, and scant farmers' deliveries gave a strong lead to the bulls in the option markets, which closed very strong. May corn 3 1-4 up, July 4 1-4 up, and September 5 1-8 up from Tuesday's close. Western oats closed 1 5-8 up in Winnipeg, and barley 1 5-8 up. Ontario cash oats are quoted 1c. higher and barely 2c. Mill feeds are slightly easier.

Manitoba wheat—In store, Fort William; No. 1 Northern, $2.24 1-2; No. 2 Northern, $2.20 1-2; No. 3 Northern, $2.17 1-2; No. 4 wheat, $2.11 1-2.

CATTLE MARKET

Union Stock Yards— Receipts 56 cars, with 613 cattle, 170 calves, 2,048 hogs, and 39 sheep and lambs.

Receipts this week continue extremely light, and the market correspondingly strong and high. Choice handy weight butcher steers and heifers were a good 25c. higher yesterday than Tuesday. Heavy steers did not do more than hold their own, as the demand for these is not so active as for the lighter butchers.

Sheep, lambs, and calves steady.

Hogs again made a new high record for a straight market bid of $21.50 f.o.b. and $22.25 fed and watered, a 50c. advance over Tuesday.

Bolshevists Were Driven Back

Further Retirements Carried Out Owing to Pressure.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April, 23.—Ural Cossack troops, apparently acting in conjunction with Siberian forces of Admiral Kolchak, have begun an offensive in the region of Uralsk, south-eastern Russia, and have captured several villages west of Uralsk. A Russian official statement of April 21 admitting progress of Ural Cossacks, says that further north the Bolsheviki have carried out further retirements, owing to pressure.

Strongly Held.

(Canadian Press.)

KRASNOIAROK, Siberia, April 23. —Fighting proceeds daily east of here in the vicinity of Taishet and Yurd, with a corps of Bolsheviks endeavouring to cut the railway line. Enemy ambushed a force of 200 Russians last Thursday and but eighty men returned to the base. Trails leading to Bolshevik villages are commanded by machine gun nests and Russians cannot advance in the deep snow through the woods. Railway line strongly held by Serbs and Czechs with field guns.

SOME STUFF.

A man went into a barber's shop to have his hair cut. Having sat down he glanced at the looking glass in front, and saw reflected therein the attendant, who, to his surprise, was wearing rubber gloves. This caused the man to become curious, so he said to the barber:

"Why do you wear rubber gloves when cutting hair, my man?"

"For the purpose," replied the attendant, "of keeping our celebrated hair restorer from causing hair to grow on my hands."

He sold a bottle.

MRS. BALFAME

By GERTRUDE ATHERTON

"Rather. Trust me. Have you black gloves—undressed kid, I mean? You don't want to look like an undertaker." Mrs. Balfame nodded. That's all, I think. Send me a line if you think of something else. I must run and take Giffy for his ride. He's all broken up, poor darling. Wasn't he just splendid last night?" She blew a kiss along the widow's forehead and ran out with a light step that caused her more substantial friends to sigh with envy. She, too, was in the mid-oeuvering forties, but she had gone into training at thirty.

"I guess we'd all better go," Mrs. Battle, with a sudden dexterous heave of her armoured bulk, was out of the chair and on her feet. "Now, try to sleep, dearie. You are just the bravest thing! But tomorrow will be trying. Sam Cummack says the coroner won't hold the inquest before afternoon, but if they do and your veil isn't here, I've got one of Ma's packed away in camphor that I'll get for you. I'll get it to-night and have it airing—we won't take any chances; and you shan't be annoyed by the vulgar curious."

"Oh, thank you! But that is not the only ordeal. It's even more trying to stay in the house all these days—in this room. If I could walk in the grounds. But I suppose those reporters are everywhere."

"They are swarming, simply swarming. And the avenue is so packed with automobiles you can't navigate. People have come from all over the country—some from New York and Brooklyn."

Mrs. Balfame curled her lip in disgust. Morbid curiosity, like other vulgarities, was incomprehensible to her. Death, no matter how desired or how accomplished, should inspire hush and respect, not provide excitement for a Sunday afternoon.

"Let us hope they will find the wretch to-day," she said impatiently.

"That will end it, for, of course, it is the element of mystery that has made the case so notorious. Is there no clue?"

"Not the ghost of one." Mrs. Cummack, too, was adjusting her automobile v- the job,—I'm only taking him out for an hour or two: and so of course, are the police—hot. But he's covered his tracks so far."

"If it is a he," whispered Mrs. Battle to Mrs. Frew, as they stole softly down the stairs. "What about that red-head, or that telephone girl who fainted? They say she had to go home—"

"Can you imagine caring enough for Dave Balfame— Lets get out of this for heaven's sake, or I'll faint right here."

The atmosphere was as depressing as the dark interior of the house, for it was heavy laden with the scent of flowers and death. The parlour doors behind which lay Dave Balfame, embalmed and serene in his casket, were closed, but hushed whisperings came forth like the rustling of funeral wreaths disturbed by the vapours of decay. The devoted friends of the widow burst out into the sunshine almost with a cry of relief.

Here all was as animated as a country fair. The grounds were void save by patrolling police, but the avenue and adjoining streets were packed with every type of car from limousine to farmer's runabout, and many more people were afoot, staring at the house, venturing as near the hedge as they dared, to inspect the grove. They asked questions, answered them, offered theories all in a breath, and without the slightest respect for any opinion save their own. A few children, sucking peppermint sticks, sat on the hedge.

"Did you ever?" murmured Mrs. Frew to Mrs. Battle. "Did you ever?" She shuddered with refined disgust, but felt thrilled to her marrow. "Just Enid's luck!" was her auxiliary but silent reflection.

CHAPTER XII

At the inquest on the following day, Mrs. Balfame, circumvested in crepe, sat between Mr. and Mrs. Cummack, gracefully erect, and without even a nervous flutter of the hands.

When called upon to testify, she told in a clear low voice the meagre story already known to her friends and by this time the common property of Elsinore and all that read the newspapers of the State.

The coroner released her as quickly as possible, and called her servant to the stand. Although the swelling in Frieda's mouth had subsided somewhat under Dr. Anna's ministrations, the tooth still throbbed; and she also was released after announcing resentfully that she'd seen "notings," heard "notings," and "didn't know notings" about the murder except having to get up and make coffee when she was like to die with the ache in her tooth.

There was no one else to testify, except Cummack, who gave the hour, about a quarter or ten minutes to eight, when the deceased had left the house, and Mr. Gifning and his two guests, who testified to hearing the sound of Balfame's voice raised in song, followed a moment later by the report of a pistol. They also described minutely the position of the body when found. Indubitably the shot had been fired from the grove.

The staff artists were forced to be content with a black sketch of a very long widow, who held her head high and emanated an air of chill repose. One reporter, camera set, forced his way to her side as she was about to enter Mrs. Battle's limousine and begged her plaintively to raise her veil; but he might as well have addressed a somnambulist; Mrs. Balfame did not even snub him.

"Why should they want a picture of me?" she asked Mrs. Battle, wonderingly. "It's poor Dave that is dead. Whoever heard of me outside of Elsinore?"

"I guess you haven't amused yourself reading the papers. You've been written up as a beauty and the intellectual and social leader of Elsinore. Some distinction that! The public is mighty interested in you all over the state and will be for several days yet, no doubt. Then we'll find the man and they'll forget all about the whole affair until the trial comes up."

Mrs. Balfame, clad in full weeds, more dignified and unapproachable than ever, ran the gauntlet of staring eyes at the church funeral, apparently unconscious of the immense crowd of women that had driven over from every township in Brabant County. That the women did not approve of her haughty head and tearless eyes, brilliant even behind the heavy crepe, would have concerned her little if she had known it. Her mind was concentrated upon the future moment when this series of hideous ordeals would be over and she could re-enter the decent seclusions of private life.

Mrs. Balfame may have had her faults, but a vulgar complaisance to publicity was not among them.

She had also made up her mind sternly not to feel happy, not to rejoice in her freedom, not to make a plan for the future until her husband was in his grave. But all during that long service, while the new parson discoursed unctiously upon the virtues and eminence of the slain, she had the sensation of holding her breath.

It was four days from the night of the murder before she consented to see the reporters. Meanwhile every suspected person had proved an alibi, including the red-haired Miss Foxie Bell, and the indignant and highly respectable Miss Mamie Russ, who officiated at the telephone. She had known the deceased, yes, and once or twice she had driven out to one of the road-houses with him, where a number of her friends were indulging in a quiet Sunday afternoon tango, but she had merely looked upon him as a kind, fatherly sort of person; and at the hour of his death she was asleep, as her landlady could testify.

Old Dutch had indignantly repudiated the charge of employing gunmen and had attended the funeral and shed tears. Whatever the faults of the deceased, they were not of a nature to antagonise permantly the erring members of his own sex. Moreover, he had been an able politician, respected of his enemies, and was now glorified by his cowardly and untimely taking off.

The local police had an uneasy suspirion that the assassin was one of their "pals"—in that small and democratic community where every man was an Elk from the banker to the undertaker. They were quite ready to drop the case loudly ascribing the deed to an ordinary housebreaker, or to some unknown enemy from out the impenetrable rabbit warrens of New York City.

The newspaper men were chagrined and desperate. The Balfame case had proved uncommonly magnetic to the New York public. They had done their best to create this interest, and now were on their metal to "make good." But they were beginning to wish they had waited for at least a lantern's ray at the end of the dark perspective before exciting the public with descriptions of the winding picturesque old street of the ancient village of Elsinore; the stately old-time residence at its head which had housed (in more or less discomfort) three generations of Balfames, the sinister grove of trees that had sheltered the dastardly assassin, the prominence and political importance of Dave Balfame who had inherited this ancestral estate, and played among those trees in childhood; his unsuspecting and vocal return at an early hour to be shot down at his own gate.

All this appealed acutely to the public which makes the fortune of the sentimental play, the "crook" play, and the "play with a punch and a mystery." Here was the real thing, as rural as the childhood of many of the Greater New York Public—weary of black-hand murders and anarchist bombs—with a mystery as deep as any ever invented by their favorite authors, and in no remote district but at their very gates.

If anything more was necessary to rivet their interest, there was the handsome and elegant (if provincial) Mrs. Balfame, as austere as a Roman matron, as chaste as Diana, as decently invisible in public during this harrowing ordeal as imported crepe could make her. The men reporters had dismissed the widow with a paragraph of personal discription, but the newspaper women had filled half a page in each of the evening journals.

The press had given the public at least two columns a day of the Balfame murder; there had been a biography of every suspect in turn, and there had been th ethrilling episode of the bloodhounds turned loose upon that trampled enclosure. But no road led anywhere, and the public, baffled for a moment, but still hopeful, demanded an interview with the interesting widow.

Of course, her alibi was perfect, but all felt sure that she "knew something about it." Her unhappy married life was now common property, and if it only could be proved that she had had a lover—but the newspapers as has been said were discouraging upon this point. Mrs. Balfame (quoting the young men this time), while amiable and kind to all, was cold and indifferent. Men "fine-tooth-combed" Brabant County and reported disgustingly to their chief that she was "just one of those club women, no use for men at all."

The reporters, however, had made up their minds to fix the crime, if possible, upon her. They would have compromised upon the young servant, but Frieda, especially with her face framed in a towel stained brown and her eyes swollen above the wrenching agonies of an ulcerated tooth, was hopeless material. Moreover, they were convinced, after thorough investigation, that the deceased's gallantries, while sufficiently catholic, had not run to serving maids, and that of late particularly he had loudly hated all things German.

THERE IS DANGER IN TENDER GUMS

To preserve healthy teeth the ordinary tooth-paste is futile. Your first care for the gums, on which tooth health depends.

How many people think of this? Yet four out of five people over forty suffer from gum-decay, or Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease).

At first the gums become tender, though actual gum-shrinkage is imperceptible. But in time receding gums will surely loosen your teeth, and then only a dentist can save them. The tender, bleeding gums of Pyorrhea also act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's (For the Gums) prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. This means that it prevents gum-shrinkage, gum-tender ness, gum-bleeding. So, automatically, Forhan's prevents tooth loosening.

Brush your teeth with it. It scientifically cleans the teeth—keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for treatment.

"Is this the genuine Dr. Chase's Nerve Food?"

"Yes, madam, we do not offer substitutes, nor do we believe there is anything to take the place of this great nerve restorative."

"WELL, it has been so strongly recommended to me that I do not want to make any mistake in getting the right medicine."

"You are not making any mistake in this, for we think too much of our reputation to try to talk you into taking something else."

"Do you sell much of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food?"

"It is one of our largest sellers, and gives such universal satisfaction that it is a pleasure to recommend it to our customers."

But do you know of cases in which it has actually cured people of sleeplessness, headaches, irritability and nervousness?"

"Scores of them, madam. Some people never say anything about the medicines they buy, but scarcely a day passes that we do not hear of some case in which Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has effected a cure. It is also great for anaemia, and all ailments arising from a thin, watery condition of the blood."

"Well, I am going to try it. How much is it a box?"

"Fifty cents a box, or six boxes for $2.75. Better take the six, for you save a little on the price, and you need that many to give it a fair trial."

"Do you think I will."

"Oh, yes, the process of building up the nervous system is necessarily slow. You will no doubt feel benefited after the first box or two have been used, but too many make the mistake of neglecting the treatment then instead of keeping on until the nerves are fully restored."

"Do me up the six boxes, then, for I hear of so many people being benefited by using the Nerve Food that I am going to give it a thorough test."

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

A Halloween Scheme

It Was Well Planned and Worked Well

By F. A. MITCHEL

"I wish," said Mrs. Edgarton to her friend, Mrs. Tisdale, "that your Alice would fall in love with my Frank. A young bachelor is so beset by temptations. If Frank were married I should not have to keep worrying about him all the time. He is out every evening, sometimes till morning. I don't know where he goes or what he is doing. I never go to sleep till he comes in, and thus I spend hours worrying."

"You have no need to worry about your boy," said the other. "Frank is simply doing what most young men of fortune do at his age—he is enjoying the novelty of things. When that novelty wears off he will become engrossed in more serious matters."

"Would you object to a match between him and Alice?"

"On the contrary, I should welcome it. We have little or nothing to leave Alice, and I should be glad to see her married to a man whose income would preclude the probability of her coming to want."

"Suppose," rejoined Mrs. Edgarton thoughtfully, "we lay a trap to bring them together. It would be useless for me to say to Frank that I wished him to marry Alice, and even if he acceded to my desire it would be equally useless for you to try to force Alice to accept him. If we could contrive to throw them together I would have great hopes of Frank falling in love with her, she is so attractive in every way. But I have my doubts about Alice. It seems to me that she is too serious, too thoughtful, too good for a man of the world like Frank."

"My daughter is very impressionable. There is also a good deal of romance in her nature. If we could bring about some episode by which Frank would appear to be a hero in her eyes we would win our point, or if it could be made to appear that fate intends him for her husband that would have the same effect."

"I have it!" exclaimed the other, speaking suddenly a thought that dashed upon her. "Halloween will be here in another week. I will give a Halloween party. I will invite Alice, and you must come too. We will concoct some scheme to make it appear that fate intends her and Frank for each other."

Mrs. Tisdale made no objection to this, though she would have preferred that the scheme be worked out at her own home, since it would be more becoming that the man should come to the woman rather than the woman to the man. But Mrs. Edgarton possessed a country place especially suitable to a house party. It had been closed for the season, but could be reopened.

Mrs. Edgarton and Mrs. Tisdale were especially adapted to carry out such a scheme as they had in mind. Both had been married very young and had jumped almost from girlhood into a gay world. Neither had yet passed out of the forties, nor had either lost her adaptation for playing a part.

"Mamma," said Alice Tisdale, looking at her mother through a pair of eyes to remind one of a deep pool darkened by surrounding rocks and overhanging verdure, "do you really think there is anything in Halloween?"

"Why do you ask, Alice?"

"Well, we are going to Mrs. Edgarton's country place for a Halloween party, and I would like to know before we go whether the belief or fancy or whatever it is that one may see a future husband or wife is all rubbish or whether there is anything in it."

"We don't know, dear, where superstition ends and a legitimate faith begins. There are certainly many wonderful things in the world that we call supernatural. Some of them may be referable to natural laws of which we have no knowledge."

Mrs. Tisdale was well satisfied with herself at this method of answering her daughter's question. She would not intentionally deceive her child, and she felt that in her reply she had spoken nothing that was not true. What she said made a marked impression on Alice. She went to the library and, taking down a book on strange customs, turned to Halloween and read of girls seeing the faces of their future husbands in looking glasses, the setting afloat of candles on a river and other such methods of determining their future. If she did not believe in their efficacy she certainly did not disbelieve.

The house party at Mrs. Edgarton's country place assembled in the afternoon preceding Halloween. They dined and after dinner sat before the great fireplace in the hall telling ghost stories. At 10 o'clock the hostess announced to them that they were expected to scatter themselves over the large domain. There was room enough for all, she told them, and if it was fated that they should meet with any adventure to show them their future mates there was no reason why it should not be done on this Halloween.

The girls all obeyed the hostess, but some of the young men preferred a game of bridge or billiards and demurred to going out into a cool night under the stars to participate in what they considered a childish performance. But Mrs. Edgarton told them that they had not been invited to a bridge or a billiard party, but to a Halloween party, and they must accept the situation. With this they sallied forth, some to sit in a summer house and smoke, while others, respecting their hostess' wishes, wandered over the place. Lights were seen on the bosom of the river, indicating that some of the girls had brought candles and set them afloat.

Frank Edgarton had been requested by his mother to set an example to the other men guests by entering into the spirit of the affair and go forth in search of adventure. He strolled alone on the river bank watching the lighted candles and lighted a cigar, resolving to smoke it to the end before returning to the house, for he was bent on pleasing his mother and feared that he would return too soon. The night was not cold, the stars were bright, and Frank was content to remain in the open so long as the case required.

Suddenly from bushes, perhaps a hundred yards from him, a light flashed. It was not the season for fireflies, and even if it had been no fireflies could give so great a light. It at once occurred to Frank that it had been set by a human being. Either some of the men or girl guests were seeking an adventure. If a girl Frank was ready to accommodate her. He walked toward the place where he had seen the light, but when he reached it found nothing but bushes. While looking about him the light flashed again, but from a different location. Frank went to the new spot with the same result as before.

It was evident that some one, probably a girl, was bent on leading him a game of hide and seek. He was quite ready to play it and waited for another flash. It came, and this time, instead of walking leisurely toward it, he ran. Nevertheless the result was the same as before. He found no one. For some time the light flashed from different points, and yet the trend was in one direction. Though Frank made violent dashes for it, when he reached the point where he had seen it he found only silence and a low growth of evergreens. Once, instead of seeing a flash, he heard a low laugh. This settled the point as to the sex of the hider, for it was a woman's laugh. Frank ran toward the place from which it seemed to come, but one has no sense by which to judge of the direction of sound, and when he reached the illuminated place the light was flashed in an entirely different one.

Finally Frank followed a flash, and though he found darkness he touched something human. Resolving that whoever had been leading him should not escape him, he threw his arms about it and held it fast. That it was feminine was evident from the apparel.

"Let me go," said a girl, struggling.

"Not until I have learned who you are. You have been leading me a fine dance, and I must at least get a glimpse of your face before I will release you. Come, flash your light!"

"I have no light. It is you who have been leading me, Mr. Edgarton. Though I can't see your face, I recognize your voice."

"Do you mean to tell me that you have not a flashlight?"

"I have not."

"This is very strange. You are Miss Tisdale, are you not?"

"I am."

No one knows whether Frank Edgarton during this dialogue continued to hold Alice Tisdale in his arms or released her. Alice at once became impressed with a fancy that on this Halloween a will-o'-the wisp had conducted her to her future husband, and, though she was a modest girl, it is quite possible that she did not continue her efforts to free herself.

Later the two walked into the house together. Most of the guests had returned. Some were telling stories they had invented of marvelous happenings, some admitting disappointments. Alice Tisdale said nothing. Perhaps she was waiting for Frank Edgarton to tell their experience. But Frank held his peace. He was puzzled. He believed that Alice told the truth when she denied having a flashlight. Alice was wondering if she had met a real Halloween experience.

Mrs. Edgarton and Mrs. Tisdale when their children entered were sitting together chatting apparently on commonplace topics, for they showed no animation. The others were interested in one another's stories of their experiences. Edgarton turned to Alice and looked at her inquiringly, as much as to say, "Is it possible that so retiring a girl could have led me such a dance?" She dropped her eyes under his gaze. He wished he was back in the dark place where he had seized her and was again holding her in his arms.

"Come out on the porch with me," he said, "and let us have a look at the stars."

Whether they looked at the stars or not nobody but themselves knows, but certain it is that within a month they were engaged.

What Mrs. Edgarton and Mrs. Tisdale were saying to each other so quietly when the son of the one and the daughter of the other entered the house was this:

"Did your flashlight work well?" asked Mrs. Edgarton.

"Splendidly. But Frank almost caught me several times."

"You had the hardest part. I had no trouble with Alice at all. I led her along like a lamb to the slaughter. After flashing my light I had plenty of time to get out of the way. The electric lamps are blinding, and I don't think she dared go very fast in the dark."

"It's lucky we had our course well laid out. As it was, I found it difficult to draw Frank to the point designated."

"I wonder if we have succeeded."

"That remains to be seen."

Constipated Children Gladly Take "California" Syrup of Figs"

For the Liver and Bowels

Tell your druggist you want genuine "California Syrup of Figs." Full directions and dose for babies and children of all ages who are constipated, bilious, feverish, tongue-coated, or full of cold, are plainly printed on the bottle. Look for the name "California" and accept no other "Fig Syrup."

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this to-night and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completey dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky, and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

Long Record of Work.

Miss Jessie E. Cone of Granville, Mass., has worked for more than 32 years tacking hoops on drums in the Granville drum shops, averaging 2,000 hoops a day. She has used the same hammer all the time and has worn out three handles in the work. After working from 6 a. m. until 5:30 or 6 in the evening, she goes home and helps her sister on the farm, where besides milking the cow and doing other work, she has raised 25 bushels of potatoes and has dried beans and canned more than 70 jars of vegetables the last year.

Made-at-Home Labor-Saving Devices.

In 11 communities of our country in Oregon the women are making home-made driers, home-made fireless cookers, and home-made iceless refrigerators under the direction of the home demonstration agent. In connection with this project one woman found that an investment of 50 cents in a dish drainer and a wire dishcloth for pots and pans saved her ten minutes of the time required to do the dishes after each meal, or 30 minutes a day. In a year she figured this time, if accumulated, would give two weeks, of 12 hours a day, leisure. Was the investment worth while?

Uncomplimentary.

The audacity of a famous writer in his book, "Joan and Peter," is making all who read it—including the victims—chuckle. Nor does "H. G." spare Mr. Wells.

After calling himself a "counter-jumper," he puts this description of his personal appearance into the mouth of one of his characters:

"A heavy hang of hair assisted a cascade mustache to veil a pasty face that was broad rather than long, with a sly, conceited expression . . . and rubbed together two large, clammy, white misshapen hands."

A SLUGGISH LIVER CAUSED SEVERE HEADACHES

The duty of the liver is to prepare and secrete bile and serve as a filter to the blood, cleansing it of all impurities and poisons.

Healthy bile in sufficient quantity is Nature's provision to secure regular action of the bowels, and when the liver is sluggish it is not working properly, and does not manufacture enough bile to thoroughly act on the bowels and carry off the waste products from the system, hence the bowels become clogged up, the bile gets into the blood, constipation sets in, followed by sick and bilious headaches, coated tongue, bad breath, heartburn, water brash, bad taste in the mouth in the morning, jaundice, floating specks before the eyes, etc.

Miss Dian Clark, Myer's Cave, Ont., writes:—"I take pleasure in writing you concerning the good I have received by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for a sluggish liver. When my liver got bad I would have severe headaches, but I got better after I had used a couple of vials of your pills."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills gently unlock the secretion, clear away all waste and effete matter by acting directly on the liver, and make the bile pass through the bowels instead of allowing it to get into the blood.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c. a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Special Service in Warsaw Church

Warsaw News of Interest—Holiday Visitors.

WARSAW, April 24.—There was service in the Anglican church Sunday afternoon. Among the decorations were some lovely primroses and sweet peas, sent from Ottawa by Miss Marjorie Choate. The service was conducted by Rev. Taylor, late of Australia, now stationed at Lakefield. The sermon was on the Resurrection, as proven by the fact of the linen clothes lying undisturbed. These linen clothes were not just garments, but strips of fine linen, four or five inches wide in which the holy body was swathed in preparation for embalming, as was the custom of the wealthy Jews, and the fact that the body of Christ was gone out from these swathings and the swathings were left as they had been wound around the body, was proof conclusive that no human agency had removed the body.

Mr. Choate presided at the organ. Mr. Taylor purposes holding regular services hereafter.

Sunday evening the Methodists held their annual Easter missionary services. The church was decorated, and besides the sermon and regular church service there were special missionary selections.

Personals.

Capt. John Dewart and Miss Clara Dewart spent Easter Sunday with their mother near Warsaw.

Mrs. Turiffe left last Tuesday to spend a week with her family in Toronto.

Pte. Henry Richardson is home again.

Miss Sandy has gone home for the Easter holiday.

The members of the Patriotic Club are giving another of their pleasant 'At Homes' on Friday evening, April 25th.

Evidences of syrup making are gone from the maple woods. On the whole the sap run was short this year.

Most of the farmers are on the land now. The soil has dried wonderfully since the last rain.

Regular Meeting.

The King's Daughters' Girls' Club will hold their regular meeting on Friday afternoon. Will all the girls make an effort to be present.

Rev. Clare was unavoidably absent from the trail rangers last Wednesday evening, but the boys who braved the storm had a very pleasant and profitable evening.

Warsaw Presbyterian Aid meets in the manse on Thursday afternoon, April 24th.

The Union prayer meeting will be in the Presbyterian church this week.

Rev. Hugh Brown, in the Presbyterian church Sunday, had a special Easter sermon. The choir sang "The Resurrection," Mrs. Crapp taking the contralto solo. The choir in that church makes the service much more enjoyable.

In the Baptist church there was an Easter sermon, with Easter hymns in the morning. In the evening the young people had a little Easter service.

Mob Plunders Harbour Quarters

Several Persons Killed in Regular Battle.

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, April 23. — There have been serious disturbances at Hamburg during the week end. A mob plundered the harbour quarter and clashed with the police, several persons being killed and wounded, a despatch to Vorwaerts says. There was a "regular battle" in the suburb of St. Pauli, west of the city, on Saturday. A policeman was killed and several others wounded, but the rioters suffered worse than the officers. Rioting was renewed today, arms being distributed to mobs in St. Pauli. Several police depots were attacked and one was captured by mobs.

March on Budapest.

(Canadian Press.)

BUDAPEST, April 23.—Reports are current that the Roumanians and Czechs have received orders from the Allies to march on Budapest. It is felt, however, that the Roumanians are advancing merely to occupy territories set aside for them by the Allied note of March 20. The fact that the Communists are unable to prevent the Allies from occupying districts involved is weakening the influence of Bela Kun and is causing violent hatred against the Allies among the Hungarians.

278 CROWNS TOPPLED

Bavaria Leads Germany in the Loss of Former Royalty.

BERLIN.—A German professor figures out that the abdications and dethronements in Germany include 278 persons. Bavaria leads, with one king, one queen, fifteen princes, sixteen princesses, five dukes and one duchess. Prussia has sent thirty-three royalties into exile, including the Emperor, Empress, twenty princes and eleven princesses. Brunswick is at the bottom of the list, with only the ducal couple and their three children. The two tiny principalities of Reuss, whose area is hardly one-three-hundredths part of that of Prussia, have exiled thirty-six royalties.

The principality of Lippe, only about twenty square miles larger than the Reuss states, had a royal family numbering twenty-four persons. Most extraordinary is the case of Schaumburg-Lippe, with its area of 130 square miles, where there was nearly one royal personage for every five square miles. These included the reigning prince, seventeen princes and seventeen princes and seven princesses.

DON'T BUY "WILD CAT" OIL STOCKS

INVESTORS:

THE GREAT WESTERN CORPORATION, owning the GREAT WESTERN OIL AND REFINING COMPANY, THE RED SEAL OIL & GAS COMPANY, and other corporations, offers a limited issue of treasury stock at the par value of $5 a share. Do you wish to make a small investment that will net you large profit? Do you want to share in the oil wealth of the famous Mid-Continent oil fields? If you do then INVEST YOUR MONEY IN A COMPANY THAT IS SAFE!

NOTICE, MR. INVESTOR!

GREAT WESTERN IS RATED IN BRADSTREETS $500,000 HIGHEST CREDIT. DUN'S REPORT CREDITS GREAT WESTERN A NET WORTH OF $2,648,320. GREAT WESTERN IS LICENSED BY THE U.S. CAPITAL ISSUES COMMITTEE. GREAT WESTERN HAS ALREADY PAID THREE DIVIDENDS.

YET GREAT WESTERN HAS ONLY SOLD ABOUT ONE-HALF OF ITS CAPITAL STOCK. OUR 3,000 BARREL REFINERY AT ERIE, KANSAS, COVERS 73 ACRES. WE HAVE OUR OWN PIPELINE AND 14 PRODUCING OIL WELLS AT PRESENT. GREAT WESTERN PRODUCES, REFINES, TRANSPORTS AND MARKETS. GREAT WESTERN GASOLINE AND OIL FILLING STATIONS OPERATE IN 7 STATES. 114 ALL STEEL TANK CARS ARE TRANSPORTING CRUDE OIL. IN SIZE THE 4th LARGEST INDEPENDENT OIL CORPORATION IN THE U.S. 40,000 ACRES OF OIL LAND LEASES OWNED OUTRIGHT BY GREAT WESTERN. 30,000 ACRES OWNED WITH A STANDARD OIL SUBSIDIARY AND INDEPENDENTS. GREAT WESTERN IS SAFE, SUBSTANTIAL, PROGRESSIVE—A COMPANY WHOSE SECURITIES OFFER TO YOU AN UNPARALLELED INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY! CAN YOU DOUBT IT—IN THE FACE OF THESE FACTS?

Do you know that a few hundred dollars invested in the right oil company frequently makes a fortune for the investor? Standard Oil Company in 1860 had a capital of $700, in 1910 their capital was $525,000,000—after paying stockholders $2,000,000,000 in dividends. WE CALL YOUR ATTENTION TO THE FACT THAT THE GREAT WESTERN CORPORATION IS TODAY OPERATING ALONG THE SAME LINES THAT THE STANDARD DID—which is to say that we are making EVERY PROFIT THERE IS IN THE OIL INDUSTRY from the producing of the crude oil until it is marketed retail and in this policy lies the essential and absolute safety of Great Western as an investment. We acquire at one and the same time a number of sources of revenue and a wide distribution of risks. These two elements constitute in the financial world what is termed SAFETY. When the price of oil goes down we buy the oil for our refinery and center less of our activity in new production. On the other hand when oil goes up we concentrate on increased production. Thus our revenues are protected and we profit in both cases.

WHY THE OIL BUSINESS IS UNUSUALLY PROFITABLE:

For one reason, the labor requirement is almost nominal. A crew of 5 men can operate a refinery earning several thousands of dollars a day. Second, your dollars invested in the oil industry work 24 hours out of 24 instead of 8 hours a day, thereby giving you a three time earning capacity. Third, thanks largely to the example set by the Standard Oil Company, there are no brokers in the oil business. You do not pay transportation charges because you use your own pipeline to your refinery. After you have refined the oil it is shipped away in your own tank cars and a large corporation like the Great Western has its own storage facilities and distributing stations which sell direct to the public. At no stage of the operation from beginning to end has a broker profited one penny. Another fact that militates in favor of the oil operator is the high average of success in drilling oil wells and the very small percentage of loss. An oil well costing, for instance, $40,000 to drill has frequently been known to pay for itself in ONE DAY. Such instances, of course, are not typical by any means—still it would surprise you to know how really small is the percentage of risk involved in the drilling of oil wells.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE OIL BUSINESS IS SAFE:—

The average man's preconcerved idea of the oil industry is that it is essentially A GAMBLE. THE FACT IS THAT THERE IS NO SAFER BUSINESS ON EARTH. STATISTICS WILL BEAR OUT THIS STATEMENT. Duns or Bradstreets state that 60% of the men who start in business are failures. Compare this with government oil statistics. The United States Government issues a year book through its Department of Geological Survey which states that out of all the wells drilled in the state of Oklahoma in the past 13 years 80% of them produced oil in paying quantities. According to these statistics the average oil company drilling a well has a 20% better chance of bringing in an oil producer than a man starting a new business has of succeeding.

THESE STATISTICS APPLY ONLY TO THE HONEST OIL COMPANY—TO THE COMPANY WHO IS LEGITIMATELY ENGAGED IN THE PRODUCTION OF OIL. Of course, if you nivest your money in wild-cat stock promotion you should expect to lose it, but you cannot well blame this loss on the oil industry as a whole or on the reliable oil company that honestly invests your money in the drilling of oil wells.

GREAT WESTERN IS NOT ONLY AN HONEST COMPANY LEGITIMATELY ENGAGED IN THE OIL INDUSTRY—BUT IT IS A SOLID SUBSTANTIAL COMPANY THAT IS FIRMLY ESTABLISHED IN THE PETROLEUM INDUSTRY. WHEN BRADSTREET RATES A CORPORATION AT $500,000 HIGHEST CREDIT AND DUN GIVES A NET WORTH OF $2,648,320, IT MEANS HONESTY AND SOLIDITY BACKED BY LARGE TANGIBLE ASSETS.

Great Western's assets today are far in excess of its outstanding capital stock—AND YET GREAT WESTERN RIGHT THIS MINUTE IS ON THE THRESHOLD OF ITS GREATEST PERIOD OF DEVELOPMENT. An increase in the price of the stock has already been announced, 5% effective May 1st. An additional increase of 10% is anticipated very shortly.

Great Western is growing larger daily. Within the last few weeks 30 additional tank cars have been added to our fleet and a 1000 barrel oil well has been reported in connection with our Texas interests. This report comes from the famous Burkburnett Field. To date 63 OIL COMPANIES IN TEXAS ALONE HAVE PAID DIVIDENDS AMOUNTING TO $2,000,000 AND YET THIS FIELD WAS NEVER HEARD OF UNTIL SIX MONTHS AGO. Many of these companies paid dividends ranging from 100 to 1000%. The Fowler Farm Oil Company paid its stockholders $75,000 for every $500 invested.

AND GREAT WESTERN MAY BE ADDED TO THIS LIST OF FORTUNE MAKERS ANY DAY.

Of course we do not guarantee that Great Western will make you a fortune but we do say that Great Western will certainly pay large dividends, and that Great Western has not only as good but a better chance to make its stockholders a fortune than these smaller companies had.

100 wells have been contracted for in connection with some of our lease interests and no one can say what these wells may mean to our stockholders. We will also build an additional refinery. LAST CHANCE TO BUY AT PAR—5% INCREASE MAY 1st

REMEMBER:—GREAT WESTERN IS AN ESTABLISHED COMPANY, GREAT WESTERN IS SAFE, GREAT WESTERN OWNS ENORMOUS ASSETS, GREAT WESTERN IS RATED HIGH, GREAT WESTERN HAS ALREADY PAID THRHEE DIVIDENDS AND W. R. Jones, President of the Company, says: "When this sale of stock is effected and our present plans completed, I am firmly convinced that Great Western will produce revenues of $4,000,000 per annum or 80% on its entire Capital Stock."

DO YOU REALIZE THAT GREAT WESTERN IS THE MOST UNUSUAL INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY EVER OFFERED THE PUBLIC AT PAR? IF YOU DO, FILL IN THE COPON AND MAIL IT TODAY. OR IF YOU DESIRE ANY ADDITIONAL INFORMATION WRITE US AT ONCE FOR OUR "STORIES OF THE OIL WORLD."

ITALIANS DUMFOUNDED

Woodrow Wilson Adds a Little More Fuel to the Fire—Italians Bitter.

MEETING TO-DAY

PARIS, April 24. — It was declared this afternoon by Premier Lloyd George that the Italians would leave Paris to-day.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 24.—It is understood that Great Britain and France, after consultation with President Wilson, will make another effort to draw from the Italians a further declaration as to the situation which has arisen, and hope is still entertained in conference circles, that in spite of Premier Orlando's decision to leave Paris, a way be found at the last moment to terminate to the satisfaction of all parties admittedly the grave incident which arose yesterday.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 24.—Premier Orlando, in a statement to the Italian correspondents last night, outlined the events of the day. He said that in the morning Premier Lloyd George's secretary took to the Italian delegation a note from the Council of Three which, answered the Italian claims and which specified that Fiume was to be a free city and not under the administration of any power. The delegation then inquired, he said, if this represented President Wilson's opinion, and received an affirmative answer. The Italian delegation met at 4.30 o'clock to take up the note, but had hardly begun consideration before an afternoon newspaper was brought in, and the Italians were dumfounded, the Premier said, to find Mr. Wilson's note printed there. The surprise of the Italians was intense, Signor Orlando continued, to learn that the document "so vital, was made public in such a manner, and at first doubted its authenticity. These doubts were soon removed, however, and the delegation at once deliberated upon the consequences of its publication. After a long discussion, the Italians considered it necessary to make known their surprise to Great Britain and France, and addressed a letter to those two powers, pointing out the impossibility of continuing to participate usefully in the peace conference.

Regret was expressed that Mr. Wilson's statement, which came at the very moment the Italian delegation was making a supreme effort to reach a settlement, had made that effort impossible, the Premier concluded.

Press Comment.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April 24.— "A thunderbolt," "A bombshell," "An appeal to Caesar," and other descriptive expressions are used by the morning newspapers in connection with President Wilsons declarations on the Italian situation. The President's step is treated as a dramatic development at the peace conference by most of the journals. Everywhere Mr. Wilson's action is regarded as having created a most serious situation, unfolding which will be watched with anxious interest. Such editorials as appear were manifestly written with an eye to Italy's possible withdrawal from the conference, though Premier Orlando's announcement of his decision to quit Paris had not reached London when the papers were published.

LEAVING PARIS.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 24. — The Italian headquarters announced that the Parliament of Italy would meet shortly after Premier Orlando's return.

Preliminary instructions have already been telegraphed to Rome. The French Foreign Office said today that instead of announcing a complete rupture, Premier Orlando's letter to Premiers Lloyd George and Clemenceau, asked whether in view of the circumstances, Italian participation in the conference would be useful? It is said that the Premiers will make joint answer

Returned Officers and Mayor and Reception committee.
Escort composed of returned men of the 2nd Battalion and 4th Battery.
Great War Veterans' Band and members of Great War Veterans and all returned soldiers.
Salvation Army Band and Boy Scouts.

The parade will be down George street to Charlotte, and along Charlotte to Grand Trunk station. The return will be the same route to Central Park. If the weather is unfavourable the Armouries will be used.

The organizations and citizens taking part in the parade will assemble at Central Park at 7.30 and move off to the station at 7.45.

Victims Are Identified

Distracted Mother Told How Pauline Disappeared.

(Special to The Examiner.)

MONTREAL, April 24. — Pauline Saik, the seventeen year old daughter of Adolph Saik, a Pole, who keeps a grocery store in Point St. Charles, Montreal, is the victim of the Windsor Hotel tragedy. Karl Sawick, of Toronto, the murderer, was her accepted lover, known to and favoured by her family.

The body was identified by the girl's father who, when she did not return home by 10.30 Tuesday night, searched among her friends for trace of her and notified the police. "My little girl is dead, I hope she died a good girl," wailed the distracted mother, who between her sobs told how Pauline had left at three o'clock in the afternoon to purchase a coat in the city.

Peterboro Lad Found in Hamilton

Intended to Go to Home of Aunt in Toronto—On Way Home To-day.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, April 24.—Ten days ago, John Patrick Foley, thirteen years and six months old, whose home is at 492 Cambridge street, Peterborough, disappeared from his home with the avowed intention of going to the home of his aunt, Mrs. E. Blain, of 52 Yorkville avenue, Toronto. He was found by the police in Toronto at four o'clock the next morning and taken to the juvenile court. The court gave him into the charge of Probation Officer J. M. Wyatt, and then the lad disappeared again. Mr. Wyatt communicated with the boy's friends in Peterborough, saying he would eventually be found. Meanwhile local newspapers received a letter from the boy's parents with a request for their assistance in locating the child.

Enquiry at the local police station elicited the information that John Foley has been located in Hamilton and is returning to the city to-day in charge of Patrol Sergeant A. Blade.

"The Rosary" To-night

One of the most lovable characters on the American stage, Rip Van Winkle and Uncle Nat, in "Shore Acres" not excepted, is Rev. Brian Kelly, the priest, in Edward E. Rose's "The Rosary," which will come to the Grand Opera House to-night, in Rowland & Clifford's revival of that play. Not sectarian in any way, this priest performs his duties in this play with a wonderful human feeling and wins happiness for the other characters by his good, common sense, his kindly philosophy and his fine sense of humor. The revival is marked by a notable company of players, headed by Oscar O'Shea and Father Kelly, and a fine production, and is made to satisfy the growing demand for wholesome plays and for clean entertainment. The story of this drama is a tense one, and abounds in striking situations and tense moments. While there are tragic touches here and there, the comedy is of a high order and it helps to round out one of the most fascinating entertainments staged in many years.

Peterboro Men Delighted at Prospect of Re-union With Friends and Relatives in City

Will Reach Peterboro To-night—Impressions Gathered by a Staff Representative of The Examiner—Boys Are "fed Up on Speeches" and Are Not Anxious to Be Told How They Won the War and What They Fought Each Other For.

COLORS SENT TO PETERBORO

(3 o'clock Despatch)

KINGSTON, April 24.—Peterboro soldiers of the 2nd Battalion, 4th Battery and other units, which arrived home on the Olympic, will leave Kingston on a special G.T.R. train at 3.10 this afternoon. These units were demobilized this morning and the men are once more civilians. It is stated that the colors of the 2nd Battalion are to be sent to Peterboro to be deposited in one of the churches in that city, and that a color party will be sent the Battalion to accompany the colors.

(By Staff Reporter)

KINGSTON, April 24.—Delighted to be back in Canada and anxiously looking forward to see their friends and relatives in the old home town, are the Peterboro boys of the 2nd Battalion, 4th Battery and other units of the C.E.F. who arrived yesterday afternoon and evening. The Examiner representative was eagerly besieged for news of Peterboro and its people and the desire of the returning heroes to get home as soon as possible was evident in every question that was asked. That desire will be fulfilled to-day, for by the time this article is in print the Peterboro boys will be speeding westward on the last leg of their journey.

The 2nd Battalion, in command of Lieut.-Col. McLaughlin, D.S.O., well known in Peterboro, reached Kingston at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, disentraining at the Tete du Pont Barracks, where they were welcomed by thousands of people. Headed by their own band and with a mounted escort furnished by the R.C.H.A., and a large number of war veterans in uniform, the Iron Second marched to the Market Square, where they were formally welcomed by Brigadier General Victor Williams, G.O.C. No. 3 Military District, and Mayor Newman, of Kingston. Afterward there was a triumphal parade through flag brightened streets, and then the battalion marched to the barracks at Barriefield where they were billeted.

The artillery units and other details, who arrived on the second train at 9 o'clock, were given a similar reception and cheered by an even larger crowd

NOT MANY ORIGINALS

There are not many Peterboro Original Firsts back with the Iron Seconds. In fact the Examiner was only able to find three, in the person of Regimental Sergeant-Major Ernest Nicholls, D.C.M., Sergeant Harry Kelsey and Corporal Stan. Bucknell, with the battalion, although another of the originals, Sergeant Wm. Hale, Sophia street, slipped in on the second train, having been transferred from the 2nd Battalion to a machine gun unit.

Sergt.-Major Nicholls, who was a member of the 57th Regiment, and who left Peterboro in August 1914, as a sergeant in the 57th detachment, has probably as long a record as any one who came back yesterday. He was slightly wounded in the 2nd Battle of Ypres four years ago yesterday and was in hospital a short time, but has been with the battalion ever since, going through all the engagements and winning the D.C.M. and promotion to sergeant-major. Sergt. Kelsey and Corp. Bucknell have also a record of service since the 2nd Battalion went to France, as has Sergt. Hele, whose father and two brothers also served in France.

Well known Peterboro boys who came back with the 2nd Battalion were Sergt. Allan Wade and Pte. Stanley Wade, London street. The two brothers went overseas with the 39th Battalion but were transferred to the 2nd. Sergt. Allan Wade was the first of the two to get to France and wears the Belgian Croix de Guerre. "It is hard to realize that we are back," he remarked to the Examiner, when asked for his impressions.

WELL-KNOWN ATHLETES

Sergt. Harold Morrow, Water street, the well-known Peterboro Junior O.H.A. player who went overseas in 1915 with the Remounts and transferred to the C.F.A., reached Kingston on the second train last night.

Another familiar figure in sport circles in Peterboro, who will return in to-day's quota, is Sapper Len Dobson, who has played lacrosse, hockey and baseball with Peterboro teams. Sapper Dobson enlisted in the West in the Canadian Engineers and came home on the Adriatic, reaching Halifax on Sunday.

Accompanying the 2nd Battalion was a company of men who were attached to the 2nd as they want to be discharged in Kingston. Among them was Pte. D. G. Hatton, son of Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton, who served at the front with the 5th Battalion, and Ptes. Chris McGrath and E. W. Bailey, former members of the 93rd Battalion, who were at the front with the 1st Battalion.

NO PETERBORO OFFICERS

There were no Peterboro officers with the 2nd Battalion, Capt. T. W. B. Marling, of Lakefield, who went overseas with the 93rd Battalion, being the only officer from the immediate district, to return with the 2nd Battalion. Capt. Angus Richardson, another 93rd officer, was on the second train arriving last night with an attachment of engineers.

HIS SECOND TRIP

Sergt. Jack Playford, formerly of the 93rd Battalion, who came in with the 2nd Battalion, is on his way home to Peterboro for the second time. Sergt. Playford, a former member of the 57th Regiment, was an Imperial Reservist, who went overseas at the beginning of the war and after being discharged at the end of a year, returned to Peterboro and re-enlisted with the 93rd Battalion. He has been twice wounded, but looks the picture of health now, and like all the rest of the boys, is glad to be nearing home.

Even Sergt.-Major Nicholls, who has no relatives in Peterboro, says that it is good to be getting back. All the returning men are alike in this sentiment and they are looking forward to seeing their friends. In regard to their reception at Peterboro, the Examiner is sure that the wishes of the men themselves can be best satisfied if the ceremonies are as brief as possible and the speeches reduced to a minimum. "We are fed-up on speeches," is the way the boys put it. They are anxious to rejoin their friends as soon as possible and have no desire to listen to a half a dozen long addresses on how they won the war.

Nicholls Hospital Enjoyed Music

Yesterday a musicale was given in Nicholls Hospital under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Renwick. It was much appreciated by the staff and patients. Miss Laura Logan gave two excellent violin selections and was accompanied by Mrs. Logan. The following young ladies contributed well chosen solos: Miss Ella Worth, Miss Doris Rathbone, Miss Ila Wilson, Miss Myrtle Succee, Miss V. Johnston. Miss Isobel Baird accompanied the singers and played a piano solo. Mr. Jock Renwick also contributed a much appreciated mandolin selection.

CHIMNEY FIRE

The chimney at the home of Mrs. Gendrenoble, 290 Westcott street, caught afire this morning at 9.30. The damage was small

New Storehouse For Wm. Stock & Sons

Wm. Stock & Sons, bakers, are razing the old house on their property on Stewart street, which they used for storage purposes, and are replacing it with a new building in which they will keep their sleighs and other articles that are required for seasonal work. The new storehouse will be in keeping with the rest of the plant, with an upstairs and run-way and other facilities for the smooth handling of their delivery and express equipment.

GOOD HEALTH

Impossible without good eyesight Eye strain are the direct cause of all sorts of nervous disorders. Most people are unaware of their eye troubles. We will tell you frankly whether you need glasses or not, and make no charge for the information. See W. H. Lacey, exclusive Optometrist, 410 George street.

Caucus Held This Morning

Race Track Gambling and Other Matters Discussed.

Canadian Press:

OTTAWA, April 24.—At the Unionist caucus this morning it is understood that the Government supporters were invited to express views as to the action the Government should take in regard to prohibition, race track gambling and other matters. There was considerable diversion of opinion, but no serious differences materialized. It is regarded as possible that the Government's attitude regarding the Tariff and Franchise Act may be deferred until the return of Sir Robert Borden.

"When Johnny Comes Marching Home"

He will find his favorite tailor, Frank Hourigan, of Scotland Woolen Mills fame, located at the same old convenient store on Hunter street, just off George. The only change is that the store has been given a new tartan frock with a new nameplate: "The Tartan Tailor Shop." Frank is always ready and willing with tape measure and square, to take accurate measurements for correct styles in men's classy made-to-measure clothing. It is reasonable to suppose that a lot of the boys will have a decided tending to plumpiness. Frank's tailors realize that they have not the same figures to fit that they had in the ante-war days, and they are allowing for the increased breadth of chest and muscular development of legs. There will be no stoop-shoulders to fit, but in their stead will be coats a trifle closer fitting with wide shoulders, trousers not quite so skimpy, and plenty of room for the new strong backs which military experience has created. Quick March! To the Tartan Tailor Shop.

THE WEATHER

Yesterday afternoon had the highest thermometer of any day this year up to the present time. A temperature of 66 degrees in the shade made many think that gardening operations were in order, and that summer was here. To-day, however, has brought a great change. At noon today the temperature was down to 33 degrees.—W. P.

St. Luke's Soldiers' Reception Postponed

OWING TO THE CIVIC RECEPTION TO RETURNED SOLDIERS THURSDAY NIGHT, THE SOLDIERS' RECEPTION AT ST. LUKE'S CHURCH WILL BE POSTPONED UNTIL FRIDAY NIGHT, 25th INST. AT EIGHT O'CLOCK. 2d

WAGES WILL BE INCREASED

Board of Conciliation Have Concluded Their Labours.

THE NEW SCALE

TORONTO, April 24.—The Board of Conciliation investigation into the dispute between the Dominion Power and Transmission Company of Hamilton and its electricians concluded its sessions which were held in the Court House last night. As a result of the efforts of the Board and the two parties an agreement was reached, which was signed by the representatives of the company and the union officials. By the agreement the linemen receive an increase in wages from 37 and 42 cents an hour to 50 and 55 cents. They get time and a half for overtime, double time after 10 p.m. and double time for Sundays and holidays.

Receive Increases.

The operators at eleven sub-stations receive increases in their monthly salaries to $105 and $110 per month for first and second operators respectively. Their former rates were $85 to $90. Helpers in the power stations get $75 per month instead of the present rates of $60 and $65. Operators in sub-station A and the Eastern power station receive an increase of $5 per month. In addition, the relief operators are increased to four for the purpose of providing one day's rest in seven, with pay to each operator. Operators also get one week's holiday during the year with pay. The agreement provides for the recognition of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers for the first time, and the increases date to April 1st. The operators obtain greater increases in wages than they requested.

Judge C. Snider was chairman of the Board, G. H. Kert, K.C., for the company, and Fred. Bancroft, for the employees, were the other members.

Signing of Peace Is Still Uncertain

Italian Situation has Created an Uncertainty.

PARIS, April 24. — The date of the arrival of the German Peace Delegation at Versailles is still not determined, and the allied representatives are apparently not pressing for haste in view of the fact that the uncertainties of the Italian situation might possibly make an early inauguration of formal discussions between representatives of the allied and associated powers and the Germans impossible.

Delays in forming the treaty of peace is also a reason for not desiring the speedy arrival of the enemy plenipoteniaries.

The German delegation will be larger than was announced. General Nudant, Marshal Foch's representative at the Spa, has been officially informed that in addition to the peace delegates there will be a party of 75 persons.

Must Vacate Well Paid Positions

War Veterans Will Send a Resolution to the Government.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, April 24.—Married women who occupy well paid positions while their husbands are also making sufficient money to keep them in comfort, will not be allowed to continue their present lucrative employment if the Central G.W.V.A. Executive are successful in their request to the Government, voiced in the following resolution:

"That this committee goes on record as being opposed to the employment of married women whose husbands are employed and capable of supporting their families and we recommend that the Government be memoralized to investigate and immediately discharge the large number of women who come in this category and replace them by disabled returned soldiers or deserving and needy women."

Canadians Are Held By Strike

Dock Workers' Strike at Liverpool Holds up "Baltic" Troopship.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April 24. — A number of the First Division troops ready to sail for Canada, must remain in England, owing to the dockworkers' strike at Liverpool, which held up the departure of the White Star Liner, "Baltic," upon which they were to make the trip.

CARTERS ARE ON STRIKE

Longshoremen Will Not Join the Teamsters—Refuse to Arbitrate.

THIRTEEN ARRESTED

Special to the Examiner:

MONTREAL, April 24.—The Syndicated longshoremen of the port of Montreal, who number 2,700, will not join the teamsters on strike. This was stated emphatically to-day by C. Dugold, their secretary-treasurer, who said that the longshoremen had signed up a satisfactory agreement for the season, and they intended to keep it.

As evidence of their good faith, Mr. Dugold stated that two boats arrived in the port yesterday, and the men had at once started work on them

Thirteen Arrested.

The duty of the longshoremen, he explained, is to take the cargo into the shed, both from steamers arriving and from carters who bring it down to the wharves. After freight is received the work of the longshoremen is with outward freight to put it on the boats and with inward deliver it to the men of the cartage companies who call for it.

"If the carters do not bring freight down to the sheds this may in time affect our jobs, but we are not striking to aid them in getting their demands. They have our sympathy, and we hope their troubles may be settled soon, but we are not going to strike," declared Mr. Dugold.

Thirteen were arrested on the streets last night by the police on charges of intimidating citizens and infringing upon their personal liberties.

Six Thousand Out.

The carters' strike here is taking on much greater dimensions to-day and no prospects of settlement of mediation appears in sight. Six thousand carters are out, and this had been added to by 500 freight handlers and other railway employees at depots and wharves, the closing down of the Canada Sugar Refinery Company, and 150 painters going on strike. A. H. Ashton, mediator for the American Federation of Labour, has taken charge of the strike situation, but says the future is black, as employers refuse to arbitrate or meet him to discuss matters. Cartage is at a standstill, except what is being done by companies with motor trucks under police protection. Employers and representatives of labour agreed late this forenoon to meet at one o'clock to discuss the strike situation and try to come to an agreement.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

THURSDAY, APRIL 24TH, 1919.

THE CITY ASSUMING ITS PART.

The construction of the surface drain on Simcoe street, begun by the Board of Works Department to-day, and the progress with the Rosebine street sewer, together with the advancement of the preliminaries of the Hunter street bridge work are indications that the city is striving to provide some of the employment that was so lavishly promised last winter. When the conditions of the building season were far off, members of the Government, following the successful precedent of Union, assured the public that labour would be at a premium when spring permitted outdoor operations. Municipalites were urged to create employment, and Peterborough is faithfully endeavouring to do its part. But the Government projects, some of them actually planned before the war broke out, are seemingly more nebulous than in 1914. Men who have been depending upon these promises, are beginning to look anxiously for the signs of fulfilment, and if the Government is as good as the word of its Ministers there should be some announcement forthcoming in the very near future.

THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY.

The special department for children at the Public Library is a development that is as encouraging as it is praiseworthy. That this expansion was deemed necessary and advisable by the Board is gratifying evidence that many of the children are more seriously and profitably engaged than their parents are aware of. This generation seems at times in despair of its youth, believing them lacking interest in everything but their games and new attractions that are considered pernicious in their cumulative effect, to be devoid of that curious investigating propensity that suggests a thoughtful observing mind, to be without the spirit of voluntary application and studiousness, but to be possessed of flippant, shallow ideals that are ascribed to this age. There probably are many young people of whom this sweeping stricture is unfortunately too true, but there are many other boys and girls, not without vigour and high spirits, who are making use of the opportunities so abundantly laid before them. Hence, the fact that the average children's day at the Library counted one hundred and thirteen applications for books is reassuring to those of little faith in the young folk of the present day.

The Library Board was influenced not only by the desire to relieve the congestion during the busy hours and to improve the facilities for the citizens and the librarians, but also to afford the children the guidance of a specialist in this branch of the work. This is an excellent feature, that will be unanimously commended. Adults avail themselves of book reviews and the judgment of librarians in their selections from the shelves, and the young readers will doubtless be equally amenable to the suggestions of their own librarian. Miss Ellis Munro, B. A., has all the training and the personal qualities for the successful management of the new department which, when opened shortly, will stimulate the interest of the young members and attract many new ones. The Board is to be congratulated upon their initiative. It implies vision, close study of the Library's conditions and the mind of the public, and a solicitude for the children of Peterborough that affords them advantage equal to those provided by libraries in many of the large cities.

A COMPLETE REVERSAL OF THEORY.

Whenever Dr. Harold Williams writes of Russian conditions and happenings it is from knowledge and wisdom. That does not make it necessary always to agree with him, but it does make it rash for anybody less well informed to deny the conclusions reached by him in a field peculiarly his own. When, therefore, he writes, as he did in a dispatch from London published yesterday, that lack of food is the effect but not the cause, of Bolshevism, the statement cannot be dismissed merely because it is at variance with what has been said so many times that practically everybody was come to believe it.

The Germans have been particularly industrious in propagating the exact opposite of Dr. Williams's contention, and that fact alone ought to have made us all cautious in accepting as to the relation between Bolshevism and starvation, a theory that served German purposes so well.

On reflection it is easy enough to see that Dr. Williams is right, at least in the broader and longer view. Probably he would not deny that prolonged deprivation of food would create conditions favourable to acceptance of any doctrine that promised relief but in a more important sense he is right in declaring that the inevitable effect of Bolshevist economics is still greater deprivation and ultimate starvation.

Certainly the Russians to-day would be better fed than they are if they had not destroyed their own large powers of production, and who can doubt that Germany and Austria-Hungary would by this time have been through the worst of their food troubles, or at least closely approaching the end of them, if they had not used the Spartacus lunacy as a threat with which to intimidate the Allies?—New York Times.

HONOURING THE DEAD

Mr. Arthur H. D. Hair, Honourary Secretary of the "Last Post," Imperial Navy and Military Contingency Fund, has issued a most interesting pamphlet entitled "A National Debt," in which the aims and objects of the "Last Post" Fund are clearly set out. The Fund was organized as a voluntary association in 1909 with the primary object of seeing that all soldiers and sailors of the Empire shall be properly honoured in death, "to prevent the ignoring and ingratitude of an abandonment to a pauper's grave at death of any man, of whom it can be proved that he had served his country honourably either in the army, navy or auxiliary forces." That object, important and praiseworthy as it was ten years ago is one that is imperative as an aftermath of the Great War and the officials of the Fund should have the support not only of the various organizations of returned soldiers, but of the general public in their effort to see that the Dominion Government shall be awakened to a realization of its duty toward the men who have served. "Apart from what this Fund has done, what has cared and as a whole done to meet this debt we owe to our heroes?" says Mr. Hair. This apathy towards a subject of the greatest importance reflects very discreditably on the conception of national sentiment by those who are responsible for the evasion. "Is it not high time that we in Canada should rise to the occasion and in support of our repeated profession of loyalty to our boys at the front, see to it that when they return, many of them doomed to a shortened period of life, they will not be the object of charity at death? not be the object of charity at death?"

The "Last Post Fund, in urging action on the part of the Government advises that a Department of Military and Naval Obituaries shall be formed and that he responsibility shall be divided as follows:

Federal Government.—Finance funeral costs of every man enlisted for C.E.F. if requested, as also the upkeep of the Cemeteries and Executive Staff.

Provincial Governments.—Land grants or equivalent in cash for necessary Cemeteries and Plots within their respective boundaries and a cash grant of $50.00 for every "indigent" Canadian dying within the Province.

Home and Overseas Governments of the Other Dominions.—A grant to this Department of the Dominion of Canada of $50.00 for every "indigent" ex-soldier or sailor of their respective Governments, who may die within the Dominion; this obligation to be reciprocated by the Dominion of Canada in the case of Canadians dying within the borders of the Homeland or other overseas Dominions.

The Canadian War Memorial Fund of the Public.—To raise funds voluntarily for Memorials and the burial of "indigents" of previous wars of the British Empire.

DOMINION RUBBER

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 24. — It is said that Premier Lloyd George approved President Wilson's statement without reserve and that Premier Clemenceau has described it as "admirable," and has said that he would not change a word.

It is explained that the reason that Mr. Lloyd George and Clemenceau did not join the statement was the fact that they were parties to the Treaty of London. It was stated in an authoritative American quarter, that Mr. Wilson's statement regarding Fiume was submitted by him to Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Clemenceau two days ago.

DEMONSTRATION IN ITALY

(Canadian Press.)

ROME, April 24. — An imposing demonstration occurred here to-day, the paraders traversing the principal thoroughfares acclaiming Fiume and Dalmatia, and cheering for Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnine because of their attitude regarding Italy's claims at the peace conference. The British, French and American embassies were each guarded by two hundred soldiers to avoid possible incidents.

WILL LEAVE PARIS.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 24. — Premier Orlando reiterated this morning that he would leave Paris to-day. He added: "We do not break with our allies but hand over our interests to their hands, trusting they will loyally fulfill their mission.' Other members of the Italian delegation may remain in Paris a few days longer.

ANOTHER CONFERENCE

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 24. — Premier Lloyd George called on Premier Orlando before the Council met this morning. The statesmen had a long conference, the British Premier endeavoring to secure a change in the Italian position. There was no indication, however, of the success of the effort.

COMMENDS ACTION.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 24. — King Victor Emmanuel has telegraphed Premier Orlando commending his action and insisting that there be no recession from the position that Italy has taken.

SEPARATE PEACE.

PARIS, April 24. — It was stated in the Italian uarters to-day that should a break become definite Italy would take steps to approach Germany with a view to making a separate peace.

JOB FOR A "PERFECT LADY"

Meals Even Served In Bed To Get Servant in Montclair

MONTCLAIR, N.J., April 23.—The following advertisement, which is regarded by some as a satire, but is stated by the person who inserted it as an earnest attempt to obtain consideration from those who are in the market to hire out in household service, was published in the Montclaire Times:

WANTED—Lady to assist in housework; must be stylish; fingers well manicured; willing to have her breakfast in bed; no washing, no cooking, no cleaning, sweeping or dusting; flowers and bonbons provided; salary or stipend, $200 a month; limousine will call.

The servant problem has reached an acute stage in Montclair, and householders are offering extremely high wages.

General Gunn Is Retiring

Business Interests Are Becoming Very Urgent—Elmslie May Succeed.

Special to the Examiner:

TORONTO, April 24.—In an interview with Brigadier-General John A. Gunn, C.M.G., D.S.O., General Officer Commanding Toronto Military District, this morning, he confirmed the rumour that he is retiring at his own wish. "A short time ago I wrote the Minister of Militia reminding him that I am still in command here," General Gunn told a reporter. "You see I was only temporarily in command, and my private interests are becoming very urgent. The need for my entire attention to business affairs is becoming pressing, and as things are now, I have practically no time to spare for it. I have asked to be relieved by June first if possible, but in any case I shall remain until my successor arrives." General Gunn has been devoting all his time since he took command to the affairs of the returned and discharged soldiers, and has worked very strenuously in the Repatriation League and other soldiers' organizations. As his successor, rumour has already supplied the name of Major-General Elmslie, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., who returns shortly from Siberia, but General Gunn said he would prefer not to say who he considered would succeed him.

JUDGMENT RESERVED

The following is from yesterday's Osgoode Hall report:

Calves weaker; sheep and lambs unchanged, hogs firmer, export catttle choice, $14.550 to $15.50; butcher cattle, choice, $11 to $13; butcher cows, medium, $10 to $11; sheep, $13 to $16; lambs, $18 to $20; hogs, fed and watered, $22.25; hogs, f.o.b., $21.50; calves $15 to $16.

HER FIVE CHILDREN

Had Whooping Cough At the Same Time

Whooping cough is one of the most dangerous diseases of children, especially to those under five years of age. It first starts with a fever and cough, sneezing, watering of the eyes and an irritation of the throat. Later the coughing increases, the child becomes livid in the face, the eyes appear as if they would burst from their sockets and suffocations seems imminent till relief is brought by the "whoop."

On the first sign of whooping cough we would advise the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. This famous remedy will clear the bronchial tubes of the collected mucous and phlegm, and in this way ease the racking cough and in a short time make it disappear entirely.

Mrs. Walter McGaughey, North Battleford, Sask., writes:—"I have five children, the eldest thirteen and the baby two years old. They all had the whooping cough at the same time. I tried two or three cough remedies, but none gave the same satisfaction as Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. A home where there are young children should never be without it. I will highly recommend it to those who want a quick cure."

There are many imitations of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so be sure you get the genuine by insisting that the package is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c. and manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WILL OCCUPY TERRITORY.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 24.—The Italian military forces will occupy that part of Dalmatia and other Adriatic territory named in the pact of London with about 100,000 men, it was said to-day, by Capt. Pozzi, of Premier Orlando's staff. A similar force, the captain added, would be sent to the northern region and around Fiume.

A dry battery electric lamp is mounted under the paper in a new writing pad on which notes may be taken or letters writte in the dark.

ROUMANIA STILL ON THE ADVANCE.

Canadian Press:

COPENHAGEn, April 24. — Roumanian troops continued their advance toward Budapest on April 23, on the entire line between the Theiss and Maros Rivers, and in the evening were before Debrecozin, about 120 miles due east of Budapest, according to reports from Budapest to-day. The Hungarians evacuated Debrecozin on Tuesday night.

Predicts Rising of "Reds" in United States in Four Weeks

American Defence Society Issues Warning of Outbreak in Four Weeks—Asks Immediate Action.

"GO TO HELL TOGETHER"

"There are just as mean, crafty, dangerous and mereiless anarchists now in America as Lenine and Trotzy, and we predict that within the next four weeks their bombs and their torches will be heard and seen."

That is one of the sentences in a strikingly frank circular letter which is being sent out through the mails by the American Defence Society to thousands of its members and others. The document handles without gloves the menace of Bolshevism, for the fighting of which it solicits continued financial support of the work of the Defence Society. The letter was draughted by W. T. Hornaday, naturalist, author and director of the New York Zoological Park. It bears notonly his signature but also those of prominent officers and trustees of the Defence Society.

The circular bears the caption in black type, "Help Fight the American Bolsheviki—NOW! Shall we go on or not?" Under that heading, it says:

"Very rapidly we are approaching a grave crisis in the affairs of the American commonwealth. The hearthstones of the nation are in danger. If organized labor once loses its head, and takes into its system the poison that has wrecked and ruined Russia all kinds of evil things will happen here on the Russian plan.

"Our one hope is, that the restless elements in American life can be enlightened to the evils of socialism, anarchy and Bolshevism, and persuaded to keep sane and peaceful, while the great industrial problems now worrying the whole nation can be worked out by competent minds.

"If on the other hand, the appeal to greed, ignorance and lawless brute force once gets a firm hold of the restless working people of America, as it did in Russia, and is now doing in Germany, then we will all go to hell together.

"A year ago the American Defence Society saw the cloven hoof of anarchy and Bolshevism in America, and published a bow ('Awake America') to warn the nation against it. Steadily since that time we have kept up the fight against those alien dragons and we believe that our efforts have returned good value.

"But meanwhile the enemy has made great gains and in spite of numerous setbacks administered by the government in New York, Chicago, Seattle and San Francisco, the situation is worse than the most pessimistic of us ever predicted that it would be at this time.

"Already in Cleveland hundreds of posters have been put up by the anarchists calling upon workmen to attend a meeting to 'organize for the revolution.'

"The Bolsheviki are putting forth well organized, widespread and most vigorous efforts to persuade the real workmen of America to adopt the policy of Lenine and Trotzky to seize all public utilities, to fully maintain or increase war wages, to reduce the working hours, to increase employers liabilities and to force the employment of labor on public works. All this is not news to those that read their newspapers carefully.

"The Overman Inquiry Committee of the Senate has just uncovered a plot for a huge I. W. W.-Socialist revolt in the United States.

"On January 23, in Forward Hall, New York City, James Larkin bitterly assailed the 'capitalistic class,' and among other things said, 'Our work is to wipe out the capitalistic class!' and the red ribboned audience, all save the reports and an army officer, leaped to its feet and yelled its approval of the call to violence.

"Now, in the terms of Bolshevism, the 'capitalistic class' is made up of persons who own property, all who have bank accounts, who can read and write, and who bathe, shave and have their hair cut.

"We do not need to ask our neighbors where they stand regarding socialism and anarchy. You are against the wreckers of nations, the pillagers of cities and the destroyers of homes and the murderers of innocent people, wholesale, because they can read and write and own property.

"You are against the robbery, throat cutting, shooting, bombing and burning which the Bolshevist element practises. You believe in marriage, the rights of property, the observance of law and the sanctity of the American home. You believe in giving labor and capital equally a square deal, and their God given rights."

GET MINIMUM WAGE

Women Workers in Manitoba Hotels Get $12.50 a Week.

WINNIPEG, April 22.—Increase in wages and shortening of the working hours of 400 women employees in hotels are features of the ruling of the Manitoba Minimum Wage Board to-day. The minimum wage is $12.50 per week, and must be paid at least every two weeks; and no woman may work more than 52 hours in a week. All must have one day off out of the seven days, or two afternoons. If board and lodging is supplied the maximum deduction an employer may make is $6.50.

5,000 TONS OF MARGARINE MADE IN BRITAIN EVERY WEEK

LONDON.—Margarine manufacturers using vegetable oil and operating under the government war formula, are still making about 5,000 tons of margarine every week.

At one of the most important factories the buildings cover fifty-six acres.

At present market prices margarine is retailed at 18 cents a pound and butter at 60 cents, both prices being set by the government.

Gus Hill's Minstrels Coming to Grand

To Manager Gus Hill is due the honor of upsetting conventions in the theatrical firmament, as attested by the wonderful success registered by his latest enterprise, Gus Hill's Big Minstrels, which is to be the attraction at the Grand Opera House Monday evening, with the usual matinees. No minstrel offering of recent years can boast of more up to date features than this avalanche of burnt-cork tomfoolery and laughter. Critics all over the country have pronounced it the last word in minstrelsy, combining so many unusual novelties, inimitable settings, bits, jokes, singers, dancers, vaudeville headliners, and exponents of simon-pure Ethiopian wit and humor. Every angle of Minstrelsy has been treated with a unique twist, resulting in a production bristling with a brightness and freshness seldom found in a single stage concoction.

Heading a company of fifty all white gloom destroyers and purveyors of mirth and merriment is Geo. Wilson, a black face comedian of acknowledged skill. Then will be found Jimmie Wall, Jack McShane, Fred Freddy, Ed. Clifford, Billy Markwith, Al. Fontaine and Walter Cate, with a score of others equally well known.

If merit has any reward this show is bound to be the sensation as well as the toast of the town. Watch for the street parade. It will be worth your while.

COW GIVES 200 LBS OF BUTTER IN MONTH

But the Price of Butter is Going Higher Every Day Just the SAME

WOODSTOCK, Ont. April 23.—Official tests which have been carried on by representatives from the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, during the month of March and thus far in April, have resulted in proclaiming Rollo Mercena Dekol, a Holstein cow owned by J. B. Hartmer, who lives north of Norwich village, the world's champion butter producer both for seven and thirty day producers. In seven days her butter production was 51.93 pounds, giving 738.7 pounds of milk in this period. In the thirty days test she gave 2,920.5 pounds of milk, which produced 209.34 pounds of butter.

The new champion was bred and raised by Mr. Hanmer. The tests are being continued as it is possible that an even higher record may be established.

A QUESTION OF SMELLS

By H. F. GADSBY.

"And what might the smell be?" asked the youngest Ottawa correspondent. "Rats?"

"No," replied the Old Hand, "it isn't rats. There are no rats in this room. The rats are—well the rats are elsewhere."

"It's a strange odor," mused the youngest correspondent, "as if something lingered around unburied, like Limberger cheese or a shantyman's socks. Whatever it is, it's pretty rotten. Do you think it could be the War Measures Act?"

"No," answered the Old Hand, "it isn't the War Measures Act. The last time I [illegible] P., it smelt a little mouldy, but that was all. It's crummy, I'll admit, but it isn't putrid—at least not yet."

"Might it be the seven thousand order-in-council passed by Union Government?" persisted the youngest Correspondent. "Now that peace is practically in sight, they can't be keeping very well."

"No," grunted the Old Hand, "it isn't the seven thousand orders-in-council. Meighen brought in a little bill to post-cure them the other day. So they'll pass a little longer without offence to the Health Officer. You'll have to guess again my boy."

"Do you think it could be the Tariff?" ventured the Youngest Correspondent. "It's pretty high you know. The Western fellows go round holding their noses—but they don't seem to be trying to disinfect it."

"No," said the Old Hand, "it isn't the tariff. A lot of nasty things can be said about the tariff, but it is at least a live issue. This smell you notice is a dead one."

"Perhaps," guessed the Youngest Correspondent, "It's the Department of Public Information. It's been dead from the start. It's high time it was decently interred."

"No," growled the Old Hand, "it isn't the Department of Public Information. That belongs to Mr. Rowell who, as everybody knows carries with him nothing stronger than the odor of sanctity. The attempt to use the Department of Public Information as a poison gas-factory failed, and it is now quite harmless, though absolutely unnecessary and absurdly expensive."

"Might it be the Censors Department?" asked the Youngest Correspondent. "The war is over now; the overseas censorship is lifted, and we have about as much need of a censorship here as a camel has for a third stomach. The Censors Department has outlived its usefulness and ought to be buried forthwith."

"Slowly, my lad," chided the Old Hand. "You're skating on thin ice there. Remember that the Censors Department distributes one hundred thousand dollars a year in salaries to deserving but impecunious newspaper men. It's part of the Union Govern- [illegible] opinion by keeping possible agitators quiet."

"And the Repatriation and Employment Committee!" girded the Youngest Correspondent. "It seems to do nothing but issue diagrams showing labour how many miles away it is from the nearest job. Wouldn't it be better to shut the thing off and let nature take its course?"

"Softly, my boy," smiled the Old Hand "Lay no hands on the Repatriation and Employment committee another refuge of tired and retired journalists, another sanctuary of superfluous propaganda. Remember our friends are there, as snug as mites in the cheese."

"Cheese is good," remarked the Youngest Correspondent, "but this smell is more like Argyll House. Every returned officer seems to raise a stink about Perley and Kemp and Turner. Could it be this stench that permeates the corridors?"

"No," answered the Old Hand, "It isn't Argyll House. Argyll House may be rotten, but it's three thousand miles away and this smell is right here in the House."

"Could it be the War Trade Board," suggested the Youngest Correspondent. "It is still drawing pay and expenses and sheltering distinguished refugees from the Food Board. It's pretty rank considering the fact that all the trade it gets Canada pays for. Seventy million credit to Greece, Roumania and Belgium,— three busted countries to give us bad notes!"

"Save your indignation, my boy," admonished the Old Hand." "We've got to expect this sort of finance as long as Flavelle has becon to unload at war prices. But there are worse things in the garbage pail. This smell you complain of comes from something a good deal rottener, something much deadlier to the national health than anything you have mentioned. Have you noticed where the smell is strongest?"

"Why yes," said the Youngest Correspondent, "It's strongest in the Cabinet. The honorable gentlemen seem to have it even in their hair. They're steeped, soused, pickled in it. The members of Parliament are plastered with, but not so much. The old line Tory crowd are the highest flavored."

"You've said it," grunted the Old Hand. "The mess you smell is the War Time Election Act. It was always a rotten trick and now it's rottener than ever. It is an offence to high heaven. The Committee on Expiring Laws should have attended to it months ago. It is cheating the undertaker. I should have thought that the first thing this parliament would do would be to give it hasty burial. But it still lingers above ground. Mr. Rowell and the other lovers of human liberty seem loath to put it away."

"It's that bad is it?" asked the Youngest Correspondent.

"It's that bad," grunted the Old Hand, "and worse. I seem to detect a reek of fresh evil in it. Perhaps it's the new Franchise Act. If it's half as rotten as the War Time Election Act, it will be too rotten by half. We must beware how we carry war grudges over into times of peace.

"They wouldn't have the nerve," chirped the Youngest Correspondent. "It would be too raw. Hasn't the world been made safe for democracy?"

"Perhaps, sonny; but that isn't the question. Has Canada been made safe for Union Government and will a Franchise Act do it?"

The Old Hand and the Youngest Correspondent sniffed again—the smell was stronger than ever.

Fordson Farm Tractors

May be observed in many fields along the country roads. Time is so vital to the farmer that they are now a matter of the hour.

There are hundreds of testimonials which indicate the many practical applications and uses to which farmers are putting this latest farm utility, showing that they realize the tractor's great possibility as a necessary part of their equipment. Never tired, they help him all day long, and day and night if necessary.

During the turbulent period just passed it has been the job of the farmers of this continent to assist in feeding the entire world, and the demand for their produce is not likely to see any decrease. It is therefore obvious that the indispensability of the tractor will fast replace farm horses in many instances.

Mechanical farming methods are fast changing from one of drudgery to scientific mechanical production, with still greater innovations in sight and a much larger measure of enjoyment.

Let us demonstrate the practicability of the Fordson Tractor at any kind of work on the farm.

Returned Missionary Gave Interesting Address Tuesday in George Street Church

Miss Charlotte Brooks Has Spent Twenty-one Years in the Interior of China.

A very interesting and instructive address was given in the Sunday School Room of George street Methodist Church, Tuesday evening by Miss Charlotte Brooks, a Methodist Missionary on furlough from China. Miss Brooks has been a missionary in China, for nearly twenty-one years. She is now on her fourth furlough, and although she has seen some of the greatest hardships that missionaries have encountered in China, she is still willing and anxious to carry on her work and will again set sail for China next September.

First Trip.

Miss Brooks explained that she first went to China with Dr. Hart in 1897, who is now head of the Methodist Missions in China.

The province in China set aside for the Canadian Methodist Church to Christianize is Sze Chuan with Chentu as the capital. The southern part of this province is one large level plain, while the northern part is an undulating country, composed of hills, mountains, valleys and swamps. Here rice grows in large fields. Large quantities of wheat are also grown in this part of the country but wheat is not the stable food. All kinds of fruit abound in this part of the province, so bountiful in fact that this part is called the garden of China.

North China.

In North China there are more varieties of fruit and better fruit than in this country or any other part of China, the apples in particular are magnificent. The Chinese have fresh fruit all the year round. In the winter Oranges are about the only fruit available, because the Chinese do not can their fruits as we do. The climate is semi-tropical. On a clear morning, with the temperature at from 90 to 100 per cent., one can see the snow-clad mountains of Tibet in the northern part of Sze Chuan, from the speaker's Mission Compound or Home called Lu Chow which is just outside of the capital of the province, a distance of a 1000 miles. The vegetables grow all the year round, but the best ones mature from the months of December to April, when it is not so hot.

First Mission

Miss Brooks stated that the first Methodist Mission stationed in the province of Sze Chuan, was built twenty-six years ago by Dr. Hart. Now there are seven chief centres of missionary work in the province, which must be remembered is about three thousand miles from the coast. There are several missions in the centre of the city described by the speaker as being a very successful and thriving mission which publishes books of their languages, translated from English. There is a University in connection with it which graduates students in Theology, medicine and etc.

Blamed Foreigners

When Miss Brooks first went to that country as a missionary the natives blamed all famines and even poor weather conditions on the foreigners and even threatened to kill them. But since the year 1900, this conception has vanished from the natives minds.

Three years ago a civil war broke out in the internal part of China as a result of one faction trying to set up a Monarchy. Miss Brooks described how the Northerners had come down in arms from the north to quell the rumoured rebellion. The Northerners so-liked the new land they had entered, that they decided to remain. The Sze Chinese in trying to drive them back were defeated and their capital captured. The Sze Chinese then invited their southern neighbours to help them drive the Northerners back. They consented and after performing their work settled down in this province also, as they liked it very much.

Not Molested.

Another civil war followed which left the capitol in bloodshed, yet the missionaries were never molested. Thousands of people went to the Mission Homes for protection from their enemies. They were cared for and treated kindly. Dr. Hart urged the general not to harm the wounded and his urgings were carried out. Miss Brooks stated that the missionaries had no reason to complain at all, but on the other hand as a result of the civil wars, they were given more confidence in their work and more people became Christians. On account of the protection the citizens or natives were afforded in the missions in times of war, the people learned to respect the missionaries to a greater degree than before.

Robber Bands

One horror of the civil war, which the speaker particularly brought out, was the work done by "Bands of Robbers." One of the enemies promised a certain very large band of robbers three nights of plundering in the capitol, if they should help capture the city. The result was the plundering of the whole city; the like which Miss Brooks said, "she will never forget." These bands of robbers have always made travelling unsafe in the interior of China.

The speaker described the caution which had to be taken while she came down the river, Yang-Tzu-Chiang, last July, which is the Nile of China, to the coast. The boat would very often be told to halt at any point along the river. If it did not do so it would receive a volley of shot. When it was found that the boat contained no loot it was allowed to pass on. But Miss Brooks stated that she had received several letters from China since stating that the robberies in Sze Chuan had been overcome.

Little Manufacturing

Very little manufacturing is done in this far-in-land province. The crude varities of sugar are made from the sugar cane, and most important great quantities of silk cloth are made. The province of Sze Chuan is noted for its silk. Most of the silk is made by poor women with old-fashioned hand-looms. Flower patterns are very elaborately made in them.

The speaker said that she had been in one of the silk worm factories where the worm was allowed to make its evolution from one stage to another. The worms are fed very tender mulberry leaves. The worm grows from a very small green size to a yellow worm two inches in length. Then it turns into its cocoon. The silk is make from the cocoon. The cocoon is put in boiling water to prevent it from turning into a moth. The more care given to rearing the worm the finer is the silk.

Before Miss Brooks finished she said that she thought God had blessed the missionaries in their work, especially in regard to the civil wars. She also made a strong appeal to Peterborough to send missionaries to China.

The Chairman, Miss Ada Lane, expressed appreciation of the speaker's address. Mrs. A. J. Thomas moved a vote of thanks to the speaker for giving her services free. Mrs. James Kendry seconded the motion.

Reception Held in St. John's Church

Bishop of Ottawa Was the Guest of Honour.

At the conclusion of the choral festival evensong of St. George's Day, held last night in St. John's church, the Bishop of Ottawa, the clergy and the united Anglican choirs of the city were splendidly entertained in the schoolroom to a supper and social by Mr. Charles Coleman, of Coleman Bros. The Bishop, introduced by Mr. Price, paid a fine compliment to the choristers for their singing, both at the service and offertory, and specially he enjoyed once again hearing the grand old "Hallelujah" chorus.

On the motion of Mr. R. J. Devey, seconded by Mr. G. Chandler, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. and Mrs. Coleman for their hospitality and the kindly thought that prompted it, which was carried with musical honours. Mr. Coleman in replying, thanked the choristers for their hearty appreciation, and asked them to accept it as having been done in the spirit of service, which had so well been urged upon them in the eloquent sermon at the service just concluded. A lifelong connection with church work made the present occasion a pleasant duty for both Mrs Coleman and himself and he was no less interested in music.

The singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," "Auld Lang Syne," and "God Save the King" brought a very happy evening to a close.

Block Was Owned By a Peterboro Man

Havelock Fire Loss Will Be in the Neighborhood of $20,000.

In connection with the Havelock fire, reported in last Saturday's Examiner, the following estimate is made of the losses:

The total loss will run about $20,000, nearly all being covered to some extent by insurance. The block, which was owned by Mr. Jos. Knox of Peterborough, was insured for $3,000, and the total loss was $5,000. (Mr. Fennell's loss is around $6,000, with insurance of $3,250. Mr. McNichol's loss on furniture, etc., is about $1,200, with a little insurance. Mr. Knowles' loss is around $1,500 with insurance of $1,000. The Bank of Toronto's loss will be about $1,000, with insurance of $600. The contents of the vault came through in good shape, and there was little loss in records, excepting some personal papers of the manager. The loss of the Bell Telephone Company is about $3,000, but we could not obtain the amount of insurance carried, if any. The loss to The Standard building will run about $200, to the Covert and Sawyer stores about $900, to the Post Office about $300, to the Conboy residence about $200, while Mr. Peeling's loss is hard to estimate yet, owing to the fact that most of it was carried out and carried in again with consequent disorder and breakage.

The bank is now doing business in Ormiston's old drug-store stand, while Mr. Fennell has secured J. M. Watson's cement store for his boot and shoe business and the telephone exchange, and hopes to be ready for business in a few days.

SEATS TO SEE FRENCH TRIUMPH IN PARIS BRING HIGH PRICES

PARIS.—There is already brisk bidding for windows to view the triumphal entry of the French troops into the city through the famous Arc de Triomphe. Single window seats in some of the palatial edifices on the Avenue des Champs Elysees command $200 each and windows for $1,000 are going fast. One or two big balconies are said to have been let to syndicates for $10,000.

Mystery Surrounds Disappearance of Young Girl in Guelph

Exhaustive Search Fails to Produce Results—Was on Her Way to Church.

(Special to The Examiner.)

GUELPH, April 24.— This city is greatly stirred over the mysterious disappearance near here of Miss Millicent Knowles, an orphan, and the ward of Mrs. Gerald Borden, a wealthy resident of New York City. Miss Knowles came to Guelph about ten days ago from Montreal with Mrs. Storey, the wife of Admiral Storey, of Halifax, who has a residence on the Edinburg road, a few miles from the city, and in a quarter of a mile from the Ontario Agricultural College. It was Miss Knowles' intention to spend the summer there with Mrs. Storey, who had made an acquaintance with Miss Knowles in Montreal, where she had lately been a pupil of the Sacred Heart convent. As the young girl had been in ill health, Mrs. Storey kindly offered to take her to her country home near Guelph, which is comprised of a comfortable and attractive stone house, standing in spacious grounds.

Lived Alone.

Since their arrival here, Miss Knowles, Mrs. Storey and a nurse have lived alone at the country home. Miss Knowles appeared greatly pleased and benefitted by the change. On Saturday morning last, Mrs. Storey and Miss Knowles prepared to attend church. As Miss Knowles was late in breakfasting, Mrs. Storey left the house in advance of her, Miss Knowles leaving about ten minutes later. Since that nothing has been heard of the young girl, although one party states that a young lady who looked like Miss Knowles was observed passing the corner store along the Edinburgh road between the Storey home and the city. To reach the city, the road crosses the Speed river, but no one saw her crossing the river. It has been sugested that Miss Knowles, walking to church, may have been overtaken by an automobile, whose occupants offered her a ride, and abducted her, but this theory does not appeal very strongly to any individuals who know the young woman. Residents of Guelph are unwilling to believe that abductions could occur within a mile of the city in the forenoon of a busy day like Easter Saturday, when the thoroughfare was crowded with farmers of the district coming to the Easter market. The police have made an exhaustive search for the missing girl; without finding the slightest trace of her.

Not in Montreal.

There was a theory that she might have gone back to Montreal, but the circumstances against that are that she had not enough money to buy a ticket, and a telegram sent to Montreal brought back a reply that she had not returned to her friends there, nor had they heard from her.

Miss Knowles is an orphan without relatives in America, though she was born in New York. She is a young lady of 22 years of age, fair, medium height, and when last seen was dressed in a dark blue coat wearing blue hat trimmed with blue flat quills. She speaks very quietly and slowly and is described as a gentle, shy girl, uncommonly pretty.

Not Enough Private Cars To Go Round All Cabinet

House Makes This Discovery When It Debates Loading Up of Train at Holiday Season—Accident Exposes Condition.

OTTAWA, April 24.—Private cars and the Ministers who ride in them were the chief topics of the conversation around Parliamentary corridors yesterday. By an unfortunate accident, as Hon. J. D. Reid explained to the House, there were three of these railway palaces on the Canadian National train that ran into open, or half open, switch at Elgin yesterday morning. Archie McCoig, of Kent, has just announced to the assembled statesmen that though he had wired from his old home town for a reservation, when he arrived in Toronto he was informed that he could not even get an upper. He asked instead to rest his wearied limbs in a smoker or curl them up in a day coach. Archie promptly remembered that these same railroads had imposed daylight saving on him and the rest of the yeomanry and anger surged up in his soul.

When he was further informed that there were more sleepers that could be put on, but there were already three private cars attached, while another was hovering about the yards waiting for a chance to hang on behind, he may have thought of the millions it was costing the plain people of Canada to keep these roads operating, but he didn't stop to think too much. He swung on to the tail end of the departing C.P.R. train and was curled up comfortably in an upper.

Learned of Accident.

Arrived at Ottawa, he learned of the accident and should have been thankful that a multiplicity of Ministers and others travelling in state had kept him out of a railroad wreck and allowed him to breakfast in peace at a local hostelry, but he wasn't. He was filled with a desire to know things, for instance, when railway estimates gave him an opportunity, he inquired if two Ministers couldn't sleep on one car, and if Government ownership could be made to pay hauling Ministers and Government officials who come one in a car.

Also he had been informed that wrecked passengers whose appetites had been whetted by the crisp morning air and further sharpened by watching private car parties engaging in sumptuous meals, had been charged full dining car prices by a grateful Government. His heart ached for them. Moreover, he had heard that the C.P.R. acted differently under similar circumstances.

Not Enough Cars

It was wonderful what enjoyment the common member took from Mr McCoig's remarks. For this private car business has become a standing joke in certain circles. It appears that there is not enough of these Government cars. There are eight or ten of them all told, and there are eighteen or twenty Ministers. To put it concisely there are not enough to go around. Even with a large delegation of the Cabinet spending Easter in Paris, some Ministers had to spend the holiday in Ottawa because they couldn't get a car to carry them home.

Travel in Sleeper.

Then take another case. That Labor Commission that is to go to the uttermost parts of the Dominion and gather the information that is to make capitial and labor do the lion and lamb stunt, thought it needed a Government car. Possibly it does, for it has to jump and keep jumping, digesting what it gathers the while. But again there was no car. They were all busy carrying holidaying Ministers. President Beattie, of the C.P.R., is said to have come to the rescue with a sleeper, for which, of course, the Government will pay rent, but it has no cooking compartment. This may be all right for Tom Moore and other labor representatives who can carry their dinner pails, but it is a shame to ask honest capitalists like Senator Smeaton White to start on a long journey with their lunches in paper bags. However, necessity drives. The country must be settled once and for all, even if the Cabinet Ministers are using all the cars.

Now on its Way.

So the commission" that has the confidence of all the people" is on its way.

But Hon. J. D. Reid told us that this Union Government of ours was freer from the private car habit than anything he has seen in a long and distinguished career. And somehow a lot of people snorted. They recalled that when Halifax was laid in ruins, the members of a solicitous Government rushed to the rescue in so many private cars that it was necessary to put on an extra section of the Ocean Limited to haul them. There were four Ministers in the most notable of all relief expeditions and it took just four cars to carry them. Then somebody else recalled that a Minister who was returning from one of the European tours took the C.P.R. route home instead of going around by the Government railway. To pass through certain parts of the United States it was necessary to purchase about thirty first-class fares to have the palace hauled. They were cheerfully paid. For thrift in ministerial circles is largely left to Sir Herbert Ames and his thrift stamps.

Over The Prairies

Then the western members took to reminiscences concerning certain trips of Union Ministers over the prairies. You will remember there was a regular exodus last summer and of all who made the grand tour Hon. Wesley Rowell was the only one who did not travel like an eastern potentate. You could forgive Hon. Tom Crothers for taking most of his relatives along. He was making a farewell tour and bidding a fond good-bye to power and office. But you rather wondered at Fighting Fearless Frank Carvell. To hear him as he stands in his place in Parliament and tell of the blue ruin that is spread over this once smiling Dominion, you would rather expect that he was wearing a cast off suit of Sir George Foster's three-year-old clothes and putting his pennies in the savings bank against the hard times ahead.

But these westerers do say that it was a happy family that his car took through to the coast and that thoughts of coming financial stringency were not among the luxuries with which the chef had stocked the larder. But to Honest Fighting Frank's credit be it said, that he seldom, if ever, uses a Government car when he visits his native New Brunswick village. In the days of his political adversity, it is whispered he inveighed bitterly and at length against such extravagances. If he practised them where he did his inveighing somebody might laugh, and no real statesman ever liked to be laughed at.

Matching Pennies

Anyway, it is admitted that most Ministers like the private cars. (There is, in fact, a rumor that they are so much in demand that matching pennies to see who will use them next is not an uncommon practice. It is only fair to say, however, that this rumor lacks confirmation. But it is suggested that in the interest of peace and good will that should be the backbone of any Union Government, at least, ten more Government cars should be built. This would give one to each Minister and leave one or two over for an occasional travelling commission, and with these additions they could be run in trains, leaving the regular trains for the public to travel on.

One-time Crown Princess of Germany Seeks a Divorce

Once Brought Back Like a Criminal After Fleeing From Husband's Cruelties—Frederick William Often Beat Her.

ZURICH.— The one-time German Crown Princess Cecile has taken steps to divorce her husband, Frederick William, according to a statement given to Swiss newspapers by the one-time Grand Duchess Anastasie, of Mecklemburg-Schwerin, mother of the one-time Crown Princess. The statement says that it long has been the desire of Cecile to divorce her husband, but that the pressure of the Hohenzollern family up to this time had prevented her from carrying it out.

The statement of the Grand Duchess charges Frederick William with cruelty.

The Grand Duchess declares that at one time the treatment of the Princess was such that she could stand it no longer and fled. She was captured at the frontier and returned to Berlin like a common criminal.

"The infidelities of the Crown Prince were numerous," declared the Duchess, "and there is abundant proof of them. His brutality was atrocious. On more than one occasion my daughter was treated with actual violence. She was bruised and her face was disfigured by her husband's blows."

Berlin despatches by way of Zurich on February 3 said that Frederick William had started proceedings for a divorce, but there have been no further reports on the case. The one-time Crown Prince and Princess Cecile were married in June, 1905. The pair have five children, the youngest having been born in 1915. The one-time Crown Prince is now in exile in Holland. His family have remained at Potsdam. The one-time Grand Duchess Anastasie was a Grand Duchess of Russia before her marriage. Since the war she has been living in Switzerland. She renounced her German nationality and renewed her allegiance to Russia in 1914.

LIEUT. J. E. KILLORAN.

Lieut. Joseph E. Killoran, 499 Albert street, who has recently returned from overseas ,has received from the King his commission as an officer in the Imperial Air Force. Lieutenant Killoran, who has been overseas nearly two years, has seen six months' active service and escaped without a wound. On October 8, 1918, he experienced a serious accident when flying over the North Sea. The propeller of his plane was shot away, but he managed to glide down 2,000 feet, when both he and his observer were thrown out, and as they were near land they managed to swim to shore. Lieut. Killoran took a two months' course in aeronautics at Toronto University before he left for Texas, where he completed his training and received his provisional commission.

Famous French Aviator Met Death as Wing Collapsed

PARIS, April 24.—The death of Jules Vedrines, the French aviator, which was announced here, was due according to a Lyons despatch to The Petit Parision, to a landing accident. He was flying low, one of his engines missing fire. He swung his airplane in the direction of the wind, but failed to get the engine working properly and so decided to land. He headed the machine toward an alfalfa field, but fell short, the left wing collapsing.

"The Better 'Ole" Friday and Saturday

Following the Lond production of "The Better 'Ole," the comedy with music, which will be presented at the Grand Friday and Saturday, Matinee on Saturday, by Mr. and Mrs. Coburn, Max Pemberton, the eminent English novelist was so impressed by the Bairnsfather play and its three prevailing characters, "Old Bill," "Alf" and "Bert," that he wrote, "Here is the war—here are the men who have saved our homes—here are the friends whose hands we desire to clasp." No creation just like "Old Bill" has ever been known to us. There are three muskateers here, but how different from those the great Dumas handed out to us. No pushing Gascon nor love-sick Athos, no Porthos of the rotundities; but men who say the things that Bill in the street would like to say, types eternal, the expression of all that has been felt and endured since the beginning."

CRIME WAVE IN CHICAGO

43 Murders Since January 1, Police Chief Aroused

CHICAGO.—Forty-eight hours of extreme violence caused Chief of Police Garrity to summon all commandings officers to his office and warn them that unless there were unremiting efforts to check the crime wave some of them would face the trial board.

Up to today records of the chief's office showed that since January 1 there had been forty-three murders in the city, twenty-nine deaths by manslaughter and eight homicides, a total of eighty killings in 108 days. In addition 202 stores had been robbed, ninety-four saloons held up and looted and three ticket sellers in elevated railway stations forced to surrender their cash.

Three major causes were given by the Chief for the reign of lawlessness: Discharge of criminals from the army, unemployment, too few policemen.

Business Men Are Glad to Help the Board of Trade

Typical Extracts From Letters of Acceptance From Peterboro Business Men—Board of Trade Meeting.

A general meeting of the new Board of Trade will be called by President J. J. Turner for May 5th to inaugurate the active work of that body and adopt a modernized set of governing rules and regulations. The revised by-laws are in preparation to be reported to and passed by the whole Board.

The responses of the members asked to serve on the standing and special committees have been highly encouraging to President Turner, who is acting chairman of the committee to strike the committees: his associates are Frank Whitehouse, Edward E. Harvey, M.D., J. J. Hartley and Thomas Barrie.

The following are typical extracts from letters of acceptance:

Vincent Eastwood: "Pleased to accept the responsibility."

Alva W. Cressman: "It will be a pleasure for me to serve; anything I can do to further the interests of the Board will be cheerfully done."

A. Ernest Dawson: "Shall be glad to stand for the sustaining fund committee."

W. R. Breyfogle: "Willing to do what I can to help."

William Sangster: "Glad to assist in any way I can."

E. H. D. Hall, Esq.: "If the purpose of the committee on research and recommendation is to find out what there is to do and the way to do it, I'll gladly serve."

J. J. Hartley: "Willing to act in any capacity in which you think I will be of service."

W. A. Richardson: "Will be glad to act."

Homer O. Fisk: "Pleased to do anything I can."

J. W. Fraser: "I will be glad to 'carry on' for the Board of Trade in whatever capacity it may see fit to appoint me."

W. S. Campbell: "Glad to work for the advancement of the best moderate-sized city in Canada."

Basil D. Hall, Esq.: "Of course, glad to act."

W. R. Morris: "I will be very much pleased to do anything in my power to further the good work of the Board."

Capt. R. E. Layfield: "Will attend to any matters to the best of my ability."

Geo. J. Sherry, Esq.: "I have been waiting for an opportunity and shall be pleased to render such humble service as I may be capable of."

W. H. Dunsford: "Glad to act."

Edgar Worth: "Will be glad to give any assistance that I am capable of."

H. W. Cressman: "Pleased to act on the Board Committee to which I have been nominated."

John I. Allen: "Will do all I possibly can to aid the work of the Board in Peterborough."

Work Hard.

Referring to the specific work of the Board, Mr. Turner explained that the committees and their work could be centered upon activities of practical value to Peterborough.

"The Board of Trade" said he, "is simply the instrumentality by means of which our public spirited men may work more effectually for Peterborough than by agitation. We all propose to work hard and with honest purpose for results and that is why we have secured permanent headquarters. We want to equip the Board for action and are already assured co-operation among ourselves.

A large membership is rolling up. The intention is to begin the active work of the Board immediately following the general session on May 9th.

The Sustaining Fund Committee is made up of George N. Gordon, Chairman, A. Ernest Dawson, Secretary, B. D. Hall, J. W. Fraser, W. R. Breyfogle and J. J. Turner. The sections are now being organized for a active campaign among the business and professional men of the city.

Peterboro Man Was Held Up

Thugs Try to Steal Frank Wilson's Watch.

BUFFALO, April 24. — Charged with attempting to hold up and rob Frank Wilson, of Peterboro, Ont., early on Wednesday, on Niagara St., between Main and First streets, Niagara Falls, N. Y., George Dispensa aged 20, of the Falls, and Robert Burnside, aged 22, the latter claiming to reside in Cleveland, Ohio, late on Wednesday were arraigned before Judge Piper in the police court at the Falls.

Dispensa was sentenced to the Niagara County jail for 180 days, and Burnside was discharged after promising to leave the Falls immediately.

Wilson was unable to identify Burnside as the man who was with Dispensa when the attempted hold-up occurred.

Patrol men Edward Pierce and Charles Parkinson were they heard cries for help. They rushed to Main and Niagara where they found Wilson. He told them that two men accosted him, one hitting him in the face, while the other tried to snatch his watch. His cries frightened the men away. The patrolmen then searched the neighborhood, finding Dispensa hiding in a coal bin behind a restaurant near the place where the hold up occurred, and arrested him. The officers could not find Burnside, but he was later arrested by two other policemen.

SAVING DEPOSITS ON THE INCREASE.

Canadian Press:

OTTAWA, April 24. — Savings deposits in Canadian banks are still ahead, although the increase during March was not so great as in the month previous. The increase last month was $19,000,000 and in February $28,000,000. Note circulation in March increased by ten millions and deposits in central gold reserve by about five millions.

Bishop Roper Refers to Governing Principles of Post War Problems

Delivered an Inspiring Sermon in St. John's Church Last Evening—Special Music for the Occasion.

The annual Choral Festival Evensong of St. George, the patron saint of England, was held last night in St. John's Church, under the auspices of St. Georges, South Peterborough. Canon Davidson and the Wardens of St. John's placed the church in the hands of the officials of St. George, a courtesy which is highly appreciated by the Anglicans of the southern limits of the city. This year St. George's Day comes in the octave of the Easter festival; it is also the anniversary of the second battle of Ypres; and last, but not least, this day comes near to the day when peace must be signed by the Hun, to accomplish those overthrow, so many hundreds of thousands of native Englishmen have died on the field of battle. The noble chivalry that surrounds the mystic figure of St. George, has been well and truly upheld to the death, and the sacrifice of her noble sons proves that once and again "England has to herself been true." Last night's festival also ranked as an event in the "Week of Music," now being held throughout the Dominion, and all the Anglican choirs of the city combined to sing the ancient liturgical service to the centuries old musical setting of Thomas Tallis. Half of the choir overflowed into the nave, and despite this seeming handicap, the singing, under the able leadership of the organist and choirmaster of St. John's, Mr. R. J. Devey, was well worthy of the great occasion. During the offertory, the "Hallelujah" chorus from the "Messiah" was finely rendered. After the National Anthem had been sung, a short period of silence ensued, followed by the singing of "Nearer My God to Thee," as a tribute to the fallen heroes in the great war, also in connection with the presence of the Sons of England, "Lansdowne" lodge, both branches of which were present in goodly numbers.

The Music.

The service was intoned by Canon Davidson; the second part read by the Rev. W. H. White; the first lesson read by the Rev. J. Price, and the second lesson read by Mr. Sid Whatley, one of the "Old Contemptibles."

Miss Maggie Flowers, organist of All Saints', ably assisted Mr. Devey at the organ, and Mr. George Chandler, choirmaster of All Saints', led the imposing procession from the school to the church. Mrs. W. A. Greenslade, organist of St. Luke's, assisted in the soprano section of the large choir, and the choristers from St. George's were also present. The sermon was preached by the Lord Bishop of Ottawa to a large congregation, and the offertory taken up was for the good work of the parish of St. George.

The Bishop's Address.

The sermon delivered by the Right Reverend J. C. Roper, D.D., Bishop of Ottawa, was marked by those qualities which have earned for him his place of influence in the religious life of Canada to-day, viz., high-mindedness, sincerity and simplicity. These are essentially qualities of that personality which is the ultimate and strongest force, which not only enlarges the sympathy of the hearer, but appeals to the conscience and gives the preacher's message a permanency of influence denied to mere oratory. The Bishop has long had a reputation as a scholar and as a profound thinker along religious lines before he was called from the professorids of the General Theological Seminary, New York, to the Canadian episcopate, first in British Columbia, and now at the Dominion capital. His residence in the United States has given him a conception of true democracy, a point of view invaluable for leadership in that readjustment of social relationships which is the pressing necessity of the hour. Dr. Roper in his capacity of chairman of the War Commission, has just completed a survey of Canada from coast to coast. He has come back deeply impressed with the idea that the workers must be given their rightful place of influence in reconstructed society. He is also appreciative of the steadying influence everywhere being exerted by our returned soldiers, acting through the widely-spread branches of the Great War Veterans' Association.

The Four Pillars.

In his sermon last night, the Bishop made reference to the four 'pillars of the house,' as the British Labour Party designates the governing principles of its after-the-war programme. He deduced from Zech., 4:6, four similar principles to guide the thought and action of Christians. These were respectively, Steadfastness, Fellowship, Sacrifice and Service.

The preacher began by expressing satisfaction at appearing in Peterborough and bringing a message to British people on St. George's Day. The Cross of St. George was the basis of the design of the Empire's flag and stood for the spiritual energies by which God had enabled that Empire, in conjunction with its allies, to emerge victorious from the war. "Not by might (R.V.M. "army") nor by power, but by My spirit," saith the Lord of Hosts. In the last resort it was spiritual forces which had prevailed. First, there was steadfastness in the face of difficulty. The heroic watchword of the French at Verdun, "They shall not pass," had been taken up by each of the allies in turn. It must be our watchword in the reconstruction of our civil life. Then, the war has taught us the power of Fellowship. We had been bound together, and working together had won the victory. In the days of peace that will follow we must realize that no section of society can exist by itself. We must abandon the selfish motto, "Business as usual." We must no longer allow social and business relations to be determined by a philosophy based upon Darwin's phrase, "The survival of the fittest." That might be true to the beasts of the jungle, but was unworthy of being an ideal of human life. All is not well in Canada in this respect. We had come near the brink of ruin by ignoring the truth and unifying power of fraternity.

Path of Sacrifice.

Further, we must return to the path of sacrifice—"the only way for the Christian. Here we did not have to "break the trail"; it had been broken once for all by Him in whose footprints there were stains of blood.

A final manifestation of the spirit which will triumph over the opposing difficulties and dangers of our time, was willingness to serve. Rightly and gloriously "Service" was on the lips of everyone to-day. The disastrous issue of the contrary spirit was disclosed once for all in the lamentable consequences of the Germans' endeavour to impose themselves upon humanity as super-men. Rather let us emulate the spirit of the British merchant marine, men who could hope for no pensions or decorations, but never shrank from the most arduous and dangerous service. In this connection the preacher quoted some stirring verses of Sir Henry Newbolt, breathing the spirit of the merchant service. Each mariner "must save himself by saving all." There must be comradeship "from coning tower to keel." Nor would the duty and joy of common warfare be without its place in the world where there would be "no more wind and no more sea."

The concluding appeal was to respond to the call of Admiral Beattie and spend more time on our knees seeking for spiritual power. Let us never prove unworthy of those strong souls whose bodies sleep in Flanders fields, but catch from their, failing hands the spiritual torch.

Guests at a Presentation Turn Out to Subdue a Fire

Residence at Drummond Station Had Narrow Escape—Presentation to Mr. Harry Manley.

Last night at the home of Mr. John Manley, Zion, Mr. Harry Manley, who recently returned from overseas, was presented with a handsome signet ring on the occasion of his departure for the west, this afternoon. A suitable address was read to the young hero by Mr. Benjamin White and the presentation was made by Mr. Frank Graystock.

Interrupted by Fire.

During the entertainment which followed the presentation, the male elements of the large party which had gathered, was hastily summoned to the home of Mr. Mark Manley, at Drummond Station, about half a mile from the scene of the presentation, to assist in putting out a fire which had through some mysterious origin, broken out in the bedrooms of the house. The party was absent for about two hours and finally succeeded in putting out the blaze by means of cutting a hole in the roof, and the damage was limited to the destruction of a few articles of furniture and considerable damage by water.

The party upon returning resumed the evening's festivities, and after refreshments had been served the party broke up, all offering sincere hopes for Mr. Manley's prosperity in the west.

The following address was read:

Dear Harry,—We, your sincere friends and neighbours of Otonabee, are come together to shake hands and to express our regard for your loyalty in sacrificing your prospects in the west in order to do your part in the great effort the world has made in the cause of liberty and national rights.

Wishing you every success in all your plans and endeavours, for your best interests in the future, we ask you to accept this signet ring and gift of money as a slight token of our good will and appreciation of the stand you have taken in defence of home, country and empire.

Benj. White,
Guard of Munitions.

All boys interested are requested to come out to-morrow night.

WEDDING BELLS

HURLEY—RICHARDS

A pretty weddnig took place Tuesday morning at Holy Family Church, Parkdale, at which Rev. Father Coyle officiated, when Helen Mae, youngest daughter of Mrs. Mary Richards, 170 Jameson avenue, was married to Dr. John J. Hurley, Bathurst street. The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. J. O. Laplante, of Peterboro, looked well in a Havana brown suit, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. Miss Ethel Richards acted as bridesmaid, and looked charming in a suit of midnight blue, with hat to match, and carried Killarney roses. Dr. Norman Regan supported the groom. Miss O'Donoghue presided at the organ. After the wedding breakfast, at which only the immediate families were present, Dr. and Mrs. Hurley left for New York and Atlantic City. On their return they will reside at 3 Wells street.

GRAIN MARKET

Manitoba cash oats quoted 3-4c. lower, and Manitoba barley 1-2c. to 3-8c. higher. Ontario cash grains steady and unchanged. In the option markets, corn weakened in the last half hour of trading, due, it was believed, to the badly over-bought condition of the markets. The decline, in fact, was generally felt to be several days overdue. Oats followed the drop in corn. At Winnipeg, oats fell back 7-8c. to 1 1-8c., but barley closed strong and 3-8c. higher.

Manitoba wheat—In store, Fort William; No. 1 Northern, $2.24 1-2; No. 2 Northern, $2.20 1-2; No. 3 Northern, $2.17 1-2; No. 4 wheat, $2.11 1-2.

Manitoba oats—No. 2 C.W., 75 1-8c.; No. 3, C.W., 72 1-8c.; extra No. 1 feed, 72 1-8c.; No. 1 feed, 70c.; No. 2 feed, 67 1-8c., in store, Fort William.

American corn—No. 2, $1.85, nominal; No. 4, $1.82, prompt shipment, track, Toronto.

Manitoba barely, in store, Fort William, No. 3, C.W., $1.06 3-4; No. 4, C.W., $1.01 3-4; rejected, 95 1-4c. feed, 95 1-4c.

Ontario wheat—No. 1 winter, $2.14 to $2.22; No. 2 winter, $2.11 to $2.19; No. 3 winter, $2.07 to $2.15; No. 1 spring, $2.09 to $2.17; No. 2 spring, $2.09 to $2.14; No. 3 spring, $2.08 to $2.10 f.o.b., shipping points, according to freight.

Ontario oats—No. 2, white, 73c. to 75c.; No. 3, 71c. to 73c., according to freight outside.

Barley—Malting, 97c. to $1.02.

Peas—No. 2, $2.00, nominal, according to freight outside.

Buckwheat—No. 2, $1.10, nominal.

Rye—No. 2, $1.60, nominal.

Manitoba flour, government standard, $10.75 to $11, Toronto.

Ontario flour—Government standard $9.65 to $9.75. Toronto-Montreal, $9.65 to $9.75, new bags.

Mill feed—Car lots, delivered, Montreal, shorts, $44 to $45; bran, $42 to $45; feed flour, not quoted; middlings, not quoted; good feed flour, per bag, $2.65 to $2.75.

Hay— Baled, track, Toronto, car lots, No. 1, $26 to $28; No. 2 mixed, $20 to $23 per ton; straw, car lots, $10 to $11.

CATTLE MARKET

Union Stock Yards — Receipts 52 cars, with 507 cattle, 132 calves, 1,500 hogs, and 91 sheep and lambs.

The market closed steady but strong at this week's general advance of about 50c. on choice butcher cattle, over last week's prices.

Among the small meats, there is a good demand for choicest quality calves, but the medium quality are lower.

Choice sheep are in good demand at higher prices, but yearling lambs are not wanted, and are $1 to $1.50 lower.

Hogs are strong at Wednesday's advance, with a few sales made at 25c. higher.

DIDN'T HAVE WELL DAY IN FIVE YEARS

Toronto Man Says Tanlac Has Given Him a New Lease on Life.

"I went five long years without enjoying a well day till I started taking Tanlac," said Harvey Hamilton, of 4 Glocester Street, Toronto, Ontario.

"Five years ago," he continued, "I had a severe attack of pneumonia which left me is a badly rundown condition. I lost weight till I was almost a shadow. I had no life nor energy and could sleep but a few hours at night. I lost my appetite, and the little I did eat soured; I had pains in my stomach and sides and often had dizzy spells and I would feel so weak and played out I'd have to cut out working."

"I was in this fix when I read of a man who had been relieved of a trouble like mine by taking Tanlac, so I decided to try it, and feel like I have taken a new lease on life. I have a fine appetite, eat three square meals a day and have no trouble afterwards. Gas has quit forming on my stomach, the pains have disappeared. I sleep like a log, and have gained six pounds. I feel better all over, and my work is no longer a burden, but is a pleasure to me."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

Odd War Camp

American Storage Plant Resembles Western Mining Town

LONDON, Eng.—On the banks of the Thames, less than twenty miles from London, there is an American town of the mushroom kind such as you might find in a new California oil-field. Its population consists of more than 200 white men and about 150 negroes. It covers thirty-five acres which nine months ago were fallow grass land. The business of the town is to receive, sort, and store war material. It is the great American supply depot in England.

There is a street of wooden huts, another of corrugated iron huts, huge iron store sheds a quarter of a mile long, office buildings, water supply and electric lights, the whole surrounded by a hedge, a few armed sentries and much mud. All day long the khaki clad negroes push and haul railway trucks full of war material.

Englishmen peer over the hedge and ask satirically if the United States doesn't know that the war is over. If they ask an officer for enlightment about this strange camp, his explanation is something like this:

"America came into the war with both feet, banking on at least three years if it, which was the safe thing to do. Our government made contracts with British manufacturers to supply our army with tons of war material from a tin tack to a steam roller. The British factories built new plants and took on new hands to meet our needs, and deliveries were going smoothly when the armistice was signed.

"If we had scrapped our contracts then, some British firms might have been driven into bankruptcy, putting thousands of men out of work and leaving the factories with tons of useless material in their hands. So the United States Government merely cancelled orders for material that had not been actually started on and told the factories to go ahead with what they had in hand.

"This place is the collecting station for that material. We are receiving tractors for guns, entrenching tools, thousands of yards of camouflage wire netting, stacks of asbestos roofing for hospitals, timber frames fir huts, wheelbarrows, shovels, pickaxes, bolts, screws and a lot of other stuff. We are going to store it all here and sell it later on. It will all be useful, and we can wait for the market. The manufacturer couldn't have waited.

War material coming back from Russia is being stored at this camp; also the fittings of the dismantled hospitals which the American army established in England.

FARMER DIED FROM A BOIL

The death of a young farmer was recently reported from blood-poisoning, which developed from a boil. Such a small beginning to end so disastrously! Yet this is liable to happen to anyone who allows a sore or wound to become infected.

The surest and easiest way to safeguard yourself is by using Zam-Buk. As soon as it is applied to a sore or wound it destroys all germs and acts as a protection, thus preventing infection and possible blood-poisoning. At the same time, Zam-Buk ends pain and draws out inflammation. Then its action on the tissues results in the quick growth of new skin, so that sores and wounds are healed in the shortest possible time. Get a box to-day and be prepared. 50c. box.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its colour and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even colour, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small stand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart colour and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease

Regarding Mrs. Balfame they held their judgment in reserve until they met and talked with her; but Broderick had extracted the miserable details of her life from his friend, Alva Crumley, as well as a lively description of the scene at the Country Club; they believed they could bring to light enough to base a sensational trial upon, whatever the verdict of the jury.

It must not be inferred for a moment that these brilliant and industrious young men were bloodthirsty. They knew that if Mrs. Balfame had committed the crime and could be induced to make a defiant confession; it was more than probable that she would go scot free; that in no case was there more than a bare possibility of a woman of her age, position and appearance being sent to the chair. But it is these alert, resourceful, ruthless young men who make the newspapers we read with such interest twice a day; it is they who write the columns of "news" that we skip if dull (with a mental reservation to change our newspaper), or devour without a thought of the tireless individual activities that re-supply us daily with our strongest impersonal interests. Sometimes a trifle more sparkle or vitality, or a deeper note, will wring from us that facile comment, "How well written!" without a pause to reflect that mere good writing never made a newspaper, or to hazard a guess that behind the column that thrilled us were hours, perhaps weeks, of incessant unravelling of clues, of following a scent in the dark, with death at every turn. It is the business of reporters to furnish news of vital interest to a pampered public, and as so large a part of it is furnished to them by the weaknesses and misdeeds of mankind, what wonder that the reporters grow cynical and make no bones about providing clues that will lead, at the least, to many columns charged with suspense and sensational human interest!

These young men knew the moment the Balfame case "broke" that it was big with possibilities; they scented a mystery that would be cleared by the arrest of no local politician: and they knew the interlocking social relationships of these loyal old communities. It was "up to them" to solve the mystery, and by a process of elimination, spurred by their own desire to give the public the best the market afforded, they arrived at Mrs. Balfame.

Within forty-eight hours they were hot on her trail. Among other things, they discovered that she was an expert shot at a target; but did she keep a pistol in the house? She had used one, kept for target purpose, out at the Country Club, and it was impossible to verify the rumor that in common with many another, she had one in the house as a protection against the burglars and tramps.

At their instigation, Phipps, the local chief of police, had reluctantly consented to interrogate her on this point (a mere matter of form, he assured her), and she had replied quite blandly that she never had possessed a pistol. The chief apologized and withdrew. He was of a respectable Brabant family himself, and was horrified that a member of the good old order should even be brushed by the wing of suspicion. Being a quiet family man and a Republican to boot, he had never approved of Dave Balfame, and had only refrained from arresting him upon more than one occasion—notably a week or two since when he had publicly blacked the eye of Miss Billy Gump—out of defence to the good name of Elsinore; and after all, they were both Elks and had spun many a yarn in the comfortable clubrooms. Inheritance, circumstances, and a fine common contempt for the inferior brands of whiskey, had made them "stand together, whatever happened." The chief had no love for Mrs. Balfame, for she had frozen him too often, but she was the pride of Elsinore and he was alert to defend her.

It had never occurred to Mrs. Balfame that she would incur even a passing suspicion, and she had left the pistol in the pocket of her automobile coat. Immediately after the visit of the chief of police she took to pistol into the sewing-room, locked the door, covered the keyhole, and buried the weapon in the depths of an old sofa. As her large strong fingers had mented furniture many times, no one would suspect that this ancient piece (dating back to the first Balfame) had been tampered with. She performed the operation with haughty reluctance, but the instinct of self-preservation abides in the proudest souls, and Mrs. Balfame had the wit to realize that it was by far the better part of valour.

The shooting occurred on Saturday night. By Wednesday all the horrors of the criminal episode were over and she felt as young as she looked, and at liberty to begin life again, a free and happy woman. Her mourning was perfect.

She made up her mind to see the newspaper men and have done with it. They had haunted the grounds—no patrols could keep them out—sat on the door-step, forced their way into the kitchen, and rung the front door-bell so frequently that hourly she expected the scowling Frieda to give notice. Mr. Cummack told her repeatedly that she might as well give in first as last and she finally agreed with him.

It was five o'clock in the afternoon when they were admitted to the spacious old-fashioned parlor with its incongruous modern notes. Like many women, Mrs. Balfame had an admirable taste in dress, so long as she marched with the conventions, but neither the imagination nor the training to create the notable room. Long since she had banished the old "body brussels" carpet and substituted rugs subdued in color if commonplace in design. The plush "set" had not gone to the auction room, however, but had been reupholstered with a serviceable "tapestry covering." A what-not stood in one corner, and both centre-table and mantel were covered with marble although the wax wreaths that once embellished them were now in the garret. The wall paper, which had been put on the year before, was a neutral pale brown. Nevertheless, it was a homelike room, for there were two rocking-chairs and three easy chairs; and on a small side-table was Mrs. Balfame's work-basket. On the marble centre-table was a most artistic lamp. The curtains matched the furniture.

There were ten reporters from New York, two from Brooklyn, three from Brabant County, and four correspondents. Word had been passed during the morning that Mrs. Balfame would see the newspaper men, and they were there in force; those who were not "on the job all the time" having loyally been notified by those that were. But they had stolen a march on the women. Not a "sob-sister" was in that intent file, led by James Broderick of The New York Morning News, that entered house and parlor on Wednesday at five o'clock.

Frieda had announced that her mistress would be "down soon," and Mr. Broderick immediately drew the curtains back from the four long windows, and placed a comfortable chair for Mrs. Balfame in a position where she would face both the light and her visitors. It was not the first stage that the astute Mr. Broderick had set; and whenever he was on a case he fell naturally into the position of leader: not only had he the most alert and driving, the most resourceful and penetrative mind, but his good looks and suave manner inspired confidence in the victim, and led him insensibly into damaging admissions. He was a tall slim young man, a graduate of Princeton, not yet thirty, with a regular face and warm coloring, and an expression so pleasant that the keenness of his eyes passed unnoted. In general equipment and dress he was typical of his kind, unless they took to drink and grew slovenly; but his more emphatic endowment enabled him to take the lead among a class of men whom he respected too thoroughly to antagonize with arrogance.

"Late—to make an impression!" he growled, but young Ryder Bruce of the evening edition of his paper nudged him. Mrs. Balfame was on the staircase opposite the parlor doors.

The young men stood up and watched her as she slowly descended, her black dress clinging to her tall rather rigid figure, her head high, her profile as calm as marble, her eye as devoid of expression as if waiting the click of the camera.

The reporters were prejudiced on the spot, so impatient are the newspaper men of any sort of pose or attempt to impress them. As she entered the room she greeted them pleasantly, looking straight at them with her large cold eyes, and allowed herself to be conducted to a chair by the polite Mr. Broderick.

She knew that in her high unrelieved black she looked older than common, but this was a deliberately calculated effect. She was not as adroit as she would have been after recurrent experiences with the press, but instinct warned her to look the dignified and middle-aged widow, quite above the coquetry of the bare throat of fashion, or of tempering her weeds with soft white lawn.

100% Service

KNOW your bicycle before you buy. A cheap assembled wheel with its parts purchased from far and wide "at a price" may look like a good bicycle, but is it? The firms making some of the parts may put good honest value into their products; others may not, or cannot. One bad part will ruin your wheel. You take the risk—and it is a costly one. Exactly the opposite policy is pursued in the making of

C·C·M· Bicycles

We make in our own splendid factory at Weston practically all the parts required in the finished bicycle—a larger proportion than does any other bicycle manufacturer in America. This serves a double purpose:

1st.—It gives us the opportunity of scrutinizing every detail of workmanship and material.

2nd.—It gives employment in Canada to the largest possible number of Canadian workmen.

This policy has been maintained since the inception of the Canada Cycle & Motor Company. It has given our wheels a character and dependability unrivalled in the Dominion. In other words, it means 100 per cent. service.

C.C.M. Bicycles in every part give maximum service and satisfaction, and every part is guaranteed. This means extra years of service.

In case of accident you can renew C.C.M. parts without loss of time. C.C.M. dealers are to be found almost everywhere in Canada. Ride a C.C.M. bicycle.

MANY U. S. SOLDIERS RE-ENLIST.

NEW YORK.— Many returned soldiers in this city are responding to the call of the War Department for 50,000 volunteers for service in France. A statement issued at the recruiting headquarters, which started recruiting about a week ago, says the desire to return to France and the chance for vocational training is causing many re-enlistments. The statement continues: "Men who saw service in the world war are evidently finding the army life has its fascination. Veterans of Chateau-Thierry, Champagne, the Lorraine front, and the Argonne, who only a few weeks ago accepted their discharge from the army, are daily re-enlisting in increasing numbers."

Omemee Soldiers Welcomed Home

Banquet Was Given to the Returned Men.

OMEMEE, April 23.—The Sunday School room of the Methodist Church presented a gay appearance on Wednesday night, the occasion being a banquet to the returned men of Emily and Omemee and also of the choir of the church. Festoons of red, white and blue crepe paper, along with many flags, decorated the banquet hall.

A Shower

On Monday evening the members of the Adult Bible Class and Epworth League of the Methodist Church, gathered in the basement of the church to extend their well wishes to Mr. and Mrs. J. Kerr, nee Miss Della Cunningham, in the form of a miscellaneous shower.

After a short programme, the presents which were numerous and costly, were opened, and after congratulations were extended to the happy couple, dainty refreshments were served.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acids and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion

Death of An Old Resident—Visitors to the Village.

HASTINGS, April 23.— On Friday morning Mrs. Jas. Greenley, of Campbellford, passed away at the home of her sister, Miss Agnes Herniston, having come heer to spend the Easter vacation. Deceased, who had reached the age of 74 years, was taken suddenly ill on Thursday and in spite of all that medical assistance could do, passed away as stated above. The remains were conveyed to her home in Campbellford on Friday and from there the funeral was held. A number of grown-up sons and daughters survive, to whom universal sympathy is extended. Mrs W Greenley, town, is a sister.

Samuel Scott.

Another aged resident of Asphodel has been called away, in the person of Mr. Samuel Scott, who was well known throughout the district, having always taken an active part in township affairs. He leaves to mourn his loss a large family of ten children: Mrs. C. King, Mrs. John Stewart, Mrs. A. Thistlewaite and Wm., of Swift Current, Sask.; Mrs. H. Nesbitt, of Dummer, Sask.; Samuel, at home; John and Mrs. Lew Elmhirst, of Asphodel; Mrs. W. Stillman, of Havelock, and Mrs. Fred Dodd, of Hastings. A large cortege followed the remains to the cemetery as a last token of respect.

Fire Alarm.

The fire alarm was sounded on Wednesday morning when it was discovered that Mr. W. Barrie's chimney was ablaze. It was, however, soon extinguished without much damage having been done.

An addition is being built to Dr. Hess' garage, which will prove a great benefit to accommodate the ever increasing trade.

Misses Ruth and Joan Alger, of Toronto, were in town last week in the interests of the Coit-Alber Dominion Lyceum Bureau. Arrangements were made to run a series of 5 concerts here next winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dickey and family have moved to town and are settling in the house lately vacated by Mr. J. Cruickshanks.

Schools have closed for the Easter vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Prentice are holidaying at their home in Foxboro.

Dr. Hess took a trip to Oshawa on Saturday.

Miss Conley is spending the vacation at her home in Toronto.

Mrs. Wm. Baker and Miss Olive Moore spent the week-end with Toronto friends.

BRUSSELS, April 24.—Five hundred thousand deaths are reported from the Belgian Congo as a result of the influenza epidemic.

RAT IN AEROPLANE

A new danger to long distance travel by aeroplane has appeared in the shape of a stowaway rat. One of these vermin boarded the military aeroplane which flew from Egypt to India. It is supposed to have got on to the machine at Chobar, in Arabia, probably attracted by the food supplies. Soon after leaving the place it was heard by the occupant of the aeroplane to be knawing at something. At Karachi, the next stopping place, the guard protecting the aeroplane heard it still nibbling. The rat could not be located or caught, however. After leaving Karachi its activities went on, and it suddenly dawned on the occupant that it might be gnawing some vital part of the machine upon which the success of the mission and their personal safety now depended. There was only one thing to be done. They sought the heights. Higher and higher the pilot mounted, until they were up over 10,000 feet in pure cold air. This was too much for a rat nurtured in the balmy warmth of the Persian gulf, and frozen or numbed with the cold it apparently could hold on no longer and it dropped off into space.

U.S. AIR SERVICE COSTS $1,346,000,000 UP TO DATE

WASHINGTON.—It was learned from the War Department today that the total commitments for all phases of the air service during the war were $1,346,000,000. Up to March 31, the actual expenditures were $795,000,000 and the outstanding obligations $551,000,000. It is not yet known how much the adjustment of cancellations and suspensions will reduce the last figure, but it is hoped that it will be enough to leave a final cash balance of a considerable amount out of the $388,000,000 available on March 31.

The figure of $795,000,000 for actual disbursements is only approximate, because it does not include expenditures made abroad by officers of the Expeditionary Forces, to whom $78,750,000 was assigned, but the actual withdrawals from this fund have not yet been reported. For various reasons all the foregoing figures are subject to change, but they give an idea of the cost of the air service.

Partial aircraft production figures made public today, include the following data: De Haviland airplanes, 842, Hispano-Suiza, 180-horsepower engines, 5,075; Hispano-Suiza, 300-horse power, 101; Lewis machine guns, 40,294; Vickers machine guns, 16,366; machine gun synchronizing devices, 17,650.

Other figures show how rapidly aeronautical apparatus wears out. Already 4,541 training engines are obsolescent and 1,037 are obsolete, while 498 planes are obsolescent and 1,037 obsolete.

Sunday School Lesson Questions

April 27, 1919.

The Holy Spirit our Helper. John 16:7-15; Acts 2:1-18.

Golden Text: If ye then being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him? Luke 1:13.

1. Verse 7. What conection did the going away of Jesus have with the coming of the Holy Spirit?

2. What reason if any is there to believe that the Holy Spirit is the same Divine Spirit that dwelt in Jesus?

3. Verses 8-11. What is the meaning of "reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment?"

4. Why would it not be a fair interpretation of these words to say that the Holy Spirit will "convince" us when we are wrong, tell us when we are right and give us clear judgment to distinguish right from wrong?

5. Verses 12, 13. Why did Jesus hold back a part of the truth from his disciples, that is why were they not able to "bear" all the truth?

6. Why can the Holy Spirit teach some things that Jesus could not when in the flesh? (See Chap. 14: 26.) This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by the members of the club.)

7. Would it be safe or not for a true man to place absolute reliance in the Holy Spirit to be taught by him "all things"?

8. Verses 12, 13. If as Jesus states elsewhere, the Holy Spirit dwells in our bodies, why may we not fully trust him to keep us from all sin, and to "guide us into all truth"?

9. To what extent may a Christion filled with the Holy Spirit know "things to come"?

10. Verses 14, 15. How and for what reason will the Holy Spirit "glorify" Jesus?

11. What are the possessions of Jesus, which the Holy Spirit will reveal unto the Christian?

12. Verses 14, 15. May a faithful Christian or not, and why, depend upon the Holy Spirit to show him all things, in business, social and spiritual matters that he needs to know?

13. Acts 2:1, 2. This chapter tells of the coming of the Holy Spirit; was the "sonnd" the Holy Spirit, or was it a great wind, which was one of the attending circumstances of the Spirit's coming?

14. Verse 3. These cloven tongues were clearly no part of the Holy Spirit; do you think it possible that they were made by forked lightning, or some similar phenomena?

15. Verse 3. Was it the Holy Spirit, or the tongues, which "sat upon each of them?"

16. Verse 4. What in your own language, is the meaning of the statement that "they were all filled with the Holy Spirit," and how many of them would you say spake with tongues?

17. Verse 5. Are there still "devout men in every nation under heaven," even where the historic Christ has not been preached?

18. Verses 6-12. Why would you say or not that devout men filled with God still make a stir in every community where they live?

19. Verse 13. What resemblance is there between a man "filled with the Holy Spirit" and one under the influence of strong drink?

20. Verses 14-18. Is the Holy Spirit meant for everybody, even the man on the street, and how may he be receibed?

Lesson for Sunday, May 4, 1919. Man made in the Image of God.—Genesis 1:26-28; 2:7-9; Ephesians 4: 20-24.

Shock Left Her Weak and Nervous
COULD NOT SLEEP

When the system receives a shock of any kind, the heart becomes weakened, the nerves unstrung, the appetite poor, faint and weak feelings come over you, you can't sleep at night, and you wonder if life is worth living.

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as the best remedy to tone up the entire system and strengthen the weakened organs.

Mrs. J. J. Bunyan, Pilot Butte, Sask., writes:—"I have used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills after having suffered from a terrible shock to my whole system. I was so utterly weak, and nervous I could not sleep at night, and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling all over.

I had hot flushes and fainting spells. When I was on the second box of your Heart and Nerve Pills, I began to feel that they were doing me good, so I kept on until I had used six boxes, when I felt like a different person.

I am never without them in the house, and highly recommend them to all who suffer with their heart."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FLYERS THEIR ESPECIAL CARE

Corps of Doctors and Trainers to Look After the Aviators in This Country and Abroad.

For the cure and conditioning of flyers in the air service, the United States government is now appointing a corps of doctors and trainers large enough to equip each training field and camp for flyers, both here in the United States and in France, with a proper organization. The doctors will be known as flight surgeons and the trainers as physical directors. The medical branch of the air service is not alone confined to the selection of the flyer, ont to his care and condition after he has been admitted to the service. It has become apparent that the flyer is unlike other soldiers, comments Science. In the air service he has become an intricate, highly sensitised piece of mechanism with troubles all his own. To keep his complex organism physically fit a special master mechanic had to be provided solely for him.

The flight surgeon, therefore, has been given freedom of independent initiative in all questions of fitness of the flyers. Subject to the approval of the commanding officer, he is expected to institute such measures as periods of rest, recreations and temporary excuse from duty as may seem advisable. He takes sick calls of aviators, he visits such cases as may be in the hospital and consults with the attending surgeon regarding them. He makes the examination of candidates for aviation and lives in close touch with flyers.

The physical directors are assistants to the flight surgeons and their duty is to supervise such recreation and physical training of the flyers as are considered necessary.

Gas Masks for Horses.

The war department recently announced that more than 5,000 gas masks for horses were being turned out daily by the gas defense service and that they are being shipped at once to France for the use of the animals employed by the American expeditionary forces.

GERMAN NOBLES ANXIOUS TO SELL SUMMER HOMES

COLOGNE.—In recent newspaper advertisements an unusually large number of villas and landed estates in the Rhineland have been offered for sale at "sacrifice" prices. Many of these residences are on the hills along the Rhine and are occupied only during the summer months, the owners having homes in Berlin, Frankfort, Dresden or other cities of the interior. Most of those eager to sell appear to be German nobles and higher class public officials. Prices asked for these properties range from 50,000 to 1,000,000 marks ($12,500 to $250,000).

Presidents Who Were Soldiers.

More than half of our presidents have served as soldiers. Washington and Monroe were soldiers in the Revolutionary war; Jackson, William Henry Harrison, Tyler, Taylor and Buchanan in the war of 1812; Lincoln in the Black Hawk war; Taylor, Pierce and Grant in the Mexican war; Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Arthur, Benjamin Harrison and McKinley in the Civil war; Roosevelt in the war with Spain.

Rich Ore Discovery.

Montana is the latest state to report wonderful discoveries of manganese ore. There is great excitement in that state over an alleged marvelous discovery at a mine where already about 1,000,000 tons of this precious ore are in sight. In view of the many exaggerated reports concerning manganese ore that have been circulated in the United States since the war began, the report may mean little more than some of the others.

Norway Encourages Development.

The Norwegian government has appropriated $7,000,000 to assist intensive agricultural development. Of this amount $4,500,000 is to maintain low maximum prices for cattle feed and fertilizer.

IN THE SPRING
When Energy and Vitality are Lowest, then—Influenza!

(By S. C. BOWER, M. D.)

At this time of the year people feel weak, tired, listless, their blood is thin, they have lived indoors and perhaps expended all their mental and bodily energy and they want to know how to renew their energy and stamina, overcome headaches and backaches, have clear eyes, a smooth, ruddy skin and feel the exhileration of real good health tingling thru their bodies. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against ills of all kinds. You are apt to suffer from an attack of Influenza if your health is run down.

Purify the blood and you can defy influenza. This is the time to clean house and freshen up a bit.

Drink hot water a half hour before meals, and for a vegetable tonic there's nothing better than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the old-fashioned herbal remedy, which has had such a fine reputation for fifty years. It contains no alcohol or narcotics and is made into tablets and liquid. Send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. for trial package.

STRATFORD, ONT.—"For many years I suffered with neuralgia. It would affect my head, extending down into my neck and shoulders. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and was completely cured. I have also taken 'Pleasant Pellets' and found them an excellent remedy for constipation, bilious attacks, also stomach and liver troubles. They seem to regulate one's whole system. Ever since I can remember Dr. Pierce's medicines have been used in my family. I am always ready to recommend them."—W. J. TAPP, 272 Railway Avenue.

Fordson Farm Tractors

May be observed in many fields along the country roads. Time is so vital to the farmer that they are now a matter of the hour.

There are hundreds of testimonials which indicate the many practical applications and uses to which farmers are putting this latest farm utility, showing that they realize the tractor's great possibility as a necessary part of their equipment. Never tired, they help him all day long, and day and night if necessary.

During the turbulent period just passed it has been the job of the farmers of this continent to assist in feeding the entire world, and the demand for their produce is not likely to see any decrease. It is therefore obvious that the indispensability of the tractor will fast replace farm horses in many instances.

Mechanical farming methods are fast changing from one of drudgery to scientific mechanical production, with still greater innovations in sight and a much larger measure of enjoyment.

Let us demonstrate the practicability of the Fordson Tractor at any kind of work on the farm.

THIS WOMAN FOUND HEALTH
And Escaped an Operation by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Hazelhurst, Ga.—"I have used your remedies for only ten months, and they saved me from an operation. Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was so ill from a female trouble that I was forced to stay in bed for a week at a time with weakness and pain, but your medicine has done so much for me that I am recommending it to all suffering women. It certainly is a great medicine and is a sure road to health for women. You may publish this letter if you like."—Mrs. W. C. LITTLE, R.F.D. A, Hazelhurst, Ga.

Women who suffer from headaches, nervousness, backache, the blues and other symptoms of a functional derangement should give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such ailments of women after other medicines have failed.

If you want special suggestions in regard to your condition, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of long experience is at your service, and your letter will be held in strict confidence.

The mere fact that some brands of baking powder have the words "No Alum" on the label is not sufficient proof that they are what they are represented to be. Our chemists find a good many have "No Alum" on the outside but large quantities of it inside.

EASTER SERVICES IN LAKEFIELD

LAKEFIELD, April 23.—In St John's church on Sunday there were two celebrations of Holy Communion one at 8 a.m. and one at the 11 a.m. service. At the latter service, which was mainly choral, Mr. H. F. Strickland and Miss Helen Strickland of Toronto furnished violin music which was a delightful accompaiment to the organ and choir. Westbury's Te Deum was sung and during the offertory Nicholl's anthem, "Oh Lord of Life and Glory", was rendered, Mr. W. M. Graham taking the baritone solo. Mrs. Osborne sang, "I know that my Redeemer Liveth", from the "Messiah" in splendid voice at both morning and evening services.

Evening Service

At the evening service Mr. Strickland, who was present again, played a beautiful prelude accompanied by Miss Atwood on the organ. The sermon by the Rector, Mr. J. L. Taylor on "The Witness of the Grave Clothes", was a most beautiful and appropriate closing to Easter day. At the close of the service Mr. Strickland played as a postlude the "March of the Priests" by Mendelssohn.

Easter services were held in St. Paul's church in the morning. There was no evening service.

The "Palms"

The choir of the Presbyterian church sung "The Palms" on Sunday and Mr. Elmer Milburn sang "Open the Gates of the Temple", as a solo and in the evening Miss Blanche Moore sang a solo. The choir sang an anthem in the evening also, and Rev. P. L. Jull preached appropriate Easter sermons at both services. A memorial service for the late Mrs. John McDonald was held in the Baptist church on Sunday evening.

Methodist Church

The W. M. S. of the Methodist church presenter the religious drama "The Crusade of the Cross" at the Sunday evening service. Those who took part were: Mrs. D. E. Johnson as "Evangel" and the six disciples were Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Harry Sherin, Mrs. W. W. Leonard, Mrs. Moore, Miss Eva Jory, Mrs. Allan Hunter.

The thank offering amounted to $85.12 which showed a marked increase over past years. Mrs. Clare Bravender presided at the organ and the choir was made up of ladies who rendered suitable music.

Good Friday Services

On Good Friday three services were held in the church of St. John the Baptist. One at 11 a.m. the anti-communion service with appropriate sermon another at 3 p.m. a solemn intercession with an address on the "Gospel in Color". The six colors of the church applied to the Gospel, viz., white, the emblem of sinlessness, the color of our Blessed Lord Himself, the Lamb of God. White is used in the church in the white surplice of the priests, in the robes of the infant brought to Holy Baptism, the young girl coming to her confirmation (in olden times men and women, boys and girls, all wore the white robe), the bride at the altar, and lastly when we come to our last rest and we are laid in the tomb. Purple, the second color, the emblem of sorrow, the color used in Lent in the stoles, frontals and markers. Purple, the color of the Man of Sorrows, who bore on His shoulders the sorrow of the whole world. Red, the color of sacrifice reminding us of the one great sacrifice made for us on Calvary on the first Good Friday. Red, the color of the blood that was spilled from the sacred sides of Christ when the spear of the Roman soldiers pierced his heart but it was not the blood that was shed but the Life that was given that made that perfect sublime sacrifice. Black, the color of death, the death on the cross at Calvary and the color adapted in our country for the robes of mourning signifying loss.

Green, the color of Hope, which springs eternal in the human breast the color adapted by the church for use in the season between Trinity and Advent showing that Hope which Christians have for the coming of the Lord on Christmas day.

Gold, the greatest of all, the emblem of glory, the glory of the Son of God which he attained through the white, the purple, the red, the black and the green. So shall we attain the glory if we strive to follow his steps.

On Good Friday evening there was evensong at 7:30 with a sermon on the seven last words from the Cross.

The dying Saviour on the Cross who in spite of His great agony thought first of others asking forgiveness for these who were responsible for His being crucified "Father forgive them for they know not what they do". The loving thought for the heart broken women before the cross, the earthly mother, who suffers the crushing sorrow of seeing Him hanging there. To his loved disciple he commends the care of the Blessed Virgin and from that time he takes her to his own home. "Woman behold they Son—Behold thy mother."

Then in his infinite mercy he listens to the pleading of the repentant dying thief who cries "Lord, remember me" and re-assures him by saying "To-day thou shalt be with me in Paradise."

Then the physical agony overcame him and he said, so the scripture might be fullfilled, "I thirst."

In that terrible hour of more than human agony with the jeering careless mob mocking his sufferings he lifted up his voice and said, "My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken me".

Then darkness of the most intense type settled over the earth for three hours and hid him from the gaze of the rabble.

When the sacrifice was almost accomplished he uttered the triumphant cry, "It is finished," the work given Him was accomplished, the sacrifice for sin was complete. The words 'Father into Thy hands I commend my spirit", were wrung from Him as His spirit left the wrecked and tortured body.

This story of the Cross comes to us each year and the sacrifice is everlasting for the sins of all the world.

Lemons Whiten and Beautify the Skin! Make Cheap Lotion

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier. Just try it? Make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon juice and massage it daily into the face, neck arms and hands. It should naturally help to whiten, soften, freshen, and bring out the hidden roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful for rough, red hands.

Your druggist will sell three ounces of orchard white at little cost, and any grocer will supply the lemons.

Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

TELLS SAFE AND SIMPLE WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME.

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ½ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment.

THE ENGINE OF ADVANCEMENT

In these days, when everyone—the wise and the foolish and the merely loquacious—is busily engaged in predicting or postulating the troublous times that are said to loom just ahead, there keep recurring to us words not originally connected wth this theme at all, but descriptive of the departure of a great ocean liner:

"Full ahead!—and so off again for the great struggle—man's wits and the engines and the mercy of God against the upreaching of the sea."

Maybe these predictions are correct. Far be it from us, supposing they are, to tuck an editorial head under the wing of immenetrable optimism, and simply say there are no troubles. But if we are about to embark upon a sea of them, let us at least consider also that we still have against them, "man's wits, the engines, and the mercy of God."

Of the mercy of God, and man's wits, we need scarcely speak. The war years, in isolated instances and triumph of right over might that is nothing less than a miracle of the mercy of God—a mercy that showed itself no less than otherwise in the nimble wits that so often anticinater the whole outcome alike, represent a and frustrated, and finally defeated the evil against which civilization fought.

But a word as to the engines.

Not for an instant underestimating the ship-building, the manufacture of guns and the armor and munitions, construction of aircraft and submarine, the most powerful machine of the war, as we see it, was still the printing press. It fought maligantly against us; but it also fought valiantly for us; for its power, as always, lay ultimately in the principle of truth.

False propaganda may flourish for a time, but the human mind is too keen a lover of the truth—in others at any rate! to long accept statements without submitting them to the acid test that shows up the liar and his works.

It is this same engine of the press, publicity, call it what you will, so long as you mean that thing which promotes in man a more general, truer understanding of his fellows—that must ultimately solve the problems and serve the purposes of the present period of Reconstruction. And now as before, its power and durance lie in the measure of Truth employed.

If the League of Nations becomes, as we hope, a living, operative reality, it shall be because of an open, aboveboard understanding of each other's problems, grievances and ambitions arrived at by the statesmen of the nations interested and the diffusion of that understanding to their whole peoples.

If order is to be brought out of the present European chaos it will only be by giving light to the nation that has sat so long in darkness, and truth to the one that has so long been fed on lies.

If we here on our land are to keep free of the graft and crime and intrigue that flourish wherever they gain the slightest foothold, it must be because these things are bought to light and the cleansing justice of public opinion by an indefatigable press.

If manufacturer and consumer, capital and labor, city and country are to achieve harmony, it can only be through widespread, intelligent interpretation of each other's needs and difficulties.

In short, the national effort now needed to reconstruct the shattered forces of peace can only be achieved by the same engine that co-ordinated that effort to the successful winning of the war—advertising, publicity, giving mutual understanding and a clear, unbiased outlook upon conditions as they actually exist.

This force is the real engine of Reconstruction. And we think that we in Canada, have it—not perfect, of course, but in very acceptable, everyday working order.

Then away with our paralyzing fears, and confidently, cheerfully—"Full ahead!"—McClary's Wireless.

—but what Sugar?

MANY women, when they think of Sugar, are inclined to let their interest dwell upon the matter of price rather than upon quality. But we who make Sugar, and the grocer who sells it, know there is something more important about Sugar than the price. We want you to learn about Sugar Quality. The best way to obtain a realization of how good a sugar can be, is to try a dollar's worth of

DOMINION CRYSTAL SUGAR

This is the only Sugar that may rightly be termed "Canadian from the ground up." We do import the finest of Raw Cane Sugar and refine it for Canadian use. But our pride is in the product we make from Canadian Sugar Beets.

Pure, sparkling and finely granulated. A sugar that will give unfailing satisfaction in preserving, in baking, and for table use.

Most grocers carry this brand. They will substantiate all we say about its quality—they will tell you it is a matter of pride with them to be able to offer a Sugar so good, that is made from Sugar beets grown on Canadian land. Most grocers have it in the popular 20-pound bag, as well as in barrels. Specify "Dominion Crystal" next time you order Sugar.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

THE ARCHITECT

By EUNICE BLAKE

Julia Edmonds after leaving the high school was eighteen years of age and obliged to make her own living. Seeing an advertisement in a newspaper for a governess, she replied to it and was invited to a conference. A lady, Miss Ashford, who said she was the aunt of the children to be taught and cared for, received the applicant, asked a number of questions and for references, and Julia was engaged.

The lady was a woman past forty, the sister of the father of the children. Their mother was dead, and their father at the time was abroad, his little girls being left in charge of their aunt. The home was near a suburban town and a very attractive one.

Spring came on, and one of the children needed a change of air. Miss Ashford decided to take them both southward to meet the coming summer, leaving Julia where she was until their return.

One warm morning the governess went out into the grounds with a book and seated herself on a rustic bench supported on either side by a tree. While reading she heard a step on the walk leading from the gate and, looking up, saw a gentleman apparently about thirty-five years old approaching. He paused before her in his walk and said:

"You look very contented and very restful."

"I am both," was the reply.

"Will I find Miss Ashford at the house?"

"Miss Ashford is away. She took the children to the country for a change of air."

"H'm." The gentleman looked about him, then turned again to Julia.

"It's unfortunate that Miss Ashford is absent. I've been sent by the owner of this property to make plans for additions to the house. I fear I shall have to intrude myself upon you, for awhile."

Julia made no reply to this. She had no authority either to prevent or permit his doing what he mentioned. He went on to the house and entered it without ringing the bell. When Julia went there herself the housekeeper told her that the gentleman was an architect and would remain while he laid his plans. He made himself at home, but as to making plans Julia could not see that he devoted much time to the work. True, he did some diagram drawing in pencil, but on this he did not spend an hour a day.

The rest of the time he divided between the library and Julia. When he tired of books, there being no one besides her to chat with, he seemed disposed to utilize her for company. He interested her in what he said, and she was of an age to appreciate the ideas of an older man. The housekeeper and the servants were deferential to him, gave him everything he desired without question and obeyed all his orders.

Every day Julia found the architect—every one in the house spoke of him as the architect—more and more engaging. A day which he spent in the city she was surprised to find a very long one to her. When he returned and they sat down together for dinner she could not conceal her pleasure.

A week passed, at the end of which building materials were brought into the place and dumped beside the house. The next day workmen came, and the architect spent some time with the contractor over diagrams. Julia asked the former with a beating heart if he were going to superintend the construction of the additions. He said he was and they would require at least a month. The housekeeper informed her that Miss Ashford and the children would remain away until the work was finished.

An attractive man of thirty-five shut up in the same house with a girl of eighteen is not likely to have much trouble in winning her. Before the additions were finished the architect had made havoc with poor little Julia's heart. She did not think of marriage. All she desired was to live on just as she was in the companionship of this delightful man.

But the architect was thinking very much of marriage. He was a widower—so he told Julia—and very lonely without a companion. He asked her how she would like to spend her life where she was, to which she replied that she would like it very much, especially if he were to continue making additions to the house. He saw through this ingenuous reply and, taking her in his arms, told her that if she chose she might remain there always and he would remain also.

She did not press him for an explanation, which he did not seem ready to give. She was happy and contented and trusted him implicitly. A few days later Miss Ashford returned with the children and the latter jumped into the architect's arms, covering him with kisses and calling him papa.

The next day he asked them if they could bear to part with their governess, to which they replied that they could not, whereupon he told them that she was to remain with them always.

David Ashford had dreaded to come to his home from which his wife had gone forever. When he saw an attractive girl there the idea occurred to him to keep her there. So he told the housekeeper and the others to preserve his incognito, and "the architect" began to win the governess.

WOMEN POLICE "MAKE GOOD"

Abundant Testimony as to Splendid Work They Have Done in England Since War Started.

How England's women police have developed into a real force for the maintenance of order and public morality has appeared in the report of Miss Goldingham, deputy commandant of the women police service, at a meeting in Richmond, where the establishment of such a force was under discussion.

She said that these forces had been formed from voluntary workers early in the war, as a means of helping refugees and young English girls and boys who were in need of aid or advice. In three and a half years 1,000 women have been trained for the work and have found appointments.

At present women are policing 20 munition factories, where they perform all the duties, practically, that could be expected of masculine police. The women's police service has also supplied police for 18 towns, in four of which women have been sworn in as constables.

Hun Captives Are Oxlike.

Once through Templeaux and on the main road for Peronne things became less exciting and we drew up to see a column of 900 prisoners pass us. Each side of the causeway was lined by Australians, with their keen, clear-cut, falcon faces, and between these beefy-jawed, beetle-browed, uncouth louts, new-caught and staring round with bewildered eyes at their debonnaire captors. I saw none of that relief at getting out of it which I have read of; nor did I see any signs of fear, but the prevailing impression was an oxlike stolidity and dullness. It was a herd of beasts, not a procession of men. It was indeed farcical to think that these uniformed bumpkins represented the great military nation, while the gallant figures who lined the road belonged to the race which they had despised as being unwarlike. Time and Fate between them have a pretty sense of humor.—Arthur Conan Doyle in the London Times.

Hint to the Losing Team.

"I thought they had to mind the umpire."

"They do."

"But he told them to play ball."

A woman may pretend to be convinced against her will, but she never is.

DANDRUFF MAKES HAIR FALL OUT

A small bottle of "Danderine" keeps hair thick, strong, beautiful. Girls! Try this! Doubles beauty of your hair in a few moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine for a few cents at any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

Alkali in Shampoos Bad For the Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

PETERBOROUGH FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 1919

Peterboro Received Its Men From the 2nd Battalion With a Great Welcome

Unseasonable Weather Marred the Homecoming of Forty Men, But Crowds of Citizens Braved the Cold and Snow to Show Their Appreciation of Soldiers' Endurance and Bravery.

THREE BANDS OUT

Departed August 22nd, 1914.
Returned April 24th, 1919.

These are the opening and closing epigodes in the career of the Peterborough company of the 2nd Battalion of the Canadian Expeditionary Force. They are events that will not be forgotten. The first has already faded to a dimness that obscures details, but sets out the salient memorable features in sharp relief.

In those August days when the newspapers were crying that the Hun was at the gate and Armageddon seemed to impend there were activities of preparedness at the armouries just at the time when the 57th Regiment had planned a trip to Windsor. This peace jaunt suddenly cancelled, the men were expectantly awaiting the call to the colours, and on August 7th, Col. E. B. Clegg, then officer commanding the regiment, received the authorization from the Militia Department to accept recruits for service overseas for the duration of the war. In five days the company allotted to Peterborough was complete, and these first recruits were nearly all members of the 57th militia regiment. On August 12th the list for volunteers was closed, and the company of four officers and 124 men was introduced to "bikes" and squad drill that proved at least a pleasant memory in the strenuous training that began at Valcartier.

Ordered to Valcartier.

Followed a brief two weeks of feverish waiting for the orders to depart, and in the evening of August 21st the order was telegraphed to Col. Clegg. The next morning the company as a unit bade farewell to the old town and stepped off on the first stage of the great adventure that became a seemingly endless Gethsamene.

The volunteers wore the old red coats of the local regiment when they paraded to Central Park. Major Davidson conducted a short service of intercession, praying for the safety of the nation and of the soldiers. The men repeated with him the Lord's prayer and sang a verse of the National Anthem. Major Davidson gave the company a final message, and Mayor Buller extended the city's formal goodbye, promising the soldiers that the city would protect and care for their families. The tense, dramatic scene and poignant emotions were quickly relieved by the realignment of the men into marching order and the command that called them away.

That was a lovely autumn morning. The sky was a soft blue and the sun warmed the fresh morning air, which seemed to sparkle with a strange brightness as the volunteers swung down George street to the regimental tune of "The Lass O' Gowrie." The first popular song of the new army, "It's a Long Way to Tipperary" had not attained its vogue in Canada in those days of the war, its refrain carrying the suggestion of a long, rough road to Berlin.

The Home-coming.

Such was the departure, and the faces that will not return are still fresh impressions upon the memory. Last night saw the return of the unit. A whipping, piercing wind, alien to spring, with sleet and snow, chilled the crowds that swarmed about the G.T.R. station and stretched along Charlotte street and up George. The special train was nearly an hour later than was expected, but the people endured the cold, to welcome the returning men with an enthusiastic reception. With favourable weather the city would have turned out in a great throng, judging by the numbers that braved the unusual storm.

Escort of 2nd Battalion Men.

The procession to the armouries was led by the 57th Regimental Band, followed by the Boy Scouts, the Reception committee of the City Council, the G.W.V.A. band at full strength, and a long line of veterans. It was highly fitting that the special escort for the soldiers was composed of Veterans of the 2nd Battalion who had been previously invalided home. The Salvation Army band and a string of automobiles followed the cars that conveyed the forty returning men.

The crowd nearly filled the armouries when Mayor Duncan delivered the city's address of welcome. Ald. Turner, chairman of the Reception committee, added a warm greeting and reminded the soldiers of the civic banquet to them on May 1st. He then called for cheers and the crowd threw reserve to the roof with a mighty shout. The home-coming soldiers were then claimed by their friends and former comrades. The joy of reunion proved contagious to those who could only envy the happiness that pervaded the swirling crowd about the platform.

Motor cars were provided to convey the men and their relatives to their homes, and they were apparently all used.

"I'm just going to the Munro House," said one of the soldiers. "I guess I'll have to wait until to-morrow to get out home." The others, however, were carried off to their families and relatives who had prepared a welcome more intimate and touching than the best the public could offer. Lights in the windows revealed the streamers and flags and greetings inscribed on banners that swung with the cold biting wind. Inside was warmth and love and heart ease, and the tearful, overwhelming happiness that came to those who have waited, and those who have returned, when—

All the day's long toil is past
And each heart is whispering,
"Home, home at last."

Mayor Duncan's Address to the Returned Soldiers Last Night

SOLDIERS: It is with feelings that cannot be expressed that we welcome you home. We have had the opportunity of meeting and bidding welcome a number of returning soldiers, many of whom have come singly or in small parties, and we are glad of this opportunity of showing, even in a small way, that we are glad to welcome the men who went from here to do their part in the great war. The return of men of the 2nd Battalion takes us back to the time in the summer of 1914 when the world was startled by the declaration of war by Germany and the beginning of the great struggle, and to the departure of the first men who went from Peterborough to help to drive back the ruthless invaders.

We saw you go with great pride in your courage, and devotion, and our pride in your courage, our gratitude for your devotion and sympathy for you in your sufferings increased as time went on, and your sacrifices for your King and Country, for civilization and for rigtheousness, became greater and greater. No one who was old enough to have any understanding of what had happened will ever forget the great and mixed emotions with which the news of the Second Battle of Ypres was received four years ago. That hellish device of Germans, poison gas, was first used there. The almost superhuman bravery and steadfastness of Canadian soldiers on that occasion will live in history and in the hearts of men so long as history and civilization shall endure. It was after that battle that our hearts were wrung with the knowledge that so many from Peterborough had laid down their lives for the great cause, and we read with grief of the death of Major George Bennett, and the other gallant men and lads, who gave themselves to check the onrush of the foe. Since then you have continued to fight the great fight; and we mourn and yet glory in the sacrifices made by those you have left behind and who will no more return.

You did not fail those who rest in the fields of Flanders and France, but did your part bravely until the foe was forced by the gallantry and courage of yourselves and your comrades-in-arms to acknowledge that he was beaten, and that his dreams of conquest had ended in defeat and disaster. It is with full hearts that we see your return, and that we welcome you back.

Text of the Peace Treaty

Will Guard Treaty From Garbling Old Trickery Feared.

PARIS, April 25.—At a conference held to discount the possibility of a German version of the Peace Treaty forestalling Allied publication the Council of Four is understood to have resolved Tuesday to publish the whole text of the treaty and lay it before the respective Parliaments simultaneously with its delivery to the enemy.

It has been universally admitted that it would never do for the German wireless to be allowed again to give the world a garbed summary of the contents of the peace terms handed their envoys at Versailles, as happened in the past with most of the Allied communications to the German Government.

A concise and accurate summary therefore is being made which will contain the principal terms of the treaty. This summary, about 7,000 words in length, will be issued to the press next week. Meanwhile the American delegation is making elaborate plans to wire the whole 120,000 words of the treaty to the United States and from there have it relayed to various parts of the world. Several cables will be devoted to this task. It is hoped to get the text over within three days.

Press Comment On Conference

Old Country Papers About Evenly Divided.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April 25.—The peace conference crisis continues to be the paramount topic of editorial in the morning newspapers. The support they give to Italy's and President Wilson's views are, respectively about evenly divided, but, with two or three exceptions, opinions are expressed cautiously and with manifest desire to show friendliness for both Italy and Mr. Wilson and to avoid saying anything likely to hinder speedy restoration of harmony. Four newspapers emphatically champion President Wilson's viewpoint, although, with one exception, with cautious moderation, two others, with equal moderation sympathizing with Italy's claims.

Premier Orlando left Paris for Rome at 8.30 o'clock last night, accompanied by Salvatore Barzilai, General Diaz and two other members of the Italian mission.

Gus Hill's Big Minstrels

Special emphasis is found in the advance announcements heralding the engagement at the Grand Opera House on Monday evening only, of Gus Hill's Big Minstrels, concerning the scenic and costume equipment. Minstrel presentations as a rule make little capital out of the production part of their entertainment. But the Hill organization is said to be as gaily surrounded by picturesque effects in novel costumes, glittering scenics and attractive costuming as any big travelling musical production that considers an eye to the gorgeous among its magnets. The color scheme of the minstrel first part of the Hill amalgamation is burnt orange with a lavender blending, the costuming being lavender for the most part. The Hill Minstrels is one of the biggest travelling burnt cork combinations.

AN ERROR CORRECTED

In the large advertisement announcing a ten days sale at H. J. Zacks, 422 George street, an error in price crept in, and a few copies of the paper were printed before it was corrected. It was in the first item, new Spring Suits, which were quoted at $5.00, when the price should have been $25.00. At the right price the suits are very special bargains, and every other item of the many in the list, will be found fully as interesting, and represent a great opportunity to practice economy in Spring buying.

FRANK JENNE Says:

"Other specialties which show up really good tailoring besides dress suits and tuxedo coats are coming into their own again — such as riding breeches, Norfolk coats and outing knickers.

"Our officers found on their arrival in England that their breeches were better tailored and more symmetrical in shape than the European allies — and it was the Semi-ready Company which tailored most of the smart tunics and breeches for the Canadian officers.

"When we have not in stock just what is wanted we can have made to special order any special garment ever designed and worn in the civilized world—and deliver a suit in six days."

HUN COURIERS HAVE ARRIVED

Situation in Paris Grows More Hopeful—Will Consult Parliament.

PLENARY SESSION

Canadian Press:

PARIS, April 25.—The German couriers in advance of the German delegation to the Peace Congress arrived at Versailles to-day. A distinctly more hopeful and less irreconcilable feeling prevailed at the Italian headquarters to-day. No longer was there talk of a breach with the Peace Conference, but instead it was said: "All may be settled within a fortnight. Premier Orlando has gone to Rome to consult Parliament. Thereafter we shall see." A plenary session of the Peace Conference will be held on Monday to consider the revised draft of the League of Nations' Covenant and also such portion of the Peace Treaty as may be completed by that time. The session will be open to the public. It is understood that if the Covenant is approved it will immediately be made public.

RESOLUTION ON TITLES

Committee Held First Meeting This Morning—Hereditary Titles

REPORT WEDNESDAY

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, April 25.—W. F. Nickle, M.P. for Kingston, mover in the House of the resolution on titles, which resulted in the appointment of a committee to consider the question, was elected chairman at the first meeting this morning. He stated that the Premier was anxious that the committee present their report without delay and make a report to the House. The whole subject of titular distinctions, including recognition of war services, would be considered. A general discussion made it clear that the committee was almost unanimously of the opinion that apart from distinction for those who have meritorious war service to their credit, titles should be abolished in Canada. The only definite conclusion reached was that hereditary titles should cease with the death of the present holders. Another meeting will be held Wednesday, when the committee expects to make a report.

A FRIEND MAKER

The H. Le Brun Co., Store, is making a strong bid for new friends for their clothing store, with a large display advertisement quoting a number of very special values in suits, coats, underwear, boys clothing and furnishings. They invite inspection and comparison with their qualities and prices, believing that the garments will speak for themselves if given an opportunity. Their large advertisement is on page eight of our first section, and is suggestive enough to warrant the inspection they invite.

Veterans Invited to To-night's Show

The manager of the Grand Opera House has extended an invitation to every man who returned last evening from overseas to be his guests at the Grand Opera House to witness "The Better 'Ole" to-night.

Tickets may be had from Secretary Whatley at the G.W.V.A. up until 7.30 o'clock this evening.

Committee Wants the Names of Men Who Have Won Decorations

The Council's Reception Committee desires to obtain the names of the Peterborough men now at home who have won decorations during the war in order that they may be presented at the public banquet to the returned men at the Armouries on May 1st. The men are requested to give their names to City Clerk Armstrong or at the G.W.V.A. Club, where tickets for the banquet can also be secured. The committee is anxious that the men register as soon as possible to facilitate the preparations. The banquet will be held on May 1st, and only a short time remains for completing the arrangements. The registration is proceeding satisfactorily, but the committee hopes that all the returned men will attend next Thursday's reunion.

The City Clerk's office, at the corner of Simcoe and Water Streets, will be open on Saturday night for the convenience of the returned men.

Was Fined Five Hundred Dollars and Costs For a Breach of Temperance Act

Travelogue Story of An Iron Bound Box Which Fell Into Arms of Peterboro Police.

MADE MANY TRIPS

Camouflage was practised to an advanced stage by a certain Orillia resident who although not an accredited Government liquor vendor carried the "trade" on so successfully for some time past that a $500.00 fine with $22.53 inflicted by Magistrate Dumble failed to "inflict 'because the money was forthcoming, and the six months sojourn in the county "cooler" which was offered by the Magistrate as an alternative failed to figure in the one sided bargain.

The secret dispensary was supplied with booze from Montreal via the C. P. R. carried in an oak stained box. The first time the box with its cargo of seven or eight gallons of pure alcohol ran the gauntlet between Montreal and Orillia without a spotter at Smiths Falls or even Peterboro being any the wiser and reached Orillia in first class condition where three inches was poured into a black bottle, colouring added and the remainder of the bottle filled with water.

"It is the cheapest ware in Orillia" stated the defendant.

Old Box Captured

Precaution was this liquor dealer's second name and the next time a carload was received he repainted the box yellow and asked his agent in address it to a well known manufacturing firm. Following the precedent established by the first box of alcohol the second consignment reached its destination safely and again the $5 per flowed in. It was not necessary that the number of 13 boxes be sent for before a mishap occurred because the third box of alcohol was seized on the morning of April 10th by P. C. Boyd and P. C. Lawrence at the C.P.R. Station. The six o'clock Montreal C.P.R. train brought it as usual somehow failed to take it away. The same old box as in former trips had been used but this time it was stained red, iron corner bands made the box stronger and it was further decorated and camouflaged with "H—E tool box" printed on the lid of the box with white paint. To add to the deception if some of those inquisitive persons shook the box, a tray, in imitation of a tool chest had been fixed inside the box and a few tools and pieces of iron laid on top.

The police told the reporter this morning that the local license inspector watched the box closely, tools the box by one of the handles and shook it but hearing the rattle of the tools was satisfied and went his way leaving it to be seized by the police.

Liquor Missing.

Evidently in transit the box had

See "Old Bill," "Bert" and "Alf" At the Grand

When "The Better 'Ole" comes to the Grand Opera House to-night and Saturday matinee and evening, theatregoers will have an opportunity to glimpse sidelights of the recent great war without its horrors. "The Better 'Ole" was written by Captain Bruce Bairnsfather and Captain Arthur Eliot, based upon Captain Bairnsfather's famous war cartoons, "Fragments From France." It depicts the adventures at the front of the three humorous characters, "Old Bill," "Bert," and "Alf"—types of Britain's first five hundred thousand heroes sent to stay the advance of the Huns. It is their utter indifference to danger and their inherent wit in meeting trying situations that have endeared those three musketeers to their audiences. In their unfaltering—although sometimes humorous efforts to serve their country, they set forth the human side of the soldiers' life in the trenches. The piece is said to be exquisitely staged by Mr. and Mrs. Coburn, the American producers.

Roumanians Are Continuing the Invasion of Hungary—Situation Grave.

BORDERS CLOSED

(Canadian Press.)

GENEVA, April 25.—Czecho-Slovak forces have attacked the city of Waitsen, twenty miles north-east of Budapest, which is expected to fall soon. French troops are said to be aiding the Roumanians in their advance in Eastern Hungary, according to advices received here from Vienna.

The Polish agency at Lausanne states that some units of General Haller's army, which left France last week for Poland by way of Germany, participated in the capture of Vilna by Polish troops from the Bolsheviki.

Borders Closed.

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, April 25. — Hungary has hermetically closed all her borders in an effort to control the Roumanian invasion and prevent unfavourable news from escaping from the country. Reports from Budapest, therefore, are contradictory, but all indicate the situation is grave. The days of the Soviet government are perhaps numbered. Entente powers are said to have 60,000 colonial troops in Neusatz, which are advancing as a Roumanian reserve. Czecho troops are believed to be preparing to attack. The people of Transylvania have revolted and are advancing with the Roumanians because of agrarian measures imposed by the Soviet regime. Panic is said to reign in Budapest where Communist authorities are said to be ruthlessly arresting scores of Bourgeoisie.

THE WEATHER

Different elderly gentlemen, who profess to have accumulated much weather lore with the rolling years, have prophesied that we need not expect any settled warm weather until we had a snow storm—that such was needed to take the frost out of the air, etc. Be that as it may, we have had our snowstorm, and it has been accompanied with quite cold weather. Lowest temperature last night, 18 degrees, or 14 degrees of frost. Our little snowfall was not unusually late, however, as on May 4, 1907, we had over six inches on the level. The snowplows on that occasion were placed on duty, and there was good sleighing for a day or so. On that occasion the maples were partly in leaf.—W.P.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

FRIDAY, APRIL 25TH, 1919.

LAST NIGHT'S RECEPTION

In the reception to the men of the 2nd Battalion and the other soldiers, who arrived home last night, Peterboro did herself proud. It has been said that the people of this city are inclined to be cold and restrained in their welcome to the men who have fought for Canada overseas but the events of last night show that there are occasions when the citizens can let themselves go. Although there were only a handful of original firsts to come home last night, there was something in the return of the representatives of those famous units, the 2nd Battalion and the 4th Battery C.F.A. that seized upon the popular sentiment and made the event one of unusual interest. In spite of the Arctic wind that penetrated to the bone, and the frequent flurries of snow the old town turned out en masse to extend a welcome to the returning heroes and it can safely be said that the reception tendered by Peterboro to the two score soldiers who returned last night was as enthusiastic as that given by the people of Kingston to the whole 2nd Battalion notwithstanding the fact that the seconds reached the Limestone City on a beautiful warm afternoon. The turnout of veterans here last night was much larger than was seen in the parade at Kingston and the returning men had a long wait in the cold but the waiting for them, an arrangement appreciated the motor cars that were that was much more comfortable than in Kingston where the Battalion had a long march with full equipment. And the people here really cheered last night the progress of th procession, especially along Charlotte street being marked by volley after volley of cheers from the crowds massed along that thoroughfare. It was a splendid reception and one worthy of the occasion.

ADMIRABLE ARRANGEMENTS

The authorities in charge of last night's reception are to be congratulated upon the programme arranged especially upon the briefness of the ceremonies and the transporting of the men to their homes in cars. Many of such receptions are spoiled by too much well-meant but mis-placed oratory. Speeches about the heroism of the Canadian troops and the peril of Prussian militarism from which they helped to save the world are a old story as a rule to the returning soldiers and it was noticeable at Kingston where several lengthy addresses were given that the men as a whole paid but scant attention to what was being said. Their chief concern was to get the ceremony over as soon as possible and get home. Nothing else could be expected than that men who have been away, some of them for over four years should desire above all things to meet their relatives, with the least possible delay. "The boys don't want speeches", an officer remarked to the Examiner in Kingston. "They like people to turn out and give them a cheer as an evidence that what they have done is appreciated but after that their first thought is to greet the loved ones." The arrangements last night were made with that idea in view and left nothing to be desired. And the boys were grateful for the thoughtfulness shown—much more so than if they had been called upon to hear four or five long-winded laudations of their career overseas.

THE IRON SECOND'S COLOURS

The people of Peterboro were no doubt glad to learn through the Examiner yesterday that the colours of the 2nd Battalion, the famous Iron Seconds, are to be preserved in this city which has made such a notable offering of men for the Eastern Ontario unit. Although the arragements are not yet completed it is expeced tha the colours will be deposiied with proper ceremony in historic old St. John's Church where are the old colours also of the 57th Regiment. Peterboro is indeed honoured in being chosen to guard the colours of the 2nd Battalion which will form a cherished souvenir of the unit in which so many of the soldiers from this city fought. The selection of Peterboro as a resting place for the colours is a recognition of the part this city has played in supplying fighting men for the Canadian Expeditionary force and also a tribute to the memory of the many soldiers from Peterboro who gave up their lives while helping to win for the 2nd Battalion the reputation which it justly possesses of being one of the finest fighting units wearing the famous old Red Patch of the 1st Canadian Division. Peterboro will be proud to take the colours of the Iron Seconds into her safe-keeping.

WOMEN'S PART IN PROVIDING EMPLOYMENT.

The history of the four and a half years of war is one of great triumph for the women of Britain and of Canada. Our own women did their part nobly, and never once failed the men at the front. Not only did they serve the soldiers directly in hospital and in canteen, but by their efforts in the home, by their conservation of foodstuffs vital to the well-being of our soldiers, they released large quantities of food for export to the Allied nations. Their war record has been a splendid one, and they have never looked back, but have gone on from sacrifice to sacrifice and from victory to victory as the essential complement of the armies in the field.

Now the war is over, and the warriors are returning to their homes. A new situation arises in which the women have as great a part to play as they did during the war. It is necessary for the re-employment of the returning soldiers that the factories should continue at full speed. The very life of Canada depends upon that, and they can only do so while they have orders for the ordinary products of peace time. Thus it is the national duty of all housewives, and of all economists to see that the demand for home-made products is kept as high as possible. The housewives of Canada are for the most part in control of the family purse. They do the shopping for the household. Therefore there is in their hands an opportunity to help to a very great extent to keep the wheels of industry running at full speed in Canada. For this reason the Canadian Trade Commission has appealed to them to use wherever possible only goods that have been made in Canada. The task of maintaining the factories and preventing any serious unemployment is one in which the housewife can play a large part, and they will be adding to their patriotic work of the war, if they at all times demand products of Canadian factories wherever it is possible to secure them.—Kingston Whig.

WILL THE WAR BREAD RETURN TO CANADA?

Food Council Has Increased Milling Percentage.

WAR AGAIN DECLARED!

The Bolsheviks have gained ground in several parts of Europe, and it is said the principle reason for this is because the people cannot get enough food on account of the scarcity and high prices.

If such is the case, we need not fear it spreading to Peterborough while we are able to get quality and prices as the A. W. Paskins Co. are offering this week.

For instance they are selling those lovely little sweet pickled meat rolls, boned and no waste, at 35c. per lb.; and that extra choice Wiltshire for which they are so well known, at 42c. lb. Very fine potatoes at 25c. per peck or $1.35 per bag.

Then for the Breakfast Table you can have Rolled Oats, 4 lbs. for 25c., or 2 pkgs. Corn Flakes for 25c. That famous Yorkshire Sugar-cured Bacon, at 42c. per lb. The finest Dairy Butter at 52c. and Creamery at 63c. Orange Marmalade in pails, 35c., and jars 22c., and wash it down with fresh ground coffee at 45 lb.

For supper or afternoon tea, such things as Pure Honey, 30c lb. Pure Maple Syrup 69c. large bottle. Lovely Shortbread Cakes at 45c. lb., of Fancy Shortbread at 25c lb., and finish off with beautiful flavoured Tea at 55c lb.

With such values as these the war against Bolshevism is sure to be successful, and don't forget, the recruiting office is at—

Dog Tags Are Now Available

Peterborough Bow-Wows Must Be Tagged Before May 1st.

The local supply of 1919 dog tags have arrived at the police station, and the police advise owners of canines to come early and avoid the rush. May 1 is the last day on which dogs without the 1919 "marker" will be allowed their liberty. After that date an interview with the magistrate is in store for the delinquent owner.

Monthly Meeting 57th Chapter

Will Send 150 Pairs of Socks to the Navy.

The regular monthly meeting of the 57th Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held at the Y.W.C.A. on Thursday afternoon at 3.30, with the Regent, Mrs. J. C. Davidson, in the chair. The Knitting Committee reported:

18 pairs socks sent to Pte. W. D. Tranter, 21st Batt.
18 pairs socks sent to R. Neill, 10th Battery.
18 pairs socks sent to D. G. Melton, Can. Pay Office.
28 pairs socks received and two spindles of wool given out.

A resolution was carried to send 150 pairs socks to the Navy. A committee was formed to place flags on the graves of soldiers on Empire Day.

Dr. Jessie Birnie gave a short address concerning the Baby Clinic, about to be opened in Peterboro and towards which the Chapter is donating $100.

A resolution was passed to give $100 to the 57th Band.

A committee was formed to decide upon some entertainment to be held in May.

After a short discussion about holding a military euchre the meeting adjourned.

"The Better 'Ole" To-night and To-morrow

"The Better 'Ole," the comedy and music, which will be seen at the Grand Opera House to-night and Saturday matinee and evening, promises to duplicate in this country the success which it has met in England, where, in addition to a company that passed its second year at the Oxford Theatre in London, several companies are touring the provinces. The English production was made by Charles B. Cochran, and it was through arrangement with him that Mr. and Mrs. Coburn were enabled to make the American presentation. Although essentially an English piece—being based upon Bairnsfather's "Fragments From France"—the three humorous characters that predominate the performance are likely to be well received as fun-makers all over America. The play is now current on Broadway, where, judging from present indications, it will be located a year hence.

Music & Drama

"THE ROSARY"

One of the most successful of plays on the American stage was presented at the Grand Opera House last evening with "The Rosary," a play of human pathos written, produced and under the personal direction of Edward Rose was shown. The story tells the unassuming but vitally interesting story of how a watchful priest ultimately restored happiness of a home that had been wrecked by the evil plotting of one who coveted his neighbour's wife. The plotter sought revenge because his rival had won the love of the woman to whom he had paid suit in the days when she was free to choose between them. The story moves on with great force and shows that suspicion, which increased to what seems certainty, may wreck innocent lives.

The light side which is necessary for all well balanced plays was interpreted by Miss Ella Malmroes as Lesura Watkins of Bellows Falls, Vermont, the maid of the Wilton home and Lee Martin (Charles Hawkens) familiarly known as "Skeeters" the amiable 'valet de chambre' as he styles himself, of Bruce Wilton.

The most lovable character and one especially interesting to Peterboro theatregoers was the part of Father Brian Kelly, portrayed by Mr. Oscar O'Shea, a former Peterboro boy. His genuine Irish wit and humour and his universal optimism of the human race could not fail to instil in the hearts of all, even to the unbelieving soul of Bruce Wilton respect for Father Kelly.

Miss Kathryn Givney playing the dual role of Vera Wilton, Bruce Wilton's wife and of Alice Marsh, Vera's twin sister was seen at her best.

The sinister character, Kenwood Wright, who completely wrecks the Wilton home through the medium of the Stock Exchange plays his difficult part more than satisfactorily.

Douglas Lawrence as Charley Harrow a love-sick swain in love with the priest's beautiful neice Kathleen O'Connor (Miss Rose Dean) presents another form of comedy.

Will Invite Gen. Williams

Veterans in Suburbs Will be Invited to Banquet

At a special meeting of the Legal Committee held last evening after the reception tendered to the incoming soldiers it was decided that the invitation to the banquet on the night of May 1 to returned soldiers include ay returned solder living in the immediate suburbs of the city.

On motion of Ald. Phelan, seconded by Ald. Garside, Brig.-Gen. V. A. S. Williams, V. C. G.O.C., of Milt. District No. 3 was invited to attend the banquet.

Street Bonfire Causes Death

Lindsay Child Lost Its Life While Playing Near Fire.

Verna Morin, St. Paul Street, Lindsay, aged 3 years, was so badly burned about the head and body Wednesday afternoon that she died at midnight.

The child was playing with a number of children about a large bonfire near her home when, coming too close to the flames, her clothes caught fire and Mr. Samuel Teatro, who heard the child's screams, ran to her rescue and found her a mass of flames. The flames were extinguished and the child taken to the hospital, but the burns were so severe that she passed away at 12 p.m.

"Just Luck" to Win Decorations

Sergt.-Major Ernie Abraham, Who Got Three of Them, is Very Modest About the Matter.

Company Sergt.-Major Ernest Abraham, late of the 93rd Battalion, who has won perhaps more decorations than any other Peterborough man during the war, arrived in the city to-day from Brantford, where, with the 4th Battalion, to which he was attached, was given a rousing welcome home. In 1917, at Vimy Ridge, while serving as a runner, Sergt. Abraham was awarded a Military Medal, and in September 27, 1918, at Arras, a bar to this. Later, on October the 1st, at Canal du Nord, he was given the D.C.M. To all questions as to how he won his decorations, Sergt. Abraham made the same reply, "Just luck," and refused to give any idea of the actual winning of them. He merely stated that while acting as a runner, he was running from the lines to headquarters and from one section to another in the midst of heavy shelling at all times.

Congratulated by General Currie.

After the winning of his first decoration, he was singled out by General Currie and congratulated. "He just said 'Good work old man' or something like that," Sergt. Abraham told the Examiner.

The rooms in the house do not interest the burglar as much as the haul.

Missed the Reception

A Number of Peterboro Soldiers Arrived on the 5.35 G.T.R. Train Last Evening.

Four Peterborough artillerymen who have seen considerable service overseas, arrived home on the 5.35 G.T.R. yesterday afternoon. They were Corp. Fred. Rush, Signaller John Heron, and Gunners R. Chambers and H. G. Chapman. The quartette were members of the 5th Battery, C. F. A., a Montreal unit, and were discharged in that city. Several other Peterborough soldiers arrived on the same train and missed the reception last night. They included Sergt. Bert. Hamilton, M.M., formerly of the 33rd Battery; Pte. D. G. Hatton, of the 5th Battalion, and Ptes. Chris. McGrath and E. W. Bailey, of the 1st Battalion.

Sapper Leonard Dobson, of the Canadian Engineers, arrived home this morning.

Voice of The People

AN APPRECIATION

To the Editor of the Examiner,—

Sir,—The City Council have arrived at a definite decision on the Hunter Street bridge question and many idle workmen give a sigh of relief and hope, that employment may yet be possible for them this year, thanks to labour Alderman Murray (now resigned).

The term Hunter street bridge brings nothing but undesirable memories to the worker waiting for employment, I there fore would suggest that when discussing the bridge we call it the Murray street bridge, named after the man that forced the issue.

It will be a standing monument to his memory, and an achievement to the credit of the labor aldermen generally in their trial year of office.

Changes Among the Local Banks

It is understood that the Peterborough branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia is preparing to absorb the local branch of the Bank of Ottawa. It is also intimated that the local branch of the Bank of Toronto may move into the quarters now occupied by the Bank of Ottawa. It will be remembered that some time ago the Bank of Ottawa was absorbed by the Bank of Nova Scotia, but as yet the Peterborough branches of the two banks have not been amalgamated.

The local managers of the banks involved, when interviewed, would not deny or confirm the report.

created more than suspicion because three gallons of the alcohol were missing. The "tool chest" was taken to the police station the alcohol removed the lid screwed down again and sent to Orillio under its original address, Mr. J. W. Graham, Orillia, while Detective Newhall quietly took a train for the northern town.

He Laughs Best Who Laughs Last

At the station in Orillia, Mr. J. W. Graham or to give his correct name Mr. J. W. Tucker, a barber, there signed for the tool chest. After a few questions which Tucker tried hard to evade he admitted he was the owner of the goods and pleaded guilty, which the magistrate this morning transformed into a $500 fine with $22.53 added.

The Week-End Has Never Brought Better Bargains Than These

We are out for Big Business Saturday and we've prepared a List of Values that will make Business Hum All Day

A Great Special Purchase of 600 yards of $1.75 JACQUARD REPSCORD SILK SUITING to Sell Saturday at 98c

As something different and very new in dress fabrics, you will like these new Jacquard Repscord silk Suitings. You will find this lovely material singularly appropriate for spring suits, shirts and dresses, as well as for little girls' dresses.
It's a material that is yarn dyed, which means dyed before wearing—insuring permanent and uniform coloring.

There's a good variety of the season's newest shades, such as navy blue, serpent green, grey, sand, pink, white and amethyst, 35 inches wide. It's a special purchase from one of the best silk houses in Canada, which we've marked at the lowest possible price to bring big business tomorrow. Regular $1.75 yard. Saturday Bargain, yard 98c

At this very low price it would be to your advantage to buy two or three dress lengths. It's a value we cannot duplicate.

Only 4 of the 128 Original Officers and Men of the 2nd Returned Home Last Night

Thirty-Eight Are Accounted Killed or Missing; Nearly All Were Wounded, But Some Did Not Pass Valcartier Camp—A List of the First Recruits.

MANY INVALIDED HOME

Of the four officers and 124 men who comprised the 57th Regiment's detachment of volunteers who entrained at the G.T.R. station for Valcartier camp on August 22nd, 1914, only four returned last night. They were Sergeant-Major Ernest Nicholls, Sergt. W. Hele, Sergt. H. Kelsey and Corp. Stanley Bucknell. If in a wide stretch of the imagination it may be conceived that there are any fortunes of war, perhaps they were given to this remnant of Peterborough's original contingent of infantry. Even they did not escape the misfortunes, but excepting brief rest and respite from wounds or illness, they remained with the old 2nd Battalion from its mobilization at Valcartier until its demobilization in Kingston yesterday. Of the others some never left Canada. Most of them were rejected on account of physical disabilities, although a number of them succeeded in enlisting in later battalions. Practically every man was injured and thirty-eight were killed or missing. Many were invalided home in the first years of the fighting a few straggled back during the later period. It is a long story the faith record of the Original Seconds, of hardships that seemed beyond endurance, of new and hellish agencies of war, of years of heart-trying resistance when the Hun held the whip o' attack, of unremitting attrition that broke the way to final success. It is a glorious record, heavily interlined with the pain and sadness of sacrifice. The veneralized statistics offered above are the barest possible statement of its beginning and its end. The pages between the preface and the last period are closed to all but those who made this tremendous history. For the others there is the cold but absorbing type, it is true, but the spirit, the atmosphere, is not there. Even an Homeric epic would fail to translate it, and for the returning soldier this phase of his experience becomes as inexpressible as the vision of the old veteran, who, recalling a war of his youth could but exclaim, "It was a famous victory."

In the same sense it is impossible to convey an idea of the glamour that attaches and seems to enhalo the old 2nd battalion and particularly Peterborough's original recruits. They were the city's first pride, the first to stimulate local patriotism, to quicken the pulse with hopes and anxieties. They were the first mourned when after Ypres four years ago the almost incredible casualty lists awakened the people at home to a full realization of the frightful toll of war and the strength of the Goths. To the artillery unit the volunteers from the 24th Battery a full measure of affection is given, but there is a palpable continuity in the events of the Peterborough company of the 2nd Battalion from the day of its departure to the home-coming of its lonely group of survivors. In that respect the imagination yields to it, and memory reaches out again to those who will not return, as well as those whose service was abbreviated by disabling injuries. In this mood the following roster of the first contingent of recruits may be of interest, realising of course that the designated companies are of no import, that some of the men did not get overseas, but chiefly that those were the first considerable detachment who set out upon a great adventure.

Peterboro Knights Visited Orillia

Mr. Dan O'Connell in Charge of One Degree Team

Orillia was the Meeca on Tuesday of a large gathering of the Knights of Columbus from Councils in Barrie Penetang, Toronto, North Bay, Peterboro, Lindsay, etc. The occasion was the initiation ceremonies conducted by Orillia Council when some 58 candidates were admitted into membership. Two degrees were exemplified by Orillia and Barrie teams and the third degree by Mr. D. O'Connell, the well known lawyer of Toronto, assisted by the Peterboro degree team. The ceremonies took place in the splendid parish hall at the Catholic Church and were graced by the presence of a large number of clergy.

The proceedings terminated by a grand banquet in the K. of C. hall, when a toast list was carried out.

Some twelve candidates from Lindsay were initiated and twenty-five or thirty members of the local council attended the ceremonies.

Young Boy Met Terrible Death

Was Shot in the Stomach by a Gun Set for a Trap.

(Special to the Examiner)

SUDBURY, April 25.—A seventeen year old boy, Arthur Frappier is dead in St. Joseph's Hospital here as the result of a shooting fatality of a most unusual character. The boy had worked for his employer Wilfred Belanger of Blezard Valley, but a few days, when on going to the granary in the barn for oats upon opening the door he received the full discharge of shotgun in his stomach.

It appears that Belanger had rigged up a trap gun to scare away thieves who were making regular trips to his barn. The gun was arranged so as to explode when the door was opened, after the method used by hunters to destroy wolves. Belanger claims the gun was to act as an alarm and not to injure or kill. He had warned young Frappier not to go near the granary.

Engineering Courses For Returned Men

Queen's University at Kingston is offering a special Summer Session in the Faculty of Applied Science for returned men this year. Classes of all the different courses will open on April 28th and continue until the September examinations. This session will count as a full college year to those students who are successful in the examinations and they may proceed to the following year of a course when the autumn session opens in October.

Those who have not matriculated are given special preparatory work to fit them to enter first year in the autumn.

Mrs. Maurice Park Sings in Brantford

Mr. John Allan and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Park Give Recital.

A musical treat sincerely enjoyed by the large number present was arranged last night by Mr. John Allan, the very highly recommended organist who has recently come to the First Baptist church from Peterboro'. Mr. Allan's recital was organ and vocal. It was given in the church, and assisting Mr. Allan were his daughter, Dorothy Allan Park and his son-in-law Mr. Maurice H. Park, both of whom proved to be singers of high excellence. The full, true soprano voice of Mrs. Park was enjoyed as few singers have been in the city.

Mr. Allan opened the program with Haydn's "Military Symphony," an organ solo that called for a display of technical accomplishment to which Mr. Allan showed himself uncontested master.

Mrs. Park followed with a trio of soprano solos, "Hark! Hark My Soul," "I Hear You Calling Me," and "Bid Me Discourse." From the first sweet notes Mrs. Park won the heart of her audience. She has a voice of considerable range and sweet intonation. Her latter solos "Sogpai" a Italian reverie, and "The Cry of Rachel," were lovely.

Completing the first half of the program was "The Song of Lazarus" sung in excellent tenor voice by Mr. Park, and Mr. Allan's second organ solo, Wagner's beautiful composition. "The Evening Star."

Mr. and Mrs. Park sang very excellently together in "Where My Caravan Has Rested" and following this Mr. Park sang from Hiawatha's Wedding Feast, "Onaway! Awake!" a solo very well suited to his voice.

Mrs. Park was encored again and again, when she sang that ever delightful Irish ballad "The Last Rose of Summer," and also "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny," and very graciously she responded, delighting her audience by singing "Marseillaise." The program closed with an organ solo, Peace's "Sonata Da Camera," a selection that brought out the finest tones of the organ and the ascendency of the organist's skill.—Brantford Expositor.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN

Tells Aged People How To Get More Strength.

Here is another link in the chain of evidence to prove that our famous cod liver and iron tonic Vinol creates strength for feeble old people.

Mr. Nelson H. Pease, of the National Soldiers' Home, Tennessee, says:—"I am 74 years of age and was in a weak, debilitated condition, poor appetite and did not sleep well. Vinol gave me a good appetite. I sleep well, and it has built me up so I feel stronger and better in every way. I strongly recommend Vinol for such conditions as I believe it prolongs life for old people."

ENTERTAINMENT IN ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL

Musical Treat Under Direction of Mrs. Greenslade.

Under the direction of Mrs. Greenslade, the fourth entertainment in the series, which are being given in observance of Canada's Week of Music, was held in St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday afternoon, and was keenly appreciated by both patients and staff. The Sisters gave the artists a very cordial reception, and served dainty refreshments at the conclusion of the programme. The programme given was as follows:

Piano solo—Mrs. Greenslade.
Vocal solo—Mrs. Rehill.
Ladies' quartette—Mrs. Greenslade, Mrs. Rehill, Miss Masterson and Miss Greene.
Vocal solo—Miss Masterson.
Piano solo—Miss Richardson.
Vocal solo—Miss Greene.
Ladies' quartette.
Vocal solo—Mrs. Greenslade.
Solo—Miss Masterson.

The programme was concluded by singing of patriotic airs. On behalf of the patients, the Sisters thanked the ladies for the much appreciated selections.

GRANT OF $500.00 FROM DUMMER COUNCIL.

A large deputation of ratepayers waited upon the Dummer Council on Thursday last in reference to a grant towards improving the road on the 9th Line of that township. Their proposal was very graciously acceded to, the Council making a grant of $500.00. It is understood this will be supplemented by an equal grant from the Colonization Department of the Ontario Government and also a special grant from the Government of at least $250.00.

SMART SPRING TOGS

For Young Men and Men Who Stay Young

Style—Quality—Value are the three outstanding features of our Spring Suits and Coats

Brim full of style, these new Spring garments might, figuratively, straighten up and step out. They are cut on enterprising lines, not too advanced, yet leading the rank and file. Breezy without being obtrusive. Convincing clothes of distinctive character. The latest Spring effects and cuts.

As for quality and price, we claim no suit or coat of like quality can be had in the city at these figures.

In tailoring, trimming, fabrics and the finer points, they will all withstand critical inspection.

The Suits are priced from $15.00 to $50.00.

The Coats are priced from $22.00 to $35.00.

The "NEPONSET" Demonstration

Do not fail to take advantage of the Seven Day Demonstration Sale of this wonderful Floor-Covering.

"Neponset" is in a class by itself. There is no other Floor-Covering just as good. To show their absolute faith in its wearing qualities, the makers have instructed us to place it on the side-walk where it would get the hardest wear possible in Peterboro. You will see it in front of the Royal Theatre and our own store on George street. Right on the side-walk where it will get harder, rougher wear in one day than in the average home in a year.

"NEPONSET" must be good, or the makers would not dare put it to such a test.

There is a "NEPONSET" pattern for every room in the house. Many new and attractive designs to select from. Do not be misled by imitations or "just as good" articles which are inferior in quality. There is but one "NEPONSET." It is in a class by itself, and sold in Peterboro only at Turnbull's.

Special Seven Day Demonstration, price per square yard..... 95c

Boy Carried His Brother Out From Burning Building

Telephone Operator at Keene Summoned the Volunteer Firemen.

The home of Mr. R. M. Manley at Drummond Station which was partly destroyed by fire on Wednesday evening the circumstances of which were recorded in yesterday's Examiner, was saved from being burned to the ground through the efforts of over 200 people from the surrounding country who were summoned to the fire by the municipal telephone operator at Keene. The young lady stayed at the switchboard until all the residents in the surrounding district had been warned.

Carried Brother Out.

Mr. and Mrs. Manley were away at the time and the fire, the origin of which is still unknown, awoke the elder boy aged ten years who had the rare presence of mind to carry his three years old brother through the smoke to the outside. By this time the fire was burning fiercely but daunted at nothing the young lad made a dash through the house into the bed room for his other brother 2 years of age who had become unconscious and was lying on the floor having fallen out of the bed. With a firm grip the ten year old hero saved his younger brother and brought him unscathed though unscious to the outside where a large crowd was rapidly assembling preparing to extinguish the flames.

The total loss is estimated by Mr. Manley at $3000 covered by insurance to the extent of $1400.

Missing Girl at Georgetown On Saturday

Bank Manager Cashed Cheque for Millicent Knowles.

(Special to The Examiner.)

GUELPH, April 25. — Millicent Knowles, who disappeared from the home of Mrs. Storey here last Saturday morning, was at Georgetown Saturday afternoon, according to a message received by the Chief Constable here from the manager of the Merchants' Bank in Georgetown, who claims he cashed a cheque for the missing girl just before the bank closed that day.

The cheque was found to be quite in order at the bank deposit when a telephone inquiry was made. The bank manager, reading in the paper the story of her disappearance, communicated with the Guelp police. Miss Knowles then stated that she was going to Toronto and then on to Buffalo. It is supposed from this that the young woman provided herself with funds to visit school friends.

GAVE NO REASON FOR LEAVING.

GUELPH, April 25.—"It is all right; she is found. She is staying at the Y.W.C.A. at Buffalo," said Mrs. Storey, wife of Admiral Storey, of Halifax, from whose home Miss Millicent Knowles, the pretty young ward of Mrs. Gerald Borden, of New York, disappeared under mysterious circumstances last Saturday. Mrs. Storey, when interviewed to-day, said she had received a telegram from Miss Knowles from Buffalo, where she has probably been staying since her disappearance. "Did she give any reason why she left your home?" asked the reporter. "Not at all, she just said that she was in Buffalo," was the reply. "Do you know of any reason for her leaving?" "No, I do not know of any. It was all very mysterious to us. I do not know Miss Knowles very well," continued Mrs. Storey. "I met her in Montreal, and she is the daughter of an American. Her mother was English. She had some friends in Toronto, whose names I do not know."

Another Big Liquor Haul

Thirty-six Gallons of Hard Stuff Garnered In.

(Special to The Examiner.)

PORT WILLIAM, April 25. — Licensa Inspector A. R. Elliott yesterday afternoon seized in the Port Arthur freight sheds thirty-six gallons of liquor shipped to H. B. Wilkins, of Port Arthur, each of four cases being marked "notions." The shipment came by freight from Montreal. Last week Wilkins was up in court for having received by express twenty-four gallons of liquor and was fined $100 and costs. Wilkins denies having ordered this freight shipment. The case is pending until word is received from Montreal that the goods were shipped to Wilkins' order.

Will Honour Dr. Beland, M.P.

May Strengthen Union Between Ontario and Quebec.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, April 25.—Liberals are meeting to-morrow night at 7 o'clock to honour Hon. Dr. Henri Beland, M.P., at the Ontario Club. Dr. Beland, ex-Postmaster-General, who was in the Belgian army and a prisoner of war for a long time, is looked upon as a power in bringing about the full union of spirit between Ontario and Quebec.

MILESTONES IN THE HISTORY OF THE 2ND BATTALION

The 2nd Canadian Battalion mobilized at Valcartier on the 12th of August, 1914, and is one of the veteran battalions of the original Expeditionary Force.

It was recruited largely from Eastern Ontario, but in the course of its fighting career has received reinforcements from every Province in the Dominion. Latterly, however, when the territorial idea was developed within the corps, the 2nd Battalion regained its original identity with the Eastern counties and went under canvas on Salisbury Plain.

After three and a half months of miserable soldiering in the quagmires of the Plain, the battalion sailed for France and landed at St. Nazaire in February, 1915.

Entering the trenches at Armentieres it was broken in by the North Staffords, prior to holding its own sector at Bois Grenier.

Heavy Losses at Langemarck.

Marching north in April, 1915, it was heavily engaged at Ypres in the fighting around Langemarck and Polecappelle and suffered heavy losses. Withdrawn to Bailleul it was reorganized, and sent south to Festubert where it supported the attack on the Orchard.

A month later saw it once more in action at Givenchy.

From Givenchy the battalion proceeded north and took over a section at "Plug Street."

In October, 1915, it side-slipped and held the line throughout the winter of 1915 at Wulverghem, in front of Messines.

Fighting broke out in the Ypres salient in March, 1916, and the 2nd Battalion was withdrawn again to proceed north.

At the end of April it was in action at Hill 60, and was deeply committed in the fighting at Ypres, six weeks later.

The next engagement of this battalion was on the Somme in September, 1916, in which it greatly distinguished itself, and was the first Canadian unit to attack during that great battle. Six weeks were spent on the Somme, and severe casualties suffered in the various small operations in which this unit participated.

Moving by march route the 2nd Battalion took over the Vimy Ridge sector in front of Souchez in October and passed the winter in this vicinity.

In April of 1917 it was in action at the capture of this famous Ridge, and a month later again attacked at Fresnoy, north-east of Oppy.

Bore Brunt of Attacks.

Withdrawn for a brief rest, it became involved again in the fighting at Hill 70, and was the battalion which bore the brunt of the heavy counter-attacks by the 4th Prussian Guards. The grimness and stubbornness of its resistance earned for it great praise from the army and corps commanders.

In October of 1917 the 2nd Battalion marched north again to Ypres, and took a large part in the attack on Passchendaele.

It returned to its old sector in the vicinity of Lens and was shortly afterwards sent back for a rest and re-organization to Camblain-Chatelain.

January of 1918 saw the battalion again at Hill 70 and fighting with great determination during the local attacks which the Germans staged in accompaniment to their great offensive against the Fifth Army.

In a few days it was hurried south with the intention of throwing it in against the heavy attack of the enemy south of Albert, but on the 28th of March, the Germans commenced their offensive against the Third Army east of Arras.

The battalion was diverted, and on the night of the 28th, marched on to Telegraph Hill to relieve the wearied troops who had withdrawn from Monchy that morning.

For a few weeks the 2nd Battalion held the line in the vicinity of the Scarpe River, before being sent back for a rest, which lasted for nearly ten weeks.

The Attack at Amiens.

On the 8th and 9th of August this unit attacked on successive days at Amiens, taking part in the great counter-offensive. Two weeks later it returned to Arras and attacked at Upton Wood, north of Hendecourt. On the 2nd and 3rd of September it took part in the breaching of the Drocourt-Queant Line and advanced as far as the Canal du Nord, north of Inchy.

On the 27th of September it was again prominent in the fighting at Bourlon Wood, west of Cambrai, where it captured 14 guns. This was the last big engagement of the 2nd Battalion.

The pursuit of the enemy from the Sensee Canal to north of Valenciennes did not call so much for fighting as for endurance.

When the armistice was signed this battalion was in rest at Rieulay, between Denain and Douai.

It was, however, one of the original battalions of the Army of Occupation, and was the first infantry to cross the German frontier south-west of Malmedy, on the 4th December, 1918.

Nine days later saw it marching through the streets of Cologne and across the Rhine, to hold the Bridgehead north of Siegburg.

Withdrawn from Germany on the 10th of January the battalion returned to Belgium.

NOT ALWAYS WISE TO GO TO SCHOOL TOO YOUNG

That the older you start to school the better able you will be to cope with the studies and therefore the sooner you are through is what one gathers from Chief Inspector Cowley's report, which shows that the average time taken by pupils to complete the Public school course was:

Those starting at 4 took 9 years 5 months.

Those starting at 5 took 8 years 7 months.

Those starting at 6 took 7 years 9 months.

Those starting at 7 took 7 years 2 months.

Those starting at 8 took 6 years 9 months.

Boosted Out Of the League

Belleville Will Replace Bowmanville in Local League.

LINDSAY, April 25. — Bomwanville Baseball Club having notified the executive of the Central Baseball League that they would withdraw if not provided with a home game on May 24th, the schedule calling for them to play at Cobourg on that date, it was officially announced this afternoon that the Grand Trunk Athletic Association of Belleville had been substituted for Bowmanville.

Belleville has already wired its guarantee bond and entrance fee. The league now comprises Belleville, Peterboro, Cobourg, Oshawa, Port Hope and Lindsay.

Mr. W. J. Thompson of Belleville will be the councillor on the C.B.A.L. in the place of Mr. George James of Bowmanville.

The executive of the league will not stand for any small town stuff from any club, and the rules must be observed.

Turnbulls Lost to the Shamrocks

Last night in the 5-Pin League, at the Water Street alleys, Turnbulls lost two games to the Shamrocks. Craig, for the Shamrocks, hit the high single of 258 and three high games of 567. Coras and King also topped the 500 mark for Turnbulls. Dolan had the high count of 526. The scores:

Shamrocks.

48 Per Cent. More Butter in Store This Year Than Last

OTTAWA, April 24.—Mr. Sam Jacobs, of Montreal, brought up the question of butter prices in the House yesterday. He said that reports of cold storage companies showed that there was 48 per cent more butter in store than last year. "Is it the intention of the Government," he asked, "to do anything toward obtaining release of this butter for public consumption in Canada."

Hon. C. C. Ballantyne said the Government was now buildings a cold storage warehouse in Montreal. When finished, he thought it would meet the situation.

City Threatened With Injunction

That the city will be threatened with an injunction in connection with the construction of the proposed overhead bridge over Hunter street, assumed material form this morning when interested parties to the injunction suit appeared at the city hall this morning and proceeded to make a search of all the records in connection with the tenders and other documentary evidence. It is understood that the parties to the injunction claim that the bridge will cost too much money. Should the injunction succeed the city will be restrained from building the bridge in the form proposed at the meeting this meeting, when the acceptance of the Russell-Townsend Company's tender was authorized.

Mr. R. R. Hall, Mr. Sheehy and Mr. William Bradburn were among those who have been investigating the tenders at the City Hall.

All the New Ideas in MEN'S SPRING SUITS

A brand new stock of new materials to select from—in unfinished Woolens, English Serges and Worsteds and Chevicts.

Form-fitting is the rote. Clothes classy in cut, but not conspicuous; dashing and youthful but not extreme.

THE SINGLE-BREASTED SUIT is the favorite this summer and exceedingly good are the lines developed in these models. No tendency to fancy effects.

DOUBLE-BREASTED MODELS are seen also, and plenty of nice lines to their fashioning to make them popular with those who prefer them.

All the Suits reflect the military influence in a general way, and almost all show the new waist line, which is very much used.

POP COATS for Summer wear are practically the same as they were in the winter, except like suits, they are form-fitting.

IN MEMORIAM.

WORRALL—In loving memory of my dear husband, Pte. Harry Worrall, late 93rd Battalion Band, died of wounds, April 25th, 1918.,

We little thought as we said goodbye
That we parted forever and you were to die
Grief that we felt, words cannot tell,
For we could not be with you to bid you farewell;
You nobly answered duty's call,
And gave your life for one and all,
Your unknown death was a bitter blow
That none but an aching heart can know
—Inserted by his loving wife and son

James Simpson Gave a Stirring Address On Democracy To a Peterboro Audience

Some of the Prices Charged for Foodstuffs in New Zealand Would Make Peterboro Householders Weep.

CONFUSING DEMOCRACY

Ex-Controller James Simpson of Toronto, gave a particularly interesting address last evening in the Sons of England Hall, to a large audience, most of whom are members of the local Trades and Labor Council. Although the speaker was afflicted with a bad cold, he gave a comprehensive and illuminating word picture of conditions in that faraway British Dominion—New Zealand. His subject was "New Zealand's Democracy." He explained that when we speak of democracy, we do not speak of it as complete, but we mean democracy in the making, because no country is truly democratic. Men are sometimes disposed to confuse the franchise with democracy, but the franchise is only one means of attaining democracy.

Geographical New Zealand

After giving an interesting account of his trip to study labor conditions in New Zealand, touching at Honolulu, Hawaii and the Fiji Islands, he explained what a beautiful country New Zealand is. It is a small Dominion, being only 104,000 square miles in area, and if it were put with the United States, Canada would still be 10,000 miles larger. There are three main islands, North, South and Stewart. The population is one million, five hundred thousand, of whom only 49,000 are natives, or aborigines, the remainder being English, Irish, Scotch and Welsh, as we are in Canada.

A Difference

Mr. Simpson gave the credit of the present democratic system in New Zealand to Hon. Sir Edward Sedant, one-time premier of the country. He was a premier that believed in the people and one that was better than most Canadian politicians, he continued. "There is a difference between a statesman and a politician. A politician is one who goes to parliament to help himself, and a statesman is one who goes to parliament to help the people. New Zealand offers tremendous opportunities for industrial and commercial development. It is not an industrial country essentially. It is a country of water falls, rolling lands, cattle and sheep. The last sheep census shows that there were 28 million sheep in the country. "When I was there," said Mr. Simpson, "the cold storage plants were stocked with frozen mutton unable to be shipped out of the country, because the Mother Country needed the ship space for the shorter haul between America and Europe to keep her armies and her populations supplied with food. Although the food was stocked, it was held in reserve by the Imperial Government until such time as ships could be assigned to take it to Europe.

Public Ownership

Sedent believed in public ownership and did not believe in incorporations and individuals exploiting the resources of the country. New Zealand owns her railroads. They have a railroad policy there. It is different from our railroad policy, or that of the United States. Although they are the same race as we they are not bound by tradition that seems to hold us here. They strike out for themselves. In this country we were about giving away money, lands and goodness knows what we didn't give to the railroads. We guaranteed their bonds to the extent of $420,000,000, and now we are trying to buy their railroads back after we have made them millionaires. Things are just as bad in the United States. One railroad there with a capitalization of $60,000,000 didn't have over $75,000 put in it by the promoters. It was inflated capitalization on a huge scale. Now they are considering buying the railroads and the promoters and stockholders have the effrontery to ask the government to pay them on their capitalization. In New Zealand the government owns the car shops and everything connected with railroads. Their railroads co-operate with their educational department and if you cannot pay to send your child to school on account of the distance the government puts the child on the railroad and sends them free. Here in this country, we give millions and millions of acres of good land to the railroads and the provincial governments suffered and many children were deprived of a good education.

Special Rates

There are special rates for everything. I bought a ticket for $70 good 7 weeks and I could go where I liked and as far as I liked in that seven weeks. There is not a mile of telegraph or telephone wire in the country that is not owned by the government. They even own the wireless telegraphy stations. In this country we are inclined to wait until public corporations put their inflated capital in it and then buy them out. I am of the opinion that the Canadian aerial system will be in the hands of private corporations and after it is worth millions of dollars the government will buy it instead of appointing a commission to look into

Hundreds Are Thrown in Jail

(Canadian Press.)

BUDAPEST, April 26.—The situation here is tense and hundreds of citizens are being thrown in jail. There have also been a few executions. Joseph Pogany, Soviet leader, is making speeches demanding "blood," and warning Hungarians who have welcomed Roumanians or Czechs in invaded districts that they will be called to account later for working against the Bolshevik regime.

Foresters Held Regular Meeting

Farewell to Members of the Order Departing for England.

The regular monthly meeting of the Court Chemong, No. 530, Independent Order of Foresters was held Thursday evening, Bro. G. Metcalfe, C. R presiding. A number of applications for membership were presented by Bro. S. B. Lynde, D.S.C.R., and several of these were initiated.

A special feature of the evening was a banquet held in honor of Bro. J. S. James, V.C.R., who, with his wife, Companion James, and his daughter, Companion Clark, are leaving for England.

The pretty, decorated tables were well stocked with dainty eatables, which a large number of members and friends well enjoyed. Bro. Dr. Carmichael acted very acceptable as Chairman and Toastmaster and proposed the "Toast to the King," which was heartily responded to by all singing the National Anthem. Bro. Dr. Carmichael also proposed the Toast to the I.O.F., which was very ably responded to by Bros. S. B. Lynde, D.S.C.R. Bro. G. W. Powell proposed the Toast of Our Guest, Bro. J. S. James. Bro. J. W. Buyers proposed the Toast To Returned Soldiers, and this was responded to by several soldiers; and all singing the "Soldiers of the King." Bro. W. G. McKee proposed the Toast to the Ladies and Waiting Committee, which was responded to by Bro. A. H. Webb, Court Deputy. The Chairman then presented Bro. James, Companion James, Companion Clark, Companion Blake and Bros. Minard and Blake with beautiful I.O.F. signet rings. Bro. S. B. Lynde, D.S.C.R. addressed those present in the interests of the Order, stating that the I.O.F. was in a flourishing condition as was evidenced by the Financial Review Insurance Journal. A vote of thanks to Companions Bradshaw and Wilson, who superintended the refreshments and all who assisted to make the banquet a success brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

FRANK JENNE SAYS:

Many of my friends have telephoned and others have taken the trouble to write me facetious and good-humored reference to the few criticisms I have been publishing—remarks which may be a digression from pure business.

"Of course, my main object is to advertise the superlative quality of Semi-Ready clothes, and I only want a small space in the paper to do that. If I were a lobbyist, a railway bonus promoter, or an ambitious politician, I would want to buy up a newspaper or subsidize an editor, a favorite form of camouflage nowadays.

"One can wear a Semi-Ready suit and feel energetic enough to reach the highest pinnacle of success in business, profession or politics."

WORKMEN AT CROSSROADS

One Road Leads to Reconstruction and the Other to Strife and Revolution.

"RADICAL VIEW"

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, April 26.— "The workingmen of Canada are now standing at the cross roads and must decide whether they will take the road that leads to reconstruction, high wages, shorter working day, improved working conditions, better homes, share in the direction of industry, participation in the profits of industry, co-operation and representation of government commissions and committees as advocated by the Dominion Trades and Labour Congress and the American Federation of Labour, or the road that leads to strife, riot, revolution, starvation and national bankruptcy as they have it now in Russia," declared Dr. P. M. Draper, in the course of a brief interview while passing through Toronto to address meetings in Western Ontario.

Mr. Draper is secretary of the Dominion Trades Congress and has recently returned from the Paris Peace conference, where he acted as adviser to Premier Borden upon all labour matters before the conference, and took part in the formulation of international labour policies at the labour conference.

Hawker Expects to Start His Flight Within Next Few Hours

Aviator Continues Confident and Belittles Talk of Danger—Proposes to Fly Fairly Low Until the Grand Banks Are Reached.

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, April 26.—Airman Hawker gave today what will probably be his last interview here, before starting his flight. He expects to make an attempt at any time now, unless the weather conditions become greatly worse. The rival Martinsyde machine may fly at the same time. Hawker continues confident and belittles all talk of danger. He proposes to fly fairly low until he traverses the Grand Banks, now probably fogbound like this coast.

Beyond that he expects finer weather and then will ascend to a level of about 8,000 feet, which will be the general line of the main flight. At this height he hopes to avoid conditions of fog and mist, which are normally very frequent over the Atlantic area at this season and to secure a greater chance of view of the moon to assist in navigation.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

In the early morning if position is uncertain he will descend sufficiently low to come within sight of any ship which may be passing, and the proximity of which he can determine before hand by his wireless, and will obtain his latitude and longitude from such ship, which can give him the information immediately the machine becomes visible. With this check on his reckoning he will ascend again and pursue his flight at a higher altitude until he reaches the British coast.

If he meets head winds too strong to combat he will descend below the area of the same and either fly at this level or go up again if, in his judgment, better progress can be made in the upper regions. In the event of any mishap, the likelihood of which he declines to consider, he will be guided by the nature of the same, and what his previous experience would dictate as best under the circumstances, but probably, unless his engine collapses, he will try and reach the nearest ship or return here if faults develop before he has made too great progress.

In the latter event he would plan to make a new flight immediately he could effect repairs, unless in the meantime some more fortunate competitor has gained the prize.

The Commission On Industrial Relations Reaches the Coast

Main Johnson, Sometimes Referred to as "Don Hunt," Is Publicity Agent for the Outfit—Manufacturing Will be Represented at the Inquiry.

(Special to The Examiner.)

VANCOUVER, B.C., April 26.— After their non-stop trip across the continent the members of the Government Commission on Industrial Relations reached Vancouver this morning and are proceeding at once, by boat, to Victoria, where they begin their sessions on Monday. All the members of the board, except the chairman, Chief Justice Mathers of Manitoba, started the journey either at Montreal or Ottawa, travelling by a special compartment car attached to the Imperial Limited. The chairman got on at Winnipeg and at once the session of the Commission began.

Notices Sent Out.

The first thing to discuss was the procedure. In regard to witnesses notices had already been sent to all labour organizations and Boards of Trade in British Columbia and other western provinces, telling of the appointment of the Commission, giving the terms of reference and asking that their units should be represented at the hearings. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association is also urging its members in the west to be ready to present their case. The Department of Labour has notified its agents, instructing them to prepare the way for the Board.

Business methods were discussed by the members on the train, especially as to how the report of the Commission should be built up, as far as possible, as the journey proceeds.

In addition to the arrangement of details the Commission has discussed broadly for their own information the programme of industrial relations and the tremendous importance it has assumed in the world during the last twelve months. The various plans for the corporation of labour and capital have been studied and attention has also been given to what are looked upon as the extreme elements of both sides.

Sharing Control.

Those employers for instance, who say they will have nothing to do with any scheme for sharing control, and some even who still dispute the right of the Trade Union organization and on the other hand those labour men who are equally hostile to the spirit of co-operation and who say that the workers themselves must have exclusive control of industry following the elimination of private capital as it exists at present.

It is anticipated that there will be a larger percentage of radical view in the west and especially in British Columbia than anywhere else.

The Commission is not yet certain whether the radical labour leaders of the coast will appear before them, or whether they will ignore their visit. It is hoped, however, by all elements represented on the board that every section of industry on the coast as elsewhere will appear before them, so that, on behalf of the people of Canada, they may obtain a just view of the actual situation.

The Commission also hopes that employers will be well represented so that their side of the shield may also be shown. Before I left Ottawa a prominent manufacturer said: "Labour is so much better organized in Western Canada that employers it will have a great advantage in the presentation of its case."

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association apparently recognizes the force of this possibility and urging that their members and groups should be prepared thoroughly and effectively to present their view.

The C.M.A. officials in Winnipeg are lining up their men in the prairie provinces. In Vancouver there is a strong employers' association, who will be ready for next week's sessions.

During their long train trip, the members of the Commission have had time to become acquainted with each other and it looks as if they will co-operate in a friendly and constructive way.

A Famous Minstrel Star

George Wilson the Dean of Burnt-Cork Comedians.

Probably no artist has such a host of admirers as George Wilson, the dean of burnt-cork comedians, who is a member of Gus Hill's famous troupe of Minstrels now making theatrical history all over the continent. This monster organization of songsters, dancers, musicians, wit dispensers, vaudevillians, farceurs, hilarity experts and exponents of humor, repartee and genuine high-class entertainment will be the next attraction at The Grand Monday evening only. Mr. Wilson will hold forth at the helm of this peerless company of fifty black-face stars augmented with a new routine of unadulterated fun which marked his long regime at the Hippodrome, New York City, where he attracted thousands of patrons for one solid year. During that engagement his work came in for unstinted praise from Gotham's leading critics and purveyors of modern theatricals, including Manager Charles Dillingham, who declares he is the most original laugh-getter who ever graced the stage of the greatest theatre in the country. In point of ability he has been likened to such cable and well-known delineators of Ethiopean comedy as Al Jolson, McIntyre and Heath and Lew Dockstader.

As an illustration of his universal popularity he was recently offered an enticing incentive to remain in New York for another season at the Hippodrome. But owing to outstanding contracts calling for his appearance in the other big cities of the United States, he was compelled to refuse, preferring to travel at the head of a production which has been heralded as the most colossal triumph of its kind ever presented in this or any other country.

A feature which has brought this invincible combination of incomparable revelry, screams, joy, happiness and unparalleled cachinnation into the limelight of universal acclaim will be a colossal street parade led by two bands and in which the entire company will participate in this gala event, which is free to all, will be held on Monday.

Some Good Programs At the Empire

Bessie Barriscale To-day and Billie Burke Monday and Tuesday.

The Empire Theatre is presenting some excellent pictures these days that are greatly appreciated by those who are fond of good clean photo plays. To-night Bessie Barriscale is playing in "All of a Sudden Norma," a well acted and well staged drama. It is a dandy love story, with numerous unusual situations.

On Monday and Tuesday Billie Burke will be seen in her newest picture, "In Pursuit of Polly." Miss Burke's portrayal in this excellent photoplay is one that will not only delight her audiences, but greatly enhance her reputation as a comedienne of the first class. Her leading man is Thomas Meighan, one of the best known screen players in the country.

CLOSURE RULE WAS APPLIED

Government Members Laugh at the Opposition and Proceed to Throttle Debate.

MONDAY'S SESSION

Canadian Press:

OTTAWA, April 26.—About three o'clock this morning the House of Commons adjourned till Monday, after the Government had applied the closure rule. This adjournment was made after three days' strenuous discussion on a bill to incorporate the Canadian National Railway Company. All non-contentious clauses were disposed of and contentious clauses will be taken up early on Monday. The bill must be disposed of by the House before 2 o'clock Tuesday morning, and a discussion on Monday will be limited. This morning, when the Opposition was made aware by Hon. Arthur Meighen that a closure was to be moved, the members protested vigorously. They declared that they were entitled to further discussion, more particularly in regard to additional lines. This opposition was voiced particularly by Leader MacKenzie, who said that because the members of the Opposition asked for further particulars, they were laughed at and told their faculties were failing. Hon. Arthur Meighen said the Government must make headway with the bill, and an adjournment was made.

SPEECHES WILL BE LIMITED.

Special to the Examiner:

OTTAWA, April 26. — Owing to a protracted blockade which the Opposition put up against one of the clauses of the bill to consolidate the Canadian National Railway Company, Hon. A. Meighen, at 2.50 o'clock this morning, gave notice that the bill would be put through under the closure at Monday's sitting of the House. This means that each member will be limited to one speech of 20 minutes' duration, and that at 2 o'clock on Tuesday morning the debate will automatically close and the bill pass its third reading.

By a peculiar circumstance during the session of 1917, the closure was invoked by the late Conservative Government to break the blockade of the Liberal Opposition to the bill to acquire the capital stock of the Canadian Northern Railroad. In the same session the closure was used to put through the War-time Elections Act.

WAS SUSPICIOUS.

Many of the present government members were away. Those who most vigorously fought against the gag. Hon. Jacques Bureau sprang a sensation towards the closing hours of a night tense with situations and sensations by asking, "who owns the real estate and townsites along the 44 branch lines whose charters the government wishes to revive and extend?"

This was before the closure was decided on, and Hon. J. D. Reid offered to give all the information required when each of the branch lines was taken upon consideration of the schedule, but the Opposition was not satisfied. Mr. Bureau just before adjournment drew attention to the fact that the other C. N. R. Bill had also been put through under closure, and declared, "I am as suspicious as ever I was about the deal."

Mr. Meighen suggested that Mr. Bureau could get evidence of what he believed behind these charges by Monday.

"I have reason to believe," said Mr. Bureau, "that there are land speculations and political patronage behind them. I am suspicious because of the way the Ministers are clouding the matter. The Minister knows well I cannot get the information by Monday."

Grand Secretary C.M.B.A. is Dead

THE PEACE CONFERENCE

Change in Affairs Causing Some Uneasiness—Back Up Italian Delegates.

SITUATION TENSE

Canadian Press:

PARIS, April 26.—The Peace Conference has been severely shaken by the Italian crisis, and the extent to which its work will be affected is receiving the anxious attention of the delegates. The American storm has broken and the air has cleared in that quarter, but in other quarters a less optimistic view is taken, the feeling being that an element of confusion has been introduced which will result in more or less delay at the moment the German delegates are arriving. In French and Italian circles, the situation is regarded as serious, and some quarters even represent it as desperate, but this extreme view is not generally held. Several of the committees met to-day with the Italian members present, and the Secretariat of the American delegation said no notice had been received of the withdrawal of the Italian participation. Pending formal action, no break in the relations would be assumed, it was added, but the departure of the Italian delegates and the announcement of the departure of Foreign Minister Sonnino and Former Minister Salandra to occur on Saturday, creates an anomalous situation as it is not known whether Italy will be represented at the plenary session of the Conference on Monday, when parts of the Treaty, including the League of Nations' Covenant, will be finally passed upon.

A DEMONSTRATION.

Canadian Press:

TURIN, April 26. — An immense throng greeted Premier Orlando on his arrival here from Paris. The Premier made a short speech, defending the stand taken by the Italian delegates at the Peace Conference, a demonstration following, in which the crowd voiced its approval vociferously. Similar enthusiasm followed the speeches of Signor Barzilai and General Diaz.

Rome despatches say that Senators are arriving on all trains, and show confidence that the Cabinet will approve Premier Orlando's action and proclaim the necessity for a united front by all parties in defence of Italian interests. Circulars distributed in Rome at places frequently by officers and men of the Allied armies invited the citizens of the Allied nations now staying in Rome to participate in the demonstration arranged for the arrival of the Italian delegates.

CALLS IT A BLUFF.

Canadian Press:

VIENNA, April 26. — The withdrawal of the Italian delegation from the Peace Conference was received here with elation, the people generally being glad to see the Allies in conflict with each other. The "Neue Freie" press says: "Premier Orlando is bluffing, probably in order to square his position in Italy toward interventionists. It is impossible for Italy to withdraw, as she is fed by America."

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, April 26. — Premier Orlando and his colleagues will appear before the Italian Parliament on Monday next, according to the "Petit Parisien." The newspaper says we are able to affirm that whatever the outcome of this session of the Italian Parliament, the Premier and his fellow delegates will immediately start for Paris, and that the Italian delegation will be in full strength at Versailles on May 1."

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

SATURDAY, APRIL 26TH, 1919.

A FIGHTING YANK

Without going into the question of how great was the share of the United States in the final winning of the war, over which there is a tendency to grow controversial it my be mentioned that there arrived in Peterboro last evening a real fighting "Yank," whom his numerous friends in this city and many ex-members of the 93rd Battalion who have returned from overseas are glad to welcome. He is Pte. Edward McGroarty, D.C.M., native of Milwaukee, U.S.A., former member of the 93rd Battalion and until yesterday when the unit was demobilized one of the Fighting First Battalion. Pte. McGroarty came over the border in August, 1915, with two former Peterboro boys, Everett and Douglas Laing, then living in Milwaukee, to enlist in the Canadian Forces. "Irish," as he was known to his friends, and everybody in the 93rd Battalion of which he became a member, was his friend, went overseas with the 93rd Battalion and was transferred to the 1st Canadian Battalion in France. He was not long there before he had won the coveted Distinguished Conduct Medal, the first member of the 93rd Battalion to be awarded that decoration. Pte. McGroarty very modestly refuses to tell how he won the D.C.M., which ranks next to the Victoria Cross, but from other members of the 1st Battalion, it is learned that this plucky Irish-American youngster fro mMilwaukee rescued a number of wounded comrades amidst very heavy shelling. He will be the guest of local friends for a short time and the Examiner is sure that his welcome to Peterboro will be a hearty one.

NEXT WEEK'S BANQUET

Reports that some of Peterboro's returned soldiers are not in favour of the civic banquet that is to be tendered all overseas men, and would prefer to be given some more tangible expression of the city's gratitude should not be allowed to interfere with the arrangements for next week's event. For months the banquet has been talked about in Peterboro and there have been many complaints because no action was taken here to entertain the returning men as an affair of this kind, such as has been done in Toronto and other places. No alternative plan was suggested but just as soon as the council announced that the veterans would be tendered a banquet complaints began to be heard. The truth of the matter is that returned soldiers are precisely like any other body of men and it would be impossible to hit upon any plan that would please them all. No matter what course was decided upon by the council there would have been some difference of opinion, just as they would be among any body of citizens. In arranging the programme the authorities, however, would be well advised in cutting down the oratory to a minimum and in substituting for the many and long addresses that generally make such an event wearisome, a programme of music. Any of Peterboro's artists and we are fortunate in having many of them would be glad to assist in entertaining the returned men and the veterans would appreciate a programme of this nature much better than a series of speeches. A few brief happy remarks by two or three speakers would meet the wishes of the guests of the evening and make the banquet a more enjoyable event than a programme along the usual lines when men who don't want to speak are called upon to do so to men who don't want to listen and when other men who do like to speak, find themselves unable to stop at the proper moment and go on to intolerable lengths.

GOOD MANAGEMENT

The statement of Mr. Frank Dobbin executive officer and Secretary of the Peterboro branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund and of the Peterboro Relief Association on the operation of the two bodies is a record of good management and splendid results accomplished that should not pass unnoticed by the public. There has been from time to time some grumbling about the Patriotic Fund; indeed it was inevitable that with so any people to deal with and so many unusual problems to handle there should be complaints but so well on the whole has the business of the Fund in Peterboro been carried on that the Executive Committee and Mr. Dobbin himself are to be congratulated upon their splendid administration.

As for the general management of the Patriotic Fund throughout Canada no more convincing testimony could be offered that the fact that although since the first of the present year there has been no revenue coming except arrears of subscriptions previously promised there are funds available to carry on the work until there is no longer need of the assistance of the fund. It will not be necessary to ask for any more money from the public, from municipalities or even from the Government, the Executive of the fund being men of foresight and vision who anticipating the conditions at the end of the war; kept setting aside a reserve fund which now is of such proportions as to take care of the work. For instance in Peterboro although the county council failed to pay the two instalments for November and December of last year the local branch is still carrying on the lists as usual and will be able to finance them for another month. After which there will be funds available from the Head Office to complete the work. There will be no further appeal to the public for support nor will the city council have to furnish any further assistance.

The same condition applies to the Relief Association which in Peterboro has been operated in co-operation with the Patriotic Fund. It will be remembered that when the first campaign for the Patriotic Fund was held in December 1914, a portion of the money secured was placed in a separate fund, to assist "those in adverse circumstances on account of the war", and to afford relief in cases of distress arising out of the industrial crisis which existed at that time In the early part of 1915 the fund was of the greatest assistance to those who were in financial straits as a result of being unable to secure work and nearly $8,000 of the fund was employed. Then the unemployment crisis disappearing when the impetus of war industries set the wheels humming it was found that the calls upon the fund practically ceased and as a result it should be a source of satisfaction to the citizens to know that at the present time there is available nearly $9,000 to be expended in meeting cases of distress. The fund has been carefully husbanded and supervised as in evident from the balance now on hand. Had it been carelessly handled there would no doubt have been a frittering away of the greater part of the monies and there would be no such sum at hand as is now ready to meet the calls that will be made upon the fund. There is a deep debt of gratitude owing to the members of the committee who without even thanks and often the butt of ill-natured criticism have for years been administering the affairs of the Fund. Their service has been constant and faithful and their only reward is as Mr. Dobbin puts "a sense of having done a public service that has been onerous, often vexatious and at times bothersome in the sense that fault is found where n fault has existed."

Many Stars With the Gus Hill Minstrels

What more exhilarating enjoyment is found than to hear one of these old-time ballads rendered by a singer who knows how to sing them. And what is equally as diverting and entertainnig then to watch the antics of a real Minstrel who seems capable of extracting fun from the very air. You are sure to find this and more in the unusual attraction at the Grand Monday evening only, when GUS HILL'S BIG MINSTRELS, will play an engagement. There are sixty in the company, all white, all capable and versatile, excelling in singing, dancing, fun-making and music. Foremost among them will be found George Wilson, Jimmie Will, Arthur Deming, Golden & Heins, Leighton & Kennedy, 5 Saxophones, Chas. Kent, Wm. H. Hallett, James Baradi, Markwith Bros. Walter Cate, Sidney Dale, Eddie Horan, Al Fontaine, Carle S. Graves, Frank L. Long, Arthur Fulton, James Brenan, and Al Lewis. The title of the first part will be "Over the Top;" name of the afterpiece, "Some Fighters." Don't forget to watch for the big street parade.

Peterboro Oddfellows Will Celebrate the 100th Anniversary of Founding of Order

History of the First Peterboro Lodge Dates Back to 1846—Few of the 14 Charter Members Remain—Will Parade to St. James Church—The Honour Roll.

To-morrow, April the 27th, the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Oddfellows Order, will be celebrated locally by a church parade of the joint lodges, Peterboro No. 111 and Otonabee, No. 13. Headed by the Salvation Army Band, the lodges will march from the I.O.O.F. Hall to St. James' Methodist Church, where Rev. Mr. E. E. Scott, a well known Methodist Devine, will preach at the evening service.

Otonabee Lodge

The history of Oddfellow Lodges in the city dates back to 1846, when in the Court House, the first lodge Otonabee, No. 13, was founded D.D.G.M. Murney and Belleville brethren who came to the then hamlet of Peterboro, from Montreal, and instituted the Lodge, with a membership of eight.

The officers then chosen were:
George B. Hall, N. G.
Charles Perry, V.G.
Wm. Cluxton, Secretary.
Harry Easton, Treasurer.

The first quarters of the Otonabee Lodge was the home at present occupied by Mr. W. H. Hamilton, opposite St. Peter's Cathedral.

The Resuscitation

With the pressure of business and other local conditions, the Lodge, after a life of about two years dropped out and until 1883 remained dormant. In that year on December the 18th, the Lodge was resuscitated and the present quarters at the corner of Hunter tnd George streets were chosen as the hall. At the resuscitation the initiation lasted well into the night and a celebration in the form of a banquet was held at the then Casey House, the present quarters of the Grand Central Apartments. The late Mr. W. H. Cluxton was the Noble Grand. To-day few of the members of the Lodge of '82 remain. Amongst these are Mr. J. Matthewson, a Charter Member; Mr. Simon Armstrong, Mr. John Cameron, Mr. John Emmerson, Mr. W. H. Hill, Mr. W. F. Green, Mr. Dan Belleghem and Mr. M. Mowry, a Charter Member. To-day the membership of Otonabee Lodge is over two hundred.

Peterboro Lodge, No. 111

Peterboro Lodge with a membership to-day of over three hundred and twenty was instituted on May were in the present City Buildings the 7th, 1873, and the first rooms and were subsequently moved to the Hall over the Toronto Savings and Loan Company's office on George street. At the inaugural meeting eighteen men were initiated. Of the Charter Members only two remain to-day, Mr. E. J. R. Walton and Mr. C. L. Mitchell of Winnipeg. The Labor Hall was used until some time ago when Peterboro decided to share the quarters of Otonabee Lodge and moved in. Of the veterans of '73 many still remain including Mr. Alex Elliot, Mr. H. Winch, Mr. D. H. Moore, Mr. John Brownee, Mr. Thomas Rush, Mr. James Montgomery, Mr. Andy McFarlane, Mr. George Hutchison, Mr. W. J. Nesbitt, Mr. Tom Fortye,utedUostit Nesbitt, Mr. Tom McFarlane, Mr. John M. Mowry, Mr. W. H. Decker, Mr. Harry Long, Mr. J. J. Hartley, Mr. Harry Evans, Mr. F. Adams, Mr. J. Green and Mr. Alf. Johnston.

The present officers are:
Jun. Past Grand, Walter Hooper.
Noble Grand, H. Carter.
Vice Noble Grand, C. Chapman.
Recording Sec., J. M. White.
General Sec., W. J. Green.
Treasurer, W. Madill.
Chaplain, R. N. Jones.

Roll of Honor

In the hall the Roll of Honor of he men who enlisted from the I.O. O.F. contains the names of thirty-seven, namely, Lieut-Col. E. B. Clegg, Jack McNab, R. Cottrell, W. T. Reid, H. Dodds, C. Allen, G. P. Clarke, Lieut. D. Loomis, G. Howarth, T. Wilkinson, Corp, G. C. Harlie, E. Downtown, G. M. Might, W Regan, R. Brotherstone, W. Brown, E. Chesney, R. Munro, W. Huges, R. Matchet, W. H. Targett, S. Thomas, T. Barret, L. Dawes, C. Mowry, A. Ringer, T. B. Bath, W. T. Clarke, A. Milligan, H. A. Perkin, H. Robertson, T. Gilchrist, H. Boyle, J. Hillier and A. Pink.

The Ladies

The Rebeccas will be present at the service and seats will be resserved for them.

Freckles and Blotches Are Easily Peeled Off

If you are bothered with any cutaneous blemish, it's a poor plan to use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercolized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, moth patches, liver spots, sallowness, red blotches or any surface eruption. The affected cuticle is actually absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view.

Ask the druggist for one ounce of mercolized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in the morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple, harmless treatment report astonishing results.

Mr. J. J. HARTLEY. A Charter Member of the Peterboro Lodge.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

There is no medicine for little ones to equal Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative; pleasant to take; do not gripe and never fail to relieve the little one of constipation, indigestion, colic or any of the other minor ailments. Concerning them Mrs. Jos. Mongerolle, Bel River Ridge, N. B., writes:—"I believe Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine for little ones I have ever used. From my own experience I would recommend every mother to keep a box on hand." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

he thing, when it was in its infancy. The post office on New Zealand is he centre of activity. Under that name is included the savings bank, he mother's pension system, the old age pensions and the public trust offices. If some one were to suggest n this country that the government ict as a fire and life insurance company as they do in New Zealand, hey would say that we were advancng rapidly toward socialism.

Owns Coal Mines

The government owns coal mines nd employs 3,600 miners. They never charged prices there for coal as hey charged in this country. Over half of the revenue in New Zealand s derived from taxes on incomes nd improved lands. The great effort now is to break up the great estates into small holdings. New Zealand says to the mother who loses ier husband, don't work scrubbing floors or in the laundry, we will pay you, and she receives a pension. Sometime ago, Hon. T. W. McGarry reported in the Ontario Legislature hat there was a surplus and immediately some people asked that old age pensions be established. The Government, true to form appointed a commission, but no report was forthcoming at the recent session and now we will have to wait until next session. The Government of Queensland, Australia, is farther advanced than the Government of New Zealand. There they even own the butcher shops, mills, mines, etc. In this country we go around in circles. We appoint committees of various names—wage committees, arbitration committees—but we no sooner get the money from the employer with our right hand than the same crowd take it from our left hand.

CUTICURA HEALS ECZEMA

All over baby's face. Came in water blisters and then formed a solid scale. Began to itch and burn so had to bandage his hands as he wanted to scratch. Face was badly disfigured. Trouble lasted 4 months. Began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Used one cake Soap and one box Ointment when he was healed.

Death Resulted From Accident

Well Known Catholic Priest Passes.

(Special to The Examiner.)

LONDON, April 26.—Injuries sustained some days ago in a fall resulted yesterday afternoon in the death of St. Joseph's Hospital of Rev. Father George Richard Northgraves, the oldest Roman Catholic priest in America, and a cleric who shares with Cardinal Gibbons the distinction of being the only man in America who in 1869-70 attended the Vatican Council in Rome, at which the doctrine of Papal Infallibility was defined.

Father Northgraves was the author of "Mistakes of Modern Infidels," written while he was parish priest at Parkhill in 1885, in answer to the teachings of Robert Ingersoll. The work commended itself to persons of all denominations and was known throughout America.

He was born at Ottawa, then known as Bytown, on February 23.

Mr. Killow then united with Mary Acres, a widow, with six children, but they soon disagreed and quit.

The wage envelope looks inflated certainly, but so does the price of butter. When other countries reported a huge increase in the cost of living Australia and New Zealand actually reported a decrease. Here are some of the comparisons of staple articles of food:

Canada
Cheese	32c
4 lb. loaf	29c
Honey	40c
Tea	60c
Meat	28c
Mutton	30c
Sugar	12c
Salmon	25c

New Zealand
Cheese	16c
4 lb. loaf	12c
Honey	10c
Tea	25c
Meat	13c
Mutton	11c
Sugar	6c
Salmon	6c

and they imported the salmon from Canada.

Keep the Milk Mug on the Table

A mug of milk is the child's staple food. It is what the growing boy and girl ought to have three times a day and between meals. Adults, too.

There is no other food which furnishes the youngsters the nutritive elements they need, in such perfect balance as GOOD, CLEAN cow's milk.

Good nutrition cannot be secured in diets from which milk is absent. Therefore, use more milk in your cooking. A great variety of milk-containing foods may be prepared. Get one of our cook books free, and see.

Too often mothers fear to use milk freely on the table because they doubt the purity of raw milk. And mothers can't be too careful. Our pure milk, rich and clean, is the ideal food for child or adult.

Use our perfectly PASTEURIZED Milk—The Safe kind. The cream is not separated and nothing is added to strainer or filter can to do what our clarifying machines do to purify milk.

If your are not taking milk from us START TO-DAY. It costs no more. Telephone and our waggon will call.

A Welcome Home for Stanley Bucknell

Members of 2nd Battalion Were Entertained.

A welcome to "The Better 'Ole" was given to Corporal Stanley Bucknell, at his home, 47 Jackson Avenue, City, on his arrival on the evening of the 24th inst. He enlisted at the first call of men in August, 1914, being overseas through the whole of the campaign.

Twenty relatives and friends sat down to a sumptuous repast. The table was nicely decorated, including a three-tier Christmas' cake, Mrs. Simmonds being the lucky finder of a hidden coin, which caused considerable fun. The guests at down under a large canopy of the Union Jack, the flag the boys have kept flying. Corporal Bucknell's comrades present of the original 2nd Battalion were: Reg. Sergt.-Major E. Nichols, D.C.M.; Corp. C. Powell, Corp. S. Bucknell, Pte. W. Cole, Pte. T. Simmonds; also Sergt. R. W. Stevens, of the 39th Battalion.

The first toast was given by Mr. Adam Frick, "The King," the company singing the National Anthem.

The second toast, by Mr. George Gladwin, "The Health of the Honoured Guest, Corp. Stanley Bucknell, and his returned comrades present," followed by the singing of "They are jolly good fellows."

A pleasant evening was passed by all, the guests hearing some of the comical side of life on active service, breaking up with "Auld Lang Syne."

Presentation in Local Plant

Mr. A. Stanworth is Leaving the William Hamilton Company.

An interesting event took place last evening at the plant of the William Hamilton Company, when the employees of the machine shop presented Mr. A. Stanworth with a handsome dressing case on the occasion of his leaving the employment of the company.

G. F. Smith, one of the employees, made the presentation and spoke of the cordial relations which existed between Mr. Stanworth and the employees during the 16 months that he had been with the company as general foreman and superintendent, and wished him every possible success.

Mr. Stanworth in replying, thanked the men for the gift and also for the help and co-operation which they had given him during the time he had held the position of foreman and superintendent.

Monthly Income Insurance

Is your wife an experienced financier? If not, take your insurance on the income plan.

Is your wife better at saving than at spending? If not, take income insurance.

When a man dies there are three deaths:—
The death of a husband.
The death of a father.
The death of the income.

If you should receive your salary for a whole year in one lump sum on January 1st, how much would you have left on July 1st?

If your insurance is paid in one sum how long will it last?

For husband and wife who have no dependents the life income contract on the endowment form is the best policy. At the end of twenty years the income will begin. It will sustain them both as long as they live, and will provide a life income for the survivor if one should die.

THE SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA issue both monthly and annua income policies.

She Put Husband On Probation Says Mrs. Virginia Cosby in Court

Captain Produces Grocery Bills to Prove He Didn't Monopolize Eggs at Breakfast.

Captain Produces the Grocery Bills to Prove that he Did Not Monopolize the Eggs at Breakfast.

NEW YORK, April 26. — Mrs. Virginia D. Cosby continued her testimony yesterday before Justice Leonard A. Giegerich in the Supreme Court in her action for separation from Captain Arthur F. Cosby, one-time "Rough Rider" and Chairman of the Federal Training Camps Commission. Mrs. Cosby told her story in a quiet, unvindictive manner, that faltered only once or twice when her equally reserved husband looked at her with wide open inquiring eyes, across the counsel table.

A separation agreement was introduced in evidence. It purported to be signed by Captain Cosby when he returned from the Republican National Convention at Chicago, in 1916. It read:

"I retract my accusations that my financial difficulties were caused by my wife's extravagance and I promise to be kind and considerate and do my full duty to her."

Arthur Wing, counsel for Captain Cosby, asked the witness if this document was a separation agreement, or signed by her husband with the idea of effecting a reconciliation. Mrs. Cosby replied that it was what she would call a "probationary conditional separation agreement." She denied that her mother and other relatives had come between her and her husband. She said her husband had rented a small cottage in Adams, Mass., for her and her three children, and had given her $200 a month for expenses. She declared that she had not been jealous of her husband and had always had implicit faith in him.

Under direct examination by Geo. Gordon Battle, her counsel, Mrs. Cosby said that while she and her husband were living in New York together, she had no eggs for breakfast, although her husband had several, and that her table was limited in other ways. To refute this allegation, Captain Cosby produced grocers' bills to show that he purchased a dozen eggs every second day.

Captain Cosby is a son of the late Admiral Cosby of San Francisco. He is a graduate of Harvard University, and of the Columbia Law School. In the Spanish-American war he served as Captain of Troop K, First Volunteer Cavalry, known as "Roosevelt's Rough Riders." He was wounded at the Battle of Santiago on July 1, 1898. A champion of preparedness he always was a close friend of Theodore Roosevelt, under whom he served. He is a member of the Harvard Club, the Union League Club and other social organizations. The trial is being continued.

A Frightful Death, Suffocated by Asthma

THE DREAD OF SUCH AN UNHAPPY END OPPRESSES EVERY SUFFERER.

Every sufferer from Asthma knows the terror, the abject fear that overcomes them when struggling for breath. The old fashioned remedies may relieve but never cure. Best results come from Catarrhozone, which cures Asthma after hope is abandoned. It is because Catarrhozone kills the asthma germ that it cures. Choking spells and labored breathing are relieved, suffocating sensations and loss of breath are cured. Every trace of asthma is driven from the system and even old chronics experience immediate relief and lasting cure. Equally good for Bronchitis, throat trouble and Catarrh. The large one dollar outfit includes the inhaler and lasts for two months; sold by all dealers or from the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT ST. ANDREW'S

In St. Andrew's Church to-morrow the Rev. W. L. H. Rowand will speak on "The Story of the English Bible," and the secret of its influence. In the evening he will speak on "Sin in the Light of Modern Science," showing that science emphasizes the awful folly and tragedy of sin, but that Christ opens up a way of redemption.

At the evening service there will be a friendly exchange of choirs between St. Andrew's and Murray St. Baptist Churches. The service of praise in the church is of the highest value and appeals to the imagination and emotions of the people in a way that preaching cannot do. This change will doubtless prove very helpful and inspiring to the membership of both churches.

St. James' Church Anniversary Services to Be Held To-morrow

History of Church Dates Back to a Tent Meeting on the Parsonage Lawn.

Sabbath and Monday, April 27th and 28th will be the Second Anniversary services of St. James Methodist Church.

The history of this cause dates back to July 3rd, 1908, when a prayer meetnig was held on a Friday evening at the parsonage, 53 Crescent street. Rev. H. M. Manning being pastor. On the following Thursday, July 9th, a tent was pitched and a prayer meeting held, at which 20 were present. The first Sabbath service was held July 12th at 11 a.m., 51 present; first session of Sabbath School in the afternoon, attendance 39, Mr. A. E. Trest, superintendent. The Sunday School building was dedicated March 28th, 1909, by Rev. J. P. Wilson, D.D. The young stripling has grown into a strong, rugged and progressive cause and is destined to play no insignificant part in the development of the Christian manhood and womanhood of this fair city.

Two years ago the church building was dedicated to the worship of Almighty God by the Rev. Dr. Chown, General Superintendent of the Methodist Churches of Canada. The services of the coming sabbath promise to equal any thus far held. Rev. E. E. Scott, of Toronto, a man of more than ordinary pulpit ability, will preach morning and evening. The evening service is unique in that the Oddfellows of the city with the Rebeccas, who are celebrating the 100th birthday of American Oddfellowship, will worship with us and their choir of thirty voices will furnish the musical part of the service.

On Monday the ladies of the Church will provide a dinner—for which they are noted—from 5.30 to 8 p.m. After which Rev. Mr. Scott will deliver his widely known and justly celebrated lecture, "The Land of the Maples."

The St. Johns News says it was one of the most thrilling and masterly lectures that the citiens of St. Johns have had the privilege of listening to. His astonishing power in word picturing of Canada, its vast area, its tremendous resources, and giant possibilities, held the audience for an hour and drew forth repeated bursts of applause.

Special music will be provided by the choir under the leadership of Mr. Nicholls, choirmaster.

A hearty invitation is extended to all the friends and well wishers of St. James.

The Play Was a Big Success

"The Minister's Wife's New Bonnet" put on by the Mark Street Young People.

With good material to work upon and a splendid plot, the musical comedy, "The Minister's Wife's New Bonnet," put on by the Girls' Bible Class of the Mark street Methodist church last evening before a crowded house in Victoria Hall, proved a thorough success in every way. The play, the setting for all acts of which, was the Minister's parlour, dealt with the dilemma the Minister's wife found herself in when about to attend a convention in a neighboring town. She discovers that she has no suitable bonnet. Immediately the congregation hear of the obstacle they set about trimming her a suitable headpiece, and wonderful and terrible creations are the result. Taking advantage of the situation Billy Butcher, a young villager, who has been in the city, secures his intended wife, Miss Vivian Walker, as a milliner, and she proceeds to trim the hat. The most ridiculous and ludicrous situations develop during the play, and all were made the most of by the young people.

The entertainment was augmented by solos by Mr. Hendry, who recently returned from overseas.

The Choruses.

Throughout the play splendid choruses by the young ladies were appreciated not only for the variation they lent but on account of the splendid training they revealed. The Bonnett Drill and the grand finals by the massed choruses were features of the evening.

"The Kaiser's Finish," a Remarkable Film Production.

One of the greatest films of the present day, "The Kaiser's Finish" will be presented at the Grand Opera House on Tuesday and Wednesday matinee and evening, showing authentic scenes of the Kaiser, Crown Prince and Headquarters Staff at the Imperial Palace. The picture is a story of Canadian boy, who went to get the one man in the world he hated, and he got him. The London England Press says, "Was it the faint hope of learning something that might be profitable to report at Versailles, which took Lloyd George, the Home Secretary of Foreign Affairs, besides three admirals and a couple of peers to Alhambra to see the Kaiser's Finish, it is a fitting end; the picture is admirable." Westminster Gazette: "Every one should see this remarkable film prophesy. You will cheer yourself hoarse at "The Kaiser's Finish." " Seats on sale now.

Decrease in Dairy Herds

One Reason Advanced for Shortage of Butter.

A recent circular of Mills & Sparrow, of London, says: "The World's supply of butter is short, owing to the decrease in the dairy herds of Denmark and Siberia, the cause of this, in the case of the first named country, being lack of supplies of feeding stuffs, and in the case of Siberia, owing to the general disorganization of the country. England used to draw very largely from both these countries for her supplies, and you can therefore see that, as we are not receiving anything at all from these sources, this explains our great shortage.

The Government has purchased the New Zealand and Australian outputs up to August, 1920, and that of the Argentine up to the end of December, 1919, and we think they will continue to purchase any surplus butter that Canada and the United States may have during the coming season and, in fact, any surplus there may exist in any part of the world, so as to hold complete control of the article.

It is quite certain that a 2-ounce ration is not sufficient to satisfy the public demand and that it would not be safe to give butter a free sale until there was an average of 4 ounces per head per week, and this is not possible until supplies can be obtained from Denmark and Siberia. When this will be, it is, of course, impossible to say, but it is quite possible that if Denmark is supplied with feeding stuffs and raw material for the manufacture of margarine, we might get a small quantity of butter by autumn.

Constipation Cured in His 78th Year Without Drugs

Did you ever know any person who was permanently cured of constipation by taking drugs of any kind? Drugs seem to assist nature at the time, but as time goes on larger doses are necessary until the trouble becomes chronic.

Internal bathing is the only real cure for constipation. It keeps the Colon or Lower Intestine free from all accumulation. Soon the system performs its regular functions unaided, and there is no further trouble.

Mr. A. McLean of Conger Lumber Co., Parry Sound, writes:— "I have been troubled with constipation for the last 35 or 40 years, and could not pass one day without taking medicine. I have used the J. B. L. Cascade since getting it 21 days ago, with wonderful results. Will recommned any person to use it."

Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrel of New York invented and perfected the J. B. L. Cascade for Internal bathing, which is to-day the only efficient means of accomplishing the the desired results. Dr. Tyrrel has published an interesting book on "Internal Bathing," called "Why Man of To-day is Only 50 per cent. efficient," which can be had free for the asking at Warne Drug Co., Peterboro. They will also be pleased to show and explain the "J. B. L. Cascade" to you.

Court Was Held In Private House

Magistrate Langley Presided—Two Cases Tried.

County Police Magistrate Langley, of Peterboro, County Crown Attorney Hatton of Peterboro, held Police Court at Kinmount, when Robert Davis was charged under the Criminal Code, with not furnishing necessaries to his wife.

Davis furnished evidence which satisfied the court that he was justified in not supporting his wife, and the case was dismissed.

The other case was the case of Mrs. Maggie Cavanagh, charged with shooting at her brother, Robert Hughes, with intent to do bodily harm. The evidence produced satisfied the court that Mrs. Cavanagh was afraid of her brother, and fired off the gun to frighten him, and as the evidence went to show that the gun was not fired in the direction of Hughes, the Magistrate held that the gun was not fired at Hughes so that this charge was also dismissed.

Crown Attorney Hatton of Peterboro represented the Crown in both cases and Leigh R. Knight, Lindsay, represented both the defendants.

The court was held in a private residence right next to the school on account of both defendants residing in the township of Galway, and the house being crowded with people was not very satisfactory for a court room.

What Will Relieve Kidney or Bladder Troubles

This is a question that thousands of people have asked; and a question that has been answered for them by the practical demonstrations of Gin Pills.

Read these testimonials and realize the satisfaction that thousands of people have derived and from the relief they have been given by taking the same, and expressing their gratitude for Gin Pills.

Mrs. B. Walters, of Savona, B.C., writes:—

"I advise people who have not used Gin Pills to try them, as Gin Pills are within the means of rich and poor. I have been troubled for years with weak kidneys, and one box of Gin Pills cured me. I recommend them as an absolute and reliable cure."

Mrs. Butler, of Vancouver, sends this message:—

"I think it my duty to write and tell you that I think Gin Pills a sure cure for kidney trouble. I suffered much with my kidneys until I took Gin Pills; now I would not be without them in my home."

Can you have any doubt that Gin Pills have accomplished such wonderful results? If you have—you need not spend a cent on them until you have tried a sample box free. Just write to us and when you receive the box give Gin Pills a trial—and be convinced by results. Sold by dealers everywhere at 50c a box.

Interesting Statistics Regarding Operation of the Peterboro Branch of Patriotic Fund

Auditor Has Completed Audit for the Past Nine Months—No More Appeals to the People—Work of the Past Four Years.

(By F. H. Dobbin).

The local auditor for the Peterborough Branch of the Canadian Patriotic Fund, Mr. W. R. Morris, has submitted to the committee his audit for the last nine months, in carrying on the operations of the fund. Heretofore that audit has been made half-yearly, but at the end of December last it was intimated from the head office that the audit should be made so as to bring up the accounts, locally, to agree with the general audit term, or fiscal year, which ended on March 31st last. This has been done and the results submitted.

It may be of interest to state that from the 1st of January forward, the only revenue coming in to the fund all over the Dominion has been any arrears of subscriptions made previously and remaining unpaid. No appeals were made to the people and none will be made. In the last four years, the executive of the fund, anticipating the period of demobilization, when it would come, set aside a rest, or surplus account, and this sum is now available to carry on the work until the function of the fond expires. And to do so without asking financial aid from the Government, as was at one time anticipated would be the case. No municipalities are being asked for further grants, leaving the contributing field open for appeals for other patriotic objects.

Funds on Hand.

The accretion of funds in the hands of the Executive Committee has resulted from two sources. As dependents who were on the fund list and whose husbands (or sons) fell in battle, the pension took the place of allowances. The home-coming of many automatically resulted in removal, after an interval from the fund lists, thus decreasing the amount required from month to month. In the course of events and with the fairly rapid demobilization it is anticipated that by the end of August next, the fund will have finished its work and cease to distribute.

Despite the withdrawal, on the part of the County Council, of the instalments for November and December ($5,000.00), the local branch has been enabled to finance the allowance lists thus far in the year, and will possibly continue so to do for another month. Afterwards the head office will provide what will be needed. So that citizens are relieved for the future from any appeal or from civic contribution to the objects of the fund. Some time a general review of the work may be given, that it may be made a matter of municipal record and handed on as one of the city war achievements of the last five years. Following are the statements made by the auditor, the figures being condensed from the general report for purposes of publication:

Peterborough Relief Association, 1919.

To some extent allied and working with the Patriotic Fund is the Peterborough Relief Association. This was formed at the coming in of 1915, a part of the moneys accruing from the first Patriotic Fund canvas, that of December, 1914, being set aside as a fund, in anticipation of being required for "assistance to those in adverse circumstances on account of the war"; and to afford relief during the severe unemployment season of the first four months of 1915. In that time nearly $8,000 was expended, under supervision of the committee, and the money was of the greatest possible assistance to those in straightened circumstances. In addition to weekly and monthly gifts, sums were advanced and loaned to people out of work and hard-up, and in such way opened the door for assistance without the anxiety of negotiating loans from banks, money-lenders or others. Re-payments have been made of such sums as advanced, so soon as those benefitting found work.

By the middle of 1915 it was apparent that the funds need not be further drawn on except in exceptional circumstances, and the balance was placed in bank and further on invested, and there now remains to the credit of the association nearly $9,000. In general the principle sum has remained intact, the interest from the investments and bank balances being enough to cover allowances and grants made from time to time. As a result it is gratifying to know that there is in sight a fund sufficient to meet any even extreme emergency of the future, should such come up, and to do so without appealing to either private munificence or to municipal aid. Of necessity the expenditures and grants have to be carefully watched and investigated, lest moneys by disappated on grounds not sufficiently apparent. The committee in undertaking this work have done a piece of public service that is most commendable, the bulk of the duty falling on the chairman, ex-Mayor William Buller, Walter Stocker, Henry Rush, Henry Stabler, James Lynch, and from time to time two members from the G.W.V.A., those in office just now being Comrades S. Whatley and Thomas Williams. Adjt. McElhinney was for a long time, and until his withdrawal from the city, a member, and his place on the committee has been taken and ably filled by Adjt. Wallace Bunton, the local charge de affairs for the Salvation Army. The only recognition these gentlemen receive in return for their five years' service is a sense of having done a public service that has been onerous, often vexatious and at times bothersome, in the sense that fault is found where no fault has existed. No doubt they will remain in office for some time as yet.

The above explanation is made as there are now in the city very many people who have come in during the last four years and who do not know of the Relief Association and its local work. Following is the auditor's statement:

Statement of Receipts and Disbursements from Jan. 1, 1918, to March 31, 1919.

Balance in Dominion Bank, Jan. 1, 1918	$8,400.20

Amount disbursed, authority of the Relief Committee, and properly supported by vouchers	$ 568.40
Less loans repaid	135.43
Balance of subscription to Victory Loan (90%)	5,400.00

"The Better 'Ole" a Great Show

Old Bill, Bert and Alf Are Visiting Peterboro — One of the Season's Most Notable Productions at the Grand.

"THE BETTER 'OLE"

The hundreds of people in Peterboro who have laughted a Captain Bruce Bairnsfather's famous cartoons, "Fragments from France," should not miss the opportunity offered by the visit to Peterboro of "The Better 'Ole," to see the three celebrated characters, Old Bill, Bert and Alf. As presented at the Grand last night by a remarkably well balanced company, "The Better 'Ole" proved one of the most enjoyable and amusing offerings seen here in a long period. The play is based on the Bairnsfather sketches and was written by Capt. Bairnsfather himself in collaboration with Capt. Arthur Elliott. It is still running in London, while on this side of the Atlantic "The Better 'Ole" is scoring as big a success as in the old country.

The central figure in the production is, of course, "Old Bill," affectionately known as the Walrus or the Sea Lion, a realistic portrayal of the type of middle-aged British Tommy whose cheerfulness and courage in the midst of the horrors of the world's greatest war have been the wonder and admiration of all who came into contact with these men. Sharing his adventures are his two pals, Bert, a gay Lothario with a sweetheart everywhere his regiment is billeted; and Alf, another typical British soldier, who is continually struggling with a patent lighter that won't light. The play is built up around experiences of these three very gallant musketeers—"muskrats," is what Old Bill calls them. And there is a well connected plot which provides Bill with an opportunity to play a heroic part by blowing up a bridge and saving a couple of French regiments from annihilation.

"The Better 'Ole" gives a vivid impression of the life of the British Tommy, especially his adventures while in billets. The settings were pronounced by the many returned soldiers who were present last night, as remarkably realistic and there are some striking effects, especially the sound of whistling shells and of an aeroplane going at full speed.

It is a musical comedy in a sense, inasmuch as there is a musical score and a chorus, which is quite naturally worked into the action, in the guise of "Waacs," and French peasant girls, but enjoyable as these features are, they could be eliminated and still "The Better 'Ole" would be a hit.

As has been said the play is superbly acted. That veteran actor, Edmund Gurney makes a remarkable success of the part of Old Bill. His make up is a strikingly realistic portrayol of the character invented by Bairnsfather, and his gruff voice and his mannerisms make the presentation of the role a fine demonstration of the historic act. Leon Gordon scores heavily as the easily-smitten Bert, and Percy Jenning's interpretation of the part of Alf, is a masterpiece. He presents Alf as that rollicking, joke-loving, English soldier, who was to be found by the thousands in France during the war. R. Derby Holmes presents a true-to-life picture of a sergeant-major and the many other roles are capably looked after, Peggy Pates, Dorie Sawyer, Edna Dorman, Ruth Urban and Helene Whipple, doing splendid work in the principal "feminine parts."

Among the musical numbers the two trios, "We wish we was in Blighty," and "Carrying On," by Old Bill, Bert and Alf, were popular hits as was Mr. Gurney's funny rendition of "Venus de Milo," while Ruth Urban and Percy Jennings in their duet, "Je Sais Que Vous Etes Gentil," were deservedly encored.

"The Better Ole" is described on the programme as "a fragment from France in two explosions, seven splinters and a short gas attack," and the description fits.

To paraphraze the line from which the production derives its name, "If you knows of a better play go to it." The Examiner doesn't know of any better in sight just now. "The Better 'Ole" is being repeated at matinee and evening performances to-day and should draw capacity crowds. It is much more enjoyable than the moving picture version seen here earlier in the season.

WOMAN'S BEST LAXATIVE

Proved Every Day That Dr. Hamilton's Pills Are Just Right for Woman's Ills

Proved Every Day That Dr. Hamilton's Pills Are Just Right for Woman's Ills.

Little wonder woman suffers so much from constipation. She always hesitates, continually puts off taking medicine.

Of course a woman's system is delicate, is easily injured by drastic purgatives. Bitter experience with harsh medicines makes her cautious, and to her great injury, chronic sluggishness of the system is permitted.

Few pills are suited to the actual needs of woman — they are too strong.

But there is a good woman's laxative, and it combines mildness with thoroughness of activity—it is known to the people of many nations as Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which never gripe, never cause nausea and are safe to use, no matter what the conditions of strength or circumstances of health may be. A naturalness and regularity of the system, so important to every woman, is quickly acquired by the regular use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. As a health-bringer, as a tonic laxative, as an all-round ladies' medicine, there is positively nothing so efficacious as Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut; 25c per box, at all dealers.

RHEUMATISM CAN BE CURED

The Trouble is Rooted in the Blood and Can Only Be Cured Through the Blood.

In the days of our grandfathers rheumatism was thought to be the unavoidable penalty of middle life and old age. Almost every elderly person had rheumatism, as well as many young people. Medical science did not understand the trouble —did not know that it was rooted in the blood. It was thought that rheumatism was the effect of exposure to cold and damp, and it was treated with liniments and hot applications which sometimes gave temporary relief, but did not cure the trouble. In those days there were thousands of rheumatic cripples. Now medical science understands that rheumatism is a disease of the blood and that with good, rich, red blood any man or woman of any age can defy the trouble. Rheumatism can be cured by killing the poison in the blood which causes it. For this purpose the blood making, blood enriching qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is becoming every year more widely known, and it is the more general use of these pills that has robbed rheumatism of its terrors. In proof of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to cure this trouble, Miss Jennie Stockdale, Hall's Bridge, Ont., says: "Two winters ago I was taken with a bad attack of rheumatism, and was in bed for over two months, most of which time I could not sleep or enjoy rest day or night. The trouble also affected my nerves, which were very bad. I tried several remedies but did not get any help from them, and then, acting on the advice of a friend, I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I soon felt that the pills were helping me, and after taking eight boxes I am glad to say I was able to go about again as usual, and am now enjoying the best of health with plenty of good, rich blood which makes me feel like an altogether different person. I earnestly advise those suffering from rheumatism nervousness and kindred troubles not to delay using Dr. Williams' Pink

The lower the grade of gas the easier it is for a Hot Spot Chalmers

THE great engineers of the automobile industry are discussing nowadays the low grade gas situation more often than the number of cylinders a car should have.

Not long ago one of them said that automobile engines would have to be redesigned to use the inferior gas of today.

This the Chalmers engineers did when they built into the great Chalmers engine the now famous Hot Spot and Ram's-horn manifold.

These two devices convert low grade gas into high power.

For any engineer will tell you there are more thermal units or power in a gallon of low grade kerosene gas than there is in a high test gas.

The Hot Spot puts the gas in shape for power results. It breaks up into tiny vapor molecules the gas—so fine that it really becomes "dry."

Then the Ram's-horn drives it to the cylinders by the quickest route ever devised and when the explosions come there is so little power to escape through the exhaust as to be well nigh negligible.

One short ride in a present day Chalmers will tell you the story far more eloquently than the English language can express it.

Henry Hope Company Secures Large Order For Gas Engines

Some Interesting Statistics Concerning the Munition Output of the Company.

Immediately upon the cancellation of orders for shells which the company had been engaged in making since the early stages of the war, the Henry Hope Company commenced the work of refitting the plant to return to the manufacture of such peaceful products as they had been making previous to the war.

In addition to this the machinery in the shell plant has been refitted for making gas engines for farm implements and during the past few weeks the management received a very large order for gas engines from a local firm. With the present prospects it is confidently expected that the manufacture of gas engines will be sufficient to keep the shell plant permanently occupied and the management expects to have about one hundred employed in the factory at the end of the summer.

Regular Work

The factory has already commenced the manufacture of steel sash and skylights, upon which they were engaged before the war, but do not expect to operate continuously for two or three months when it is expected building in the Dominion will start in earnest. The company will manufacture gas engines at the rate of ten or twelve a week at once and expect to increase the capacity to fifty a week.

Factory's Statistics

From May, 1916 until November, 1918, the Henry Hope shipped out 20,820,640 pounds of shells to the war zone. To make this the factory received 30,618,000 pounds of steel. In the manufacture of the raw material into the finished products 320 men were continuously employed and ten or twelve women. The wages paid out by the company during the period of shell making amounted to $820,000.

Many Ailments Are After Effects of Influenza.

Many serious ailments can be traced to a disordered condition of the kidneys, and instead of treating the disease it is much better to remove the cause. The best remedy to correct Kidney trouble is Dr. Banta's K. and R. Pills. A great many people are under the impression that they are suffering from Liver trouble, dyspepsia, and indigestion, when in reality their trouble is due to the absorption of poisonous acids that remain in the system. When the kidneys fail to expel them, Banta's K. and R. Pills have helped a great many people and you should have no hesitation in trying them. They are sold at Lynch's drug store, 168 Hunter street, and we have such confidence in these pills that if they fail to do what we claim for them your money will be refunded. 2d26 30

Had Hacking Cough

Couldn't Sleep Nights

Hacking coughs are very wearing on the system. The constant coughing disturbs the rest, and keeps the lungs and bronchial tubes in an irritated and inflamed conditions.

Don't neglect the hacking cough. You can get rid of it with a few doses of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; the most prompt, pleasant tated and inflamed condition.

Miss Catherine M. McLean, Craik, Sask., writes:—"Last winter I caught a heavy cold and was laid up for some time. I had such a hacking cough I couldn't sleep at night. I didn't think I would get over it. One day a friend dropped in to see me and was surprised to see how bad my cough was. She advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. The next day I sent for a bottle, and I soon got relief, and by the time I had taken two bottles, my cough was all gone, and now I am able to do my work again. I don't think there is anything to equal it."

There are plenty of "pine" preparations on the market trying to live on the reputation of "Dr. Wood's." The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper, three pine trees the trade mark, price 25c and 50c a bottle. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Nearly Every Girl Can Make Herself Pretty and Attractive

Some Wholesome Truths Every Girl Should Think About.

Probably you know just such a girl.

Perhaps she is sixteen — good to look at, and pretty—quite interesting because she reflects the graces and charm that gives promise of happiness to herself and others. But she is not strong. The color in her cheeks, once so rosy, has faded away—her eyes are listless—the buoyancy of spirit and vigor she once possessed are sarly lacking. Parents, friends—this girl needs Ferrozone—needs it that her blood may be renewed—needs it to restore the nerve force that growth, study and the development of her fresh youth have exhausted. This girl will become a queen with Ferrozone—which will restore her color—bring back her old-time energy—give brightness to her eyes and vivacity to her spirits. In Ferrozone every girl finds strength—then she can do things. In Ferrozone there is endurance—that drives away morning tiredness and languor. For the girl or woman that wants to be happy, healthy, winning—who valnes rosy cheeks, laughing eyes, and abundant good spirits, nothing can compare with Ferrozone. 50c per box or six for $2.50. Get it to-day from any dealer in medicine, or by mail, from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

St. Luke's Church Welcomes Her Returned Soldiers

Seventy Odd Names on the Honour Roll—Proceedings Were Informal.

Wintry conditions outside last evening only emphasized the cheeriness inside St. Luke's parish hall and the warmth of welcome extended to her returned soldiers. Of the seventy odd on the Honour Roll, of St. Luke's, eight names are marked with crosses as having laid down their lives for their friends. In the exhibition of soldier portraits by means of the lantern, the pictures of these eight were thrown on the screen first, being received in respectful silence, followed by the singing of the first verse of "Fight the good fight."

The names of those thus specially honored were: Eric Bartle, Bert Carpenter, Howard Curtis, M.M., Victor Northcott, Merton Adams, Fred Legon, Edward Payne, Percy Neil.

The Proceedings

The proceedings throughout were marked by even more than the characteristic St. Luke's heartiness and good fellowship. As the Rector said in the course of his brief remarks, the one purpose which has brought the large and representative gathering together in the teeth of the dements, was to show the returned men how warm toward them were the hearts of all St. Luke's people, how proud they had been of them when they were away, and now glad to have them back again.

The arrangements for the evening had been excellently made by Mr. Harry Adams and his co-workers. The chair was occupied with great acceptability by Mr. R. B. Rogers, whose opening address voiced the sincere admiration of those present, of the record of the St. Luke's men overseas and the genuine thankfulness felt by all that in answer to the continued and faithful prayers of the congregation so many had been allowed to come home again in safety.

Short Addresses

The proceedings of the occasion were pleasantly informal. As some one said, "It was hoped to make our goodwill towards the soldier guests evident rather by deeds than by speeches. Nevertheless there were in the intervals of conversation and music, a number of short interesting speeches, both from hosts and guests. Mr. J. J. Turner, the people's warden, in his usual happy style, interpreted the kindly feelings of the congregation towards those who had returned after doing so much to honour them abroad. He also indicated various ways in which it was proposed to make the memory of these things permanent. Pte. Jas. Marshall gave a pithy and humourous account of experiences in English hospitals. Capt. Harry Rogers, for some years a prisoner in Germany, spoke in warmly appreciative terms of the Red Cross. Capt. Claude Rogers, M.C., had a good word to say for the Y.M.C.A. and its work.

Those Present.

Of the twenty-four St. Luke's soldiers who have returned so far to Peterborough, nearly all for whom it was possible were present. Among them were Sergt. H. Kelsey, M.M., ah "Original," who was decorated also with the Mons and Belgian medals. Sgt. Kelsey had returned only the previous evening in company with Sgt. W. C. Hill, another St. Luke's "Original." In the same returning contingent has come Pte. Wm. Whitworth. Others present, besides those already mentioned, were: Pte. Geo. Eggerdon, Pte. F. Storey, Sgt. J. B. Mackin, Sgt. Alex. Butcher, Sig. Arthur Carpenter, Sgt. Bryer Carpenter, M.S.M., Gnr. R. B. Hamilton, Pte. Cecil Moore, Sig. J. Scrivens, Sig. A. E. Thompson, Trumpeter S. Whitehouse.

Mr. Frank Whitehouse's numbers on the violin were much appreciated, as were contributions by W. A. Greenslade, Mr. A. G. Knott and Miss M. Green. Mrs. W. A. Greenslade kindly accompanied the musical numbers. The lantern was managed by Mr. Earl Maniece.

The ladies of the congregation provided abundant and appetizing refreshments, which were gracefully dispersed by the girls. Altogether the evening will be remembered by those present as most pleasant in character as well as unique in its occasion.

LAKEFIELD MEN LEAVE FOR WOODS

Will Engage in Lumbering Operations at Field near North Bay.

LAKEFIELD, April 26.—Mr. W. A. Nixon, who has been visiting his home in the village for the past month returned to his position at Field near North Bay on Thursday He was accompanied by the following men who will engage in lumbering at Field: Wilfred Jacobs, Sylvester Sawyer, John Irons, Clayton Montgomery, Albert Smoke, Thomas Junkin, John McIlmoyle and Charles McIlmoyle.

WILL WELCOME 21ST VETERANS

Meeting Was Held Last Evening to Discuss Plans.

At a meeting of the Veterans of the 21st Battalion, held last evening in the Armouries arrangements were made for the reception of the 21st Battalion upon it's arrival in the city. It was decided to form a guard of honor of the 21st men at present in the city and through the guard the relatives of the homecoming men will be enabled to meet them and the crowd thus be kept back. Cars will be in readiness for the soldiers. Extensive preparations in the way of fitting banners were also made.

The Committees

The committees drafted were:

Publicity, Captain Widdifield, Sergt Major Thomas and Pte. Kiff.

Decorating Committee, Capt. Gordon Hall, Sergt. Perks, Ptes. Ivison, Skinner, and Muir.

Reception Committee, Captain Morrison, Captain Hall, and Sergt-Major Thomas.

Banner Committee, Ptes. Houghton and Nichols.

The committees will meet again in the Veterans rooms on Friday evening.

Applicants At The Labour Bureau

Many Positions Were Filled During the Week.

The labour bureau had a comparatively quiet week, and other than a considerable number of applications for forms to apply to the Mounted Police Force, business was about as usual.

From the 19th to the 25th of April, of 48 applications 30 were placed, and 39 vacancies were reported. Only one woman registered for work. The bureau receives constant demands for women for housework, but so far all the women applicants are steadily employed. The farmers are very persistent and report shortage of help, but in view of the wages which usually amount to $40 per month, it is no easy task to fill the vacancies on the farm. One record offer from a farmer was wages of $60 and the vacancy was quickly filled.

Returned Soldiers.

In the returned soldiers' department from April the 19th to April the 25th of 37 applications received for work, 23 were placed, and of 6 applications for vocational training 6 were placed. the soldiers, Captain Morrison said, do not take kindly to the idea of farm work.

ATTENDANCE AT THE BASKET SOCIAL.

About Fifty Couples Took Part in Pleasant Evening.

About fifty couples attended the basket social and dance in the Woodmen of the World Hall last evening, and a most enjoyable evening was spent by all present. At supper-time the baskets were auctioned by Mr. A. Graham and satisfactory prices were received. Excellent music was provided by Moher and Fitzgerald's orchestra for the dance.

I.O.O.F. 100TH ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday, April 27th, Oddfellows throughout the world will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Order on this continent. It exists in response to cravings of the soul for a domain of brotherhood, a fraternity wherein sweet and congenial companionship and mutual offices of kindness and regard would soften the asperities of life and remove the evils of prejudice, bigotry and intolerance.

The Order of Oddfellows originated in England in the Eighteenth century. In the early part of that century the celebrated Daniel DeFoe, mentions the Society of Oddfellows and in the Gentleman's Magazine for 1745 the Oddfellows Lodge is mentioned as a place where very pleasant and recreative evenings are spent. Lodges were supported and their members relieved by each member and visitor paying a penny to the secretary on entering the lodge. These allusions are sufficient proof of the existance of the Order at that time, but they tell us nothing of its aims, objects and characteristics.

Thomas Wildey, the father and founder of American Oddfellowship was born in London on the 15th day of January, 1782, on reaching manhood he became a member of an Oddfellows Lodge, in which he distinguished himself by his zeal and integrity. In September, 1817, he left the shores of his native land, for his new home in Baltimore and brought with him the seed which carefully sown and nurtured, has grown to such a mighty tree that in the shade produced by its wide-spreading branches, the brethren may seek and obtain solace and security from most of the storms incident to human life. He died in the city of Baltimore on the 19th of October, 1861, in the eightieth year of his age, and was buried with all the pomp and honors of the Order befitting the exalted station and unequalled services of the originator of Oddfellowship in America.

WEDDING BELLS

WINDRIM—BOYD.

A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday, April 23rd, at seven o'clock in the morning, at the Presbyterian church, Omemee, when Miss Ethel Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyd, was united in marriage to Mr. John Melville Windrim, son of the late Mr. William Henry and Mrs. Windrim. They were unattended, and being at an early hour only the immediate friends were present. Rev. J. J. MacInnis performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a suit of rookey coloured tricotine and natural shade maribou stole, with sand-coloured hat, graced with blue. After the ceremony the happy couple left amid showers of confetti for a short honeymoon. On their return they will reside near Omemee.

OBITUARY

MR. JOHN BICK.

On Saturday morning, April 19th, 1919, there passed into rest Mr. John Bick, of Bobcaygeon, who was one of the oldest residents in the Township of Verulam, at the age of 69 years 8 months, from hardening of the arteries.

The late John Bick was the son of George Bick and Eliza Irwin, who predeceased him many years ago.

Mr. James Bick, of this city, is a brother of the deceased.

THE LATE MRS. GREENLY.

The sudden and unexpected death of Catherine Herminston, widow of James Greenly, occurred at the home of her sister, Miss Agnes Herminston, Hastings, on Sunday. The news came as a great shock to her friends, because she was apparently as well as usual before leaving a couple of days before to visit her sister. Heart failure was the cause of her death.

The late Mrs. Greenly was born in Percy township, in June 1844 and, over fifty years ago, married her late husband, who died in August 1915.

There survive three sons, Harry of Peterborough, Willis of St. Williams Ont., Robert of town, and four daughters, Mrs. Frank Macdonald, Geneva N.Y., and Mrs. P. Macdonald, Mrs. Chas. Keir and Mrs. Chas. McKelvie, all of Campbellford. Two sisters, Miss Agnes Herminston and Mrs. William Greenly, reside at Hastings.

The late Mrs. Greenly was well and favourably known to a large circle of friends. She was a life-long member of St. Andrew's church.

The funeral on Monday afternoon was conducted at her late residence, Victoria street, by Rev. C. F. McIntosh, and the remains were laid to rest in Mount Pleasant cemetery.—Campbellford Herald.

IN MEMORIAM

COURTNEY—In loving memory of Edward Henry Courtney, who died April 27, 1917. Gone but not forgotten.
—Inserted by Father and Sisters.

IN LOVING MEMORY

Of Pte. George Van Norman Died on April 11, 1918:

Short was thy life my darling son,
But peaceful be thy rest;
Mother missed you most of all,
Because she loved you best.
Time may heal the broken hearted,
Time may make the wound less sore,
But it cannot still the longing
For the loved one gone before.
There is a happy home above.
From sin and sorrow free,
Where in the sunshine of God's love,
We evermore shall be.
We'll meet our loved ones over there
We'll clasp their hands again.
And tears shall all be wiped away,
And never more be pain.
There is a world without alloy,
Where parting comes no more.
'Tis just beyond this vale of life,
Upon the heavenly shore.
There saints and angels now adore
The risen Saviour, King.
And all throughout the endless age,
His love and praises sing.
—By Mother, Brother and Sister.

The Children Were Entertained

Musical Treat Under the Direction of Miss Elcome and Miss White of the Conservatory Staff.

The fifth of the series of 'Canada's Week of Music' was given at the Children's Shelter yesterday afternoon, when about 25 boys and girls from the Conservatory of Music gave the programme. It was decided that each should take enough refreshment for themselves and one other, but upon arrival it was discovered that the good mothers had provided lovely cakes with thick icing, and boxes full of sandwiches, so the afternoon ended in a real party The programme was as follows:

Children's Orchestra, Selected—Direction of Miss Logan.
Duet, Country Dance—Mercedes Rae and Agnes Sowden.
Violin solo, Mazurka—Donald Morrison.
Duet, Valse—Marion and Jean McCannon.
Piano solo, Valse Arabesque—Helen Morphet.
Duet, Durand Valse—Alice Cox and Helen Lamb.
Piano solo, San Remo Valse—Jean Kidd.
Children's orchestra—(a) Jerusalem the Golden; (b) Incline Thine Ear.
God Save the King.

At the close Mrs. Read thanked the young performers on behalf of the little charges, and together they gave them a hearty round of applause.

Jean Eastwood, Baden Greene and Paul Gliddon acted as chauffeurs for the happy gathering.

No Military Rank Will Be Tolerated

Mr. Nickle's Precedent Has Spread to the Returned Soldiers—"Comrade" is Only Rank—Fine of Five Cents Provided.

Special to the Examiner:

TORONTO, April 25.—"Comrade" is to be the one style of addressing or referring to members of the army and navy veterans of Canada hereafter. Such superfluous titles as "Lieutenant," or "Captain," or "Major," or "Colonel," and particularly "General," are to be banned from the army and navy veterans discussions. Every time one of those prefixes of rank is used in discussion there is a fine of five cents on the user. Thus is the equality of all veterans established.

Last night the army and navy veterans passed a resolution doing away with the pre-giving of all ranks during meetings of the unit, and it was decided to address all members as "Comrade." Any member not observing the rule is subject to a fine of a nickel every time he fails to observe the new rule.

England "Fed Up" On Peace Delays, a London Editor Declares

R. D. Blumenfeld, of London Express, Tells of Impatience of British People—Cause of the Revolt.

England is, in her own phraseology, "fed up" with the alliance of the delegates in Paris over the terms of peace, according to Ralph D. Blumenfeld, editor and chairman of the Board of Directors of the London Daily Express.

"The English people, after victory was finally achieved, wanted a quick peace," said Mr. Blumenfeld, "and when Mr. Wilson paid us a visit in December he was hailed as the man who had brought the fighting to a termination and who would bring a quick peace. To-day, four months later, they see the conferees still sitting in indecision, the German not yet humbled, and work on the great reconstruction problems held up because we have an armistice, but not a peace."

"The temper prevailing in England today on this account was well shown in the two recent bye-elections in the West Leyton and Central Hull districts, where two liberal nominees defeated coalitionists and followers of Mr. Lloyd George by good majorities."

Causes of the Revolt

In reference to the West Leyton bye-election T. P. O'Connor, ascribed the "crashing blow administered to Mr. Lloyd George" as due in part to "the disappearance of the mirage of a German indemnity sufficient to cover all of England's vast expense in the war."

"There are just two causes of this sudden revolt against Mr. Lloyd George, who was so heavily returned in the general election last winter," said Mr. Blumenfeld. "They are the retardation of the peace treaty and the irksomeness of beaurocratic control in England. We still have food cards and we still have a thousand and one committees and boards for regulation of every little detail of our daily life and of the nation's activity. The Englishman is getting tired of that, too, and fails to see the necessity of continuing the system."

When questioned as to the probable result of Lord Northcliff's recent emergence as an open political enemy of the Little Welshman," Mr. Blumenfeld said:—

"As both these gentlemen are personal friends of mine I should not care to make any declaration regarding this matter. I can say, however, that both Lord Northcliff and Mr. Lloyd George are great men and both necessary to England, and I hope that they will find a way of coming together again."

Mr. Blumenfeld declared that the crisis of the industrial unrest seemed to have passed with the end of the numerous strikes that were recently hampering London. He added that unemployment was a troublesome problem still awaiting solution.

Revive Unemployment Pay

"Today," he said, "we have a curious situation in unemployment in England. Under the regulations of the government's unemployment legislation, persons out of work get unemployment pay, men thirty-five shillings and women twenty-five shillings a week. One of the results of this system is that it becomes about as profitable to be unemployed as to work, and certainly much more pleasant.

"This legislation, which was only temporary, will go out of force in June. At that time, perhaps, we shall be faced by an unemployment problem of really critical proportions. But at the present time, women, for example, who could earn only, about twenty-nine shillings as servants are quite content to take a little less in idleness."

Mr. Blumenfeld was born in this country, but is now a British citizen.

"I think every European business man ought to come over here at least once every fifteen years," he said yesterday, "to see what marvellous developments the country has made in the interval. The change in New York's sky-line since I was last here is astonishing."

Mr. Blumenfeld has a son who was a major in the Royal Air Force during the war. He was in command of a squadron attached to the Independent Air Force which was detailed to the task of bombing German cities.

German Miners Return to Work

Disregard Communist Appeals—Situation Righting Itself.

Canadian Press:

BERLIN, April 25.—Almost as suddenly as the recent strikes began Germany appears to be quieting down again. Coal miners in the Ruhr district are returning to work in increasing numbers, and yesterday those in the Dussbug and Muehlheim districts, as well as a half dozen other places, returned to their collieries.

The fact that the men are resuming work is remarkable, because the Communists at recent meetings have urged the continuance of the strike. Men who formerly heeded this appeal have rejected it almost unimously. A big factor in the situation has been the distribution of food, which has proved of special attraction to the labouring men. An increase in coal production is already noticeable similarly in Upper Silesia, where the situation has been improved by the nullification of a majority of depositions of mine directors.

At the age of 21, Pergolesi composed an opera that established his reputation. It was "La Serva Padrona." It occupied about an hour in performance, and employed but two actors who rarely left the stage. The orchestral part simply consisted of a string quartette.

Peterboro County Farmers Discuss the Crop Conditions

Weather of the Past Two Days Checks Spring Seeding Operations—Fall Wheat and Clover Wintered Well.

WHAT THE FARMERS SAY

Farmers in Peterboro County enter upon the spring of 1919 with a spirit of optimism that has been seldom equalled. The clover, hay and fall wheat crops wintered well, whereas last year they were badly killed out by the late frosts. The weather of the past two days is hardly conducive to good crop conditions, but the farmers are hoping it will not continue long enough to mar the present prospects. More than the farmers share in this hope in view of the famine conditions that prevail the world over. Very little seeding has been accomplished in this district but the farmers were beginning to limber up when the frost King descended into the lap of spring. The help problem is not nearly so acute in Peterboro County as it was a year ago and little difficulty is anticipated in this connection.

What the Farmers Say

Some of the farmers interviewed regarding local conditions have the following to say:

Mr. Beatty, Otonabee Township

Mr. Beatty took an optimistice view of the farm situation this year. He said that the clover and other hay crops wintered fine, but was somewhat dubious of their condition now owing to the cold weather of Thursday night and the snow of Friday. The fall wheat on his farm has never been better, but as in the case of the hay crops, he did not take kindly to the change of the weather. Spring work is not in a very advanced stage yet, although quite a good deal of seeding has been done and will continue unless the present unfavorable weather continues. Mr. Beatty has 317 acres and with the help of one boy whom he hired last fall, does all the work. Generally the outlook on his farm is much better than last year.

Mr. A.W. Atkinson, Smith Township

"Very little seeding has been done out this way so far," stated Mr. Atkinson, of Smith Township. "The hay crop looks good now, but I can't tell what the weather has in store for us."

The fall wheat looks fine on his farm, and answering queries as to the general condition of the farms this year as compared with last, Mr. Atkinson said things looked better this year. Farm help is better, fairly plentiful and they do not anticipate any trouble in engaging farm laborers this season. He also stated that his clover crop this was good.

W. B. Anderson, North Monaghan

On Mr. Anderson's farm in North Monaghan most of the clover has been killed. The reason given by Mr. Anderson is the small amount of snow this winter, which left the field bare and the roots were killed by the frost. He also stated that the hay crop was in bad shape, but as that part of the country was not devoted to hay raising or grain growing, he did not think that the loss would be relatively serious. Referring to the wheat crop, he said that what there was of it was very good. Nothing to speak of has been done in the line of seeding in North Monaghan, although the help situation is good, there being plenty of labor.

Mr. Sid. Rutherford, Otonabee Tp

"What kind of clover crop did you have this year?"

Mr. Rutherford—"Good."

"What about the hay crops?"

"They're good, too," was the laconic reply.

"How did your Fall wheat winter?"

"I have a good crop this year, much better than last year."

Mr. Rutherford sows forty acres in grain every year out of a total acreage of one hundred. He states that he thinks things are looking about the same as last year. Last year they were further ahead in their sowing than this year, because April was an exceptionally good month in 1918.

Fact is I didn't have any last year."

"Has there been much growth yet?"

"No, very little."

"Has the Spring weather held back your work?"

"Yes, it has a great deal. Some have done hardly anything."

"Have you done any seeding yet?"

"Scarcely any to talk about. I put in an acre yesterday, but most of the neighbors have not started to sow."

"Have you lots of help in Otonabee?"

"Yes, we never sem to lack farm labor. I kept a man all winter."

Mr. Clare Chittick, Smith Township

Mr. Clare Chittick, a well known farmer in Smith Township, is thoroughly optimistic as regards the farm situation and says that generally things are in a better condition this year than they were the same time last year, although Spring work has been held up somewhat by the lateness of the season. His clover crop is excellent and he describes his twenty acre hay crop as very good. The fall wheat is also in excellent condition, "but there is no growth, these days," he said, referring to Thursday's and Friday's weather. Seeding is a little backward this year and only three or four acres have been sown on his farm. "Nobody is grumbling around here about the scarcity of help," he concluded. Mr. Chittick has altogether one hundred acres, of which he usually sows 35 acres in grain and 20 acres in hay crops.

The Americans Object to Report

Report of Commission on Responsibility of War Not Endorsed by Americans—the Offending Clause.

Canadian Press:

PARIS, April 25. — It has become known that the American delegates have been unable to agree to certain portions of the report adopted by a majority of the Commission on Responsibility for the war, and as presented to the Council of Four. The report contains a memorandum setting forth the American reservations. They objected to the principle that persons accused of offences against the "laws of humanity" should be subjected to criminal prosecution, contending that the laws and principles of humanity constitute a standard too uncertain to be rightly applied in legal proceedings.

MRS. BALFAME

As Mr. Broderick made a little speech of gratitude for her gracious reception of the press, she appraised her guests. The greater number well-groomed, well-dressed, well-bred in effect, very sure of themselves; altogether a striking contrast to the local reporters that had come in on their heels.

She answered Mr. Broderick diffidently. "I have never been interviewed. I am afraid you will hardly find—what do you call it?—a story?—in me."

"We don't wish to be too personal," he said gently, "but the public is tremendously interested in this case, and more particularly in you. It isn't always that it takes an interest in the wife of a murdered man—but—well, you see, you are such a personality in this community. We really must have an interesting interview." He smiled at her with a charming expression of masculine indulgence that made her own eyes soften. "You see—don't you—we hate to intrude—but—we understand that you had a serious quarrel with your husband on the last day of his life. Would you mind telling us what you did after the leaving Country Club?"

She gave him a frozen stare, but recalled Mr Cummack's warning not to take offence—"for remember that these men have their living to get, and if they fail down on their job they don't get it. Blame their paper, not them."

"That is a surprising question," she said sweetly. "Do you expect me to answer it?"

"Why not? Of course you read the newspapers. You know we have told the public of the scene at the club-house already—and with no detriment to you! It was a very dramatic scene, and every moment that you passed from that time until Mr. Balfame fell at his gate will be of the most absorbing interest to the public. In fact, they will eat it up."

Mrs. Balfame shrugged her shoulders. "As a matter of fact I have not read a newspaper since the—" She set her lips and her eyes grew hard—"the crime. I knew you have written a great deal about it, but it hasn't interested me. Well—Dr. Anna Steuer drove me home, and shortly after I went up to my room—"

"Pardon me; let us take things in their turn. You took a box of sardines and some bread from the pantry, did you not?"

"I did." Mrs Balfame's tones were both puzzled and bored.

"And then you were interrupted." As she raised her eyebrows, he continued. "The appearance of the sardine can indicate that."

She gave him a brilliant smile, her substitute for the average woman's merry laugh. "You are teaching me how they write those intricate detective tales my husband was so fond of. It is true that I was interrupted, but it is equally true that I should probably have left the can as you found it in any case, for I soon realized that I was not hungry. I had had sandwiches at the club and although I always think it best to eat something before retiring, I was hardly hungry enough for sardines—"

"You ate sandwiches at the club? I have been out there once or twice and never saw—I was under the impression that during the afternoon the young people danced and the matrons played bridge before an early dinner."

"Did you?" Mrs. Balfame's eyes and tones abashed even Mr. Broderick, and he tacked hastily: "Oh, well, that is immaterial, as the lawyers say. And of course you ladies may have sandwiches served in the bridge rooms. May I ask what interrupted you?"

"My husband telephoned from Mr. Cummack's house that he was obliged to go to Albany at once and asked me to pack his suitcase."

"Yes, we have seen the suitcase. You suggested, did you not—over the telphone—making him a glass of lemonade with aromatic and bromide in it?"

Mrs. Balfame experienced an obscure thrill of alarm, but her haughty stare betrayed nothing. One of the reporters whose "job" it was to watch her hands, noted that they curved rigidly. "And may I ask how you found that out? Really, I think I feel even more curiosity than you do."

"He told it to Cummack and the other men present as a good joke, adding that you knew your business."

"I did. The matter had passed entirely out of my mind. More momentous things have happened since! Well—I made the glass of lemonade and left it on the dining-room table; then I went upstairs and packed his suitcase—"

"One moment. What became of that glass of lemonade? No one remembers having seen it, although I have made very particular inquiries."

Mrs. Balfame by this time was quite cold, but her brain was working almost as quickly as Mr. Broderick's. She uncurved her fingers and smiled. But her keen brain-sword had one edge only; the other was dull with inexperience. She knew nothing of the vast practice of newspaper men in detecting the lie.

"Oh—I drank it myself." She had drawn her brows for a moment as if in an effort of memory. "When I heard the noise outside—when I heard them say 'coroner'—and realized that something dreadful had happened, I ran downstairs. Then I suddenly felt faint and remembered the lemonade with the aromatic spirits of ammonia and bromide in it. I ran into the dining-room and darnk it—fortunately!"

"And what became of the glass?"

"Oh!" Mrs. Balfame was now righteously indignant. "How do I know? Or any one else? Frieda, soon after, began to make coffee by the quart—and I don't doubt whisky was brought round from the Elks. Who could have noticed a glass more or less?"

"Frieda swears she never saw it."

"She has the worst memory of any servant I ever had, and that is saying a good deal."

Mr. Broderick regarded her with admiration. He distrusted her more every moment, but he had realized at once that he had no ordinary woman to deal with, and he rejoiced in the clash of wits.

The other young men were sitting forward, almost breathless, and Mrs. Balfame was now fully alive to the danger of her position. But all sensation of fear had left her. All the iron in her nature fused in the crucible of those terrible moments and came forth finely tempered steel.

"Any thing more?"

"Oh—ah—yes. Would you mind telling us what you did after you had packed the suitcase and brought it downstairs?"

"I went up to my room and began to undress for bed."

"But that must have been quite fifteen minutes before Mr. Balfame's return. He walked from Cummack's house, which is about a mile from here. It was noticed that you merely had taken your dress off. Would you not have had time to get into bed?"

"If I were a man. But I had my hair to brush—with fifty strokes; and—a little nightly massage, if you will have it. Besides, I had intended to go down and lock the front door after my husband had left."

"Ah!" The admiration of the young men mounted higher. They distrusted her coldly, if only for that lack of sex-magnetism, which men, particularly young men, naive in their extensive surface psychology, take as a personal affront. They did not believe a word she said, and they did not give her and her possible fate a throb of sympathy, but they generously pronounced her "a wonder."

Mr. Broderick took a chance shot. "And did you not during that time look out of the window—toward the grove?"

Mrs. Balfame hesitated the fraction of a minute, then wisely returned to her know-nothing policy. "Why should I? Certainly not. I heard no sound out there. I am not in the habit of examining the grounds from my window at night. It is enough to go through the lower rooms before I lock up."

"But your window was dark when the men ran over from Gifming's after hearin gthe shot. They remember that. Do you brush your hair—and—and—massage in the dark?"

Mrs. Balfame sat back in her chair with the resigned air of the victim who expects an interview with inquisitive newspaper men to last all night. "No. But I sometimes sit in the dark. I told you that I intended to sit up—partly dressed—until my husband had gone. I did not feel like reading, and my eyes were tired. As you know so much, you may have guessed that I cried a little after that trying afternoon. I do not often cry, and my eyes stung."

"But you had forgiven your husband?"

"I have forgiven him many times before. I infer that you know that also."

"Mrs. Balfame, is it not true that about two years ago you contemplated obtaining a divorce?"

This time her eyes flashed with anger. "I see that my kind friends have been gossiping. You would seem to have interviewed everybody in town."

"Pretty nearly. But you don't seem to realize that Elsmore — Brabant County, for that matter—has talked of nothing else but this case for the last four days."

"I did think of a divorce for a short time, but I never mentioned it to him, and as soon as I thought it all out I dismissed the idea. In the first place divorce is against the principles of the school in which I was brought up, and in the second Mr. Balfame was a good husband in his way. Every woman has some sort of a heavy cross to bear, and I guess mine was lighter than most. The trouble is, we American women expect too much. I dismissed the subject so completely from my mind that I had practically forgotten it."

"Ah—yes— we thought you might have seen some one lurking in the grove and gone down to investigate." This was another chance shot. He was hoping for a lead.

Mrs. Balfame thought him inspired.

For the moment the cold brilliant eyes of the woman and the keen contracted eyes of the reporter met and clashed. Then Mrs. Balfame displayed her teeth in her sweet and charming smile. "What a truly masculine inference. You don't know me. If I had seen anything I should have flown to the telephone and called the police. I am not a coward."

"You look indomitable," murmured Mr. Broderick. "But will you tell us how it happened that you did not hear the shot? The men down at Gifming's did."

"They were standing on the porch, and I think now that I did hear the shot. But my windows were closed. I hear tires burst constantly. And that was Saturday night. The machines turn off just below our gate into Dawbarn street, especially if they are bound to Beryl Myrtle's road house."

"True." Broderick leaned forward, staring at the carpet. He permitted the silence to last quite a minute. Even Mrs. Balfame, who had congratulated herself that the inquisition must be nearly over, stirred uneasily, so sinister was the silence.

The other men knew the Broderick method too well to spoil one of his designs; they sat in expectant stillness and turned upon Mrs. Balfame a battery of eyes.

MILLBROOK PERSONALS

MILLBROOK, April 23.—Gunner D. J. Hetherington, who recently returned from Flanders Fields, is looking hale and hearty and we are glad to extend a warm welcome to him Dun was in much heavy fighting, but escaped injury.

Gunner Howard Collins arrived home from overseas this week and except for the injury to his knee, he is fit. Howard did his bit bravely and well.

Prisoner for Two and a Half Years

Pte. Wm. Foottit has arrived in Millbrook after a most trying time as prisoner in German Camps for two years and a half.

He enlisted on 13th Jan. 1915, with the 8th C.M.R., sailed on the Missinabia for England. October 9th, 1915, went to France on 14th January 1916 and after some hard fighting was taken prisoner on June 2nd 1916, at Ypres. He tells some thrilling experiences of the treatment received by the Huns in their prison camps. He escaped once and was re-captured within 5 miles of Holland. For this he was given fourteen days in a "sweat cell," heated with steam for the purpose of taming those who endeavour to escape. He says the food was d——rotten, and was fed to them as though they were "swine" the all too often word used about the English and Canadian soldiers. Pte. Foottit weighed 145 when he was taken prisoner and when he was repatriated he was reduced to 110. He says the prisoners, at least many of them and he among them, had to work in a stone quarry 10 hours a day," with dirty big German curs of officers standing with fixed bayonets ready to do them injury or kill them outright if they dared to disobey orders. Only for the boxes sent by the Red Cross many more of our boys would have died of starvation Pte. Foottit was slightly wounded in the knee and leg, before he was made a prisoner. While a prisoner he had the "flu" and didn't have a soul to look after him except a burly officer to throw him some sawdust bread which at any time was obnoxious, but imaine a sick man trying to swallow it. He was glad when he heard the glad news of the armistice and if all the Germans in Christendom were crying for bread or water Pte. Foottit wouldn't give it them. He'd rather see the Turks get it as he says they are white compared to the Huns. Pte. Foottit left England the 22nd March on the S. S. Regina arrived in Halifax on 30th March, Toronto on April 2nd and Millbrook on 6th instant.

April Wedding

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foster Cavan, on Wednesday, April 9th., when their daughter, Miss Henrietta E. Foster was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Charles Robert Gardiner, son of Mr. Robt. Gardiner of Cavan.

Detective "Nearly" Arrests "Midget" Game of Pinochel

Little Circus People, However, Convince Sleuth That "Cards" Were Only Pastime.

NEW YORK.—It's a good thing that pinochle can be played for love as well as money, else Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey's greatest show, etc., would have to refer its thousands of visitors to Blackwell's Island if they wanted to see every one of the "strangers of the earth" that travel along with the "circus colossal."

King and Prince, the pugilistic pigmies; Mr. and Mrs. Doll, the tiniest terpsichoreans, and Baron Paucci, the Italian midget, were riotously pinochling away, Mrs. Doll's part being telling hubby how to meld, when Detective "Boots" Trojan, celebrated sleuth of the West Thirtieth street station, snooped his way to where the "freaks" of the circus were recreating themselves between performances, yesterday.

All "Boots" saw were four spread out hands of man's sized playing cards. The holders thereof were hidden behind their pasteboard fans, but the cards themselves were enough to convince the detective that the Garden had become a gambling den. Two steps, and he was towering above the footstool that served as a gambling table. But there was not even a meow of the suspected "Kitty."

"This place is raided. I'm a policeman," he informed the players. They expressed doubt, noting his civilian clothes. He exhibited his credentials, whereupon a voice as deep as its speaker was low volunteered that "we were only playing for fun." "Boots" then said he'd let them off this time.

P.S.—With the feminine influence behind him Mr. Doll succeeded in "bringing home the bacon." Even midgets can do disappearing tricks with coins when they hear strange footsteps approaching.

Business at the "greatest show" was "standing room only" yesterday, and promises to be that way for the remaining two and a half weeks of the New York run.

Description of Home and Church Weddings.

Evidently Penned by One Who Was in Some Degree Prejudiced, or Has Been Unfortunate Victim of Cupid's Wiles.

A wedding is a party where two people who are in love with each other agree to spend their lives in trying to get over it.

Before the wedding takes place, all the tradespeople within a radius of ten miles are notified, and all the relatives within 1,000 miles, and the groom is served with a notice to stay away from the scene of operation until the fatal moment arrives when he is to hand over the ring and his freedom.

There are two kinds of weddings—house and church. When a wedding is held in a house, a prominent circus man is consulted, and he sends his main tent, which, after having been placed in the back yard, is filled with waiters, wines and relatives. Also several other people who, having been forced against their will to buy wedding presents, felt it incumbent upon them to come and locate the position of said wedding presents in order to determine just where they stand with the family of the bride. In the front of the house is also placed a canvas, so arranged as to cover up the confusion of the bride and groom as they escape, and also to protect the aforementioned guests from rain, snow, hail and curiosity.

When the shades of evening begin to fall upon the unhappy scene, which with our modest pen we have attempted to describe, the wedding breakfast is held, and the presents removed to a place of safety, from which, later on, they can be exchanged for other things fully as useless.

The church wedding is usually held in a church, but it is not improbable in the near future that it will be transferred to some other building, as churches are no longer en regle in the best circles.

When the members of the immediate family and relatives have been firmly strapped down in their seats in the front part of the church, and separated from hoi polloi by a department store ribbon, the rest of the world is permitted to enter, after which the bride, reclining demurely on the arm of her father, sails down the aisle and is met at the altar by the clergyman with a glad smile.

The choir boys are then permitted to sing a song, and the bridegroom is assisted to the fatal spot by two or three of his closest friends, who hypnotize him into fulfilling his part of the contract. The minister is the only one who comes out ahead of the game, the amount ranging from $1,000 to $10,000.

Later on the bride and groom, after they have returned from their honeymoon, either settle down to a life of quiet and obscure friction, or else make their arrangements, at the end of a few months, to take the unlimited accommodation train to the valley of unrest via Reno.—Life.

Getting Around It.

If a fellow wants to look a little bit like a soldier without the trouble of actually being one, he can have a belt sewed on his overcoat at an average cost per snappy garment of about one war savings certificate. The leaders of this mode camouflage wear belts about their coats, and we saw one sartorial Ulysses who had his waistcoat thus encircled; but anyone who puts a belt around his shirt (they'll come in summer time!) ought to have another behind the ear.

Our allies have no remedy in the matter, and anybody who cares to do so can rig up a bow-legged baby in the dress of the bersagliери or the chasseurs alpins. All it takes is a little cheap nerve. After all, it does not matter much. Those who are helping win the war will keep right on doing so, and those who show their zeal by flourishing bits of cloth will keep on doing that. It's the eternal difference betwen real and sham, and even this war does not reuse some of us to see it.—Collier's.

Wonderful Bridge Spans Danube.

The stretch of the Danube between Russia and Bulgaria, through Roumania, passes two great works, ancient and modern, in close proximity.

One is Trajan's wall, a double rampart of earth extending from the river to the Roumanian Black sea port, Constanza.

Just below this the Danube is crossed by the great railway bridge of the Bucharest-Constanza line, one of the most wonderful engineering triumphs of the modern world.

This bridge is over 2½ miles long. The biggest of its 68 spans is a cantilever of over 200 yards, crossing the main stream.

The piers are laid in water nearly 100 feet deep, while at low water the height of the bridge exceeds 120 feet. It cost nearly $7,500,000.

Delicacies Classed as "Offal."

People with delicate palates will be grateful to the food ministry for its official definition of "offal." This not very appetizing term is now defined as covering such dainties as tongue, kidneys, oxtail and sweetbreads, as well as heart, liver, tripe and calves' feet. As "offal" bulks so largely in the rationing scheme, the food ministry would be performing a public service if it introduced a more euphonious appellation.—London Globe.

BRISBANE RIOT OVER REDS.

Australian Soldiers Demand Deportation of Bolsheviki and Friends.

BRISBANE, Australia, — A labour newspaper here which praised the raising of a Red flag by Russian demonstrators has had its windows smashed by angry crowds. Russian shops were also damaged. All Brisbane hotels have been closed until further notice.

Returned soldiers and others have passed strongly worded resolutions demanding the deportation of Bolshevist Russians and sympathizers, including two labour members of Parliament. They also urge that the State Government change its attitude towards men the resolutions characterize as traitors and that the Commonwealth Government abandon its "tolerant attitude." Otherwise, they declare, the returned soldiers will take drastic action.

Slogans That Have Counted.

One of the big factors in arousing the people of the United States to the great patriotic service they could perform through war gardening was through the slogans sounded from time to time, writes Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the National War Garden commission, in an article in the Garden Magazine.

"Every garden a munition plant," is the slogan on the design drawn by James Montgomery Flagg. "Can vegetables and fruit and can the kaiser, too," is the slogan of another striking poster.

"Grow food F. O. B. the kitchen door," is one of the forceful slogans coined and used by the commission. "Hohenrakes versus Hohenzollerns" is another of the phrases which has hit the reader between the eyes.

"Get into the garden trenches;" "The hoe is the machine gun of the garden;" "Food must follow the fing" are slogans that have done their bit.

"Keep the home soil turning" is a clever paraphrase of the title of a famous song. Other successful phrases used by the commission are: "Speed up and spade up;" "Tune up the spading fork."

Companions on Service Flag.

A thirteen-star service flag has just been raised in Baltimore. It represents thirteen inseparable companions. One star is golden and honors the memory of Louis Cohen, a boatswain's mate on the United States steamer Manley, who made the supreme sacrifice when his ship and a British vessel collided somewhere in the Atlantic. The other twelve stars represent his mourning companions, who are now preparing to go "over there." Four are in the navy, one at Camp McClellan, Anniston, Ala., and another at Camp Meade, Md. The flag hangs from the window of a store kept by H. Mankoditz, at 1430 Baltimore street, where the "crowd of thirteen" used to meet before being called to the colors. Cohen was a son of Louis Cohen, living at 13 Ridger place, New York. The Manley collision occurred March 19 last. A depth charge aboard the ship was exploded by the impact, killing one officer and three enlisted men and injuring a number of others.

Fresher Symbolism.

Symbolism has a more direct relation to our conduct than we are always ready to grant. The old conventions of burial and of grief overemphasized the importance of physical and individual loss, and so were in themselves an obscuration of the new light we are seeking upon the marble face of death. The growing practice of wearing white rather than black for mourning, or of continuing the habitual colors of one's dress; the movement for placing upon the service flag a gold star in memory of a soldier killed, are attempts toward a fresher and truer symbolism expressing our growing protest against the depression and paralysis too often resultant upon the passage of a loved one from the known world to the unknown.—Winifred Kirkland, in Atlantic Monthly.

Magnesia Cure for Cancer.

The theory that cancer is not of microbic origin, but is due to the excessive elimination of certain substances normally contained in the blood, is supported by a report of the researches of Professor Dubard, just published by the French Academy of Medicine.

Finding that the system of cancerous subjects was particularly poor in magnesia, Professor Dubard administered large doses of it to patients operated on for cancer, and reports encouraging results in a large number of cases.

The Intelligent Way To End Corns

Not by paring. That's a risky makeshift, and results are brief.

Not by harsh, haphazard methods made by non-scientific men.

Not by padding. Pads are unsightly, and they simply coddle corns.

Expert Methods

Blue-jay was invented by a scientific expert. It is made by a house famed for its surgical dressings.

It embodies the up-to-date method, the right method of corn treatment.

Apply it and the pain stops instantly. Forget it for two days. Remove it, and the corn is gone for good. One corn in ten may need a second application, but that's all.

Millions of corns have been ended in this way. Aching corns are unknown to its users.

These are facts known to your own friends and neighbors. It is time that you knew them. Try Blue-jay tonight.

HAWK NO MATCH FOR CROWS

Cunning Creatures, by Clever Strategy, Stole Titbit From the Claws of Bird of Prey.

Travelers in the Orient have much to say about the Indian crow, a bird that for uncanny knowingness and prankish audacity has perhaps no equal.

Corvus splendens—thus have ornithologists labeled him; but a famous naturalist who knows the breed at first hand has called them "shreds of Satan, cinders from Tartarus." To give these impish creatures their due, however, it should be said that life in India is not a little enlivened by their presence. Here is a characteristic incident in this relation:

A small hawk had seized a little bird and perched on a leafless branch to devour his prey. The spectacle drew two crows to the spot. They hopped and flapped from branch to branch, noisily discussing the strategy of their intended raid.

Then one of them quietly slipped away through the surrounding foliage. At the same time his mate flew in front of the perching hawk, and hovering steadily within a foot of his beak maintained a bustling menace of snatching the titbit.

That effectively compelled the attention of the hawk. His prey grasped firmly beneath his feet, he angrily hissed and lunged at the hovering nuisance. So lively was the skirmish that the human onlooker forgot the existence of the second crow. But now that wily bird reappeared some distance in the rear of his destined victim.

With stealthy sidlings and short, noiseless flights he drew near. Then he made a swift dash, seized the hawk's long, barred tail by the tip, hung on with his full weight and toppled the luckless hawk in a complete back somersault from the branch. The released titbit was instantly seized by the first crow, and the clever pair bore off their booty with much triumphant cawing.

"No. Why should they be?"

"Merely because their business develops an eye-rate tendency."—Baltimore American.

Up to Date Brothers.

San Francisco Argonaut:—The oldest good story is the one about the boy who left the farm and got a job in the city. He wrote a letter to his brother, who had elected to stick by the farm, telling of the joys of city life, in which he said:—

Thursday we autoed out to the country club, where we golfed until dark. Then we trolleyed back to town and danced until dawn. Then we motored to the beach and Friday-ed there."

The brother on the farm wrote back:—

"Yesterday we hugged to town and baseballed all afternoon. Then we went to Ned's and pokered till morning. Today we mulled out to the cornfield and geehawed until sundown. Then we supperd and then we piped for a while. After that we staircased up to our room and bedsteaded until the clock fived."

A Maxwell Grows Better the More You Drive It

THAT is the test of anything good. The more you use a good watch the better it runs. The older your friends grow the better you like them.

And nothing is more pat on a Maxwell than this.

Hardly a day goes by that some Maxwell owner doesn't take his pen in hand and write that he is now passing a mark of 30,000 miles or 20,000, or 50,000.

To purchase such a man's Maxwell from him would be like trying to buy an heirloom from a rich man.

But these Maxwells of today are far better cars than those of yesterday.

For it is the policy of the Maxwell Motor Company to keep on building and building on the original chassis plan set down 5 years ago.

300,000 Maxwells have been built on this program.

1000 refinements have been made since the first car was built.

Each new Maxwell is better than yesterday's.

For doing one thing always results in doing it well.

This Maxwell you see today is so vastly improved in appearance that you may think it a new model.

But it isn't. Just a better looking Maxwell. And a better car.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

A Valued Legal Fee

By CHARLES LEWIS PHIPPS

I have a theory that there is some good in every calling. My friend Thurston is a divorce lawyer. When I one day expressed a wish that he should devote himself to some other calling he told me the following story:

A couple one day came into my office to ask me if I would not get a divorce for them. There was every reason, judging from appearance, why they should not be divorced. The man was twenty-two or twenty-three years old, the woman about twenty, and she carried a child in her arms perhaps a year old, a bright little chap who took in everything with wondering eyes. They were of the poorer class, as was indicated by their dress.

"We want a divorce," said the man, "because we can't live together in peace. She's always nagging me because I don't make more money to make us comfortable."

"What is your complaint?" I asked the woman.

"I have to scratch all day long to make ends meet. I can't go out to earn anything on account of the child, who needs so much care that I can't even get time to do the housework. If I could be independent I might make plans. I could put the boy in some institution where I would be relieved of his care and earn enough to support myself in peace without this eternal bickering."

I invited them to be seated. The boy could stand, but was not yet able to walk. He stood by his mother, steadying himself by holding on to her dress, [illegible] attention every minute. I thought that if I were subjected to such a strain I should soon go to a sanitarium.

"I don't see," I said, "that a divorce will help you two, and I do see that you are giving up a good deal of happiness from some cause which it is quite possible to rectify. You both have a blessing which has been denied me. I would give $10,000 for a boy like that if he were my son."

"Would you?" asked the woman, a change coming over her face and looking from me to her child with pleasure. The man said nothing, but I saw that my remark had struck home.

"What can you do to make a living?" I asked the man.

"I'm a gardener."

"A gardener!" I repeated. "A man whose work is in the open air, trimming hedges, turning up the fresh earth in the spring to make a place for flowers. When the grass gets too high he runs a lawn mower over it. Why, do you know that I am joyfully anticipating half an hour's work cutting my grass this evening before dinner?

"Perhaps you think I am contented in these well furnished offices. So I am, but because I force myself over the disagreeable features of my work. I find a drop of comfort in that work occasionally in pointing out to some couple that in not sweetening their discomforts they are going wrong."

The earnestness with which I spoke the words attracted the boy's attention. I held out my hand to him, and, leaving his mother, with three staggering steps, he came to me.

"That's the first walking that ever he did," exclaimed the mother gleefully. The father's lowering brow relaxed and he smiled. I took the child in my arms and kissed him. Then I finished my work in reuniting his parents with him on my knee, for the best work I do as a divorce lawyer is what I am telling you.

"Where are you working now?" I asked the man.

"I'm not working anywhere. I am looking for a job."

I thought a moment, then asked again, "How much money have you?"

In a shamefaced manner he told me that he had $25, which he had brought with him to pay—so far as it would go—for a divorce.

"You won't pay me the money for a divorce," I said, "for it would be a sin for me to get a divorce for a young man with a pretty wife, a lovely boy and a knowledge of gardening. Besides, this is the season for your work—play, I call it—the month of April, when the buds are opening in the sunshine, the birds are building their nests, while you are thinking of destroying yours. Go home. Do the best you can with the money you have, and I will look about for a job for you. I hope to find one before your funds are all gone, though you should use every effort to find one yourself."

I saw that I had produced all the effect that I could have expected and more. The expression of both husband and wife had changed, being lighted with hope. They rose, and the man asked if there was not something he could do for me for "taking up my time," as he put it, and I told him that he could. I would be amply repaid if I saw him take his wife and child in an embrace. The wife looked up at him appealingly. I handed her the child, and the husband did as I had suggested. It happened to strike the boy's fancy to put one arm around his father's and the other around his mother's neck, and I had the pleasure of seeing a trio embrace.

I pledge you my word that was the most valued fee I have received in years.

I secured a place for the man as gardener, and the couple have since lived happily in a lodge on the place.

Life Prolonged by Rigid Diet.

General Booth (II.), who is sixty-two, has no grounds for disagreement with the food controller, the London Chronicle remarks, for he has for many years proved the wisdom of observing a strict dietary. At fourteen his life was despaired of; at seventeen the doctors gravely announced that he would not see twenty-one, and for three or four years he could not even walk upstairs without assistance. By adopting a rigid vegetarian regimen and resolving to keep himself alive by hard work, he attained a healthy middle age and today, notwithstanding the pressure of war work in which the Salvation army is engaged, he maintains extraordinary vigor.

"I Do Not Know Just What Is The Matter But I Seem To Be Losing My Grip"

"WELL, I know. You have been worrying too much until you have got your nervous system all run down."

"I could not help that. I guess you would worry, too, if you had all the troubles I have had."

"Perhaps. But I think I have learned a lesson. Worrying does not get you anywhere."

"Well, what am I to do?"

"If you will take my advice you will use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. That is what got my nervous system right when I had that breakdown a couple of years ago, and I have been talking it up ever since."

"How will it benefit me?"

"It will restore vigor to your nervous system. The trouble is now that your nerve force is at such a low ebb that your vital organs are slow and weak in action. You do not get the good of the food you eat, and for this reason you have no chance of gaining strength and vitality."

"But how long will I have to take this treatment?"

"If you could take a rest it would help some, but mark my words you will not be using the Nerve Food more than a week or two before you begin to see the benefits, and then you will not need me to encourage you in its use."

"I think I will follow your advice, for judging from what you say the Nerve Food is exactly what I need."

"You will not be sorry, for I have recommended it to scores of men in just such condition as you are to-day, and I know just what it will do."

"Thank you, old man, I only hope it will give me such energy and vitality as you have."

"It certainly will if you give it a fair chance."

HAD ATMOSPHERE OF HOME

Ambassador Quick to See Attraction "Hostess House" Would Have for Americans in London.

It was an amusing incident that first made the need of the hostess house apparent in London. In 1917 certain American members of a Canadian unit had business with the American ambassador, but could come to him only on Sunday. Mr. Page suggested that they come to tea at his house. Six of them arrived, and Mrs. Page poured tea in the drawing-room. It was very cheery and cordial, but somehow the business hung over. They had to meet another Sunday.

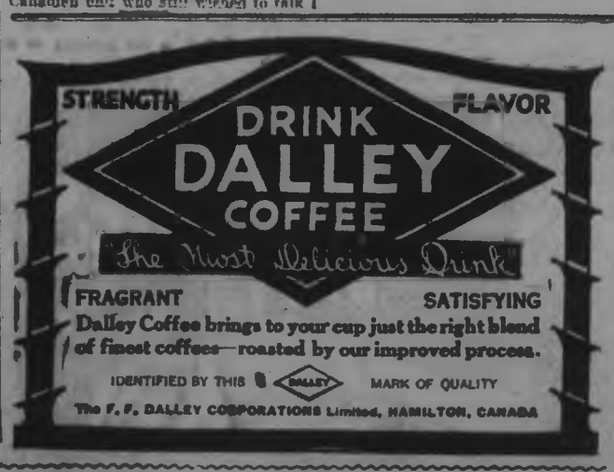
This time there were ten Americans—and the business was not completed. Mr. Page suggested a third Sunday, and 20 Americans came to transact business with him on that day.

During the following week he suggested that the Americans in the Canadian unit who still wished to talk to him should come to his house a fourth Sunday and wind up affairs with him, and on the fourth Sunday the Page drawing room was packed with soldiers.

The ambassador told his associates about it, and one of them chaffed an American who had gone there to tea. "Ambassadors are popular with you Yanks!" he said.

"Oh, the ambassador's all right!" conceded the American. "But we didn't attach much importance to the business. It was Mrs. Page. She served us tea around an honest-to-goodness log fire, with a tea wagon and fixings. It was great!"

And there you are! Mindful of those Sundays, Mr. Page realized that with the advent of American forces in England a substitute home for them was an immediate necessity; so he was the moving spirit in the establishment by the Y. M. C. A. of the American Officers' inn at 5 Cavendish square, London.



A New Jersey inventor has patented a horizontal paddle wheel with feathering paddles, to be submerged under motor boats and with which they also can be steered.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

TAKE A GLASS OF SALTS BEFORE BREAKFAST IF YOUR BACK HURTS OR BLADDER IS TROUBLING YOU.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver troubles, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat, and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

GRAIN MARKET

A announcement yesterday that Hoover was preparing a programme of milling percentages, with a view to putting the world back to a war bread basis for the next three months, or until the new crops come in, met at immediate response in the grain markets to a big boost to prices for all the coarse grains. At Chicago, May corn jumped to 3 1-8c. higher at the close, July up 5 1-4c., and September up 4 1-2c. Oats followed suit with May up 1 1-4c., July up 1 3-8c., and September up 1c. Winnipeg oats went up 1c. and barley, 1 1-4c.

In the local cash market, oats are up 1c. to 1 5-8c. Ontario oats are quoted 2c. higher, and Ontario barley, 3c. higher. Buckwheat 5c. up, and rye 10c. up. Manitoba flour is firmer, with only the one price quoted, $11.

Manitoba wheat—In store, Fort William; No. 1 Northern, $2.24 1-2; No. 2 Northern, $2.20 1-2; No. 3 Northern $2.17 1-2; No. 4 wheat, $2.11 1-2.

American corn—No. 2, $1.85, nominal; No. 4, $1.82, prompt shipment, track, Toronto.

Manitoba barely, in store, Fort William, No. 3, C.W., $1.08 3-8; No. 5, C. W., $1.02 1-8; rejected, 96 1-2c.; feed, 96 1-2c.

Ontario wheat—No. 1 winter, $2.14 to $2.22; No. 2 winter, $2.11 to $2.19; No. 3 winter, $2.07 to $2.15; No. 1 spring, $2.00 to $2.17; No. 2 spring, $2.08 to $2.14; No. 3 spring, $2.02 to $2.10 f.o.b., shipping points, according to freight.

Ontario oats—No. 2, white, 75c. to 77c.; No. 3, 73c. to 75c., according to freight outside.

Barley—Malting—$1 to $1.05.

Peas—No. 2, $2.05, nominal, according to freight outside.

Buckwheat—No. 2, $1.15, nominal.

Rye—No. 2, $1.70, nominal.

Manitoba flour, government standard, $11, Toronto.

Ontario flour—Government standard $9.65 to $9.75. Toronto-Montreal, $9.65 to $9.75, new bags.

Mill feed—Car lots, delivered, Montreal; shorts, $55; bran, $42 to $45; feed flour, not quoted; middlings, not quoted; good feed flour, per bag, $2.65 to $2.75.

CATTLE MARKET

Receipts of cattle and other live stock during the week have been unusually light, even for a holiday week, when receipts usually fall off a little, following the heavier buying preceding a holiday. The result has been a strong market for all grades of cattle, but particularly for the handy weight class of choice butcher steers and heifers. Heavy steers have not been quite so keen in demand as the lighter stuff. Prices have averaged about 50c. higher for the week, perhaps a little more on the choicest light butcher.

Fat cows and butcher bulls have been firm and strong at high prices.

Good quality feeders and stockers were in good demand early in the week, quite a few loads being shipped back into the country on farmers' orders.

Choice calves in good demand, but medium quality slow.

Yearling lambs have proved quite a drag in the market, while sheep were wanted and were marketed at higher prices.

Hogs have again surprised all parties by going over all previous high points in this market. Supplies have been small and prices reached the high record levels at $21.50 to $21.75 f.o.b. basis.

Pay of Girl Apprentices.

The Women's Labor League alleged that the Minimum Wage Board was merely the tool of employers, and that during their terms of office the members had spent $5,000 for no good purpose, before the Law Amendments Committee of the Manitoba Legislature. The Labor League declared that in no case should working girls be paid less than $12 a week, and that the apprenticeship clause is used to prevent the girls from getting a square deal. The members assert that the girls can barely exist on the wages which they get in some places as apprentices. Mrs. George Armstrong, secretary of the league, who acted as chief spokesman cited instances of the deplorable conditions which girl apprentices are forced to submit to because of the inadequacy of their wages.

Five Million Victims of "Flu"

Terrible Toll Recorded in India.

Canadian Press:

LONDON, April 25. — Almost five million persons have died in British India from Spanish influenza, and fully one million others are believed to have died in the native states from the same cause, according to a report of the Indian Government, made public here.

"I have seen a bad leader give the most popular music imaginable to a crowd and awaken no response whatever; while a good leader would give a wholly unknown composition to the same people and you would see them strongly responsive. So one can put it down as an axiom, that we cannot know, it is impossible to know, whether people will like a given composition until it is given to them by a thoroughly competent conductor." This was the observation of the supervisor of municipal concerts in New York city.

Magic!

Costs few cents! Drop a little Freezone on that touchy corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out with the fingers.

Why wait? Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of Freezone for a few cents, sufficient to rid your feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and calluses, without soreness or irritation. Freezone is the much talked of discovery of the Cincinnati genius.

Kingston's "Ex" Asks City to Bear Share

KINGSTON.—It was recommended at the meeting of the City Property Committee that Chairman Corbett and City Clerk Sands draw up a report in reply to a communication received from Mr. R. J. Bushell, manager of the Kingston Fair. In the letter Mr. Bushell asked that the city go equally with the Fair Association in their expenditure on repairs to the Fair grounds. Last year the city spent $1,000, while the Fair Association expended some $2,600 on repairs. To complete the work on the buildings, paint and glass would make a decided change. Chairman Corbett and City Clerk Sands will draw up the report immediately, and present the same to Mr. Bushell, whereby he may report to the directors.

Demonstrations In Support of the Cabinet

(Canadian Press.)

ROME, April 27. — The "Italia" says, that because he was acquainted with President Wilson's views on the Italian claims, Thomas Nelson Page, the American Ambassador to Rome, offered his resignation. There was great excitement among the members of the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate to-day over the situation in Paris.

Many of the members expressed the opinion that Italy should warn Great Britain and France that they cannot conclude peace without Italy, according to the treaty between the allies.

Telegrams from the cities and villages throughout Italy describe the organization of demonstrations in support of the Cabinet.

When the renowned William Ewart Gladstone expressed his judgment on any question the world listened. Mr. Gladstone said that music is one of the most forcible instruments for training, for arousing, for governing the mind and spirit of man.

Specks Floating Before His Eyes

When specks start to float before the eyes, when everything turns black for a few seconds and you feel as if you were going to faint, you may rest assured that your liver is not working properly.

The essential thing to do in all cases where the liver is slow, lazy or torpid, is to stir it up by the use of a medicine that will clear away all the waste and poisonous matter from the system, and prevent as well as cure all the troubles arising from this accumulated mass which has collected in the system.

Keep the bowels open by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no liver trouble of any kind. They will clear away all the waste and effette matter which has collected and make the liver active and working properly.

Mr. John R. Morrison, Grand River Falls, N.S., writes: "Several months ago I was troubled with a sour stomach, and had specks floating before my eyes. I took five vials of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills which cured and cleaned my blood before any length of time. I told my friends about it and they got some, and they, too, find themselves different since they took them. I recommend your pills very highly."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Big Strike Threatened In Toronto

Special to the Examiner:

TORONTO, April 26.—Unless negotiations are opened between the employers in the iron trades in Toronto and the Metal Trades Council before May 1, the whole of the metal trades will call a general strike, which will involve over 6,000 mechanics and over 200 Toronto employers. This is the decision of the delegates to the Metal Trade Council last night, when the whole situation was discussed and the reply of the Toronto Employees' Association, through Secretary J. G. Merick, was presented to the meeting. The dispute includes the pattern-makers, moulders, machinists, boiler-makers, metal polishers and kindred trades in the iron industry. The delegates to the Council last night decided to abide by the decision of the members in the metal trades to cease work on May 1 if negotiations are not opened by the employers. The situation at present looks very much like a general strike of the metal trades on May 1.

To-morrow night the boiler-makers meet to take the final steps in preparation. Next week the moulders and machinists will do the same thing. The pattern-makers and some of the others have already taken all the necessary steps. Several of the international officers of the various unions will be in town next week to aid in the final stages of preparations

The Peace Terms Will Be Handed German Representatives To-morrow

League of Nations Covenant Made Public—Italian Situation Becoming Worse—Borden Presided at Several Committee Meetings—Sunday and Saturday Evening Bulletins.

Monday Morning Bulletin:

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The State Department made public last night the text of the revised covenant of the League of Nations as it will be presented to-day to the plenary session of the Peace Conference at Paris.

Final Arrangements.

BERLIN, April 28.— German delegates to the Peace Conference will travel to Versailles on three special trains. The last train reached there to-day. The expected peace terms will be handed to the German representatives on Tuesday evening.

Situation is Worse.

PARIS, April 28.—The Italian situation is becoming more tense and a near return of the Italian delegation to Paris is diminishing.

Gompers is Injured.

NEW YORK, April 28. — Samuel Gompers, president of the American Affiliation of Labour, was seriously injured yesterday when a street car hit a taxi he was riding in.

Borden Presides at Meetings.

PARIS, April 28.—Sir Robert Borden presided at several meetings of the British delegations during the latter part of the week.

Sunday Evening Bulletin:

LONDON, Eng., April 27.—There are no new developments in the difficulty with the Italians regarding the Adriatic question, so far as can be learned, but increasing confidence is expressed in American circles that a satisfactory settlement will be reached.

Italians Are One.

ROME, April 27.—The newspapers here emphasise the solidity of the Italian people in demanding that Fiume shall become Italian. The executive committee of the Liberal party has followed the lead of the other parties in endorsing Premier Orlando's position.

Accepted Invitation.

VIENNA, April 27. — The German-Austrian government has accepted the invitation of the German government to send five members of the National Assembly to Weimar to join in the discussions of the German National Assembly.

Saturday Evening Bulletin:

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The British Embassy announced to-day that Lord Reading will return to England on May the third.

Autonomous Fiume.

LONDON, April 26.—The Italian delegation, in a statement, denies reports received from Rome that the Adriatic difficulties were in course of settlement. Delegations consider absurd the plan for an autonomous Fiume, but under the sovereignty of Italy.

Araguaya Troops Arrive.

TORONTO, April 26.—Troops off the hospital ship "Araguaya" will arrive at the North Toronto station at 7.15 to-night

Bacon Prices Still Going Up

Price Likely to Go Up Next Week—Big Demand Overseas.

There seems to be little doubt that bacon and ham will increase in price next week. Whether the increase will be ten cents a pound, as has been reported, has not yet been confirmed, but the increase is certain, according to some of the well-known pork packers. For the past three weeks hogs have increased 4 cents a pound, and this week the wholesale price increased from one cent to a cent and a half a pound in price. As the increased price is being paid to the farmers, the wholesalers will have to advance their price, and it then rests with the retailers to do likewise in order that the general public shall stand the extra expense.

"You'd better see the people you heard it from. I don't know the first thing about it," was the only reply of General Manager Fox of the William Davies Company when consulted.

The overseas demand appears to have placed the trade in an awkward position. There has been a heavy demand overseas. In England, since the removing of the restrictions on March 1st, the price has advanced ten shillings per hundred weight. The restrictions were removed by the Government in the hope of bringing down the price, but the opposite occured. The demand from the continent immediately absorbed any surplus supplies, and the price immediately increased.

The Women Are Blamed For a Part of the Title Evil

The Democratic Committee at Ottawa is Very Unanimous, Excepting Only Dr. Clark—More Pay for the King.

OTTAWA, April 28.—Fifteen representatives of as many Canadian constituencies, some with pipes, cigars, or cigarettes in their mouths, some with their hats on their heads, sat in front of a table in the big committee room of the Commons Saturday to devise ways and means for the abolition, or restriction of, titular honours. In their views on the subject they were just about as democratic as they looked, for they hadn't been conferring more than fifteen minutes when they reached the unmurmuring conclusion that there should be no more hereditary titles conferred on men domiciled in Canada, and that those already conferred should die with the holders.

Dr. Clark Stands Alone.

The appointment of that committee to decide the titles' question may be compared with the selection of a hangman to try a criminal. With the exception of Dr. Clark, of Red Deer, who at the outset of the discussion desired to withdraw because he realized that he was in a hopeless minority on the subject, since he believed that the giving of a title was a matter between the King and his subjects, practically every member had his mind made up before he entered the room.

The Red Deer member, however, was not permitted to withdraw, Nesbitt, of Oxford, bluntly observing that he "need not think he was the most important person in the House because he had an opinion of his own."

Dr. Whidden, of Brandon, who, by the way, was addressed by Chairman Nickle as plain "Mr. Whidden," was of the opinion that His Majesty had precious little to do with the granting of titles, and that Canada in requesting that titles be not conferred upon Canadians was casting no slurs at the King's feet.

More Pay for King.

Fred. Pardee, of West Lambton, declared that if the thing went on His Majesty would be compelled to take several days off every week for investitures, whereat Hon. W. S. Fielding remarked irreverently: "We will have to increase His Majesty's indemnity."

There were present: Nickle (appointed chairman), Nesbitt, Richardson, Sinclair, Pardee, Elkin, Clark, Col. Peck, Copp, Middleboro, Whidden, MacMaster, McCurdy, Fielding, Green, and Jacobs—a packed jury, and the verdict was guilty.

Frequently when the names of Canada's titled citizens were mentioned, the press was requested to refrain from reporting the passages. A description of the title market in England was also censored, as also were certain charges of military discrimination. Such censored passages were interesting in the extreme, but not calculated to be good reading for the public.

Fifteen minutes, it has been said, disposed of hereditary titles and deprived the sons of holders of such of the right to wear them when their sires had died. But when it came to the question of the ordinary life sort, Hon. W. S. Fielding desired to know whether it was the prefix or the affix variety that the committee was after.

"In my opinion," he said, "what is worrying the people is the tacking of titles in front of names. If a title could be given without calling the holder Sir or Baron or Lord Wealthy, then I think the democratic feeling of the country would be satisfied."

V. C. Makes Plea.

A very prominent member of the committee took a hand in the discussion at this point. He sat in the front seat smoking a cigar. His lower limbs were fixed in tartan trews and black leggings. His Sam Brown belt encircled an ample girth. His khaki tunic met across a tremendous chest, and on the left of it were sewn the ribbons of the 1914-15 Star, the Distinguished Service Order, and that most democratic, but most coveted of all decorations, the Victoria Cross. His name is Colonel "Si" Peck, member for Skeena, and he is a Radical and a Free Trader. From him came a plea that for work in this war there should be consideration in the matter of honours.

"The most democratic countries in the world," he declared, "have military decorations. As far as my chief decoration is concerned," and he fingered the little bronze cross set in the maroon ribbon on his breast, "it can't be taken away, not even by the hand of the King." He then proceeded to cite certain cases where failure to confer titles would act as a reflection upon those, who, under the standards existing, whether these standards were evil or not, had won them. "Having given titles to many, it would be unfair now to those who have served just as faithfully to cut them off," he declared.

Some Deserving Ones.

Somebody remarked that there was a list in England containing 25,000 titular candidates. He didn't know how many were Canadians, but he thought that the thing should be stopped. And Elkin, of St. John, remarked, "What I chiefly object to is the system whereby men like Max Aitken can go down and get a title for a man in half an hour. In connection, however, with the deserving ones, the evil having existed, it might be unfair to discriminate now."

McMaster, of Brome, foresaw in the continued granting of titles for military services the creation of a military aristocracy, which he did not believe either the people or the soldiers themselves desired. He did not object to the conferring of honours which were purely military.

"The Victoria Cross," he declared, "which I venture to say is the most prized of all the honours which my honorable friend (Colonel Peck) wears, is a democratic distinction since it is conferred upon men of all ranks. But titles were only conferred on men of the higher ranks though in their sphere of work they might not have been any more devoted than those of the lower.

Social Tomfoolery.

There were many who agreed with this view. "We don't want a military aristocracy," said Fred. Pardee. But Dr. Clark thought that the time for breaking off titles was not fortunate.

Dr. Whidden, of Brandon (who has several honorary titles), didn't agree with Dr. Clark. "There is a long list now," he said, "how much longer is it going to be if you don't strike at the present time? We have enough social tomfoolery already in the country. It is not so much in connection with the holders of titles that the objectionable feature arises. It is the wives of the men more than the men themselves who have spoiled them. What business have we here with social procession order? When we think of our own mothers it makes our blood boil. We are not casting any slurs at the King by asking that the thing be stopped. The King has precious little to do with titles.

"The whips largely handle them," said Mr. Fielding, "for a consideration."

The committee will meet again on Wednesday.

Soft answers do not turn away wrath caused by soft coal.

Girls are delicate vessels which require a small fortune every season to keep them in sails.

YALE PROFESSORS' SALARIES INCREASED

NEW HAVEN, April 26.—The Yale Corporation authorized a subscription by the university of $300,000 in the Fifth Liberty Loan, it was announced here. Other action taken by the corporation at a meeting Monday included:—

A committee of three was directed to consider names for the new positions of provost and dean of students at Yale. It was voted to increase salaries of all professors receiving less than $4,000 a year to $4,000. Professor Edgar E. Robinson, of Leland Stanford University, was appointed to give instruction in history next year in the absence of Professor Max Farrand.

Stephen Whitney, of New Haven was named director of the Yale Bureau of the American University Union in Paris, in succession of Professor Jepson, who returned in May Otto T. Bannard, of New York, was appointed chairman of committee to consider the budget and other matters relating to the Yale Medical School.

MRS. BALFAME

Suddenly Broderick raised his head and his sharp roving gaze darted into hers. "I had not fully intended to tell you of a discovery made by one of us yesterday. We have told no one as yet—waiting for just the right moment to publish it. But I think I'll tell you. There is evidence that two revolvers were fired that night. One killed David Balfame, and a bullet from the other penetrated the tree before the house and slightly to the right of where he must have stood for a moment. Bruce here dug it out. Now, not only did the men at Gifning's not hear two shots—indicating that they were fired simultaneously—but one bullet came from a .38 and the other from a .41."

Mrs. Balfame stood up. Really, gentlemen, I did not consent to see you in order to help you solve riddles. But possibly you know better than I that gunmen generally travel in pairs. I am convinced that my husband—" (they applauded her for not saying "my poor husband") "was killed by one of those creatures, hired by his political enemies. Unless I can tell you something more of interest—if, indeed, you have found anything to interest the great New York public in this interview—I will ask you to excuse me."

The young men were politely on their feet. "And you have no pistol—nor ever had?"

She laughed outright. "Are you trying to fasten the crime on me?"

"Oh, no, indeed. Only, in a case like this, one leaves no stone unturned—I hope you do not think we are rude."

Mothers!

Your little one won't smile
If its liver's full of bile.
Cascarets set things right
When kiddies' tongues turn white.
They bring relief and joy
To constipated girl or boy.
Children think them dandy—
They are mild cathartic candy.

Children gladly take Cascarets when cross, feverish, bilious, constipated, because Cascarets taste like candy. If your child has a tainted breath, coated tongue or a cold—give Cascarets as directed on each 10 cent box. Then don't worry. Cascarets work like a charm and can not harm the child's tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

EXAMINER PATTERN SERVICE

A SERVICEABLE GARMENT.

2421—How comfortable this dress will be when you know it is easily adjusted and that it is not cumbersome. You may slip it over your best dress when called to help in household duties, and be ready for service in a moment. The model is nice for khaki, galatea, gingham, chambray, drill or linene. The closing is reversible. The belt ends hold the fulness over the sides and back at the waistline.

The pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. Size 38 requires 6 yards of 36-inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 15c in silver or stamps. Address to Examiner Pattern Service, Examiner Office, Peterboro.

"I only just realize that quite the most polite young men I have ever met have been hoping to make me incriminate myself. If I had not been so dense I should have dismissed you long since. Good night."

And, once more looking human in her just indignation, she lifted her proud head and swept out of the room.

The young men left the house and, adjourned to a private room in the rear of their favourite saloon. For twenty minutes they rehearsed the interview carefully, those that had taken notes correcting any lapses of memory on the part of those that had elected to watch as well as listen.

Broderick and many of the men were firmly of the opinion that Mrs. Balfame had committed the crime; others believed that she was shielding some one else; the less experienced were equally positive that no guilty woman taken off her guard repeatedly, as she had been, could "put it over" like that. She had talked and acted like an innocent woman."

"She acted, all right," said Broderick. "I for one am convinced that she did it. But whether she did or didn't she's got to be indicted and tried. This case, boys, is too big to throw away—too damned big; and she's already a personality to the public. She's the only one we have the ghost of chance with; the only one whose arrest and trial would keep the interest going—"

"But say!" It was the youngest reporter that interrupted. "I call it lowdown to fasten a crime on a possibly innocent woman—a lady—keep her in jail for months; try her for murder! Why, even if she were acquitted, she would carry the stigma through life."

"Don't get sentimental, sonny," said Broderick patiently. "Sentiment is to the vanquished in this game. When you've been it as long as the rest of us you'll know that in nine cases out of ten the real solution of any mystery is the simplest. Balfame drank. He had a violent temper when drunk. He was a dog at best. She must have hated him. Look at her. We have reason to believe that she did hate him and that her friends knew it. She thought of divorce two years ago. Gave it up because she was afraid of losing her leadership in this provincial hole. Look at her. She is as proud as Lucifer. And as hard as nails. There had been an ugly scene at the club that afternoon. He mortified her publicly. She was so overcome she had to leave. I've a hunch she poisoned that lemonade and got it out of the way in time. She's the sort that would think of nearly everything. Not quite, of course. Otherwise she would never have invented on the spur of the moment that story of drinking it herself; she'd have had the assumption on tap that one of the neighbours had drunk it. That complication, however, is yet to prove. It merely points a finger at her—straight; what we've got to prove and prove quick is that she was out of doors when that shot was fired—"

"Would you like to see her in the chair?' gasped young Loring.

"Good Lord, no. Not the least danger. Women of that sort don't go to the chair. If she even got a term, I'd head a petition to let her out, for she's a dead game sport, and I'm only after good front page stuff." He turned to Ryder Bruce of the evening edition of his newspaper. "You make love to that German hired girl. She hates us all, for we represent the real American press—that hasn't a hyphen in it. I sensed that. And I don't believe she's all the fool she looks. I believe she can tell something—few servants that can't—and that she only pretended at the inquest that she knew nothing because she was nearly dead with pain and wanted it over. Well, she had the tooth out this morning, and at least she isn't quite as hideous as she was; so go to it, old boy. Get 'round her and do it quick. Use money if necessary. There's not a day to lose. Find out what she wants most—probably it's to send her sweetheart at the front something more substantial than mitts and bands. Got me?"

"I get you," said young Bruce gloomily. "You've picked me out because I'm blond and round faced and can pass myself off as a German. I wish I'd been born an Italian. Nice job, making love to that. But I'll do it."

Good boy. Well, s'long. I'm off on a trail of my own. I'll report later. May be nothing in it."

CHAPTER XIII.

Broderick walked slowly toward Elsinore Avenue, sounding his memory for certain fugitive impressions, his active mind at the same time casting about for the current which would connect them.

He looked at his watch. He was to dine with the Crumleys at seven and it lacked but ten minutes of the hour; nevertheless he walked more slowly still, his eyes staring at the ground, his brow channeled.

On Sunday afternoon he had spent two hours with Alys Crumley. At first she had been reluctant to talk of any but the salient phases of the murder, but being appealed to as a "good old pal" and reminded that real newspaper people stood together, she finally had described the scene at the Country Club on the afternoon preceding Balfame's death, and shown him the drawing she had the superior presence of mind to make. Broderick had examined every detail of that rapid but demonstrative sketch; the burly form at the head of the room, his condition indicated by an angle of the shoulders and a deft exaggeration of feature which recalled the facile art of the cartoonist; the strained forms of the men surrounding him; Mrs. Balfame heading down the room, her face set and terrible; the groups of women and girls in attitudes expressive of alarm or disgust.

But when he made as if to put the sketch in his pocket she had snatched it from him, and he merely had shrugged his shoulders, confident that he could induce her to give it up should he really need it.

He had questioned her regarding the scene until its outlines were as firm in his mind as in her own. But there had been something else—some impression, not obviously linked with the case. It was for that impression that he sounded his admirable memory; and in a moment he found it and stopped with a smothered exclamation.

GUM DECAY CAUSES TOOTH DECAY

Healthy teeth need healthy gums to hug them. Else they will loosen in Pyorrhea. Tiny openings will come in the gums to let in the gateways of disease germs, which infect the joints or tonsils, or cause other ailments.

Forhan's prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. No mere toothpaste can. Are your gums tender gums? Are they bleeding gums? If so, you are certain to have Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease). Four out of five people who are over forty have it. To you we earnestly recommend Forhan's. It prevents the gums which hold the teeth to recede.

Brush your teeth with it. Forhan's cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

GAVE ONE INTERVIEW.

How Wilfrid Laurier Dodged Very Difficult Question.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier made it a rule during his long public career never to give an interview to a newspaper. He was always polite and courteous, but with his well-known smile reminded the newspaper man of his decision on this point. One of the few times—perhaps the only time—when he broke his rule was on his return from his trip abroad in 1897. It will be recalled that the chief subject of discussion during the campaign of 1896 was the Manitoba school question. Sir Charles Tupper, the leader of the Conservative Government at that time, had brought in a Remedial Bill to force Catholic schools on the Province of Manitoba, and naturally expected to carry the Province of Quebec. The Roman Catholic bishops, with perhaps one exception, supported Sir Charles, and even after the Conservatives were defeated kept up the agitation. Sir Wilfrid, after his visit to England, took a trip to Rome, and coincidentally the agitation against him died away. When it was known that he had sailed for home a number of newspaper men went down to Rimouski to meet the incoming ship. Sir Wilfrid received them with his usual courtesy, but after a few salutations retired to his stateroom. Among the correspondents was Mr. Charles Marcil, afterward Speaker of the House of Commons, and after some consideration he resolved to make a personal appeal, on behalf of all the correspondents, for an interview. Sir Wilfrid finally consented, and the correspondents were invited to his stateroom. He told them that he had not been able to resist the appeal of his friend, "Charlie" Marcil, but exacted a promise that if any questions were asked which he did not feel like answering no reference should be made to it, and, further, that every answer which he did make should be taken down in writing exactly as he gave it. These conditions were loyally carried out, and the interview no doubt appeared more or less perfunctory when it was published in the newspapers. As more than twenty years have elapsed, and the Manitoba school question was forgotten long ago, there can be no objection or breach of faith to Sir Wilfrid in revealing now what was said on that matter. Towards the end of the interview, Mr. Marcil remarked that the information about Sir Wilfrid's travels was all very interesting, but "what the people of Canada would like to know is what happened when you saw his holiness the Pope." This was treading on delicate ground. It was the one subject which Sir Wilfrid wished to avoid, and his face was a study for a few minutes. Finally he smiled and said: "Well, gentlemen, now you know why I decline to give interviews, but I see that I shall have to say something about my visit to Rome." The correspondents had high expectations of a good story, but this is what followed: "Put the question this way," said Sir Wilfrid: "Who were the persons I met abroad who impressed me the most?" Then he added: "Her Majesty the Queen, the President of France and his holiness the Pope." And that was all about the visit to Rome.

Dominion Friction Surface Belting Gives Long and Continuous Service

Here is an instance where one Dominion Friction Surface Belt outlasted four other belts.

The St. Maurice Paper Co., Limited, Three Rivers, Quebec, has a particularly heavy drive with constantly changing load. During the first 21 months after its installation the belts of four different manufacturers failed completely.

Our engineers made a careful study of this drive and recommended a Dominion Friction Surface belt of a special type that has more than made good our claims of superiority.

Last August The St. Maurice Co., wrote us that our belt had "operated the drive without the slightest trouble or the loss of one minute" and that "it looks good for many more months of service."

Our belting experts will be glad to study your belting equipment with a view to making only such recommendations as will cut belting costs or increase the output of your plant.

This service is within your reach, by phone, wire or letter to our nearest service branch and is free of cost to all users of belting.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

A DEAF MUTE

By JOHN Y. LARNED

Dan Goodwin, an American globe trotter, when the big European war broke out was in Brussels. Dan always wanted to be in everything, but in an independent capacity. As for seeing the fight in the ranks, that was not to his taste. He had no mind to be bossed, and, as for living in a trench, he infinitely preferred a front room in a hotel.

Leaving Brussels, he went to Liege, then to the top of a high hill and watched the Germans smash the works defending that city. He found it very pleasant looking on from a safe distance, watching successive missiles and noting the damage they did or their failure to do damage. He enjoyed the bombardment for some time without getting into any danger, then one morning woke up to find the city in possession of the Germans. This was getting too near to the other side, and, availing himself of his American passport, he withdrew to Brussels.

One morning Dan went to the front to look for a good place from which to see a battle. Suddenly a troop of uhlans came down on him. Seeing their approach, he felt in his pocket for his passport. It was gone.

Though the uhlans when he made this discovery were but a few hundred yards away, Dan did a large job of thinking before they reached him. He had heard a great deal of the looking out for spies on both sides, and it occurred to him that he would be mistaken for one. What should he do? A spy must be able to see. If he couldn't see he couldn't be a spy. He would pretend to be blind.

Fortunately he carried a cane and began at once to tap the ground before him with the evident intent to feel his way. The Germans, seeing this when they reached him, drew aside to let him pass, but the captain of the troop pulled up and said in German:

"Who are you, and where are you going?"

Dan understood enough German to know the question he had been asked, but it occurred to him to pretend that he didn't. He walked right on till he ran against the captain's horse, then started back, imitating the action of a blind man.

"He's a deaf mute, captain," suggested a lieutenant.

"Deaf mute be hanged!" replied the captain. "He can hear and see as well as any of us."

This gave Dan the idea to play that he could neither see, hear nor speak, and he decided to play the three cards instead of one. He made the throat sounds of a mute.

"Bring him along," said the captain. "They can find out about him at head quarters."

The captain ordered a couple of men to dismount and put Dan upon a horse behind a third man. This was done, Dan making sounds as if in protest, and when he was in position the troop moved on.

When they reached headquarters Dan was taken before an officer whose mustaches alone were fierce enough to strike terror. He heard those who took him there say that he was either a deaf mute or a spy—they did not know which—whereupon the officer said he would soon find out. Dan expected to be searched, but the officer evidently preferred to test him first. Taking a cigar out of his mouth, he extended the lighted end toward Dan's nose. Dan had the nerve to wait till the fire touched the skin, then jumped.

"That will do," said the officer. "He's shamming. He must have felt the heat before the fire touched his nose, but he showed no sign till it burned him."

Dan saw his mistake, but said nothing, keeping up the vacant stare of a blind man. The officer looked doubtful of his discovery and, drawing his sword, brought it to a level with Dan's face and slowly moved it toward his right eye. Dan found that a more trying ordeal than the other test. But he had excellent nerve and did not budge till he saw the point so near his eye that the officer could not be sure he had not touched it. Then he sprang back, with grimaces and guttural sounds in his throat.

The officer, whether convinced or not of his prisoner being a deaf mute, ordered him to be searched. From a hip pocket his passport was taken. When Dan saw it an expression of mingled relief and joy passed over his face, which betrayed him. While those standing about him were still looking at him curiously he broke into a laugh.

"Heaven be praised!" he exclaimed in German. "I thought I had been robbed of it."

The officer opened the passport, saw the seal of the United States, compared the description with the original and, finding that they agreed, was much puzzled.

"What did you pretend to be a deaf mute for?" he asked sternly.

Dan explained the matter, but the German refused to believe him. Instead of freeing him he sent him to the generals who asked him a great many questions which would prove or disprove that he was the original of the passport. Dan spent a month in limbo, every day fearful that he would be shot as a spy, but in time the Germans became satisfied that he was what he pretended to be and released him. Had he been any but an American he would doubtless have been shot.

GROWTH OF OUR COUNTRY.

Wonderful Progress We Have Made in the Past Century.

A century survey of the growth of the United States in population, commerce and industry is presented in a pamphlet, "Statistical Record of the Progress of the United States, 1880-1913," just issued by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce. The publication contains monetary, commercial and financial statistics of this country and, in less detailed form, those of the principal nations of the world and the share which the United States supplies of their imports and takes of their exports.

In area the United States is shown to have increased from 802,135 square miles in 1800 to 3,026,789 in 1913 and in population from 5,308,483 to 97,028,497, exclusive of the island territories now under the American flag. Meantime the production of basic articles of industry shows marked growth: Coal, from 20 tons in 1814 to 477,000,000 in 1912; pig iron, from 54,000 tons in 1810 to 30,000,000 in 1912; copper, from 100 tons in 1845 to 558,000 in 1912; petroleum, from 84,000 gallons in 1859 to over 9,000,000,000 gallons in 1912; cotton from 73,000 running bales of 500 pounds each in 1800 to 14,000,000 in 1912; wheat, from 84,000,000 bushels in 1840 to 730,000,000 in 1912, and corn, from 378,000,000 bushels in 1840 to over 3,000,000,000 in 1912, while similar increases are noted in other products of agriculture, mining and manufacture.

The tables of the pamphlet show a corresponding increase in foreign commerce: Imports, from $55,000,000 in 1821 to $1,813,000,000 in 1913, and domestic exports, from $52,000,000 in 1821 to $2,429,000,000 in 1913, while the share which manufactured products (including prepared foodstuffs) form of the total exports increased from less than $18,000,000 in 1821 to $1,500,000,000 in 1913.

DANGERS OF WIRELESS.

Its Powerful Electric Waves Seriously Affect the Operators.

The latest in the list of occupational maladies is "wireless operators' disease." A German authority reports that the men suffer from impoverished blood, headaches and other untoward symptoms. That these are directly due to the powerful electric waves sent out by their machines has not been directly proved, but incidents are cited that make this appear at least probable. A German scientific journal says:

"Wireless telegraphers are subject to anaemia, in which the number of red blood globules as well as their content of hemoglobin is diminished. The strong ozonization of the air, due to the use of alternating currents of high frequency to send the message, plays an important part. Similar troubles, such as paleness, headache, loss of appetite and bad digestion have often been noted among the electrical workers employed in high tension plants, such as those at Niagara."

Bull Fights Are Expensive.

During 1911 in the 392 rings of Spain 4,394 bulls and 5,618 horses met their death in the bull ring. Ten toreadors were killed and 166 injured. Seven million spectators have spent on this "sport" 21,000,000 pesetas in that poor country. There are forty-four old matadors and 324 so called novilleros. The number of banderilleros, picadores and chutos amounts to 1,128, who annually get more than 4,000,000 pesetas in pay. Machaquito, the most famous "espada," alone earned in sixty bull fights 360,000 pesetas. Annually the value of the killed bulls amounts to 500,000,000 pesetas.—Animals' Guardian.

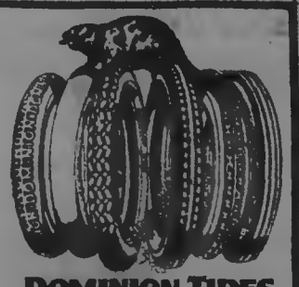
Banishing the Cradle.

Rocking the baby to sleep is now forbidden by law in London, England. Just how the health department of that great city expects to enforce the ordinance it has just passed is not explained. There are many reasons that can be cited against the old fashioned rock-a-by cradle, but they may be summed up by saying that a baby should go to sleep without rocking, which gets it into the very bad habit of being unable to go to sleep without that swinging motion. Modern doctors insist upon regular hours for feeding and sleeping.

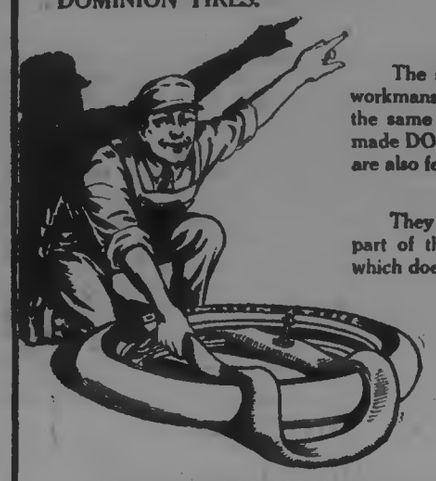
Our Wooden Shoe Wearers.

According to a government announcement, the wooden shoe industry in America is growing. These shoes cost from about 60 to 75 cents a pair and are good for two years. They are worn by those who have to work in cold or wet places, such as tanneries, breweries and livery stables, and by workingmen in steel mills and glass factories who must walk on hot grates or floors.

A Convenience That Every Motorist Will Appreciate



THE Dominion Rubber System goes a step farther than merely making Inner Tubes. You can get "DOMINION" INNER TUBES to perfectly fit every one of the six different DOMINION TIRES.



The same highgrade materials; the same expert workmanship; the same careful inspection and testing; the same assurance of strength and service that have made DOMINION TIRES the most popular in Canada, are also features of "DOMINION" INNER TUBES.

They are not just a "side issue", but a distinctive part of the great Dominion Rubber System and one which does honour to our manufacturing ability.

DOMINION INNER TUBES make Dominion Tires last longer because they make a perfectly balanced tire, they support the tire properly; they protect the casing; they make the tire ride easier.

When you buy DOMINION TIRES, be sure that the tires are fitted with DOMINION INNER TUBES. It assures you the maximum of service—and Dominion Inner Tubes cost no more than the ordinary kind.

DOMINION TIRES and ACCESSORIES are distributed through DOMINION RUBBER SYSTEM BRANCHES and sold by the Best Dealers throughout Canada. 156

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Asthma.

A domestic remedy which is often employed for asthma is made by saturating white blotting paper in a solution of one dram of nitrate of potash dissolved in one ounce of water. The blotting paper is then dried and cut into pieces three inches long and half an inch broad. One of these pieces is lighted and the smoke inhaled. From one to six papers may be employed as an inhalation for the relief of an attack.

Protect the Birds.

Saving the song birds of France is the object of a plan proposed by M. Andre Godart, a Parisian. M. Godart calls attention to the scarcity of birds in France, due to insufficient protection, and the consequent loss to grape growers of the Gironde in 1910 of 40,000,000 of francs, as well as a decrease in the oil production of southern France, so great that the olive growers threatened to abandon the industry. He suggests that goldfinches, bull finches, linnets, yellowhammers, thrushes, blackbirds and starlings, all of which nest readily in gardens, be reared in large and specially designed aviaries and released when full grown to repopulate the now deserted woods and fields.

Explaining It.

"I see, as the blind man said," remarked father when he was trying to be emphatic and facetious at the same time.

"He couldn't, though, could he?" inquired Willie.

"No, son. That was just the blind man's bluff."

IN PROSPECT.

THE useful air
We breathe is free,
A priceless boon
To you and me.
Let's breathe a lot,
Pull deep and fast;
We cannot tell
How long 'twill last.

Though now it stretches
Far and wide,
It may ere long
Be trustified,
And we may be Compelled to pay
For what we use
From day to day.

A snap like that Can't last, I fear,
The end, indeed,
May soon be near.
We may receive,
I grieve to say,
A bill for what
We stow away.

The trust has missed
It's finest bet,
But it will put
A meter yet
On what we breathe,
And come down hard
And make us buy it
By the yard.

No Training Needed.

Farming and writing poetry are two things that every one thinks he can do. Indeed, if there is anything easier than falling off a log it is writing poetry, and if there is anything easier than poetising it is making a farm pay where men who have been at it all their lives have failed.

Of the two delusions the poetical one is the least harmful. The editor can send back the rhymes, and nothing is lost but a two cent stamp and a subscriber.

In farming, the experimenter will sometimes exchange the savings of a lifetime for a couple of years' experience that he can do nothing with after he has acquired it.

The Good Old Way.

"Great improvements in all lines of farming now," said the dairyman who was showing a customer about the place.

"I suppose so."

"Yes; we even do our milking by machinery."

"You have to still water it by hand, though, don't you?"

Superior.

"Mamie says she is above marriage."

"Is that so? I always thought Mamie had quite a feeling for the lads."

"Nevertheless she maintains she is."

"Wonder why."

"She is in an office over the county judge's office."

Move Czar's Body Again.

A new chapter to the travels of the dead has been added by the exhumation and reinterment of the body of the former Emperor Nicholas. Napoleon's remains lay for nearly twenty years in St. Helena before removal to the Invalides. The body of Rameses the Great lies in Cairo, his heart in Paris. Christopher Columbus, dead, has traveled almost as far as the great voyager traveled when living.

Puccini's LION BRAND Maccaroni

The Factory Behind the Product

IN this airy, sunlit factory, at St. Catharines, Puccini's "Lion Brand" Maccaroni is made. Only the BEST QUALITY of "Durum" wheat is used. Experts prepare it in the original Italian way. This takes time—and care—and patience. No artificial drying is permitted. The maccaroni must dry, naturally, on long, clean wooden poles. More than 60,000 of these poles are in use all the time.

The result is a pure, nutritious product of delicious flavor, containing greater food value than the ordinary brands of maccaroni.

Always INSIST on Puccini's "Lion Brand." Your grocer has it, or will get it for you.

GOAT AS A MASCOT.

Billy Got "Cigarette Habit" From the Tommies.

Billy, a goat, mascot of the 83rd Flying Squadron in France, is a wonderful animal, if he is alive. Should Billy be dead, an 'ally" has been lost. But he will always live in the minds of many men who fought in France, particularly those of the 83rd Squadron. An interesting tale of the animal's life and experiences is told by Lieut. Noel S. Jones, of the Royal Air Force, recently arrived home.

When Billy was a kid, probably about three on four weeks old, he was bought for 10 francs by flying men from a peasant at Franqueville, and was turned loose among men of the 83rd Squadron for bringing up. In every sense of the statement Billy was a "high flyer." He didn't think anything of "stunts" at an altitude of 10,000 feet, he was horribly addicted to cigarettes, and ate chocolates in as great quantities as a girl, and the story has it that he had a fondness for liquor. But Billy, so the story goes, could "always keep on his feet."

Billy wouldn't accept a cigarette from the hand. That goat demanded he be allowed to accept a fag from a silver and initialed case, or from a box. He was a positive "fiend," having been known to eat as many as 50 cigarettes at one time.

When the squadron moved Billy was strapped in a plane and taken along. Arriving at the destination the goat was lifted from the plane and would commence eating grass or wandering about in a matter of fact manner. The shelling of the squadron by enemy craft had no terrors for him.

"Dowdy", or "Doughty."

The danger of using a word that sounds very much like another word that has a less flattering meaning was amusingly illustrated in Toronto recently, when an eminent judge who loves to make speeches was widely misquoted. Then it turned out that he had said something entirely different from what people thought. Towards the close of his speech at the Ontario Bar Association, Mr. Justice Riddell spoke appreciatively of the King and Queen, but in doing so applied an epithet to Queen Mary which was widely commented on. The phrase, as understood by practically everyone present, was as follows:

"Dear King George V—a plain man, a plain sailor, with a dowdy wife, who minds her business, looks after her children and her household, and sees that the smaller children succeed to the old clothes of the older as they grow up; a man and a woman like other men and women, who know their duties and devote themselves to their duties, and work hard in the position in life to which it has pleased God to call them."

One man who was in an excellent place to hear, and was very attentive to what was being said, declared that Mr. Justice Riddell did not say "dowdy," but that he used the word "doughty." It proved that this man was right. The word used in the speech was "doughty."

The word "dowdy" is an unfortunate one in that it has meanings which are complimentary, and other meanings which are the reverse. Here is what several dictionaries say:

Murray: "Shabbily dull in color or appearance; without brightness, smartness or freshness."

Wright's English Dialect Dictionary: Slovenly, untidy in dress; dark, dull in color, faded; of quiet, homely habits, old-fashioned; stunted in growth."

Worcester's Dictionary: "Awkward, ill-dressed."—Applied to women.

Webster's New International Dictionary: "Dressed in a manner neither neat nor becoming; untidily shabby; wearing dingy or cheap finery; awkward and slovenly in dress; slatternly."

Heart Palpitated

Could Count Every Beat

When the heart begins to palpitate it will beat fast for several seconds, then slow, then start to flutter, and a feeling of utter depression will come over your whole system, accompanied by weak, fainting and dizzy spells.

When the heart gets into this condition, you become weak, worn and miserable, and are unable to attend to either social, business or household duties.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will give prompt and permanent relief to all sufferers from any heart weakness or nerve derangements.

Mrs. Walter Greives, Apsley, Ont., writes:—"I had been run down, and doctors told me I was anaemic, but did not help me with their medicines. I could not sleep nights, my heart palpitated so, and I could count every beat.

I used to have such dizzy spells I would have to go to bed. I was not able to do any work for eight months. A cousin of mine had taken Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and told me what they had done for her. I took eight boxes of them, and now I am able to help every day with the work. I am so thankful to tell others what they have done for me, so that they may try this great and wonderful remedy. I hope this may prove good to some one who is suffering the way I did."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Liberty Bond Owners Are Not Patriots But Good Business Men

Brightest Jewels in Crown Are Not Billions Invested in War Bonds But the Millions Given to Red Cross.

JUDGE ALDEN'S ADDRESS

While several forces militated against a large audience last evening at the last of the Lyceum course which has been given by the Conservatory of Music, those who came to hear Judge Alden made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in numbers, and the Judge was given a warm welcome by his first Peterborough audience. In introducing the speaker, the chairman, Mr. F. D. Kerr, said that it was a particular pleasure to have a representative of the American bar, and referred to the Judge's reputation as a distinguished speaker.

Judge Alden pointed out in opening his address that he know nothing of Canada but that she was to the north of his country, and though thoroughly acquainted with the needs of his own country, he knew little of the needs of the country to which the States has joined in a heart-to-heart allegiance.

Individual Effort.

Now that we have made the world safe for democracy, we must bend our individual effort in making a democracy safe for the world, said Judge Alden. No matter what sphere of life we may walk in, we must bend our efforts against the four-fold weaknesses of the day: commercial dishonesty, religious indifference, political indifference and domestic incompetence. Each of the four evils is due to the disregard of the individual for the part he should take in life.

Four Ages.

Every age has been dominated by what may be called the spirit of the age. Looking back over the history of the United States, Judge Alden said he could see a verification of his statement. He could see four epics controlled by four separate spirits. The first spirit which dominated the States was that founded by the Pilgrim Fathers. Narrow-minded and bigoted though they were, they, with their spirit of conscience, laid the foundation of American manhood. The second spirit was the spirit of liberty born with the resolve of the Englishmen not to be dominated by a German king on the British throne. Later, in the darkened days of '61 the spirit of humanity and honour dominated the age, and sent the boys out to offer their lives.

Spirit of Graft.

In the past fifty years we have turned from the spiritual to the material, and, living in the age of gold, have developed the spirit of graft. The American of to-day repudiates the suggestion that this is an age of graft and says, "Don't talk of graft and greed, we've been at war." "It takes longer than nineteen months," the Judge commented, "to create the spirit of an age." The American who sets himself up as a patriot because he bought Liberty Bonds is not a patriot alone but a good business man. When the history of America's part in the war is written the brightest jewel in the crown will not be the billions invested in war bonds but the millions given to the Red Cross. That is going to be the dominating spirit of the age. No nation can become great without the spirit of sacrifice.

Need of the Hour.

The need of the hour for salvation of any country is not labour agitation but the individual return to the sanity of honesty,—a return to the old-fashioned standards of honesty. The four relationships—commercial, political, domestic and religion—are so closely interwoven that disease in one means disease in the other. The decline of man's regard to his duty to God is at the bottom of the ills of the country. The man who has no respect for God has no respect for himself, and lack of self-respect is the root of ills in a country in any of the four relationships.

Need of Hour.

The need of the hour lies in Christianity, which is the central fact of life. Churches are divided by the need of more Christianity and less theology. We who ridicule the Old Testament cannot fail to see that there is something that never came unaided through the mind of man—the promise of the coming of the Messiah. God sat at the loom which wove the web of Jewish history, and God directed the shuttle. Men to-day have been careless in the reading of God's word, and pray not from duty but from fear. The need of the hour is Christ, and no matter upon what path we travel, as long as it leads to God, we are right. We need more than professing Christians performing Christians. Too many men preach hell on Sunday and raise hell during the week.

In speaking of women's duties in the needs of the hour, now that universal franchise is in sight, Judge Alden said that it is her duty to know what is going on in public affairs and in the interest of the future generation a wise selection of husband

Returning Soldiers.

Judge Alden urged a proper treatment for the boys as they returned. Not a hearty welcome as they arrive, but a following up of the reception to the men to whom we owe so much. It is up to us to do everything for the boys returning, provided they meet us half way. A great many will think they have fulfilled life's purpose in volunteering, and those who think they may use their war experiences as a mattress are failing in meeting us half way.

Judge Alden concluded with some sound advice to all not to let the almighty dollar hide man's duty to God

Vote of Thanks.

On behalf of the audience, Mr. Kerr moved a vote of thanks to the speaker and to Mr. and Mrs. Gliddon for the splendid course of entertainments they had provided in the Lyceum course.

The Conservatory Orchestra was detained at the station, and, to the disappointment of the audience, could not fill their advertised part on the programme.

SAYS CANADA SENT FIRST STEAMSHIP ACROSS ATLANTIC.

LONDON, April 26.—Professor W. H. Vandermissen, of Toronto, has again joined in the controversy in the Times, respecting the first steam crossing of the Atlantic. He gives details of the Royal William, designed and built in Quebec, and engined in Montreal, which crossed to London in 1833, five years before the voyage of the Sirius and the Great Western. It is therefore, he adds, a clear case of Canada first in the best sense of the word."

Wealth in Maple Trees

NATURE has favored this country with a wealth of maple trees, and a natural domestic source for its sugar supply. It is claimed that if all the available maple trees could be tapped each spring Canada could produce her full requirements of commercial sugar and be independent of imported sugar, for maple sap can be reduced to the same quality of sugar as we are familiar with in the various grades of "granulated" and "brown." While these commercial varieties of sugar can be produced cheaper from cane and beet-root, however, it would be folly to confine our consumption to maple sugar, especially as the maple flavor would necessarily be lost in the refining process, and maple sugar and maple syrup are worth more than the ordinary commercial varieties, and the maple flavor is in itself an asset, appreciated wherever it has been introduced.

Maple-sugar and syrup making as men, however, is due for a revival in Canada wherever maple bush is found in conjunction with a plentiful supply of wood for fuel. In the older settled parts of the country the wood lots on the farm have been steadily dwindling, and the cost of fuel is a big item. On the other hand in some districts, particularly in the back townships, there is a big opportunity awaiting those who energetically engage in this old Canadian industry, for never have prices been higher, or the market more appreciative.

In recent years before the war the production of maple sugar and syrup had been steadily falling off. The market was invaded by various adulterated products, and the public grew dissatisfied with the poor quality and lack of true maple flavor in these mixtures sold under the name "Maple." As a consequence producers of the pure maple products became discouraged, and many a farmer gave up tapping his trees, or confined himself to producing only sufficient for the use of his own family. In the decade of 1881-91 the average yearly production of sugar or its equivalent in syrup amounted to 22,500,000 pounds. That was the climax of the industry, which steadily relapsed from that period until the beginning of the war.

A change has since occurred, however, which gives hope of a permanent revival of the old spring-time activity in the sugar bush. An amendment to the Adulteration Act was secured in 1915 which makes the use of the word "maple" illegal in advertising or offering for sale any but the pure product. Legitimate dealers have been encouraged, and the consuming public are regaining confidence. In addition a lively export demand shows signs of developing. During the war a large quantity of maple sugar has been sent to the soldiers in England and France by the Red Cross and by private agencies, and these shipments to the soldiers served to advertise Canadian maple sugar to the people "over there" in a striking and memorable way. Already this year inquiries from British and French importers for large amounts have been received by Canadian dealers. The United States market is also eager to the value of our maple sugar exports syrup. Customs records show that the value of our maple sugar exports last year increased by 76 per cent.

Last spring, owing to the scarcity of commercial sugar and a stimulus to the industry initiated by the Canada Food Board, and encouraged by improved conditions in the trade, thousands of sugar maples were tapped and yielded a harvest which had been neglected for years previous. Maple sugar was sold at prices ranging around 75 cents per pound, and syrup at $2.25 per gallon.

Last year the labor problem was acute. The war has absorbed so many men either for the army or munitions making and other war-time activities, that farmers found themselves very short of help. That condition has greatly changed and many men have returned to civil life since the last run of maple sap. It will pay farmers to enlist helpers in the work of tapping trees and gathering maple sap this spring, for the work comes at a time when the regular farm season has not yet begun, and the money made from the sugar bush is thus "velvet," and an extra addition to farm income requiring comparatively small outlay.

The three or four weeks of the maple sugar season used to be one of the most popular on the farm, and a special delight of the boys and girls who all helped in the work and had a considerable amount of wholesome fun at the same time. Many a happy memory clings to the old sugar bush in Eastern Canada, and the opportunity to revive the industry which now offers should be welcomed by Canadians old and young.

Canadian Prisoners' Welfare.

The Canadian Prisoners' Welfare Association has just been formed by the amalgamation of the Honor League of Canada and the National Prison Reform Association. The new organization has received a Dominion charter. It will aim to promote the welfare of discharged prisoners and their families and dependents, the amelioration of the condition of prisoners and of the treatment of criminals by the state, and the reformation of criminal law and procedure in accordance with modern ideas of penology, sociology and humanity. The headquarters of the association will be in Montreal, and the establishment of local and provincial associations is provided for in the charter.

WOMAN SUFFERED 12 YEARS

Finally Made Well by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Emmitsburg, Md.—"I suffered for twelve or fifteen years, and was treated by a physician, but got little relief. I saw an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my newspaper, so thought I would try it, and it did me more good than all the doctor's medicine. I am a farmer's wife and do my housework all the time, and I am better now than I have been for years. I am never without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the house and have recommended it to several of my friends. You are perfectly welcome to publish my letter for the good it may do other women."—Mrs. ETTIE WARREN, Emmitsburg, Md.

Backache and nervousness are symptoms or nature's warnings, which indicate a functional disturbance or an unhealthy condition which often develops into a more serious ailment.

Women in this condition should not continue to drag along without help, but profit by Mrs. Warren's experience, and try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and for special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

Nations Can Withdraw From League of Nations After Two Years' Notice

Plans for Reducing Armament Must First be Approved and Adopted by Several Governments Before Becoming Effective.

COUNCIL OF NINE

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Modified so as to meet the criticisms of some of its principal American opponents, the revised draft of the Covenant of the proposed League of Nations was made public at the State Department yesterday afternoon by Acting Secretary of State Frank L. Polk. The more important changes are intended to safeguard the Monroe Doctrine, to remove domestic questions such as the Japanese immigration issue from the operations of the League, to permit nations to withdraw from the League on two years' notice, and to make clear that the rule of unanimity shall control the decisions of the Council of the League.

The phraseology of the covenant has been immeasurably improved. Phrases of circumlocution have been rewritten. The document is much clearer, better understood, and there is less doubt as to what is intended under the project.

Second, there is an annex to the revised covenant specifically naming the signatories to the Peace Treaty at Paris, who are to be the original members of the League, also the names of thirteen other nations—all to the covenant. Germany and the neutrals—which are invited to accede enemy nations are not named as original members of the League and may only be admitted by two-thirds vote of the League, and after giving certain promises and guarantees. Nor is Mexico asked to become a member of the League.

Third, one criticism of the original covenant was that it contained no provision for withdrawal. This has been cured by the insertion of a provision in the new Article One which provides that any member of the League may withdraw from the League after two years' notice, provided it has fulfilled its obligations under the League covenant.

Unanimity in Decisions.

Fourth, another criticism was that there was no clear showing that the action of the Council of Nine should be unanimous as to decisions. Article V. of the redraft provides that "decisions" of the Council shall require the agreement of all the members of the League represented at the Council's meeting.

Fifth, the reduction of armaments provision in Article VIII. has been not only rewritten, but essentially changed. In this rewriting it is made plain, where it was left to assumption in the original, that the plans for reducing armaments must first be approved and adopted by the several Governments before being put into effect. There is in this article a new paragraph providing that plans for reduction of armaments "shall be subject to reconsideration and revision at least every ten years." There was no such provision or limitation in the original.

Safeguards Monroe Doctrine.

Sixth, the Monroe doctrine is sought to be safeguarded in an entirely new provision which becomes Article XXI. It provides that nothing in the covenant "shall be deemed to affect the validity of international arrangements, such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine, for securing the maintenance of peace."

Seventh, a very important change has been made in the mandatory section, under which the United States or no other nation a member of the League is to be made a mandatory against its consent. This has been accomplished by the addition of a clause in the new Article XXII.

Eventful Week

NEW YORK, April 28. — The Associated Press this morning issued the following:

What promises to be perhaps the most eventful week yet of the Peace Conference, opens to-day with a plenary session of that body, with final action on the covenant of the League of Nations in prospect. There is also a feeling prevalent in Paris that the treaty of peace will be ready for presentation to the German delegates by Saturday of this week before which time it is hoped the Italian situation may resolve itself.

As to the peace treaty the most important matter still to be settled is the problem of composing the Japanese and Chinese claims to Kiao-Chau and Shantung peninsula. A decision on this subject has been expected for several days and it may be announced to-day.

Matters dealing with the disposition of German cables, repatriation of German prisoners of war, and the future status of the Kiel Canal, and questions relative to Luxemburg, are also pending but it is believed they are in a fair way towards an adjustment.

Salvation Army Will Take Over U. S. Saloons

One-Half go only for Companionship —Brass Rail and Free Lunch will be Retained.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, April 28. — A Salvation Army campaign to take over the saloon leases and fixtures in prohibition days, converting the deserted saloons into working men's clubs, was announced here last night by Commander Evangeline Booth.

"The plan contemplates the retention of the historic brass rail, and the lunch counter. But instead of selling liquor as the saloons have done, the Salvation Army Clubs will handle soft drinks and doughnuts made famous by the organization during the war.

Commander Booth declared the study of saloon frequenters by the Salvation Army workers had discovered that fully one-half of them were attracted by a desire for companionship, while only one-fourth have a passion for liquor, and another one-fourth drink to "drown sorrow."

It is the half who are seeking companionship that the clubs are designed to aid.

Worked Yesterday.

Taking advantage of the day's rest on the railroad, the Romaine Street sewer gang were employed yesterday in excavating beneath the G. T. R. tracks at the Port Hope crossing west of Park Street. They set up big timbers to carry the ties, and otherwise prepare the ground for further work next Sunday, when the piling will be driven and, it is expected, the pipes will be laid in this section. Mr. Herb. Martin is in charge of this sewer, which will be built to the Monaghan Road, providing connection to the Henry Hope Company. The subsoil is said to be even worse than that section of Romaine east of Park, which was recently completed. The ground is loose, resembling an old bog, that was covered up by the road.

318 Tickets Issued.

Tickets for Thursday night's banquet to the returned soldiers have been issued at the City Hall and G. W. V. A. Club to the members of nearly 320, according to to-day's count. Any of the men who have not yet obtained their tickets are requested to do so at once for the guidance of the committee and the caterer.

Might Employ 100 Men.

According to one opinion, the Hunter Street bridge would provide work for about 100 men this year. They would work in two gangs, each of 50, on either side of the river on the approaches and other preparations which would be completed this year and the ground cleared for an early beginning next spring of the long span which would be completed next year.

Following is Copy of Letter Addressed to Council in Which Action is Threatened

Mr. R. R. Hall, Acting for a Ratepayer, Seeks to Restrain City From Entering Into Contract With Russell-Townsend Company.

Peterborough, April 26th, 1919.

S. R. Armstrong, Esq., City Clerk,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir:—

I have received instructions from Mr. William Rudkins, a ratepayer of the City of Peterborough to institute an action against the Corporation of the City of Peterborough to restrain it from entering into a contract with Messrs. Russell-Townsend Company, for the construction of the Hunter Street Bridge.

I am advised that the following is a copy of a resolution passed at a meeting of the Board of Works held on Arpil 22nd, 1919:—

"That the contract for the construction of the Hunter Street Bridge be given to the Russell-Townsend Company on their tender, the arch in the bridge to be guaranteed by them, the bridge to be built the full width and the deductions to be made as formerly outlined in Ald. Turner's motion."

The deductions outlined Ald. Turner's motion were:

The panel work under the bridge.
The granite finish below the floor of the bridge.
The granite masonry.
And the sidewalks over the loose fills.
And with the shortened approaches on both ends.

The following are some of the grounds upon which I have advised Mr. Rudkins that the Corporation may be restrained:—

Under By-Law No. 2043 of the Corporation passed on the third day of July, 1917, I find that only $260,000 was voted on by the ratepayers of Peterborough for the cost of the construction of this bridge.

The tenders that have been received b the Council for the construction of this bridge exclusive of land damages and Engineer's fees clearly exceed the amount authorized by the ratepayers to be expended in the construction of this bridge and even these twelve tenders that have been received are estimates only and are not in fact bona fide tenders that the contractors are willing to be bound by as the lump sum cost of the construction of the bridge.

The Board of Works is recommending that the contract be awarded to the Russell-Townsend Company on a lump sum fee plus cost, have clearly discriminated against several of the Contractors who tendered on the same basis.

The estimated cost of the construction of the Bridge by Messrs. Russell-Townsend Company is not a bona fide estimate to the knowledge of the members of the City Council whom I am instructed have already been advised by Messrs. Russell-Townsend Company that they would not even make a lump sum tender for the construction of the Bridge at even $287,000, exclusive of land damages and Engineer's fees.

I am further instructed that Mr. Barber, the Engineer, has not sunk any test pits to determine the depth to which the foundations of the several pirse are to be sunk and that the plans showing the depth to which the piers shall be sunk are wholly incorrect and the piers willhave to be sunk to a much greater depth which will very materially add to the cost of the construction of the Bridge.

I am further instructed to charge that every member of the City Council is fully advised that the cost of the construction of this Bridge including Engineer's fees and land damages will exceed by many thousands of dollars the appropriation of $260,000 voted on by the ratepayers.

I am further instructed to advise you that if the City Council pass a By-Law authorizing the entering into an agreement with Messrs. Russell-Townsend Company pursuant to te resolution of the Board of Works, to apply at once for an injunction to restrain the Corporation from entering into such contract. I therefore wish you would kindly advise me immediately when this By-Law is passed.

I further beg to advise you that if the City Council in the first instance attempts to actually sign the contract with Messrs. Russell-Townsend Company, which may be authorized by such By-Law, to make a part to the action every member of the Council who votes in favor of the By-Law so as to charge him personally with any loss, costs, or damages that the Corporation of the City of Peterborough may sustain by reason or on account of the Corportion entering into such contract and to ask for the further relief that the contract be delivered up o be cancelled.

Yours truly,
(Signed) R. R. HALL.

Want Useful Memorials

G.A.C. Favour Memorials That Will Be of Some Benefit.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, April 28.—Treasurer H. McLeod, of the Grand Army of Canada, states that that organisation is absolutely opposed to erecting monuments of bronze and stone as memorials for the fallen soldiers. "The G. A. C.," said Mr. McLeod, "favour some form of memorial which will be of benefit to wounded or incapacitated soldiers, and to the families and dependents of fallen comrades. The construction of suitable hospitals where soldiers and soldiers' dependents might receive free surgical or medical attention and care would fill the requirements.

"This has been attempted with success in certain cities and towns throughout the Dominion and, there appears no good reason why it should not be tried in Toronto and certain cities."

"We guarantee that every man who tries on a Semi-ready suit will be a convert to our time and trouble-saving service in high-class tailoring.

"And please don't make the mistake of thinking any ready-made shop can demonstrate our system—for we have the only genuine Semi-ready Store in the city."

FARMERS ASKED $1.75 FOR POTATOES, SELLING FOR $1.60 IN STORES

Suporting the suspicion which many citizens entertain, doubting the advantages which the local market is supposed to provide for them, is the following incident reported from last Saturday.

Farmers had pushed up the price of potatoes to $1.75, an advance of 5c in two weeks ,and were arguing that the local supply was nearly exhausted and further advances would follow. And it is more than likely that the citizens encouraged this profiteering by paying the price without question. One purchaser, however, decided that the farmers had overstepped the mark of modesty in their demand and going into Porter S. White store, bought a bag of equally good potatoes for $1.60.

This is not intended as an advertisement for the White store, which is mentioned because its back door opens upon the farmers' market. It is altogether likely that other grocers had the same price.

The general public are forming the idea that the farmers fancy they can fix their prices as they choose and find the buyers always acquiescent. It may be remarked in this connection that while the countryfolks' opinion of money had broadened, many of the townspeople have been forced to count over their coin a second time during the past five months, and this enforced thrift may become more general before the year is out.

AMBASSADOR PAGE OFFERED TO RESIGN

(Special to The Examiner.)

ROME, April 28.— Thomas Nelson Page, American Ambassador to Italy, has left Rome for Paris. An Italian newspaper report from Rome said that Ambassador Page had offered his resignation because he had been made "acquainted with President Wilson's views on Italian claims." The statement was authorized at the State Department in Washington, however, that there was no foundation for this report.

The trouble with the peace table is that the Allies want it a la carte, and Wilson wants it American plan—table d'hote.—Life.

BIG WEEK IN THE HOUSE

Debate Opens To-day on the Railway Measure—The Opposition View.

ORDERS-IN-COUNCIL

(Special to Examiner.)

OTTAWA, April 28. — Starting with the imposition of the closure in the committee stage of the bill to incorporate the national railway company the week in the Commons promises to be a highly interesting one. That the Opposition members will keep up their obstruction of the railway bill for the period of 20 minutes allowed each speaker before the gavel falls, and until two o'clock in the morning when the bill is automatically reported, is certain in their present temper.

Their main objection is to that clause which provides for the reviving of 44 charters for branch lines and extensions in the west.

The Opposition is claiming that the provision is designed to keep other companies out of the field and that in any case the principle has been laid down in later years that ancient railroad charters shall not be revived. The opposition has further desired to know who owns the real estate along the projected rights of way.

A Caucus.

It is understood that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company has several applications for charters in the west pending before the railway commission and that the company is deeply interested in the clause under dispute. The government takes the view that it is necessary that provision may be made for reviving of these charters does not necessarily mean that construction will be proceeded with in all cases.

Hon. Arthur Meighen's bill, providing for the perpetuation of existing orders in council under the war measures act for the duration of the session, is bound to be controversial. The Opposition takes the ground that unless validated by Parliament such orders in Council should pass away with the declaration of peace.

The Opposition has called a caucus for to-morrow. At this gathering the details of the national convention will be worked out. The Titles Commission will sit again to-morrow, and will have its report ready for the House at an early date.

Dunlop Has a Busy Time

McCullough's Escape is Becoming More Complicated Every Day.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, April 28.—Wheels within wheels, plots within plots, and inquiries within inquiries, are becoming revealed as the ramfications of Frank McCullough's escape from jail are gradually brought to light. Nearly every day for the past two weeks has seen some fresh sensation in connection with the case. To-day's is the suspension from office of Chas H. Spanton, one of the jail guards, and of Miss Annie Soady, jail matron, following an interview secured with Miss Vera Lavelle by a reporter from an evening newspaper. Conditions of administration at the Toronto jail, as revealed by the manner in which the interview was gained, are to-day under rigid investigation by Inspector of Prisons W. W. Dunlop and others of his department. All provincial officers, however, are maintaining strict silence with regard to all aspects of the case.

"I am not talking at all," Inspector Dunlop told a reporter. He admitted that he would submit a report based on his findings to the Provincial Secretary and meanwhile had nothing to say.

The Men Want Shorter Day

Over Seventeen Hundred Will Go on Strike Unless Demands Are Granted.

(Special to The Examiner.)

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 28.—If their request for an eight hour day is not granted, seventeen hundred and twenty men on the Hydro and Welland ship canals will likely go on strike, tying up both public works. The men agree to work at the present pay, but want a two hours shorter day. This move was agreed on at a meeting of the Federation of Trades and Labour of the Niagara district here last night. The deputation will see Sir Adam Beck Wednesday, but the Minister of Railways and Canals has not yet promised to see the ship canal delegates.

New Articles Inserted In the Peace Treaty

Allies to Publicly Arraign the Former Kaiser—Try German Military Officers.

PERSONS ACCUSED

PARIS, April 28.—New articles proposed for insertion in the peace treaty to be considered at the plenary session of the Peace Conference to-day, include the following:

Article 1—The Allied and Associated Powers publicly arraign William II of Hohenzollern, formerly German Emperor, not for an offence against criminal law, but for a supreme offence against international morality and sanctity of treaties. It is proposed that special tribunal be constituted to try the accused, consisting of five judges, one appointed by each of the five great Powers, Great Britain, France, the United States, Italy and Japan. The Allied and Associated Powers will require Holland to surrender the former Emperor for trial.

Other German military officers to be tried by a separate tribunal.

Military Tribunals.

Persons accused of violation of laws and customs of war, according to the second proposed article, will be brought before military tribunals and if found guilty, sentenced to punishments laid down by military law. All persons accused of having committed an act in violation of laws and customs of war which are specified either by name or by rank, office or employment which they held under German authorities, will be demanded of the German government for trial by military tribunal of the Power against whose nationals criminal acts were perpetrated.

Article 4 is as follows: The German government undertakes to furnish all documents and information of every kind, production of which may be considered necessary to insure full knowledge of incriminating acts, discovery of offenders and just appreciation of responsibility.

Higher Prices

PITTSBURG, April 28.— Troublous times are in store for the soft coal consumer who is holding back his orders in sanguine anticipation of lower prices and is pinning his faith to the surplus stocks of bituminous coal now stored throughout Canada and the United States to tide him over and bring about this hoped-for decline. He will find himself in an awkward fixe ere many months have passed, with prices climbing to hitherto undreamed of figures, and a scarcity of fuel approaching the famine point.

Such is the outlook as pictured by officials of the great bituminous coal-producing companies here. Two reasons are given for their predictions. These are the return of normal industrial activities following the present period of semi-stagnation due to the necessary readjustment from war to peace-time conditions; the reversing of the machinery of commerce and manufacture after four years of driving in one direction, and secondly, the growing scarcity of labour in the coal-producing areas.

Special Services Held Yesterday In Trinity Church

Rev. W. B. Smith, B.A., of Orillia, Was the Speaker—An Inspiring Address.

On Sunday the services in Trinity Methodist church were conducted by Rev. W. B. Smith, B.A., of Orillia, who preached morning and evening and addressed the Brotherhood in the afternoon. The presence and power of God in His church inspiring its activities and enabling it to demonstrate its ability to answer the deep questions of the human heart, constituted the morning theme. In the evening Mr. Smith discussed the bringing in of the kingdom or rule of God in the hearts and lives, and the various relationships, laws and institutions of men, as being the great mission of Christ and His church. The tendency to get away from this great task to something less worthy had always weakened the church and its activities. Men had identified the kingdom with the heaven of the future, and settled down to the somewhat selfish task of getting into heaven themselves without caring what became of the world. Again, men had a tendency to regard the kingdom as the church, and to work for the church as an end in itself instead of using it as a means by which the great purpose of Christ might be accomplished, the bringing in of ideal conditions among men. It was this that led to divisions in the church. When we realised the importance of the task which the church is organised to accomplish, we would forget our petty differences and unite our strength and resources to bring in the kingdom.

One of the greatest mistakes of the present day was that of looking for the personal return of Christ to accomplish by His bodily presence what the church was failing to accomplish. Such a view was altogether unscriptural, out of harmony with the teaching of Christ, and discounted the spiritual resources of the present dispensation. What the church needs today is to awaken to the fact that we, have in our midst a risen Christ, to whom has been given "all power in heaven and in earth." The gospel message is not "Jesus is coming," but rather "Jesus is here now," seeking to lead us and guide us, and give us victory as we seek to do His will and accomplish His purpose. He is ever calling for real heroes and soldiers to live and work for His great and worthy cause.

In the afternoon Mr. Smith gave a very interesting and instructive address to the Brotherhood on "Jesus Christ and the Industrial Problem," or "Christianity and Industry."

URGE WORKERS TO TAKE A HOLIDAY ON MAY FIRST.

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, April 28.—Red printed circulars issued by the "May Day Conference Committee," urging all workers to take a holiday on May 1st, as a universal protest against exploitation, were scattered about the city yesterday and to-day. The circular announces May Day celebrations in Queen's Park in the afternoon and in the arena at night. While some small strikes are expected here on May Day, there is nothing at present to indicate any great disturbance in industrial circles in Toronto on the approaching traditional strike day.

Truck Collided With a Buggy

Farmer from Douro Had a Narrow Escape

A slight accident occurred at the corner of Simcoe and Water streets this morning at a quarter to eleven, when a Matthews-Blackwell delivery truck driven by Joseph Darwin, according to the police report, going east on Simcoe street, cut the corner, smashing into the horse and buggy of Mr. Joseph Coughlin (R.R. 9) of Douro, coming south on Water street. The impact besides turning the horse and buggy completely around, making the horse face north, broke the harness, the front spring, the front wheel on the right side and bent the front axle. A little boy and girl were in the buggy, but escaped unhurt. The horse ran up George street, but the driver did not attempt to pull the animal up until the end of the pavement had been reached. A can of cream in the buggy miraculously escaped from being upset.

SHORTER HOURS FOR WORKERS IN SHOE FACTORIES IN ONTARIO.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, April 28.— The Ontario Shoe Manufacturers' Association has announced that on or before June 1st, hours of labour in most shoe factories of Ontario will be reduced to forty-nine and a half per week, without lessening of weekly earnings of employees. Thirty-five hundred workers are affected by this decision. Many of them now work fifty-five hours per week or longer.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

MONDAY, APRIL 28TH, 1919.

A FAMILIAR COMPLAINT

There is something very familiar about this plaint from the Kingston Whig:

"Plenty of good movements are inaugurated in Kingston, but we seem to lack the stamina to stay with them until they are put into execution. Isn't that one of our greatest civic failures?"

Evidently there are other cities which are handicapped by the same lack of a stick-to-it spirit that has interfered with progress in Peterboro. Our citizens will have difficulty at the present time in even remembering the name of some of the organizations that have been launched here amid the sounding of trumpets, and an outburst of oratory, and of which little was heard after the first great noise of the inauguration. Whether it was "stamina," as the Whig suggests, or some other quality that was lacking in our citizenship, it is certain that movements that were worthy of support, and should have been successful, have been killed by the failure of the people to maintain for any length of time, the enthusiasm with which they hailed the formation of each new organization.

FIRE PREVENTION.

The letter of Mr. D. W. Dumble, on the question of fire prevention, which appears in to-day's issue, is addressed to the citizens of Peterboro, but Mr. Dumble adds that he "particularly appeals to the City Council, to whom we look for a better building bylaw." Te Examiner can only hope that the appeal may not fall upon deaf ears, a hope that does not seem very likely to be fulfilled, in view of the treatment accorded the revised building bylaw by the City Fathers last year. There is no question as to the soundness of Mr. Dumble's arguments; a more rigid and more strictly carried out regulation of building operations in the city is required ,if the danger of fire is to be reduced. All insurance authorities agree that in the matter of supervision of the construction of houses, stores and factories, the cities of Canada are hopelessly behind the times, and Peterboro is no more advanced in this respect than any other urban centre. A commendable effort was made last year to improve conditions locally, but the attempt was a failure. Perhaps, because the advice that Mr. Dumble gives of keeping carpenters and builders off the Committee dealing with the building bylaw was disregarded. "They have always fought in the council," says Mr. Dumble, "to let people do cheap and nasty work." The charge is given considerable colour by a record of the meetings at which the building regulations have been discussed.

Be that as it may, there is much in the letter that should be considered by the civic rulers. It deals with conditions that ought to be bettered without delay.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

The Hunter street bridge problem, which has caused most of the City Aldermen to lament the day that they decided to become candidates for civic honours, takes a new turn with the service upon City Clerk Armstrong of a notice from Mr. R. R. Hall, acting on behalf of Mr. Wm. Rudkins, a ratepayer of the city, to the effect that if the council passes a bylaw authorizing the signing of a contract with Messrs. Russell-Townsend Company, Mr. Hall will apply for an injunction restraining the corporation from entering into such a contract. The bridge question apparently settled by the decision of the Board of Works last week, is practically dead-locked again, and it begins to look as if much water will flow under the old Hunter street bridge before the new structure is commenced.

Mr. Hall, in his letter to the City Clerks, contends that although only $260,000 was voted by the ratepayers to be expended upon the new bridge, the tenders received, merely estimates at that, exceed the amount authorized. He further charges that the Board of Works in recommending the Russell-Townsend Company's offer, have discriminated against other contractors who tendered on the same basis, that the estimated cost of the bridge by the Russell-Townsend Company is not a bona fide estimate, and that the members of the council know this.

Mr. Hall states that Engineer Barber has not properly determined the depth of the foundation of the piers, and that these will have to be sunk to a much greater depth, a process that will mean a material addition to the cost of the bridge. His letter charges that every member of the council is fully aware of the fact that the cost of building the bridge, including land damages and the engineer's fees, will exceed by many thousands of dollars the $260,000 appropriation approved of b ythe ratepayers.

The entrance of legal proceedings into the bridge problem, already sufficiently complicated, leaves the next move up to the City Council and they will have to deal with the matter immediately.

CANADA'S TRADE BALANCE

The Canadian Trade Commission is urging upon the people of Canada to confine their purchases as much as possible to goods made in this country, and points out the necessity of getting back to peace trade on a war-time scale.

Before the war, the Dominion had with other countries an adverse balance of 314 million dollars. That is we imported that much more than we exported. The adverse balance of course disappeared during the war, on account of the huge orders of munitions and supplies for overseas until in 1918. there was a favorable balance of 588 millions. War orders are now, however, a thing of the past, and unless something can be found to take their place, Canada must go back to the pre-war adverse balance. In addition, however, there is the further problem that our war time commitments amount to over $1.500,000,000, and to meet the interest on loans requires a favorable trade balance to pay our current debts.

Says a bulletin isued by the Commission:

"To do this we must place our factory and field production on a new and enlarged plane, we must adopt the most up-to-date methods, we must co-operate in a broad and enlightened policy, we must do a hundred things not conceived even a few months ago by the most far-seeing.

We must not have an "adverse balance of trade." Our factories must run for a full day's work for 52 weeks in the year; our farmers must continue to produce as they did last year, the last possible ounce from their holdings; we must exploit our mineral and other resources to the utmost capacity of stamp mills and smelters.

Canada's prosperity depends upon a favorable balance of trade. We must either retain our war time scale of exports or restrict our imports—or both, if we are to retain in a time of peace the proud position won for Canada by the sacrifice of her men-in-arms."

How these things are to be done the Commission does not state. There is one way, however, in which all can help, and that is by insisting upon Canadian-made goods.

AN AMERICAN VIEW.

In all frankness it needs to be said that Canadians are not to be blamed for resenting the presence in imported American vaudeville "acts" of that rather low thing called spread-eagleism. If on our own stage the performers must too often forget that for more than three years other peoples were laying the costly foundation for the triumph America only helped in the last few months of the fighting to attain, let them by all means remember it when they cross the border. It is distasteful to right-thinking Americans, who tolerate it as they tolerate a great many other cheap devices to provoke applause: - it is nothing short of an insult to Canadians who were shedding blood while Americans were being exhorted to remain neutral in thought as well as in deed.

The tawdry mummery of it was bared by the World's Toronto despatch reporting the device used by one ingenious American manager to make his peace with the Toronto public. The word "Canadian" was merely substituted for "American" in a tropical ballad intended to immortalize the soldier who had never been "licked." Fortunately the words "Jerman" and "Turk" have not enough syllables to fit the rhythm of a score that was adopted originally for Americans, so we may hope to be spared news that the song is having a run in enemy lands after peace admits outside talent.

To absorb the Canadian point of view we have only to imagine the spectacle in our own theatre of actors in Canadian uniform singing and shouting bombast proclaiming that Canadians were just about all there was to the resources of the Allies. Too much waving of the Canadian flag in the United States could become tiresome. Endless yards of animated film portraying the military glories of the Canadians could eventually bore us. We could get fed up on Canada exactly as the Canadians are getting too much U.S.A.

To claim for the American army, in whose achievements we take a great and justifiable pride, more than it achieved is only to prejudice the interests of the true record.—New York Globe and Commercial.

THE NEW LIMIT

A motorist indifferent of danger to himself or to others has all the potentialities for destruction of a dangerous lunatic armed with a brace of revolvers firing into a crowded street.

The new law permitting a motor car to be driven at twenty miles an hour in the city and twenty-five miles an hour in the country will undoubtedly be passed. It may or may not be justified; it is certain that it lessens the margin of safety to the public; but the responsibility rests with the driver, and it will be according to the saneness and reasonableness of the man or woman at the wheel that the throngs of pedestrians pass in security or danger. The driver of a car who believes he exhibits dash and daring by rushing madly down a street simply for the sake of a thrill or to attract a reputation for recklessness is not fit to be given charge of an automobile, no matter what the speed limit may be. And it may be taken for granted that this class of drivers is now breaking the law. Whether a loosening of the regulations will cause him to run his average speed of 35 or 40 miles an hour rather than keep within the legal limit remain to be seen. But the police should be ready to make an example of speeders who, when granted further concessions, merely let out another notch and monopolize the streets with an air of "Clear the road or get knocked over!" Certainly there is a good deal of impertenance toward walkers on the part of a good many drivers, and the walking seven-eighths of the population will do well to stand up for its right of promptly reporting those entitled to rank as "fool-killer" candidates.

Some motorists not only cram on the speed at every opportunity, but they are loth to sound a warning with their noise devices unless they are directly upon a victim. They let the walker beware, whereas it should be not only the moral but the legal duty of every man intrusted with a motor car to give the passenger every chance. London has been singularly free of fatal motor accidents. But a good many people have saved themselves from death or serious injury by their own ability to scramble to safety, and at the expense of injured dignity, to say the least. It is not short of insolence for a motor car owner to use the road like a Hun, dashing around as though he had taken out a license for jugernaut privileges by means of which he rode to his heart's content and the public crossed the streets at their peril. Not long ago the writer had the extreme pleasure of seeing one of these boorish knaves properly punished. He had cut a corner and almost run down a workingman. The workingman shouted his opinion of the harebrain, and the latter stopped his car with an air of bluff. He stopped too soon for the workingman was waiting for just such a chance. Mr. Working man was on the running board of the car in a moment and had delivered a few lusty punches in the approved style of Everett True before the bluffer had decided to start his car again. The crowd had sympathies in the proper direction.

No one wishes to be a crank in regard to motor driving, but the new regulations permitting an increase in speed make necessary a warning to motorists to drive their cars with care, having always in mind the chance of killing people, children and aged people especially. Under the new regulations a motor car will be permitted to move at a speed of more than nine yards a second or one mile in three minutes. Not so many years ago a three minute horse was regarded as a speed marvel of the streets. Few horses have ever made that speed over the paved streets of London.

The London Motor Club should regard it as a trust to make known the views of sane motorists in regard to the new regulations.—London Advertiser.

Aliens Taking Huge Sums Out Of the Country

Bankers Say Nearly $4,000,000,000 Will be Taken Away—Blame Bolsheviki

NEW YORK, April 25.—

Bolsheviki propaganda in this city is responsible for thousands of aliens selling their Liberty bonds and drawing their money from the banks to return to Europe, according to a letter mailed the banks by the American Bankers' Association. The letter estimates that more than $,4000,000,000 will be taken from their country by the foreigners when they return to the lands of their birth. The letter which was sent to the banks of his city and New England, among other things says:

"Due to Bolshevik propaganda, an alarming proportion of the 14,000,000 foreign born aliens are drawing their money from the banks, selling their Liberty bonds and houses and returning to Europe. The New York Custom House authorities announce that those now starting from this port carry with them from $2,000 to $15,000 each in United States currency.

"It is estimated that more than $1,300,000 cannot be stopped from going and that they will carry with them nearly $4,000,000,000, or an amount four-fifths that of the total currency in circulation and in reverse in the United States before the war.

"It is estimated that unless vigorous action is taken more than 6,000,000 of these aliens may be lured abroad by this vicious propaganda, taking with them an amount of cash equal to the total present currency resources of the United States. This is very serious.

"In the meantime no effort should be spared to increase deposits by American citizens in order immediately to replace the presumed loss in deposits which will occur through the leaving here of aliens already committed to go and who cannot be persuaded to remain."

MORE POLICE FOR GUELPH.

After being shorhanded for some years, Chief Randall, of Guelph, will have a full complement of officers on his police force in the near future. The Police Commission Friday afternoon decided to not only engage a policeman to take Constable McElroy's place, but also to advertise for two more. It was the feeling of the meeting that they should provide the proper number of officers and then insist that the city is properly looked after. From now on a policeman will be on duty in St. Patrick's Ward both night and day.

The First Annual Children's Fete Was a Big Success

Over One Hundred Prettily Dressed Children Took Part—Among Those Present.

Under the auspices of the Otonabee Chapter, I.O.D.E., the first annual Children's Fete held on Saturday afternoon in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium was a gratifying success and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended. The affair which was organized by Mrs. Seels, took the form of a fancy dress party in which over one hundred prettily and cleverly dressed children under the direction of Miss Caroline Littlefield, Miss M. English and Miss Margaret MacDonald played games. The little tots in their variegated costumes presented a fascinating sight and with the really surprising originallty displayed, the judges, Mrs. Sherwood, Mrs. Gardiner and Mrs. T. H. G. Denne, found it a difficult matter to discriminate among them in awarding the prizes. The final decision was made, awarding the first prize for girls under 7 years to Carli Campazzi, representing a Dutch girl; first prize for girls over 7, Gwynneth Hall as a Japanese; first prize for boys under 7, James Rogers as an Italian, and to the best dressed boy over 7, W. Pennefather as a jester. Honorable mention was made of the two Morphet children as daffodils, Eileen Morgan as Columbia, Jack Langley as an Italian, and Billy Thompson as a clown.

The Attractions

One of the features of the afternoon's entertainment was the rooster dance by twelve of the little girls of Miss Littlefield's class, which with the little ones in suitable costume, proved very amusing. Another, and one of the principal attractions of the Fete, was a very original fish pond in charge of Madam Paas. The lady who assumed the proportions of a giantess and ravenously ate Easter eggs fed to her and in return for these she generously delved into her capacious pockets and found gifts for all. The eggs were sold by two cunning little bunnies who hopped about the floor. Mrs. John Birnie, Miss Phyllis Robertson and Miss Neal assisted in the sale of the eggs. Madame Paas was in the charge of Mrs. Sanderson, Mrs. Fiske, Mrs. Stapleton and Mrs. Buchanan. At this attraction alone $20 was realized.

The Tea Room

In the tea room where dainty refreshments were served at the conclusion of the Fete, Mrs. H. Stinson was in charge, assisted by Mrs. Widdess, Mrs. Coulthard, Mrs. R. R. Hall, Mrs. Adam Hall, Miss Nan Hall and Mrs. Meredith. Some of those who dropped in to the Fete were Mrs. Russell Copping, Mrs. G. Gilman, Mrs. Greening, Mrs. Carruthers, Miss M. Rogers, Miss Burnet, Mrs. H. Rush, Miss Maud Rush, Mrs. Holden, Mrs. Fiske, Mrs. Langley, Miss Phyllis and Miss Emma Denne, Mrs. Archie Shook, and Miss Sanderson.

The winner of the silk hose, the holder of ticket number seven, will receive the prize upon applying to Mrs. Buchanan or Mrs. Sanderson.

The HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

We have seen a picture by Harris entitled "No More Home?" We can't forget it. For the first time the young husband staggers into that rich home intoxicated. And it is a rich home; notice the draperies, the pictures, the furnishings. The baby's crib, which the young mother prays may become its casket, rocks to sleep innocence. A thousand things are worse than death. The husband wears a flashing diamond, but lacks the diamond of character. See the roses dropping from the vase, withering, dying. See the roses dropping from the wife's heart, withering, dying. The closed piano—music is dead. The light is going out. "No More Home." God help those who live in homeless houses—houses where a husband gives black looks and vile oaths; where a woman's sarcastic and nagging tongue drives a man to drink quicker than snake bite; where a lazy son gives abuse and heartbreak instead of gratitude; where a shallow, thankless daughter believes in her chief end and aim in life to dress swell and marry a bank account and an auto, as though happiness always travelled in a touring car! Deliver us from such a home! Close it up quick! Put up the sign "House For Sale." Better sit on a stump of a tree out in the woods with an umbrella over your head and call that home.

A man cannot do two things at a time. A woman will broil a steak and see that the coffee does not boil over, and watch the cat that she does not steal the remnant of meat on the kitchen table, and dress the youngest boy and set the table and see to the toast and stir the oatmeal and give the orders to the butcher and she can do it all at once and not half try.

Innocent amusements transform tears into rainbows.

No one is anxious about a young man while he is busy in useful work But where does he eat his lunch at noon? Where does he go when he leaves his boarding house at night? What does he do after supper? Where does he spend his Sundays and holidays? The way he uses his spare moments reveals his character. The great majority of youths who go to the bad are ruined after supper. Most of them who climb upwards to honour and fame devote their evenings to study or work or the society of those who can help and improve them. Each evening is a crisis in the career of a young man. There is deep significance in the lines of Whittier:

This day we fashion Destiny, our web of fate we spin;
This day for all hereafter choose we holiness or sin.

A true marriage is the soul's Eden. It is the visiting place of angels. It is not given to words to express the refinement of pleasure, the delicacy of joy and the abounding fullness of satisfaction that those feel whom God hath joined in a high marriage of spirit. Such a union is the highest school of virtue, the soul's convent where the vestal fires of purity are kept continually burning. May only such happy unions attend the young men and maidens of our vicinity who may even now be planning their wedding garments.

Whatever happens don't become a sour old man or woman. Old age should be a cheerful period of life, when the lengthened shadows are softened by the setting sun—when quiet twilight steals on apace, soon to be followed by the long night of rest which remains to all living.

Revenge is the only debt which it is wrong to pay.

Man has done wonders since he came before the public. He has navigated the ocean, he has penetrated the mysteries of the starry heavens, he has harnessed the lightning and made it pull street cars and light the great cities of the world. But he can't find a spool of red thread in his wife's work basket; he can't discover her pocket in a dress hanging in a closet; he can't hang out clothes and get them on the line the right side up He cannot hold clothespins in his mouth while he is doing it, either. He cannot be polite to somebody he hates. He cannot sit in a rocking chair without banging the rockers into the baseboards. He cannot put the tidy on the sofa pillow right side out. He cannot sew on a button. In short, he cannot do a hundred things that women do almost instinctively.

No matter what a girl's accomplishments may be her education is incomplete if she has not some knowledge of bake-ology, boil-ology, roast-ology, stitch-ology and mend-ology. Even if she should never be required to do the work herself, she ought to know whether it was done in a proper manner.

Poverty is uncomfortable, as we can testify; but nine times out of ten the best thing that can happen to a young man is to be tossed overboard and compelled to sink or swim for himself.

Do not complain of your wife's extravagance with a cigar in your mouth.

If you intend to treat yourself any better than your wife, don't take one.

SAYS SHE FEELS DIFFERENT NOW

Mrs. Dean Declares She will Never Cease Praising Tanlac.

"I'll never stop praising Tanlac for it has built me up till I feel better than I have in a good many years," said Mrs. Jean Dean of 93 Fuller Avenue, Parkdale, Toronto Ontario.

"I was in a dreadfully rundown condition for several years," she continued, "and was getting worse all the time. My nerves were in a wretched state and was so restless I could hardly sleep and would get up in the mornings with a raging headache that worried me all day. The least little thing would upset me and any exertion at all would exhaust my strength so I would be unable to do my housework.

"My first few doses of Tanlac proved it to be just what I needed My nervousness is entirely gone, I never have a headache now, I sleep like a baby and get up in the morning feeling fine. I have gotten rid of that old tired wornout feeling and have improved so wonderfully that I feel like a different person."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co. Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

SPRING MILLINERY

Prophecies of Spring Time as Seen in New Designs of Smart Millinery

(By Madame Francis, Famous Creator of Fashions, New York City.)

They say no woman ever committed suicide on her way to buy a pair of silk stockings. Certain it is that no Peterborough woman could think of unhappiness with the lure of an Easter hat in front of here eye.

The time has long since passed when women waited for the dawn of Easter Sunday to put on their Easter bonnets. The new year finds the shops ambitious to push their spring creations. Many women wear straw hats in the coldest months of the year, with their heaviest furs — an inconsistency of better judgment and better experience in the fitness of things.

A new straw hat does put spring into the blood of every normal woman. She just can't wait to buy one! Whether she is going to a winter resort or whether she must await the slow advent of spring in a less propitious clime, she must get that spring hat. Once bought it never rests long in its gaily flowered bandbox. It must be worn!

Sales Unprecedented.

When one reviews the charming creations which the milliners have given us this spring, there is small wonder that the sales of millinery have been unprecedented. From the beginning of January when winter resort "habitues" sought the first offerings of Fashion, until now, there has been a constant demand for hats, and yet more hats.

Straw hats and those made of fabrics are equally popular. Frequently straw is combined with material, such as taffeta and Georgette crepe with charming effect. Ribbon hats are in great demand by the younger women and girls, because ribbon hats match sweaters and sports coats so perfectly. A fine grosgrain is usually the ribbon employed to develop these hats, though effective models are made of Georgette satin ribbon.

Hats of calico and gingham are worn with matching gowns and parasols in colourful and picturesque array. Gaily flowered chintz crowns are frequently mounted on straw brims of rose, yellow, old blue and black. Indeed, the world is a more gladsome place when viewed from the brim of a becoming hat. A soulful satisfaction envelops the woman who is sure that her hat is becoming.

Leghorns Popular.

Leghorn hats will be popular for dress wear and also for sports use. The large floppy shapes are used for dress. They are faced, wired and bound in a variety of ways. Chiffon, taffeta and ribbon in shades of old blue, pink and coral, bind these hats of tawny straw. Flowers invariably trim them. The sports models of leghorn are blocked in sailor shapes with high crowns. Velvet ribbon is a favourite trimming for these hats and bladere bands of brilliantly striped taffeta is another popular treatment of the leghorn sports hat.

Straws of basket weaves are trimmed with fruits. Grapes in blue and green, luscious cherries, tiny oranges and apples vie with the real fruits that summer will later bring us. These broad brim shapes will adorn many a picturesque farmerette who will do most of her farming in a well laid out garden of hydrangeas and rhododendrons with colourful beds of nasturtiums and purple iris to make a glorious background for her dainty loveliness.

Black lace hats complete with picture shapes of lisere straw for extreme dress. Black net hats with cordings of black satin are charming accessories of the lovely light coloured summer gowns. Bronze net also makes effective hats, especially when worn with the soft pastel shades.

Bridesmaid's Hat.

A lovely bridesmaid's hat is shown in a leghorn model with upturned brim. This brim is edged with a soft fold of blue taffeta. It flares off the face in a line suggesting the Marie Louise shape. A boquet of pastel flowers in shades of yellow, pink, violet and green nestles at the side, just above the line of the hair. This is a charmingly youthful model and will be a lovely choice for wear with a lingerie gown.

A hat that shows the charm of fruit trimming is found in a picturesque shape of grey Napoleon straw. The line of this hat is very graceful. It has no facing, but is wired beneath the brim with a satin-covered grey cord. Bunches of grapes in mauve and blue alternate with clusters of yellow-red apples and green leaves to form a wreath. This model is very effective in rose with pale green grapes and tiny peaches making a wreath surprisingly natural in lovely tints.

Oriental Turban.

A small oriental turban of black straw glimmers like satin and is woven in and out in folds that suggest an Indian maharaja's headdress. A beautiful sweep of black paradise trims this turban at just the right angle. This hat makes an effective suit model, or it may be worn with great distinction with the more dressy street gowns of charmeuse and crepe meteor.

A lovely suit hat for a young girl is developed in Joffre blue taffeta and blue straw. The crown and upturned brim are strapped with straw braid, in a beautiful satiny weave. This hat may be also had in rose. It looks particularly well with a suit of navy blue tricotine or one of soft grey homespun made in the belted or box lines so popular at present.

Turbans Popular.

Turbans are being much worn with suits. One of dark blue straw with a bunch of red cherries trimming the left side, is a pretty model. Cherries are very lovely on both large and small hats. A broad mushroom shape of black basket weave straw is wreathed in cherries.

An effective dress hat is made of lavender Neapolitan straw. The lace-like quality of Neapolitan straw makes a charming hat for wear with filmy frocks of lace, chiffon or embroidery. This hat of lavender Neapolitan has a broad brim, almost flat. From its edge falls a fold of thinnest lavender Georgette crepe, which veils the face and eyes picturesquely. This fold of Georgette crepe may be thrown over the top of the brim in front and allowed to fall gracefully at the sides and back. Sometimes this arrangement of the net or Georgette fold is more becoming. A single pink rose rests on the brim of this hat at the side front. This model is also exquisite in pink crinne straw with a fold of pink Georgette crepe.

Calico Hat and Parasol.

A hat of calico and its matching parasol are made of canary yellow calico sprigged in orange. Black velvet ribbon trims the hat and borders the parasol.

Both the poke bonnet and 'Bo Peep' shapes will be very popular in calico models all summer. Gingham hats are made up in similar lines, though frequently combining plain ground with check or plaid.

Organdie chapeaux whose cool crispness greeted our eyes last summer will again be worn with organdie and lingerie frocks. This year these hats carry a new variation in tam-o'-shanter crowns of charmeuse satin mounted on organdie brims. A charming model has a crown of rose charmeuse surmounting a cool-looking brim of crisp white organdie. Could anything be lovelier for summer?

There has been a revival of English eyelet embroidery for both hats and gowns. This material is very effective when made up in broad brim shapes of hydrangea blue, coral pink, or canary yellow. Grey, lavender and dark blue are also lovely in these hats of Broderie Anglaise, as it is called.

THE FASHION FORECAST.

Ochre yellow will be featured in sports cloths for spring. Combined with tends of black, white or old blue, this colour is very lovely.

BARON TOTO SPEAKS ON THE PEACE LEAGUE

Says Rejection of Racial Equality Will Cause Japan to Question Sincerity of Allies

Baron Goto, who was Japan's Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Terauchi Cabinet, is now in New York. He came from Washington, where he has ben visiting Viscount Ishii, the Japanese Ambassador. This is Baron Goto's second trip to the United States in eighteen years.

"Japan is greatly concerned about the racial equality question," he said. "I firmly believe that if the clause embodying this ponit is finally rejected the Japanese people will consider that the Allies and the United States are not sincere in their expressed desire for peace and amity throughout the world. To us the League of Nations will be but a name unless our race is admitted as an equal member by the incorporation of the principles of race equality in the league's constitution.

"There is a difference between this question and the matter of immigration. The racial equality clause will not restrict the freedom of the United States to keep up whatever bars it desired against the ingress of Oriental labor. Of course, all Japan looks forward to the day when it will not be necessary to exclude our workmen because they might tend to lower your high standard of living."

Baron Goto declared that unrest in Corea is fermented mainly by Corean propagandists living in other countries, who do not, or will not, appreciate the splendid progress their nation has made under Japanese protection and encouragement. He said the main centres of Corean propaganda are China, Hawaii and the United States.

"Another class of propagandists," he said, "are responsible for the anti-Japanese feeling in China. These are the ambitious politicians, who seek to capture a following by appeals to patriotism and chauvinistic attacks on the Mikado's empire. China is a land of politicians, the greater part of whom follow the teachings of one of her ancient classics, which lays down the principles of false and deceptive politics and diplomacy that is strangely analagous to those of Machiavelli."

Co-operation is more characteristic than rivalry in the Japanese and American development of China, according to Dr. I. Nitobe, Japanese expert in agricultural economics, who is travelling with Baron Goto. Dr. Nitobe, who is the author of several books on Japan, and is known to many by a series of lectures he delivered in several American universities in 1912 at the invitation of the Carnegie Peace Foundation, declared that there is no fear of American and Japanese collision in China or at any other point in the Orient. Reports of bad feeling between the two countries he dismissed as "canards."

Referring to the reported Japanese land purchases in Mexico, Dr. Nitobe said:—

"There is not a word of truth in these stories. When I asked our consul at Los Angeles about them a month ago he thought it beneath his dignity even to deny them."

New Canadian Company Opens Laboratory in Montreal

To facilitate the distribution and sales of Forhan's For the Gums (an American preparation) in Canada, a Canadian Company recently organized.

The Canadian Company, Forhan's Ltd., plans to market on an extensive scale. A laboratory for the making of their preparation has been opened at 307 St. James street, Montreal. Forhan's For the Gums will be widely advertised in Canadian newspapers and magazines, and will be sold at the same price as in the States.

This preparation—a Pyorrhea preventive, used as a dentrifice—has had a tremendous success on the American side, but heretofore has been handicapped in Canada because of the high price at which it was sold here.

With the organization of the Canadian Company, and the manufacturing of the product on this side, the price handicap is removed, and it is anticipated that Forhan's For the Gums will meet with the same success as in the States.

LEAVE IT TO PROVINCES.

Prohibition Legislation Will Provide for Policies Decided Later.

OTTAWA, April 28.—That as a result of the caucus the prohibition legislation is almost certain to be amended was the statement of a Cabinet member here.

The legislation, he said, would take the form of validating for a year the present order, but the amendment would be so drafted as to fit with whatever policy might be adopted by any province. This means that Quebec would be allowed to manufacture and import beer and wine, and if plebiscites in other provinces have a similar result, they too, would be allowed to manufacture and import whatever beverage is permitted to be sold.

WHEN YOU SEE A TESTIMONIAL

From a Person you do not know, Pay No Attention To It. When you see a testimonial from people in your own locality and whom you do know, if you have any doubt, Go and Ask Them. This Should Convince You.

We cannot imp ss too strongly upon the people of Canada that there are no Stomach and Tonic Tablets ju st like Dr. Norvall's. There are no tablets just as good as Dr. Norvall's. Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets are in a class by themselves.

In order to convince you of this we have interviewed the druggists of the City of Peterborough, and as th ey are all selling patent medicines and preparations of known value, they are in a position to judge the merits of Dr. Norvall's Stomach an Tonic Tablets.

Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets

Will Cure Constipation, Biliousness, Sick Headache and Indigestion

READ WHAT THE DRUGGISTS OF PETERBOROUGH SAY ABOUT THEM:

The Nugent Drug Co. states: "We recommend Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets because we are firmly convinced they are the best on the Canadian market."

Mr. Wm. Madill, Druggist, says: "We have a steady and increasing sale for Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets, and we are pleased to state that our customers are satisfied with the results."

Mr. C. M. Moncur, Druggist, says: "For constipation, indigestion and sick headache, Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets have no equal."

The Warne Drug Co. says: "If you are suffering from constipation, biliousness or sick headache, we know of no better remedy than Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets. Try them and you will agree with what we say."

Mr. E. L. Payne, Druggist, says: "Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets are one of the best preparations we keep in stock and our customers speak highly of them."

Mr. Weber, Druggist, says: "That dull, dreary headache and tired feeling will disappear if you take one or two of Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets at bedtime. Try them and be convinced."

Mr. W. J. Kent, Druggist, says: "We recommend Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets because we consider it our duty to recommend what will give the best results."

James Lynch, Druggist, says: "We recommend Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets because we get better results from them than from any other similar preparation we keep in stock."

McDermid & Jury says: "Our customers state that Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets give perfect satisfaction."

Mr. J. A. Burgess, Lakefield, states: "It is always a pleasure to recommend Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets, because my customers will be well pleased with the results."

The Tanner Drug Company, of Lakefield, say: "We have sold Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets for some time, and customers who have once used them will have none other in their place."

Mr. Vincent Sullivan, Druggist, says that he was surprised the number of people that insist upon having Dr. Norvall's Stomach and Tonic Tablets, and none other can take their place as a gentle laxative and building-up tonic.

We could fill a page with testimonials from individuals in this City, but we consider the druggists are in a position to advise the public.

"Dick Cross, the Bookbinder"

The Subject of the Following Sketch Had Relatives in Peterboro —A Fast Disappearing Art.

(By Chas. T. Lambert).

Out of the life that now is there has passed a rare genius, a workman of unusual capabilities, a master in artcraft, but who in the course of a residence of forty-five years in Peoria was denied the opportunity of extending himself to the full limit of his remarkable powers as exhibited in dexterity of hand directed by mental conceptions of the beautiful.

For forty-five years he was known to his acquaintances as "Dick Cross, bookbinder."

To his intimates (and they were very few) he was "Richard J. Cross, master of bibliopegic art."

His work, doomed by necessity to be far within his limitations, passes daily through the hands of the ten thousand patrons of the public library unheeded, and not to one in each thousand was he known.

For the past twenty-three years, up to two weeks ago, he had been working on the basement floor of the public library building, faithfully, conscientiously, his heart in the work before him, but his fancy filled with better things; fleeting glimpses of higher ideals that were never realized; visions that flashed their traceries before him and vanished swiftly as they came.

In the group of notable Americans that went down in the ill-fated Lusitania was Elbert Hubbard, who achieved not a little fame (now fast fading) not only as a quaint and original writer, but as a producer of excellently printed and beautifully bound books.

For two or three years he ransacked the book centres of this country in search of a man who could bind books as he wanted them to be bound, and when he succeeded at last in finding him his joy was that of an archangel.

Now Elbert Hubbard was born and reared in Central Illinois (somewhere near Bloomington), and at one time worked at his trade of printer on the old Peoria Transcript.

Had he, at the outset of his long search, wandered back to Peoria he would have found his ideal maker of books in Richard J. Cross.

And Richard J. Cross would have been restored to his element.

As it was, Dick Cross was reserved for that fate described by Gray in his famous Elegy:

Full many a gem of purest ray serene
The dark, unfathomed caves of ocean bear;
Full many a flower is born to blush unseen
And waste its sweetness on the dessert air.

Had Dick Cross been better acquainted with his inner self—that is to say, had he been more self-confident, more assertive, more disposed to let his light shine where it could be seen of men, he would have risen out of his drab and humdrum existence and have come into his own.

But he was of a retiring disposition and utterly unable to put himself forward. He was a gem in the ocean depths that had to be dived for; the wayside flower that blushed unseen.

Gentle reader, did you ever hold in your hands a book whose exquisite garb, rare complexion and bewildering external beauties so charmed your senses of sight and touch as to send champagne gurgles and thrills through your very soul and make you hesitate to open it for fear the act would be profanation?

Something, say, in crimson crushed levant, inlaid with purple and red morocco. Or garnet morocco with wide borders, inlaid with variegated leathers in a scroll pattern, lined with dark green with red border; or with embosses; or the laceries of dentelle; or filleted arabesques and interwoven bands, or any of those entrancing designs that run down from the time of Jean Grolier in the sixteenth century to the master craftsmen of our own day—Cobden Sanderson of London or William Matthews of New York?

It is not to be supposed that you ever did. There were two of those ecstatic bindings in Peoria as recently as three years ago, but they are not here now.

Well, Dick Cross could design and build just such covers as those. He made a few of them in Toronto, Ont., fifty years ago.

But he was fifty years ahead of his time and too far west. In Peoria he did not dare to essay so great an achievement.

It was in Toronto, where he learned the trade of bookbinding, that Richard Cross came under the instruction of an Englishman who had absorbed the traditions and much of the style of Roger Payne, the master bookbinder of 125 years ago, and whose influence is still exerted among the very few who care to devote three months to the decoration of a single tome.

Scene from Gus Hill's Minstrels. At the Grand To-night.

(Imagine 57,000 impressions made by hand on one lone book cover!)

The witchery of this beautiful artcraft appealed to the young man, who by that time had become skilled in the general work of bookbinding, and he applied himself to it, but his efforts did not appeal to the public, and he fell back upon the customary commercial work.

He came to Peoria forty-five years ago. When the late E. S. Willcox became public librarian he was quick to perceive the superiority of the workmanship of Dick Cross and induced him to install a bindery on the basement floor of the library. Previous to that time the binding work for the library had been done by various local concerns.

During the past twenty-three years the Peoria public library has been the infinite gainer by the Cross management of its bindery, for Dick put joy into all his work. He was nothing if not thorough. His work will remain for many years to come as the most substantial examples of the bookbinder's craft in Peoria.

In "forwarding" and "finishing" as the two main departments of bookbinding are technically termed, he went a little beyond every requirement and would have gloried in further decorative "tooling" had permission been granted him.

For the charm of exquisite beauty was ever before him and he lived as the poet

Who through long days of labour
And nights devoid of ease,
Still felt in his soul the beauty
Of wonderful harmonies.

The original lines of Mr. Longfellow have been slightly altered in the foregoing quotation, but it was deliberately done to fit the occasion and the subject, for Dick Cross was worthy of it, as one whose life was filled with day-dreams of the beautiful in books.

The subject of the above sketch was an uncle of Mrs. T. J. Johnston and Mrs. John Walker, also a brother of Mrs. E. Melburn, all of Peterborough.

Labour Men Interested in Action of International Union

Industrial Relations Commission See Things for Themselves in the West Beyond the West.

(By Main Johnson.

VICTORIA, April 28.— It has not taken the Industrial Relations Commission long to see for themselves the labyrinth entangling British Columbia labour affairs. They have learned for one thing that a detachment of Royal Northwest Mounted Police have just been sent to reinforce the Provincial police at Princeton, a smelting town in the interior of British Columbia, where a disturbing strike is reported to be in progress. They have also learned that the Trades and Labour Council of Victoria of Victoria, following the lead of Vancouver, have decided not to appoint delegates to appear before the Commission and have re-affirmed their resolution that the aims of labour as represented by the Council were the abolition of the present system of production for profit and substitution of production for use.

Keenly Interested.

They have also found labour men keenly intersted in the action of the International Association of Machinists in cancelling the charter of a local union in Vancouver which had voted $500 for the one big union. Legal action has been threatened if this money is paid over and officials of the revoked union have been ordered to pay all the funds in their treasury to the International. This indictment is arousing great interest among Victoria labour men, for several unions here too, have authorized payments of money for one big union propaganda. Local men are waiting to see if similar cancellation will follow here, or whether the Vancouver case is being made a test. At all events it looks like the beginning of a "show down" between International craft unionism and the new industrial one big union idea. The Commission also heard from evidence presented to it officially of increasing unemployment in Victoria and surrounding districts. The present number of unemployed was given as 2,500, of whom 1,0 were said to be returned soldiers. Of the items mentioned only the last was brought to the attenion of he Commission officially in its first sitting in the Empress Hotel on Saturday night. Two representatives of the Board of Trade were on hand, but will appear on Monday. There were a few labour men present.

CLEAN UP SEASON IN WELLAND, ONT.

Following is a copy of a public notice issued in Welland by the Sanitary Inspector. A similar order issued in Peterboro and enforced would improve matters in Peterboro," remarked one citizen who saw the appended notice.

PUBLIC NOTICE

All outhouses, stables, and dirty yards in the City of Welland, must be cleaned up before May 5th, and all manure from stables must be kept in fly-proof boxes, and no pigs to be kept in the city.

Prove Germans Organized Loot

Belgium Discloses Discovery of a Card Index of Seized Allied Property.

WRECKING CONTRACTS LET

PARIS,—Evidence of an organized system for the destruction of shops and manufacturing plants in Belgium and northern France by the Germans has been uncovered by the Brussels police in documents left behind among the records of the German Government during the occupaton of Brussels.

In view of the fact that Belgium is expected soon to fix the indemnity which she will demand from Germany, the documents, which were furnished to The Associated Press by the Belgian peace delegation, appear timely.

On their face the documents seem to establish that "destruction companies" were founded by and operated under the auspices of the Government of Occupation. They were five in number—the Gutehoffnunshutte Company of Oberhausen, Hein Lehman & Co. of Dusseldorf, J. Hilgers of Rheinbrohl, C. H. Jucho of Dortmund and a Berlin firm (name almost illegible on the index card) probably Breest & Co.

Seizure of Loot Systematized

Immediately upon the occupation of Northern France and Belgium a complete inventory of all the material and machinery of the large plants was taken by a special organization. Full indexes were made, copies of which were supplied to the various companies under a German official in Brussels.

The index cards were of different colors, yellow cards representing the district of Longwy-Briey, which was called "The Yellow Zone," and green cards for Maubeuge and vicinity, known as "The Green Zone," the blue zone "being the region of Lille and Douai.

Under the system, the five destruction companies had to apply to the special organization for permission to begin work on any plant, the organization retaining 5 per cent. commission on the gross value, as well as 22 marks 50 pfennigs per ton on the iron destroyed and 15 pfennigs for each metre of destroyed material. This was done in order to reimburse it for the labor supplied to the destruction companies, consisting of prisoners of war.

The companies were required to pay within thirty days the sale prices agreed upon with the special organization, according to the latter's valuation of the plant involved. Machinery and material were first removed from the plants and shipped to Germany, especially all boilers, rolling stock, electrical apparatus, zinc, copper, and materials of a similar character.

Millions of Tons Removed.

On Dec. 31, 1917, the five firms mentioned had made profits aggregating about 1,500,000 marks, according to the Belgian estimate.

The same firms had removed to Germany on April 30, 1918, for the German Quartermasters' Department 11,626,306 tons of iron and 207,242,003 square meters of other material, such as wood, glass zinc, and tin. They had also removed for the account of German firms about 24,293,827 tons of iron and steel, and about 300,000,000 square meters of other material.

The men engaged in the work were thus classified: German engineers, 69; French ad Belgian civilians, 57; expert German soldiers, 98, and war prisoners, 21,289. The salaries paid were: Engineers, 50 marks daily; foremen, 35; carpenters, 35, and ordinary workmen, 25.

LIQUOR PLACARDS ON CARS BARRED.

Western Roads Take Action to Stop Burglaries.

CHICAGO.—Regional directors of western railroads have issued an order to cease placarding cars, containing liquor in such a way that their contents will be revealed.

The action was made necessary because freight cars loaded with liquor being transported through dry states have been burglarized in scores of communities.

Since laws were enacted making the country dry on July 1, a campaign of theft has been conducted that is beyond record in railroad offices. In many sections of the country individuals are making the most of the opportunity to secure a supply from cars in transit against the time when the country will be dry.

Feed Chicks Right
They develop twice as fast.

Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Chick Feed will develop chicks into broilers for market faster and bring them to the egg-laying period much earlier than ordinary feed. Purina Feeds are adapted to young chicks, and give perfect development.

PURINA
CHICKEN CHOWDER and CHICK FEED

Grain feed supplies an excess of heat and energy, but is deficient in elements that make blood, bone, nerve, lean meat and feathers. Purina Chicken Chowder contains an abundance of the very elements which grain feed lacks. The Chowder and Chick Feed should be fed in about equal quantities.

Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Scratch Feed are guaranteed to make hens lay more eggs.

Anniversary Services Held at St. James' Methodist Church

Members of City Council Present —A Lesson on Brotherhood.

EVENING SERVICE

Rev. E. E. Scott of Toronto, the noted blind divine of the Methodist Church was in charge of both services at St. James Methodist Church yesterday, the Second Anniversary of the founding of the church. In conjunction with the anniversary services the two local Oddfellows lodges Peterboro and Otonabee marshaled under Lieut.-Col. J. W. Miller marched to St. James Methodist church 400 strong in celebration of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the order in America. The order which was founded by Thomas Wilder in the year 1819 in Baltimore has now over three million members and five millions of dollars is spent yearly in benevolences. In the province of Ontario there are 57,000 members of the order and 14,000 of them enlisted for services in the war. Last year in Ontario $228,000 was disbursed in benevolences.

The City Council was present also City Clerk Armstrong and a number of civic employees.

The musical programme was in charge of the Oddfellows and a score of male voices comprised the choir.

Rev. Scott's Address.

Rev. Scott took as his subject "Practical Benevolence" choosing his text from the 40th verse of the 25th chapter of St. Matthew,—

And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

The speaker informed the congregation that he intended to emphasize some truths of earth. "There are two classes that are entirely mistaken regarding Christianity," said the speaker. "One class is in the church and feeds on holy emotions but never help, lift a hand or do a kindly deed in support of their Christianity. The gospel expressly warns us against this. If we don't take our holy emotions outside the church into our every day, work day life, it is no good. We must put our holy emotions in practice.

The Other Class

The other class is outside the pale of the church, a class who think that they can laugh at conversion and mock at evangelism if they do good deeds and works, help the poor and alleviate some of the misery of mankind. They are next to Christianity but they are not Christian. We may confuse these big-hearted sinners with Christians and this is a great danger. The two go hand in hand. To be a Christian the good works must be coupled with Christianity. Your Christianity must be practical.

Blessed to Give

Christ is omnipresent and identified with every child of sorrow in the race of mankind. Christ unlike other religious teachers is not a Jewish God for the Jews but a cosmopolitan for the whole human family. Christ is a benevolent institution. The Oddfellows put out their hands not only for the members of the order but for everybody. They believe that it is more blessed to give than to receive These things are Chdistlike and worthy of the praise of all men. Mr. Scott said that the deepest and profoundest in man is the religious side and there is no man who has not it, not even the lowest beggar or thief.

Taught Brotherhood.

Jesus taught brotherhood something which neither the Greeks or Jews knew of. They never played the Good Samaritan. The Jews or Greeks never had great hospitals, orders or benevolent societies. The one thing that gives Christ the right to be universal is his compassion. Sparta and Athens never heard, "I was sick and you visited me, I was naked and you gave me raiment.....".

No man so ignores the cause of God as the man who goes to church every Sunday and then on week days squeezes the dollars until the very eagles squeal. Practical benevolence is Christianity.

A Story.

Among his many illustrations Rev. Scott told the following story which presented forcefully to the congregation what practical Christianity really is.

A little girl entered a combined grocery and liquor store and asked for 5c. worth of tea saying that there was nothing in the house to eat. The clerk excused himself for a minute until he waited on some young men who had just entered the bar. Coming out the young drunkards noticed the girl lying sound asleep beside the counter with the five cents clutched tightly in her hand. The clerk briefly told them the little girl's story of misery. One young fellow took a two dollar bill from his pocket three others contributed a dollar and the five dollars was gently put in the girl's hand by the young man.

"I would rather take my chance on Judgment day with that crowd than I would with the church-going hypocrite who attends church on Sunday and forgets that he was ever there on Monday," stated Mr. Scott.

Finding Heaven

He gave another fine illustration when he told how one man found heaven. A church member listened to a sermon on heaven and afterwards asked the minister where heaven was located. "There is a woman on that hill in that house," replied the minister, "who is sick in bed and sick with her are her children. She has nothing to eat. You go to the grocery store and buy $50 worth of provisions —carrots, salt, bread, butter, eggs milk, potatoes, etc., go up to the house, peel the potatoes put them on to boil, then sit down beside the mother, open your Bible and read the 23rd Psalm to her and if you don't find Heaven I will foot the bill. The church member followed the minister's suggestion and the next day meeting the minister said, "I was in Heaven for fifteen minutes, all right." "

The Salvation Army Band headed by Adjt. Buntin lead the Oddfellows in their march to the church.

Thirteen Sailors Reported Lost

Were Returning in a Launch to the Battleship "Nevada."

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, April 28. — Thirteen sailors who were returning in a navy launch to the battleship "Nevada" were reported by the police to have been drowned when the launch sank in the Hudson river off 138th street early to-day.

The police said that in the absence of an official statement by naval authorities they based their report on information from persons who said they witnessed the sinking and heard cries of drowning sailors. These witnesses declared that the launch apparently collided with something just before reaching the "Nevada," and that they had a clear view of what was taking place because of navy searchlights playing on the scene. There were fourteen persons in the launch, one being rescued, according to police reports.

Welcome For War Veteran

Lance-Corporal Pickle Remembered by Friends at Zion.

At the Foresters' Hall, Zion, the friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Pickle to meet their son, Lance-Corp. Pickle, home from overseas. The young man, who is only 21 years old, enlisted with the 93rd Battalion, and was wounded during the fierce fighting in the fall of 1917.

Mr. Joshua Smithson was called to the chair and the hero of the evening was presented with a cheque for $50 by Morley Smithson, who also read the following address.

Dear Harry: We have met together to-day to welcome you back to your old home, and I am sure there is not one amongst us who is not unaffectedly glad to shake you by the hand and say we are glad to see you. You have had an experience such as has not fallen to the youth of Canada in the memory of living man and have shown yourself worthy to be ranked with those unnamed thousands from our country and from the kindred nations who were willing to do their share in defending the right and opposing the wrong. am not here to make an eloquent speech, which is I know a thing which you in common with most other soldiers dislike, especially when your own achievements are the theme of the speech. I will spare your blushes, therefore, and merely say that we do, everyone amongst us, recognize that you have shown yourself a worthy son of worthy parents and a citizen of who Otonabee may well be proud. In token thereof I ask you to accept this small gift from your many friends, coupled with the hope that you may be preserved many years to enjoy their companionship.

Mr. Thomas Petrie sang several solos and the children of the neighborhood rendered musical selections.

The chief speakers of the evening were Col. T. J. Johnston and Reeve Anderson. The latter said he hoped the township of Otonabee would erect some suitable memorial as a recognition of the part its young men had taken in the war.

Extra Special Attraction at the Grand Thursday, Friday and Saturday

On account of previous bookings at the Grand the regular programme of Vaudeville and Pictures will be produced on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, instead of Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The great favorite, Norma Talmadge, will be seen in her biggest success, "Her Only Way," from the stage play of the same name.

The star vaudeville bill will be headed by the famous Lind in singing and dancing paintings. Lind is one of the world's most wonderful female impersonators, whose really remarkable camouflage has entertained and mystified people in every section of the universe. Though "every inch a man," his form, attire, beauty, voice, appearance and womanly eccentricities are unquestionably feminine and most decidedly deceptive.

Lind offers a most pretentious call, classical posing,terpsichorean and vocal novelty, which is billed under the title of "Singing and Dancing Paintings," consisting of a series of beautiful character pictures posed in a massive frame, following each pose a characteristic dance emblematical of the subject pictured, is presented by this remarkable artist.

The work of this splendid artist is assuredly the last word in an act peculiar to the genius of its originator. Expert dancing and a singing voice requisite to the needs of the production are part of his equipment. It is an attraction that will unquestionably prove the big drawing card of the season.

Foster and Foster will be seen in a Skit entitled "The Volunteer Pianist." Of the many comedy acts to be seen here this season none will provoke more genuine laughter and please more highly than this offering of Ed. and Minnie Foster.

As an added attraction Raymond & Vincent, a delightfully entertaining couple, present a bill under the caption of "Names Don't Count," consisting of some exceedingly clever acting and good music. Both are splendid singers. Their parodies are original and amusing. Their feature number a travesty on family affairs, representing the first month, and two years after marriage, is a scream. It is cleverly acted and the best travesty seen in many a day.

Charlie Chaplin will be seen in "Oh, What a Night!" and a special screen Magazine. Altogether this is the best bill ever offered in Peterboro, and at prices to suit everybody. 10c-15c Matinees, and 15c-25c evenings. Reserve your seats in advance.

Snow Storm in the British Isles

Six Inches of Snow Fell—Communication Cut With Outside World.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April 28. — Following a period of perfect spring weather, one of the worst storms in some time raged over the British Isles last night, covering the country with from four to six inches of snow. Telegraph and telephone lines suffered severely and communication is cut off in many directions from this city. Communication with the continent is interrupted in this city, which received the brunt of the storm. Five thousand telephones were put out of service. The spring crops and young lambs suffered from the storm. Marine reports show that few of the small ships were wrecked.

Says Mr. Wilson Causes Despair Among Europeans

Charles Stewart Davison Gives Summary of Opinion Learned During Recent Tour.

President Wilson and his policies are responsible for a failure of the peace conference which will necessitate the re-fighting of the war a score of years hence, according to Charles Stewart Davison, lawyer and chairman of the Board of Trustees of the American Defense Society. Mr. Davison summarized his observations during a trip to Europe from which he returned on Monday.

A severe cold contracted aboard ship reduced Mr. Davison's voice to a whisper and prevented an interview. His conclusions were embodied in a statement given out from his office at No. 60 Wall street.

His statement follows:—"My brief visit to Europe was necessitated by professional employment. Naturally both in England and France I met a number of people representing all social classes and occupations. Without undertaking to express any opinion of my own, I can report the result of the expressions of the opinions of others. One opinion I found universal among them, from highest to the lowest and among both French and English, was that the situation in relation to the so-called peace conference as unsatisfactory.

"Some characterized it as a failure, some as a farce, and all denounced the failure to make peace, while discussing theories of the future relations of the nations. The existing situation was attributed to the personal idiosyncrasies of Presiden Wilson.

Among the Americans the opinion was freely expressed that he ought to return home and let Europe settle its own questions.

"All nationalities seem to agree that the situation was growing steadily worse throughout the world, and would soon be intolerable. All agreed that on the President's first arrival in France he was generally received as the embodiment of the salvation of civilization, and that now Europe is divided into three categories in her estimate of him:—those who are puzzled, those who are angry, and those who despair. I did not hear the President's course of action approved by a single person. The people who seemed to be the most bitter about the situation were American army officers. Meanwhile the general impression throughout Europe appears to be that owing to the situation which has been created, the war will have to be fought over again in twenty years, in one shape or another, and the opinion appears to prevail that President Wilson and his policies will come to be execrated throughout the world. Whomsoever be at fault it is a sad ending, as it stands to-day, to high aspirations."

CURED OF DYSPEPSIA BY USING BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

The symptoms of dyspepsia are so numerous and diversified in different individuals that probably no description could exactly represent them as they occur in any given case, but a few of the most prominent are a rising and souring of food, pain, flatulence and distention of the abdomen, a sensation of discomfort after every meal, which is sometimes followed by sickness and vomiting.

To get rid of dyspepsia a careful arrangement of the diet is necessary and due time must be given for the digestion of the meal.

You will find that Burdock Blood Bitters will help with this digestion. It does this by toning up the stomach in such a way that the dyspepsia soon disappears.

Mr. Robt. Baldwin, Winnifred, Alta., writes:—"I cannot speak too highly of Burdock Blood Bitters for curing dyspepsia, of which I have been a sufferer for years. I have tried a good many doctors and proprietary medicines, so one day I thought I would try something different. I got a bottle of B. B. B. from our local store, as it was about the only remedy he kept, and I can certainly say that I was more than pleased with the results, as I got better right away. I will always recommend it to other sufferers."

FIRE LOSS IN PETERBORO

(By D. W. DUMBLE)

Last winter there was an extensive fire on George street, Peterborough. The fire began apparently in the cellar of R. Neill's boot and shoe store and gradually burnt its way right up to Simcoe street, destroying one bank and shops, all fine business property, fully occupied. It was a great loss and a gain to no one. It took eight months to rebuild and it took a lot of money, and caused great disturbance in business.

It was rather a slow fire and, under favorable circumstances, it could have been confined to Neill's shop or promptly put out. No one knows the cause of the fire, but every body knows that if the shops, banks, lodges and other tenements had been properly constructed and the fires properly handled the loss would have been but a fraction of what it was. I hear some one remark, Oh! there was no loss, the new buildings are better than the old and the town has lost nothing. That is a fallacy—and one that costs millions of dollars, and gives Canada a bad name—There is hardly a country in the world with as bad a fire record as Canada—and, as a consequence, so high a price paid for insurance. The Insurance Companies pay nothing. The mere cost of Insurance is paid by the policy holder. The whole of the money paid by companies, is obtained from the policy holders, they also put up the cost of conducting the companies, the agents' inspectors' and officer's salaries, and the stock holders dividends. Every dollar is is gotten from the insured, and when there are fires, the money paid to the insured is paid out of the moneys taken from the pockets of the insured. If the fire losses were lessened, the insurance rates would be lowered. Burning up property is burning up good money.

The question is asked, "How can we get a remedy?" The question suggests the answer, "Don't burn up the houses."

How can that be managed? Your own judgment will suggest the answer.

Think it out, and you will find the following Common Sense answers.

1. Build well, build thick walls, build good chimneys, build division walls between shops right up through the roofs and 4 ft. higher.

Don't let the joists of each shop go through the partition walls and touch or come near the joists on the other side of the wall.

Don't let the garret under the roof connect with the garret over the next shop.

Let every man who builds badly confine the danger caused to his own side of the wall.

Build chimneys at least 9 inches thick and put crocks in the chimneys.

Watch the stove pipes.

Compel every man who owns a chimney to clean it once a year at least.

2. Appoint proper chimney sweeps and fix their tariff of charges.

Compel the City Council to pass proper by-laws to secure safety from partition walls and chimneys.

Make it a penal offence to violate the terms of the building by-laws.

Don't let a builder be on the committee to settle the building by-laws.

They don't want to be restricted by severe terms that would save the peoples property. They have always fought in the Council to let people do cheap and nasty work.

Let the Council get the old five engine repaired and don't disgrace the town by wiring frantically to Lindsay to send help to fight our local fires, while our own engine lies in disrepair in the fire hall.

Let the Council get the old fire engine see that too many hose are not attached to the hydrants thus killing the power as was the case at the fire above mentioned when most of the water did not reach the upper windows.

See that a hose tower be provided that the fire men get a fair chance to deal with a fire.

If these suggestions are acted on you will have fewer fires and you will help to get for our country a better name and a less expensive system of fire insurance.

I address my letter to all citizens for all are interested, but I particularly appeal to the City Council to whom we look for a better building by-law.

Respectfully,
D. W. DUMBLE.

Reward of $5,000 Offered to Prevent Lynching of Negro

Maryland Black Escapes While Police Seek to Keep Him Out of Hands of Mob.

EASTON, Md., April 26.—Many parties of armed men are searching for Isaiah Fountain, a negro, who escaped from custody after an attempt had been made to lynch him. Fountain was on trial here, charged with attacking a thirteen-year-old white girl on April 1. The girl had identified him as her assailant.

Fountain was being taken to jail from court by a guard of Baltimore police through a crowd of more than two thousand persons, which became so threatening in its attitude toward the prisoner that the police turned into the residence of the Sheriff adjoining the jail. While they were holding the mob back the accused negro was pushed inside the house and, seeing an open window, darted through it and disappeared. He got several hours' start of his pursuers, owing to the fact that the mob refused to believe that he had gotten away.

In an effort to prevent the lynching of Fountain, should he be captured, Chief Judge Adkins announced that a reward of $5,000 would be given to the person or persons who brought Fountain into the courtroom uninjured.

PLAN NEW ALPINE REPUBLIC

Vorarlberg, Freed to Austria, Has Nowhere to Go

BREGENZ, VORARLBERG.—The inhabitants of the Alpine district of Vorarlberg, who formerly gave their allegiance to Austria, are in a quandry regarding their future political status. Little enthusiasm is manifested in favor of a junction with Germany, and still less about joining Bavaria. Public opinion in general appears to favor the idea of a junction with Switzerland, but the Swiss Federal Council has not yet taken kindly to offers of union made by Vorarlberg.

Another solution of the problem, which is gaining partisans, is for the creation of an independent Suabian State, including Vorarlberg and the smaller adjoining principality of Liechtenstein. It was first proposed to make this new State a Duchy, but the inhabitants of Vorarlberg are now opposed to any form recalling a monarchial government.

Bridge Shaken Under Attack

Some of the Aldermen Impressed by Injunction, Another Declares it a Bluff—Agreement is Ready.

The flux of divergent and opposing opinions on nearly all the phases of the Hunter street bridge problem, has been agitated to new uncertainties by the threatened injunction to restrain the council from letting the contract to the Russell-Townsend Company. Some of the Aldermen are not so positive nor so ardent as they were a week ago and are inclined to reconsider the action of the Board of Works in recommending the acceptance of this company's tender, but others declare that they are prepared to proceed with the drafting and signing of the agreement at once in order that the work may be undertaken as early as possible.

Mr. Townsend dallied in Peterboro from Tuesday night until Saturday morning wondering when the council purposed taking the next step of receiving the Board of Works' recommendation. Many citizens are asking the same question, and in the meantime the injunction was inspired and the whole situation apparently complicated to the consternation of those who have been advocating immediate action in concrete, and the delight of another group of obstructionists who ostensibly desire to save the ratepayers from whatever taxes a concrete bridge will impose.

At any rate the council and most of the citizens seem more hopelessly lost in the labyrinth of suggestions, crimpings, reductions, alterations and other changes under which the Barber structure may be buried. One group, it may be assumed are certain of their position. They have determined, although one Aldermen believes them "bluffing," that the bridge shall not proceed, at least not the Barber concrete bridge. A steel span may be aceptable, if it does not cost too much. Another alderman has decided to support a concrete bridge, if it is reduced for a single street railway track. And so on. There is no end of varigty to this simple proposition that the city build an overhead bridge.

The Special Committee meets tonight evidently for the purpose of considering the agreement which City Solicitor Widdifield has prepared.

Three Peterboro Men Have Narrow Escape Yesterday

Canoe Capsized in the Otonabee River—A Timely Rescue.

James Sollit, 543 Downie street, J. H. Bartholomew, 472 Reid street and Arthur Cassan of 480 Reid street, had a very narrow escape from death by drowning yesterday at about 12 o'clock noon in the Little Lake. At about 11 o'clock Mr. Sollit called at the home of Mr. Cassan and asked him to take a trip down the river and the party was later joined by Mr. Bartholomew. After a short paddle down the Otonabee the party turned to return to Mr. Sollit's boat house near the Matthew's-Blackwell plant.

While coming up just below the C. P. R. bridge the canoe which was fairly heavily taxed turned in the swift current and capsized making three complete revolutions as the current caught it. Cassan, a splendid swimmer made the shore while the two men desperately grasped the ends of the upturned boat. For twenty five minutes they struggled in the icy water first one at the bow becoming submerged and then the one at the stern going under. Finally the calls of the three men aroused some passersby and a rescue party of Mr. Joe Young (Lajeunesse) of the Beaver and Mr. Desautel, managed in a canoe to reach the now practically exhausted men and towed them into the George street wharf, where Mr. P. J. Doris assised in taking them out of the bitterly cold water. They were taken immediately to Mr. Bartholomew's home on Reid street by Tommy Tucker who was fortunately one of the many spectators and today are little the worse for their narrow escape. The canoe out of which they capsized was later rescued and brought upon th shore near the Matthewa-Blackwell factory.

Prompt Action.

The spectators agreed that but for the prompt action on the part of the rescue party the men would undoubtedly have gone down in a few moments as the current was too swift to brught up on the shore near the Mat attempted to go to their assistance.

WHEELS! OIL!

"When You See Wheels—Think of Oil!"

WHAT IS THE GREATEST INVENTION IN HISTORY?

Steam? Electricity? Radium? The Telephone, the Telegraph, the Automobile, the Airship?

"NO!"—ANSWER IS "WHEELS!"

WHEELS ON TRAINS, WHEELS ON TRUCKS, WHEELS EVERYWHERE

And No Wheel Turns Without OIL!

OIL—ONCE THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD! TO-DAY THE POWER THAT DRIVES THE WHEELS OF COMMERCE!

THE GREAT WESTERN CORPORATION IS AN OIL PRODUCING, REFINING, TRANSPORTING AND MARKETING COMPANY OWNING THE GREAT WESTERN OIL & REFINING COMPANY, THE RED SEAL OIL & GAS COMPANY, AMERICAN PRODUCTS COMPANY, AND OTHER CORPORATIONS ENGAGED IN PRODUCING AND MARKETING PETROLEUM AND BY-PRODUCTS. A LIMITED ISSUE OF TREASURY STOCK OFFERED AT PAR. 5% INCREASE MAY 1st.

Great Western is also is the 4th largest independent oil corporation in America. Three dividends paid to date. A rare opportunity to share in the oil wealth of the famous Mid-Continent Oil Fields.

Great Western—safe; sound; conservative, offers the practical certainty of large dividends and the added possibility of a small fortune on a few hundred dollars invested. A strictly high-class stock backed by tangible assets worth millions.

Don't Confuse Great Western with Wild Cat Speculations, Stock Jobbing and Worthless Promotions

Remember Great Western is rated in Bradstreet's International Edition under Erie, Kansas, J-A, meaning $400,000 to $500,000 highest credit. Dun's report gives us a net worth of $2,548,320. United Mercantile rates us $1,000,000 highest credit. Great Western was investigated and licensed by the U.S. Capital Issues Committee. Great Western owns 14 producing oil wells, a 3000 barrel refinery covering 73 acres at Erie, Kansas, a fleet of 114 all-steel tank cars for transporting crude oil, gasoline filling stations in 7 states, their own pipe-line, large storage warehouse facilities and thousands of acres of oil land leases, the leases alone valued at the huge sum of $2,000,000. Great Western owns 40,000 acres of oil land leases outright, 30,000 acres additional in conjunction with other large operators such as the Carter Company, a Standard Oil subsidiary, the Camden Company, Sinclair interests, etc. Great Western is safe, substantial, progressive, a company whose securities offer you an unparalleled investment opportunity.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT AFTER OIL

A Washington despatch says that the purchase by the British Government of oil property in Mexico has been confirmed and officials of American State Department are much interested in the situation. The British now own about 20% of the approved oil properties in Mexico and English interests are operating in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas. It is stated the British Empire has adopted a clearly defined oil policy and will create an oil ministry. Sufficient financial backing it is understood has been obtained to develop the most powerful oil producing, refining and transporting enterprise in the history of the industry.

U.S. GOVERNMENT ON OIL CONSERVATION

Director Manning, Bureau of Mines, U.S. Department of Interior, says a wholesale co-operation is imperatively essential, a co-operation which shall include the governments, states, business men, artisans and laborers. National security impels a wise policy in petroleum conservation. Particularly does this apply to war activities, should they arise, since a famous British Admiral has openly admitted that "the Allies floated to victory on a sea of oil."

FRENCH GOVERNMENT IN OIL

A Washington despatch states that consular advices from Algeria announce the organization of a new petroleum company capitalized at 20,000,000 francs, head office, Algeria. 67% of the stock is to be held by French citizens in order to guarantee French control of the business to be conducted.

NEW YORK WILD OVER OIL

Dr. J. D. Young, presiding director of the Bradley Oil interests of Texas, paid a visit to New York. A newspaper despatch quotes him as saying: "New York financial houses are displaying a marked interest in oil investments. From the time I wrote Fort Worth, Texas, after my name on the hotel register, I was the center of eager inquiries. Investors here seem as wild over oil securities as the people right in sight of a new gusher and it is said that New York will be the world market for oil securities as soon as the Victory Loan Campaign is over."

OIL IS MONARCH

At last oil has come into its own. Oil won the war against Prussianism and it is daily winning the commercial victory that results in your individual prosperity. Oil is keeping the world alive with warmth, heat, light and transportation. The Governments of the World have had this fact brought home to them and the average man is coming to realize more clearly his personal obligation to invest his funds in oil development and to aid in every way to increase oil production. This is an obligation every man owes to himself and his country.

Eastern capitalists are flocking to the oil fields by the hundreds attracted by the great new oil strikes and the daily fortunes that are being made in oil. They are purchasing leases at enormous figures and drilling their own wells with their war profits. Smaller business men and the working class are purchasing stock in solid, substantial producing companies.

GREAT WESTERN ATTRACTIVE

Great Western is in a peculiarly fortunate position to earn large profits. With only about one-half of its capital stock sold and limited operating capital it has already paid three dividends and accumulated vast properties, valued far in excess of its outstanding capital stock. Additional capital will enable Great Western to spend large sums in active development work which should produce enormous returns for our stockholders.

We earnestly believe that we are offering you one of the best investments ever placed before the public.

Oil companies made millions in 1910 at 33c a barrel and they are making billions now at $2.25 to $4 a barrel.

In view of the foregoing facts we feel justified in advertising Great Western as a solid, substantial investment practically certain to pay large dividends with the strong possibility of a small fortune on a few hundred dollars invested.

OIL BUSINESS HIGHLY PROFITABLE

One of the many reasons why oil is unusually profitable is the small labor requirement. A crew of 5 men can operate a refinery earning several thousands of dollars daily. Second, your dollars invested in the oil industry work 24 hours out of 24, thereby giving a three-time earning capacity. Third, thanks largely to the example set by the Standard there are no brokers in the oil business. There are no transportation charges because you use your own pipe-line to your refinery and refined oil is shipped away in your own tank cars. A large corporation like the Great Western has its own storage facilities and distributing stations which sell direct to the public. At no stage has the broker profited one penny. Another factor is the high average of success in drilling oil wells as against the small percentage of loss. Wells costing $40,000 to drill have frequently been known to pay for themselves in one day. Such instances are not typical of course, yet it is surprising how really small is the risk involved in the drilling of an oil well.

The U.S. Government issues a year book through the Department of Geological Survey which states that out of all the wells drilled in the state of Oklahoma in 13 years 85% of them produced oil in paying quantities. Present day statistics given by all of the leading standard journals show that 75% of all the wells drilled are producers.

DON'T BUY WILD-CAT STOCKS

These statistics apply only to the honest oil company, to the company who is legitimately engaged in the production of oil. Of course if you invest your money in "wild-cat" stock promotions you should expect to lose it but you cannot well blame this on the oil industry as a whole or on the reliable oil company that honestly invests your money in the drilling of oil wells.

GREAT WESTERN PROMISING

Great Western assets today are far in excess of its outstanding capital stock and Great Western right this minute is on the threshold of its greatest period of development. An increase in the price of stock has already been announced, 5%, effective May 1st, and an additional increase of 10% is anticipated very shortly. Great Western is growing larger daily. 30 additional tank cars have recently been added to our fleet and a 1000 barrel oil well has been reported in connection with our Texas interests in the Burkburnett Field.

FORTUNES ON SMALL INVESTMENTS

Do you know that a few hundred dollars invested in the right oil company frequently makes a fortune for the investor? Standard Oil Co. in 1880 had a capital of $700. In 1910 their capital was $525,000,000 after paying stockholders $2,000,000,000 in dividends. We call your attention to the fact that the Great Western Corporation is today operating along the same lines that the Standard did, which is to say that we are making every profit there is in the oil industry from the producing of crude oil until it is marketed at retail and in this policy lies the absolute safety of Great Western as an investment. We acquire at one and the same time a number of sources of revenue and a wide distribution of risks—two elements constituting safety. To date 63 oil companies in Texas alone have paid dividends amounting to $2,000,000 and yet this field was never heard of until 6 months ago. Many of these companies paid dividends ranging from 100%, to 1000%. The Fowler Farm Oil Co. paid its stockholders $75,000 for every $500 invested. Great Western may be added to this list of fortune makers any day. This cannot be guaranteed of course, but Great Western will certainly pay large dividends and we have not only as good, but a better chance to make our stockholders a fortune than these smaller companies had. 100 wells have been contracted for already in connection with some of our lease interests and no one can say what these wells may mean to our stockholders.

Last Chance to Buy Western at Par—8 p.c. Increase May 1st

Remember—Great Western is an established company—Great Western is Safe—Great Western owns enormous assets—Great Western is rated high—Great Western has already paid three dividends, and W. R. Jones, president of the company, says: "When this sale of stock is effected and our present plans completed, I am firmly convinced that Great Western will produce revenues of $4,000,000 per annum or 80% on its entire Capital Stock."

Do you realize that Great Western is the most unusual investment opportunity ever offered the public at par? If you do, fill in the coupon and mail it to-day. Or if you desire additional information write us at once for our "Stories of the Oil World."

BIG BIRTHDAY LIST.

Paper Says Twenty-Five Thousand Honours Coming.

LONDON, April 26.—Truth remarks that it is interesting to observe the hostility of Canadians towards the bestowal of titles, grows stronger with the increasing indulgence of the Mother Country in these tomfooleries. An understanding has been given that no further titles shall be bestowed on Canadians unless through the recommendation of the Dominion Prime Minister. In the present state of public opinion he dare not make any such recommendation. On the King's birthday it is understood a special gazette will contain twenty-five thousand names for peace honours of various kinds. If this is true the ceremony of investiture will probably continue when the court is in London for the next three years.

"STRANGLER" LEWIS WILL WED CALIFORNIA DOCTOR

SAN JOSE, Cal.,—Robert Frederick, known to the sporting world as "Strangler Lewis" nationally famous wrestler, and Dr. Ada Scott Morton, one of the best known woman surgens in California, will be married May 1 in New York. They announced their engagement here. Lewis expects to continue wrestling.

The romance began more than two years ago, when Dr. Morton operated on Lewis after an accident at Butte, Mont., in which his ankle was broken.

ONLY CHIEF LEFT ON BRANDON POLICE FORCE

BRANDON, April 28. — A complete deadlock still exists between the city council here and the civic union, the members of which body, approximately 100 strong, walked out on strike at 91 o'clock yesterday morning.

The street cars are in the barns. There is only the chief left on the police force, and three men on the fire brigade, who have been left there by the union to look after emergency calls.

Tongs manipulated by one hand have been invented for helping in handling clothes when washed at home.

THE WORLD OF SPORT

PLAYERS MAY PLAY IN BOTH BALL LEAGUES

Ontario Baseball Association Decides This Important Point at Annua Meeting—Mr. Ward Patterson of Peterboro is Elected Second Vice President of the Ontario Association.

TORONTO, April 28.—The first annual meeting of the Ontario Amateur Baseball Association, which was held at the Canadian Foresters' Hall on Saturday afternoon, proved very gratifying to the officers of the organization which was founded last year to govern amateur baseball in Ontario, for despite the fact that the association commenced its career in war time and considerable opposition was produced in some circles, this year they find that they have practically doubled their membership and territory.

Frank Robbins of Hamilton was elected president to succeed W. J. Smith of Toronto, who retired, but the latter in his address requested the delegates to legislate in the future with broad ideas, and thus give amateur baseball the advancement it warranted. Secretary George C Walker "admitted" that the association was a success, and insisted that this answered any criticism which might be hurled at it. The treasurer's report displayed a very creditable balance of $250.82.

Perhaps the most important ruling of the association was the granting of a special dispensation to "town leagues" for one year, which permits players in these leagues to also compete in their district leagues, but in the event of there being no teams that are well up in the race for the championships in either the town or the district they must declare before July 15 which club they will play for. The towns particularly affected were Oshawa and Kitchener, which were going to drop out, but now that their players are eligible their town leagues will get in line again, it is expected This will increase the membership of the O.A.B.A. considerably, for the towns that comprise the Central Ontario Baseball League (Oshawa, Lindsay, Peterboro, Belleville, Cobourg and Port Hope) and the Inter-County Baseball League (Kitchener Guelph, Preston and Stratford) will also affiliate through their town leagues.

New Leagues.

The new leagues to apply for membership, which were accepted, are the Inter-County League, the Guelph Amateur Baseball League and the Central Ontario League.

An amendment makes the annual membership fee $10 for associations or leagues whose membership is made up of clubs representing more than one town or city, and $5 for leagues whose membership is made up of clubs in one town or city.

Soldiers Helped.

Another amendment provides that no player shall sign a certificate in any league after July 15, and must have taken part in at least three games for champion club, in order to be eligible to play in the Ontario championships. Players transferring from one club to another must be properly released before signing a second certificate. This will not apply to returned or discharged soldiers who may return after July 15, but they must compete in three games to be eligible for the finals.

In championship games visiting clubs shall be allowed seven cents a mile one way for twelve men, which amount the home club must guarantee. In the event of rain the visiting team gets 3½ cents a mile for the second trip.

In all association championship games the net gate will be divided equally among the competing clubs and the association.

New ByLaws.

New by-laws were passed as follows:

All protest arising out of semi-final or final games must be made within 48 hours in the form of an affidavit sworn to before a notary public or justice of the peace and must be accompanied by a fee of $25. The club protest must file a similar defence within 48 hours after being notified of protest. Losing club shall forfeit the expenses of the protest meeting of the executive.

In all semi-final and final games clubs may agree upon umpires and notify secretary not later than Wednesday preceding the game. On failure to do so the president shall appoint the umpires.

Pity the Tourists

No player shall compete in the semi-finals or final games who has not been a bona fide and continuous resident of the city, town or village to which his club belongs since the first of January next preceding the date of the game. Players residing in a village or town where there is no organized amateur baseball club may play in the nearest affiliated league to their home. Returned or discharged soldiers may play in the town or city in which they enlisted or in their home town. Tourists will find a stumbling block in this amendment, but believing this rule to be too drastic for this year, a resolution was passed staying its power for one year and inserting for this year only the date of March 1.

The following officials were elected for the ensuing year:—

Hon. President, J. J. Norris, Toronto; Past President, W. J. Smith, Toronto; President, Frank Robbins, Hamilton; 1st. Vice President, Ald. J. J. Kelly, Brantford; 2nd Vice President, G Patterson, Peterboro; Secretary-Treasurer, Geo. Walker, Toronto.

The Delegates Present.

The delegates and officers in attendance were:—W. J. Smith, president, Toronto; George C. Walker, secretary, Toronto; Ward Patterson Peterboro City League; S. H. Armstrong, T. A. B. A. Toronto; A. W. Steele, Toronto; Frank Robbins, Hamilton A.B.A.; G. R. Hunt, T.A. B.A.; E. J. Seyler, T.A.B.A.; J. J. Solomon, Peterboro, Central Ontario League; H. W. Strum, Inter-County League; A. J. Waite, Hamilton A. B. A.; Harry Fleming, Brantford A.B.A. W. Scruton, Brantford A.B.A.; John G. Nott, Oshawa, Central Ontario League; Wm. Snyder, Hamilton, Central League; W. G. Potter, Hamilton A.B.A.; S. C. Burnes, Hamilton City League; P. M. Kennedy, T.A.B.A.; M. B .Dulmage, Guelph City League.

Fire Destroyed Ennismore Home

Believed to Have Originated from a Spark from Chimney

On Friday evening fire completely destroyed the residence of Mr. Dave Kennedy, on his farm in Ennismore, about eleven miles from the city. It is thought that the fire started from a spark from the chimney. Nothing could be done to save the building as it was constructed of wood, but most of the contents were removed, although some of the furniture was badly damaged. Mr. Kennedy has nine young children who summoned the neighbors, but the fire had made such headway that when the neighbors arrived, the building was beyond redemption. The insurance is said to be small and the loss will likely run into a large amount.

Colmar Church Bells in Frankfort and Art Treasures in Munich

COLMAR.—Five bells taken from churches of Colmar during the war by the Germans have been found in Frankfort and will be returned to their old places. Four of the bells were from the Church of St. Martin, while the fifth was the great bell from the Church of St. Joseph.

Valuable treasures stolen from the museum have been found in Munich, where they were taken by Bavarian Soldiers. The treasures include the painting of the "Madonna in an Arbor of Roses," by Schongauer, and the painted wings of the famous altar at Isenheim.

PLAN PERSHING WELCOME

British War Office to Honor American Commander in Chief in London

LONDON.—The British War Office has begun to arrange for signally honoring General Pershing, the American Commander-in-Chief, on his approaching visit to London, which it is believed will take place about the middle of May. Until the date of the General's trip and the length of his stay, are definitely determined, however, the plans must necessarily be left in an incomplete state.

General Pershing will receive the full honors due to the Commander of the forces of an allied nation, it was stated at the War Office.

PARIS PLANS WAR REVIEW.

To Hold Historic March of Army Along the Champs Elysees.

PARIS.—Preparations for the Victory parade of French troops in Paris are nearing completion. The triumphal march will be divided into three parts, representing the three stages of the war.

The troops, carrying full war equipment, will start from the Porte Maillot, at the edge of the Bois de Boulogne. They will we welcomed at the gate by the members of the City Council. From the gate they will move up the Avenue de la Grand Armee, which will be lined with guns taken from the enemy and with pillars inscribed with the names of the great battles of the war.

The official reviewing stand will be around the Arch de Triomphe in the Place de l'Etoile. Passing the arch, the troops will enter the Avenue des Champs Elysees, which will be decorated with flowers and with monuments symbolizing the path of peace. At the Rond Point in the Avenue a monument to the heroic dead and the restored provinces will be erected.

Milk will soften shoe polish that has hardened and improve its lustre.

Murray Street Choir Visited St. Andrew's

St. Andrew's Choir Went to Murray Street.

The choir of Murray street Baptist church occupied the choir seats in St. Andrew's church last night and led the service of praise. Every available seat was taken and special chairs provided. Under Mr. Asa Huycke's able leadership the anthem, entitled, "O Radiant Morn," was exceptionally well rendered. The duet, "He Did Not Die in Vain," by Mr. Oliver Steer and Miss Ida Lynn was much appreciated. Mr. Huycke sang with full, melodious voice, "Galilee," and the congregation listened with the closest attention.

The Rev. Mr. Rowand, on behalf of the congregation, welcomed the choir to St. Andrew's church, expressed appreciation of their music, and the hope that they would make the exchange again. He also bore testimony to the valuable assistance the members of our choirs give to the ministers in conducting the services of the church and to the fact that they give up much of their time to this work.

St. Andrew's Choir.

The choir of St. Andrew's church was enthusiastically received in the Murray street Baptist church, and their selections were sincerely appreciated by the congregation. Mr. Treneer's selections on the organ elicited many congratulatory remarks from all who heard and the soloists amply justified the splendid reputation they have earned in their appearances in St. Andrew's.

CHORUS GIRL ASKS $250,000 IN BREACH OF PROMISE ACTION.

NEW YORK.—Another one of those "show girl and wealthy admirer" affairs, which begin under suspicious circumstances and usually ends in the courts, has followed that now prosaic course with Miss Alice Hudson, of No. 319 West Ninety-Fourth Street, and A. Edwin Paulson, a mining and steamship broker, of No. 64 Wall Street, as the principals.

Until recently, says Miss Hudson, she disported with Al Polson in "Sinbad." The theatrical engagements she had for the last five seasons, never interfered with many proposals of marriage, she alleges, Mr. Paulson made and which she invariably accepted.

In 1915, the steamship man first suggested wedding chimes, and renewed his promise the next year, she asserts. He showed the same consistent spirit in 1917, 1918 and 1919, declares Miss Hudson. Having had ample opportunity to become her husband, and spurning the chance, Miss Hudson demands that Mr. Paulson should pay her $250,000 for breach of promise. The shipping man denies categorically every allegation based on the question of matrimony.

"PERSONAL FRIEND" TRIES TO INFLUENCE ST. CATHARINES JUDGE

Bench is Considering a Summons for Contempt of Court.

ST. CATHARINES, April 25. — There was a sensation in the non-jury sitting of the district court here, when Judge Campbell announced that he had received at his home a letter marked "Private and confidential," and written by a prominent, well-informed citizen. The letter, of which His Honor read the first two paragraphs, referred to the case of Craise vs. Wethey, a civil action brought by a fruit grower against a local canning concern over a quantity of strawberries, and represented matters in a manner that would justify judgment for the plaintiff.

The Judge severely scored the writer of the letter. "It is a highly improper thing," the judge commented, "to attempt to influence a judge. The writer could be summoned for contempt of court and I am seriously considering taking that course." It was a case of a writer presuming upon a friendship that had existed from babyhood, and which still existed, but His Honor declared that he could not permit such an attempt to influence judgment to go without a reprimand.

The matter has been referred to the Crown Attorney.

Judgment in the suit was reserved.

STRASBOURG STORKS BACK

Famous Birds of Good Omen Return to Nests Left in War

STRASBOURG.—Storks, which ceased their annual visits to Strasbourg in the Spring of 1914, returned this week to the old nests on a building on the left side of the Place de Broglie, in the centre of Strasbourg. Several storks, the first in five years, now occupy the nests.

The unexpected return of these famous birds in the present circumstances is commented upon with pleasure by the native population, who have always held that the storks brought good luck.

The building to which the storks returned is next door to the house in which on April 25, 1792, Rouget de Lisle first sang the Marseillaise. The Bank of France recently has established its offices in the building with the stork nests.

Before the war the storks of Strasbourg brought many American and British tourists here.

ENOS CAMPBELL DEAD

A Well Known Grain Man Passes at Sixty Five.

TORONTO, April 28. — Mr. Enos Macolmn Campbell, a prominent member of the Campbell Flour Mills Company, died in Toronto after a short illness at his residence, 206 Howard Park avenue. Born in Kent County, 65 years ago, Mr. Campbell came to Toronto in 1892 and became connected with the Campbell Flour Mills. For some years he occupied the position of manager, and during the past seven years had been acting as grain inspector. He is survived by a wife and four children.

WILL CONDUCT SPECIAL SERVICES AT PARK STREET.

Evangelist Alexander Torrie, B.A., of Toronto, will conduct special revival services in the Park street Baptist church all this week and next Sunday. Mr. Torrie has just closed a union mission in Oshawa. Special music by a large chorus choir will be rendered during the whole of the services.

MOTORS DAMAGED BY FROST.

By neglecting to let the water out of their engines a number of citizens got caught by the last cold spell and had the water-jackets of their engine cyclinders badly cracked up. The same thing occurred to a number of stationary gasoline engines used by the farmers throughout the country. In the past this has been a serious matter, necessitating the replacing of an entire engine block, but thanks to the new Acetylene Welding process, this is no longer necessary, and the wise ones take them to Millard, 225 Hunter Street, and have them repaired at a fraction of the cost of new parts.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Theresa Maloney and Miss Helen Halstead returned to Toronto University to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Richardson have returned from their honeymoon, and have taken up their residence at 465 Downie street.

Mrs. Daniel Wilson and her daughter, Alice, of Chapleau, Ont., are visiting friends in the city.

Bishop Sweeney Administered Rite of Confirmation

A Class of Fifty-Eight Candidates at All Saint's.

Yesterday His Lordship Bishop Sweeney administered the rite of confirmation in St. George's Church. All Saint's church and St. John's church, in each case to large classes. In the morning His Lordship while at St. George's at the confirmation service also consecrated the new chapel. In the course of his remarks he referred to the splendid choir and the service in general at St. George's which he said compared well with St. Alban's Cathedral in Toronto. In the afternoon at a special confirmation class at St. John's Church when a good sized class of candidates were confirmed the Bishop based his address upon "The Vine and Its Branches."

At All Saint's

At the evening service at All Saint's, the Bishop administered the rite of confirmation of fifty-eight candidates including twenty seven men and boys and thirty-one women and girls, who were presented by Rev. R. B. Grobb, the rector of the church. The beautiful and impressive service was witnessed by a congregation which taxed the church to capacity. The text was taken from Matthew 6th chapter, verse 19 and 20. "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt and where thieves break through and steal: But lay up for yourselves treasures in Heaven where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt and where thieves do not break through and steal."

BIRTH

McCARTHY—On Sunday, April 27, at St. Joseph's Hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCarthy, a son.

OBITUARY

MRS. WILLIAM LEE.

The death occurred at the family residence (Lee's Corners) 710 George street, on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, of Mary Jane Hammond, 78 years of age, one of the pioneer residents of this city. Her husband, Mr. William Lee, predeceased her 11 years. The late Mrs. Lee has lived in this city 47 years, coming from Lachute, Quebec, where she was born. She had been ill for the last three years, being confined to her bed for the last year, and the end was not unexpected. She is survived by five children, John of Sentinel, Arizona, Richard and Thomas of Penhold, Alberta, Ida, Mona Lake, California, and Mrs. Edward Manning, of this city. Three brothers and three sisters also survive her, Mrs. John Chapman and Mr. Richard Hammond of Lachute, Quebec, Mrs. Robert Mills of Montreal, Mrs. Jones of Hamilton, John Hammond of Mona Lake and Jonathan Hammond, of Seattle, Washington.

The funeral takes place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 from the family residence, 710 George street, to Little Lake cemetery, Rev. R. Pogue officiating.

GRAIN MARKET

A substantial break in corn prices occurred yesterday, but whether this is the long looked for permanent break which the bear element in the market have been figuring on, is still a question of much uncertainty. It is evident at all events that the bulls had a sudden attack of cold feet today, for after a short strong run during which the market jumped up a couple of cents, prices just as suddenly broke, the May option finally closing 4 3-8c. below Saturday's close. Oats and barley also weakened, following the break in corn.

Manitoba wheat—In store, Fort William; No. 1 Northern, $2.24 1-2; No. 2 Northern, $2.20 1-2; No. 3 Northern, $2.17 1-2; No. 4 wheat, $2.11 1-2.

Manitoba oats—No. 2 C.W., 75 3-4c.; No. 3 C.W., 72 3-4c.; extra No. 1 feed, 72 3-4c.; No. 1 feed, 70 3-4c.; No. 2 feed, 67 1-2c., in store, Fort William.

American corn—No. 2, $1.85, nominal; No. 4, $1.82, prompt shipment, track, Toronto.

Manitoba barely, in store, Fort William, No. 3, C.W., $1.08 3-8; No. 5, C. W., $1.03 1-4c.; rejected, 96 1-2c.; feed, 96 1-2c.

Ontario wheat—No. 1 winter, $2.14 to $2.23; No. 2 winter, $2.11 to $2.19; No. 3 winter, $2.07 to $2.15; No. 1 spring, $2.00 to $2.17; No. 2 spring, $2.08 to $2.14; No. 3 spring, $2.02 to $2.10 f.o.b., shipping points, according to freight.

An Inaccurate Announcement

PARIS, April 28. — The report that Premiers Clemençeau and Lloyd George approved of President Wilson's statement on the Adriatic problem, was declared to be inaccurate, an announcement made here says:

"The report that Premier Clemenceau and Premier Lloyd George approved of President Wilson's statement is inaccurate. The statement was read to M. Clemenecau and Mr. Lloyd George, and President Wilson informed them that he intended to issue it. M. Clemenceau and Mr. Lloyd George were anxious that Mr. Wilson should postpone publication in the hope that an arrangement might be arrived at."

"The President thought, however, that the time had arrived, and his statement was issued on his own responsibility. Before Signor Orlando left, M. Clemenceau and Mr. Lloyd George handed him a statement setting forth the French and British points of view just as President Wilson's statement had set forth the point of view of America. Whether Premier Orlando will publish the French and the British statements is a question for his decision.

Foreign Minister Sonnino and Former Premier Salandra of the Italian delegation left Paris for Rome, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. A large crowd of sympathizers gave them an ovation at the railway station.

Shell Shock Cases Cured By Hypnotism in Britain

Some of the Methods Employed Are Very Successful.

LONDON.—Soldiers suffering from that distressing ailment known as shell shock are very much disturbed, and in many cases their cures have been set back, "by the suggestion of some medical men that it is simply a glorified form of "cold feet."

It is true that there has been a great deal of humbug, or attempted humbug, about shell shock. Many have claimed to have it when the only malady was really "cold feet," just as gas poisoning has been another favourite excuse of the "skrim-shanker" to evade overseas service. But these excuses will never stand the examination of an expert.

"A man may shake and shiver under fire," says an army surgeon who has dealt with many such cases, "but he cannot make his hands and tongue tremble for months and months afterward, nor can he feign stammering or loss of speech or sight. Soldiers of proved courage who have gone through battle after battle have become in the end pitiable nervous wrecks from shell shock.

"There are people in London to-day who evinced calmness and courage under air raids, and who would deny that they felt any fear, whose nerves have not yet recovered from the effects of a bomb falling close by. There was a man of proved nerves who, hearing bombs falling, went out in the open to give assistance.

"A bomb fell fifty yards off without wounding him, but knocking him senseless with the vibration, which was equal to many tons to the square foot. Three months later that man was still unable to keep his muscles from trembling. You have heard of many cases where loss of sight, loss of hearing and loss of speech have followed the concussion of the exploding shell, and also of many so-called miraculous cures. In many cases, a second shock has brought the lost sense back; in at least one case a third shock has driven it away again.

"In all these cases the special sense, be it sight, hearing or speech, is uninjured. There is no organic change in the eye, ear or throat. It is a vital centre in the brain that controls these senses that is temporarily thrown out of action. So true is it that we see and hear and speak with our brains. All the events of life really happen in the brain.

"Some of the methods that have been successfully employed to restore lost speech or hearing are equally remarkable. The process known as 'suggestion' has been one of the most useful. In fact, it occupies to-day a high place in the treatment of all cases of shell shock, and it will certainly be employed for early mental cases quite unconnected with shell shock as well in the future.

"The patient is lightly hypnotised—that is to say, his active, conscious brain is thrown out of action. 'Suggestion' is then made to his subconscious brain that he can speak, and in many cases he does speak. He is then awakened and, if necessary, the experiment is repeated.

"Another method that has been employed is to put a man, temporarily dumb, under an anaesthetic, either chloroform or ether. As is well known, during the early, struggling stage of 'going under' the patient shouts and generally uses language of an unprintable character. The dumb man does the same, but the anaesthetic is not pushed, and he is allowed to come around quickly, possibly still swearing. In one case a man, who had not been able to speak for two months uttered the phrase 'Oh, Christ!' when 'going under.' Tin cans were then banged close to his ears—he was deaf as well—and other hideous sounds produced. In a voice expressive of the keenest appreciation he uttered the words, 'church bells.'"

APPOINTED BOARD OF CONCILIATION

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, April 28.— The Minister of Labour has appointed a Board of Conciliation to settle a dispute between the Hull Electric Railway Co. and its employees, who are asking for an increase in wages. G. D. Kelly, barrister of Ottawa, has been appointed to represent the company, and Fred Bancroft, Toronto, will be the employees' representative. The chairman of the Board has not yet been chosen.

SIX CARS DERAILED AT ATHERLY.

Six cars of grain were derailed on the Grand Trunk about half a mile east of Atherly Junction on Friday morning at 7 o'clock, the cause at present being unknown.

Auxiliaries from Lindsay and Allandale were called out and succeeded in clearing the track about midnight.

Conductor George Palmer of Lindsay, and Engineer Jeffrey were in charge of the train.

Heart Fluttering Easily Corrected

GOOD ADVICE TO FOLKS BOTHERED WITH PALPITATION, WEAKNESS, ETC.

If your heart flutters, be careful.

An attack is liable to come on at any time. Excitement, over-exertion or emotion may cause it.

If blood rushes to the head, if palpitation and short breath are noticeable, there's cause for alarm.

If you want a good honest remedy try Ferrozone. We recommend Ferrozone because we know it's just right for heart trouble. It cured A. F. Beattie, who lives at Allen Hotel, Bay City, Mich. See if your symtoms resemble these:

Some Symptoms of Weak Heart.

Nervousness, Palpitation.
Trembling, Dizziness.
Sinking Feeling, Heart Pants.
Short Breath, Weakness.

Mr. Beattie says:

"I was weak and miserable.

"I was subject to heart palpitation, and dizziness.

"As I grew worse I began to have trembling and sinking sensations.

"Ferrozone strengthened my heart, gave vigour to my nerves, soon made me well. It's a great rebuilder."

By strengthening the muscles of the heart, giving proper circulation and causing a general rebuilding of the whole system, Ferrozone is bound to do grand work in heart trouble; try it, 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

CATTLE MARKET

Union Stock Yards— Receipts, 160 cars, with 2,566 cattle, 872 calves, 2,616 hogs, and 140 sheep and lambs.

With a good run of cattle offering, but not as heavy a run as had been anticipated, the market opened with a strong and active demand for all grades of butchers' cattle.

So strong was the demand that prices advanced anywhere from 25c. to 50c., the lighter choice quality butcher steers and heifers making a bigger advance than the heavy steers.

Fat cows and bulls were very strong.

There was too big a run of calves, and the market was off a dollar to a dollar and a half.

Sheep and lambs steady.

Hogs very firm to 25c. higher, at $2.17 f.o.b. basis.

Great Progress Made in Seeding

Immense Areas in the West Already Placed—Wheat up in Spots.

SWIFT CURRENT, SASK., April 29. — Great progress has been made with seeding operations throughout the whole of the Swift Current district during the particularly fine cropping weather that has prevailed for the last ten days. Many of the farmers have completed their work, and others are rushing theirs ahead.

From the north and west districts come reports of immense areas successfully seeded and in several instances the wheat is already above ground. The same condition prevails to the south and the southwest, where a good deal of new land has been brought under cultivation in prospect of the increased railway facilities promised by the time the harvest is ready.

MRS. BALFAME

By GERTRUDE ATHERTON

He had complimented her on the excellent likeness of Dwight Rush, whom he knew and liked, and remarked quite naturally that he might have sat for her a number times. The dusky pink had mounted to her hair, but she had replied carelessly that Rush was "a common enough type."

Possibly Broderick would have forgotten the blush had it not been for the swift change of expression in her eyes; a certain fear followed by a concentrated penitence, and at the same moment he had remembered that he had met Rush one or twice at the Crumleys' during the summer and thought him quite the favoured guest.

Driven only by a mild personal curiosity, he had asked her how she liked Rush and if she saw much of him; he recalled that she had answered with an elaboration of indifference that she hadn't seen him for ages and took no interest in him whatever.

Then Broderick had drawn her on to talk of Mrs. Balfame. Yet, in common with all Elsinor, that counted, she admired Mrs. Balfame, although she believed that no one really knew her, that she unconsciously lived among the surfaces of her nature. Her face as she marched down the clubroom that day, and its curious sudden transformation on that other day at the Friday Club when her thoughts so plainly had drifted far from the platitudinous speakers, indicated to Miss Crumley's temperamental mind "depths and possibly tragic possibilities."

It was patent to Mr. Broderick's own mind that her suspicions had not lighted for a moment on the dead man's widow, but it also transpired in the course of the conversation that the young artist who had so "loved to sketch" the Star of Elsinore had suffered a long drop in personal enthusiasm. Pressed astutely, she had remarked that she guessed she was as broad-minded as anybody, especially since her year on the New York press, but she did not approve of married women claiming a right to share in the Great Game designed by Nature for the young of both sexes.

Then the story came out: Miss Crumley, afflicted with a headache something over a fortnight since, and enjoying the cool night air just behind her front gate, had seen Mrs. Balfame come out of Dr. Steuer's garden next door and meet Dwight Rush face to face. He had begged to be allowed to see her home.

Mrs. Balfame had lovely manners, she couldn't help being sweet unless she disliked a person, and no woman will elect to walk up a long dark avenue alone if a man offer to escort her.

Alys would have thought nothing of it—merely assumed that Rush, being a comparative newcomer, had caught a chance to make a favourable impression on the leader of Elsinore society—(no, he was no snob, but that idea just came to her), if they had not crawled, yes, crawled, all the way up the avenue.

Both were vigorous people with long legs; they could have covered the distance to the Balfame place in three minutes. They had been more than ten, and as they passed under the successive lamp posts she had noted the man's bent head, the woman's tilted back—as he gazed up into her eyes, no doubt.

"In this town," Miss Crumley had announced, "a woman is fast or she isn't. You know just where you are. There's a class that's sly about it, but some how you get 'on' in time. Mrs. Balfame has stood for the highest and best. Mind you, I'm not saying that she ever saw Rush alone again, or cared a snap of her finger for him—or he for her. No doubt she felt, when the rare chance offered of taking a little flyer, that it was too good to miss. But she shouldn't have done it; that's the point. I don't like my idols to have feet of clay."

Broderick had felt both sympathetic and amused. He knew that Alys Crumley was not only sweet of temper and frank, if not candid, but that in spite of all her desperate modernism she cherished high ideals of conduct; and here she was turning loose the cat that skulks somewhere in every commonplace female's nature.

But the whole conversation had left his mind promptly. He had attached no significance whatever to a ten minutes' walk between a polite man and a woman returning alone from a friend's house on a dark night.

Now every word of the conversation came back to him. Rush, he gathered, had gone to the Crumley house several times a week for a while, and then, for reasons known only to himself and Alys, had ceased his visits abruptly. Had she fallen in love with him? Or was it only her vanity that was wounded? And if Rush had dropped a girl as pretty and bright and winsome as Alys Crumley — who improved upon acquaintance, moreover—what was the reason? Why had he not fallen in love with her? Had he loved some one else?

Broderick swung his mind to the morning following the murder, when he had met Rush in the hall of the Elsinore Hotel. The lawyer professed himself as delighted to 'run up against him" and invited him to breakfast. All this had been natural enough, and it was equally natural that the conversation should have but one theme.

Once more Broderick sought a fugitive impression and found it. Rush, who was a master of words when verbal exactness was imperative, had created an impression in his companion's mind of the impeccability of the murdered man's widow.

Broderick had wondered once or twice whence came that mental picture of Mrs. Balfame that rose clear-cut in his memory, in spite of his deliberate conviction of her guilt. Other people had raved about her and made no impression upon the young reporter's selective and somewhat cynical mind; but Rush had almost accomplished his purpose.

Why had he sought to accomplish it?

Broderick had known Rush in and out of court for nearly two years. Whenever he had been on an assignment in that part of Brabant County he had made a point of seeking him out, and even of spending an evening with him if he could afford the time. He liked the unique blend of East and West in the man; to Broderick's keen appraising mind Rush reflected the very best of the two great rival bisections of the nation. He liked the mixture of frankness and subtlety, of simple unquestioning patriotism — of assumption that no country but the United States of America mattered in the very least—and the intense concentrated individualism. Of hard-headed American determination to "get there" at any honourable cost, of jealously hidden romanticism.

Broderick was almost at the Crumley gate. He halted for a moment under the dark maples and glanced up the long shadowy avenue, his own narrower and still more jealously guarded "romantic streak" appreciating the possibilities on a dusky evening with a girl whose face floated for a moment before him. But he banished her promptly, searching his memory for some salient trait in Rush that he instinctively knew would establish the current he desired.

He found it after a moment of intense concentration. Rush was the sort of man that loves not woman but a woman. His very friendship for Alys Crumley was evidence that he cared nothing for girls as girls. Only the exceptional drew him, and mere youth left him unmoved.

Knowing Rush as he did, he felt his way rapidly toward the facts. Alys, woman-like, had succumbed to propinquity, and betrayed herself; Rush, finding his mere masculine loneliness misinterpreted, and being honourable to boot, had promptly withdrawn.

But why? Alys would have made him a delightful and useful wife. She was one of those too clever girls whom celibacy made neurotic and uncertain, but out of whom matrimony and maternity knocked all the nonsense at once and finally. She would make a splendid woman.

He should have thought her just the girl to allure Rush, whom he also knew to be fastidious and to set a high value on the good old Brabant blood. Moreover, it was time that Rush would be wanting the permanent companionship of a woman, a bright, progressive, but feminine woman. He had observed certain signs.

Alys, apparently, had not measured up to Rush's secret ideal of the wholly desirable woman, nor appealed to that throbbing vein of romanticism which he had striven to bury beneath the dusty tomes of the law. What sort of woman, then, could satisfy all he desired? And had he found her?

Broderick recalled a certain knightly exaltation in Rush's blue eyes which had come and gone as they discussed Mrs. Balfame, although not a word of the adroit concept he had built remained in the reporter's memory. But those eyes came back to Broderick there in the dark—the eyes of a man young and ardent like himself—he almost fancied he had seen the woman's image in them.

He revived his impression of Mrs. Balfame, seen for the first time today, and contemplated it impersonally: A beautiful, a fascinating woman—to a man of Rush's limited experience and idealism; fastidious, proud, gracious, supremely poised.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood, causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water set on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Roddy Lemieux a Real Nationalist.

There are French-Canadians and French-Canadians. While we grow exasperated at the perversities of Bourassa and Lavergne, to whom sedition and falsehood are the ready means of self-advertisement, let us forget them as we read of the last moments of another French-Canadian —a mere lad, "Roddy" Lemieux—the son of that gifted man, Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, former Postmaster-General of Canada. The letter of Capt. J. J. Desjardins describing the boy's taking off says in part, as follows:

"On Aug. 28th, Roddy went over the top, and was encouraging his men to the attack, when he was struck by a bullet in the abdomen. The surgeon declared the wound fatal. On the 29th the last rites of the church were administered, and his last words were 'Dites-leur que j'ai fait mon devoir" (tell them I did my duty). To the nurse he said: 'Give Mother my love. Tell her I have done a man's part.'"

"Roddy" Lemieux proved himself in his life and in his death a true descendant of those brave French-Canadians who courageously defended Fort Carillon, in the battle that is known as Ticonderoga; who fought on the Plains of Abraham and were honored by their foes; who later wrought valiantly under the British flag at Chateauguay. He upheld the name and honor of Quebec and of Canada as a whole. Such sacrifices as his give the fame of the French-Canadian soldier a lustre, that the gibes of so-called Nationalists cannot tarnish. Such soldiers as he, proud to do "a man's part"; such men as Major Papineau, the cousin of Bourassa, and the many other brave lads of their race who have died on the mother soil of France, are in a truer sense Nationalists than the politicians who tag themselves with that epithet. They are of the type with whom we are all anxious and glad to join hands in building up a glorious and United Canada.

As Old as his Arteries

The doctor can't help it.

He knows that the man has hard arteries, high blood pressure, and beginning kidney and heart disease, due to long neglected chronic constipation.

It isn't the other man's fault—directly. He's only 45—but he never realized that his constipation was a serious thing.

He never knew how to treat it. He has taken bushels of pills, gallons of castor oil, mineral waters and salts, which have battered and tortured his alimentary canal from one end to the other; and he wonders why his health keeps getting worse. He doesn't know that his food waste has poisoned him, and has bred disease that is going to "get him" before his time.

Nujol is for just such a man—for every person whose bowels do not move easily and thoroughly at regular intervals—especially for those in advancing years whose body machinery will not stand rough treatment.

Nujol softens the accumulated food waste in the large intestine, and moves it gently out of the system, carrying those poisons with it, which, if allowed to remain, cause over 90% of human illness. Nujol supplies the lubrication that Nature can't supply as age begins to make itself felt.

This man might have known in time—but Nujol is new—the accepted modern treatment for constipation.

You can avoid such a misfortune as his. Get a bottle of Nujol from your druggist today and send for free booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger" expressing clearly the soundest medical authority on constipation and self-poisoning.

Warning: Nujol is sold only in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. At all druggists. Insist on Nujol. You may suffer from substitutes.

The Thirteenth Battalion was the first of three raised by the 5th Regiment of Royal Highlanders of Canada (the "Black Watch") for service overseas. They were part of the original First Division, and after achieving a glorious record are receiving a magnificent welcome home in Canada.

THE THIRTEENTH ROYAL HIGHLANDERS OF CANADA

Regarded as the doyen of Canada's kilted regiments and with the traditions of the Old Country's famous Black Watch linked up closely with their own, the Thirteenth Battalion, Royal Highlanders of Canada, were bound to make their mark and enhance their reputation in the war. They are now returning with their full share of honors gained, including four Victoria Crosses, and a proud record won in every action from Second Ypres to Mons; but, alas, with very few of the originals, those splendid, keen warriors of the "Old Fifth, remaining. Some of their original officers have won distinction and one has gained promotion to command of a brigade. One commands a division. Many more, with names that are household words in Canada's commercial capital, have "gone West". Their places are filled by men who served under them, and I have been told that the Thirteenth has the largest percentage of men who gained commissions on the field of any Canadian battalion.

The mud of Salisbury was good training for what was in store for them in France and Flanders. In November the battalion was inspected by the King and Queen and by Lord Roberts and Lord Kitchener. "Bobs'" admiration of the Highlanders was expressed in a special order issued the next day. Early in February, after a farewell by the King, the division embarked for France. A swift, business-like inspection by Lord French, then Commander-in-Chief, and they were swept forward to the brown line that was only just holding back the Huns. By March 3 their brigade was in the line, although the Thirteenth was in support for a time. On the 24th the Highlanders relieved a British battalion.

On the night of April 21st, the Thirteenth took over from the Fourteenth the Sector at Ypres immediately adjoining the right flank of the French line held by Algerian troops. As the Germans showed little signs of activity, the morning of the 22nd (a bright, sunny day), was spent in repairing the trenches. Suddenly at about 3 o'clock, a terrific German shell fire deluged the French and Canadian lines. A greenish yellow cloud floated along the ground towards the former, followed by German infantry in dense masses. The yellow cloud proved to be chloride gas, hitherto barred from civilized warfare, and under this new and terrible scourge the Algerian line broke, leaving the Thirteenth flank exposed. The position was in any case difficult to hold as it was traversed by the Poelcapelle Road, and the Germans actually penetrated to their rear. Ammunition ran short, but fortunately reinforcements arrived by dawn, when a skilful retirement was effected towards the right under heavy fire, so as to form a defensive flank between the village of St. Julien and the canal front. A day of terrible shell fire followed, notable for deeds of magnificent heroism, including that of Lance-Corporal Fred Fisher, which won the first Victoria Cross recorded to a Canadian during this war. Three days of fighting had passed before British reinforcements passed through the sadly thinned but still indomitable lines of the gallant Thirteenth.

After a [illegible] division [illegible] into [illegible] and taken [illegible] but it was a very weak, though untamed unit that finally went out to refit and reinforce. Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan men sent over from England filled the gaps at that time.

At Festubert, next month, at the historic fight in the orchard, the Thirteenth were again in the thickest fighting. They came up under heavy shell fire from Indian village, followed through the Sixteenth who had won the fringe of the orchard in the afternoon charge, cleaned out the remaining machine-gun nests of the Huns and all through the night beat off fierce counter-attacks by troops that were identified later as the Prussian Guards.

Then came Ploegsteert and its comparative quiet, although the Thirteenth did some splendid work in occupying and consolidating four mine craters which straightened out the line.

Christmas, their first in the war, came and the Germans shouted over greetings to the Highlanders who were now in the Steenbeck sector. There was no fraternizing on the Canadian side. In the evening a party of the Thirteenth crept out close to the German lines to find out what was happening. They could hear the Germans singing Christmas hymns to the accompaniment of a wailing cornet which some homesick Hun was playing. Another party crept along the ditch of the Messines-Wulverghem road but was not so lucky. They fought a hard fight with a German patrol and were finally driven in by heavy machine gun fire. The Hun was not stopping the war to celebrate Christmas.

Rushed Into St. Eloi.

In January of 1916, Lieut.-Colonel F. O. W. Loomis was promoted to Brigadier, and Major Buchanan was given command. Until June patrol fights and trench raids were the lot of the Thirteenth; then they were moved north into the fringe of St. Eloi and Hooge.

While holding battalion sports word came that the line had broken, and, hustling into their equipment, the Highlanders made a splendid forced march, reached Zillibeke, and although dead tired, volunteered for the battle, later digging in under heavy artillery fire at the famous Manor House. In the counter-attack of the next day the highlanders went further forward in Maple Copse, and until June 7 held their posts in that wood of death against many attacks. After a short rest they again were in a great counter-attack, this time on June 13. The Thirteenth was held up for a considerable time and suffered severely, but finally won their objective near Hill 62. The battalion took hundreds of prisoners and killed many in hard bayonet fighting for which the kilties had become famous. After another tour of the trenches, this time at Mount Sorrel, the battalion, with its brigade, marched south to the Somme.

Their adventures there began with the capture of the ridge which ran north-west of Courcelette to the famous Schwaben Redoubt. To get to their positions through the fire-raked communication trenches was one of the most cruel and discomforting experiences the battalion ever went through. Those rainy nights under heavy shell fire in the brick-fields in front of Albert will never be forgotten by the survivors in the battalion. The attack on the Schwaben began on Septem[illegible]. The Fifteenth and Fourth [illegible] and [illegible] but it was not easily held, and the Thirteenth crowded up behind as support. It was on this night that Lieut.-Col. Buchanan was killed when a shell hit his dugout and exploded some gasoline left by the tanks. His second in command, his adjutant, and thirty others were also killed or burned to death after the explosion. Major G. McCuaig, just returned from leave, took over command.

In October the battalion went to the Warloy sector and were in the attack on the Below and Warloy trenches. Struggling through wire and shell holes, they were held up for a considerable time, but seeing that their failure would destroy the whole operation they made a heroic rally and gained their objective though at terrific cost.

Their Work at Vimy Ridge.

Vimy Ridge was to be the next adventure of the Thirteenth. For weeks up to that April day of Victory the battalion was hard at work practising the assault. On the night before the attack they marched to their positions. The Highlanders kept open the lines of communication as the attack on the Swaifer Weg and Swischen Stellung progressed on schedule time. They cleaned out the enemy tunnels and gathered in thousands of dazed prisoners. Several companies were sent up to the help of the Fourteenth which found Bavarian Guards opposed to them and in that severe fighting they turned the scale to the Canadians. The rest worked like Trojans in the sleet and rain, making some semblance of road, that supplies might reach their brigade comrades who had fought so well and won. Next day, in Farbus Wood the Highlanders slewed round the captured German howitzers and had a merry picnic firing at sight against the fleeing Germans on the Douai plains. From Farbus they could see into Lens and Avion, where the battalion later spent many months in that great seige the Canadians kept against the harried German garrison.

In August the Montreal Kilties were again in a heavy attack and this time at Hill 70. The Thirteenth held the centre of its brigade. They went across No Man's Land in the wake of the barrage capturing many prisoners with very light casualties. Then they plunged into the little groups of workmen's cottages of the Cite St. Elizabeth and held on while other Canadians completed the victorious operation which gave us another mile of enemy defences and closed in tighter the pincers that gripped Lens. Four German divisions were put out of action in that fight and the enemy's later vain counter-attacks. The losses of the lucky Thirteenth were less than four hundred killed and wounded.

In the terrible fighting that resulted in the capture of Passchendaele the Thirteenth did not have the heavy share. They were continually in the support lines that ran through Langemarck just under the ridge and did fine work in keeping open communications over that morass of death.

On the third day their division went into the line to relieve the tired and battered Third Division. At Gosselmarkt and Valor Farm the Highlanders held on grimly against fresh German counter-attacks and pushed several of these terrible cement forts that were holding out. But the two other brigades of the First Division shared the bulk of the hard fighting and the Highlanders came out of that costly battle with considerable casualties.

In August of 1918 then, the battalion after several camouflaged moves took over from an Imperial battalion in front of the German positions on the River Luce. They swept through the surprised Huns taking advantage of the low thick mist that enveloped the battleground. Hundreds of prisoners fell to the Montreal men and the battalion with other units of its brigade had passed their objectives long before the time set and were well on the way, through open country, towards Aubecourt. They rode forward in tanks and impetuously got ahead of the cavalry. It was fighting that suited the temperament of the Highlanders and their victory was complete. Twelve miles in depth had been gained. Other fresher battalions passed through them and the successful First Division was [illegible] out as though going to rest.

But there was to be no [illegible] the Division. Quietly and swiftly they were shifted back to their old positions on the Arras sector and again they were the spearhead. The Thirteenth were again in action in that September 1st attack that gained trenches almost in the woods Dro-court-Queant line. The plunged forward with a spirit that was undeniable and took their [illegible] share of the brigade fighting. On September 1st, the Thirteenth were the [illegible] of the attack on Bleche[illegible] and the railway line which ran [illegible] Villerelmaux. Civilians and Ba[illegible] were taken with their [illegible] of Sixteenth, then came the terrific encounter at Abancourt where the Highlanders found the enemy massed ready for counter-attack. The Canadians gained the southerly end of the town but finally were forced out. The operation was, however, extremely useful as it enabled the gains made by the first brigade to the right to be consolidated. Late in the afternoon the Thirteenth repulsed a determined attack and followed up their success by driving the enemy from Abancourt, capturing many machine guns. The battalion marched to Vise-en-Artois on October 5th, and relieved a British Columbia battalion. October 11th, saw the Thirteenth taking their full share of a heavy attack across the Sensee River which ended in the capture of the high ground south of the Scarpe. Then came the plunge through that brought the victorious Canadians to Hamel and Estrees by nightfall. On October 19th the Kilties from Montreal took the famous Bois Amand, meeting with little opposition, although they overwhelmed an isolated German battery which was firing with open sights. The Corps record on those actions had been the capture of [illegible] and the release of [illegible] Then came the actual breaking of the Hindenburg line and the attack on Cambrai. It was the fortune of another division to enter the city but the Thirteenth drove through just to the North of the town and in a series of fights in the outskirts killed many of the enemy who had been thrown against them as a last resource. They were a good second in the race for the centre of the city. In these shows the Highlanders suffered somewhat severely but they knew that at last they had the Hun on the run and they were not to be stayed. They followed up in the less fierce fighting that gained Valenciennes, and when on the day the armistice was signed, Mons fell to the Canadians, the Thirteenth were still in the fray, thrusting forward on the left of the First Division.

End Your Catarrh To-Day

Catarrh sufferers, meaning those with colds, sore throat, bronchial trouble, etc., can all be cured right at home by inhaling "Catarrhozone."

In using Catarrhozone you don't take medicine into the stomach—you just breathe a healing piney vapour direct to the lungs and air passages.

The purest balsams and the greatest antiseptics are thus sent to every spot where catarrhal trouble exists—germs are killed, foul secretions are destroyed, nature is given a chance and cure comes quickly.

Colds and throat troubles can't last if the pure healing vapour of Catarrhozone is breathed—sneezing and coughing cease at once, because irritation is removed.

Use Catarrhozone to prevent—use it to cure your winter ills—it's pleasant, safe and guaranteed in every case.

No "Mayflowers" in London?

If there are in England any descendants of the little band of Pilgrims who sailed in the Mayflower 298 years ago, they are difficult to discover. An American woman living in London has been trying to find them, and with that object she inserted advertisements asking any "Mayflowers" now in London to meet her at a hotel at a certain hour.

The appointed hour came, and the American woman waited. A moving picture photographer, several newspaper photographers and a dozen reporters arrived and were mistakenly and enthusiastically greeted as Mayflowers. There was an air of eager expectancy and suppressed excitement. Everybody waited for 45 minutes, but not a single Mayflower appeared. There were signs of disappointment.

"But there must be some Mayflowers in London," said the American woman to the reporters. "I can't be the only one." She looked again at the door, but there was no sound of footsteps and the meeting adjourned.

Took Severe Cold ON HIS LUNGS

COUGHED PHLEGM and BLOOD.

On the first appearance of a cough or cold, do not neglect it, but get rid of it at once before it has a chance to grow worse, and gets settled on the lungs, causing bronchitis, pneumonia and other serious lung troubles.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will cure the cough or cold on its first inception and perhaps save you years of suffering.

Mr. G. F. Stratychuk, Canora, Sask., writes: "Last winter I took a most severe cold on my lungs and was coughing up phlegm and blood most of the time. I had the cough for over two months, and took a great deal of different medicines, but found no relief from them. At last a friend advised me to take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which I did, and it gave me great relief in a very short time, and to-day I am enjoying good health again."

The marvellous results that Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has achieved in its cures of coughs and colds has caused many so-called "pine" preparations to be put on the market, which do not contain any pine whatever. See that you get the genuine when you ask for it.

Put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Life in a Hun Prison

"THE Canadians required more men to guard them, did less work, and caused more worry and trouble than any other prisoners," said Lieut. J. Beverley Robinson, R.A.F., two and a half years a prisoner of war, escaping on his second attempt, being the only Canadian officer who succeeded in doing so.

"The Germans tried more to break the spirit of the Canadians than of any other prisoners but they didn't do it. Our men stuck it, and when they get a chance they go back at the Germans with interest," asserted Lieut. Robinson.

"Never have I read a single line which exaggerated the treatment of the prisoners of war by the Germans. I have found a disposition on the part of some to make light of the stories of cruelty which have been told. Do not make light of them, for they are all true. There are worse stories than any you have heard yet. If you are inclined to make light of imprisonment, then try to think what it means to live for months or years in the unsanitary, pestilential camps in Germany, where every possible effort was made to heap insult and indescribable cruelty upon the men. Think what it means to work twelve or fourteen hours a day in the salt mines, to be tied up to posts in zero weather, to be hung up by the wrists, or even only to wash your clothing in ice-cold water.

"I have seen even German Red Cross workers spit in bowls of soup which they brought into the trains, then throw it into the faces of allied officers. I have seen wounded soldiers dragged to the doors of the cars and there spat upon and jeered by the people."

Lieut. Robinson was taken a prisoner when flying in a fog, and he was forced to make a landing in territory captured by the Germans. His machine was seriously crippled by German bullets, so close was he forced to fly to the ground.

"A short time after landing I saw an individual approaching me," he narrated. "He was pointing a large horse pistol. I never saw anything like it—one of those archaic weapons seen in castles. I walked up to him, and started cursing as hard as I could. It worked well. The average German soldier is accustomed to having his orders shouted at him. I was certainly shouting. He dropped the muzzle and stood there open mouthed. But suddenly I noticed his clothes and the double eagle on the buttons. Then another came on a horse, the most magnificent black charger I have ever seen. He was a German military policeman, and the scales fell from my eyes immediately.

"When I was captured arrangements were being made by my squadron to drop on Prince Rupprecht larger bombs than had ever been dropped. This, strange as it may seem, was known to the German staff officer who examined me, and he said that arrangements had been made to give our flyers a warm reception. Well, I got information back to the squadron by writing a postcard to my mother, saying: 'Please tell that the man of evil habits has changed his address.'"

He told of the conditions, in a series of camps in which he was confined, referring especially to Strohan, which had formerly been used as a punishment centre for Russian prisoners. It was a camp totally lacking in sanitation, with a madman for a commandant, and a record for bayoneting prisoners. With two other officers he escaped from this camp on a dark, windy, rainy night. After three nights he was recaptured and sent to Postminden, recognized as one of the worst camps in Germany. He was captured at the point of a shotgun in the hands of a German farmer, following discovery by his wife.

Postminden was commanded by Charles Niemeyer, "Milwaukee Bill," who, the lieutenant believed, will be one of the first of the German officers to be demanded by the allies when the day of reckoning comes. Niemeyer lost no chance to be insulting to the prisoners, and for a long time refused to allow them to fit up shower baths for their use, because he wanted them as kennels for his dogs, which continued to occupy them.

So bad were conditions that it was decided an attempt must be made to get news to England, so the prisoners started to tunnel to freedom. Under trying conditions they tunnelled for nine months, and were successful in securing the escape of 29 officers (he was not present), ten of whom crossed the frontier to safety. They dug from an unusual cellar in the prison through 60 yards of earth, using crude air tubes of tin to keep the workers alive.

Lieut. Robinson escaped from a temporary camp. He stocked up with essentials, in the hope of being able to jump from the train on a journey which he knew would pass along the Dutch frontier. As he was suspected, he was searched for an hour before being allowed to board the train. Yet, in spite of that hour's search, he took with him two compasses, a map, a flashlight, some forbidden German money and a civilian cap. He didn't get a chance to jump from the train, as the trip was made by day, but the evening of his arrival at the latest camp Lieut. Robinson, with an officer named Milne, made their escape over a high retaining wall, while a third officer detained the German guard with an argument on the value of Zeppelin air raids.

A STRANGE DUEL.

Aviators Met In Midair, But Could Only Smile.

Capt. D. R. MacLaren, D.S.O., M.C. (with bar), D.F.C., of Vancouver, has fifty-seven Hun machines to his credit. He has had many and varied experiences in the air, but perhaps the one which tickles him most is one in which he did not get the Hun.

"One morning in July," he says, "I was up about fifteen thousand feet when I spotted a D.F.W., one of the big two-seater photographic machines, below me at about ten thousand feet. I was in fine position and came on him from the east, diving over his top plane. I turned my gun on him as I passed over. I could hear the trigger motor rattling, but there were no shots. I felt in the chute, and found that my belts were broken. I passed down below him, and wondered that I got no shot from him. I took a look at him, and rose again, coming alongside where I could have a good look at him. There I saw the observer perched up, looking over at me. I waved to him, and he waved back to me and wiggled his gun about, as much as to say he had gun trouble, too, so we parted."

Perhaps his most exciting few moments were when he went up southeast of Le Cateau on Oct. 18th as squadron commander in charge of eight planes. They were attacked by about thirty Huns. They had been out balloon strafing and had got one and attacked another, which was pulled down. Just at this time they were caught by the Huns, who swooped upon them from the west, where they were not expected. The Huns had a fine position in the sun, but, foolishly, about eight of them dived through the British formation. Two of the Fokkers crashed into one another and went down, and another was shot down in flames.

Capt. MacLaren climbed up into the sun and got two himself, one of them the leader of the Hun flight. Then the rest of the Huns swooped in to take part in the fight. The place was just swarming with them. The fight started at seven thousand feet and continued down to about two thousand. Lieut. Sanderson got another of the Huns, and then on a favorable wind the British machines were able to extricate themselves and get back over their lines.

Lieut. Arthur Allen, of Toronto, was with a flight commanded by Capt. MacLaren when he became separated from his companions. This was near Gouy, east of the St. Quentin canal. The line had been holding very hard and came that the enemy was concentrating in a wood. Capt. MacLaren was sent up with five Sopwith camels to escort seven light bombing machines. They successfully dodged through the anti-aircraft barrage and were attacked by five Fokkers. The British climbed into a mist bank and drove off the German planes, shooting one of them down in flames. The bombers got in some good bursts from two hundred feet, the 25-pounder bombs bursting among the troops with considerable effect.

Lieut. Allen gives an idea of some of the peculiar things which have happened during the war. When he landed, the Germans knew he belonged to the 46th Squadron, as they could see it on the machine. But the officer who interrogated him told him he knew the name of his squadron commander, and that his flight commander was Capt. MacLaren. This German officer, who spoke English well, added that he had on one occasion put on a British R.A.F. uniform and had flown a British machine over into the British lines, and had actually attended a lecture in a British airdrome without be detected.

Flying men agree that this is quite possible, and that airmen turn up miles from home with some excuse and are entertained at strange airdromes where nobody knows them.

"They might wander all over the mess," a flying officer said.

"DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR

Stop dandruff and double beauty of your hair for few cents.

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of "Danderine" at any drug store for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff. Your hair appears soft, glossy and twice as thick and abundant. Try it!

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

Premarital

It Was Not a Settlement of Property, but of Principle

By EDITH V. ROSS

We cannot judge of the whole by a part. To say that because some peoples are not fitted to govern themselves no people are fitted to govern themselves is a non sequitur—that is, the conclusion does not follow the premise. Because some women are so interested in home, husband and children that they do not care to take part in politics we are not justified in assuming that women had much better let politics alone. Differences of opinion, of fitness, are the wheels of progress. A people of one mind on all subject becomes stagnant.

Elsie Harbeson was an example of a girl who was tempted to enter the fray for the rights of women without fitness therefor. She was a lovable creature, very feminine and not especially gifted in a scholarly way. At any rate, while in college she had received the lowest possible rating, especially in logic. She was neither an officer of her class nor on any of the committees. Indeed, Miss Harbeson was not in any way fitted for a leader in the great and absorbing struggle for the political advancement of her sex.

When Elsie met "her fate" she found a man who was drawn to her on account of the feminine mold in which she was cast rather than her aspirations. The Scotch saying that we would be blessed at being able to see ourselves as others see us pertained especially to her. To Herbert Winston, her lover, it was plain that the cause of women would lose nothing by the defection of the girl he loved. He had no preferences for or against the cause, but he was opposed to Elsie wasting her time in a matter which other women were far better fitted to push than she. But Herbert was given to diplomacy rather than to open opposition and had no mind to fly in the face of his fiancee's views. He made no comments whatever on these particular opinions. Elsie believed that a matter in which she was interested and upon which her fiance seemed indifferent should be settled between them before marriage and, bracing herself for a struggle, opened the subject.

"Herbert," she said, "there is one matter for us to consider before our marriage, a matter on which my heart is set, upon which you seem to be indifferent, but which is liable to make trouble unless there is a distinct understanding while we are still free."

"There is nothing to settle before marriage, because I propose to give way to you in everything."

"That's very sweet of you. But you don't seem to realize as I do that there is a good deal that is practical in married life, that romance changes to companionship, which is far more enduring, and that companionship is dependent upon a husband and a wife having the same views."

"That doesn't cut any ice in our case, because, as I have told you, your views shall be my views."

There was rather too much subserviency in this to suit her; but, since she could not find fault with it, she took refuge in a side issue.

"I am sorry to see that you are becoming slangy. It would have sounded better for you to say 'make any difference.' But, to take up a far more important matter, I am very much interested in the struggle for the emancipation of women that has been going on for many centuries. It is one of the elements that have entered into the civilization of Europe and America."

"How?"

"How? Why, Professor Howland mentioned it in his lecture on civilization!"

"It seems to me we are getting away from the subject which you consider of so much importance. I don't think it would pay us to enter upon a discussion of what goes back several thousand years. We'd have to put off our marriage indefinitely in order to get down to modern times. How would it do for us to make a compromise on this matter of the emancipation of women—I to have no opinions concerning it, you to have whatever opinions you like?"

"And express them?"

"Certainly."

"And act upon them?"

"Of course."

"That's lovely of you. I didn't think you would be so liberal."

"I'll be more liberal yet. If you like I'll coach you on the arguments pertaining to the cause you are to advocate."

"Will you?"

"Certainly."

"When shall we begin?"

"Any time—now if you wish it."

"Very well; mention some of the main arguments."

This was very mean of him. He had no business to lead her into such a trap. Having embarked in a struggle to wrest from man the rights of woman, she now signified her reliance on man by accepting his services to instruct her as to how to go about her work.

"Man," he said, "when left to himself, without woman's influence, becomes brutal. Ergo, he has in him the nature of a brute, which can only be kept in subjection by his wife. See?"

The conclusion to this argument was somewhat startling. Elsie could not follow it all at once, so again she took refuge in a side issue.

"Please don't use that word 'See?' Why not say, 'Do you understand me?'"

"Just so. I think it will be admitted by any woman who is or has been married that keeping her husband in subjection requires a lot of time. Then there is the household to look after, and the children, and a lot of other things"—

"I thought you were going to give me arguments in favor of the emancipation of women. You are proceeding to prove that a wife is too busy looking after her domestic affairs to"— She hesitated.

"To keep her husband in subjection?"

"How absurd!"

"If you don't like that argument I'll give you another. I presume you studied political economy while in college.

"Yes, indeed, and it made me a free trader."

It was now the man's turn to be startled. He had not been able to fathom the free trade-protection problem himself, and he was impressed that Elsie had succeeded in doing so.

"You know," he went on, "that the old political economy of a half a century ago has all been upset by modern big business."

"Has it?"

"Yes, but it still holds good in small circles—the family, for instance. You know, that the theory of the free trader is that each community produces what it is best fitted to produce, the whole going into the general market and each community selling what it is fitted to produce and buying of the others what it doesn't itself produce."

"I see."

"I thought you didn't like that expression."

"They are not the same. You said 'See?' I say 'I see.' There is a great difference."

"My way is more phonetic."

"Go on."

"In the family, carrying out this same principle, the husband does the providing and the wife takes care of the household and the children. When the husband breaks in on his wife's prerogatives he's monkeying with the buzzsaw."

"Oh, heavens! What a horrid way of putting it!"

"Anyway he's liable to get scratched."

"Worse and worse. But complete your argument."

"Per contra, if the wife breaks in upon the husband's prerogatives there is likely to be a monkey and parrot business in the family."

Seeing an opportunity to get in a blow for her sake without inveighing against slang, she said quickly, "I don't admit that politics is the exclusive right of the husband."

"In that case but one of two courses is open to us. Either I must give up attending to the duties of a citizen to you or we must both attend to them. The latter course would be a violation of the economic principle."

This argument resulted in silence between the couple for some minutes. Elsie saw that, pretending to give her an argument for her cause, he was arguing on the other side. She believed that there was a valid answer to his statement, but it did not occur to her.

"It seems to me," she said at last, "that we each have duties of citizenship to attend to in accordance with our consciences."

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating," was his rejoinder. "Since you prefer that course, so shall it be."

"But you would prefer that one or the other of us should attend to the duties of citizenship for the family."

"I believe in a division of labor or, if you like another way of putting it better, in certain things being attended to by the wife and certain other things being attended to by the husband, but if we both decide to go to the polls to register our votes I have no objection to our doing so. At any rate, we can try it. Nevertheless I see no use in trying to cross a bridge till we come to it. We are not married yet. When we are all such matters will regulate themselves. But I reiterate seriously that if there is anything objectionable or useless in our both going to the polls to vote I will defer to you."

"What do you mean by useless?"

"Suppose we vote on different sides. We might in that case pair."

"Pair? What do you mean by pair?"

"We might do what we're going to do in marrying. If we intend to vote on different sides and neither of us votes at all the result is the same as if we voted. I, a man, and you, a woman, marry. There's one less bachelor and one less spinster. In other words, we are paired."

"I do think," she said, looking up at him with a pair of soft brown eyes, "that you use the funniest arguments I ever heard."

"They will be plenty good enough when we are married."

"How is that?"

"There are only two arguments which count for much between man and woman. Her best argument is tears; kisses."

With that he drew her toward him and kissed her.

There is no record as to Mrs. Winston's services in the cause of amelioration of the condition of women. Winston is not reliable in his testimony, and what he says should be taken with a grain of salt. He declares that whenever there is an election and his wife are on opposite sides the result is a pair.

However this may be, the Winstons are a very happy couple, and a group of children are growing up around them. Mr. Winston's statement that it is better not to try to cross a bridge before reaching it has turned out to be true. At any rate, the family differences are settled amicably from day to day.

A Terrible Penalty

frequently follows the neglect of an injury. Germs and dust get into the wound, it begins to fester, blood poisoning sets in, and sometimes the loss of a limb is the result.

Safeguard yourself against such a possibility by applying Zam-Buk at once. This antiseptic balm destroys all germs and prevents festering and blood-poisoning. Then the healing essences promote the growth of new tissue and it is not long before the wound is completely healed.

Zam-Buk should be kept handy in every home, office, store and factory for cuts, scratches, burns, scalds and bruises. It is equally good for eczema, rashes, boils and ulcers. All dealers, 50c. box.

"I Am So Afraid it is My Heart"

VERY many people live in constant dread of heart trouble when the heart is in no way diseased.

There is perhaps no organ in the human system which is worked so hard and yet the heart seldom goes wrong so long as it is supplied with plenty of rich, red blood.

In fact the heart repairs its own waste and plods on, lifting tons of blood each year and pumping it through the body.

But the heart's action is the result of the contraction and expansion of muscles and these muscles are operated by the nervous system. When the blood gets thin and watery and the nervous system is starved the action of the heart, just like that of the stomach, bowels and other organs, is slowed down.

As a result, you are easily tired out, experience shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and general bodily weakness.

The quickest and most rational way to overcome this condition is by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to enrich the blood and build up the exhausted nerves.

With the nerves in a run-down condition you are sure to get downhearted and discouraged and to imagine that all sorts of dreadful things are likely to happen to you.

But when you have been using Nerve Food for a week or two you will begin to see the silver lining to the cloud and to realize that you are on the way to health, courage and happiness.

Mrs. Nellie Dertinger, Simcoe, Ont., writes: "I was a great sufferer with my nerves and with pains about the heart. I could not sleep at nights and though I tried several doctors could not get much relief. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I am happy to say the results have been a surprise. My health has been built up wonderfully. I have no more pains about the heart, my nerves are steady and I sleep and rest well."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, 6 for $2.75, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. The portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, are on every box.

Does a Farmer Need a Truck?

THE farmer with a Ford Truck practically lives next door to the market.

He has a choice of markets.

He becomes more independent.

He can market his goods when and where he pleases.

He sells his crop to the very best advantage.

And his hauling costs him less—in labor and money.

It is not only cheaper to haul with a Ford Truck than with a team and wagon, it is quicker, it is easier work.

Consider the time and labor the farmer can save with a Ford Truck. With a team the trip to town takes the better part of a day.

A Ford Truck makes the same trip in two or three hours.

When labor is so scarce, what farmer can afford to waste day after day of his valuable time?

Ford Trucks Complete with Body and Enclosed Cab

Ford One-Ton Trucks are now supplied, if desired, with standard truck bodies in two types, the Stake Body and the Express Body.

In both standard bodies the cabs may be supplied with or without doors, as desired.

See these complete Ford Trucks. Consider the matter from every angle: the cost of feeding horses against the cost of running a Ford Truck; the time you lose on the road; the money you lose by being so far from the best markets. There is only one conclusion you can come to. You will have a Ford Truck.

PHOTOGRAPHIC JUDGES.

A Lesson That Was Learned at the Last Olympic Games.

Photography failed as a means of deciding winners in the races and other contests at the last Olympic games in Stockholm. But because of that lesson stereoscopic photographs are proposed as an improvement and are to be tried out in England. At the Stockholm games photographs were taken of the runners as they reached the tape, but in every instance where the judges differed among themselves as to who was the winner the additional evidence of the camera was not sufficient to bring about an agreement. The only instances where the photographs were assumed to be decisive were those in which the judges agreed with the photographic record anyway.

The trouble was apparently due to lack of stereoscopic effect. So it is now suggested that the pictures be taken by a stereoscopic camera. In other words, two pictures are taken together from cameras side by side, so that when the developed prints are put in a stereoscope—like the one which used to be found always on the center table in the parlor—there will be depth to the picture, and in consequence it will be possible to determine beyond dispute the exact position of each runner.

An advisory trainer of the British athletes who competed at Stockholm and who has trained many Cambridge university athletes uses high speed photography regularly in his training work. Many photographs of runners and jumpers are taken, each exposure being a high speed snapshot. Then the photographs are examined to see in what way the runner or jumper can improve his style.

It may be found, for instance, that he has acquired a habit of making some motions with his arms that use up little of his strength, yet slightly hinder instead of help his main effort. Motion pictures did not prove of value in these studies owing to the fact that the ordinary motion picture camera is not equipped with a high speed shutter.

SLEEP IS AN ILLUSION.

It Is Not Yourself, but Your Invisible Double That Demands It.

You may probably believe that you need a night's sleep, if not regularly, at least now and then. But Gabriel d'Annunzio, the Italian poet, a believer in the occult and a student of psychical phenomena, thinks otherwise.

After many months of investigation, during which he has attended with leading scientists of the day numerous seances, at which the services of the best known mediums were invoked, d'Annunzio has arrived at the conclusion that man does not live an undivided individual life. Always by his side, he insists, is his double, magic being, working for him and prompting all his actions.

"Man himself," the poet asserts, "does not require sleep, which is only an illusion. It is his invisible prompter that tires of performing for him those everyday actions which man attributes to his own personality.

"When man's mysterious partner requires rest all he does is to remove from the mundane body something essential to man's wakefulness, whereupon sleep supervenes.

"The process is like that of the mechanic who, wishing to damage a piece of machinery, removes an essential part. Exactly what man's magic aid removes in order to send him to sleep I do not know, but I am convinced we shall discover in time."—Philadelphia Ledger.

How Whisky Eats Up Corn.

Five Illinois distilleries in the Fifth district are the largest in the world. To operate the largest of the five plants, having a capacity of 65,000 gallons of spirits daily, requires the corn from 400 acres, taking forty bushels to the acre. If all six of the central Illinois distilleries should be in operation at one time it would require the entire yield of 1,000 acres for each day's run. Although corn is the principal grain consumed, rye is also taken in large quantities.—Ar

SYMPATHY NOT CALLED FOR

Further Proof That the Man Who Keeps Pegging Away Will Generally Come Out on Top.

Once there was a cobbler who was deaf and mute. But in spite of his misfortune he got along, for he was a good workman, and his shop was equipped with modern machinery.

One day there passed that way a disciple of the universal brotherhood of man, who had a soft spot in his heart for unfortunate fellows.

It was a wet day, and he stopped in to get his shoes half-soled. The fellow charged him 10 cents more for the job than he had been accustomed to paying, so he howled, but when he discovered that the shoemaker could neither hear him nor make reply his wrath subsided, and he went away with sympathy in his heart.

For many weeks he went about, telling every one he met to patronize the deaf and mute cobbler because he had get-up enough to hustle for a living even though he was a child of misfortune. Eventually the unfortunate fellow's business increased threefold, despite the fact that he charged high prices.

Finally the great humanitarian left a pair of shoes to be fixed. He said that he'd call for them about five, but something delayed him and he got there about a minute after six. There was a big touring car standing in front of the place.

The deaf and mute cobbler was just leaving the shop as the brotherhood man approached, and he wouldn't unlock the door. With one hand he pointed to the town clock in the steeple while with the other he cranked the auto at the curb.

That night, after supper, the humanitarian saw him out joy-riding with a wife and four husky boys.

Broadway Really Thrilled.

An interesting mixup occurred one evening recently on Broadway, but it was ended after a few blows had been exchanged. It wasn't a cop or anyone else who was responsible for stopping it; it was the power of patriotism. A sailor and a young man in civilian clothes were the interested parties. They became engaged in a heated argument and went to it with bare knuckles. The sailor soon showed that he was the better boxer and it looked as though his opponent was due for a licking. Just as the Jackie was about to land a knockout, however, a Salvation army band across the street began to play "The Star Spangled Banner." Instantly the man of the sea quit fighting and stood at salute position. The civilian saw an opportunity to turn the tide of battle. He started his fist toward his adversary's nose, but suddenly checked the blow. Then his fingers relaxed and he slowly took off his hat and kept it off till the band had finished playing. With the last strain the civilian stuck out his hand. "Put it there, pal," he said. The sailor grasped the extended hand and the battle was a thing of the past.

NO CONSTIPATION NO PILES

We think, without a doubt, that constipation is the most prevalent, and at the same time, one of the greatest troubles human nature is afflicted with, and causes more sickness than anything else.

Unless a free action of the bowels occurs at least once a day, constipation is sure to ensue, then comes the sore and uncomfortable piles, sick and bilious headaches, coated tongue, obnoxious breath, sour stomach, heartburn, water brash, and many other ailments.

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills will regulate the flow of bile to act properly on the bowels, thus removing the constipation and its allied troubles.

Mr. Dan Doucette, Eel River Crossing, N.B., writes: — "Having been troubled for years with constipation and trying everything I know of, a friend advised me to use Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. I used four vials and am completely cured. I can gladly recommend them to anyone who suffers from constipation."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have been on the market for the past 25 years, and have been used with the best results by thousands of people in that time, and we have yet to hear of a complaint as to their curative powers.

Price 25c. a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Debate Was Automatically Stopped Under Closure Rule and Railways Bill Adopted

Leader of Opposition Calls Sir Thomas White a Private Ownership Supporter—A Lively Debate.

"NOTHING VERY LONG"

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, April 29.—A fine, fighting speech of D. D. McKenzie, leader of the Opposition, rang down the curtain of the eight hour debate in the House on the bill to incorporate the Canadian National Railway Company and supplied a dramatic finale which caused his followers to break into cheer after cheer until he finally sat down, having talked past the time allotted by six minutes. At 2.06 o'clock this morning the debate automatically came to an end under the rules of closure and the bill passed out of the committee stage and was reported for a third reading. The House rose five minutes later and the Opposition hopped out of the building, their cheers breaking out afresh rolling along the corridors of the old museum building and making the rafters ring. It was a fine piece of generalship that made Mr. McKenzie seize the chance at 1.5 a.m. to say the last word in answer to the accusations that the Opposition were attempting to prevent the development of the west and shut off all chance of a government reply. It was his second speech of the day and had his followers cheering and thumping their desks at nearly every sentence. A vote was taken when the contention schedule containing the list of forty-four western charters which the Government wishes to revive and extend, came before the committee. It was carried by 92 to 14, Donald Nicholson of Prince Edward Island, voting with the Opposition.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, April 29.—By a vote of 93 to 41 the government bill incorporating the Canadian National Railways, passed the committee stage at two o'clock this morning when the debate automatically stopped under the closure rule. Daniel D. McKenzie, leader of the Opposition, closed the discussion with a fighting speech which his followers cheered to the echo. He said he resented the attempt of Acting Premier Sir Thomas White to lead the country to believe that the Opposition was opposed to public ownership of the C.N.R. Attacking Sir Thomas personally, he said he was on record as a private ownership supporter and against public ownership. Sir Thomas, he said, "was everything by turns and nothing very long." "Moreover," he said, "was Godly when Godliness pays." The vote was taken on a clause proposed by the Opposition leader, providing for penalties, but this amendment was defeated on a division as above. Donald Nicholson, of Prince Edward Island, alone of the government supporters, voted with the Opposition. Schedules were then adopted by 61 majority. The House adjourned at 2.15 a.m.

Offered to Resign.

There was an exciting scene when Mr. J. H. Burnham of West Peterborough offered to resign his seat and fight any member of the Opposition on the question of public v. private ownership. He was wildly applauded by the Government members when he challenged anyone on the Opposition side to stand up and take him on. Mr. Cahill rose and accepted the challenge, amid prolonged Opposition cheers, and cries of "Resign, Mr. Burnham!"

Mr. Duff, Liberal member for Lunenburg, also jumped to his feet, shouting, "Resign, I will fight you!"

"What is the hon. member saying who is widely waving his arms? What are the wild waves saying?" came back Mr. Burnham, amid renewed applause and laughter. (Mr. Duff lives down by the sea.)

Strong Protest.

But the strongest protest against the closure came from Mr. C. A. Fournier of Bellechasse. Usually a very quiet man, his speech was more than peppery. He accused Sir Thomas White of making an appeal for unity, and in the next breath trying to set East against West. Then, very gently and quietly, said Mr. Fournier," the Acting Prime Minister pressed the button of the air compressor which set in motion the gagging machine, and now we have the infernal machine working smoothly to the delight and the satisfaction of its inventor."

FIFTY CENTS FOR HAIR CUT

(Special to The Examiner.)

GUELPH, April 29.—The fourth annual convention of the Ontario Federation of Barbers concluded here last night after an all-day session. A resolution was passed to appoint a general organizer in Canada, for a unifrom closing hou in the province of seven o'clock p.m., unifrom minimum price of a hair cut of 50 cents, for a law compelling every barber in Ontario to be licensed, and for the abolition of the Order-in-Council preventing free speech. The convention was also unanimously opposed to the one big Union idea, as it is considered simply I.W.W. propaganda, a minimum sick benefit of $7 a week was favoured, St. Catharines was selected as the place of meeting next year, and the following officers were elected: President, Controller Halford, Hamilton; Vice-Presidents, Tom McPherson, A. Caull, St. Catharines; J. Kane, Kingston; H. Duscomin, Ottawa; G. Armor, Hamilton; Secretary-Treas., L. Worthall, Toronto.

Was Remanded Until Saturday

Daniel McMurray Was Apprehended in Douro After a Lively Chase.

Daniel McMurray, appeared in police court this morning and pleaded guilty to a charge of being a defaulter. He was remanded until Saturday until the fiat from the Attorney General can be received. His address is Douro Township near the village of Warsaw.

"Where are the rest of the Douro boys?" asked the Magistrate of the prisoner.

"I don't know," was the reply.

Chief Thompson — "He doesn't want to know."

"Is it because there are so many of them," asked Mr. Dumble. He didn't know that either.

McMurray lives on a hundred acre farm near Warsaw with his father and five brothers. He was the only one who received an order to report, his brothers being below the age limit.

The Dominion police assert that he fought hard when arrested and by his size it would take several men to take him into custody. Sergt. Carmody of the local Dominion police force with several men arrived at the McMurray homestead last night at midnight and instinctively the defaulter knew that it was the Dominion police who knocked at the door. He ran upstairs and hid behind a box while his father made all kinds of gesticulations and threatened the sergeant. Upstairs the sergeant had a merry time playing hide and go seek with McMurray around a box. After a short wrestle the prisoner was secured and brought to the city and lodged in the cells till this morning's session of police court.

Warning to Labour Men

Trade Unionism Has Stood the Test, Declares P. M. Draper.

(Special to The Examiner.)

STRATFORD, April 29.—Beware of anyone who comes courting you from International Unionism," counselled P. M. Draper, Secretary of the Dominion Trades and Labour Council, to a public meeting of upwards of 200 men and women. During the course of his address Mr. Draper reviewed in some detail the proposal to organise a one big union which had its origin in the west. He told of what International Unionism had done for the workers. "There is all the machinery in Canada at the present time to amply take care of your interests," said he. "Will you leave the substance for the shadow? From the Dominion Trades and Labour Congress down to the Local Trades and Labour Councils, the Legislative end of the game is taken care of, while in the political field there is the Independent Labour Party. Trade Unionism looks after your individual trades. It has stood the test for many years and will continue to stand the test. There are now, he said, 886 branches in the Dominion with a membership of 250,000. Mr. Draper told of the conference overseas at the Peace Congress to which he accompanied Sir Robert Borden. He said the aim was to secure in all of the countries signatories to the treaty, a standardized scale of wages and length of hours. In Great Britain he did not think even the most radical labourites desired Bolshevism, but Mr. Draper was emphatic in his declaration that labour men in Britain are determined that they will not return to pre-war conditions. Joe Marks, secretary of the Independent Labour Party, started petitions in circulation for the formation here or a branch of the Independent Labour Party.

COMMITTEE WANTS CONTRACTOR TO SUPPLY ALL THE SMALL TOOLS

One of the clauses in the proposed agreement with the Russell-Townsend Company committed the city to the supplying of all perishable tools and the company to the permanent heavy plant. The latter included pile drivers, engines and similar materials, and the city's contribution embraced wheelbarrows, concrete carts, shovels, picks, hose, etc.

Ald. Phelan objected that this would represent a very large item. contended that they should be paid for out of the contractor's fee of $29,500. The committee decided to make the contractor responsible for all of them in the agreement and any opposition to this action will be discussed before the agreement is signed. Another clause provides that the Engineer shall appoint the Inspectors and no part of the contract may be sublet without the council's consent.

The work shall be completed within eighteen months.

Labourers' Union Drops Wage to 45c At the Request of Bridge Committee

Labour Hall Was Crowded When the Committee Visited Them—Gave the Aldermen a Cordial Greeting and Attentive Hearing—Manifested Spirit of Co-operation by Acceding to Committee's Appeal.

IT WILL HELP, SAID MAYOR

Reciprocally favourable impressions resulted from the Bridge Committee's visit to the Labourer's Union meeting at the Trades and Labour Hall last night. While the Union acceded to the Committee's appeal to reduce the rate of wages from 50c to 45c an hour, the Labourers made an impression upon their visitors they were probably unaware of. Mayor Duncan's warm appreciation of the friendly reception the committee was accorded was an index of the feelings of the Committee, especially of those members who were observing the Union in its strength for the first time. The Labour Hall was crowded even to standing room with Mr. Louis Riley presiding. The men were punctiliously courteous, the order and decorum was perfect, and there was an evidence of unobtrusive discipline that must have been noticed by the members of the Council. These facts are mentioned not with any suggestion that they are unusual, but because so many persons in other circumstances are ready to associate with a Labourers' meeting some vague conception of a Soviet. The spirit of this Union last night was good-humoured and friendly, probably concealing an anxiety for the season's work and their families' welfare. In short as an organization the Labourers' Union showed exemplary conduct last night in spite of the uneasiness and impatience born of unemployment and of promises unfulfilled.

The Mayor's Appeal

Mayor Dunc a briefly explained the reason for the visit. The Council desired to proceed with the construction of the Hunter street bridge without delay, but the men had read the threatened injunction which will mean that if the Council exceeded the money voted for the bridge they would be held liable for the amount spent above that sum.

"We want you to realize this," said His Worship. "If we can get 40c an hour labour it means that we might save $40,000 and by narrowing the bridge nine feet we should save another $20,000. We are prepared to spend $150,000 for a sewage disposal plant, and we are planning to lay a pavement on Aylmer street to King street and on King street to George street in order that labour will be engaged in this city. We want to reason with you and see if you can't lower your wage to 40c."

Mayor Duncan remarked that the cost of living was not much higher than last year. Clothing was dearer, but foodstuffs were about the same.

"We want to get together with you, to co-operate and see if we can't go ahead. In my trade men are coming to me every day for work, but many citizens are doing their own painting and decorating. We would like to meet the carpenters and ask them if they can't lower their wage to say 60c an hour. However, it is a matter for you to consider and see if you can't help us."

Have to Pay It Back

Mr. Harry Coit from a seat at the rear of the hall pointed out that the labour men would have to pay back in rents any extra cost. "He has to pay his landlord before the landlord can pay the taxes," he said. "No one is kicking in East City. They'll have a railway to build over there."

Mayor Duncan—"We can't have the railway if the bridge costs us as much as it seems now. When the city grows we will probably have another bridge at Dalhousie street and a belt street-car line. So I think the single track on Hunter street will be sufficient."

Another member asked, "Will you recognize the Union?"

Mayor Duncan—"Yes."

Mr. Coit—"Fifty cents an hour, sir, is none too much for the working man to keep up his strength as it should be."

Mayor Duncan—"Suppose we can't go ahead with the bridge. The contract hasn't been signed yet, and the contractor won't get it at the present price. We are not going to take the responsibility of losing our homes."

Ald. Phelan

"The Mayor has fully explained the situation," said Ald. Phelan. "The cost of the bridge at present is going to exceed the estimate by a good deal. You are all partners with ourselves. We want to meet you half way. We want the men to have a fair wage. Mr. R. R. Hall's letter threatens to hold us individually responsible. We ask you to come along and meet us half way. We are not trying to bulldoze you, but we think you should make some concession and we hope you will think it over seriously."

A member asked, "How many hours a day?"

Mayor Duncan—"Eight hours. That's what I have in my shop and I think it is alright."

Another voice—"Fifty cents is not too much. You ask us to back you and we will."

Mayor Duncan—"But you won't back us if we have to pay $5,000 or $10,000 personally."

Ald. Gainey

Ald. Gainey—"I can't say the contract will be let under the present conditions. If you can see your way clear to change your wage it will be alright. You've got good men here and I know you will seriously consider this matter. Whatever you do think of your own interests as well as the Council's."

Ald. Morrison

Ald. Morrison—"In order to go ahead with the bridge we need some concessions. We're here to know whether you will accept a lower rate. It may be we will have to do the bridge by day work. That was my original idea. I hope you will think this over carefully, and I know you will come to some amicable agreement."

Replying to Mr. Riley, Maor Duncan said—"We'll bind the contractor to hire Union men on the bridge if we can get the money. But I'll sign no contract that may take $10,000 out of my pocket."

"Will the contractor bring in outside men or get them here," a member asked.

Mayor Duncan—"He's to bring in a superintendent and his plant. He is supposed to hire all the labour in Peterborough, and it is our labour we want on the work. But we want you to help us out."

"Is $3.20 enough for a man and his family," was another question. "I ask you gentlemen, what about yourselves? Could you get along on it?"

Mayor Duncan replied that the Council desired to start some work, but Mr. Coit remarked that the men might as well starve out of work as in.

Mr. Arthur Pinch aroused appreciative applause when he spoke of having to provide for a family of eleven. Many men had been out of work three months or more. They had grocers' bills to pay, and by the time these debts were met it would be winter and there would be nothing to carry the men through that season.

"I want a little to distribute around my eleven," he said. "I seems like charity now to get a bit of work. But we've got to pay our bills and keep our families. If food dropped it would help us a lot. At that we have paid far more than we should have."

Not Commanding

Mayor Duncan—"We don't want to tell you that you should come down. If you say 50c that is your business. I know the ups and downs of the workingman. I've been all through it myself, just as bad as some of you men. But I'm not going to sign up and lose what little I have saved. I want to drop out of the Council this year and I'd like to be able to say that I tried to create work for the men when they were unemployed. You can't blame me for not wanting to sign that contract."

A member—"How would 45c be as a standard wage?"

Mayor Duncan—"I'm not here to tell you what to do, but 45c will help us a lot. I didn't come to try to coax or force you, but simply to talk as man to man."

A member—"Will you go ahead if the wage is 45c?"

Mayor Duncan—"We want to go ahead. We'll figure it out first."

Ald. McIntyre

"I'd like to see you get the 50c," said Ald. McIntyre, "but we are going to be up against it. We may have an injunction against us and that might stop the bridge."

Ald Turner said the committee appealed to the Union in good faith. He suggested that they set a price that would permit the Council to proceed. It would be much better than fixing a price that would hold up the work.

Ald. Garside spoke of the existing unemployment and of the reluctance of many citizens to spend money. "Half a loaf was better than no bread," he said.

Harry Coit—"You always had your price and the labourer wants the top price."

Another member—"If my wife goes to the grocer tomorrow will he take 'half a loaf.'"

The interjected questions were all put in good form, but the Mayor replied that the Committee couldn't argue about the situation. They saw no alternative ahead of them, unless there were concession and reduction from some quarters. He thanked the Union for their attentive and cordial hearing, and stated that their decision would be discussed tonight.

(Havas Agency.)

PARIS, April 29.—The encirclement of Munich by German Government troops has been completed, according to German despatches received here. Committee Balked at Liability Under the Injunction for Cost of the Bridge in Excess of Appropriations—Labourers Ask for 8 Hour Day and Employment of Only Union Men.

CONFERENCE WAS UNIQUE

When the special Bridge Committee of the City Council in reviewing last night the proposed contractual agreement with the Russell Townsend Company reached the clause providing for the payment of the prevailing union wages in Peterboro in the construction of the Hunter Street bridge, they concluded after considerable discussion that the rates already announced by the carpenters and laborers would so increase the cost of the bridge that, under the threatened injunction, the members of the Council would be exposed to personal liability for a sum that would surely exceed the appropriation.

The Laborers' Union recently announced their rate of 50c an hour to take effect on May 1st, and the carpenters some time ago decided upon 67½ cents an hour.

In their dilemma the Committee took the very simple and straightforward course of going in a body to the Labor Hall where the Laborers were holding their regular meeting. The chairman, Ald Phelan, was accompanied by Ald. Morrison, Turner, Gainey, McIntyre and Mayor Duncan, and also by Ald. Garside, who, although not a member of the committee was present at the City Hall session.

The Hall Was Crowded

Mr. L. Riley was in the chair at the Labor Hall, which was crowded even to the steps ascending to the platform. The three hundred or more members gave the Committee a cordial reception and an attentive, courteous hearing. All the visitors spoke and the burden of their message was an appeal to the Union to reconsider the rate of wages they had fixed in order that the cost of the bridge might be kept within an estimated limit that would warrant the Council signing the contract and proceeding with the work.

The Union Responded

It was a man to man talk, Mayor Duncan stating that he would not render himself liable to lose by an injunction whatever money he had saved, for which action he believed the Laborers would not blame him. If they could see their way clear, he said, to making any reduction in their wage scale, it would be a great assistance to the Council in promoting the construction of the bridge and other local work at present contemplated. The Mayor assured the Union that the Committee had no intention of dictating to them what they should do, but he recommended that they seriously consider the grave facts that confronted the Council in the letting of the contract for the bridge.

About an hour later, a deputation from the Union composed of Messrs. Thos. Lane, Ed. Murphy and A. Walker, arrived at the City Hall with a written statement in which the Union agreed to accept 45c an hour, all overtime to count as time and one-half, except on Saturdays and holidays when double time should be paid. They also demand an eight hour day, that this agreement continue in force for one calendar year, and that the work be commenced immediately to relieve the unemployment.

The Union also stipulated that the hours and rates set out should apply to all civic work and that only Union men be employed.

Ald. Phelan replied that this offer would be dealt with to-night, and Mayor Duncan thanked the Union through the deputation for their prompt action, also expressing appreciation for the friendly manner in which the Committee had been received.

The Committee's Discussion

The Bridge Committee, with Ald. Phelan presiding and City Solicitor Widdifield reading the bulky agreement under which it is proposed to let the contract to the Russel Townsend Company, made smooth and steady progress until they bumped into the wage clause.

Ald Turner thereupon called attention to an estimate recently published which asserted that under the advanced wages the bridge would cost $42,000 in excess of the average of what other towns in Ontario would pay for the same work.

Ald. Phelan stated that he had asked City Clerk Armstrong to write to Guelph, Galt, Kingston and other cities for full information of their prevailing wages.

Ald. Turner—All things being equal we want Peterboro to be employed on this work, but is there any reason why the contractor should be bound to pay 50c an hour and not be bound to pay 50c an hour if he can get other men for 35c or 40c? I'm legislating for the masses and not for any particular class. If the bridge will cost us $42,000 more, that represents an extra tax of $2.00 a head for every man, woman and child by reason of the higher wages.

THE PEACE DELEGATION

Eighty-seven Members of German Commission Arrived To-day.

MANY WOMEN

(Canadian Press.)

VERSAILLES, April 29. — Eighty-seven members of the German Peace Commission arrived here to-night, being the second party to reach the scene of the presentation of the peace terms. Of these, thirty were women. The Germans include a Commission on Limitation of Armaments, composed of Doctors Von Becker and Sohall, and Major Botticher, and that on Commercial Affairs. Sixteen of the latter Commission are women. With the party was an official courser, Von Bismarck, a doctor, a barber, and Rudolph Brand, Press representative. There was also a number of telegraph and telephone operators. While there will be but a few witnesses to the signature of the treaty in the Hall of Mirrors, the Mayor has asked that the public be admitted during the days following that event so that they may see the arrangements of the historic apartment. All buildings here will be decked with flags on the day that the treaty is signed. Count Von Brockdorff Rantzau, German Foreign Minister, is expected to arrive to-morrow with the rest of the enemy delegation.

TORONTO, April 29.—There are few escaped murderers with so extensive a correspondence list as Frank McCullough, late of the Toronto jail, present whereabouts unknown, apparently has. Inspector of Prisons Dunlop is the latest Torontonian to receive a billet doux supposedly from the fugitive. This is a business post card, enclosed in an envelope and mailed from Kingston. It reads: "I see by reports in the Toronto papers that you are the one who is examining Currell, my guard, so you know by the note I left, Currell was drugged. Don't be too hard on him, it was my fault. Catch me if you can. Yours, "Signed" Frank McCullough. The handwriting, however, shows a marked disparity from that which is on record as McCullough's own. "Just a joke from someone who thinks I haven't worries enough," commented Inspector Dunlop, who has been worrying the last few days, because there aren't twenty-five hours to a day so he could work all twenty-five.

THE ONE BIG UNION MYTH.

The action of the Executive Committee of the Edmonton Trades and Labour Council in excluding from membership in the council the delegates who had advocated the One Big Union scheme, will undoubtedly be supported by the great mass of Trades Unionists in Canada. The attempts of the advocates of the One Big Union to spread discontent among members of those Labour organizations connected with National or International Unions, has little chance of success, for the simple reason that the majority of Union men realize that the plan of the Western extremists is impracticable and that its adoption would do away with the benefits that members of Trades Unions now enjoy through the opportunity of collective bargaining as craft organizations. It is apparent that the interests of one class of labour do not always coincide with those of another class, and it should be just as readily apparent that the One Big Union scheme would only add to the frequency and the difficulty of such clashes. Level-headed leaders of the legitimate Trades Unions throughout Canada are warning their members against the attempts of the Western revolutionists, pointing out that it would be the height of folly for the unions to surrender the great benefits secured through their own organizations, in favour of the half-baked, visionary One Big Union scheme, which possesses little but its name to attract for a moment any labour man who will use his brain. There seems no danger of the Western propaganda having any influence among the unions of Eastern Canada, the members of which are too enlightened to pay any attention to the clumsy blandishments of a bunch of agitators who have nothing at stake.

The International Typographical Union has sent out the following warning to its branches:

"These propagandists are trading on the magic of the name One Big Union. They do not set forth any one thing that can be logically attained by the organizing of the laboring people in Canada into their alleged ideal—'One Big Union.'

"They do not take into consideration when addressing members of the legitimate trades unions, the numerous benefits that accrue to these organizations through their collective bargainings as craft organizations.

"They do not undertake to show that insurmountable obstacles would be met when members of a particular craft were compelled to give consideration to the conditions existing in some other craft or in the unskilled occupations when asking for changed conditions or increased salaries for their own craft.

"They give no consideration to the present benefits that are established and stabilized by the various International Unions for the members of subordinate unions when asking the latter to withdraw from their International body.

"The officers of the International Typographical Union desire to warn its members against the blandishments of the people promoting the 'One Big Union' and to advise them that it would be the height of folly for them to surrender the great benefits provided by the International Typographical Union for its members in order to accept something that is of so uncertain a character and so pure a short-lived existence."

A SPLENDID COLLECTION.

"The Great War in Verse and Prose," is the title of a book just issued by the Department of Education of the Ontario Legislature, edited by J. C. Wetherell, B. A., and recommended for use in the schools of the province. It is intended that this anthology shall be utilized in the reading classes as a frequent substitute for the authorized readers, and a glance through the volume indicates that it should prove admirably adapted for its purpose. In an introduction Hon. Dr. Cody, Minister of Education, sets forth the key note of Mr. Wetherell's book. "Never was there a more timely occasion for the teaching of an ardent and enlightened patriotism," remarks Dr. Cody. "Those who understand the issues at stake in the Great War, the genius of the world-wide British commonwealth, the national consciousness of our own fair Canada, the lessons taught us by the mighty struggle, will be well instructed citizens of this Dominion, equipped by knowledge and by spirit to serve their country, their Empire and the world."

Mr. Wetherell's book has been prepared with a view of carrying out the ideals set forth by Dr. Cody. The selections make up a sequence—recording the great events of the war from the beginning in August, 1914, to the opening of the Peace Conference in Paris. In the limit of 159 pages the compiler has succeeded in getting together a most commendable selection of verse and prose. The three best poems of the war, Col. McCrae's, "In Flander's Fields," "The Soldier," by Rupert Brooke, and Alan Seeger's beautiful "I Have a Rendezvous with Death,' are naturally included, as are poems by Rudyard Kipling, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Sir Owen Seaman, Alfred Noyes, Harold Begbie, and other poets perhaps not so famous, but whose work entitles them to be represented. Wisely, Mr. Wetherell has included extracts from the historic speeches of Lloyd George, Asquith, Viviani, General Joffre, Woodrow Wilson, Balfour and other allied statesmen and leaders, and his volume also gives Kitchener's splendid instructions to the British troops on their departure for France, Field Marshal Haig's immortal "With Our Backs to the Wall" message, and several of Sir Arthur Currie's orders of the day to the Canadian Corps. It is well that such historic orders as these should be kept before the children of Canada. Well justified, too, is that splendid poem, "What Has Britain Done?" and the equally fine lines of Vilda Sauvage Owens, "What has England Done?" Verses that will bring home to the pupils of our schools a realization of the magnificent share the Motherland had in the war, and the immensity of the sacrifice made by the people of the Old Country.

If any fault is to be found in Mr. Wetherell's book it is that Canada's part in the victory has not been perhaps as fully demonstrated as it might have been in a volume destined for use in Canadian schools. The sole description of the Canadian's heroic stand at Ypres is an extract from Pte. Peat's book, while the victory of Vimy Ridge is referred to only through the medium of a few lines of verse. Of the other glorious exploits of the Canadian corps, there is little to be found in the book—in fact Dr. Cody in his eloquent introduction has covered the deeds of the Maple Leaf troops more thoroughly in a few paragraphs than does the anthology compiled by Mr. Wetherell. In this respect the book may fail to achieve what Dr. Cody has hoped for, "to kindle in the soul of our citizens the same flame of sacrifice and service which burned so brightly in the hearts of Canada's citizen-soldiers of the Great War."

TO ARRAIGN THE KAISER.

No announcement in connection with the peace conference has been hailed with such satisfaction as will greet the statement that in the articles regarding penalties which are to be incorporated in the treaty, provision is made for arraigning William II of Hohenzollern, former Emperor of Germany, for "supreme offences against international morality and the sanctity of treaties." It has been the hope of the people of Canada, as well as of the allied countries generally that the man who has been regarded as the arch-criminal, responsible for the suffering that has been brought on the world through his insatiable desire for power, should not be permitted to escape, and the announcement that he is to be arraigned on the charges named, and that the government of the Netherlands will be requested by the Allies and the Associated Powers to surrender the ex-Kaiser in order that he may be put on trial for his crimes, will be enthusiastically acclaimed, as will the further statement that the officers under him are to be demanded from the German government in order that they too will be brought before military tribunals and punished if found guilty of "having exercised acts in violation of the laws and customs of war." In the case of the Kaiser the tribunal before which he is to appear will consist of five judges, one of which is to be appointed by each of the following powers: Great Britain, France, the United States, Italy and Japan.

SOCIALIZATION OF INDUSTRY FAILS

Statistics are now appearing which demonstrate from Moscow records the failure of the Russian scheme in industry as well as in politics. The alluring hope held out to the workers of reaping the full reward of their labor by the nationalization of all the Russian factories and other means of production has gone a-glimmeging. The workmen, it is true, are being paid big wages in paper roubles, but their gains do not keep pace with the increased price of the necessaries of life, which is not surprising considering conditions in several other countries engaged on both sides of the great war. But besides this the system has broken down as far as paying its way goes.

Not only have the factories failed to earn as much as under the so-called "capitalistic" regime but in nearly every case they are run at an actual loss to the government. This is puzzling the Bolshevist leaders, who expected different results. Besides food, which they have generally left to the peasants to raise by old fashioned, inadequate methods, they thought clothing was the next product most likely to be in demand, and therefore established very large factories for ordinary ready-made clothes in Moscow, Nijni Novgorod and Petrograd, employing 20,000 workers.

Much to their surprise, instead of a profit there was a loss in spite of the high prices charged, which amounted to $125 in paper money for an ordinary suit of clothes. Better clothing which cost he government $250 to manufacture was sold at prices that brought only half the cost of production, owing partly to the constantly decreasing value of the paper rouble. In their clothing venture the government lost in two months what is equivalent to about $2,000,000 in gold. On their shoe factories they lost $500 000.

They are now talking of returning the factories to their owners and levying a tax which would leave a small profit to the latter, thus fining capital for producing. On the other hand, they have been shy of nationalizing some of the private monopolies and concerns dealing in raw materials, for what reason is not stated. Thus they show by their failure the need of capital in production on a large scale as the partner of labor and a necessary aid to efficiency.—New York Herald.

Revival Opened Last Evening

Evangelist Torrie Gave an Informal Talk.

Evangelist Alexander Torrie B.A., of Toronto, opened his revival mission in Park street Baptist church last night. The Evangelist gave an informal talk urging the co-operation of every member of the church. He also told of some remarkable revivals in some of the towns and cities he had visited in Canada and United States. The Hymn book "Songs for Service", made famous in the Billy Sunday missions will be used and a large chorus choir is to be organized and Mrs. Torrie who arrives from Toronto today will sing each night. Mr. Torrie will speak to-night on the subject, "The need of Evangelism in Peterboro and the kind of Evangelism Peterboro needs." The service will begin at 7:45 with a bright song service led by the Evangelist. All are cordially invited to attend any or all of these services.

Sending Russian Prisoners Home

COBLENZ.—The task of repatriating approximately 500,000 Russian prisoners in the twenty camps in Germany, which has been under the supervision of American Army medical officers, began a few days ago, according to word received by the branch of the American Red Cross here. The work of sending these prisoners of war back to Russia began in accordance with the decision of the Allied Armistice Commission at Spa, and advices received here indicate the undertaking will be complete in about six weeks.

The Americans connected with relief work among Russian prisoners number more than 1,000. The principal duties of the Americans are to see that the Russians are properly fed and to supervise camp sanitation. Food shipments, handled by the American Red Cross, have been passing through Coblenz for several weeks, but these will cease soon, and it is expected that within two months all American missions and soldiers in Germany who have been connected with relief work among Russian prisoners will be out of enemy territory.

Allied relief work at the various Russian camps was decided upon several months ago by the Allies as a precaution against half a million Russians returning to their native land and joining the Bolsheviki. Under the plan that is being followed the Russians are being released in small groups, sent to various parts of the country, and transported to their homes. In this way there is no danger of them joining the Bolsheviki in large bodies, it is believed by officers. The difficulties attendant on shipping food across Germany was also one of the reasons for the decision to repatriate Russians as soon as possible.

BOY SCOUT NOTES.

All boys taking up the physical drill will assemble outside the Armouries on Tuesday at 7:30 sharp.

All troops will meet on their respective nights.

Special

A cablegram has just been received stating that owing to the strikes in the shipping overseas the sailing of Sir Robert Baden Powell for Canada has been delayed. It is estimated this will delay the Toronto visit by about two weeks. Watch for further notice.

A Scout smiles and whistles under all circumstances.

Manufacturers Held a Meeting Last Evening

Mr. W. R. Breyfogle Was in the Chair—Large Representation.

The first meeting of the new Manufacturers' Association was held in the Council Room of the Board of Trade last evening at 8 o'clock.

Chairman Breyfogle announced that twenty-four of the big industries of the city had already united with the Association.

It was learned later that every company so far invited had signed the constitution and pledged their co-operation to the Association, the main object of which is to make Peterborough a bigger, busier and better centre of industry. For the first time in the history of Peterborough the manufacturers are solidly united.

The following members were present: W. R. Breyfogle of the De Laval Company; A. E. Coulthard, Colonial Weaving Company; Homer Meyers, Peterborough Cereal Company; Daniel T. Holland, Campbell Flour Mills Company; Adam and William Hall; G. W. Green; E. H. Howson, Peterborough Lock Mfg. Company; James Hamilton and P. P. Westbye of Peter Hamilton Company; Charles H. Thompson, Brinton Carpet Company; Morley W. Lyle, Canadian Canoe Company, R. Roland Wilson of the Peterborough Machine Company; T. O. Donaldson of the G. Walter Green Company; W. C. Ackerman; Ackerman Son & Co.; Capt. Claude H. Rogers, Peterborough Canoe Co.

Among the many perplexing problems facing the manufacturers is that of civic and sectional co-operation and particularly the problem of work during the period of depression pending the return of normal conditions.

Much of the time was given to a careful study of bylaws that are to govern the proceedings and management of the Association. These were finally adopted without a dissenting voice. Mutual consideration and support and practical co-operation in protecting and promoting the industrial welfare of the city form the basic principle of the Association.

The feeling as to Peterborough's future, on the whole, was optimistic. The manufacturers all feel that the products of the Peterborough factories are nearly all standard and staple and, as in the case of the United States, the industrial recovery from War conditions in Canada is certain. Peterborough is sure to get its good share of the returning prosperity which must result from Europe's need and from the rapid growth of the Dominion's population and business.

Statistics about employment, wages and salaries, home ownership and housing are to be obtained through a research bureau to be established by the Board of Trade with a view toward betterig living and recreation conditions among all classes connected with the various industries.

PRES. WILSON AS HEAD OF LEAGUE

If First Meeting is Held in Washington American President would Receive Appointment

(Canadian Press Despatch)

PARIS, April 29.—A proposal is on foot to hold the first meeting of the League of Nations in Washington during the current year. Should the assembly meet first in Washington, it is said President Wilson doubtlessly would be asked to become first President of the League.

ASHBURNHAM NOW THREATENS CITY IF BRIDGE IS DELAYED

The City Council is threatened with another injunction. Residents of Ashburnham who have observed in the present delay in letting the contract for the Hunter street bridge a possibility of eventual inaction have consulted a solicitor with a view to issuing an injunction or mandamus to compel the city to build at once a suitable and substantial bridge over the river at Hunter street. They assert that the municipality can be forced to provide this essential communication between the eastern suburb and the city proper. The present bridge has been condemned as unsafe traffic is impeded by the shunting of trains into and out of the Quaker Oats yards, and for other reasons that have been mentioned Ashburnham demands that a satisfactory and commodious bridge be proceeded with at once. The injunction is withheld in suspension over the Council for the present, but the Examiner was informed this afternoon that the ratepayers who have taken this initiative are determined to set the law into motion if the Council shows further signs of wilting under the other injunction of which Mr. R. R. Hall gave notice on Saturday.

This action will place the City Fathers between two fires, leaving out of the cubist picture the unemployed citizens, the competing contractors and other lateral issues, all of them interesting, but more or less obscured in the background.

HAD WEAK and FAINTING SPELLS

Those feelings of faintness, those weak, "all gone" sinking sensations which come over most people from time to time, are warnings that must not go unheeded.

They mean an extremely weakened condition of the heart and a disordered nervous system.

When the system is in this condition there is no time for delay. One fainting spell may be recovered from—will the next? One dizzy spell may pass off, but the next may be more serious.

Those who are wise will start taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, before their case becomes deep rooted and perhaps hopeless.

They will act directly on the disordered heart and weakened nervous system and restore them to full strength and vigor.

Miss Mary McCoy, Algoma Mills Ont., writes:—"I was awfully troubled with fainting and weak spells, and I could never get any doctor's medicines to help me. One day a friend of mine was at the house when I took one of those spells, and she got me a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. That was six years ago, and from that day to this I have never had any of those spells. I would not be without your pills for any money and can highly recommend them to any one."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Extra Special Attraction at the Grand Thursday, Friday and Saturday

On account of previous bookings at the Grand, the regular programme of Vaudeville and Pictures will be produced on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, instead of the first half of the week.

The great favorite, Norma Talmadge, will be seen in her biggest success, "Her Only Way," from the stage play of the same name.

The star vaudeville bill will be headed by the famous Lind in singing and dancing paintings. Lind is one of the world's most wonderful female impersonators, whose really remarkable camouflage has entertained and mystified people in every section of the universe. Though "every inch a man," his form, attire, beauty, voice, appearance and womanly eccentricities are unquestionably feminine and most decidedly deceptive.

Lind offers a most pretentious call, classical posing, terpsichorean and vocal novelty, which is billed under the title of "Singing and Dancing Paintings," consisting of a series of beautiful character pictures posed in a massive frame following each pose a characteristic dance emblematical of the subject pictured, is presented by this remarkable artist.

The work of this splendid artist is assuredly the last word in an act peculiar to the genius of its originator. Expert dancing and a singing voice requisite to the needs of the production are part of his equipment. It is an attraction that will unquestionably prove the big drawing card of the season.

Foster and Foster will be seen in a Skit entitled "The Volunteer Piquist." Of the many comedy acts to be seen here this season none will provoke more genuine laughter and please more highly than this offering of Ed. and Minnie Foster.

As an added attraction Raymond & Vincent, a delightfully entertaining couple, present a bill under the caption of "Names Don't Count," consisting of some exceedingly clever acting and good music. Both are splendid singers. Their parodies are original and amusing. Their feature number a travesty on family affairs, representing the first month, and two years after marriage, is a scream. It is cleverly acted and the best travesty seen in many a day.

Charlie Chaplin will be seen in "Oh, What a Night!" and a special screen magazine. Altogether this is the best bill ever offered in Peterboro, and at prices to suit everybody. 10c-15c Matinees, and 15c-25c evenings. Reserve your seats in advance.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

ORGAN RECITAL AT ST. PAUL'S

Musical Peterboro turned out splendidly last evening to the recital in St. Paul's church given by the celebrated organist, Mr. F. Tattersall, who has gained for himself an enviable reputation. The programme presented covered a great variety of selections on the organ and on the piano, all of which proved Mr. Tattersall's competent technique and high interpretative ability.

Musical Pictures.

The first half of the programme was devoted to an organ recital, and the selections were played with a subtle shifting of tints and blending of tones which could not have failed to have aroused the usually uninterested listener into enthusiasm. A feature of the organ recital was the musical pictures by the artist.

In "Sunrise and Sunset in the Alps,' 'through the medium of the organ, the audience could almost see the Alpine scene beginning with daybreak, when the peasants' morning chorals could be heard, also the chorus of the peasants with their flutes. Out in the distance presently the horns and their echoes could be distinctly heard and later the mid-day chorals, the peasants on their flutes, and amidst all this the carolling of birds was faithfully interpreted. At evening the peasants return from their daily labor, accompanied by their flutes, and gradually the organ pictured the creeping on of darkness until all was still. The artist's interpretation of this selection was replete with delicate tones and aroused the audience to demonstrative enthusiasm.

The Storm, representing a church scene interrupted by a thunderstorm, was a revelation to the audience as to what might be done with an organ under skilful handling. In this selection the church chimes were first heard and the big bell calling the faithful to worship. Later, as the church service proceeds all the different accompaniments to psalms and hymns are played, when in the midst of this the distant rumbling of thunder interrupts proceedings, and later as the storm draws nearer the music becomes almost drowned. A startling realistic touch was lent by the fact that the vibration from the organ caused the windows of the church to tremble. As the storm recedes, the music, which has kept up in the meantime proceeds with the service, with an occasional distant rumble, until through the artist's interpretation the hearer is permitted almost to see the sudden breaking of the clouds and the church flooded with sunshine.

The last of the musical pictures depicted "The Return of the Soldier Boys." With marvellous fidelity to the proper shading, Mr. Tattersall gave an imitation of the approach of a regiment. Out in the distance the faintest sound of the band was first heard and gradually as the troops drew nearer the tramp of the hundreds of feet was distinguishable. Above this the different musical instruments were heard and all easily recognizable. As the regiment is supposed to march by, the organ burst into an exact representation of the music of the bands and the tramping of the feet. Gradually with the passing of the troops the music dies away and fades into the distance.

The Piano Recital.

In his piano recital, which occupied the latter half of the programme Mr. Tattersall demonstrated that he is not only endowed with fleet and facile technique, which made the most difficult composition seem easy, but the possessor of a supreme dexterity which invoked a reverence for the composer he endeavored to interpret. He gave a brilliantly virile performance, which was thoroughly appreciated by all.

The Programme.

The programme presented was as follows:

Grand Chorus ..... Guilmant
Barcarolle ..... Bennett
Pastorale ..... Clegg
Grand Chorus ..... Clegg
Sunrise and Sunset on the Alps ... Clegg
God Save the King ..... Handel
The Storm .....
Invocation .....
March, The Return of the Soldier Boys

Piano.

Prelude ..... Greig
Scherzo ..... Chopin
Prelude ..... Rachmanioff
Les Oiseaux ..... Henselt

Two Etudes ..... Paganini-Liszt

THREE HUNDRED MEMBERS ATTEND ANNUAL DINNER

Interesting Lecture by the Rev. E. E. Scott at St. James' Church.

About three hundred members of St. James Church attended the annual church dinner held in the Sunday School room of the church last evening, and a thoroughly successful evening was spent. The refreshments which were in charge of the ladies maintained the reputation the ladies of St. James have already gained for themselves in such matters.

The Programme

After a short musical programme consisting of selections by the choir, and solos by Mr. Pratt and Miss Emmerson, a very interesting lecture on "The Land of the Maple," was given by Rev. E. E. Scott, of Toronto, who also preached at the Anniversary services in the Church on Sunday.

In his speech Mr. Scott outlined the legislation of the country, her educational advantages, her fisheries, minerals, wheat lands, and the glorious scenery of Canada. He took his audience on a mental trip from Newfoundland to the Pacific, which proved exceedingly interesting and instructive and broadened his audience's ideas of the wonderful country of which so many know so little. In conclusion he spoke in glowing terms of the courage manifested by the Canadians at St. Julien and subsequent battles in the war.

Peterboro Girl Plays in Prescott

Miss Agnes Logan Delights Large Audience with Beautiful Playing

The people of Prescott enjoyed a great treat in the remarkable piano playing of little Agnes Logan, of Peterborough, on Tuesday evening in Victoria Opera House. All that was said of Miss Logan was proved abundantly true and the large audience was delighted with her wonderful command of the key board. Her playing of Schubert's Impromptu was most musicianly with fine singing tone and phrasing Weber's Movement Perpetual received a brilliant and clean cut rendering that roused enthusiasm in the audience. Her group of Chopin numbers included Etudes N.o 3 and 7, and the ever popular Ballade. These were played with daintiness, beautiful phrasing, and lovely singing tone. The Alceste of Saint-Saens was a fine bit of piano playing, showing the young artiste going on from strength to strength as her programme advanced. Her final numbers, Lavallee's Le, Papillon and Percy Grainger's Shepherds Hey, were the climax of a wonderful feat for a young player. Numerous encores were accorded the young artiste, and a beautiful basket bouquet of flowers were ingenuously and gracefully received. — Prescott Journal.

Miss Agnes Logan is a pupil of the Peterboro Conservatory of Music.

Atlantic Flight May Start To-Day

Weather is Reported Good and Both Aviators Have Packed Up.

(Canadian Press.)

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., April 29. —The Trans-Atlantic airplane race is expected to start from St. Johns some time this afternoon. Reports received here this morning were that the weather conditions over the ocean were favourable and Capt. Raynham, the British aviator, and Harry Hawker, his Australian rival, each had his belongings packed and the wings of his machine preened this morning for the flight toward Europe.

It had already been decided that the start when made would be in the afternoon, preferably about 3 o'clock. This was in keeping with the plan of both Raynham and Hawker to minimize flying in the darkness, by meeting "westbound" sun as they flew east and also to effect a landing on the other side before dusk on the following day. The pilots' watches have been adjusted to Greenwich time. It would be necessary to set out here three and one-half hours before sundown in order to arrive in England in second twilight, but the aviators believe they could land on the Irish coast within twenty hours if conditions dictated.

A Later Despatch.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., April 29.— The weather at ten o'clock this morning as bright and clear, but the wind changed to eastward with a drizzling rain. The Martinsyde aviator will fly this afternoon if conditions are no worse than at present. The Sopwith airman says his action depends upon the former's.

Fuel oil that works well in engines of certain types is being produced in Sweden from shale and slate.

GUS HILL'S MINSTRELS.

Gus Hill's Biz Minstrels, featuring the dean of black face comedians, George Wilson, and with a clever company of singers, dancers and entertainers, delighted a big audience at the Grand last night. The organization was stronger in every way than on its last appearance in this city and especially in the chorus singing, in which the conventional first part was most pleasing, the harmony secured being delightful. Around the circle was a most accomplished corps of singers, the solo numbers of Edward Clifford, Fred Freddy and James Baradi being noteworthy numbers of this part of the programme, while Jimmy Wall, Jack McShane and the other end men contributed comical songs that were enjoyed. Jimmy Wall's end song, "You Needn't Worry Very Much About That" was responsible for much laughter and was the monologue of the Veteran George Wilson. The dancing of the company was clever and most of the jokes were amusing, even if many of them had been on the road a long time

A feature of the second part of the programme was Billy Markwith's saxaphone quintette, whose musical act was probably the best of its kind ever heard here since the famous Brown Brothers visited Peterborough. The number was one of the best of the evening.

George Wilson, who carries his many years lightly, was one of the stars of the second part, and his monologue kept the audience convulsed. Mr. Wilson was doing similar stunts years before many in last evening's audience were born, but he seems to improve with age.

Jimmy Wall and company introduced a skit, "Fun on the Old Plantation," in which there was plenty of comedy as well as good singing and clever dancing, while James Gorman's spectacle, "Over There," introducing some smartly executed marching drills and dancing was a fitting wind up to a splendid programme.

Well Known Railwayman Died Last Night

TORONTO, April 29.—Mr. James W. Leonard, head of the Toronto Terminal Company, for many years an executive of the Canadian Pacific Railway in different centres of the Dominion, died last night in Brampton, where he has been staying since his return from Battle Creek some weeks ago. Mr. Leonard was the General Superintendent of the C.P.R. at Toronto for many years.

Mr. Leonard was born at Epsom, Ont. All his life he had been connected with railways, entering this service in 1872. In June, 1913, he was appointed manager of C.P.R. construction. During his tenure of this position, what was known as the short line to Ottawa, was constructed. In October, 1905, he became assistant general manager of the eastern lines, and on January 9, 1911, he was appointed assistant to Vice-President at Montreal. In 1915 he retired from this position and took up his duties as head of the Toronto Terminal Co. At the time of his death he still held the position and had full charge of the construction of the new Union station.

Will Welcome Peterboro Members of 21st Battalion

Battalion Went Through Some Hard Fighting.

The officers and men of the 21st Battalion, who to a large extent came from the city of county of Peterborough have commenced to make arrangements for the return to this city of the men of this battalion who are now believed to be on their way to Canada, and it is hoped, that they are favored with better weather than on the occasion of the reception to the Iron Seconds.

In advance to such reception it might not be out of place to give a short history of this famous battalion which is expected to arrive next week.

The 21st Canadian Infantry Battalion landed in France on the 15th day of September, 1915, and received their first baptism of fire about three weeks later around Messines, when they relieved the Second East Surrey's.

During the winter of 1915 they were continuously in the M. & N. trenches in the Ypres salient and experienced their first battle of real fire around St. Eloi in the fight for the craters when, it will be remembered, that this push at this time was initiated to relieve the pressure at Verdun.

About the middle of the year 1916 along with the rest of the Second Division they were removed to the Somme, and were in the famous battle of Courcelette in the fight at the sugar refinery. The 21st Canadian Battalion remained at the Somme for some time but eventually, around the first of 1917 were removed to the Cologne front and in January of the same year with the rest of the 4th Infantry Brigade, were instrumental in carrying off the best raid which had ever taken place up to this time but which later was surpassed by a London Regiment.

While on this front they participated in the battle of Vimy Ridge and Hill 70 or Lens, and in November of the same year went through the Passchendaele show.

After Passchendaele the battalion came back to their former front and while there participated in the battle of Amiens and Mons just before the armistice.

Found Still In Manvers

Officers Discover 12 Barrels Fermenting—45 Gals. Ready for Market.

BOWMANVILLE, April 29. — Yesterday was too rainy and dark for good hunting, but two hunters for law breakers had wonderful success on a "still hunt" out in Manvers Township. The "still" in this instance was a whiskey still, a monster, too.

High-Constable Richard Jarvis received a hint yesterday that greater activity than usual had been evident on the farm of William Brown, locally known as "Tamarac Billie," on the boundary line between Cartwright and Manvers on the Manvers side, quite near the village of Lotus. He summoned License Inspector George Gooderich, and today they were motored out to the Brown Farm and finding no one at home they unceremoniously forced open the door when a strong smell of whiskey was recognized.

Wending their way to the cellar they made a great find: a whiskey still in operation, with a capacity, the discoverers estimate, of one hundred gallons a day. They found twelve barrels of fifty-two gallons capacity in course of fermentation. This, over six hundred gallons, they emptied on the cellar floor. In the copper stills, of two stories, and coolers, were further quantities. In a corner, cavered with rugs, they found ready for market two ten-gallon kegs and one twenty five gallon keg —forty-five gallons of genuine "moonshine" whiskey. This they hired a neighbor to deliver at Pontypool C. P.R. station where they shipped it to the Ontario License Department, Parliament Buildings, Toronto.

That a brisk trade has been carried on in the manufactured product, there is no doubt as automobiles daily have been noticed going to the Brown Farm, the house being situated a considerable distance from the main travelled road. The windows were darkened by blankets and quilts. Upstairs was found the bottling department and a quantity of dye for coloring the whiskey was found there. Quantities of barley chop and potatoes were found stored in the house. The hauling of supplies has been done at night on the by-road running through the woods.

The tenants of the Brown estate are said to be two Hebrews who are in Toronto at present attending some Jewish festival. Their names could not be ascertained to-day. Some arrests may be expected soon, however.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. Ed. Cooney and Mr. M. McIlwain accompanied by their two daughters Miss Jennie and Geraldine motored to Campbellford on Sunday where they visited Mr. and Mrs. W. Bates.

Miss Jean Hill has returned from a short visit with Mrs. Shields in Coboconk.

Mrs. Margaret MacPhadyen, A.R.C., daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Skinner, Colborne street, Lindsay, has returned from overseas and is at present visiting her brother, Mr. Jas. Skinner, 606 George street, for a few days.

Mrs. MacPhadyen has been in France for the past two years with the New York Hospital unit, Base Hospital No. 9 and latterly at Paris American Red Cross general headquarters. Her three sons have also been overseas with the Canadians; Alex. with the Canadian Engineers has just returned to Vancouver; Norris, with Lord Strathcona Horse, Royal Canadians, went over with the First Contingent, has been wounded twice and gassed, and is still in France; Kenneth, the youngest boy, has also been wounded, but has quite recovered. He is with the Toronto 53rd Battery, C.F.A., and is still in France. Mrs. MacPhadyen returns in two weeks to New York and will remain for some time in the Home Service.

Mrs. Fred Lewis, of Yonkers, N.Y., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Van Every, of the Charlbond apartments.

Mrs. Reynolds, who has been visiting Mrs. J. H. McClennan and Mrs. Zack Burnham for the past few weeks returns today to her home in Winnipeg.

Miss Jeanne McIlwain, 234 Lake street spent Sunday in Campbellford, visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. Bates.

Miss M. McGregor of Toronto is visiting Miss Annie Tansy at St. Peter's Rectory.

Miss Winnie Tansy of Toronto is visiting her sister at St. Peter's Rectory.

Mr. F. C. Hungerford, formerly manager of the Woolworth Store in Kitchener has reached the city to take charge of the local Woolworth Store. Mr. L. A. Simmons, formerly local manager, has been appointed manager of a new Woolworth Store in Toronto.

Mr. Simmons was a very enterprising young business man. He made a very successful manager and his promotion to Toronto will be pleasing news to many friends he made in Peterborough although sorry to see him and Mrs. Simmons leave the city.

Dr. Weldon is in Toronto attending the Annual Convention of the Ontario Dental Society.

Pte. E. Anderson of Cobourg, who visited at Peterborough is back from overseas and visiting his brother-in-law, Sapper Bright, 533 Park street. Pte. Anderson was three months in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Dunford arrived home after spending the week end with friends in Lindsay.

Mr. Archie Shook left recently for Toronto, where he has taken a position with the Goodyear Rubber Company. Mrs. Shook will join him in a short time.

Dr. Craig is in Toronto attending the Ontario Dental Society meeting.

Mr. C. H. Baker, who has been visiting his cousin, Miss Agnes Lynch, returned today to his home in Lindsay.

Miss Rose Convey has returned to the city to resume studies, having spent the Easter vacation at her home in Warkworth.

Mr. Wilson Graham and Mr. Wilfred McIlwain spent the week end with friends in Lakefield.

The numerous friends of Mr. V. J. McElderr will be glad to learn that he has recovered from his recent illness and was able to resume his law practice this afternoon.

The friends of Mrs. A. Barbeau will regret to learn of her serious illness in St. Josephs Hospital.

THREE AMERICANS KILLED

British Troops quelled the Disturbance.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, April 29. — Three Americans were killed at Winchester repatriation camp last night in a fight with South African negro soldiers.

Winchester camp was established for Americans who served in the British army and are waiting transportation home. The feeling between the force of South African blacks and the Americans has been strong. The blacks last night armed themselves with sticks and attacked the Americans, three of whom were said to have been killed, while 30 were injured. British troops quelled the disturbance.

Money Must Be Returned to the Widow Declares Court

Eleven Thousand Dollars Insurance Money Involved in Suit—Case Heard in Peterboro.

In December, 1916 Stephen Henry O'Connor, of Peterboro, made an agreement with his wife, Cecilia Ann O'Connor, by which she was to assign her right to three insurance policies on his life aggregating $11,000 and which she was the sole beneficiary, in consideration of his making a will on the same day in her favor as agreed. In the death of the husband the insurance company, not having had notice of the assignment of the policies, issued a check for $11,000 to the order of Mrs. O'Connor. Then the other executors of the husband (Mrs. O' Conor was one of them), induced her to endorse the check in their favor without any consideration on the strength of the new will.

Claiming that the new will was not drawn as had been agreed, Mrs. O'Connor brought action in the Supreme Court of Ontario for the return of the $11,000, and in a judgment handed down at Osgoode Hall yesterday, Chief Justice Falconbridge says: "She is clearly entitled to a return of this money."

Mr. H. H. Davis of Toronto, appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. J. R. Corkery of Peterboro, for the defendants. Following is a copy of the judgment:

The Judgment

The plaintiff without independent legal advice (although that perhaps would not have been material if the agreement had been carried out executed the agreement set out in Exhibit 4.

A will in practical conformity with the agreement was at the same time made by the husband but this will was subsequently destroyed and revoked by the testator and the new will made which has been admitted to probate. The plaintiff, in ignorance of her rights and without independent advice and without consideration, endorsed the cheque for $11,000 issued to her as beneficiary and to the executors by the London & Lancashire Life and General Assurance Association to the exoutors who received and retain the proceeds thereof as money at the credit of the estate.

She is clearly entitled to a return of this money. See Walker vs. Boughner (1889) 18 O.R. 448.

As to the $9,000 joint policy, see Griffiths vs. Fleming, (1909) 1 K.B. 805 per Vaughan-Williams, L.J. at p. 815 sub fin.

It follows that she could not elect to accept benefits under the will instead of dower. If anything has been done by her which would seem to indicate an election in that way it was done in ignorance of her rights and without independent advice—if she has inadvertently accepted any benefit under the will, credit may be given for the value thereof upon the insurance money.

But I am of opinion that the preferring by plaintiff of the claim for the insurance money and my allowance thereof are (although exhibit 4 does not specifically state that it should be in lieu of dower) inconsistent with her now also having dower out of the lands.

Costs to all parties out of the estate; those of the executors (with whose conduct I have no fault to find) as between solicitor and client.

Limit the Butter Export And Control the Profits

This is Scheme Suggested by Cost of Living Commissioner on Present Situation.

THE FORCES AT WORK

OTTAWA, April 29. — In the opinion of Dr. R. J. McFall, Commissioner of the cost of living, the remedy for the butter situation in Canada consists in the reimposition of the regulations as to exports and profit limitation. He would not ban exports but he would limit exports to the quantity which can be spared. After all the home market exceeds all others.

About 200 million pounds a year are produced and figures out to-day for the eleven months ended February, show total exports of 12,358,996 pounds, and imports of 1,486,343. In the same period 4,031,612 pounds of oleomargarine were imported and eight million pounds manufactured. But for the oleomargarine there would have been no butter for export.

Fears Justified.

A few weeks ago when other stirring events were occurring, the cost of living branch, made a plea for the reimposition of the regulations abolished with the Food Board, which regulations limited profits and restricted exports. The report got little public notice at the time. Meanwhile what was then feared has been abundantly justified in the abnormal rise in butter now selling at from 70 to 75c a pound. There is said to be every evidence of inflation and profiteering without the slightest handicap

Artificial Forces.

The report of the Cost of Living Branch referred to the artificial maintenance of high prices in the United States despite a great increase in the available supply. It proceeded, "In view of these facts and the news that the orders of the Canada Food Board limiting holdings and limiting profits have been abolished, and also in view of the evident feeling in certain quarters that now the war is over the public needs no further protection, in spite of so many laborers being out of work, we would respectfully urge that measures be taken at once to protect the interests of the consumer. We feel that at least the order limiting profits should be immediately restored by order-in-council and should be rigidly enforced, and that measures should be passed having in mind the protection of the best interests of all Canadians for the period of reconstruction. We also believe that a very special effort should be made at this time to diminish the prices of essential food products.

THE GIFT OF PLAY.

Some have the gift of song and some possess the gift of silver speech;
Some have the gift of leadership and some the ways of life can teach
And fame and wealth reward their friends; in jewels are their splendors told;
But in good time their favourites grow very faint and gray and old.
But there are men who laugh at time and hold the cruel years at bay.
They romp through life, forever young, because they have the gift of play.

Britain's Huge Bill For the Unemployed

$7,500,000 Paid Weekly in Bounty to Those Out of Work

LONDON, April 28.—A daily increasing outcry is being raised against what is called the scandal of the Government's weekly donations.

Unemployed recipients are now numbering over a million and costing the country $7,500,000 weekly, while industry and commerce cry out for labor.

This unemployment pay tempts men and women to avoid employment as they would the plague. It is also giving rise to many scandals.

One convicted criminal claimed he was owed to week's pay by an official of the Pensions Department, and declares there are hundreds of cases of men receiving fifteen dollars weekly in pensions, who also draw the same amount in unemployment pay.

A story is told in Dublin of a charwoman unable to work for a lady because she is receiving the unemployment benefit.

LABOUR UNION DROPS WAGE

Ald. McIntyre—Where do you get that $42,000?

Ald. Gainey—It was in ex-Alderman Dobbin's letter in the papers.

Ald. Morrison—Mr. Dobbin is misleading the public.

Ald. Turner—The difference between the lump sum and cost plus bids is about $40,000 because the contractor has to guarantee the prevailing union wages, and I think Mr. Dobbin is nearly correct. I think that if the labor men and the contractor could get together and set a price in proportion to what is paid in other cities of this size we could get a lump sum bid. The only reason we didn't get it was because the contractor didn't know what wages he would have to pay.

Ald. Morrison—Mr. Dobbin doesn't know what the other places are going to pay after May 1st.

Ald. Turner—I'm willing to pay whatever is the average of cities corresponding to Peterboro.

Ald. McIntyre—Will you take Toronto?

Ald. Turner—No, that wouldn't be hardly fair.

Ald. Gainey—Take Brantford.

Ald. Turner—Brantford is 45c. I want all the citizens to get a square deal. I don't want the contractor to pay $20,000 or $5,000 more than the bridge should cost us. Why not put in the average of the rates in five or six cities in the province. That would be more satisfactory to the public and they would feel that we were not throwing their money away.

Ald. Morrison—Why not take the Union wage?

Ald. Turner—The union wage is not uniform.

Ald. Gainey—The carpenters and laborers are not holding up the city. Their prices apply to all local work. Fifty cents is worth about 35c when you deduct the time the men will be off for wet weather and other causes.

Ald. Turner—That applies elsewhere as here.

Ald. Phelan—If 50c were universal you would be willing to pay it?

Ald. Turner—Certainly.

Mayor Duncan—We can get lots of men to work for 40c an hour. The Council can fix the wage for this work, but we don't want to do it. We'd like the Unions to see the position we are in and as we see it ourselves.

Ald. Turner—It simply means that with the injunction over us and the high costs nothing may be done.

Mayor Duncan—I've been talking to lots of laborers and they said they were willing to work for 40c. We don't want to run the risk of losing our properties through an injunction. We'd like to see them say 'Boys, we'll do this for 40c an hour'. The Labor men are all good reasonable men, and I believe they would see it in that light.

Ald. Gainey—The Laborers are meeting to-night.

Ald. Morrison to the Mayor—How would you like to go up?

Mayor Duncan—I wouldn't mind.

At that stage Ald. Garside who had been simply an auditor offered to act as intermediary between the Committee and the Union, but it was finally decided that the best plan was to visit the Laborers and explain the difficulty to them.

6th Line Boys Defeat 8th Line

At the Water St. Alleys on Saturday night the 6th line team won from the 8th line five pin rollers, by the small margin of 14 pins. The 6th line boys got away to a good start winning the 1st game by 183 pins. In the 2nd game the 8th line boys pulled down a victory by 156 pins. The third game was a close contest, the 8th line winning out by 13 pins. For the 8th line, R. Porter was high with 461; J. Porter 436 and S. Johnson 404. For the 6th line R. Hope and F. Hall had 417 and 408 for totals. The scores:

Residence Rule Of the O.B.A.A.

Ball Players Must Be Residents of Town in Which They Play.

The O. B. A. A.'s new residence rule has a loop-hole, and a big one, too.

It states very clearly that ball-players who have not been desidents of the city, town or village in which they reside before March 1 of this year are not eligible to take part in the O. B. A. A. semi-final or final games, but it does not state that players who are ineligible for the semi-final and final games cannot compete in their respective leagues.

It's all very well for the O. B. A. A. to say that the clause means that ineligible players can't take part in the league games, either, but the fact remains that there is nothing in the clause to prevent them doing so.

Sir William Meredith Horrified At Suggestion of Perjury

Finding in the Investigation Against the License Board—Ayearst Was a Good Boy.

(Special to Examiner.)

TORONTO, April 29. — "I have absolutely no hesitation," said Sir Wm. Meredith at the conclusion of the charges against the Ontario License Board to-day, "in coming to the conclusion that not only were the charges 'not proven' but that they were disproven. I believe Mr. John A. Ayearst, the chief license inspector, who has been suspended, to have led an honorable life and to have been a zealous and faithful public servant. I thought it better to make this statement now at the conclusion of the investigation rather than later in order that Mr. Ayearst might receive the benefit of its publication. The ultimate tribunal of course, is the public, and they will be the final judges; as for me I have no hesitation in assuming the correctness of my judgment.

Was a Good Boy.

"It is horrifying to me that anyone should suggest that a man of Mr. Ayearst's character should come here and commit perjury, and get others to commit perjury, rather than confess a fault. Although an honorable man Mr. Ayearst committed two indiscretions; when the money was offered to him by Solomon he should have refused to have anything further to do with it; moreover I deem it very unwise and likely to lead to suspicion for a superior officer to borrow money from his substitute. I think it is disproven that any agreement was ever entered into between Mr. Ayearst and Hinch and Solomon to share in the money which the latter received from the Duncan Detective Agency. It is established to my satisfaction that Mr. Ayearst never entertained any hope of sharing in the money, and I find that there never was any agreement that he should share. I also find it was contemplated by Hinch and Solomon to give Mr. Ayearst one third of the money, and Hinch was probably under the impression continuously. Solomon may have had his own reason for not undeceiving Hinch. I find that an offer was made by Mr. Ayearst and that he refused to take any part of the money. I entirely discredit the evidence of Duncan as to the manner in which he said he employed Solomon and Hinch. I think that it was a prudent thing for Ayearst to allow men to work with Duncan's agency. It enabled them to allow his men to locate men in illicit liquor business through conductors on trains. There is nothing singular in allowing his men to do this work. I accept the statement of Solomon that the money was intended to be kept together. The money was deposited with an agreement with Mr. Ayearst with a clear understandnig. There is nothing in the statement that the fees were deposited for Ayearst's benefit. Ayearst told them he would not take the money and practically made a present of it to Solomon and Hinch. It is suggested Solomon got his share. No doubt whatever happened the money, it was withdrawn from the account under circumstances to which Ayearst testified. Then regarding the $400. If there was a division made why in the name of common sense did not Ayearst withdraw his share and put it in his private account. Two sums were returned by Ayearst to the special account since the explosion in the House. It hardly seems conceivable that Ayearst, if he was wrong, would have put the money back after the Dewart charges. The suggestion that Mr. McKay tried to impress on me of perjury is horrifying to me. The whole charges are concocted out of whole cloth. Surely Mr. McKay did not appreciate the gravity of his statement when he tried to impress upon me that perjury was committed."

Baseball at the King George School

The Athletic Club of the King George School held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon to re-organize for the baseball season. The boys were enthusiastic over the prospects of a good contest in the junior series of the Public School League. The following officers were elected:

President—Frank Burgess.
Vice President—Carl Butcher.
Sec. Treasurer—Roy Taylor.
Manager—Mr. O. M. Steer.

Hendrix Wants More Money If He Plays Ball

CHICAGO.—A difference of $500 in the salary he demands and the one offered him may keep Claude Hendrix from pitching for the Chicago Cubs this season.

After a month's training on the coast, Hendrix left Mitchell's team here Sunday and remained behind when the National Leaguers left for home.

The Olathe boy had a good record last season, winning 20 games and losing only seven. He believes this should entitle him to a raise but instead he was offered a contract which calls for $500 less than he received last season.

"I want to play ball but will not accept the terms offered me by the Cubs," said Hendrix. "I will wait about a week before making any move, but unless my terms are met in that time I will return to Superior, Wis., and play in the Shipyard League."

Hendrix also said that New York was the only other big league club he would agree to join, should Mitchel! decide to trade him.

Strikes In Germany

The Railway Employees Threaten Trouble—Spartacans Are Restless.

(Canadian Press.)

BERLIN, April 29.—The railway employees in the Berlin district are threatening to bring on a general strike on May 7 if their claims are not satisfied. In the Ruhr industrial district, the Spartacans are again displaying great activity and endeavouring to organize a general strike in this region. Already there have been outbreaks in which casualties have occurred, advices show. The electric railway employees in Silesia are generally reported to have struck.

Mr. Conroy Offers to Guarantee His Tender for Bridge

A letter from Mr. Ed. Conroy offering to build the Hunter street bridge on a cost plus basis for a sum which he would guarantee, was read at a meeting of the Bridge Committee last night. He wrote that for the use of his plant and his commission he would charge $13,000, that he would guarantee to keep the bridge open without interruption of traffic and would purchase the lumber after the work was finished at a price to be agreed upon. Mr. Conroy said he would name his guaranteed cost if the committee was prepared to consider this tender.

Mayor Duncan—"This committee has no authority to ask for tenders which should be sent to the Board of Works."

Ald. Morrison—"That's the way I see it."

Ald. Gainey—"I never heard Mr. Conroy's tender read or discussed at the last meeting of the Board."

Ald. Gainey moved, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that Mr. Conroy be asked to submit the price referred to in his letter.

Ald. Turnef moved an amendment, seconded by Mayor Duncan that it be sent to the Board of Works.

Ald. Phelan remarked that the letter would come to the Board of Works anyway.

Ald. Gainey—"I simply want that information so I will know."

Mayor Duncan—"Why should we ask for one man's tender and not the others?"

The committee divided equally: three for and against the motion and amendment and the latter was laid to one side.

Fire Damages Furniture Store

From some unknown cause, fire broke out this afternoon at 2.30 in the work shop of Mr. John Craig, furniture dealer, whose store is situated at the corner of Brock and George streets. The smoke was noticed by Mr. John Downey, a Utilities workman, who immediately rang in an alarm. Mr. Craig was in the front store when the cry of fire went forth, and going into the back shop found the place full of smoke and flames spreading in all directions. The fire brigade was soon on the scene and laid several lines of hose, extinguishing the blaze in five minutes. Several mattresses, a couch and a large amount of furniture filling was destroyed by the fire. The floor of the workshops is also badly burned. The actual extent of the damage is yet unknown.

The Aliens Are Being Released

Good Feeling Towards Veterans Exists in Northern Toronto.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, April 29.—Provincial Secretary W. E. Turley, of the G.W.V.A., who returned to the city last night after a week's absence at Cobalt, Haileybury, Englehart and Cochrane, told a reporter to-day that the feeling against alien labour in Northern Ontario was running very high. "The mine owners are releasing aliens from their employment as rapidly as they can," said Secretary Turley, "in order that they can take on returned soldiers. Aliens are finding the situation rather uncomfortable, and are getting out of the country as rapidly as they can." The Provincial Secretary stated that the feeling toward the returned men in the northern towns was splendid. "I saw more and better arches erected to welcome the soldiers back than I have seen in other portions of the province," said he, "and there was a whole-hearted co-operation being shown in helping the Veteran find useful and happy employment."

ARE YOU A SPENDTHRIFT?

You have an asset more valuable than money. If you spend your money there is a chance to make it up by earning more, but if you squander your reserve force of eyesight, by the simple means of neglecting to give them proper attention when they fail from overwork or any cause, you can't get new eyes. Eyesight is priceless. Wouldn't it be wisdom to let Dr. Fowler examine your eyes and tell you their exact condition?

MOTORS DAMAGED BY FROST.

By neglecting to let the water out of their engines a number of citizens got caught by the last cold spell and had the water-jackets of their engine cyclinders badly cracked up. The same thing occurred to a number of stationary gasoline engines used by the farmers throughout the country. In the past this has been a serious matter, necessitating the replacing of an entire engine block, but thanks to the new Acetylene Welding process, this is no longer necessary, and the wise ones take them to Millard, 225 Hunter Street, and have them repaired at a fraction of the cost of new parts.

CORP. PAUDASH ATTENDED RECEPTION

Lance-Corp. Johnston Paudash has returned to Lindsay after a short visit to his old home at Hiawatha, on the shores of Rice Lake. While there he participated in a right royal reception tendered to six returned soldiers. It was a joint affair, participated in by whites and Indians.

Hiawatha has a creditable record in the number of its enlistments and some of the boys from the Indian hamlet made the supreme sacrifice. Among the speakers on the occasion of the reception were Col. Johnston and W. Johnston, of Peterborough and Lance-Corp. Paudash.

I.W.W. Send Infernal Machines In Mail to U.S. Cabinet Ministers

May Day Strikes Paralyze Paris—Britain Places New Duties on Food—Chinese Dispute Settled by Peace Council—Italy is Quiet Again—Wednesday Evening Bulletin.

Thursday Morning Bulletin:

NEW YORK, May 1.—Infernal machines sent through the post office were intended to reach all those who were concerned in the deportation of I.W.W. members.

May Day Strikes.

PARIS, May 1.— The city is virtually in a state of siege as a result of May Day strikes, which will last throughout the day. Not even automobiles of the peace delegates will run.

Increased Revenue.

LONDON, May 1.— Britain will place duties on food, films and many other articles. Increased duty on beer will produce two hundred and fifty million dollars a year.

Excitement Abated in Italy.

ROME, May 1.—Excitement in Italy has abated. The United States' Ambassador has sent encouraging messages to Paris.

Chinese Dispute Settled.

PARIS, May 1.—The dispute over Shantung has been settled, and Germany must surrender Kiao Chau to Japan, who will transfer it to China in due course.

Belgium Asks For Cash.

PARIS, May 1.—The Belgians have asked the Council of Three for a first advance of two billion francs on their share of the German indemnity.

Wednesday Evening Bulletin:

WASHINGTON, April 30.—A post office Inspector at New York reported to-day the discovery there of 17 infernal machines put into the mail, addressed to prominent officials, including Cabinet officers.

Dispute Settled.

PARIS, April 30.— The announcement was made shortly after two o'clock this afternoon that the dispute over Kiao Chau had been settled. No details were given.

Britain's War Debt.

LONDON, April 30.— Chancellor of the Exchequer announced this afternoon that the total war debt incurred internally and externally amounted to approximately thirty-five billion dollars.

Bombs For Lawyers.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.— Two bombs were delivered by mail to the District Attorney's office Saturday morning. They were mailed from New York.

Lenine Looks For Cover.

WASHINGTON, April 30.— Official advices state the Bolsheviki leaders, Lenine and Trotsky, are seeking refuge outside Russia, fearing the possible overthrow of the Soviet government.

"SMUG-OS-I-TY."

There are thousands of towns affected with the same disease, what is called "Smug-os-i-ty." Smug is the synonym for self satisfaction and osity is taken from the word osus, meaning bone. The points is that the great trouble lies in satisfaction. Perfect satisfaction, comes at the end; death and perfect satisfaction are one and the same thing.

We have run into a rut and we have got self satisfaction and it is that bears down on us and keeps us from going ahead. We have got to develop a community conscience.

A Summary of Farm Conditions

April Has Been a Backward Month for the Farmers.

The following is a summary of reports made by Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

A month ago there was promise of an unusually early spring, but April has proven to be rather unpropitious; and while some seeding has been done in many counties the season is now considered rather backward, and a tremendous rush of spring work is expected when the prevailing cold, raw spell gives place to favorable weather. Several Representatives report that early sown spring grains have come up nicely. Norfolk is going more largely into the raising of vegetables, and already some early beets, lettuce and cabbages have been transplanted.

Many farmers are anxious to secure help, which seems to be fully as scarce as a year ago. Some reports that from $40.00 to $50.00 a month and board and washing was recently offered for experienced, competent help, but the man could not be got. In Durham much difficulty is experienced in getting farm laborers at $50.00 a month. In other quarters even higher rates are spoken of. Haldimand reports enquiries being made as to securing the services of farmerettes.

Reports concerning fall wheat continue to be most favorable. "Excellent" is a common description.

Some winter killing and injury from spring heaving is apparent on low-lying or poorly drained clover fields, but the general appearance of the crop is fair.

Heavy Frosts

Fruit trees have suffered considerable injury from the heavy frosts. Heavy frosts, however, occurred in the latter half of the week just closed and while it is too soon to report conclusively as to its effect, the general opinion is that peach and other fruit buds were not sufficiently advanced to receive serious injury.

Live stock are in good demand, and generally at top prices. Beef cattle, according to quality and locality, bring from 13 to 16 cents a pound. Milk is in fair supply. The price of butter fat is quoted at 60 cents a pound in Simcoe County, and at 63 cents in Victoria. Lanark reports ordinary milking cows selling at from $150.00 to $175.00 each.

Hogs are in strong demand, some Representatives speaking of "record prices." The figures quoted for local sales range from $20.00 to $22.00 a cwt, f.o.b. Small pigs are selling in Frontenac at $15.00 a pair.

Frontenac also reports that grade ewes are changing hands at from $25.00 to $26.00 each.

The Elgin Representative reports that farmers' clubs are shipping live stock regularly, and are putting some of the small local buyers practically out of business. He adds that during the past week two carloads of cattle, and one each of horses and hogs, were sent out by these organizations. The horses were sold at prices running from $80.000 to $200.00 each.

Fodder supplies will hold out nicely until pasture comes. There is a sufficiency of grain and rough fodders generally on hand, although hay

Mrs. Wm. Gillespie and Miss Laura and Lottie, who were visiting Mrs. Lamon McIlmoyle, returned to Lindsay on Saturday.

The ambulance came up on Monday morning and took Mr. Archie Carveth to the hospital at Peterborough.

Ten Weeks In Useless Talk And Then Closure Follows

Government Hurries Through the Railways Bill Despite Fight of Opposition—Twenty-minute Speeches the Rule.

A TEST OF ENDURANCE

OTTAWA, April 30.—Political public ownership had a field day in the House yesterday. The converts to the new creed were legion, "They were converted by battalions and baptized by platoons," Sir Thomas White's Friday declaration was recognized as the new doctrine of the Unionist Party, and Unionist members fought for the floor to tell how they had fought, bled and died for public ownership.

Neither were the Opposition so tied to tradition that they could not find it in their hearts to say a kindly word for the plain people. It may even be that they had been reading the Montreal Gazette, the official organ of corporate greed. It, too, after a more careful reading of the bill to incorporate the national railways, has arrived at the conclusion that it is well calculated to bridge a gap to that blessed period when private control has again come into its own. It might have added that the bill is specially drawn to speed such action. But the Gazette is some what modest. So are the members of the Opposition.

Debts and Deficits

Even W. F. Maclean dropped in to give a word of encouragement to the measure regardless of the fact that it assures not the public ownership of railways, but the public ownership of debts and deficits.

But, on the whole, it was a dull, dreary, dragging day. The Opposition were in duty bound to fight closure to the finish. Some members were Hunting Hansard for something to talk on for twenty minutes. Others were bothering their friends for suggestions as to what they should talk about. As a matter of fact they talked everything from the high cost of living to the political antecedents of their opponents. It has often been said that cutting speeches to twenty minutes improves the oratory of the House. It did not yesterday. It only gave the members a chance to realize how little they knew about the subject under debate. It was absolutely cruelty to see most of them to fill in twenty minutes telling what they knew about public ownership.

Test of Endurance

It is a safe bet anyway that if closure had not been introduced the Cabinet would not have to sit up till two o'clock in the morning to have the bill reported. It is common report that the Opposition offered privately to guarantee that it would be out of committee Monday if the House adjourned at the usual hour on Friday night. But that great statesman, Hon. Arthur Meighen, had set his mighty mind on the passage of clause 20. It became a test of endurance and the Hon. Arthur used the axe. It is doubtful if he even consulted Sir Thomas White on the closure proposition. The latter was on his way to Toronto, travelling, by the way, over the C.P.R., and without a private car. Moreover Sir Thomas is a strong advocate of the principle of placation and has more than once been heard to observe that a snail that would take hours of argument at night could be disentangled in twenty minutes the next day. But Hon. Arthur got the bit in his teeth. Perhaps he found even this deformed public ownership so hard to swallow that he concluded it would have to be forced down the throats of others. So he started in on the forcing. And it sure produced a fine line of camouflage from both sides of the House. Both insisted that they were discussing public ownership. The chairman should have called them to order. The bill before the House dealt not with public ownership but with an agregation of the failures of private ownership. It is a funeral oration over the remains of the Canadian Northern and other railways. It also makes provision for the suffering promoters who have plundered and murdered these railways.

Virtue of Vanity

But Hon. Arthur Meighen comes from the west. He knows that the people of the prairies are crying for railways and more railways even harder than they are demanding lower tariffs. So a great idea appears to have struck the infant prodigy. He would make virtue out of a vanity. He would grab the "dirty baby" left on the Government's doorstep proudly proclaim it the Union Government's first born, and figure as the political giant who forced its adoption down the throats of a vehement and defiant Opposition. He had no trouble creating the opportunity. He carries a manner that invites irritation. As a peacemaker, he's about, on a par with an epidemic of itch in a Scotch regiment.

So there you have the ingredients of which yesterday's "crisis" was made. It may strike some people as peculiar that a Government that has spent ten weeks in useless talk should decide that three days was too long to devote to the most important bill that has come before a peace time Parliament. But the Government is always a bit sensitive when its friends, Bill and Dan, are under discussion. It seems to take to heart the unkind references to those patriots whom no less a man than our own Horatio Hocken has described "the two great railway geniuses Canada has ever produced."

Time Was Called

Of course, D. D. McKenzie was suspicious. As a prospective leader of a great party he has to be. He charged that western members are being promised railways in return for their support in trying times such as the budget may produce. He grabbed the chance to make a further display of his leadership qualities. He claimed that the great Liberal party went down to defeat fighting for freedom of trade for the west. As the clock neared the fatal hour of 2 a.m., he had his followers cheering behind him. His description of Sir Thomas White as being "everything by turns, but nothing for long," brought the Grits to their feet and they were still turning their lungs loose and thumping their desks when "time" was called.

Even the warmest friends of the Government do not claim that the Unionists have scored even a tactical victory by their latest use of closure. The vote on the usual amendment was a straight party one with the exception that Mr. Donald Nicholson, of Prince Edward Island, voted with the Opposition. He is an old Tory, but he vouchsafed no reason for his temporary departure from the Unionist fold. Fred Pardee, who earlier in the day had voted against closure, was not in the House when the final votes were taken.—Toronto Telegram.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS OVERCOME BY SAFE METHOD

SUGGESTIONS GIVEN WHEREBY INSOMNIA CAN BE SAFELY AND QUICKLY CURED

Worry, overwork, overstudy and indigestion cause insomnia.

Healthy, natural sleep can't be produced by drugs.

First, the blood circulation must be improved:

Congestion of blood in the head must be removed.

Irritation in the brain must be relieved.

It's because Ferrozone equalizes circulation, because it soothes the irritation, because it removes congestion that it does cure insomnia.

For building blood and nerve, for instilling force and life into overworked organs, for establishing strength and vitality, where can you find anything so efficient as Ferrozone?

Remember, sleep is just as important as food.

You must sleep, or break down, but if you'll use Ferrozone and thereby remove the conditions which now keep you from sleep, you'll get well quickly.

Ferrozone is not a narcotic, not a dope; it is a health-giving tonic that any child or delicate woman can use.

Absolutely safe is Ferrozone.

Take it for a month, take it for a year—no harm, but immeasurable good will result.

To sleep well, look well, feel well, to be free from depression, nervousness or blue use Ferrozone. It's a food tonic, a healer to the weak and wretched, a boon to the sleepless—sold in 50c. boxes, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

THIS HUN IS APOLOGETIC

Cannot Describe Feelings As He Crossed Devastated Area.

VERSAILLES, May 1.—When the German delegates to the Peace Congress, headed by Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, reached Versailles, it was received in the name of the French Government by Mr. Chatiere, prefect of the department of Seine-et-Oise, to whom the count expressed thanks on behalf of the delegation.

The count's secretary (Herr Rudi[illegible] subsequently stimulated to the newspapermen present: "Words fail me to describe my feelings as I crossed your devastated regions. I hope the peace which we are about to sign will give satisfaction to all the nations which participated in the war."

GET RID OF YOUR RHEUMATISM

"Bliss Native Herb Tablets are without a doubt the best medicine for rheumatism I ever used." S. W. Mills, East Lynn, W. Va.

"I am strong and healthy at seventy-four, thanks to Bliss Native Herb Tablets." — S. C. Martin, Stevensburg, Va.

Bliss Native Herb Tablets

for over thirty years have relieved thousands of sufferers from rheumatism, liver and kidney trouble, and constipation. Gentle and effective in action, and economical in price. One dollar per box of 200 tablets. Insist on Bliss, and you will get the genuine. Look for trade-mark on box.

Sold by leading druggists and local agents everywhere.

Workers in Chemicals and Metals Are Often Subject to Anaemia

THE breathing of poisonous chemical fumes or of the fine dust which arises from the grinding of metals is most injurious to the blood.

As a natural result the quality of the blood deteriorates and an anaemic condition is developed.

Once the blood fails to supply an abundance of nourishment the nerves become exhausted and then there is weakness of the heart's action, inability of the stomach and other organs of digestion to perform their functions and general lassitude of the whole body.

A complete change to open air employment is the most desirable treatment, but, unfortunately, in this day of the high cost of living, not many can afford to throw up their means of subsistence and start all over again at a new occupation.

For all such there is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as the best known means of enriching the blood and thereby nourishing and invigorating the whole human system.

The appetite is sharpened, digestion is improved, the vital organs resume their natural functions and strength is restored to the weakened body. With strength comes new courage and energy, new confidence and good health.

Mr. Robert Blafad, painter, 36 Wharf St., Belleville, Ont., writes:

"About three years ago my nerves were so bad that I couldn't work at my occupation, as I felt so weak and nervous and couldn't get any sleep at night. I went to a doctor and doctored for fourteen weeks, and did not feel altogether right until a friend advised me to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I did so, and after taking the first box I could see good results, a continuation of this treatment restored my nervous system and I have been feeling better ever since. I would recommend it to anybody suffering from nerve trouble, as I have found it to be a grand medicine."

Everybody whose occupation exposes him to the breathing of poisonous fumes or the fine dust from metals or mineral drugs will find in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food a splendid means of enriching the blood and counteracting the bad effects. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, 6 for $2.75, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. The portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., are on every box of his medicines.

INFLAMED GUMS— A CAUSE OF LOOSE TEETH

Pyorrhea is undoubtedly a vital danger to both gums and teeth. Tender gums indicate it, and mark its coming loosening teeth. Imperceptibly, at first, the gums recede from the normal gum line. They inflame. They present many tiny openings for millions of bacteria to attack the unenameled tooth base. Tooth-base decay quickly follows. Even if the cavity be filled and the tooth saved, the gums continue to recede. Remember, too, that inflamed and bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Against this Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease) ordinary tooth-pastes are powerless. Yet Pyorrhea attacks four out of five people who are over forty, and many under this age. But Forhan's—if used in time and used consistently—positively prevents Pyorrhea. It is a scientific tooth cleanser as well. Brush your teeth with it. See how promptly bleeding or gum tenderness ceases and how your teeth are kept white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

MRS. BALFAME

By GERTRUDE ATHERTON

"Oh! Oh!"

"I have tracked down every suspect, several upon whom no suspicion has alighted—as yet. To my mind there are only two people to whom the crime could be brought home."

"Who is the other?"

"Dwight Rush."

This time Alys did not sit up with flaming eyes. To the astute gaze of the reporter she took herself visibly in hand. But she bit through the long tube between her lips. "What makes you think that?" she asked, as she tossed the bits into the fire and lighted another cigarette. "You roam too far afield for me."

"He is in love with her."

"With whom?"

"The lady who was so opportunely, if somewhat sensationally, made a widow last Saturday night."

"He is not! Why—how absurd you are to-night, Jim. She is a thousand years older than he."

"How old is she—"

"Forty-two. Mother sent her a birthday cake last month."

"Rush is thirty-four. Who cares for eight years on the wrong side these days? She looks younger than he does, to say nothing of her own inconsiderate age; and when a woman is as lovely as Mrs. Balfame, as interesting as she must be with that astute mind, that subtle suggestion of mystery—

"You are mad, simply mad. In the first place, he has had no chance to find out whether she is interesting or not—if he had, all Elsinore would have rung with it. And—ah—"

"What?"

"Nothing."

"Come out with it. It's up to you to prove him innocent if you can."

"He was in Brooklyn that evening. I met him at the Cummacks' the next day, and heard him say so."

"Yes, that is what he is at pains to tell every one. Perhaps he can prove it, perhaps not. But that's not what was in your mind."

"I was afraid of being misunderstood. But it is all right, for of course he can prove that he was in Brooklyn. I happen to know that he went to the Balfame house, on his way back from the club Saturday evening, and only stayed a few minutes. I left the club just after Mrs. Balfame did, as I had been out there all afternoon and had promised mother to help her during the evening. I came in on the trolley and got off at the corner of Balfame and Dawburn streets, to finish an argument I was having with Harriet Bell over the possibility of Mrs. Balfame losing her social power through the scene out at the club—few of the members would care to go through such a scene a second time. Moreover, some of these newer rich women resent her supremacy and would like to force her to take a back seat.

"I only walked for a few minutes after I got off the car and then walked quickly over to the avenue. Just as I turned the corner I saw Dwight Rush slam the Balfame gate and almost run up the walk. He seemed in a tearing hurry about something. I was standing on our porch only a few minutes later when he strode past—no doubt hoping to catch the seventeen for Brooklyn. Now!"

"Nobody would be happier than I to prove a first-class alibi for Rush—"

"Who else suspects him?"

"No one; and so far as I am concerned no one shall. If you want the whole truth, what I'm as intent on just now as big news itself is complete exoneration for my friend. But if he didn't do it, she did. And if he butted in upon her at a time like that, it was because he was beside himself—no doubt he asked her to elope with him—get a divorce—"

"What utter nonsense!"

"Perhaps. But if she saw her chance, I'm thinking she wouldn't have hesitated a minute to put a bullet in Balfame. People don't turn as sick at the mere thought of committing murder, when there's a good chance of putting it over, as you may imagine. Most of us experience the impulse some time or other. Cowardice or circumstances safeguard us. She did it, take my word for it. She deliberately poisoned a glass of lemonade first, for Balfame to drink when he came home on his way to take the train for Albany. Then, something or other interfering—what, I can only guess at as yet—she found her chance to shoot, and shot."

"Why, if all that were true, she would be a fiend."

"Not necessarily. Merely a highly exasperated woman. One, moreover, who had locked herself up too long. Marital squabbles are safety valves, and I understand she let him do the rowing. But I don't care about her impulses. The act is enough for me. Psychology later, when I write a page of Sunday stuff. But you can see for yourself that if she isn't indicted, and pretty quick, Dwight Rush will be."

"But no one else suspects him."

"Not yet. But the whole town thinks of nothing else. And as they've about given up all hope of the political crowd, as well as gunmen and tango girls, they'll veer presently toward the truth. But before they settle down on their idol's lofty head, they'll root about for some man who might easily be in love with her—although hopelessly, as a matter of course. Then they'll recall a thousand trifles that no doubt you too recall without effort."

"It's true she turned to him out there, ignoring men she had known for years—she saw him at the house that night, if only for a few moments—Oh, it's too horrible! Mrs. Balfame. An Elsinore lady! And she has been so good to us all these hard years, helped us over and over again. Oh, I don't mind telling you, Jim, that I was a little bit jealous of her—I rather liked Rush—he was interesting and a nice male creature, and I was so lonely—and he stopped coming so suddenly—and then seeing him so delighted to meet her that night—and both of them dragging up the avenue as if each moment were a jewel—I've always thought it hateful for married women to try to cut girls out—it's so natural—but I can't bear her accused of murder—to go— Oh, it's too awful to talk about!"

"She'd get off. Don't let that worry you. Innocent or guilty. There's no other way of saving Rush. Be more cautious, if that will help matters. He'll marry her the moment he decently can."

"I don't believe he cares a bit for her. And I don't believe she will marry him or any one."

"Oh, yes, she will. He's the sort to get what he wants—and, take it from me, he is mad about her. And she's at the age to be carried off her feet by an ardent, determined lover. Make no mistake about that. Besides, here's a name that she'll want to drop as soon as possible."

"Jim Broderick, you know that you are deliberately playing on my female nature on all the baseness you feel sure is in it. I'd always thought you rather subtle, diplomatic. I don't thank you for the compliment of frankness."

"Maudlin girl, it is a compliment—my utter lack of diplomacy with you. I want to pull this big thing off for my paper, for your paper. And I want to save the friend of both of us. I have merely tried to prove to you that Mrs. Balfame is a mere human being, not a goddess, and deserves to pay some of the penalty of her crime, at least. Certainly, she isn't worth the sacrifice of Dwight Rush—"

"But if he can prove his alibi—"

"Suppose he couldn't. It was Saturday night. What more likely than that he failed to find the man he wanted? I have a dark suspicion that he never went near Brooklyn that night, was in no mood to think of business; although I don't for a moment believe that he was near the Balfame place, or knows who did it—unless Mrs. Balfame has confessed to him. She is a very clever woman, not likely to linger on smugly in any fool's paradise. She must know that suspicion will work round to her, and knowing his infatuation, no doubt has consulted him."

Broderick thought nothing of the sort, but calculated his words; and they produced their effect. The blood rose to the girl's hair, then ebbed, leaving her ghastly. "He would hate her then," she whispered.

"Not Rush. Another man, perhaps; but not only do things go too deep with a man like that for anything but time to cure, but he's chock full of romantic chivalry. And he's madly in love, remember; by that I mean in the first flush. He'd look upon her as a martyr, and immediately set to work to ward suspicion from her; if an alibi could not be proved for him he'd take the crime on his own shoulders, if the worst came to worst."

"Oh! Are men really so Quixotic in these days?"

"Haven't changed fundamentally since they evolved from protoplasm."

"But why should all that chivalry,—that magnificent passion—the first love of a man like that—be called out by a woman of Mrs. Balfame's age? Why, it's some girl's right! I don't say mine. Don't think I'm a dog in the manger. I'm trying not to be. But the world is full of girls— not foolish young things only good enough for boys, but girls in their twenties, bright, companionable, helpful, real mates for men—Why, it is unnatural, damnable!"

"Yes, it is," said Broderick sympathetically. "But if human nature weren't a tangled wire fence electrified full of contradictions, life wouldn't be interesting at all. Perhaps it's a mere case of affinity, destiny—don't ever betray me. But there it is. As well try to explain the abrupt taking off of useful men in their prime, of lovely children, of needed mothers, of aged women who have lived exemplary lives, mainly for others, spending their last years with the horrors of cancer. Don't try to explain human passion. And she is beautiful, and fresher to look at than girls of eighteen that tango day and night. But he must be saved from her as well as from arrest. Will you help me?"

"What do you want me to do?"

"Get further evidence about Mrs. Balfame."

"I cannot, and would not if I could. Do you think I would be the means of fastening the crime of murder on any woman?"

"You would if you were a hardened—and good—newspaper woman."

"Well, I'm not. And I won't. Do your own sleuthing."

"More than I am on the job, but I want your help. I don't say you can pick up fragments of her dress in the grove, or that you can— or would—worm yourself into her confidence and extract a confession. But you can set your wits to work and think up ways to put me on the track of more evidence than I've got now. Can you think of anything off-hand?"

"No."

"Ah? What does that intonation mean?"

"Your ears are off the key."

Thora and Nirvana..... 235001

"THORA" by Weatherly-Adams will be welcomed by all admirers of these talented writers, known the world over. The subdued opening of this beautiful song and the tender undulation of the voice gives a mellowness of beauty that at once gains the attention of the listener and the expressive singing of this gifted artist infuses a note of appeal and tender affection throughout the whole song. The lines:—

"I loved you in life too little
I love you in death too well" are rendered with telling effect. The finish in particular furnishes a fitting finale to this beautiful song.

"NIRVANA" by Weatherly-Adams is a song that has rightfully won a place amongst the immortals. Full of richness and beauty of modern melody and has at the same time a touch of florid elaboration of the older music. The tones are soft and round and leave an effect of simple grandeur. The whole is finely rendered and this artist's varied gifts of expression are beautifully exemplified.

OUR DAILY SHORT STORY

Sin Wei's Gift

The Lost Jewels of a Mandarin

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Richard Durwent looked gloomily around the disordered library, which had lost its accustomed air of quiet repose. Packing cases jostled each other, and the empty bookshelves proclaimed that their contents had been transferred.

The big mahogany table in the middle of the room was littered with writing materials, for Durwent and his friend, Angus McNair, had been making an inventory of the contents of the room and had been putting in the packing cases the few books and curios that Durwent could not bear to part with.

Durwent, traveler and explorer, had made an unwise investment, and he awoke to find himself penniless. Even the sale of his furniture and books would barely cover the amount of his debts. On the morrow the goods were to be carted away to the auction rooms. The apartment would be to let.

"You will keep the set of Kipling?" asked McNair, poising his fountain pen over the writing pad.

"Yes, but the other first editions must go, Angus. That cleans up all the books."

"Yes, and, man, you won't take it amiss if I buy in some of them for my own library?"

"Pick them out now, Angus. They'll boost the prices."

McNair laughed. "No, no. I'll take my chance with the others, Richard. It shan't be said I profited by my friend's adversity."

"Hang it all, Angus, why did I try to speculate?" fretted Durwent. "I haven't got any head for money matters anyway."

"You listened to the voice of the serpent, meaning the wily Mr. Wales," smiled McNair, pulling a battered pipe from his pocket. "He certainly trimmed you neatly, Richard. You mind, I'm so sore at him that I can't speak decently when we meet."

"I'll have to make another plunge into the unknown," went on Durwent, "just when I'd made up my mind to sit quietly at home and enjoy my books."

"There's Lansboro's expedition into Cochin China," suggested McNair.

"I've joined it," said the other tersely.

"You'll be writing another book and making more money—barrels of it. Hoots, mon," he went on, his Scotch accent growing pronounced as he became excited, "maybe you were thinking of retiring too soon. Your worrruk's not half done in the world! Ah, I wish I could adventure forth instead of being tied down to a medical practice!"

"Come with me as physicing to the expedition," urged Richard.

"I can't leave my poor people," objected McNair, and then they both laughed, for Dr. McNair's charity patients represented a hobby.

He went over to the mantelpiece and groped among the litter of ivories and bronzes.

"Have you any tobacco, Richard? Where's your old jar?"

"In the bottom of my trunk," confessed Durwent. "It's an old friend of mine, and I was afraid it might get mixed up with some of this salable stuff. I wasn't taking any chances with it. Have a cigarette?" extending his case.

"No, thanks. What's in this jar—not a pinch of 'baccy?" lifting the cover of a large bronze jar with an ivory dragon twisted around it. The cover handle was of ivory in the form of a raven. "Why, it's full!"

Durwent laughed.

"I've never even tried a whiff of it. It was given to me under suspicious circumstances, and I've neglected to empty it. Why, that tobacco must be fifteen years old. I got it when I made that trip up the Yangtzekiang, you remember?"

"I've read your book. I ought to remember," said McNair dryly. He dipped his pipe into the jar and crammed the brown powdery flakes into the bowl. "I'll try it anyway, while you spin me a yarn about it."

He scratched a match and puffed slowly. Blue spirals ascended from the bowl.

"That's not bad, Richard," declared the Scotchman, throwing himself into a chair.

"You better take it, then. You can use it for emergencies, when, like the present, you can't get anything better. Take jar and all."

"No, thank you. I can't bear creepy, crawly things around," said the other, drawing on his pipe. "I'll take the 'baccy, but the jar you can keep. Tell me the story."

"It's not much of a story," returned Durwent, lighting a cigarette and sitting down on a corner of the table. "It was when I was in the upper reaches of the Yangtze, among the rocky gorges, where our boat slid and bobbed and floundered through the rapids. I had gone ashore to examine the remains of an ancient shrine, and I became separated from my servants.

"Suddenly through the underbrush there crept the pitiful apology of a man, a Chinese. He was gaunt and famished. His clothes were in tatters, and his straw shoes were worn out. He was a scarecrow, and as he came toward me on hands and knees he moaned.

"Of course I recognized the signs of starvation and thirst and a great fear. He was undoubtedly a fugitive from justice. He may have been a murderer or a bandit, but he was a human being. So I gave him to drink from my pocket bottle and dressed a gash in his head from the contents of my pocket medicine case, and later he told me his story, but that was not until under cover of the approaching darkness I had hurried him on board the boat.

"Squatting at my feet in the bow of the boat, he told me that he had been wrongfully accused of stealing treasure from his master, a rich mandarin. He had managed to escape, but his pursuers had relentlessly tracked him until after two days and nights of flight he had come upon me at the river's edge. His name was Sin Wei, and he was from the province of Szechuan.

"I promised to take him into my service, and I called upon my boy to bring fresh blue cotton garments and to give the stranger a mat to sleep upon and plenty of rice. It was in the middle of the night that I awoke and sat up in my bunk. The windows of my cabin were wide open, and the fresh breeze from the river was very grateful. At dawn we would resume our journey down the river. Now it was 2 o'clock, as I learned by glancing at my watch by the light of my electric torch. I had gone to bed very early, so felt sure I was in for a long wakeful period some time in the night.

"I lay there awhile staring at the white square of the window where the moonlight shone. Suddenly across that square came a shadow. It paused and then blotted out the light.

"My hand slipped under my pillow and tightened around the butt of my automatic pistol. I watched the window curiously, for a man was climbing in, and I felt no fear because of the weapon in my hand. I leveled the pistol at the intruder, but I was silent. I suspected it was Sin Wei, the stranger.

"I wondered what his errand was. Was he trying to murder and rob me?

"My question was soon answered. From a filthy bundle which he had strapped to his shoulders and which he had refused to be parted from he brought out this bronze jar, which he placed beneath my window. He stooped over it a long time, pouring something inside; the cover clinked and he was gone.

"Later I heard a splash in the river, and I suspected that my protege had become fear stricken and was making his escape. When daylight invaded the room I made out the shape of this bronze jar, and I noticed a strip of red paper hanging from the cover. Curiosity would be denied no longer, so I got up and examined the paper. On it were scrawled some Chinese characters expressing the gratitude of Sin Wei for his deliverance, wishing me a long life, good luck and much felicity and saying that the river gods called him.

"I lifted the cover of the jar and found it full of tobacco of an inferior quality. I've never touched it, but I've kept the jar for sentimental reasons. Very likely Sin Wei stole it from the mandarin. I dressed and went on deck, but my coolies were gathered forward jabbering excitedly. It seems they had seen Sin Wei leap from the boat in an insane frenzy of fear, and the river had carried him swiftly on her broad yellow breast. That's all, except that there has been one disturbance after another in China, and I haven't been there for several years. South Africa has been my stamping ground of late years. Now, will you accept the jar and its contents?" smiled Durwent at his friend.

"I'll take the tobacco," said McNair, going to the mantelpiece for the jar; "the receptacle you can sell or keep, as you like."

He took a piece of white paper and emptied the contents of the bronze jar. Several lumpy objects rolled out of the pile of tobacco.

"What's this?" he asked curiously, picking up one of the lumps. "Something wrapped in tissue paper. Well, mon, look at that, will ye?"

"An emerald!" Durwent stared, with unbelieving eyes, as he took the brilliant green stone in his hand. "Do you suppose it's real?"

"Aye, mon; glass never looked like that!" went on Angus in excitement as he unwrapped lump after lump and laid them before his bewildered friend. "Rubies, diamonds and a pearl, another emerald and another, that's all! All! Enough to make you independently rich for life!"

"What in thunder does it mean?" questioned Durwent.

"Mean, you idiot? It means that your protege, Sin Wei, must have looted the old mandarin for fair! And you, Richard, are an accessory after the fact. Deciding to end his miserable life, Sin Wei unloaded his loot upon you, his benefactor, and surely it comes in opportunely, eh, mon?"

"But they don't belong to me," objected Durwent, even while he knew that he could never find the owner after fifteen years of revolution and riot in China.

"You can satisfy your conscience by trying to find the mandarin, and in the meantime I don't believe he would care if you used one little emerald to save your precious effects. Eh, mon?"

"I'll do it," said Durwent cheerfully. He packed the tobacco back into the jar and locked the jewels away in his safe.

"Then I don't get the tobacco?" asked McNair ruefully.

"Not this tobacco, but I'll buy you any quantity of your favorite brand, and if the owner of the stones does not come to light you may have the choice of the stones. Now I have a pleasant errand to perform, thanks to you and Sin Wei's gift."

And arm in arm the two friends went out to notify the auction rooms that the sale of Mr. Durwent's belongings had been canceled.

Unavailing Efforts of an Offender to Give Justice Its Due.

The following story is actually true. A young Icelander, going across the desert from Reykjavik, met a man riding a pony. Such meetings are very rare indeed in those parts, and, like ships at sea, the two hailed and spoke. And this was the manner and substance of their conversation:

"What is your name?"

"Stefan."

"Whose son?"

"Thorstein's son."

"Where are you going?"

"To prison, for stealing a sheep."

"No one taking you?"

"No; the sheriff was busy, so he gave me my papers"—the warrant for the arrest—"and sent me off to prison myself."

The young men exchanged snuff and a kiss and then parted.

A week later the young Icelander was returning to Reykjavik, and near the same spot he met the same man.

"What," he cried, "Stefan Thorstein! Why, you said you were going to prison."

"So I was, and I went. But they would not let me in."

"Why not?"

"Because I had lost my papers, and the sheriff said he would not take me in without my warrant."

"So they won't have you in prison?"

"No."

"And you are going home again?"

"Yes."

And they went their ways.—London Tit-Bits.

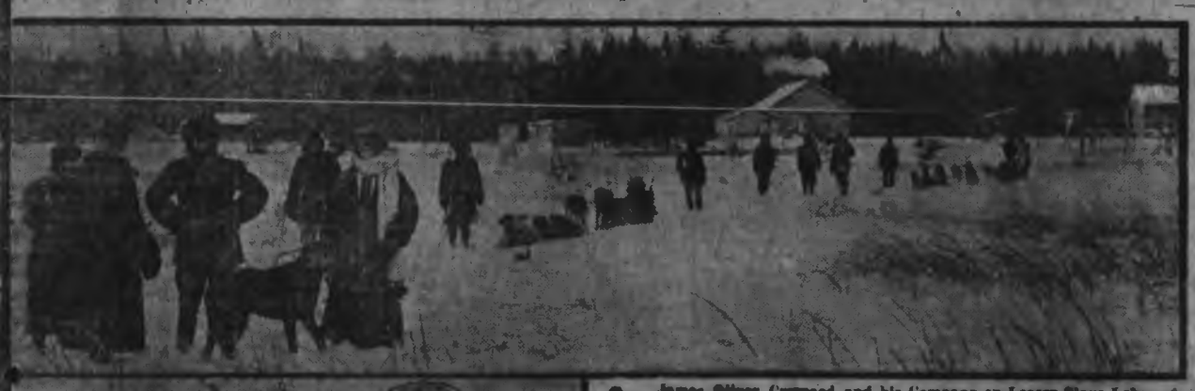
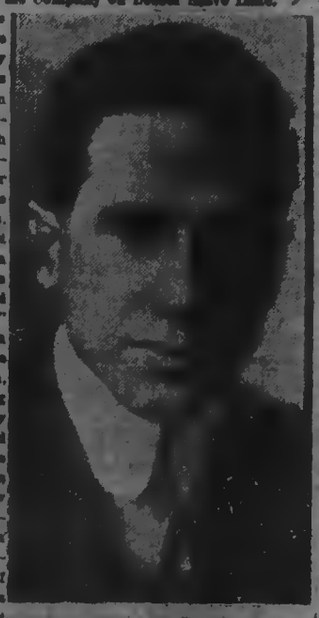
MOTION PICTURES IN CANADA



● James Oliver Curwood and his Company on Lesser Slave Lake.

Calgary in Southern Alberta is making a bold bid to become the centre of a motion picture industry for Canada and has induced James Oliver Curwood, the well known novelist, magazine writer, and moving picture scenarioist, to establish a studio and laboratory in that go-ahead city as the headquarters for a company which will screen scope of Mr. Curwood's literary successes. This company has already spent some time at Lesser Slave Lake on the first of the proposed pictures "Wapi the Walrus" which appeared recently in "Good Housekeeping." Cabins have been built, and a dozen movie actors and actresses from the States, one of whom, Neil Hardman, is Canadian born, have been seeing before the camera-man with twenty brends as extras. Great Danes and Huskies are used, and a whaler has been built 185 feet in length. James Oliver Curwood is a grand-nephew of the famous English novelist Captain Marryat, author of Middshipman Easy and many other tales of adventure dear to boys. Eighteen of the twenty-one novels he himself has written are located in Canada, and he has travelled in search of material twice to the Arctic Ocean, five times to Hudson's Bay, twice to the MacKenzie Country. Although this first picture will deal chiefly with the frozen north, Mr. Curwood intends to show Canada upon the screen in the four parts of Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter.

It will be remembered that the



JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD

Hon. T. W. McGary raised quite a political agitation in favor of British and Canadian-made films in the Province of Ontario, and there undoubtedly is a growing demand in Canada for pictures illustrative of the life and scenes of this country. So that, Calgary's effort is making a step in the right direction.

Peculiar Features to the Delivery of Four Cases of Whiskey at Kendry Station

Montreal Train Does Not Regularly Stop at This Flag Station—Crates Fictitiously Addressed to Peterboro Were Dumped on the Country Road.

INSPECTOR WELL INFORMED

Several aspects of Inspector Stewart's seizure of four cases containing altogether 240 bottles of whiskey at Kendry siding yesterday morning, excite more than casual interest. Kendry is only a country flag station on the boundary between the townships of North Monaghan and Cavan, at which the passenger trains running between Toronto and Montreal do not regularly stop. For that reason, Mr. Stewart might have been justified in seriously doubting his information unless he was confident of its exactness and the reliability of its source.

In fact while Mr. Stewart and County Constable Moore were waiting at a farm house about half a mile down the road from the station, Mr. Moore remarked, when a long blast of the whistle announced the train's approach, that it wouldn't stop at Kendry. It wasn't customary. The early trains make only one stop between Peterborough and Toronto. The "local" calls at the intervening stations. Probably Mr. Stewart had not freed his mind of a last lurking doubt, but when the train slowed up he couldn't suppress an involuntary "I told you so."

Dumped on to the Road.

According to the Inspector's story of the morning events, he and Mr. Moore motored from Peterborough while it was yet dark. They proceeded past Kendry nearly half a mile, and about the time the train was expected another automobile appeared in the dissolving dusk. It approached close to the [illegible] waiting for the [illegible] to go up. It [illegible] and finally turned back toward the railway crossing. From one of the rear baggage coaches the four crates were unceremoniously deposited in the middle of the road on the side of the train opposite the platform. In fact they were right on the boundary, and when Constable Moore drew up as the train was departing, the other automobile started off, leaving the cases as a barricade across the road. Their party evidently took fright and decided that safety lay in flight. They hadn't time to attempt to gather up the cases, each of which weighed about three hundred pounds.

Mr. Stewart stated that he wasn't positive whether a man jumped off the train when the crates were lowered, but at the time he had an impression that this actually happened.

The crates were consigned to the Henry Hope company of Peterborough as part of the plan to elude prying officials, but they were carried to the country station seven miles west of this city. Possibly that explains why the train stopped at that point, but the whole manoeuvre seemed queer and unusual to the Inspector.

Another Incident.

Expecting an incoming cargo east of Peterborough, Mr. Stewart was not disposed to waste time in bringing home the contraband booty. He went to a farm house to engage a waggon, and in the meantime another car came up the road from another direction. Passing Mr. Moore, who remained at the crossing, the latter laughingly asked the driver if he wanted a drink. When the car reached the gate of the farm where Mr. Stewart and the farmer were standing at the gate, a man who had been covered by a buffalo robe on the floor of the rear seat pushed his head up to talk to the driver, who evidently had noticed the Inspector at the gate.

Mr. Stewart believes that this automobile and its passengers were reinforcements for the first contingent who had incontinently fled, forced to take the road on which they couldn't meet and give the alarm to their assistants. All of which indicates that this whiskey running project had been planned to the last detail, and its development accentuates the curiosity to know how Mr. Stewart became possessed of such accurate information. Luck interposed to aid the consignees in escaping. They had taken the precaution to remove the number from the first car, and when Mr. Moore's Overland was held up by the heavy crates strung across the road, either by accident or design, the other car sped away with the accelerator wide open.

Ben Spence Fined $500

Magistrate Kingsford Says in Deciding Penalty He Took into Consideration War is Over.

TORONTO, May 1. — Rev. Ben Spence, Secretary of the Dominion Alliance, was convicted by Magistrate Kingsford in the Police Court yesterday afternoon, on charges of publishing banned literature, and fined $500 or four months at the Jail Farm. W. E. Raney, K.C., counsel for the defence, at once intimated his intention of immediately entering an appeal, and the Magistrate allowed Mr. Spence a week to collect the money, if he decided to pay the fine.

In summing up the case, Magistrate Kingsford declared that Mr. Spence was fortunate in that the Crown had stayed the original proceedings. Had the case come up when the information was laid, he said, in the black days of the war, the public would practically have demanded a more severe sentence. In imposing the penalty he had taken into consideration the fact that the war was now over.

The matter, Mr. Kingsford said, was very simple to decide. If Mr. Spence had published the book, and if the book was proven to be essentially the same as the original "Parasite," then the accused was guilty under the order in Council. It was not for this court to decide whether or not there was anything obnoxious in "The Parasite." The Dominion Government has the proper authority and it had delegated authority to the Censor. The contents of the book should only be considered in imposing the penalty.

Government Will Take Over Control

Liquor Vendors' Licenses Extended Until May 15th.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, May 1. — The Government's arrangements for taking over the control of the sale of liquor throughout the province are rapidly crystallizing. The licenses of the present vendors expired yesterday, but as the Government's plans are not yet complete, extensions were granted until May 15, by which time it is expected that the last details of the Government's organization will be completed. J. D. Flavelle, chairman of the License Board, stated emphatically this morning that no general manager for the administration of the system has been appointed as yet. Neither has a final decision been reached as to the location of all the liquor dispensaries. Mr. Flavelle has no information whether these will be increased in number or not.

FRANK JENNE SAYS:

"There's the sign painter, the portrait painter and the landscape artist—they all start with the same hair brush and the same canvas.

"The sign painter makes his canvas worth $10; the portrait man uses finer pigment and gets $50 to $500 from the same canvas; whilst the heaven-born artist produces an imperishable masterpiece for which art lovers pay fabulous prices.

"There you are! Semi-ready tailoring has all the distinctive talent which has made the Parisian modistes famous in feminine costumes—every line of shoulder and skirt in the Semi-ready coat fits with that meticulous care which mirrors the true sartorial art. Yet we decry any suggestion that ours is a high-priced store—the label in the pocket means the same price west-as-east—the same price right here on George street as you would pay at the door of the big tailor shops in Montreal."

When Lot found his wife transformed into a pillar of salt he was wise enough not to take a fresh one, but let it go at that.

Veterans' Secretary Would Like to See Canada Made a "White Man" Country.

CASE IN POINT

(Special to Examiner.)

TORONTO, May 1. — The G. W. V. A. is in favor of any governmental action which will tend to make Canada a "white man's" country, and I am glad to learn that the authorities at Ottawa have decided to put up the bars against the Hutterites, was the opinion expressed by Provincial Secretary W. E. Turley, when seen regarding the new immigration policy announced by Hon. J. A. Calder.

"This country at the present time is undoubtedly suffering from immigration indigestion," continued Secretary Turley.

"In ten years before the war the five million Canadians tried to absorb one-third as many immigrants of foreign nationality, as the United States did with one hundred millions. Now that the powers that be are drawing up new regulations, they should insist on all immigrants signing and undertaking to bear the full service of citizenship, along with the profits accruing from residence in Canada."

Oppose Settlement Plan.

"To facilitate the process of Canadianizing these immigrants there should be determined opposition to the community settlement plan. We have permitted alien enemies to form their little Germanys and their little Austrias, and thus retain their customs and languages of their native land. Too much latitude as regards the children of foreign immigrants, women living in Canada being unable to speak, read or write in either the French or English languages.

Just how tardy the Canadianizing of immigrants is, can be illustrated by an incident brought to my attention to-day by a Great War Veteran of Hagersville, Ont., who reports the case of a man of Dutch or German descent, Canadian-born, military age, Class I, a conscientious objector, who made the statement that the Germans were justified in shooting Edith Cavell. Centres for such teaching in the future must be destroyed.

"The objective outlined by Hon. J. A. Calder is an objective that the G. W.V.A. have had in mind for some time and I am sure that I am voicing the opinion of the members when I venture to hope that the measure will be fully successful."

Canadians Are Held Up By Dock Strike

(Canadian Press.)

MONTREAL, May 1.—Word was received this morning that the Mauretania, which is understood to have all Canadian siege batteries on board, is detained in Southampton, owing to the dock strike.

Word has also been received by the Militia Department that the liner Baltic with 123 officers and 2655, including the 15th Battalion and other ranks on board, will arrive at Halifax on or about May the 6th.

HUNGARY WANTS PEACE.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 1.—The Hungarian Communist Government, a wireless message from Budapest says, has offered the Roumanian Government territorial concessions and requested an immediate cessation of hostilities.

Montreal Gazette Failed to Appear

(Special to Examiner.)

MONTREAL, May 1. — Up to nine thirty this morning, the Montreal Gazette had not been published owing to a break down in the machinery. It is doubtful whether the paper will appear to-day. Though breakdowns of machinery are not uncommon, this is the first time it has missed an issue. The Montreal Herald, an evening paper, with an early edition, was the first on the street.

THE CAUCUS

(Special to Examiner.)

OTTAWA, May 1. — The Government held its regular Thursday caucus this morning, both Houses being heavily represented.

It is stated that two questions occupied the attention of the gathering, shipbuilding and the proposed bonusing of Canadian iron ore. Members from Northern Ontario and the head of the Lakes, have been urging the Government for some time past in connection with the latter question, and finally requested an opportunity to thresh out the whole matter in caucus.

The original programme laid down for shipbuilding in the Dominion called for the construction of about 50 ships. Contracts for a number have been let, and already several ships have been launched. Others are under construction.

The programme, however, was a war programme, and the question of cost at the time it was originated, was not taken into consideration.

Contract Period.

A heavy contract, covering a period of years, was made with the Dominion Steel Company at Sydney, for the manufacture of rolled plate, and a price of $81 per ton was guaranteed. This price now that the war has ceased, is exceedingly high, and it is almost certain that the Dominion will be forced to write off a considerable portion of the cost of her ships. An extension of the present programme of shipbuilding under the present high cost of labor and material, has not been contemplated. The situation however which is expected to arise in connection with the government of this season's wheat crop, may induce further building even at a capital loss, so far as the ships themselves are concerned.

It has been pointed out that the United States will probably have an exportable surplus of half a billion bushels this year, and that, having fixed the price of her wheat that country will make every effort to market it ahead of the Canadian surplus, which may be anywhere from a hundred and fifty to two million bushels.

Plant For Recharging Batteries Complete

Five Gallon Gasoline Pumper in Action Day and Evening

We beg to announce that our Plant for recharging batteries is now complete and in perfect working order. Also that our system is complete so that we can put air in the tires of three cars at once, that is, on the street, ground floor and in the basement.

Our five gallon gasoline pumper is in action day and evening, with Mr. Bert Lucas in charge at all times, which assures strict attention and no waiting.

We handle only the highest grades of oils, grease and gasoline.

WORKING CLASSES INDIGNANT OVER MAY DAY RESTRICTIONS

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, May 1. —The Union of Syndicates of the Department of the Seine placarded Paris to-day with an expression of surprise that the government had forbidden street demonstrations on May day, and protesting against such a measure of distrust of the working class.

THE STRIKE SITUATION

Big Strike of the Metal Trades in Toronto Commenced Last Night.

MAY DAY STRIKES

(Special to Examiner.)

TORONTO, May 1. — The big strike of the Metal Trades in Toronto, commenced last night and to-day, and employers and workers are gathering together the information of how many men are affected, and the general industrial situation after the walk out.

This morning the delegates of the Metal Trades Council were in secret session at the Labor Temple and the various unions are holding sessions to-day to tabulate the strength of the strikers. The Labor Temple now is the hub of the biggest industrial dispute that Toronto has ever seen. At the last moment last night Mr. E. Compton, the representative of the Department of Labor in Toronto, made one last effort to try and bring the parties together. He called up the secretary of the Toronto Employers' Association, but could not get any promise that the employers would negotiate. The Minister of Labor was sent wires yesterday, afternoon by his officials in Toronto, acquainting him with the seriousness of the situation. All the organizations affected, including the pattern makers, moulders, machinists, blacksmiths, boilermakers, metal polishers and other kindred trades, made final preparations last night for the business of to-day.

The pattern makers, who met last night, voted one hundred per cent. in favor of ratifying the action of the Metal Trades Council in calling the strike.

WEATHER UNFAVOURABLE.

No Newspapers Printed — All Traffic Has Ceased—Weather is Dreary.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, May 1.— The weather this morning is unfavourable for the celebration of May Day. Rain and cold weather of the past few days continues, and the cold was rather uncomfortable. Paris presents a mournful and gloomy aspect this morning, there being no carriages, automobile busses nor taxicabs on the streets on account of the May Day strike. No newspapers appeared. The Metropolitan railway was shut down this morning in conformity with the decision to cut off electricity for two hours, beginning at seven o'clock.

NO DISORDER.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, May 1. — While Paris and a great part of France was tied up today by the laborers' twenty-four hours general strike as a demonstration for better working conditions, and changes in certain governmental policies, no disorders had been reported up to this afternoon.

PREPARED FOR TROUBLE.

(Canadian Press.)

Toronto, May 1.-Labor's traditional strike day finds many Canadian cities suffering more or less from industrial disturbances. In Montreal, while no important strikes have occurred, the police are preparing for trouble this afternoon between returned soldiers and Socialists, if the latter persist in carrying revolutionary banners or red flags. Toronto has six thousand metal trades workers and six hundred painters on strike with no prospect at present of settlement. A big labor demonstration, with somewhat Socialistic tendencies, in the Queen's Park, was dampened by heavy showers but another meeting is called for the Arena to-night.

Winnipeg building operations are almost completely tied up by the strikes, although the more serious difficulties with civic and public service employees in Winnipeg seem to have been tied over.

In addition there are minor strikes of various sorts in other cities, but the prospects for settlement of many of them within a few days appear to be bright.

The Local Board of Trade Rooms a Very Busy Centre

The New Board is One Month Old To-day—Mr. Ryerson Ritchie is a Volunteer Worker—New Set of By-laws is Being Prepared for General Meeting.

The Board of Trade rooms over the Dominion Bank are already the busy center of conferences on various city activities.

The new Board is just one month old today and the Examiner turning to the record of meetings held since April 1st, found that twenty-three meetings had been held, the last being that of the committee on By-laws last evening.

Two hundred and ninety-five persons had called at the offices on civic business of one form or another. President J. J. Turner himself called at the rooms twenty-five times, while Mr. Frank Whitehouse, Chairman of the House Committee and member of the Executive Committee called twenty-two times.

Mr. Ryerson Ritchie is a constant visitor at the rooms, practically giving all of his time in consultation with members and committees and in organizing and laying out the work ahead. Mr. Ritchie is acting as a volunteer and has no official relation with the Board. He is, however, interested in the successful establishment and steady increasing momentum of the "Board of Civics," as he likes to call it.

House Committee

The demands for the use of the Council and committee rooms is such that a rule to regulate their use by previous notice is necessary. Requests for the rooms are to be made to the House Committee which will make reservations in advance.

The general meeting of the Board to be held on Friday evening, May 9th, is mainly to "constitute" the new body with a modern set of by-laws, rules and regulations. The by-laws committee has thrashed out most of the details and will complete its report by May 9th.

A meeting was held last evening of the chairmen of the Sustaining Fund Corps which is divided into squads to cover the trade section.

The New Tannery in Hastings to Employ One Hundred Men

Plant Is Nearing Completion—Fifty Thousand Dollars Spent on the Main Building—Description of Plant.

CONDITIONS IN HASTINGS

HASTINGS, — May 1. — Hastings principal industry the tannery, will reopen for work in the latter part of July in the immense new $200,000 concrete building which is owned by the Briethaupt Leather Company of Kitchener and will be operated under the name of the Hastings Tannery. The management is the same as that of the previous plant which was destroyed by fire on October the 28th 1917.

The new building is in the same site as that of the former plant and is a credit to the town. The main building, a two and a half storey edifice of concrete block covers 205 by 130 feet and is alone valued at $50,000. On the lower floor 120 to 150 vats are being speedily installed and when completed will have a capacity for tanning 400 sides a day making the output the second largest in the province. The product of the factory, oak sole leather will be distributed from Kitchener. In the upper part of the building in a room measuring 150 by 130 feet, the drying by artificial means will be carried on.

In all the buildings will number six each built of concrete. The boiler house measuring 54 by 50 feet is absolutly fireproof throughout. This is already completed and ready for the installatin of the machinery. The Leach house 58 by 70 feet like the boiler house is absolutely fireproof and is situated to the north of the main building. This will be operated in a few days. The storage and roller building 161 by 60 feet is at present under construction. A concrete bark mill and hair house is also under construction. At the front of the plant a handsome office building is being built the upper storey of which will be finished as living rooms for the proprietors during their stay in the town. Besides this extensive outdoor improvements will be made and the ground levelled and sodded.

Own Power House

The plant, which will be operated by electric power, includes the power house in which seven motors are to be installed and which has a capacity of 250 horse power. At present the power house is in readiness to start at any minute.

Will Employ One Hundred

At the completion of the plant the management will employ 100 men which will relieve the labor situation

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

THURSDAY, MAY 1ST, 1919.

A HOPEFUL SIGN

An indication of the resumption of normal activity in the Quaker Oats plant is the advertisement appearing in the local papers offering the highest prices for oats and for Colorado and Manitoba Spring Wheat. For some time, through the British embargo and other causes over which the company had no control the big plant has been only partially operated and many of the employees have been idle. The announcement that the company is now in the market for spring wheat is a hopeful sign that will be welcomed by the employees of the company and by the citizens generally. With the Quaker Oats plant running at full capacity and with its pay roll at normal proportions, the unemployment crisis would be materially improved so that the hope engendered by the advertisement is easily understood.

TO-NIGHT'S BANQUET

The Civic Banquet to be tendered to the returned soldiers to-night promises to be the biggest gathering of ex-service men that Peterboro has seen. Over five hundred soldiers have signified their intention of being present and around the tables will be seated men representing a very large number of the units of the Canadian Expeditionary Force. The part that Peterboro has played in furnishing men for the Canadian army will be demonstrated by the attendance to-night and for that reason the affair promises to be a noteworthy one. The civic committee have wisely refrained from arranging a lengthy toast list and have instead of the usual long list of speeches provided for an enjoyable programme of music, so that the banquet should be of a nature that will be appreciated by the gallant men who are the guests of the evening.

The event is a civic recognition of the services that our citizen-soldiers have rendered overseas—a recognition that has been well earned and is richly deserved.

THE HIAWATHA PLAN

The members of the Hiawatha Indian community at Rice Lake have evolved a land settlement scheme of their own that returned men will vote a great improvement upon that established by the Dominion Government. There is no red tape about the Hiawatha plan; no loans to secure; no reams of documents to sign; no months of waiting for the officials to take action. To each Hiawatha boy who has fought for the Empire overseas their fellow citizens are giving ten acres of land. The gift has no strings to it; the men who have come back from over there are in sole possession of the land and have no worry over payments.

The action of the Rice Lake Indians indicates a feeling of gratitude for, and pride in, the achievements of their warrior sons that sometimes is lacking in many larger and wealthier centres. The boys from Hiawatha have earned the gift; the half dozen braves from the little village on the shores of Rice Lake have proved themselves steadfast and heroic soldier men. Johnston Pandash, one of the recipients of the land gift won a Military Medal and earned a reputation as a sniper, while George Pandash was known throughout his brigade as a clever and reliable machine gunner. And the others have carried on bravely and well. They were among the first to enlist with the Canadian Expeditionary Force and have merited not only the gratitude of their fellow citizens of Hiawatha but of the country at large.

TOO MUCH ORATORY

The Examiner has, on several occasions, deprecated the tendency to inflict on returned soldiers with long and often wearisome speeches. Patriotism, of course, is not the only vice that offends in this respect, as the following from The Woodstock Sentinel-Review will show:

The case is reported in some of the newspapers of a returned soldier who, having been called upon for a speech, declared that it was good to be home, and that he had nothing more to say.

The remarkable thing about the case is, not that the returned soldier had nothing more to say, but that, having nothing to say, he sat down. Much of the horror associated with listening to speeches is due to the fact that would-be orators, having nothing to say, insist upon talking instead of sitting down. After they get going they seem to find it impossible to get a suitable place to stop. This is natural enough. Having nothing to say they never know when they are finished.

But why inflict speeches on returned soldiers or insist on their making speeches, when the making of a speech may be the very last thing a returned soldier wants to do? It is a queer custom of our civilization, this thing of hurling speeches at the heads of unfortunate people, who have done nothing to deserve such treatment. Returned soldiers should be spared the misery. Haven't they suffered enough already?

THE TITLES QUESTION

The committee appointed by Parliament to study the question of titles have decided to recommend that the system of bestowing knighthoods on Canadians shall be done away with. That was to have been expected. The committee realize that the great majority of the people of the Dominion are opposed to the whole system of titles and their action of yesterday was along the lines of popular opinion. But the mere condemnation of titles by a committee will not solve the problem unless Parliament is prepared to act upon the recommendations that are submitted. In the previous debates on the subject titles have been assailed from all angles by speaker after speaker, Government and Opposition, but when the party whip cracked, the Government members have meekly swung into line and shown that their opposition to titles was a weak thing compared to their love of office. If the private members of the Government are sincere in their condemnation of the system they must show their leaders that they are determined to abide by the decision of the special committee.

POOR GOVERNMENT PAY

The Government in some of its departments at least is not setting a commendable example to private employers in the matter of wages. For example, it is complained that the labourers on the Trent Canal are being paid at the rate of 25c per hour—which in view of the cost of living is certainly not to be considered a lavish scale. The union rate for common labour in Peterborough, commencing from today, has been announced as 45c per hour, so that the wages for the Trent Canal employees are far below the figure that has been adopted by the organized body of labourers in this city. Fourteen of the men who are in receipt of this inadequate pay are returned soldiers and it is not surprising under the circumstances that the Great War Veterans have found it necessary to bring the matter before the Minister of Railways and Canals and press for an immediate improvement. The complaint is a reasonable one and will have public sympathy behind it. In these days of 65c butter and other food stuffs at proportionate prices, the Government cannot justify a 25c per hour rate, especially in view of the fact that the official figures on the cost of living as given by the Canadian Labour Gazette show that the cost per week of a family budget for five people in March was $20.99, made up of $13.05 for food; $3.04 for fuel and laundry and $4.90 for rent. These figures represent the average for sixty Canadian cities and towns and are sufficient to warrant the action of the Veterans' Association in urging that a more adequate wage allowance shall be given.

$60,000 Bull Dines in Regal Style at New York Hotel

NEW YORK, April 30.—A $60,000 bull known as Financial Sensation, with a pedigree dating back nearly 50 years, dined as a guest of honor yesterday at a luncheon in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel given by the promoters of the Milk and Dairy Exposition now in progress here.

Two hundred human beings cheered when the animal, robed in an orange blanket, upon which his name was embroidered, was brought in and led, snorting and pawing the floor, to the table upon which rested a giant silver platter, containing bran mash, which he ate with the etiquette to be expected of a high bred bovine. After consuming a side dish of hay and quaffing a pail of water, he bellowed his approval of the menu.

Financial Sensation received a telegram during the luncheon from a bovine from the other sex described as his fiancee, Vive-Le France, from Portland, Ore., who claimed the world's record for having produced in the last year 14,930 quarts of milk with an average butter fat test of 6.91 per cent., and 1,280 pounds of butter. She said she was leaving on a special car for New York.

Professor Hugh G. Van Pelt of West Chester, Pa., who bred the bull, was among the speakers at the luncheon. He told why it had taken 50 years to develop the bull. M. H. Mann, president of the National Dairy Council another speaker, said that 30,000,000 cattle in the United States produced 20 per cent of the nation's food and that they are nature's benediction to the human race.

Young Women Are Making Good In Bank Positions

Will Always Have a Place Says Prominent Banker.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, May 1.—That young women have won a definite place for themselves in the banking world, and that a representative will always be found in the largest branches, was the interesting statement made by a prominent manager today. Despite the fact that all the banks are looking after their returned soldiers, only in one or two outstanding cases, where there were four or five girls in a branch office, was one asked to resign, to make room for a returned man. Practically all the banks report that at the present time they are over-staffed.

WHISPERS IN THE AIR

(By H. F. GADSBY.)

The Museum building which is occupied as a temporary home by Parliament has become a veritable whispering gallery. You hear whispers in your ear coming from no one knows whither. The soft spoken sentences trail down the elevator shafts from the top floor where the Unionist Caucus is assembled. They spring apparently from the ground and circle everywhere around the rotunda. In the Chamber of the House some one is talking more or less audibly to the patient Mr. Speaker and the dozing Sergeant-at-Arms. A member is taking for publication, but in the corners and the lobbies, especially on the Government side, little groups of members are whispering together.

Sister Ann is in the watch tower scanning the eastern horizon. Every now and then she sees a cloud of dust and hopes that it betokens the return of the Prime Minister. Sir Thomas White has been doing his best and has become quite popular with his followers; but he is only the foreman on the job and everybody is awaiting the return of the Boss. The foreman can carry on from day to day, but he cannot raise the rate of wages and the members are clamoring for an increase in the sessional indemnity. The foreman can keep the men at work on odd jobs, but he cannot go out and get any new contracts. To speak more literally there are a lot of big questions to be settled, and they cannot be disposed of until the god steps from the machine or in other words until Sir Robert Borden returns to Ottawa.

After the Bankruptcy Bill is fought meet every day and it must have something to talk about for publication. Hence the House has gone into committee on the whole on the Government's Bill to place the railways in the country, except the C.P.R., in charge of a brand new corporation. It is a measure that lends itself to futile objections and the Liberals are helping out the Government by a discussion that is futile enough to suit anybody. When they talk themselves out on this, the Government will take down from the shelf the Bankruptcy Bill and everybody will be invited to talk as often and as long as they please. It will be pie for the lawyers who can split hairs indefinitely and Artie Meighen will be in his element. Moreover it will invite attention from the lay members of the House. Nearly every man is either a creditor or a debtor and therefore with strong views use on the subject of bankruptcy.

After the Bakruptcy Bill is fought out the Government is liable to take up the Divorce Bill, and if that does not occupy the House sufficiently, recourse may be had to an old fashioned debate on the pen and the sword, or which is the more destructive—fire or water? Or a happy compromise may be arrived at by having a debate on fire-water.

In short the Government is going to do nothing of importance until the return of the Prime Minister and yet it is common talk that the Prime Minister will not tarry over-long in Ottawa. He may get a divorce from his job and if he does, it by no means follows that the Union Government will go into bankruptcy. On the contrary, many think that Sir Thomas White is a fine figure of a man who could easily fit into the landscape as Prime Minister. Still others think the mantle of the prophet will descend upon the shoulders and extended arms of Newton Wesley Rowell.

Newton Wesley modestly assumes that all the women of Canada have picked him for Premier and they probably constitute sixty per cent. the electorate. He also takes it for granted that the Methodist church would rally to his banner in solid phalanx and that the Church and Temperance element generally, would all be for him. His friends say that Charley Murphy's attack upon Newton Wesley has brought to his support all truly good people of the country and that his only opponents would be the St. Jean Baptiste Society and the Ancient Order of Hibernians. As one of his admirers put it the other day: "Everybody is for Rowell except the French and the Fenians."

Yet among other whispers we hear murmurings among the Methodists to the effect that Newton Wesley does not carry the Methodist vote in his vest pocket. A prominent member of that worthy organisation is quoted as saying that the Church is being disrupted by the Rowell propaganda. "The spiritual life of the church," he said, "is being disturbed by this organized effort to make the Church a political machine and the appendage of a politician."

When Sir Robert comes home he will bring three more members of the cabinet with him and also great anxiety over the scarcity of private cars that their return will occasion. The Government has been able to create cabinet portfolios more quickly than it has been able to build private cars for the ministers. During the Easter recess it developed that we only had one car apiece for the ministers now at the Capital. What will happen when four more ministers are at home in Ottawa and there are not private cars enough to go around? Some low-browed individual may suggest that it would be possible for two ministers to ride in the same car. But the Union Government is not yet so thoroughly cemented as to make that possible. Politics is credited with making strange bed-fellows, but to put a rank free-trader like Hon. A. T. Crear in the same bed with a staunch protectionist like Hon. Mr. Ballantyne means no sleep for either of them, because they would lay awake all night discussing the tariff question.

Racing and Prohibition were up for discussion in the Unionist caucus this week if we are to credit whispers so much in circulation. The cabinet passed these thorny questions on to the caucus and the caucus was evidently divided. Mr. Rowell's suggestion that we should have racing without betting and bars without drinking was put forward in a spirit of compromise but failed to evoke any great enthusiasm. Some of the Ontario Conservatives blame Mr. Rowell's Order-in-Council for the unpopularity of the Ontario Temperance Act and for all the embarrassments which had beset the Hearst Government. Others argued that the representative legislation of the Union Government is responsible for the growing spirit of unrest among the people. Sooner or later the Government will have to deal with both these troublesome questions but for the present they are waiting, waiting for the return of Sir Robert Borden and crying out plaintively to Sister Ann still high on the watch tower.

Never was a man so badly wanted as Sir Robert Borden. The buck has been passed and re-passed so often that a new man must be got into the game. All his colleagues are anxious to unload their cares and difficulties upon Sir Robert. They are quite willing that he should assume all the responsibility and get all the blame. They want him single-handed to fight the Western grain-growers, the Mennonites, the returned soldiers, the rum-power, the race-horse men, the manufacturers, the Quebecers, the Bolsheviks, the prohibitionists, the Guelph Novitiate, the title hunters, the plain people and any other class, race, sect, faction or fad that may come along and offer battle. They will stand by and watch the performance. If he wins out, they will cry "vive le Roi." If he loses, they will shout with equal enthusiasm:

"The King is dead! God save the King."

But who is heir apparent? We have asked Sir Thomas White and we have asked the Hon. Mr. Rowell. Each has given us his reply in confidence and nothing would induce us to divulge what either of them said. Suffice it to say at the present that Sir Thomas did not suggest the name of Mr. Rowell and Mr. Rowell for some mysterious reason did not mention the name of Sir Thomas White.

Rev. F. A. Connors Now in Michigan

Former Peterboro Pastor Is Making Good Progress

Bro. B. E. Williamson, pastor of the Portage Lake Church of Hancock was ordained to the gospel ministry March 20. He has rendered fine service as the pastor of this church for the past several months. Rev. F. A. Connors of Calumet was moderator and Dean, J. Rader of Calumet, clerk of the council. The charge to the candidate was given by Dean G. A. Gipp of Calumet; the dedicatory prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Larson; and the ordination sermon was preached by Rev. Mr. Connors. The pastor's second year of service with this church begins next month.—The Standard.

Rev. F. A. Connors was formerly in charge of Park Street Baptist Church. He is now in charge of a Baptist Church in Calumet, Michigan where he has been stationed for nearly a year. Last year this church gave $350 to Missions. At Christmas, Rev. Mr. Connors was presented with a purse and an increase in salary amounting to nearly $300.00. The church is now negotiating for the purchase of a parsonage.

What Happened An Early Riser In Scugogville

A rather unfortunate tale of woe is told of a resident of Lindsay. It appears that on Thursday night last, he resolved to rise earlied in the morning. He did.

On rising he kindled a good fire and left his coat on a chair near by to warm. On returning he found the coat in flames, it having caught fire from the stove; he rushed outside with the burning coat and discovered that a new litter of pigs had arrived, but that nine of them were dead; he returned to the house and found that his good wife had given birth to a young son; and on going to the woodshed he discovered that the cat was overjoyed with a new family of six kittens.

LOOT OPENLY SOLD IN BERLIN

Shoes Which Cost 230 Marks in Stores are Hawked for 40.

BERLIN, May 1.—A casual walk through the streets in the neighborhood of Berlin Police Headquarters tends to show that there is no exaggeration in the reports concerning almost oupe plunder in Berlin.

Within a stone's throw of Police Headquarters to-day a street hawker was found offering for sale a shirt-waist for 75 marks. It bore the trade-mark of a well-known department store. Shoes which are selling in the stores for 230 marks a pair were offered for 40 marks.

A man who was selling diamond rings had a ring on each finger. He indicated voluntarily where each ring had been stolen.

STRIKES IN IRELAND.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 1.—All Irish workers except those in the northern parts of the island have entirely ceased work to-day. Railroads, newspapers, factories, shops and other industries are closed down as a result of the order of the powerful Transport Workers' Union.

Every Step is Cushioned

The constant hammering of hard heels and stiff leather soles on harder pavements, jars the whole system and tires you quickly.

Cat's Paw Rubber Heels and Rinex Soles cushion the heel against sidewalk impact and give a lightness and spring to each step that enables you to walk long distances without apparent effort.

Besides being waterproof—they cut shoe bills in half.

On all shoes, demand Cat's Paw and Rinex, the "heels and soles of health."

DOMINION RUBBER

3 Million Dollars for a Phonograph

THREE—MILLION—DOLLARS! That's what it cost to perfect an instrument which would RE-CREATE music so faithfully that no one could tell whether it was the living artist he heard or the phonograph—when he heard one pitted against the other. Add to the three million dollars Thomas A. Edison's experience and genius and you see how much was required to evolve

The NEW EDISON
"The Phonograph with a Soul"

"Now go ahead and build replicas," said Mr. Edison to his staff when he had finally achieved an instrument which would meet the tone test. "Call it the Official Laboratory Model and uphold the standard I have set to the last detail."

We're displaying this $3,000,000 phonograph in our store. Come in and see it. If you conclude to purchase and prefer to make payments at intervals you'll find we can meet your needs.

The Willing Workers of St. Andrew's Church Held Successful Concert

Forty Children Take Part in a Chorus—The Programme.

The Willing Workers of St. Andrew's church held a very successful concert on Tuesday evening, about 200 being present.

The first number on the programme was a chorus of over 40 children's voices, "We Are Workers For the Master." Then came the tiny tots in "Bo-Peep," led by Helen McFarlane, in Bo-Peep costume, which appealed to old and young.

The comic reading so ably rendered by Miss Grace Evans was also much appreciated.

Perhaps the most pleasing number on the programme was a selection by the choir boys of St. John's church, "The Ninety and Nine," which was a rare treat and will not soon be forgotten.

"Blossom Day in Japan" by the following 8 little maidens, was well applauded: Helen Ross, Dorothy Clark, Jean Puttick, Arlie McKone, Jean Cameron, Margaret McFarlane, Dorothy Henry, Gwelda Pakenham.

A missionary chorus "The Light of the World," by 14 girls, one half representing heathen countries and the other half Christians, was a very impressive number. The following took part: Alice Cox, Eva Tremaine, Alberta White, Abelinde White, Jean Shearer, Eva Cameron, Prudence Tamblin, Winnifred Young, Isabel Tremaine, Florence Evans, Helen Tremaine, Gertie Robinson, Stella Doide, Isabel Carberry.

Concluded by an effective solo given by Miss Jessie Stevens.

THE CAST.

The last half hour was devoted to a jolly little one-act playlet entitled "Red Pepper," with the following cast:

Mr. J. John—Chief head cook.

Mr. Robt. Breckenridge as Prince Fairasday (Prince in disguise.)

Miss Jean Wilgar—Princess Fadeaway.

Miss Laura Hawley, Miss Evelyn Tudhope—Ladies in waiting to the Princess.

Miss Gladys Green—Kitchen maid.

Miss Irene Breckenridge—Cookiet.

And 12 brownies as follows—Dorothy Henderson, Bernice Cook, Dorothy Foster, Barbara Foster, Patricia Clark, Elizabeth Patterson, Jean Cameron, Helen Ross, Dorothy Henry, Margaret McFarlane, Gwelda Pakenham, Jean McKone, with Dorothy Clark as Prince og Brownies.

The parts were all taken in good style, and the Brownies, to put it mildly, were a howling success.

The following Boy Scouts in uniform were in attendance: Allan Henry, Robbie Fowles, Ronald Hawley, Willie Robertson, Freddie Allan.

Miss D. Evans was the accompanist for the evening.

The Willing Workers will hold their regular monthly meeting on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the members are requested to bring or send all tickets and returns for the concert on Saturday next.

"Reds" Said to Be Losing Ground

Number of Unemployed in Vancouver—Labour Commission.

By Main Johnson.

VANCOUVER, May 1. — Comparatively moderate views and a tendency towards a more cheerful outlook marked the second day of the Industrial Relations Commission in Vancouver, although the number of unemployed in this city was given at ten thousand, of whom one-half are returned soldiers. John J. Coughlin, of the Coughlin Shipyards, one of the most important employers in British Columbia, said he thought the "Reds" had begun to lose ground in the last couple of months and he saw a glimmering of what he considered a return to sanity and responsibility. Three labour men took the stand, and all three listed themselves as moderates, although affirming that the workers were unanimously determined to secure a permanently better status than in the past. There was a large delegation of working men in attendance, although the majority were there as listeners only. Many of them came in their labouring clothes, with working shirts and wearing rough boots. No officials of Trades and Labour Council were present, although a member of that body gave evidence opposed to the unconciliatory attitude adopted by the Council.

Monuments Are In Disfavour

What Has Been Done in Other Places—Like Hospital Idea

At the present time memorials for the fallen, the following opinions from different cities and towns in Ontario, are interesting, it being noted that not in one instance has the erection of monuments been suggested, every one favoring a memorial of some practical value to the veterans who have survived:

A Delhi public meeting favored a $10,000 public hall.

Owen Sound is still undecided as to what form their war memorial should take.

In Philadelphia, Port Credit and Toronto substantial memorial halls will be erected.

Point Edward council will submit a by-law for the expenditure of $10,000 for a memorial hall.

Middleton township votes on Saturday on the by-law to provide funds to build a Memorial Township Hall.

The St. Thomas Times-Journal says the hospital idea is the most comprehensive proposition that can be advanced.

Renfrew has under consideration the erection of highway bridges bearing suitably engraved bronze tablets.

Acton is erecting memorial gates with cut stone abutments bearing the names of the Acton soldiers, at the entrance of the town park.

The mass of correspondence in the Picton Gazette shows a preference for something of benefit to the living in the erection of a memorial.

Picton is committed to a war memorial, but owing to difference of opinion as to the form it should take, has delayed taking definite action.

A vote of the citizens of Sarnia will be taken to decide what form the soldiers' memorial shall take as soon as concrete propositions are ready.

Reprieve for F. McCullough

Stay of Execution for the Toronto Murderer.

(Special to Examiner.)

TORONTO, May 1. — Sheriff Mowat received formal notification form the Governor-General to-day that the murderer, Frank McCullough, is reprieved until June 2nd. This simply means that the stay of execution is granted for one month, and he will be handed then if he is captured before that date.

Miss Vera D. Lavelle, the sweetheart of McCullough, who is held by the police on a charge of aiding in his escape, was committed for trial in the Woman's Court this morning. Bail was refused. Through T. C. Robinette, she pleaded not guilty.

The New Tannery Etc.

in the town, though this was never very serious up to the present.

The Contractor.

Mr. Thomas McMannus, the contractor of the big semi fire-proof concrete building with its wood and steel truss of construction is justly proud of his work. He commenced operations on the building on the 1st of October and worked throughout the Winter in order to push the work forward. He has had 40 men working for him several of whom came down from Peterboro. The majority of the men he has employed will go into the employ of the Tannery upon the completion of the building. He said that he has never had any trouble with labour. Under the direction of Mr. McMannus the work on the tannery has been put through on daylight saving time which outside of the hotels has not been adopted in Hastings yet.

Plant Closed.

The opening of the tannery will come at an opportune time as recently one of the promising industries, the Hastings Chemical and Kindling plant owned by Mr. G. Riley closed down throwing twelve men out of employment.

Hastings Sanguinary.

Hastings residents are gratified over conditions in general. Even the crops are conspiring toward the general prosperity of the locality and the farmers report that the Fall wheat is in splendid condition. The slight snow fall recently just saved the destruction of the crop by frost and at present it is about three inches up. Trout season which opened today has already attracted several outsiders to town and a good catch is assured.

Soldiers Returning

During the past week or so the town has welcomed home several of her boys from overseas including Lieut.. Eric Fowlds who had been over since the outbreak of the war and Lieut. West who came home on Monday.

Vanished While Fishing in Bay

If Most Heavily Insured Man in Hamilton Died of Apoplexy Accident Companies Will Be Saved $75,000

Representatives of Toronto accident insurance offices are in Hamilton in connection with investigations into the disappearance of John Lennox, the most heavily insured man in that city. He was reported to have vanished a day or two ago from a row boat in which he was fishing in Burlington Bay, near his summer cottage at the Beach. He is said to have carried $185,000 insurance upon his life, $50,000 of which was taken out in 1917. He carried $75,000 in accident insurance.

Mr. Lennox made insurance his hobby and often said that if he made enough to live and keep up his insurance, he was satisfied.

"I have no doubt it is all right," said an insurance man to-day. "Mr. Lennox was not the type of man of whom one would suspect anything."

On the other hand there is said to be no doubt but that the companies will demand the recovery of the body, and a coroner's certificate of death, with perhaps, an autopsy to establish the cause. While the endowment policies may not be disputed, in view of the fact that he carried a fairly heavy insurance for the past twenty years, it is thought that perhaps he may have been seized with apoplexy, and if it is established that death was due to natural causes and not to accident the companies in which he had accident policies will undoubtedly contest liability.

John Johnston Entered a Plea of Not Guilty

Was Captured in Otonabee by License Inspector Stewart—To-day's Police Court.

John Johnston, who was arrested in Otonabee Township with nine large suitcases of Scotch whiskey in his possession, appeared before Magistrate Dumble this morning and pleaded not guilty to a charge of having liquor in a place other than his private dwelling house. Mr. J. O'Brien appeared for the defence. The case was adjourned until Saturday morning.

Pleaded Guilty

James Darwin who was in charge of the Matthews-Blackwell truck last Monday when it smashed into the buggy of Joseph Coughlin, of Douro, pleaded guilty to a charge of not keeping as close to the curb as possible. Mr. John Birnie asked that the charge be withdrawn. The defendant was paying for the damage done to the buggy and extenuating circumstances entered into the case, because of the obstruction offered to the driver's vision by a side curtain. The magistrate refused to listen to any extenuating circumstances and informed the counsel for defense that he was placed on the bench to protect the lives and property of the people. The fine amounted to $13.10 with ten days in which to pay it.

Backyard Oratory

A peculiar case of backyard oratory came before the magistrate this morning when a resident of Parnell street charged her neighbour with using insulting language. The defendant gave his name as Mr. Cahill. The language alleged to have been used by Cahill was repeated in court and was boscene and blasphemous in the extreme. The plaintiff in her evidence stated that Cahill for the last five years had thrown garbage of various descriptions in her backyard. She threw it back. The last time that Cahill repeated this garbage slinging, he cursed and swore at her and then threw a bottle at her.

"There was nothing in it I suppose," asked the Magistrate getting prepared to defend the Ontario Temperance Act. But the bottle was empty.

"I told him that he was mean." stated the defendant. "Then he started throwing over ashes."

Mr. Joseph Wearing conducted the prosecution and Mr. John Birnie the defence.

The Magistrate discharged the case "not on its merits but because he had no jurisdiction over such cases." The insulting language was used on private property and he had no authority to deal with it. He recommended the plaintiff to go to a higher court for justice.

Mr. Wearing intimated to the Magistrate that he intended to prefer a charge of assault against Mr. Cahill.

Revival Meeting In Park Street

Park Street Revival Meetings Increasing attendance and Interest each Night.

There were fully two-thirds more people in attandance at the Park St. Baptist church revival meeting last night than on any previous night. The Billy Sunday hymns are becoming more popular each night and were sung with more enthusiasm, than ever last night. Evangelist Torrie spoke on "How Men Can Get Right With God," taking as his text John XIV 6. "I am the way, the truth and the life." The congregation followed the discourse with great interest and profit.

Mrs. Torrie sang "Follow Me", which was most appropriate and made a profound impression.

The choir sang two selections from the Billy Sunday book "When Our Hosts to Battle Go" and "Keep the vision of the Cross before you."

Mr. Torrie has only two more nights this week and will close his mission Sunday night. The service to-night promises to be the best yet. The choir will furnish special music and Mrs. Torrie will sing. Plan your work and work your plan for to-night's service.

"ONE BIG UNION" IS VOTED DOWN.

The Winnipeg Printers Reject Bolshevik Idea.

All Star Vaudeville and Picture Program at the Grand To-day, Friday and Saturday

One of the best vaudeville programmes ever presented in Canada will hold the boards at the Grand Thursday and Friday and Saturday with a matinee daily at 2:30.

The famous impersonater Lind singing and dancing paintings will head the bill. Lind is the world's most wonderful female impersonator Though every inch a man his form, attire, beauty and voice are unquestionably feminine and most decidedly deceptive.

Foster and Foster will be seen in a comedy skit entitled "The Volunteer Pianist". Of all the many comedy acts presented here this season none will provoke more hearty laughter and please more highly than this offering of Ed. and Minnie Foster, as an added attraction. The management have secured Raymond and Vincent in "Names Don't Count". Both are splendid singers. Their parodies are original and amusing and their skit is the best seen in many a day.

The feature picture will be Norma Talmadge in "The Only Way". Miss Talmadge is a great favorite in Peterboro and will be seen at her best in this great drama. The great laugh producer Charlie Chaplin in "Friendly Enemies" and the Grand Screen Magazine will complete the programme.

Special mention may be made about the reservation of seats. The management has considered it advisable to reserve the seats for the evening performances and special attention will be given to reservation by telephone which will be reserved until 7:30 evening of performances. Reserve your seats by telephone. Avoid waiting in line as this feature programme will play to capacity houses.

Thorough Hunt for The U. S. "Reds"

The Authorities have Declared War on the Bomb Outrages—No Leniency Henceforward.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, May 1. — With the discovery and frustration of a nation wide bomb conspiracy here yesterday against the lives of many prominent men every agency of the Federal and municipal government was at work to-day, not only in an attempt to trace the authors of the terrorist plot but to guard against the "Reds'" boast of a country wide surprise on May day.

Persons in touch with the federal and the municipal authorities predicted to-day that the haunts of the Reds here would be invaded and many Radicals deported. This opinion was expressed after a conference which ended after midnight attended by Police Commissioner Enright, to whom one of the bombs was addressed. The District Attorney and the Department of Justice are investigating. It is understood that these officials decided to put an end to leniency towards the anarchists and others of their type in New York.

SHRINE FOR JAPANESE.

Where Soldiers of Nippon Are Buried in China.

On a hill near Port Arthur, China, there looms a grand memorial tower, and just back of it are buried in unmarked trenches the bodies of 20,000 of the bravest soldiers of Nippon. It is a shrine for every loyal Japanese. On the side of another hill lie buried all that is mortal of 15,000 Russians, and there also a monument has been reared. These were the men who died during the siege of Port Arthur, which commenced 15 years ago, and continued for almost a year. Although Port Arthur was given back to China by the Japanese it remains for all practical purposes a stronghold of Nippon, and it is to-day more Japanese in character than Chinese.

ENEMY USED SKIS

Bolsheviki Lose Heavily in Engagement In Siberia

TELUN, Siberia, April 30.—Czech detachments arriving here report Bolsheviki disturbances on the railroad for a distance of 300 versts, beginning at Yurti, 150 versts west of here. The enemy arrive on skis and disappear in the same manner. This week they captured four cars of arms and ammunition belonging to the Czechs, and others removed telephones from different stations and destroyed wells.

In fighting the Czechs and Russains, the Bolsheviki lost fifty men killed. The allies had two killed and one wounded, and one man died from a poisoned bullet wound.

Captured arms are very primitive. Apparently the enemy consists of criminals and not political revolutionaries.

TARANTULAS ARE PEST IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Tarantulas are plentiful in the rough broken country in the southern part of California. They are repulsive-looking creatures, with fat hairy bodies, over-plentiful wiry legs, and cruel poison mandibles. They stay in their burrows during the dry season, but as soon as the rains begin they sally forth. The tarantula constructs a very skillful burrow and nest in the ground. It has cover so nicely fitted that it can scarcely be detected from the surrounding soil. The cover opens and shuts upon a hinge, and on the inside are holes into which the occupant thrusts its mandibles, and thus "holds the fort" against intruders.

Speculation and Profiteering Sent Butter Prices Up

Grand Carnival by Everyone Except the Consumer Since Restrictions on Profits Were Lifted—No Canadian Butter Is Going to Europe.

OTTAWA, April 30.—Underlying the militant unrest which is manifested by repeated strikes all over the country, or by labor troubles of one kind or another, is a basic cause—the cost of living. While every necessary of living is abnormally high, food is particularly so, and no commodity in that line has risen so sharply in price as butter. The situation becomes alarming with this essential product selling to-day at 75 cents a pound in Ottawa, at a corresponding figure elsewhere, and with more of a likelihood of going higher than lower.

The conditions are conceded to be very serious, the more so because they are attributable, in large measure, not to the operation of the law of supply and demand, but to speculation and gambling with a reckless abandon.

From enquiries it is clear that a considerable part of the butter now being sold around 70 and 75 cents was obtained last fall and winter at prices ranging from 45 to 50 cents a pound. The supplies that are now coming in from current production do not, in many instances admit of such a margin of profit. In the former case, so far as can be learned here, the profiteers are the storage men and others with butter on hand. In regard to the butter now being made, and the prices charged, the retailers are not overlooking their profit and are making out of it fully as much as any other interest.

Lots In Storage

In should be pointed out that the quantity of butter in cold storage, according to the Government returns, is not a complete indication of the quantity in the country. There were 1,800,000 pounds in storage on April 1 in those large plants which are called upon to make returns to the Government. There is a great deal more—but how much exactly cannot be estimated—in the hands of grocers, storekeepers or farmers, who salted it away last fall and winter, and are now reaping a harvest. These people are not required to make any returns to the Government, and how much they have on hand can be only a matter of speculation.

Why the sudden rise in price? is everywhere asked. If butter had gone to such a figure in December or in midwinter there would not have been so much surprise; but the facts are that the increase dates, practically from the latter part of March, with spring, when normally butter prices decline.

Two explanations are given here—the ruling price in Europe and, what is the bettre reason the removal of the restrictions which obtained up to the middle of February. There is, undoubtedly, a butter shortage in Europe, and high prices are offered. Canada is not supplying the shortage. Her exports are very small, but a little was exported, a high price secured, and that particular price was a signal for an unexampled orgy of butter speculation and price jumping. Inquiry shows that very little butter has been sent from the eastern provinces to Europe. The only shipment of any size was seventeen carloads covering the period of the past six weeks. There are 25,000 pounds to the carload. The supply came mainly from Manitoba.

At European Prices

Because, however, there is a shortage and a high price being paid for butter in Europe, Canadian dealers, though not supplying the foreign market or lacking plentiful supplies, are demanding and obtaining at home the prices they could secure if their butter was being sold in Europe. Their cost of production has not increased this spring, the handling involves no extra trouble and the domestic market is abundant, yet by reason of the prevailing quotations in another part of the world they consider it quite justifiable in raising the level here correspondingly.

On the same principle, when apples were selling last winter in London at twenty-five cents a piece, because they were scarce, a similar price should have been demanded in Canada where they were fairly plentiful.

The Cause of Strikes

Thus a wild speculation goes while the consumer pays through the nose for it. Observers of the labor situation say that the rise in the price of butter has a greater influence on the alarming number of strikes at present than any other single factor that enters into the cost of living.

When one travels around official circles in Ottawa and inquires what they are going to do about it, one hears in some quarters no words of criticism, but rather of justification. Admitting that much of the butter of fall and winter production, latterly sold at 70 to 75 cents a pound, was bought at prices varying from 45 to 48 cents, it is claimed to be perfectly moral as well as legal to demand for it now whatever figure the speculative market fixes. It is said to be the practice "in business generally," and the argument is that just as the dealer would lose if butter declined suddenly below the original purchase price—a most improbable contingency—so he is entitled to benefit by the raise even though it be abnormal and involves profiteering beyond his wildest dreams.

If a great part of the butter production in Canada were sent abroad and a shortage at home existed the present prices could, at least, be understood. But the plain facts are that Canada is not a butter exporting country to any particular degree. Canada has been importing about as much as it has exported. The normal production is two hundred million pounds a year. And of this quantity, how much, it will be asked is exported? The total ranges from ten to twenty million pounds only. The home market is abundant and profitable, yet, because after strain of war, Europe is short and enormous prices are being paid, Canadians without a shortage and without any considerable export have to pay the same prices as rule in the war bedevilled countries of Europe.

Farmers In It, Too

So far as the butter now being produced from day to day is concerned the farmer, as well as the jobbers and retailers are availing themselves of the abnormal situation. The Agricultural Department has a dairy station at Finch in Stormont county and last week there they were paying farmers 70 cents a pound for their butter fat. Out of one pound of butter fat about a pound and a fifth of butter can be produced.

The second and really vital explanation of the present profiteering is that the lid is now off. It may continue till an outraged public demands the reimposition of the restriction. Up till about the 10th of February, the situation was well in hand. Dealers were effectively regulated. A wholesaler was allowed to make only ten per cent. on his sales to a retailer and four per cent. on sales to another wholesaler and, in the latter case, the transaction was limited to one. There were also restrictions on the export. Last fall, a shortage of butter occurred in England and the Government here commandeered the produce of the creameries. Six million pounds were sent out of the country. One could imagine how, if the present conditions had obtained then, prices would have gone kiting. As it worked out there was barely a flurry in the market because the business was regulated. They couldn't jump the fence if they wanted to.

"Go To It Boys!"

The producers, however, kept nagging the Government and though the Commissioner of the Cost of Living foresaw the result protested vigorously and is officially on record, all the bans were lifted and the Government in effect said "go to it, boys.!" They have gone with a vengeance, free from export restriction and free from the limitation of profits. They are making up for lost time.

What is the remedy? Two are suggested ,one might lie in the production of more butter but there is no assurance that, even so, the price would come down when the gambling tendency is so highly developed. The other is to restore the restriction which used to be applied and which proved so effective. Under their operation as stated profits were limited and embargoes were applied to foreign export. If they were justified during the condition of the war and up to last February three months after the war ended, they would seem to be more than ever justified now, when, with their removal, a grand carnival of profiteering has been inaugurated.

The proposal of applying an embargo would be immediately met with a cry that Canada would be struck out of foreign markets. The best answer to this is that, in the past, the foreign market was never availed of as is indicated by the fact that only ten or twenty million pounds of the two hundred millions of annual production, were sent out of the country. The home market easiest of access, proved equally profitable. The limitation of profits would also give use to a howl but the Government, it is observed, has as much authority to resort to this expedient, in the period of reconstruction, as it had during the war, which has necessitated that reconstruction. It would have the further justification in the fact that the removal of the restriction has been seemingly the signal for going at the throats of helpless consumers.

Farming Influence

On the back of all this comes the demand also for a resumption of the ban on oleomargarine. The dairy interests are insisting on it and certain officials are said to favor it. Canada is the only country in the world where the butter substitute is made, as a matter of special temporary privilege and to this uncertainty may be ascribed the fact that the industry is not developed to any degree and consequently the price is equal to what butter used to be in the days before the profiteers got busy.

The farming influence is strong at Ottawa and they are being backed up by exporters, but it seems unlikely that in view of the situation the Government will put oleo under the ban again. The only way to secure a remedy for butter profiteering it seems will be by public agitation and in such a campaign, the active, and aggressive opposition of producers is to be anticipated.

Other figures respecting the cost of living show that it is running high, but it is not felt so acutely as in the case of butter. Eggs in cold sotrage now are practically a negligible quantity, this being the season when the fresh variety is available at prices which, relatively, are not exorbitant. Meats are high, going higher and giving indication of a considerable "spread" between the price to producers and consumers. Butcher steers sold last week at the Toronto yards at 11 to 12 cents a pound on the hoof and "heavy choice" steers at 14 and 15 cents a pound. The common variety brought from $6.50 to $7.75 per hundred weight. Dressed carcasses ranged from 18 to 20 cents for common, to 23 and 25 cents for choice. In Montreal on Wednesday—the departmental returns are of prices at stores patronized by the working classes—round steak sold at 32 cents, sirloin, 35 cents, shoulder roasts at 25 cents and rib roasts at 28 cents. Flour sells in Montreal at $1.40 per bag and retails at $1.75. In the price of tea, which varies greatly according to quality and the method of putting up, the excise tax of 10 cents a pound is a material factor.

In no commodity, however, is the rise so sharp as in butter. The situation may be sized up by saying that while the European demand—not being supplied by Canada—is availed of as an excuse, the essential cause is the removal of the restriction which used to be applied, limiting profits and limiting export. Conditions, it is thought, are unlikely to improve materially until the Government either reverts to the regulation which it removed in the face of the protest of the Cost of Living Commissioner, or at least "reads the riot act," to the interests that are making the best of an unfettered opportunity that is afforded them.

"LIND," the International Sensation, at the Grand Opera House To-night, Friday and Saturday, Matinee Daily.

Lind, the Actor, Has 48 Costumes

Something That Should Make Peterboro Girls Envious—Interview With Lind.

John Lind, actor, impersonator, dancer and singer, who has headlined the bills of practically every city in the world will be at the Grand Opera House, to-night, Friday and Saturday of this week, in a repertoire that promises to be as stately as it will be unique.

"Is it a man impersonating a woman or a woman playing a hoax?"

These are questions that have run through every audience before whom Lind has appeared during the past 15 years. He is peer of all female impersonaters. No woman yet has eclipsed him in the grace with which he interprets such dances as gobler, flower and symbol.

48 Changes.

He never wears the same dresses twice and during the performance has 48 changes. The modistes of the city should come to see him. The latest Paris creations are there in profusion.

"And Mrs. Lind?"

"Oh, she is the manager,"

Mr. Lind was visited in his dressing room. He was just jumping out of a beautiful Princess gown, one with red, green and bronze jewels and a big Cuban cigar which lent solace to the proceedings.

$10,000 Wardrobe.

"Have a chair and I'll be out of these." The "these" were a pair of dainty—r—you know. The armour that ladies affect. Lind was a headliner in Durry Lane theatre, London Eng land over such a wonderful actress as Vesta Victoria and is considered to be one better than Julian Eltinge the great movie impersonator. His wardrobe cost from $10,000 to $20,000 and the gowns are insured with Lloyd's against fire or damage to the extent of $10,000. Jewels, jewels in profusion, fourteen pounds of them. His part as a dainty toe dancer has held all European capitals in a spell for seasons and Paris is wild over him. He intends to return to Europe in June.

Madame Lind is Parisien French, highly cultivated and speaks seven different languages. They are much attached to each other.

The act which is the most expensive ever seen in the local Opera House will be seen this evening, tomorrow evening and Saturday.

COUGHED, COUGHED ALL NIGHT LONG

Terribly wearing on the system is the cough that comes at night and prevents sleep. Sometimes it is a constant cough, cough that will not be quieted.

Sometimes it is a choked-up, stuffed-up feeling that makes breathing difficult, and sleep impossible.

Whatever kind of a cold or cough you have, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the remedy you need to cure it, for the simple reason that this valuable preparation combines all the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree with which is combined wild cherry bark, and the soothing, healing and expectorant properties of other excellent herbs and barks.

Miss Margaret Landly, Bristol, P.E.I., writes: "I am writing to tell you the benefit I have received from Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Last fall I took a severe cough and cold in my head. I was unable to do anything. At night I could not sleep, but cough, cough, all night long. A friend advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and before the second bottle was used, I was entirely cured, and I have found this the best cough medicine I can buy."

Do not accept any other "pine" preparations when you ask for "Dr. Wood's." This remedy has been on the market for a quarter of a century. It is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Officers Traits Not Worth Buying

Education and Bravery Give No Start in Business Careers.

Demobilized officers lacking professions and trades or business experience continue to find difficulties in geting positions and living on their initial income as civilians in Toronto. Former aviators are climbnig stairs to sell life insurance or automobiles, finding it strenuous experience and coming through with some victories to their count.

More serious than the plight of these young aces is that of the older and less adaptable officers who have led hazardous enterprises and have shown great trustworthiness and command of men in the field. In seeking positions the former officers find their stock of goods not sufficient to make a good showing in the window.

"What it really comes to is that they are well-educated, brave, honest men, but so far as ordinary business requirements go they have very little to offer that is really worth an employer's while to buy," said an official of an employment bureau.

Many have no definite idea of what they would like to do. They claim truthfully that they are "ready to do anything," from addressing envelopes to forest ranging. A common story is: "I have had no experience, but I am keen energetic and honest. I should like a position of trust, a post involving responsibility."

For Future Returns

Perhaps the day is not far distant when employers will consider these qualities and this willingness as latent assets to be developed; but someone will have to invest the amount of a few month's salary during the necessary training period. Meanwhile the newly-returned have to make shift for themselves, not being of a sort to wait until their gratuity is exhausted.

"It is the start that we dread here, while it was the finish over there," said a former flight-commander, philosophically. He is now selling automobiles.

"Rather I am trying to sell automobiles," he explained. "I am a startling demonstrator, and it would be wise to tell the prospective purchasers that the air roads are not so crowded and that I really must be excused for risking their lives."

Modest and brave, like the others, he is like them so very inexperienced and an uncertain income worries him and leaves him in strange predicaments as he tries to keep up with the social set.

BROKE THROUGH CORDON.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, May 1. — The May Day crowds which gradually had been assembling in Place Madeleine, broke through the infantry cordon stretched between Madeleine and Place de la Concorde and swept down the Rue Royale. The cavalry hurried them backwards into the side streets but several thousand reached Place de la Concorde.

ALLEGED HAIR-CLIPPER CAUGHT IN ALBANY

ALBANY, April 30.—With the arrest here of a man, who gave the name of Karl Mann of Akron, O., local police believe they have in custody the person who has been clipping hair recently from young girls' heads here and in Troy. The man declares he had a war record abroad, but insisted that he had been shell-shocked and remembered nothing of recent events. A police record submitted by his wife, showed arrests for alleged hair-clipping in Cripple Creep, Col., in 1915; and in Salt Lake City, Utah, in 1916. In his room were found several hundred photographs of motion picture actresses, all portrayed with their hair down their backs. He pleaded not guilty at the preliminary arraignment.

Ghastly Murders Clues Near Paris

Police Investigating Disappearance of Ten Women and Boy.

PARIS, May 1.— The police were taking definite steps to-day to solve the mystery of the "Modern Bluebeard."

Every foot of the house and grounds of the ville owned by Henry Landru, at Gambiais, thirty miles south of Paris, was to be thoroughly searched, in hope of discovering some trace of ten women and one boy alleged to have disappeared, after visiting him there

Landru, who is 50 years of age, met the women, who may possibly have been intended as his twelfth victim in the subway just before his arrest, a fortnight ago.

All the missing women lived with Landru for some time at his villa, and have never been seen since. All of them are alleged to have met him through matrimonial advertisements. They were between forty and fifty years of age most of them were widows and all had excellent reputations. They are said to have permitted Landru to sell their household goods and take over their savings accounts. One of the women is understood to have had $25,000.

The police allege they found a notebook in Landru's possession containing a list of the women. All but one have been identified. They also claim to have found the bodies of three dogs and one cat, known to have belonged to two of the supposed victims. The animals had been strangled.

The inhabitants of Gambais tell wild stories of happenings at the villa. One of their tales is that just before each of the women disappeared a heavy, ghastly smelling smoke was seen arising from the chimney, leading them to believe that bodies were being cremated.

Landru already has served several terms for swindling. A special investigation committee has been appointed to inquire into his mental state.

Jack Johnson is Living Like a King in Mexico

MEXICO CITY.—Anyone who thinks Jack Johnston, former heavyweight champion is down and out should take a trip to this city, where the negro boxer is living like a king in one of the palacial residences of the Mexican capital.

Johnson wants for nothing. He is still looked upon as a champion by the Mexicans, attracts attention on the streets, and has access to all places of business and amusement.

Besides branching out as a bullfighter in Spain, Johnson became a "doctor." He obtained the formula for a medicine said to cure nervousness. The Spaniards fell for it, and Jack derived a neat revenue.

Johnson was taken to Cuba by a syndicate of Mexicans, headed by Gens. Juan Merigo and Alfredo Breceda. The former is a member of President Carranza's staff and wealty. The latter owns one of the finest residences here. Johnson has his gymnasium in the basement.

That these men are among the most influential in the city was shown by this incident. The owner of an American drug store refused to serve the former champion a glass of soda water. Jack made this known to the members of the syndicate, who promptly escorted Johnson back to the drug store and compelled the druggist to serve him.

The syndicate plans to arrange for American boxers to go to Mexico and give exhibitions with the negro. They are particularly anxious to get Fred Fulton, although overtures will be made to Jack Dempsey, Jess Willard and other heavyweights.

The ex-champion still maintains that his bout with Willard was fixed and that he agreed to lay down the champion after Jack Curley and the other promoters had promised to fix it with Federal authorities for his safe return to the United States.

Willard Talks of Coming Bout With Jack Dempsey

Will Go Into Active Training After "Picture" Work is Over.

CHICAGO, April 30.—Jess Willard, heavyweight champion boxer of the world, on his arrival here denied the story that he had again engaged Jack Curley and Tom Jones to handle his business. He added he had paid them off for what it would cost in attorney fees and that he was through with them for all time. The champion is to remain in Chicago for two weeks, taking part in anoving picture in which he is to do some wild west acts. After he has put in his time here he will go to California to finish the picture, after which he will prepare for his fight with Jack Dempsey, which the champion asserts is sure to come off somewhere in the United States, July 4.

Hoped For New York Bill

"I had hopes of seeing a fight bill passed in New York State," said Willard, "and figured on fighting Dempsey there, but I understand the bill did not pass. Missouri recently adopted a boxing measure permitting fifteen-round contests. With New York City out of the way I do not know of anywhere I would rather box than in Kansas City, and I am sure the fight would draw as well there as anywhere in the country.

Willard has not been idling away his time since he agreed to fight Dempsey. He is in training and has been for more than two weeks. He looks the part. When seen in Chicago a month or so ago he was fat and flabby looking around the jowls, but that appearance has left him entirely. He is beginning to show the effects of his work and there undoubtedly is determination in him to get in the best shape possible for Dempsey.

Won't Jump Into Training

"You see, it would not be wise for me to jump into vigorous training after being out of the game for two or three years," continued Willard. "It would be too hard on me. I am going to take all the time I can to get ready. I fought Johnson weighing 249, but I do not expect to drop that low for Dempsey. My weight was 259 in the Moran contest. That is what I will probably scale when I meet Dempsey, and it is possible I will drop down to 255. It is going to be harder for me to take off weight because of the rest I have had. You know, I do not believe in road work, for a man of my size. It is too weakening. I get just as good results boxing and working in the gymnasius. Road work never did appeal to me. I am a boxer, and when I go into a bout I like to feel that I am fast not only with the gloves, but on my feet, and the gymnasium is the best place to get that."

WILL MEET HUN DELEGATES TO-DAY.

(Canadian Press.)

VERSAILLES, May 1. — The first official meeting between the allied representatives and the German peace delegates, will take place at three o'clock this afternoon.

A committee from the Allies will receive the German credentials at that time.

LABOURERS ON CANAL RECEIVED 29C AN HOUR

Labourers employed on the canal, who have been receiving $2.00 for a nine hour day, did not report for duty this morning, but it could not be definitely learned whether the men had struck for an increase or not. Most of them are returned soldiers who have been doing work said to be equivalent to that for which the city labourers are asking 45c. an hour. Their friends affirm that the Government should at least set the example of paying fair wages to its servants and not offer men a wage that amounts to less than 29c. an hour.

Mr. A. L. Killaly, superintendent of the canal, declined to discuss the affair, beyond stating that the men had not been laid off.

HEBREWS TORTURED.

Forced to Labour For Bolsheviki—Brutal Treatment Reported.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 1.— Fifty-six Jews have been killed in a pogrom at Pinsk, according to an announcement from the central office of the Zionist Association. Forty persons were imprisoned and brutally treated, it is said, and three women were flogged, one school mistress being rendered insane by torture. The synagogues at Pinsk are reported to be closed and Jews have been impressed at forced labour. Military leaders are said to have demanded one hundred thousand marks, threatening to shoot Jewish leaders if that sum is not paid within 24 hours.

$10,000,000 SPENT ON GRADE C.N.R.

WINNIPEG, April 1. — Contracts were let this afternoon for ten million dollars' worth of grading for railwap lines in Saskatchewan and Alberta by the Canadian National Railway.

The successful tenders were J. D. McArthur, W. A. Dutton, and a syndicate, headed by J. W. Stewart, which is Foley, Walsh and Larson, and Northern Construction Co. (MacKenzie, Mann Co.)

City League to Open May 17th

Four Clubs Will Fight It Out for City Honours.

The City Baseball League at a meeting held last night decided to have the league open on Saturday, May 17th with a double header, the Great War Veterans' team being given the privilege of participating in the first game. After the formal opening on the date mentioned the remaining games of the league will be played on Tuesday and Thursday evenings of each week.

There are four teams in the league this year, the G.W.V.A., Matthews-Blackwell, Orientals and De Lavals, and the race promises to be a hard-fought one. It is proposed to have each team play each of the others four times, giving each of the clubs twelve games.

There will be opening ceremonies on Saturday, May 17th, in which it is expected that the G. W. V. A. band will take part.

ALL REFUSED TO SING THE NATIONAL ANTHEM

ST. CATHARINES, April 30.—The Open Forum which has been held in Griffin's Theatre for the past five Sundays, under the auspices of the Labor Educational League, and addressed mainly by speakers of Radical Socialist tendency, has never had the National Anthem called for until last night, when, as a result of newspaper suggestion, the chairman announced that "God Save The King" would be sung, and asked for special emphasis in "Confound their politics, frustrate their knavish tricks." A pianist played the air, but those present scrambled to the open door without singing a word.

Women Resist Free Love Law

Murders and Suicides Follow Attempt to Enforce Nationalization of Women in Russia.

MANY GIRLS ABDUCTED

LONDON.—The law providing for the nationalization of women in Northeast Russia has been suspended in one province as the result of popular outcry, according to information reaching London from Stockholm.

The Commissary of Vladimir has, by decree, appointed a committee of women, who are to inquire into the operations of the law and make a report with the least possible delay. His action has been approved by the local Soviet.

The Krasnaya Gazetta publishes an account of the results of natioaalization. The system provides that every girl on reaching the age of 18 must register her name in the Bureau of Free Love, after which she is compelled to select a partner from among men between 19 and 50 years old. The law led to lamentable confusion says the Gazeta, in "judicial notions as to personal inviolability."

A few days after the Soviet's decree, which women very generally ignored, two men, known to nobody, arrived in the town and seized the two daughters of a "well-known non-bourgeois comrade," declaring they had chosen them as wives and that the girls, without further ceremony must submit, as they had not observed the registeration rule.

"Comrades Yablonovski and Gurlakin," who sat as Judges on the claim decided the men were right, and the girls were carried off. They have not since been heard of by the village folk.

This, says the Gazetta, was done in the name of the nationalization of women.

Many other instances of the fantastic operation of the law, not to speak of its inhumanities, are cited by the Gazeta. Enthusiasts for nationalization, naturally all males, raid the villages, seize young girls, and demand proof that they are not over 18. As this proof is difficult to give, many of the girls are carried off, and there have been suicides and murders as a result.

In the town of Kovrov, a campaign without parallel since the Trojan war was waged between the vengeful relatives of an abducted nationalized girl and her persecutors.

In this town the "register of nationalized women" was opened on Dec. 1, but up to Feb. 1 last only two women, both over 40 and neither of whom had ever been married, registered themselves as willing to accept the first husband the State sent along.

On the committee which is now to revise the nationalization decree or to recommend its complete abrogation sits Mme. Vera Arkadieff, a Bolshevist enthusiast, who commanded a detachment of women soldiers during the recent operations against Admiral Kolchak's army at Perm. She has been twice wounded.

The Krasnaya Gazeta, translated means the Red Gazette. It is a Bolshevist newspaper published in Petrograd.

Every Coal Order Placed Now Helps Next Winter's Conditions

There will be no restrictions on Coal this year; but higher costs, wages, labour conditions, and adjustment of freight rates, over which we have no control, foreshadow higher coal.

During 1917 and 1918 dealers were greatly handicapped by being subjected to Government regulations and restrictions which had the effect of disturbing business beyond any reason or necessity.

We are again able to procure full supplies of FRESH MINED D. L. & W. SCRANTON COAL, which has been the choice of an increasing number of customers year after year.

Our present prices are as follows:—

D. L. & W. Nut Coal..... $12.00 per ton
D. L. & W. Stove and Egg Coal ... $12.00 per ton
D. L. & W. No. 1 Buckwheat or Small Pea Coal..... $8.00 per ton

We have also a few hundred tons of Substitutes, which we are offering as follows:—

Nut Coke ..... 50c per sack
20 Tons Hard Coal Bruquettes, to clear, $9 per ton
Hocking Lump Bituminous Coal, splendid summer fuel for ranges. ..$9 per ton
The above are all Standard Grades

About 350 Tons Washer Anthracite Coal, in mixed sizes..... $7.50 per ton

Another Letter From Mr. Burnham

Federal Member is Concerned over the 'National Policy."

The following letter is adressed to the Auburn Woollen Company:
House of Commons, Canada.
April 30, 1919

The Auburn Woolen Co.,
Peterboro,

Sir—Please say to the very large number of signatories to the request to me to beware of compromising the National Policy, that with prices in Canada on a proper level with those elsewhere, no sensible man would want to compromise the National Policy. To make Canada at first a dumping ground for cheap labor and cheap labor's products and then a prostrate victim, it would be suicide, which no one who sees our great and glorious country as it is, and as it has become, is likely to commit.

(Signed) J. H. Burnham.

AFTERNOON TEA

Under the auspices of the Church Woman's Association of St. John's Church, a very successful tea was given yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Morphet, 458 Hunter street.

The guests were received by Mrs. Morphet, assisted by Mrs. Seels while in the dining room, Mrs. Geo. C. Evans poured tea and was assisted by Miss Gertrude Denne, Mrs. C. L. Brewer, Mrs. C. E. Jamieson, Mrs. Heiderman, Miss M. English and Mrs. W. H. Gibbs.

An attractive musical programme was given during the afternoon, consisting of vocal solos by Mrs. Ryerson Ritchie, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Arthur Amys, and Mrs. Fred Hooper, and a piano solo by Miss Helen Morphet. A few of those who attended were Mrs. C. H. Amys, Mrs. Killaly, Miss Mabel Collins, Mrs. J. STUART—BROCK

MILLBROOK, May 1.—A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown, when their sister, Lily V. Brock was united in marriage to Robert Stuart, of Uxbridge, Ont., Rev. W. H. Higgs officiating.

After the ceremony luncheon was partaken of, after which Mr. and Mrs Stuart left on the 5.07 train for Uxbridge, amid the best wishes of their many friends.

SEENEY—HARKNESS

A quiet, but pretty wedding took place in St. John's Church, Ida, on Saturday, April 19, at 6 a.m. when Mr. Merton Lorne Seeney was united in marriage to Miss Iva Agnes Harkness, both of Cavan Township. Rev. (Capt.) C. R. Spencer conducted the ceremony in presence of the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. Miss Belle Harkness and Mr. Thomas Harkness, sister and brother of the bride, were bridesmaid and groomsman respectively.

After the ceremony the happy couple left on the 8 a.m. train for Toronto and other points. On Easter Monday evening upon their arrival, a reception was held and a delightful time spent by some fifty neighbours and friends.

FOWLER'S PEBLO GLASSES

POORLY MATED

A good man and poor eyes seems to make an ill-assorted pair. It is too bad for a man of ability to allow his usefulness and earning power to become undesirable because of failing eyesight. It is a simple matter for Dr. Fowler, with his modern appliances to tell exactly what is wrong with the eyes, and his celebrated "Peblo" glasses of the correct power will make the eyesight again normal.

Moulders and Labourers Demand Eight Hour Day

Moulders of Five Local Shops "Locked Out," They State, When Employers Refused to Grant Their Demands, Including Increase in Wages.

LABOURER'S WANT 45c AN HOUR

May Day emphasized a labour unrest in Peterborough somewhat similar to conditions reported from other Canadian cities. The humming war industry of one year ago was long since silenced, and reconstruction has been floundering and hesitating under alleged difficulties and uncertainties of prices, wages and mooted tariff changes.

The moulders in five local shops are out today. They had asked for an eight hour day and a wage of 75c an hour taking effect today. They have been working nine hours at the rate of 60c. The men stated this morning that they were notified by the employers that their demands could not be granted and that the shops would be closed. The foundries affected are the William Hamilton Company, the Peter Hamilton Company, G. Walter Green Company, the Adam Hall Company and the Lock Company.

Labourers Too

The labourers in the Adam Hall, G. Walter Green and Wm. Hamilton foundries are also out. They asked for an eight hour day with a wage of $3.60 and $4.00 for furnace men. They have been working nine hours at wages ranging from $3.00 to $3.50 with $3.75 for furnace men. They expect that the men from the other shops will follow their action.

The Labourers state that they are asking only what has been accepted by the city for the labourers who will be engaged in the construction of the Hunter street bridge, that is 45 cents an hour. Hence, they feel that their demand is fair and moderate.

Special Prices To Continue

WE ARE STILL SACRIFICING WOOD IN ORDER TO CLEAR OUR YARD.

For the past two days our special prices in wood have created considerable new business with the result we have decided to continue these special prices all this week. We need the room in our yard when the sowing season opens in about two or three weeks' time. You can profit by our needs. With coal going to fourteen dollars a ton it stands to reason that wood will be dearer before it will be cheaper and the following prices which we quote for the remainder of the week should appeal to those in need of wood.

Slabs—Four dollars a cord.
Mixed wood—Nine dollars a cord.
Hardwood—Ten dollars a cord.

This wood is of good quality and is cut in stove lengths already for use. Peterborough Planing Mill wood yard, opposite the Braund Building, Charlotte street. Telephone 86. Call and inspect the wood.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. Robert Thorndyke left this morning to visit friends in Springville for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Irwin, of 352 Water street and a party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. McMillan, Mr. Harold Irwin and Miss Chic Godfrey, motored to Oshawa on Sunday and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ryan Clotweather.

Miss Matilda Roseboro of this city is spending the week with relatives in Oshawa.

Miss Alf. Russell is living in the south end of the city, keeping house for her uncle for two weeks.

Miss Brown, of the Elliott store spent the last few days in Toronto, visiting the Mid-summer Millinery Openings.

In a message received from Capt. Rockham, he wishes to have the report that he had been given the M.C. corrected, as he has received no decoration whatever. Through a mistake on the part of a Toronto paper, this week, an embarrassing report had been given publicity here in a local paper.

Mrs. A. Cocks, 185 Dublin street, has returned from Toronto, where she had been visiting with her son, who has just returned home from overseas.

Miss Evelyn Jay, of Cameron street, South Peterborough, left for Toronto to resume her studies at the Church of England Deaconess House.

Dr. and Mrs. Eastwood, Miss Grace Reinhardt and Miss Alberta Meyers, who spent the winter in California are expected in the city today.

Mr. V. J. MacElderry is in Guelph, for a few days.

Mr. Webber Turner is in Toronto, to-day on business.

Miss Margery Hatton returned to Whitby yesterday after a few days spent at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. P. McArthur of this city are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McArthur, Orillia, for a few days.

Plan to Destroy the German Naval Ships Was Abandoned by the Peace Conference

Allied Powers to Decide Upon the Final Disposition of Enemy Vessels.

BRITAIN WILL GAIN

PARIS, May 2.—The German fleet is not to be destroyed, but it will be distributed. Final decision has just been reached on this point. Great Britain, which at first was inclined to oppose the plan for the elimination of the German craft as war machines, shifted its position and came to the support of France and Italy, which had desired the partition of the craft among the allies The American peace delegation opposed the plan of destruction from the first.

Gradually the belief became general that the policy of keeping the ships would be followed because of its economic and strategic soundness. Seemingly, the chance to acquire ready-make ships was too strong a temptation to resist, and the plan to destroy the ships lost all force when British support of it was withdrawn.

The British will gain greatly by the distribution, and world naval supremacy will become even more completely British than is now the case.

While a definite formula of apportionment has not yet been devised, it is probable that Germany's 28 capital ships will be allocated according to the losses in ships by the allied belligerents. This would give Great Britain twice as many ships as any of the other nations. America will not participate in the division, preferring to come out of the war with no gains of any sort.

Eleven Ships for Britain.

Great Britain's share will probably reach eleven ships, of which six will be dreadnoughts and five battle cruisers. According to the tentative plan, France will get nine ships, Italy five and Japan three.

After the disposition of the capital ships, small craft will be shared by the smaller nations. France is not satisfied with the scheme of division and asks that apportionment be made on the basis of legal loss of life caused, by the way, in all branches of the service. This would give France the larger share. She is holding out for its adoption.

Those who have studied the situation regret the decision that has been reached, as they are convinced that the breakup of the German fleet would have been regarded as an earnest of the professions for disarmament, and so would have been a herald of better days.

They see in this ruling not only an addition to existing armament, but they see also in prospect a heavy increment of similar armament among nations which are not to derive as much gain as others from the distribution, and who will now be forced to extra effort in their building programme in order to restore the former balance. Distribution will be the greatest benefit to Great Britain, whose overwhelming seapower will be thus assured for many years to come.

Egg Receipts Are Heavy

Reports from all sections of the country give evidence of very heavy receipts of eggs, and it is the opinion of the trade that the peak of production will soon be reached. The laying season started much earlier this year than usual, and therefore it is natural to expect that hens will drop off earlier. This is particularly the case in eastern Canada. In the prairie provinces production started later, and it is only during the past two weeks that they have had a surplus over consumption. Several car lots are reported to be on the way from Manitoba and Saskatchewan to Toronto and Montreal, costing from forty-three to forty-five cents per dozen, f.o.b., cases included. A large movement of eggs may be looked for from now on from these provinces to the east. On the Toronto farmers' market a week ago the retail price was fifty cents. Although business is being offered from Great Britain, space can not be secured on trans-Atlantic ships. There is a good demand for exports reported from the United States also.

POLICE ARE BLAMED FOR THE DISORDERS DURING THE DEMONSTRATIONS IN PARIS

Labour Federation Committee Will Meet To-night to Discuss the Situation—No Trouble Where the Soldiers Were on Duty.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, May 2. — The Socialists and the leaders of the Labor Unions are extremely indignant over yesterday's incidents. The great labor federation has issued a protest and a committee will meet to-night to consider what steps will be taken as a result of the disorders. The managing committee of the Socialist party and the Socialist group of the Chamber of Deputies, will also meet.

Deputy Marcel Cachin, writing in "The Humanite," claims the day was a magnificent demonstration of power and discipline of the laboring classes and was marred by the brutality of the ferocious police. He emphasizes the fact that the soldiers used no violence and that there was no trouble where they were on duty. The responsibility for the disorders was entirely due to provocation by the police, who were acting on orders from Premier Clemenceau.

Motorists Had Better Beware

New Legislation Will Not Become Effective Until June 24th.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, May 2. — It will behoove motorists throughout Ontario to "watch their steps" so far as the speed of their cars is concerned.

Many motorists during the last two weeks have been enjoying the sensation of whizzing about at twenty and twenty-five miles an hour, fondly believing themselves exempt from punishment under the change in the speed rates fixed by the Legislature last session. Some are due for a sad awakening, however, for the new motor laws do not come into force until June and until then the speed limits remain as in the past—15 miles in the cities and towns, and 20 miles on the country roads.

Under an Act passed by the House a year ago, all legislation becomes effective two months after being passed, unless other provision is made at the time. There is no time specified in the motor bill, therefore it will become law on June 24th.

A Presentation and Address to Havelock Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Melville Dafoe Are Honored.

The friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Dafoe, Belmont, assembled at their residence, and "showered" the newly married couple with kitchen utensils of all kinds, and presented them with the following address:

"Mr. and Mrs. Dafoe: It is with great pleasure that we, your friends and neighbors, assembled at your home to-night, welcome you to our neighborhood, and trust that's your lives may be ever characteristic of strong moral principle, and that you will find in each one of us a true and faithful friend, ready at all times to lend a helping hand. We wish to express in some tangible way our appreciation, and as a mark of our good will, we ask you to accept this kitchen shower. As you look upon this expression of our regard in future, may it call forth pleasing memories.

That God may bless and prosper you in your new home is our sincere wish.

Signed on behalf of your friends,
Mrs. Grant Dafoe,
Hazel Freeman.

Benefit Concert Victoria Hall

To Purchase Artificial Foot For Frank Munden

The employees of the Canadian General Electric Co. have undertaken to give a Benefit Concert for the above purpose. This man has seen life particularly hard and had both feet amputated resulting from the effects of rheumatism. It is a very pathetic case and deserves the support of the general public. A good programme will be furnished and tickets may be had at Wright's Barber Shop on George Street. The price is 50c and 25c.

It is hoped the public will take an interest in this unfortunate man and render assistance financially.

It is said that less than 90 per cent. of the regular churchgoers complain of the sermons being too short.

Lioness Kills Her Keeper

Tragedy While Tent Was Crowded With Spectators.

WOODBURY, N.J., May 2.—Pandemonium reigned for an hour in Woodbury yesterday afternoon when a lioness on exhibit in a circus sideshow killed her keeper before a small crowd of spectators, escaped from her cage and bounded into a small clump of woods which adjoins the town.

A posse of men and boys armed with guns, picks and stones, pursued the animal into the woods and finally killed her with a fusilade of more than 100 shots, 12 of which took effect.

The "big show" was in progress before an audience of several hundred men, women and children, when John Henry, keeper of the lioness "Lucy" and her two cubs, entered the sideshow cage. Driving the lioness into another compartment, Henry carelessly swung shut the separating door and stopped to fondle the cubs. The enraged animal threw herself against the door, bursting it open, and with one leap closed her jaws about Henry's neck, crushing the bones and killing him instantly.

Attendants in the tent shouted for help and seizing iron bars, hooks and tent stakes, began to belabor the animal in an effort to compel her to release her grip on the dead man.

Infuriated further by the blows, the lioness threw herself against the outer door of the cage, which Henry had failed to lock, and escaped to a wood near by. Circus attendants, accompanied by men and boys of Woodbury, invaded the wood and after a thrilling chase cornered her and ended her life.

SCORED THE GOVERNMENT

Woman Appeared Before the Industrial Relations Commission —Case of the Returned Soldiers.

BAD FAITH CHARGED

(By Main Johnson.)

VANCOUVER, May 2 — Emphatic warnings of impending troubles unless sincere remedies are applied and indictments of employers on the ground of hostility and bad faith, were features of the closing and most exciting session of the Industrial Relations Commission in Vancouver. At the same time a number of labour men declared themselves to be favourable to the bringing of the transition period between the present system of society and what they felt was the new one coming. It was a woman who made the most aggressive speech and who displayed oratorical powers of directness and force unequalled by any of the men, either employers or employed, who have so far appeared before the Commission.

Mrs. Walter Crossfield was her name, and she made an unexpected and dramatic interlude in the midst of many male speakers. She is a tall young woman, with fair hair and refined but determined face. She made no preliminary statement, but plunged at once into her story.

"I come," she said, "to tell you commissioners about the returned men who are walking the streets of Vancouver to-day looking for work and unable to find it. I know one returned man who for four days now has been unable to find a single thing to do. I know Imperials whose gratuity has been spent on clothes and other necessaries and who are now actually hungry in Vancouver. In many cases when these men do obtain work they are offered and have to accept wages below the prevailing level. There is a growing discontent among those men and a feeling of resentment that after fighting for their country they were not now offered the opportunity of making an honest living."

Scored the Government.

Mrs. Crossfield scored the Government for permitting profiteering, especially in foodstuffs. "Butter," she declared, "is up again to-day and so is beef. What are returned soldiers and working men generally going to do," she asked defiantly. "Things were bad enough now. What would they be at the end of September when Canadian gratuities were finished. Would men stand idly out of work and see their wives and children suffer from hunger?"

"I warn you men," she declared, pointing her finger at the commission, and I warn the government, that unless you stop putting your head in the sand like ostriches and face the real conditions as they are developing, you will have something on your hands you won't be able to deal with." She asked the commissioners if they had any questions, and when they did not show much tendency to interrogate, she left the witness stand, with the parting shot, "I hope to goodness that my words have gone home," a remark that led to an unusual outburst of applause by the working men in the room.

Closing Session.

In this the closing session, an important section of organized labour represented by the Metal Trades Council, disregarded the decision of the Trades and Labour Council and testified before the Commission. Actual officials of the latter body have, however, persisted in the policy of ignoring the Commission to the very end. The Labour men who did appear gave very emphatic testimony. They said that, speaking generally, and with certain laudable exceptions, the employers of Vancouver had shown no tendency towards co-operation with organized labour, but had rather carried on warfare against it. Several speakers charged bad faith on the part of employers, instancing particularly certain failures to live up to undertakings made under the Robertson agreement within the last few months. Asked by one of the Commissioners why, in the opinion of Labour men, employers had, as was alleged, failed to keep agreements and to treat employees fairly, the answer was given that employers had grown into the habit of considering themselves a superior sort of being, for getting that it was the working men who had been the source of their gain. "But," as one worker said, "the clamor of the master class has disappeared in the war when we have seen equality of all men in service in trenches, that clamour will never return. It was practically the unanimous opinion of the working men who testified that present system of production for profit could not remain and there must come production for use based on providing necessities for the people, and not carried on for rivals profit. Workers must have ownership of means of production.

ONE DEAD, SIXTY INJURED, AS RESULT OF MAY DAY RIOTING IN CLEVELAND

Former Candidate for Mayor on the Socialist Ticket Was Among the Number Arrested—Two Hundred Appear in Police Court.

(Canadian Press.)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 2. — Two hundred prisoners, one of the largest crowds ever brought before the police court here, were arraigned this morning as a result of yesterday's May Day disorders. C. E. Ruthenberg, a former candidate for Mayor on the Socialist ticket, was among those detained. The rioting was precipitated by a Socialist parade yesterday afternoon resulting in the death of an unidentified man and the injury of more than sixty others—two perhaps fatally.

This was followed by street fighting in many parts of Cleveland last night. Included among the injured were 16 policemen, Lieut. Nelson, J. Meeker, whose skull was fractured in a night disturbance, and an Italian, who were said by the hospital physicians to be dying.

A Socialist meeting in a hall was the scene of much disorder last night, following the wrecking of the Socialist headquarters during the afternoon.

Carpenters Will Notify Members

Change in Wage Scale Cannot Be Effected Until Full Notice Has Been Given.

At their special meeting last night the local carpenters decided to notify by letter every member of the Union of the intention to reconsider the standard wage which the Board of Works suggested a few nights ago should be reduced. The Union cannot change the price already determined without announcing the proposal to all the members. This is the first step to be taken, and another meeting will be held next Thursday night when the whole question will be opened up for discussion.

The Hunter street bridge in the meantime is in eclipse. It has been "occulted" by May Day and the School Board's project. Mayor Duncan and Ald. Phelan will not go to Ottawa as directed by the Board of Works until after the regular meeting of the Council next Monday. Progress will also have to wait upon the decision of the carpenters according to the resolution passed at Tuesday night's meeting of the Board.

There is also the question of appointing a successor to Ald. Murray, and in this little detail the bridge situation may reflect a certain influence. The Council's week of early activity passes out in quietness, but the next act is due possibly on Monday night.

Two Women Were Arrested

Both Refused to Give Bonds For Good Behaviour.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, May 2.—Sylvia Pankhurst and Amelia Mahoney, who were arrested yesterday when women attempted to force an entrance into the House of Commons in a May Day demonstration, in police court to-day were ordered to give bonds for their good behaviour. Neither would give the necessary bond and they remain under detention.

Murderer Hanged This Morning

(Canadian Press.)

NORTH BAY, May 2. — Charles Cooper, aged 36, was hanged this morning for the murder of Theodore Taylor, aged recluse of Tomstown, who was found beaten to death on May 26 last. Two youths, Lyman Morrison and Joseph Fuller, are serving ten and fourteen years respectively at Kingston. These three robbed the man and inflicted injuries which caused his death.

REV. W. H. CLARK PREACHED EDUCATIONAL SERMON

Breadless Monday May Be Averted

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, May 2.—An addition to Toronto's industrial troubles is today threatened by bakers of the city, who say they will strike Sunday night and make a breadless Monday if the employers do not agree to pay $38 for a fifty hour week. The Canada Bread Company, however, has already made a settlement, and it is expected that other firms will follow suit. The metal trade workers, of whom there are now four thousand on strike, will have a conference with employers to-morrow, and it is thought that the employers will grant a shorter work day and discuss increases in pay.

VITAL STATISTICS FOR THE MONTH

Birth Rate Lower For the Month.

The death rate in the city for April of this year is smaller than that of the same month last year. The birth rate is also considerably lower.

	1918	1919
Births	47	33
Deaths	25	21
Marriages	12	14

Thirty building permits were issued during the month, totalling $17,780, while in the same month last year 21 were issued, totalling $13,780.

Doukhobor Leader Has Narrow Escape

Was Trying to Break a Western Bronco—Presence of Mind Saves Life.

WINNIPEG, May 2.—Peter Verigin, the Doukhobo leader, was thrown from his horse at Brelliant, this week, sustaining serious injuries to his back. Mr. Verigin was attempting to break a bronco which he had brought from Alberta. He was thrown to the ground, and had it not been for his presence of mind in drawing his foot out of the stirrup he would have been dragged to death.

FRANK JENNE SAYS:

"It was a quaint conception of some narrow-famed Bolsheviki of the olden days to try and measure every man on the same yardstick; it can't be done. Even the literary artist who is editor of a paper gets more money than the cub reporter because of a happy faculty and a facility of expression—on everything and on most things he doesn't know much about.

"The designers and the tailors of Semi-ready clothes are artists and experts. While their skilful production cannot be measured by comparison with common clothes. The label is the pocket assures the buyer that he cannot buy such good clothes for less money—either here or in the East."

UNDESIRABLE IMMIGRANTS

Canada Will Bar Hutterites, Doukhobors and Mennonites.

ORDER-IN-COUNCIL

OTTAWA, May 2.—From to-day, and until further order, immigration of Doukhobors, Hutterites and Mennonites is prohibited. An order-in-Council to this effect was signed by the Governor-General yesterday afternoon. It was passed under the provisions of the existing Immigration Act which gives authority to this end.

The order recites that "owing to conditions prevailing as a result of the war, a widespread feeling exists throughout the Dominion, and more particularly in western Canada, that steps should be taken to prevent the entry into Canada of all persons who may be regarded as undesirable because, owing to their peculiar customs, habits, modes of living and methods of holding property, they are not likely to become readily assimilated or to assume the duties and responsibilities of Canadian citizenship within a reasonable time."

The order adds that numerous representations have been received that Doukhobors, Hutterites and Mennonites are of this class and character.

Rounding Up Reds In New York City

Nation Wide Plot to Murder Prominent Men.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, May 2.—Federal and police authorities were expected to make a round-up of Reds here to-day in connection with the investigation into the nation-wide May Day conspiracy to kill prominent men with bombs addressed to them through the mails. Twenty-five of these machines are known to have been despatched. It was reported here to-day that cablegrams had been sent to members of the Peace Delegation in Paris warning against opening packages. However it was declared nothing had been learned by investigators to indicate that any deadly contrivances had been sent abroad.

AN UNLOADING EVENT

The front page of the second section of today's Examiner contains an important announcement from the ladies' clothing store of Mr. B. Chesler. He finds his stock too large for the advanced season and has dropped prices to a figure that leaves him without his legitimate profit, and extremely interesting to economically inclined people. Mr. Chesler's store is a popular one with Peterborough shoppers, and the big price drop now advertised will be good news to them.

Business Changed Hands

The growing grocery and meat business carried on by Messrs. Gooheen & Matchett at 196-198 Rubidge street, has been purchased by Messrs. Kirkpatrick & Geraghty, who make their opening bow to the puhilc in to-day's Examiner. The new firm has adopted a new policy, calculated to save money to the patrons of this store, particulars of which may be found in their opening day announcement in another column.

FRIDAY, MAY 2ND, 1919.

A NEW VETERANS' BRANCH.

The rapid growth of the Great War Veterans' Association is evidenced by the organization last night of a new branch of the Association at Lakefield, to be followed next week by the formation of a similar body body Norwood. Both of these villages made splendid contributions of men to the Canadian Expeditionary Forces, and the people can be trusted to look after the interests of the men who went forth to fight, and are now back. The ex-soldiers are deserving of the best that can be done for them, and it may be taken as certain that the new branches that are being launched will be supported in every way possible by their own community. The Lakefield branch, which was formed last night, should have a successful career. In the selection of Captain Marling, M.C., formerly of the 93rd Battalion, as President, the returned men of Lakefield have chosen a leader who commands the respect not only of the people of his own village, but throughout the district. Captain Marling fought in France with the famous 2nd Battalion, and won the Military Cross. He should prove an admirable head for the Lakefield organization. The other officers are well known and respected, and the Lakefield branch commences its career as a separate branch under most encouraging auspices.

HITTING THE HUTTERITES

The Government has been at last forced by the insistent demand from all parts of Canada and more especially from the western provinces, to shut the door on the Hutterites, Doukhobors and Mennonites, who have been flocking across the border into western Canada from the United States. An order-in-council has been passed, becoming effective to-day, that prohibits the entrance of these people into the Dominion. They are regarded, according to the wording of the order, "as undesirable because, owing to their peculiar customs, habits, modes of living and methods of holding property, they are not likely to became readily assimilated or to assume the duties and responsibilities of Canadian citizenship within a reasonable time." It has taken the Government a long time to realize these facts. The indignation of the people of Western Canada at the continuous influx of these undesirables, should, it might have been expected, have led to the present action months ago. Far too many of the classes complained of have already settled in Canada, and the measure now passed could with advantage to the Dominion been enacted long before this late date. The Government can certainly not claim that their attention was not called to the matter for the complaints have been numerous and united.

THE SPEED LIMITS

The attention of motorists is directed to an important announcement in regard to the new speed limit adopted by the Legislature, which will come in the nature of a surprise to the car owners of Peterborough as well as to those throughout the province. It has generally been supposed that the new limit of 20 miles per hour in the cities and towns and 25 miles per hour in the country, went into force as soon as the amendments were passed by the Legislature. This however, is not the case, because under an act passed a year ago, legislation passed by the Ontario Legislature does not become effective until two months after, unless a particular time is specified. This was not done in connection with the motor regulations and as a result the new limits do not go into force until June 24th. Motorists, therefore, who have been driving at 20 and 25 miles an hour have been breaking the existing laws and unconsciously have laid themselves open to the danger of prosecution. Car owners should remember that until June 24th the old limit of 15 miles per hour in the cities and 20 miles in the country is still operative.

When a woman tells you she will be ready in a minute she doesn't tell you which minute.

INFORMATION NEEDED

Among some of the guests at the banquet to Peterborough's returned soldier's last night there was a feeling of disappointment, to say the least, that the units of which they were members escaped mention by the various speakers. The former members of B Squadron of the 8th Canadian Mounted Rifles, incidentally one of the finest bodies of men which left Peterborough for the front during the war, were especially chagrined by the fact that the name of their unit was not heard during the evening's programme. The failure of the speakers to mention B squadron or the other units that escaped notice last night, was of course, an oversight and not in any way intentional and the matter is only mentioned because it rather tends to bear out the impression that rightly or wrongly prevails among returned soldiers that the people of Peterborough only know the 2nd Battalion and the 93rd Battalion. It is true, of course, that these two units are prominent in the public memory; the Second Battalion, because it was in that unit that the first Peterborough detachment of infantry fought in France, and the 93rd Battalion because it was the only complete unit raised in this city during the war. But our pride in these two units should not cause the people of Peterborough to forget the hundreds of other gallant men who were in other infantry battalions, in the Mounted Rifles, in the artillery, in the Air Force, in every branch of the service on sea of land.

It would be a most invaluable service to the public if in some way or another the history of the different detachments that have left Peterborough, could be presented in its true light. There is a deplorable lack of information as to the achievements of these various bodies overseas. Take the artillery for example. The public has only the faintest conception of what the gunners and drivers from this city have accomplished. They know so-and-so was at the front with the artillery and that is about all. The magnificent work of the various batteries has never been told. Among the infantry we have heard of the exploits of the different battalions to some extent at least. But except in the most general terms there has been little or nothing said about the batteries.

Capt. C. R. Widdifield is preparing a history of the 93rd Battalion—a record that will be of the greatest value. If something similar could be prepared in connection with other detachments that have gone from this city, the public would have a much more comprehensive idea of the services of the Peterborough men overseas, than they have at present.

Presentation to Mr. A. Stanworth

Late Mechanical Superintendent of William Hamilton Co.

An interesting event took place at the William Hamilton Co., when the employees of the machine shop presented Mr. A. Stamworth with a handsome dressing case and an address, on the occasion of his leaving the company.

Peterborough, Ont., April 26, '19.
Mr. A. Stamworth—

Dear Sir,—It is with feelings of the sincerest regret that the occasion has arisen for you to sever your connections with the William Hamilton Co., and before leaving the city we wish to ask your acceptance of a small token of esteem from the workmen engaged in the machine shop over which you have superintended with such marked success. Your intimate knowledge of the capabilities of men appears to be one of your greatest assets and each of the workmen feel they are losing not only a superintendent but a thorough gentleman in every respect. We pray that your future may be crowned with the success it deserves. Signed on behalf of the workmen.

Norman H. Bradley.
Robert Veitch.
Arthur Halliday.
Daniel McNamee.

G. F. Smith, one of the employees, made the presentation and spoke of the cordial relations which existed between Mr. Stamworth and the employees during the sixteen months that he had been with the company as general foreman and mechanical superintendent, and wished him every possible success. Mr. Stamworth, in replying, thanked the men for the gift and also for the help and co-operation which they had given him during the time he had held the position of foreman and mechanical superintendent.

Fire Destroyed a Farm House North Monaghan

With a Sub-Station in the South End the Building Might Have Been Saved.

The reason for many residents of North Monaghan seeking annexation with the city was emphasized this morning when a fire broke out and destroyed the home of Mr. F. Buott, who resides a short distance below the Catholic cemetery. The owner of the property is Mrs. Bell. The fire was discovered shortly after ten o'clock this morning but owing to the fact that it was outside the city limits, the fire department could not respond without first obtaining the permission of Mayor Duncan and the Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee. Chief Grange took this precaution in view of the high wind which would leave the business section of the city exposed to greater danger in event of a conflagration.

When the fire department arrived at the scene of the fire they made good use of a forty gallon tank of chemicals and succeeded in salvaging some of the contents of the first floor of the building.

The loss will be in the neighborhood of fifteen hundred dollars. The house was a frame structure and wa two storeys high.

William J. Bryan Is a Candidate For Church Office

Would Be First Layman To Be Chosen Moderator of Presbyterian General Assembly.

NEW YORK. — William Jennings Bryan is a candidate again! This time he is running for Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, a position which would place him at the head of 1,500,000 church members. Furthermore, if Mr. Bryan wins this election, which is to take place in St. Louis May 15, he will be the boss in a spiritual way of no less a person than Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States.

The thing that makes it possible for Mr. Bryan, who although an orator is not a clergyman, to run for the office of Moderator, is that the last General Assembly amended its laws so that laymen, previously barred, could be elected to the highest office formerly held exclusively by clergymen.

The General Assembly is made up of commissioners from every presbytery in the United States and any one of these commissioners may be a candidate for Moderator. Mr. Bryan has been elected a commissioner by the Presbytery of Nebraska, with the definite purpose of pushing his candidacy for Moderator. Whether elected or not Mr. Bryan will address the assembly on the night of May 21, which has been designated as "popular night."

LAKEFIELD BRANCH OF G.W.V.A. IS ORGANIZED

Capt. Marling, M.C., is First President of New Branch—Many Representatives of Peterboro Organization Assist, as Well as the G.W.V.A. Band.

A PRESENTATION MADE

The Lakefield Branch of the Great War Veterans' Association was formally launched at a largely attended meeting in the moving picture hall last evening, at which Mr. Casement, of Lakefield, presided.

The Peterboro branch of the G. W. V. A. was well represented, Secretary Sidney Whatley arranging the details in connection with the organization of the branch, while the officers were installed by Captain A. S. Morrison, president of the Peterboro branch. The G. W. V. A. band was also in attendance as well as a number of the members of the Peterboro organization, and a concert party, which rendered an enjoyable programme.

The Lakefield branch starts out unmost encouraging auspices. Captain Marling, M.C., who returned home last week with the 2nd Battalion, was chosen as president.

The other officers are:

J. Lemay, formerly of the 93rd, 1st Vice-President.

J. J. McFadden, formerly of the 93rd Batt., 2nd Vice-President.

Roy Robinson, of the 21st Batt., secretary.

B. Whatley, treasurer.

W. Robinson, Sergt.-at-arms.

Executive Committee — N. Kidd, H. Hendren, V. Sweetting, L. Charlton.

An interesting event in the programme was the presentation to Captain Max. Hamilton, formerly of the 247th Battalion, of a case of pipes from the boys of the Battalion who have returned from overseas. The presentation, which was a complete surprise to Captain Hamilton, was made by W. Primeau, while Secretary Whatley read the following address:

"On behalf of the boys who passed through your company in the 247th Battalion in 1917, many of whom have just returned from overseas, and meeting one another again, have realized how much they have been indebted to you for the kindness and interest which you took in their early military training, and realizing the benefits to themselves of having an officer of your experience and ability in command of them, hope that you will accept this small token of the esteem in which you were held by the boys of your old company."

(Signed) W. A. Primeau, R. F. McMahon, J. A. Russelle, J. French, W. R. Lewis, W. Jones, H. P. Wires, W. C. Brown, J. F. Strickland, J. J. Piers, A. Ray.

The Veterans' Band rendered three most enjoyable selections and were warmly applauded. The new organization made a most favorable impression upon the people of Lakefield, and Bandmaster Hughes and his men received many congratulations.

During the evening Secretary Whatley presented the Lakefield branch with a cheque for $100 from the Peterboro branch to be used in connection with organization expenses.

The following programme was given by the Peterboro concert party, and was thoroughly enjoyed:

Instrumental, A. Weatherhead.
Duet, Messrs Leonard Bros.
Monologue, Jack Primeau.
Song, Robt. Leonard.
Sketch, "The Actor and the Janitor," Jack Primeau and Dan Leonard.
Three round boxing bout, G. Lilly and S. Rootes, of the Peterboro G. W. V. A.

The evening was a most enjoyable success.

A Good Show at the Grand

Vaudeville Is Extra Good—Lind, the Impersonator.

Last night a crowded house saw Lind in his wonderful impersonations and his interpretation of the French "La Gavotte," was received enthusiastically to put it modestly. As Carmencita, the Spanish dancer, he excelled himself. For a man to impersonate a woman, is extremely difficult but to impersonate a woman typifying the five senses — seeing, tasting, hearing, smelling and feeling is more difficult. His gowns rivalled those of Lady Duff-Gordon, or of any of the French modistes, and they were rendered all the more beautiful, if that could be possible, by the brilliant stage settings. He created a sensation when he sang the latest song, "That Wonderful Mother of Mine," which has not yet appeared in Canada. Alternately he sang the verses in French and English. He will be seen to-night and Saturday for the last time as he returns to Europe in June.

A meeting of the canvassers, directors and all interested in the affairs of the Society is called for Saturday evening next at eight o'clock at the City Council Chamber to receive the final returns of the membership campaign and to make arrangements for the delivery of the Spring options. A special invitation is extended to any who have suggestions to offer on civic improvements and the subject of affiliation with the Board of Trade will be under discussion and some action taken in this matter.

All 1919 members who have not yet sent in their option sheets indicating ther selections, are again urged to forward these to the Secretary without delay so that the work of arranging for delivery may not be hindered and to avoid disappointment through late orders for stock.

Peterboro Shoe Store

291 George St. Opp. Opera House

"Did you ever attempt to play the piano with your pair of Goliath mitts on your daddies?" Mr. Foster, the piano tuner who uses an ice hook does the stunt at the Grand Opera House the remainder of this week. Mr. Foster is possessed of a wonderful hang-dog voice which travels in sound waves from one piece of music to another stuck somewhere on the surface of the piano. His running mate Mrs. (or Miss) Foster sees no reason to take away from the female sex that coon town appelation of chicken, even if her husband does "lay" for her.

One Act Playlet.

"Names Don't Count," by Vincent and Raymond, a playlet in one act, (with a setting) depicts the young and bashful from the gomoral stage to the second year after marriage, from the time that her resting place is his knee and they take a box at the grand opera, with a taxi, and Delmonico's afterwards, to the time when he wants to know where he can get anything to eat, and whether the buttons are sewed on his trousers, and when they spend the evening at the Nickleodium.

The big screen success, "Her only Way," with Norma Talmadge in the role, tells of the tragedy of a girl who married for money. It is a compelling and forceful drama with many tense situations, from the opening to the closing chapter.

Alice Howell as a gipsy, maintains her reputation as a fun provoker. The weekly screen magazine is also shown.

This is one of the best all round shows that has been shown here for some time and last night's capacity audience was not slow to demonstrate its appreciation of each performance. It will be repeated to-day and to-morrow with matinees each afternoon.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

Where Turley Gets His Salary

Denies Receiving Pay From the Government.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, May 2.—"I am in receipt of a salary from the Provincial command of the G.W.V.A. and that is the only salary that I draw," was the plain statement of W. E. Turley, of the G.W.V.A. Provincial command, when asked to-day about the point raised by certain members of the Earlscourt G.W.V.A. last night as to whether he had been receiving pay from the Ontario government. This Mr. Turley pointedly denies.

Last Night For the Evangelist

Close of Special Services in Park Street Baptist Church

To-night will be Evangelist Torrie's last work night service in Park Street Baptist Church. Last night the Evangelist spoke on "Judas and Jesus", taking as his text Matt: 26: 45. "The Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners." In part he said "in my text we see the sharp contrast between the depth of human depravity and the height of Divine goodness, we have here the treachery of Judas contrasted with the power of Jesus. Judas Iscariot one of the twelve apostles of Our Lord was a sacrilegious man in that he broke in upon Jesus when He was engaged in secret communion with His Father. He was also a shameless man, he gave them a sign saying whomsoever I shall kiss that same is He, hold Him fast, and forthwith he came to Jesus and kissed Him. We wonder how a man could be so hard, so heartless, so cruel, so shameless, but the solution of the problem is simple. Judas loved money, he did not love Jesus. He called a gift to the Lord a waste, because he was a thief and held the bag. Judas commenced by stealing and he ended by betraying Jesus Christ etc.

"Judas was snared. The last glimpse John gives us of Judas, he was standing with the enemies of Jesus. Judas choose his own company and his own place in hell before he went to it. To appreciate his fall think of, who Judas was, what he might have been and what Satan gave him.

"In contrast with Judas we see Jesus. Here we see not his human weakness, but His Divine Power, the power of calmness, of courage, to chastise, of charity."

Mrs. Torrie sang "Alone" one of the hymns in "Sunday" book and it was most in keeping with the Evangelist's message. The choir also sang two pieces with good effect. A good service with a large congregation is anticipated to-night.

Mr. Torrie made his first appeal last night and a number "struck the trail".

Lecture On Art By Rev. F. E. Malott

Description of the Great Art Galleries in Europe.

Last night the members of the Art Association of Peterborough listened to an address in the Public Library by the Rev. F. E. Malott on the subject of art. Mr. Malottt stated that he did not pose as an art critic. He assured his audience, however, that he was deeply interested in the subject and that he would like to see in every city in Canada, a collection of work's of art that would be the nucleus of a gallery. He gave an interesting discription of a number of the great galleries in Europe which he had visited. He traced their growth from small beginnings and used them as examples of what can be done when an interest in art is awakened. The galleries visited by Mr. Malott were, the Berlin, Dresden, Munich, Paris and London galleries. He referred also to other collections which he had seen. Of the fourteen galleries visited by the speaker, two are of great value to the student of art, because in them the works of the various schools are arranged in their historical order. These galleries are the National Gallery in London and the Kaiser Friedrich Museum in Berlin.

Italian Art

The history of Italian Art was briefly sketched by the speaker, and comparisons were made with the Dutch and Flemish schools. The German, Spanish, French and English schools were also mentioned.

At the close of his lecture Mr. Malott showed forty slides of his own, representing the paintings of the various schools, giving interesting information about the artist in each case. He showed also a number of slides loaned him by Colonel Walker, of the Normal School. The audience followed the lecture with the closest attention and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speakers by Mr. F. D. Kerr, seconded by Mrs. R. R. Hall. Mrs. Arthur Stevenson presided and Mr. Fish very kindly loaned and operated the lantern.

Y.W.C.A. CLOSING EXERCISES

Over two hundred girls and children took part in the closing exercises of the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium classes held in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium last evening and the drills, dances and exercises by the different classes all performed with perfect rhythm and grace, proved a fascinating sight to the large audience present.

In opening the exhibition, Mr. H. R. H. Kenner spoke of the splendid organization at the Y.W.C.A. He congratulated the Board upon having secured the services of Mrs. Morrison at the head of the culinary department, Miss Winnifred Parker as General Secretary and Miss Littlefield as Physical Instructress. He spoke of the splendid spirit of co-operation existing amongst all the officers, and of the marked effect Miss Littlefield's teaching has had upon the children under her care.

The Programme.

The programme was opened by a grand march of the Massed Classes. Clad in the gym costumes of navy and white, the girls were led in this march by a baby of five years of age. From this little tot they graduated up to the girls of the senior classes. The result of Miss Littlefield's endeavours was plainly visible in the military bearing of the girls. The Swedish exercises, concluding with a Russian folk dance by the Tuesday and Wednesday Juniors; the wand exercises by the Senior School Girls and the Intermediates and Beginners' Class and Athena and Silver Link Clubs; the club swinging exercises by the Senior School Girls and the flag drill by the Tuesday and Wednesday Juniors were revelations of expert training and grace. The girls moved as one in all the exercises and not one false step or motion was visible during the entire performance.

A feature of the performance was the "Nursery Rhymes." In this all the babies, dressed as nearly alike as possible in gingham dresses and sunbonnets, formed a huge circle and sang nursery rhymes, illustrating the words with motions. The little tots who were absolutely unconscious of the hundreds of eyes fastened upon them, presented a pretty sight.

In the latter half of the programme all numbers were performed in costume. The first number, a Norwegian folk dance by the Saturday Juniors, revealed the possibilities dancing may have upon the attainment of grace and ease. The Senior School girls in a Jolly Cortage, dressed in brilliant costumes of red and white, performed a creditably executed drill. In the Chanticleer Drill, which was uproariously encored, twelve girls, the Special Juniors, skillfully dressed to represent roosters, went through a series of evolutions in perfect imitation of the barnyard. The Russian polka by the Beginners' Class and the old French dance by the Senior School Girls, both performed in costume, were charming in the grace and perfect rhythm the girls displayed. The Little Sunbeams by twelve little girls of the Special Junior Class, presented a pretty sight, each little girl being dressed in a dainty filmy dresses of yellow and each having a perfect idea of what she was about. No coercion or prompting was necessary on the part of the instructress to put the dance through to a successful conclusion.

The Rainbow Dance by the Special Advanced Class was really a charming feature, the blending of costumes being a faithful imitation of rainbow colouring, and all the girls exhibiting a perfect knowledge of the steps.

The programme was concluded by the Sailors' Hornpipe by the Tuesday Juniors.

During the evening a much appreciated solo was sung by Miss Florence Scott.

The performance will be repeated this evening.

ROUMANIAN TROOPS WILL ENTER BUDAPEST

(Canadian Press.)

VIENNA, May 2.—King Ferdinand, of Roumania, accompanied by French generals, is about to enter Budapest, capital of Hungary, at the head of his troops, a Bucharest despatch to Neue Freie Presse says.

At the Grand Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday

Rex Beach's "Too Fat to Fight" in Addition to the All Star Vaudeville Programme.

Rex Beach bids fair to add lustre to his famous name when "Too Fat to Fight," newest of the Rex Beach Pictures produced for Goldwyn, comes to the Grand Theatre, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, matinee daily. He will surprise his public with a drama of purpose and patriotism rather than of Alaska and the West.

It tells the story of Norman Dalrymple, former football star, played by Frank McIntyre, who is now a mountain of flesh and, much to his sorrow, too fat to fight. Turned down by every branch of the service "Dimples," as he is called, succeeds in joining the Y.M.C.A. and serves his time at passing doughnuts and carrying coffee for the doughboys until he finds himself in a fix from which he emerges to his hospital cot to pin a decoration for bravery upon the expansive bosom of his pajamas "Dimples" wakes to find that he spoke almost prophetically when he said he'd "give a leg to be with the boys over there." One of his is gone. But his decoration and a certain discovery he makes about the girl he loves recompenses "Dimples" for his sacrifice.

In addition to this great picture the vaudeville will be one of the best programs to visit Peterboro. Headed by T. D. Pepple and M. Greenwald Radiums of Splendor, "The Revue de Vogue." There is no other act in vaudeville of like kind. This can be accounted for by the lavishness displayed by the superb producers. The scenery comprises of thirteen different changes and the original Chicago Co., of 12 people, as the title would indicate the costumes are actually the latest creation in Sactorial Art.

As an added attraction Ella La Vail The wonder Aerial Artist will close the programme Miss La Vail was two years with the great Barnum and Bailey Circus and either one of these big acts are worth the price of admission alone. Seats reserved for the evening performances in advance.

WENT FISHING TO LAKEFIELD

LAKEFIELD, May 2.—A fishing party from Peterboro composed of Messrs. George Davis, E. Lee, T. Darrah and Ernest Bell, visited Lakefield the other evening and tried their luck with the suckers which are now running. They were not very successful in their catch, but the party enjoyed the outing.

"Escaped After 2½ Years in 9 German Prisons"

This is subject of Address to be Delivered by

Lt. Beverley Robinson

The only Canadian born officer who escaped from Germany. He will talk about:—

Actual conditions in the German prison camps as he personally experienced them for 3½ years, from November, 1915, to April, 1918.

Such brutal atrocities as the deliberate bayonetting of the British officers at Strohen.

Just what solitary confinement is like.

A first-hand description of the notorious "Charlie" Niemeyer, from one who had good reason to know him.

The digging of the famous Holzminden Tunnel, which was 60 yards long and took 9 months to dig. 29 officers escaped through it, of whom 11 got across the frontier, a distance of 150 miles. His own escapes.

SOLDIERS ENTERTAINED AT CIVIC BANQUET

Over 500 Ex-Service Men Guests of City at Enjoyable Affair in the Armouries—Many Units of the Canadian Expeditionary Force Represented.

TOAST LIST HONOURED

Over five hundred of Peterboro's sons who are back in civilian life after serving in the fighting forces of the Empire were the guests of the City Council at a most enjoyable and well aranged banquet in the Armories last night. It was the largest gathering of returned soldiers that the city has yet seen and many famous units of the Canadian Expeditionary Force were represented around the attractively decorated tables. Many of those present were in uniform and the spectable was an impressive one.

The Armories were appropriately decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting. The programme was wisely not extended, the toast list being limited to four toasts and the arrangements reflect credit upon Ald. Turner and his committee and upon City Clerk Armstrong.

A most enjoyable repast was served by Mr. T. H. Hooper, while a corps of ladies from the different patriotic and church societies of the city admirably performed the duties of waitresses. The service was excellent and this part of the probramme was carried through without a hitch. Before the banquet commenced two snappy marches were played by the band of the Great War Veterans in splendid fashion and during the repast the Conservatory Orchestra contributed a most enjoyable programme.

Hei. Worship Mayor Duncan was chairman and at the head of the table were the members of the City Council and the speakers of the evening. Grace was said by Major J. C. Davidson.

The first toast was, of course, that of the King, which was loyally observed by the hearty singing of the National Anthem.

In an opening address Mayor Duncan referred to the crisis through which the Empire had passed and referred in appreciative terms to the splendid work of the Canadian Soldiers overseas. They had made the name of Canada second to none and he wished to thank the men before him for helping to raise the standard of the name of Canada. His Worship explained to the gathering that owing to the difficulty of getting information as to the exact time of the arrival in Peterboro of men from overseas, it had been found impossible to tender them all a reception at the station so that it had been decided that it would be better to arrange a banquet at which all the returned men could be present. He heartily welcomed the guests of the evening.

Letters expressing regret at their inability to be present and sending good wishes to the returned soldiers of Peterboro were read by Ald. J. J. Turner, chairman of the Reception Committee from Brigadier General Williams, His Lordship Bishop O'Brien and Capt J. H. Burnham, M.P.

The Army and Navy

To Judge Huycke fell the honor of proposing the toast to the army and navy and he did so in a most eloquent speech. In beginning, he paid a warm tribute to the men of Peterboro who had answered the call The war had not all been in vain for it had brought out the noble spirit of many of Peterboro's sons who had gallantly responded. He regretted that all did not answer to the call. The Militia of Canada had done good work in furnishing men but no beter than factories and the schools. To the men who had returned Judge Huycke said the the hearts of the people overflowed with joy to see them back. They had brought glory not only to Canada, but to their home city, more glory than Peterboro had ever had before.

Speaking of the navy the speaker referred to the deep gratitude which every Canadian should feel to men who had kept the seas open. Had it not been for the British Navy, Canada would not have been able to send her soldiers overseas and again if the Navy had not been able to maintain its supremacy it might not have been possible to have brought them back. As chairman of the Peterboro Branch of the Navy League, he urged his hearers to do everything in their power to see that the Navy was supported and that Great Britain remained Mistress of the Seas.

In conclusion Judge Huycke made a touching reference to the men who will not come back, to those who have made the supreme sacrifice and whose spirit he said was still living.

Major J. C. Davidson responded to the toast in an effective speech. In beginning he voiced the thanks of the soldiers present to the Mayor and Council for the banquet that was being given, a sentiment that was endorsed by hearty cheers from th gathering. Major Davidson referred to the army as a wonderful institution engendering a comradship that was unique and striking. The men of Peterboro had always, he said, stood up for the old home town wherein they were and appreciated the magnificent backing they received from the home base, the letter and parcels that flowed in a constant stream across the Atlantic. He paid a hearty tribute to the work of the Canadian Nursing Sisters, his remarks in this connection being applauded in a manner that showed they expressed the sentiments of the returned men generally.

There might be restless times in Canada at present, said the speaker in conclusion but he felt the utmost confidence that the men who made such magnificent sacrifices overseas and had done such splendid work would be found carrying on in a similar manner in the days of peace.

"Rule Britannia" was heartily sung by the gathering after which Mr Douglas Carlisle sang "The Battle of Stirling" in his usual splendid style.

The Original Firsts

Ald J. J. Turner proposed the toast of the Original Firsts, referring to the men who had first gone forward from the 57th Regiment. He referred to the splendid work of the first Canadian troops in France and paid a tribute to the memory of those who had fallen. It was difficult to single out individuals who had done their duty nobly but he had no doubt that some day the history of the events of the war would be given and after it would be found that the men who did not stand out very prominently in civic life were among the heroes in France. Ald Turner referred in appreciative terms of the work of the ladies in supporting the troops.

Lieut.-Col. J. Mills, who went overseas with the 1st Contingent as quartermaster of the 2nd Battalion, made a fitting reply. In beginning he expressed his opinion that if it had not been for the militia units of Canada it would not have been possible to send the 1st, 2nd and 3rd Contingents forward so quickly as had been done. Speaking of the Canadian corps he said all the divisions and the corps troops were good and it would be unfair to make distinctions. However, he might be pardoned for saying that the 1st Contingent when it went to France was, outside of the Division of Guards, equal to the best in the Empire's fighting forces. Col. Mills referred to the great interest Peterborough had in the 2nd Battalion and mentioned Lt.-Col. Clegg, Major G. W. Bennett, Major Chas. Ackerman, Regimental Sergt. Major Nicholls, D.C.M., and other Peterborough men who had been connected with the unit.

Mr. Carlisle was heard to great advantage in another much appreciated song.

The 93rd Battalion

Mr. G. A. Gillespie, M.P.P., proposed the health of the only unit raised in Peterborough during the war, the 93rd Battalion. He recalled the interest and pride which the people had taken in the battalion and remarked that when the unit finally left for overseas, although those at home were sorry to see them go, they were proud of them. Their friends had not been disappointed in the 93rd Battalion for in the various units to which the men had gone they had made good.

Lieut.-Col. T. J. Johnston, former commanding officer of the 93rd was given an ovation when he arose to reply to the toast. In referring to the early days of the battalion he remarked that he had always felt that he had the support of every man, woman and child in the county as well as of every officer, N.C.O. and man in the battalion. Col. Johnston paid a warm tribute to the non-commissioned officers, of the 93rd and told how they made good in France. In this connection former Sergts. Walter Miller and Douglas Loomis won their commissions at the front, and former Sergt. Herb O'Hara, was qualifying when the armistice was signed. The men of the 93rd were the speaker said, typical of the fine soldiers that Peterborough had sent out during the war.

The Ladies

Rev. J. A. McKenzie eloquently proposed the health of "The Ladies." In doing so he reminded the soldiers of how their mothers and wives and daughters and sweethearts, had been brave enough to "send them away with a smile" and then worked and prayed for them during the years they were away.

The gathering sang, "For They Are Jolly Fellows," in honouring the toast.

Capt. T. A. Morrow, M.C., in replying, expressed the gratitude of the soldiers generaly for the splendid work the ladies had done in their behalf, and called for three cheers for the ladies, which were given with a will.

Gunner Fred Stevens, of the 4th Battery, one of the Original Firsts, who reached France in February, 1915, and who returned with his unit a week ago, told the gathering of some of the experiences of his battery, telling how the men had "stuck" through all kinds of hardships.

The banquet was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem.

Some men who are always complaining about hard times would consider it an insult if anyone were to offer them a job.

It is a wise contrivance of nature that prevents a man's slumbers from being disturbed by his own snores.

HAVE YOU SEEN HOW "NEPONSET" STOOD THE SIDE WALK TEST ON GEORGE STREET?

On Wednesday, April 23rd, we put a strip down opposite our George street entrance. Since then it has stood the snow and frost of the latter part of the week; the slush of the melting snow; the bright sunshine, and the steady rain of Thursday last, together with the constant tread of the continuous traffic on George street, and yet it looks about as good as new.

It does not buckle, it does not crack. It lies perfectly flat on the sidewalk without anything to hold it in place. It will lie just as perfectly on your floor, and if it will stand up under the sidewalk test that we have given it for the last ten days, do you not think it will stand the wear and tear of an ordinary home?

There is a "NEPONSET" pattern for practically every room in the house. 16 good designs are here for you to do your choosing from.

Trouble in the Shipyards

Minister of Labour Will Confer With Representatives.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, May 2.—Next Tuesday a conference of Marine Trades Federation representatives and representatives of the shipbuilding plants from Port Arthur to Halifax will meet at the call of the Minister of Labour. A very serious situation has arisen between the employers and employees in this industry. Unless the conference results in a settlement it is likely that industrial trouble will occur in the shipyards, according to the officials of the Union. Some weeks ago the Marine Trades Federation met with the employers at Ottawa, but the conference was adjourned without settlement. Since then the employers, through their secretary, A. A. Wright, have acquainted the Minister of Labour with their policy.

The Marine Trades Federation is composed of the members of various unions working in the shipyards from Port Arthur to Halifax, among them being pattern makers, moulders, machinists, boiler makers, blacksmiths and other trades.

Bolshevism In South Africa

Government Will Register All Aliens and Deport Agitators—the Returned Soldiers' Stand.

(Canadian Press.)

CAPETOWN, May 2.—In connection with the recent disturbance in Johannesburg between the International Socialists, advocating Bolshevism, and the returned soldiers, Hon. Mr. Malan, the Acting Premier, announced that the government would immediately introduce a bill providing for the registration of all aliens and removal of people participating in Bolshevist or other dangerous propaganda.

Most Gripping Picture Ever Shown Here

Henry B. Walthall in "The Long Lane's Turning" at the Empire.

The cast of The Birth of a Nation is with Henry B. Walthall in his latest production, "The Long Lane's Turning," which is appearing at the Empire to-night and to-morrow. The picture is a sensational story of politics and love—a strong man's regeneration by a woman's faith.

Walthall takes the part of the talented lawyer, who spurred his wits with whiskey, lost his first case when he was drunk, and sent an innocent man to the penitentiary. This incident dragged both men to the depths of degradation, but one of them came back.

If you miss this picture to-night or to-morrow you will miss one of the most interesting pictures ever seen in Peterboro.

Bakers Threaten To Go On Strike

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, May 2.—P. D. Wall, business agent of the Bakers' Union, announces that unless the Master Bakers agree to the terms of the men there will be no bread baked on Monday and the men will go on strike. The men are demanding $28 a week of 39 hours. There will be a mass meeting on Saturday afternoon to formulate a plan of action.

OPENING ANNOUNCEMENT

We wish to inform the public that we have purchased the Grocery and Butcher Business recently conducted by Goheen & Matchett at 196-198 Rubidge St. Present conditions call for a radical change in the methods of handling Groceries and Provisions in order to place the necessities of life within the reach of all. It is not our intention to conduct the ordinary "Corner Grocery" where the profits are usually out of proportion to the turnover. Rather shall it be our aim to handle such a volume of business as will enable us to maintain a scale of prices that will SAVE YOU MONEY. For our mutual benefit therefore we respectfully solicit your patronage. For our Opening Day Only, SATURDAY, MAY 3rd, we are quoting the Following Unusual Prices:

Was Presented With Gold Watch

Deuro Soldier Went Overseas With 93rd Battalion.

On monday evening the many friends of Pte. Thos J. Fitzgerald assembled at his home in Deuro and presented him with a handsome gold watch.

Pte. Fitzgerald had enlisted in Peterboro with the 93rd Battalion, and had gone overseas with that unit where he remained on active service until the armistice was signed.

Mr. Edward Leahy presented the gift while Mr. Michael Walsh read the following address:

Dear Tom:—We, a few of your many friends have assembled here this evening for the purpose of trying in our feeble manner to show our appreciation and to extend to you our heartiest congratulations.

We, as your life long friends, are placed in a more or less awkward position to extend to you this heartiest wish. We feel sure it is not necessary for us in honoring you this evening to give a complete review of your life during the past four years Four years of untold hardship for you no doubt, hardship which has won for you the one grand hero. Many were the trials you have undergone and did so with the heart of a gallant soldier. You were willing to endure them all for the sake of humanity. You were wounded but still you rallied only to be wounded again. But a kind Providence in His wisdom has seen fit to spare your life and we feel sure that life will be a happy and prosperous one.

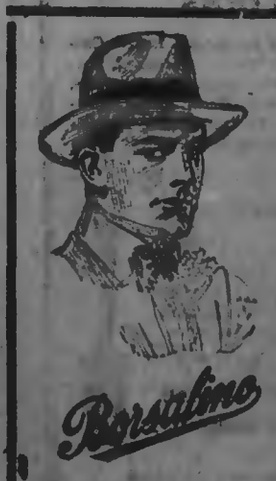
During those years you fought between life and death on those blood-stained fields of France, fighting as only a man with a conscience can. We are glad to note that your country has recognized your courage and endurance by awarding you the Military Medal.

In conclusion we ask you to accept this small gift as a token of appreciation for you and ask you not to look upon it not for its intrinsic value but as a fond momento of your former friends.

Pte. Fitzgerald made a suitable reply thanking his friends for their kindness and good wishes. The remainder of the evening was spent in music and dancing.

A wagging tongue often spoils a lot of nice sweet silence.

Many a ball room dress in covering a warm heart reaches its limit.



The Quality never changes. Borsalino Hats are kept up to the highest standard The quality finish and the colors are beyond comparison. Come in and see them

Apsley Veterans Welcomed Home

Will Form a Branch of the G.W.V.A.

APSLEY, April 30. — A reception to the returned men of this district was held at Apsley on St. George's Day, April 23rd, under the auspices of the Anglican churches of the Mission of Apsley.

The proceedings commenced with a patriotic service at St. George's Church at which a large congregation was present.

The Rector, the Rev. C. A. G. Spence, delivered a stirring address appreciative of the sacrifices made by the "men and heroes of the C.E.F." extending hearty and loving congratulations from the four churches of his mission to them on their safe return. He pointed out that the principles for which they fought were identical with those for which St. George, the patron saint of England, laid down his life, 1700 years ago. He begged the returned men to continue to uphold and fight for those principles in their civil life, that the glory and fame of Canada won by their heroic deeds should not be clouded by acts which already threateningly appeared on the horizon, in the shape of alleged exposures of graft and corruption.

An impressive scene occurred when at the close of the address, after the speaker had eloquently referred to those who had made the supreme sacrifice, at his request the whole congregation stood with bowed heads in utter silence for one minute as a tribute to them.

Good music and singing was a feature of the service, the surpliced choir rendering the Easter anthem, "Awake Thou that Sleepest" finely, the soprano solo being sung by Miss Doris Spence.

The Reception.

After the service the reception was held in the Parish Hall, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Refreshments and ice cream were served, the latter being supplied by Mrs. Jones.

Mr. Spence suggested to the men the advisability of forming a branch of the Great War Veterans Association, or a reading room and club room, where they could spend a social hour or two when they were in the village, and offered the free use of the parish hall until they had secured a building of their own. This matter will be discussed when the rest of the men return.

Sergt. Downing in a neat speech, expressed on behalf of himself and comrades, thanks for the splendid welcome that had been extended to them, which was quite unexpected.

The rest of the evening was devoted to dancing, and a thoroughly good time was enjoyed till after midnight

BEING AN EDITOR.

Most any man can be an editor, mourns a contemporary. All the editor has to do is to sit at a desk six days a week, four weeks a month, and twelve months in a year and edit such stuff as this:

"Mrs. Jones, of Cactus Creek, let a can-opener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry. Joe Doe climbed on the roof of his house last week looking for a leak and fell, landing on his back porch. While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social last Saturday night a savage dog attacked them and bit Mr. Green on the public square. Mr. Frank, while harnessing a broncho last Saturday, was kicked just south of his corn crib."

CONCRETE OUT OF SEAWEED

English Combine It With a Slag and Use It for Building Purposes

LONDON.—A novel use has been found here for seawood. Combined with crushed slag and other heretofore neglected waste mineral products, it is used to make a kind of concrete out of which are being fashioned building bricks and blocks. The seaweed acts as a binding and strengthening element.

Arrangements are being made to put up a large number of houses composed entirely of these blocks, and it is predicted that the material, owing to its cheapness, will aid in solving the housing problem.

Not only the foundations and walls but the doors, window frames and mantelpieces are to be constructed of the new concrete. The houses are to be made in sections and bolted together. The window frame is a new idea in itself. The glass, in one large pane, slips into a slot, and the edges of molding are then turned over so as to grip it. To mend a broken window will be a simple matter, and will not require the services of a glazier.

It is said that dwellings made of the concrete will be warm and thoroughly damp proof.

DR. RIGBY LECTURED IN MILLBROOK

Interesting Story of Life of Richard Brinsley Sheridan

MILLBROOK, May 1.—It was a fascinating story that Dr. Rigby of Port Hope told his hearers on Monday night in the Parish Hall of St. Thomas' Church of the life of Richard Brinsley Sheridan, dramatist, statesman, orator, who was born in Dublin, Ireland, on Oct. 30, 1751 and died sixty-five years later in London. His mortal remains were given the supreme honor of being interred in Westminster Abbey, and the funeral was attended by all the notables of every rank of his time. Dr. Rigby has not been in Millbrook for twenty years and when here at that time, he lectured on another prominent Irishman, Oliver Goldsmith. The doctor held the attention of his audience for an hour and a half. Beginning his lecture in an adroit manner by dwelling on Sheridan's love affairs he early secured the attention of his audience. It may be said that the various selections from Sheridan's plays: "The Rivals," and "The School for Scandal," were given with more than ordinary power and effectiveness.

Canon Allen presided and a musical program was acceptably rendered by Mrs. Allen, Miss McBean, Miss Van Nest and Mr. Stewart Balcombe. A most hearty vote of thanks was moved to the lecturer by Dr. Lee, supported by Rev. Jos. Wilkes and suitably conveyed by the chairman. The singing of the National Anthem brought a most enjoyable and instructive meeting to a close. The proceeds are for the Woman's Auxiliary.

48-HOUR WEEK

LONDON, May 2.—In a letter to the National Industrial Council, which resumed its sittings in London Premier Lloyd George wrote that a bill was being drafted to give effect to the recommendation of the council for a 48-hour week.

The Premier added that a commission also would be set up to give effect to the principle of a minimum rate of wages in all industries to be made applicable by law.

Plant For Recharging Batteries Complete

Five Gallon Gasoline Pumper in Action Day and Evening.

We beg to announce that our plant for recharging batteries is now complete and in perfect working order. Also that our system is complete so that we can put air in the tires of three cars at once, that is on the street, ground floor and in the basement.

Our five gallon gasolene pumper is in action day and evening, with Mr. Bert Lucas in charge at all times, which assures strict attention and no waiting.

We handle only the highest grades of oils, greases and gasolene.

DUFFUS GARAGE.

STILL WORE HIS STARS.

Returned Officer Sets New Fashion in Civilian Attire.

TORONTO, May 1.—A new fashion of dress for returned officers was noticed here on a Bloor car. Trench coats are very popular, but trench coats with the stars of rank left on for civilian wear is decidedly new.

This young man wore three stars on each shoulder, and the coat did not have the appearance of one that had been through much war. But its wearer was quite brazen in the face of fascinated stares from other returned officers and men aboard the car. He was forgiven by those who saw only on the gracious supposition that he did not know he wore the stars.

SAPPER GEORGE MARTIN RENEWS ACQUAINTANCES

Sapper George Martin arrived at his home in Peterboro from overseas last Thursday and was in Norwood on Wednesday renewing acquaintances. Sapper Martin was about 42 months in the trenches and escaped injury. He enlisted at Norwood in October 1914. Sapper Martin was also a veteran of the South African war and is wearing King's and Queen's S. A. ribbons and the 1914 and 15 Star He was in the big Messines battle and Sanctuary Wood engagement. Spr. Martin expects to move to Norwood shortly.—Norwood Register.

Oddfellows Parade to Millbrook Church

Interesting Discourse by Rev. Wm. Higgs

MILLBROOK, May 1.—On Sunday last, the members of I.O.D.E., and Golden Sheaf Rebecca Lodges, atended in a body service in the Methodist Church. This was the largest number of the I.O.D.E. ever at service together in Millbrook. It was very fitting that it should be so for it was the 100th Anniversary of the Organization of Oddfellowship.

Rev. William Higgs first welcomed the Rebecca and the Oddfellows and proceeding spoke briefly of the occasion which brought so many Odd Fellows and their friends together, and of the wonderful development of the Order. For a text the preacher took James 1: 27.—"Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father in this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world." He showed how the text defined the only religion which commended itself to the Almighty. The receiving of God's word in all sincerity and allowing it to control our lives, not allowing merely interest our minds. Impurity has been the sin of the ages, casting its blight over the lives of rich and poor, but the purpose of God is to cleanse us from sin, and to sanctify us unto holy living.

The congregation was unusually large and the singing, led by the choir very fine indeed.

Millbrook Pastor Accepts a Call to Madoc Church

MILLBROOK, May 1.—Rev. H. Higgs has received an unanimous invitation from the official Board of Madoc Methodist Church to become Pastor of that charge next Conference year. He has accepted it subject to the will of Conference. Mr. Higgs has been minister on Millbrook circuit for the past four years and during that time has fulfilled his duties as Pastor most creditably. His services have been earnest and helpful. He and his estimable family have made many warm friends in Millbrook and Cavan, who will regret to learn that they are about to leave here, but will wish them every success at Madoc or wherever Conference moves them. They will be a splendid addition to any community that is fortunate enough to have them in their midst.

Voice of The People

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—At last night's banquet to the returned soldiers of this city no person was more eagerly listened to no one spoke more to the point, than Mr. Turner. That gentleman has proved on many occasions that he is a big-hearted patriot and a true friend to the returned soldier, as witness the manner in which he so largely contributed toward making the banquet a success. Therefore I am sure he will not take umbrage at having a portion of his speech criticised by one of the "Originals."

In his excellent and pointed address Mr. Turner mentioned the Originals, and he gave it as his opinion that not only the First, but the second and Third contingents were entitled to the name "Originals." On that point I beg to differ with Mr. Turner.

The name "Originals" can only be properly applied to those units of the First Division which enlisted at the first call to arms, who trained at Valcartier, crossed the Atlantic in September, 1914, suffered the misery and mud of Salisbury Plain and fought at St. Julien, Festubert and Givenchy.

There is glory enough for every battalion that left these shores without depriving the First Contingent of their only distinction; that of bearing the well-merited name of "Originals." The units that composed the First Contingent were no better trained, the men composing them were no braver than those who followed later, but they were the first to respond to the call of the Motherland and they left a heritage of valour and self-sacrifice which those units which followed later bravely lived up to.

The First Division showed the world that the Canadians could fight. It's men left Canada handicapped by the fact that, apart from the fighting in South Africa, they were an unknown quantity so far as their soldierly qualities were concerned. The standard they set was ever after nobly maintained by the battalions that followed in their footsteps, and the Firsts established the right of Canadians to fight alongside the British soldiers as equals.

Therefore, let us give honour where honour is due. We of the "Originals" are rather jealous of our title.

Yours truly,
Gordon Hill Grahame,

OBITUARY

EMMA MIDDLETON

The death occurred this morning about six o'clock at 186 Landsdowne street, of Emma Middleton, beloved wife of Mr. H. Castle. Death was due to pleuro-pneumonia, from which she had been suffering for only five days. Besides her husband she leaves one son and one daughter, Everett and Mrs. R. Scully, four sisters and one brother, Mrs. Douglas, city; Mrs. Newel and Mrs. Alfred, of Toronto, Mrs. Bowers, of Buffalo; and James Middleton, city.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock from the above address to Little Lake Cemetery.

PATRICK O'BRIEN.

After an illness of just one week, Patrick O'Brien, 894 Bolivar street, died this morning. He was a native of Ireland and came to Canada thirty-eight years ago. The surviving members of his family are his wife and five sons and two daughters, John, Thomas and Joseph at home, Michael of Saskatoon and David of Lindsay, and Miss Katherine O'Brien of Toronto, and Mrs T. Buckley, of Lindsay. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the family residence, 894 Bolivar street, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to St. Paul's cemetery.

WEDDING BELLS

HICKEY—FAIR

[illegible] was quietly solemnized in Knox Church yesterday afternoon at 1:15 of Lottie Irene Fair daughter of Mr. Valentine Fair of 206 Wescott street and Daniel Thom as Pacey. They were attended by Miss Trucie Pearson and Mr. Neill Porter. After the ceremony which was performed by Rev. J. A. MacKenzie a wedding breakfast was served at the brides' home after which Mr. and Mrs. Pacey left by the 3.35 for a wedding trip in the west. They will reside in Western Canada.

RAE—McMILLAN

Very quietly the marriage took place at St. James Square Presbyterian Church, Gerrard street, Toronto, at three o'clock, Wednesday, April 30th, of Alexandria, youngest daughter of Mrs. E. McMillan, Markdale, and Norman Allan Rae, of Oshawa, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rae, Peterborough. Rev. D. N. Morden performed the ceremony.

The bride wore her travelling suit of navy blue with ermine fur and bouquet of orchids and sweet peas.

Mrs. H. Noble, sister of the bride, was matron of honour, and Mrs. G. Ferguson played the wedding march.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for a short honeymoon after which they will reside in Oshawa.

EDWARD EARL HAS GAINED 30 POUNDS

Gets Complete Relief From Suffering of Five Years Standing.

"When I tell you I have gotten complete relief from five years of suffering and have actually gained thirty pounds besides, you can see why I think so much of Tanlac." said Edward Earl, of 17 McGregor Ave., West, Toronto, Ontario, recently.

"My stomach was so badly out of order," he continued, "that I couldn't digest a thing, and my food would lie in my stomach like lead. I would bloat up terribly with gas and had pains all through my sides and around my heart. I had dizzy spells that almost made me blind; my sleep was poor; I felt tired and sluggish and really dreaded for meal time to come.

"Although I tried all kinds of medicines I kept getting worse and never found a bit of relief till I started taking Tanlac. My stomach trouble has entirely disappeared, with all the gas, pain and nervousness, and am feeling well and strong in every way. My appetite is fine; I sleep like a log and all my weak dizzy feelings are gone."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

Police Captain on Deathbed Quits in Favour of a Friend

Charles A. Place Clears Way for Lieut. McAuley as Promotion List Nears Expiration.

NEW YORK, May 2. — Making his last act in life a testimonial to a devoted friend, Captain Charles A. Place, of Sub-division D, Traffic Squad, yesterday applied for retirement from the Police Department, so that Lieutenant James McAuley, first on the eligible list for promotion, which expired at midnight to-night, might be elevated to the rank of Captain.

Captain Place died at St. Elizabeth's Hospital at half past seven last night assured that Commissioner Enright would act on his request today, and make way for the appointment of Lieutenant McAuley in his stead.

Captain Place, who lived at No. 2493 Valentine ave., the Bronx, had been in the police department since July 24, 1895. He was one of the most popular officers on the force and a favorite of the newspaper men. For some time Captain Place had been in the hospital suffering from cancer, and his death was expected momentarily. Hearing yesterday that Lieutenant McAuley was the first on the list, which has only a few hours to go before expiration, Captain Place sent for his friend and the Rev. John J. Coogan, Roman Catholic chaplain of the Police Department.

In spite of Lieutenant McAuley's insistence that he remain in the Department, Captain Place declared it his dying wish that an application blank for retirement be obtained. The request was telephoned to the police headquarters and a messenger in a fast automobile carried the blank to the bedside of the dying captain. With faltering hand Captain Place filled out the paper, and after it was sworn to he requested that it be returned without delay to police headquarters and submitted to Commissioner Enright.

Captain Place uttered few words during the unusual incident, being obliged for the most part to resort to signs. As Captain Place was beyond the age limit for retirement, and met other requirements for leaving the force on pension his request had to be granted, making it reasonably certain that Lieutenant McAuley some time to-day will be appointed to a captaincy.

When Commissioner Enright received an appropriation from the Board of Estimates last week to appoint ten new captains, Lieutenant McAuley was tenth on the list. At the last moment Lieutenant George Haerle obtained a new rating from the Municipal Civil Service Commission and nosed out Lieutenant McAuley, who has been in the police department since January 8, 1896. He lives at No. 926 Putnam avenue, Brookly.

HOW A YOUNG GIRL SUFFERED

And Was Restored to Health By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Told By Her Mother.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For three months she was under the doctor's care and got no better, always complaining about her back and side aching so I didn't know what to do. I read in the papers about your wonderful medicine so I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and doesn't complain any more with her back and side aching. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. FIORE, 516 Marcy Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

MRS BALFAME

By GERTRUDE ATHERTON

"Not mine. Tell me at once—No."—He rose and took up his hat—"never mind now. Think it over. You will tell me in a day or two. Just remember while watching all my little seeds sprout that you can help me save a fine fellow and put my heel on a snake—a murderess! Pough! There's nothing so obscene. Good-night."

She did not rise as he let himself out, but sat beside her cold stove thinking and crying until her mother called her to come in and go to bed.

CHAPTER XV

Mrs. Balfame, after she dismissed the newspaper men, went up to her bedroom and sat very still for a long while. She was apprehensive rather than frightened, but she felt very sober.

She had accepted the assurance of the local chief of police that his enquiry regarding the pistol was a mere matter of routine, and had merely obeyed a normal interest in concealing it. But she knew the intense interest of her community in the untimely and mysterious exit of one of its most notorious members, an interest raised to the superlative degree by the attentions of the metropolitan press; and she knew also that when a community is excited suspicions are rapidly translated into proof, and every clue feeds the appetite for a victim.

The European war was a dazzling example on the grand scale of the complete breakdown of intellect before the primitive passions of hatred, greed, envy, and the recurrent desire of man to kill, combined with that monstrous dilation of the ego which consoles him with a childish belief in his own impeccability.

The newspapers of course pandered to the taste of their patrons for morbid vicarious excitement; she had glanced contemptuously at the headlines of her own "Case," and had accepted her temporary notoriety as a matter of course, schooled herself to patience; the ordeal was scarifying but of necessity brief.

But these young men. They had insinuated—what had they not insinuated? Either they had extraordinary powers of divination, or they were a highly specialised branch of the detective force. They had asked questions and forced answers from her that made her start and shiver in the retrospect.

Was it possible they believed she had murdered David Balfame, or were they merely seeking material for a few more columns before the case died a natural death? She had never been interviewed before, save once superficially as President of the Friday Club, but she knew one or two of the county editors, and Alys Crumley had sometimes amused her with stories of her experiences as a New York reporter.

These young men, so well-groomed, so urbane, so charming even, all of them no doubt generously equipped to love and marry and protect with their lives the girl of their choice, were they too but the soldiers of an everlasting battlefield, often at bay and desperate in the trenches? No matter how good their work, how great their "killing," the struggle must be renewed daily to maintain their own footing, to advance, or at least to uphold, the power of their little autocracy. To them journalism was the most important thing in the world, and mere persons like herself, suddenly lifted from obscurity to the brassy peaks of notoriety were so much material for first page columns of the newspapers they served with all the loyalty of those deluded soldiers on the European battlefields. She understood them with an abrupt and complete clarity, but she hated them. They might like and even admire her, but they would show her no mercy if they discovered that she had been in the yard that night.

But finally her brow relaxed. She shrugged her shoulders and began to unbutton the dense black gown that had expressed the mood the world demands of a four-days' widow. Let them suspect, divine what they chose. Not a soul on earth but Anna Steuer knew that she had been out that night after her return home. Even had those lynx-eyed young men sat on the box hedge they would not have seen her, for the avenue was well lighted, and the grove, the entire yard in fact, had been as black as a mine. Even the person skulking among the trees could not have guessed who she was.

For a moment she had been tempted to tell them a little; that she had looked out and seen a moving shadow in the grove. But she had remembered in time that they would ask why she had reserved this testimony at the coroner's inquest. Her role was to know nothing. Indubitably the shot had been fired from the trees; nobody questioned that; why involve herself? They would discharge still another set of questions at her, among others why she had not telephone for the police.

As she hung up her gown she recognized the heavy footfalls of her maid of all work, and when Frieda knocked, bade her enter, employing those cool impersonal tones so resented by the European servant after a brief sojourn on the dedicated American soil.

As the girl closed the door behind her without speaking, Mrs. Balfame turned sharply. She felt at a disadvantage. As her figure was reasonably slim, she wore a cheap corset which she washed once a month in the bath tub with her nail brush; and her linen, although fresh, as ever, was of stout longcloth, and unrelieved by the coquetry of ribbons. She wore a serviceable tight petticoat of black jersey, beyond which her well-shod feet seemed to loom larger than her head. She was vaguely grateful that she had not been caught by Alys Crumley, so fond of sketching her, and was about to order Frieda to untie her tongue and be gone, when she noticed that the girl's face was no longer bound, and asked kindly:

"Has the toothache gone? I hope you do not suffer any longer."

Frieda lifted her small and crafty eyes and shot a suspicious glance at her mistress who had been so indifferent to what she believed to be the worst of all pains.

"It's out."

"Too bad you didn't have it out at once." Mrs. Balfame hastily encased herself in her bath robe and sat down. "I'll take my dinner upstairs—why—what is it?"

"I want to go home."

"Home?"

"To Germany."

"But of course you can't. There are a lot of German reservists in the country who would like to go home and fight, but they can't get past the British."

"Some have. I could."

"How? That is quite interesting."

"I not tell. But I want to go."

"Then go, by all means. But please wait a day or two until I get another girl."

"Plenty girls out of job. I want to go to-morrow."

"Oh, very well. But you can't expect a full month's wages, as it is you that is serving notice, not I."

"I don't want a full month wage. I want five hundred dollar."

Mrs. Balfame turned her amazed eyes upon the girl. Her first thought was that the creature had been driven insane by her letters from home, and wondered if she could overcome her if attacked. Then as she met those small, sharp, crafty eyes, set high in the big stolid face like little deadly guns in a fort, her heart missed a beat. But her own gaze, large and cold, did not waver, and she said satirically:

"Well, I am sure I hope you will get it."

Tired, Overworked Men What You Need is Vinol

Vinol creates strength because it is a non-secret combination of the most famous body-building and strength-creating elements known — Beef and Cod Liver Peptones, Iron and Manganese and Glycerophosphates. You who are run down, nervous, lack energy and working strength, we know that Vinol is what you need. Try it at our risk. Here is Proof:

Sandford, Maine.

"I suffered so much from a run-down, nervous condition and stomach trouble that I never felt like working, and had tried almost everything without relief. The first bottle of Vinol, however, helped me, and it has finally built me up so I feel better now than I have for a long time."—C. D. Foland.

Springfield, Mass.

"I am a night operator—was all run-down, couldn't sleep, had no ambition, all tired out—I had tried blood and nerve tonics without help—and thought I would try Vinol and I must say it has built me up so I feel better, look better and sleep better."—Charles T. Hatcher.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Colour and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

BEWARE OF DECEPTION

Statistics show that when egg albumen is used as a constituent of baking powder, the amount so used is too small (usually 15/100 of 1%) to affect the quality or effectiveness of the baking powder containing it, and when so used, is plainly for the purpose of fraud. Intelligent buyers will not permit themselves to be deceived by the water glass test.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

contains no alum or egg albumen and is guaranteed to be composed of the ingredients printed on the label—and none other.

Man made in the Image of God. — Genesis 1:26-28; 2:7-9; Eph. 4:20-24.

Golden Text: God created man in his own image. Gen. 1:27.

1. Verse 26. To whom was God talking when he said: "Let us make man in our own image?"

2. When God placed man in charge of the world in what stage of development was animal and vegetable life?

3. Would you say or not and why, that there were in the beginning some things in nature that God wanted man to eradicate, some things to improve, and all other things to develop?

4. Verse 27. Why would you say or not, that God can be seen with outward eyes or heard with outward ears?

5. God's image is spiritual or immaterial, mental and moral; consists of personality, free will, reason, memory, love, righteousness and creative force; to what extent, and in what way, was man patterned after God?

6. Verse 28. In how many respects do men resemble other animals and in what respects are men superior and different?

7. Verse 28. What great wisdom has God shown in the fact that he has placed in nature, vegetable, animal and intellectual, an almost irresistible craving to propagate itself?

8. Gen. 2:7-9. What is the proof that man's body is made of the dust of the ground?

9. What is the proof that man's soul is the "breath" or the immortal essence of God?

10. Gen. 2:7-9. How long did it take God to make man and how long did it take him to make a garden, park or agricultural environment where man could fulfill his high destiny?

11. God seems to have put life into every particle of matter, in earth sea and sky; can man make life, or in what respect can he modify, perpetuate and improve it?

12. Eph. 4:20-24. In what respect is the moral image of Christ a duplicate of God?

13. Eph. 4:20-24. What is the moral image of a man who is a finished product of Christ's Gospel? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by the members of the Club.)

14. Why would you say or not that Christ undertakes to restore to the moral image of God, in this life, all sinners who will put themselves into his hands?

15. If a man is not restored by Christ to the moral image of God, why may he, or not, claim to be a Christian?

16. Eph. 4:20-24. If a man has not, 'put off concerning the former conversation the old man, which is corrupt, concerning the deceitful lusts," and claims to be a Christian, how would you characterize him?

17. What is the process through which Christ turns sinners into saints?

18. Would you say or not and why that a sinner changed into the moral image of God is a new creation or the old man made well?

Downeyville Soldiers Were Welcomed Home

DOWNEYVILLE, April 30.—A very large crowd attended the presentation on Wednesday evening last to Ptes. William and Lawrence Carroll. The following is the address presented to them:

Address of welcome to Pte. Lawrence Carroll and Pte. William Carroll:—

Dear Friends:—The flags of battle are furled, the bugle no longer is sounding the call to arms, the dove of peace once more reigns, and the nations rejoice. What a contrast does the world today present to the turmoil that existed during the recent past. The story of your lives for the last two years illustrates this contrast. The flags of your adopted country led you forth to the battle that raged across the ocean in the distant land of France and many a time you answered the call of the bugle and the beat of the drum when your turn came to do your share in the terrible task of subduing the enemy. Your labours in the arduous role of soldiers are now ended and you are here this evening safe and sound in the midst of friends who rejoice over your return. We congratulate you on your safe arrival in your native land and we desire to convey to your parents the expression of our great pleasure over the fact that their deep anxiety about your safety is now happily ended.

We regret to learn that you are about to leave in a few days for the United States. We had hoped that you would remain longer at home and thus afford us a better opportunity of preparing a more fitting reception for you. However, we trust that the heartiness of our welcome will make amends for all defects and that you will return soon to share in the reception we are planning for all our soldier boys. Our best wishes go with you, and we pray that God will protect you as He did during the terrible ordeal of war.

Before you go we ask your acceptance of these watches in token of the esteem in which you are held by your friends at Downeyville, and as an expression of the appreciation we entertain of the valiant part you played in the great war that was fought for the ideals of civilization.

Signed on behalf of your friends.
Charles Lucas. James Lucas.
Albert Meehan. Albert Clanery.

After this was over refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and other amusements until the early hours of the morning.

THE TEXAS NEW-RICH.

AUSTIN, TEXAS. — Many farmers who were poor before the oil boom struck Texas, are organizing new banks, promoting railroads and indulging in various kinds of business enterprises that may soon add to or more likely deprive them of at least a part of their easily acquired gains.

Still others are content, in leisurely fashion that is altogether new to them, to sit down and view the world as it passes by. They seem to be having the time of their lives. They take the greatest delight in occupying the best suites of rooms of the hotels in Fort Worth and Dallas and in some instances they even venture as far away as Chicago, St. Louis and New York, where they indulge in the best that is to be had.

One of the serious effects of the oil boom in a score or more of counties is the blight that it has placed upon farming operations. Farmers who have already reaped a fortune from oil leases are not disposed to go in for growing crops. Upon thousands of acres no steps have been taken to plant any kind of crop this season.

CALLS "JAZZ" DANCE DISEASE

Reverend Canon Drummond Shocked By "Atrocity"

LONDON—At the recent annual meeting of the Maidenhead Preventive and Rescue Association, Canon Drummon strongly condemned jazz dancing. He declared that people had lost their "sense of high respect for themselves," and that "mean, low entertainment appealed to them."

One of the most degrading symptoms of the present day, in the opinion of the canon, was shown in Maidenhead by the announcement that somebody's jazz band would play at certain dances. According to the report of his speech in the Times, he said he had not personal experience of the art of jazz dancing, and only knew it by what he read and heard; but it seemed to him to be a most degrading condition for any part of society to get into to encourage a dance so low, so demoralizing and of such a low origin—the dance of low negroes in America, with every conceivable crude instrument, not to make music but to make a noise. It was one symptom of a very grave disease which was infesting the country and which had something to do with creating more work for preventive and rescue associations.

Preparations for Erection of the Lakefield Memorial Hall

Ruins of Old Town Hall Are Being Removed and Site Cleaned Up —Lakefield News.

LAKEFIELD, May 2.—Work is progressing at the old town hall site in taking down the brick walls and piling the undamaged bricks. It is hoped very soon that work will be begun on the Memorial Hall.

Lakefield has a very creditable honor roll and a good many of the boys have made the supreme sacrifice. Officially as a village, Lakefield did little or nothing for the departing soldiers and nothing for the returned and returning heroes. A memorial hall would be a lasting monument to the men who gave their lives in the service of King and Country.

Returned Soldiers

Pte. John Coughlin, son of Martin Coughlin returned home from overseas last week. He had been away for more than a year.

Pte James Sullivan, son of the late Mr. Timothy Sullivan, who has just returned from overseas was in the village on Tuesday after an absence of sixteen years. He was accompanied by his brother, Mr. Dennis Sullivan and they were guests of their uncle Mr. Thomas Sullivan.

Pte. Theodore Manning returned home on Monday evening. Pte. Manning was one of the first to enlist in C. company of the 93rd battalion. He served for two years in France with the 18th battalion. He came over on the "Adriatic."

Train Wrecked.

A letter has been received from Mrs. Sherman Hill, stating that the train on which she travelled to Nebraska was wrecked near Council Bluffs and seven persons were killed and a number injured. She and her little son escaped injury.

THEY NEED THE MONEY TO SELL INSTRUMENTS

HELSINGFORS, Finland, May 1st—The Bolsheviki Commissioner for the Interior at Petrograd ordered the sale at auction last week of all the scientific instruments belonging to the institute for public studies. These instruments are very valuable and are said to have been sold at very low figures.

Why Can't I Get to Sleep?

Thousands of people all over the country ask this question but still continue to toss night after night on a sleepless bed and it is impossible for them to get a full night's refreshing sleep.

Some constitutional disturbance, worry or disease, has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system that it cannot be quieted except by the pernicious use of opiates or narcotics. Or again, you have heart palpitation, and sensation sinking, a feeling you are going to die, or perhaps you wake up in your sleep feeling as though you were about to choke or smother, and the only way that you can get relief is to sit up in bed.

To all who suffer in this way, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills offer an inestimable boon. They bring back the much needed night's rest by improving the tone of the nerves, strengthen the heart, enriching the blood and making the whole organization act in harmony—then you sleep as peaceful as a child.

Mrs. James Latimer, 39 Leinster St., St. John, N. B., writes: "At night I could not sleep. I had to sit up in bed, my heart beat so fast and when I walked up stairs I would get all out of breath. A friend recommended Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after using two boxes I can sleep all night, and am not out of breath after walking."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers, or mailed direct, on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Restoring the French Wells

The Authorities have Cleaned more Than 400 Defiled by the Germans.

PARIS, Restoration work being carried out in the devastated regions of Northern France has included so far the cleaning out of more than 400 wells which had been rendered unusable, it was announced by M. Lebrun, the Minister of the Liberated Regions, in an address delivered at the Inter-Allied Social Hygiene Congress here.

"We hope that before the summer is over that all the liberated villages of France will be provided with the necessary amount of drinking water," the Minister said. "The municipalities of a great many towns and boroughs are already engaged in reconstruction work, adhering strictly to the rules of hygiene. The work includes the laying of water mains and drainage pipes and the clearing out of open spaces, gardens, etc. We are also trying to contract for public buildings, such as schools, markets, etc., in conformity with regional types of construction, while with regard to dwelling houses we are placing at the disposal of the inhabitants the plans of model houses which may prove useful in the construction of their ruined homes. The distribution of 10,000 of these plans has been begun. In addition measures are to be taken to maintain the houses in a sanitary condition."

M. Lebrun said that every effort was being made to give the population of the devastated regions all it required in the way of help. With private assistance canteens have been organized to feed the needy and centres created for the assistance of the sick. Measures to prevent the coming generation suffering the consequences of the privations they had to endure during the war, the Minister added, included furnishing every child with a card for sanitary records.

Such of the little ones as are found upon examination to be in a condition sufficiently serious to warrant such a step, will be taken to the seaside, the mountains, or other parts of the country, for treatment and recuperation.

WOMAN SHOOTS HUSBAND WHILE HE IS ON STAND IN SUIT FOR DIVORCE

CHICAGO, Ill., April 30.—A divorce case in Judge Brothers' court came to a dramatic close here, when Mrs. Elmer R. Simpson shot her husband, who was on the witness stand, through the mouth, inflicting probably a fatal wound.

Simpson was testifying quietly. Suddenly his wife leaped to her feet. "That's a lie," she cried, and fired. Simpson crumpled up in the chair, blood oozing from his mouth. Mrs. Simpson was arrested and court adjourned.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are even just a little hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength) and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water, and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy, and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone losing hearing or who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

3 Million Dollars for a Phonograph

THREE—MILLION—DOLLARS! That's what it cost to perfect an instrument which would RE-CREATE music so faithfully that no one could tell whether it was the living artist he heard or the phonograph—when he heard one pitted against the other. Add to the three million dollars Thomas A. Edison's experience and genius and you see how much was required to evolve

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

"Now go ahead and build replicas," said Mr. Edison to his staff when he had finally achieved an instrument which would meet the tone test. "Call it the Official Laboratory Model and uphold the standard I have set to the last detail."

We're displaying this $3,000,000 phonograph in our store. Come in and see it. If you conclude to purchase and prefer to make payments at intervals you'll find we can meet your needs.

Thieves Are Often Superstitious

Some of the most notorious criminals, who, it might have been thought, would not pay the slighest attention to omens, good or bad, have a profound belief in superstitions of all kinds.

Curiously enough, the burglar will often relinquish a big burgling feat if a dream the night before has warned him that he will be in danger. But should it happen that he sees a rainbow during the day he will consider it to portend that, however reckless he may be, he is not likely to fall into the hands of the police for a space of three months.

Many burglars carry a donkey's shoe in their pockets before setting out, believing that this will protect them from danger, while others pin their faith to a piece of coal, which they will carry in their pockets throughout their career.

The pickpocket is equally superstitious. He will not rob a person who squints, this being accounted a certain sign of disaster, and if it happens that the purse he steals contains foreign as well as English money it is believed to augur that he will travel a good deal in the immediate future, but whether in the company of a couple or wardens or not there is nothing to show.

Weddings and funerals are pregnant with meaning for the professional thief. To pick a pocket at a funeral would be to court immediate disaster, whereas if a purse stolen at a wedding contains gold it portends the best of luck for the thief.

Some pickpockets have a favourite pair of boots that they wear as long as they can keep them on their feet, and if they are not arrested while wearing them they cut the boots up into little square pieces and give them away as "lucky tokens" to confederates.

THE HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

Pleasant Evening Reveries—A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle at Evening Tide

Now, Mother, if you have been worrying about your thirteen-year-old daughter and treating her as a harum-scarum renegade instead of a human being, let me advise you to call this girl in and have her assist you in filling out a score card to determine your rank as a mother of such a daughter. Perhaps this will help you to be more patient with her and it may suggest ways whereby you might improve your record. Have her help you as follows:

1. Taking proper care of your own health.
2. Status as a house companion and guide for the children.
3. Attitude toward the school, the church, and the community.
4. Reasonableness in matters of dress and personal appearane.
5. Patience in dealing with the daughter's peculiar desires and tastes.
6. Motherly guidance in the performance of house work.
7. Informing the daughter as to the secrets of life.
8. Home instruction in regard to thrift and frugality.
9. Attitude toward daughter's future marriage and motherhood.
10. Womanly disposition toward society and the nation.

The idea of the first point is to emphasize the fact that the care of personal health is fundamental for motherhood. A sick mother is scarcely ever fair and just in her treatment of the young daughter.

Point two is intended to emphasize the need of furnishing home entertainment and sociability.

Number three indicates the need of connecting the home training with that of the great institutions co-ordinate with the home.

Some mothers dress too shabbily, others too gaudily to be helpful guides and companions to their daughters.

Every growing girl has a right to her own peculiar fads and fancies, her pastimes and her advocations. Not every mother recognizes this right.

Some mothers hold their girls overmuch upon the humdrum of house work and make them sick of it all. Others cheat and spoil their daughters by teaching them none of it. Every girl has the right to be taught how to perform all the common duties of housekeeping.

Mothers should impart to their daughters the simple elements of personal hygiene and should tell enough about the origin of life to satisfy curiosity.

The best home instruction as to thrift and frugality for the daughter is that given by means of precept illustrated by concrete example in the management of the family budget. The housekeepers of America spend many millions of dollars per day. They need much early instruction in order to become able to handle these vast sums economically. Score closely here.

The welfare of the nation depends upon the integrity of the common family, and this in turn is very closely related to the compatibility of the man and wife. The mother who is not prepared to teach her growing daughter how to know a good, marriageable man is lacking in her maternal equipment. Of course, much of this training is given in various indirect ways, and is to extend through the so-called teen years of the girl's life.

To mothers largely is due the formation of their children's character. If she is vain and frivolous, wanting in those strong qualities at heart and head, the children will likewise imbibe much of her nature; but so much has been written on a mother's great influence over her children that there is but one little thought left to be said. To the toiling and careworn mothers all over the land our heart goes out in deepest sympathy, and I would say where you have good comfortable homes consider yourselves happy, and hold yourselves up with as much dignity as the queens of the earth, for who has a fairer right to the good things of earth than you?

Our sense of the value of the family needs to be revivified and roused The family, the great institution of paradise, the scene of purest love, the nursery of infancy, and the stimulus and shelter of all the virtues! Each man and woman has a duty to this end. A homeless civilization is sure to be a satanic one; the vices will flourish and the virtues be nipped by the untimely frost. Back of the good man must needs be the good household. Here and there may be a saint and an apostle won from the dens of vice; but, unless the den be reformed, a miracle only can insure the safety of the new convert. In the future, as in the past, the solid and reliable men and women, the leaders in business and society, will be found in the quiet and holy homes of the land.

People who have warm friends are healthier and happier than those who have none. A single real friend is a treasure worth more than gold or precious stones.

All success is a series of efforts, in which, when closely viewed, are seen more or less failures. The mountain is apt to overthrow the hill, but a hill is reality nevertheless. If you fail now and then don't be discouraged. Bear in mind it is only the part and experience of every successful man, and the most successful men often have the most failures.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble. Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk), is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigour and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro phosphate,which is inexpensive and sold by McDermid & Jury in Peterboro and most all druggists under a guarantee of entire satisfaction or your money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION:— Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

BUTLERS PLENTIFUL IN LONDON—MAIDS SCARCE

LONDON.—Demobilization is returning men servantsto England in ever increasing numbers, and the wealthy householder has no difficulty now in hiring a butler, footman, groom, chauffeur or page boy. The shortage of women servants, however, daily becomes more acute. Unlike the women, the men have no objection to returning to their old indoor domestic jobs. The reason, according to West End employment agency manager, is that the male indoor servant is chosen mainly for decorativep urposes—the women do the work.

Parlor maids are now demanding the salary of a trained typist. Some are highly particular about hours, quality of food and conditions of employment. One notified an agency she would work from 9 to 5 only, with time off for meals.

It is said that the pre-war mistress is prepared now to be much more considerate of her servants than she was in the old days.

A Beloved Princess.

Princess Patricia of Connaught will always hold a very warm place in the affections of Canadians. Her six years' residence here when she entered so heartily into Canadian life, would assure that. But more particularly is she linked with the Dominion, for all time, through the gallant "Princess Pats," the Canadian battalion named for her, which won such glory in France and Flanders. Her Royal Highness is indeed gazetted as honorary colonel-in-chief of this famous Canadian battalion. At the wedding of their honorary colonel twenty-four of the original "Pats" served as a guard of honor.

Princess Patricia loved Canada. She loved the winter, with its sparkling snow, its skating, skiing and tobogganing at the capital, and the summer with its rivers and lakes and sweet-smelling forests. She loved the broad sweep of the prairies and the mighty mountains as she traveled to the coast—and more than all else, she seemed to love the people.

One recalls many times when the princess has been in the public eye, and each occasion but makes you more conscious of how beautiful she is. It might be at such functions as the Drawing-room of their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught in that regal Senate Chamber in Ottawa, of which nothing now remains but ashes. It might be in Government House when a state ball was in progress. Again it might be in the midst of a lovely garden at a garden party given by their Royal Highnesses that one recalled her. It might be on such occasions, when she smiled on Girl Guides and won their hearts.

While here during the period of the war the princess was devoted to war work. Three times a week she was to be found working at the Red Cross rooms in Ottawa. She sewed and knitted continually, always for the men in khaki. She also kept the Princess Pats provided with comforts. And since her return to England has continually visited them in hospital.

It is better to purchase 12 cents' worth of music daily from an organ-grinder than to owe for a grand piano.

MAPLE LEAF PAINT

It Makes Good Because It's Made Good.

—the millionaire can't buy better paint anywhere.

—and the man who owns the humble cottage can't save money any surer way than with MAPLE LEAF.

MAPLE LEAF PAINT is the slow total motor driven adding machine of paint progress when it comes to comparison with the old pot and paddle days I had to go through.

For the "old man" with his shirt sleeves up and nothing to do on a Saturday afternoon—but a little job of painting—there's nothing to it but MAPLE LEAF and follow the directions on the can. Perhaps he won't need my services, but here's my advice to him:—go to it strong with MAPLE LEAF and the eternal smile will become a permanent fixture on his face—for every time he'll look at the job he'll say MAPLE LEAF for mine every time.

LIGHT ON RED TERROR

GLIMPSES OF THE BOLSHEVIST MENTALITY.

Thousands of People Murdered by Leaders of Russian Revolution—Workmen Were Told to Murder Bourgeois Doctors When They Failed to Cure Patients of the Cholera During Great Epidemic.

WRITING in the World's Work, Arno Dosch-Fleurot gives a wonderfully moving account of the horror in Russia which he has witnessed and endured. He begins his account:

"I was passing before the Chinese Gate of the old Tartar city of Moscow one afternoon last summer when I got a mental snapshot of the red terror that has made a lasting impression on me. The incident was commonplace enough, but the composition of the picture seized the overwrought, terror-held imagination which I in common with every one, even including the Bolsheviki, was suffering from in Russia.

"The ancient Chinese Gate, ever remindful of the soft yielding of the Russians to outside, strange, particularly Oriental influences, was in the background. Before it, conspicuous among the lazy movements of the half-eastern, half-western crowd, passed a tall Mongolian soldier in the common Russian uniform, a bare automatic stuck in his belt flat on his stomach. He walked with a masterly stride like the other Mongolians who passed in and out of that gate hundreds of years ago among the same motley crowd of Russian peasants. And well he might feel his power, for he was one of the executioners hired by the Bolsheviki to take their prisoners—officers, bourgeois, peasants who objected to their dictatorship, anybody they did not like—and, forcing them to kneel in dark corners, to put that same automatic behind their ears and blow their heads off.

"Just as he passed a load of his victims came gliding by. A modern police van, smooth-running, its dark green paint barely scratched, the only neat looking thing left in Moscow, slipped silently across the square into the picture—bound for the Kremlin. It held ordinarily perhaps thirty persons, but was so tightly crowded I could see several heads through the tiny grating at the rear. Among them I recognized a young officer, who was soldier and nothing more. He was arrested simply because he was an officer, taken as a 'hostage,' and, as he was on his way to the Extraordinary Commission Against Counter-Revolution, Speculation and Sabotage, I did not have the slightest expectation of ever seeing him again. I never even knew his fate, nor did his family. He took a ride in the Bolshevist 'tumbril,' and that was all any one ever knew. That is one of the most terrible things about the red terror.

"The next most terrible thing about the terror is that if was undertaken by the Bolsheviki as a political move. They put it into execution coldly, tried it out as an experiment on what the great Socialist newspaper, the 'Vorwaerts,' referred to as the living body of society.' Recently in Sopenhagen, I met a Bolshevik from Moscow and I asked him about the terror. 'Most of us think now it was a mistake,' he replied, calmly. 'A fine time to discover your mistake,' I replied, 'after you have murdered between 25,000 and 50,000 people.' It was in Copenhagen I made this bitter comment. In Moscow, I should not have dared.

"Incidents of actual terrorism are to me all intertwined with parallel examples of Bolshevist mentality, also explicative of the state of mind which could declare a terror. Zinoviev, president of the Petrograd Soviet, for instance, in the same days of July, when the mass arrests of 'bourgeois hostages' were taking place, began intensifying his campaign to rouse the workmen to go out and slaughter the rest of the citizens where found. He had been at it for months, but the Petrograd workmen, played upon as they had been for years by these furious fanatics, would not go out and kill the bourgeoisie in cold blood. Then in July, came the cholera, intensified by the long, slow starvation to which Bolshevist disorganization had subjected the whole of Petrograd. It came violently, a thousand cases in one day, nearly half dying. The city was stricken, every doctor was in the hospitals or working night and day with the sick. Zinoviev, seeing the danger of losing the Bolshevist grip, turned the thoughts of these simple men from the point at issue, as he had done a hundred times before, by delivering a passionate demagogic address, laying the cholera epidemic at the doors of the bourgeoisie, saying it was their doing. That was to be expected of him, but then he went on to say something for which this earth has no fitting punishment. He said that 'we' the workmen, would put a stop to the epidemic, and if the bourgeois doctors did not do their duty, they would be shot on the spot. Emphasizing his point, evidently feeling he had nearly passed his political crisis, he said: 'Any workman who finds a doctor is not doing his duty right must kill him.'

"The Terror is having a certain success. It is gradually killing off all the culture there was in Russia, and if it could go on long enough, there would be simply an aggregation of villages, some at peace, others at war. The cities have steadily disintegrated, and, after a year in power, the Bolsheviki have not one constructive act to their credit. But they are still in power, and while they remain in power the Red Terror will continue."

ALMOST BLIND FROM HEADACHES.

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time. Headache seems habitual with many people; indeed, some are seldom, if ever, free from it, suffering continually, and wondering why they can get no relief.

In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels.

The reason Burdock Blood Bittere makes permanent cures of all cases of headache, is because it starts the organs of elimination acting freely, and the poisons and impurities are carried off from the system, purified blood circulates in the brain cells, and instead of pains and aches there is revived mentality and bodily vigor.

Mrs. Geo. Monck, Arden, Ont., writes: "I have been troubled a great deal with sick headaches, and at times would almost go blind, and have to go to bed. I tried different kinds of medicine without any benefit until I was advised to use Burdock Blood Bitters. After taking it, I have not been troubled since."

Downed the Last Zeppelin.

Now that the many and varied "hush" incidents of the war are coming to light, it will be interesting to tell how a Montreal aviator accounted for the last Zeppelin to be brought down. The aviator was Lieut. Stuart D. Culley, D. S. O., who enlisted in the Royal Naval Service nearly two years ago.

Early Sunday morning, Aug. 11, 1918, word was brought in by motor boats that a Zeppelin had been sighted. When he was some 10,000 feet up, Culley sighted the Zeppelin a considerable distance away. He decided to attack it. He kept straight on until the Zepplin was almost directly over him, when he pulled up the nose of the plane and emptied his machine gun into the bottom of the airship, it being some 200 feet above the plane. The plane itself was 19,000 feet in the air.

In about half a minute or so spurts of flame appeared in several parts of the Zeppelin.

The ships had been watching the performance and immediately the admiral saw the flames he sent this signal to all the ships round about: "Turn to hymn 273, last verse," which is as follows:

"A Happy Band of Pilgrims,
Look upward to the skies,
Where such a light affliction,
Shall win so great a prize."

Later Lieut. Culley was called on by the admiral to stand on the deck of a destroyer while the fleet went by with the crews lining the gunwales cheering him.

After Weakness comes Strength.

In the spring when you're "all in"—fagged out—blood thin, if you will turn to Nature's remedy, a tonic made from wild roots and barks, which has stood fifty years as the best spring tonic—you will find strength regained. No need to tell you it's Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, put up in tablet or liquid form, and sold by every druggist in the land. After a hard winter—shut up indoors, your blood needs a temperance tonic, a tissue-builder and blood-maker such as this "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce's.

STRATFORD, ONT.—"I can highly recommend Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Pellets. I have used these remedies twenty-five years in my family. Had a very bad case of neuralgia and 'Golden Medical Discovery' completely cured me in a very short time. I have given it to all my family, also to my grand children. I had a grand-child last summer that we thought could not live. We gave him the 'Discovery' and he is strong and healthy as any child could be. I am a great believer in Doctor Pierce's Medicines and would not be without them."—Mrs. A. Bowling, 368 Railway Ave.

FORGOT AMERICA'S SIZE.

A Stupid Oversight on the Part of His Lordship.

An English peer, noted for his wealth and his peppery temper, who is president of a large British corporation, with American headquarters in New York, arrived in San Francisco recently from the orient. It was his first American visit.

On the day of his arrival, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, he sent an urgent telegram to his company's New York manager at the latter's office. The message called for an immediate answer.

Receiving no reply by 4:30 o'clock, the peer sent another message expressing his exasperation at not having had a reply sooner. Another hour went and still no answer. Thereupon a thoroughly angry nobleman wired a third time. It was a characteristic pepperbox message. No answer.

Early the next morning the peer got his reply. It was just a crisp business wire, giving the information he wished. There was no explanation as to the delay.

When the Englishman reached New York he went to the manager's office with fire in his eye.

"Why didn't you answer those telegrams of mine promptly?" he demanded. "Do you mean to say you stop business here at 3 o'clock in the afternoon?"

And then he got five minutes' relief by storming around the office, threatening all kinds of disaster to the entire force. He had been nursing the grievance all the way across the continent.

When the peer subsided the manager remarked quietly:

"When you sent your first message it was 6 o'clock in New York and when you sent your last it was 8:30."

The Englishman stared. Then he showed he wasn't such a bad fellow.

"By Jove!" he cried. "How stupid of me! What a belly ass I am! I forgot the size of your country."—New York Times.

Her System.

"I'd like to sell you this new book on synonyms."

"You can't do it."

"If you don't want it yourself, your wife might find it useful."

"My wife! Suffering grief, young man, do you think my wife would stop to look for synonyms! If she's ever at a loss for a word she changes the subject and goes right along."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Cold Wave.

"My husband is almost insanely jealous of me," she said, with ill concealed pride.

"How do you manage it?" her friend asked.

"How do I manage it? What do you mean?"

"Why, you must have some way of making him think that other men admire you."—Chicago Record-Herald.

He Knew Him.

Bill—You know that uncle of yours who lectures?

Jill—I guess I do.

"He told me he had a very attentive audience last night."

"Then he was probably talking to himself."—Yonkers Statesman.

The Age of Technicalities.

"What's this?" asked the lawyer.

"It's the pledge I signed on the first of the year," replied Mr. Bliggins. "I'm too conscientious to deliberately break it, but I wish you'd look it over and see if you can't find a flaw in it."—Washington Star.

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to such in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxims from the stomach liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do

HEADING THE PROCESSION ON MEMORIAL DAY

By M. QUAD

Copyright, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

It was about a week before Memorial day a few years ago that one Horatio Sparrow, a resident of the village of Okemos, entered the drug store in that burg looking as if he had something serious on his mind, and on being encouraged a little he said to the druggist:

"Doc, don't say nothin' to a livin soul, but the town of Okemos is to be jarred from center to circumference this evenin'."

"In what way?" was asked.

"Never you mind, but be at the postoffice at 7 o'clock, meanwhile get ready to feel the earth tremble!"

"Is it dynamite, Horace?" was gasped.

"You be there and see!"

Horatio was a man that never got excited when he woke up in the morning and found a cow in his garden, and the druggist felt quite sure he had something big on hand. He must have told about fifty other people what he told him, for there was a big crowd at the postoffice at 7 o'clock in the evening, and all expected to hear big news. Deacon Holden took charge of things, as usual, and as the crowd got impatient he said:

"It is understood, feller citizens, that Horatio Sparrow is goin' to launch a thunderbolt here tonight, and it is with more than ordinary interest that I call the meetin' to order. Stand out, Horatio, and let's hear all about it."

Horatio stood out. He looked pale, but determined. He'd been thinking for a week of what he was going to say, and he started off as smooth as grease:

"The drums are beatin' a wild alarm. There is a wavin' of flags, a marchin' of men and a wailin' of women and children. War is upon the land. The life of the nation is at stake."

"By John, but that's flow'ry language!" exclaimed the deacon.

"Anything more, Horatio?"

"I jest want to call your attention to the fact that Okemos has never had a Memorial day parade," replied the orator. "We hev never paraded and never decorated."

"By John, but that's a strong p'int!" shouted the deacon. "Hang me if Horatio ain't knockin' things edgeways. No, sir; we've never had a parade nor decorated any graves, and we ought to be ashamed of ourselves. It is your suggestion that we celebrate the day this year, Horatio?"

"That's a p'int, deacon."

"And it's as strong as a log chain. Yes, sir; we'll celebrate the day, and in order to make it a howlin' success I'll agree to take charge of the parade."

"But I object to that," said Horatio. "Hevin' originated this idea, I think it's fur me to ride on horseback at the head of the procession."

There was a painful pause, and then Abner Jones, who was in fireman's uniform, jumped off the counter and said:

"There shouldn't be no jealousy about this thing. Horatio would look purty fine on his spotted horse, and the deacon would be no slouch in his cocked hat, but if there's to be any feelin' over it I'll take the job off their hands. As I'm foreman of the fire company, it comes in my line anyhow."

"I don't propose to give up my right for nobody," said Horatio.

"And I'm thinkin' I'm the man to boss things," added the deacon.

"It appears to me," said Silas Lapham as he stood up and rubbed his hands together, "that we are not workin' in complete harmony in this matter. It will be the event of the century. Let us sacrifice any selfish interests as individuals and work to make the affair a general success."

"That's powerful good advice," said the deacon as he rapped on the stove with his cane—"powerful good. I allus stand ready to sacrifice, and I hope the rest of you do. Any further p'int, Silas?"

"You can call it a p'int or not," said Silas, "but bein' there seems to be a controversy here, I think it better be settled by selectin' me to boss things."

"I'll never surrender my rights!" said Horatio Sparrow.

"Nor me!" added Deacon Holden.

"Nor me!" yelled Abner Jones.

It was evident that the meeting was on the point of breaking up in a row when Joe Richard came sauntering in as calmly as could be. The deacon saw him and called out:

"Feller patriots, before this meetin' breaks up in a row that will send the price of Okemos real estate down 50 per cent and put our civilizashun back fifty years let's hear what Joe Richard has to say about it."

"What's the question?" asked Joe.

"About Memorial day. Shall we decorate?"

"Decorate what?"

"Why, the soldiers' graves."

"I don't see how you are goin' to do it," said Joe as he scratched his ear. "So fur as I know or hev bin able to find out nobody from Okemos went to war. It therefore follers that no Okemos man was ever killed. It follers, ag'in, that you might look the graveyard over fur a month and not find a soldier's grave to decorate. 'Pears to me that you had better git yer grave dust."

Two minutes later Joe was the only man left in the postoffice. It was as he had said—there was nothing to decorate, and all the blowing had been for nothing.

"Pinched" Her Own Flowers.

To a hospital for wounded soldiers the queen of England recently sent an exceptionally beautiful bouquet that had been presented to her. The inmates received the gift with much pleasure, says an English periodical, and to show their appreciation of her majesty's kindness and to prove that the flowers had arrived safely they commissioned one of their number to stand at the hospital gate the following morning when the queen passed. The result was a tremendous surprise. Queen Mary, seated in her car, saw the soldier standing at the gate, bouquet in hand, and, assuming that he wished to present it to her, she had the car stopped. As the soldier exhibited the bouquet the queen took it in her hand, remarked upon its beauty, calmly appropriated it and gave word for the car to go on. The soldier stared in amazement. Then, recovering his speech, he said: "Well, she's pinched 'em!"

Where Courage Faltered.

The man of great financial prominence met with an accident.

"We'll have to probe," said the doctor.

Just at that moment the man recovered consciousness and exclaimed:

"If it's a surgical operation go ahead, but if it's another investigation give me an anesthetic."—Washington Star.

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR

A small bottle of "Danderine" makes hair thick, glossy and wavy.

Removes all dandruff, stops itching scalp and falling hair.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—it costs but a few cents—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you can not find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp, and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries it.

TO THE PUBLIC:-

A cordial invitation is extended to the citizens of Peterboro and the surrounding district, to make a visit of inspection to our newly altered and enlarged store, which is now ready and re-stocked with large shipments of new furniture which have lately arrived and are arriving daily.

Our greatly increased floor space and much better facilities for exhibiting our high-grade furniture, makes it a pleasure both to visit our store and to show our goods. This invitation is intended to make everybody feel free to come in whether intending to buy or not. There will be no pressing of visitors to purchase, but any who wish to secure something nice from our stock will be given the article or articles at special re-opening prices and a still further accommodation of easy terms of payment if such is desired. We hope that many who have not got acquainted with our store, as well as our old friends, will avail themselves of this special invitation to see our new greatly improved interior, even if only to look around.

Special Prices To Continue

WE ARE STILL SACRIFICING WOOD IN ORDER TO CLEAR OUR YARD.

For the past two days our special prices in wood have created considerable new business with the result we have decided to continue these special prices all this week. We need the room in our yard when the sowing season opens in about two or three weeks' time. You can profit by our needs. With coal going to fourteen dollars a ton it stands to reason that wood will be dearer before it will be cheaper and the following prices which we quote for the remainder of the week should appeal to those in need of wood.

Slabs—Four dollars a cord.
Mixed wood—Nine dollars a cord.
Hardwood—Ten dollars a cord.

This wood is of good quality and is cut in stove lengths already for use. Peterborough Planing Mill wood yard, opposite the Braund Building, Charlotte street. Telephone 86. Call and inspect the wood.

Peterboro Had a Large Contingent at the Dance Last Evening in Hastings

Ex-Mayor J. J. Duffus Gave a Ten Minute Address—Many Who Travelled by Road Failed to Reach Destination.

SOME OF THOSE WHO WERE PRESENT

(By Staff Reporter.)

East met West at the monster dedication dance held last evening in the newly completed tannery building in Hastings. The invitation list included a thousand guests, and it is estimated that about eight hundred were present. They came from as far east as Montreal and as far west as Toronto, and included nearly all the smaller towns within a radius of fifty miles. The dance which was one of the largest of its kind ever held in the county, was a success, and the Hastings Chapter of the I.O.D.E., under whose auspices it was held, are to be commended for the enterprise which characterized their effort.

The opening of the tannery following the disastrous fire of a year ago, prompted the Chapter to celebrate the occasion and at the same time provide funds for a memorial which it is proposed to erect in Hastings.

The patronesses were Mrs. McGrail, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Spellman, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Gould, and Mrs. Walsh. Miss E. S. Fowlds acted as secretary. The stewards were Messrs T. McManus, T. Coughlan, J. Armstrong, J. M. Fowlds and J. McCarthy. The ladies arranged that all returned soldiers and clergy should be admitted free.

The short programme preceding the dancing was abbreviated considerably by the weather. Light showers succeeded one another in rapid succession all day and up to the beginning of the dance. Rumours spread that fifteen motor cars of Peterborough people bound for Hastings were compelled to turn back because of the condition of the roads. For the same reason Mr. James Thompson, M.P.P. of East Peterborough, and Mr. J. H. Sexsmith, M.P. of the same constituency, were unable to be present, thus leaving a blank in their place on the programme. Mr. W. Foulds was the capable chairman of the evening, and carefully traced the growth and history of the Hastings Tannery. Mr. Briethaupt, the owner of the plant, formally welcomed the visitors and gave the building over to their care for the evening.

Ex-Mayor J. J. Duffus, of Peterborough, excelled himself as a ten-minute speaker, on behalf of Peterbotough, congratulating Hastings on its new industry and wishing every success to the proprietors.

Mrs. A. L. Amys, of Peterborough, contributed a fine solo, which was heartily enjoyed by everybody.

Mr. Munson, M.P. of East Northumberland, spoke briefly of the possibilities of Hastings, and expressed the belief that in a few years hundreds of boats would ply up and down the Trent, making Hastings a real live and prosperous town.

A Big Future.

Father Brotherton, who first mooted the possibilities of holding a dance in the new Tannery, told how he had watched the construction of the huge building since the foundation was laid. "I have walked on every board in the building, including the roof," he declared.

Rev. D. A. Thompson, of the Presbyterian Church, and Rev. Mr. McKim, of the Anglican Church, prophesied a brilliant and prosperous future for Hastings.

The huge hall was gaily decorated with the colours of the Allies, while evergreen festoons lent a holiday effect and contrasted perfectly with the gowns. The right hand quarter of the floor was railed off and used to help seat the throng. In the northwest corner, Mr. Fred. Hooper presided over steaming cauldrons of coffee, dozens of freezers of ice cream, and cake of various kinds measured off by the yard.

The Music.

The centre of the floor was occupied by an elevated stand, upon which Strathdee's celebrated seven-piece orchestra dispensed music until 3.30 a.m. A feature of the music was the performance of Mr. Swain, a saxaphone player, returned from overseas, who possessed an unusually fine voice. He sang almost every dance, mingling with the dancers, while Mr. Kelly, the violinist, followed him in his meanderings as accompanist. Between dances the orchestra gave classical musical programmes. Mr. Bailey, the drum and trap artist, camared all evening, and his genuine wit and humour was appreciated by every one.

So successful was the dance that it is already rumoured that another dance will be held in the Tannery in the near future.

See page one for the invitation list.

Proposal Is Not Approved

Calgary G.W.V.A. Would Put Immense Burden on the Country.

(Special to the Examiner.)

TORONTO, May 3.—If Calgary G..W..V..A.. had its way, the Canadian Government would pay $1,000 to every soldier in the C..E..F.. who served in Canada, $1,500 to any soldier who went overseas, and $2,000 to any soldier who served in an actual theatre of war.

This proposal is not meeting with much approval in war veteran circles in Ontario. It is realised by most of the men that it would put an immense burden on Canada—an almost impossible one. A G..W..V..A.. official here gave a reporter this estimate of what the proposition would mean, based on the number of men in the three classes mentioned:

First—141,000, $141,000,000.
Second—116,000, $174,000,000.
Third—160,000, $320,000,000.
Totals—417,000, $635,000,000.

This estimate is meant to cover only the volunteer part of the Canadian Army..

A RECITAL AT THE CONSERVATORY

Miss Edwina Palmer and Miss Agnes Logan Will Take Part.

A recital of more than usual interest will be given on Wednesday evening in the Conservatory of Music when Miss Edwina Palmer, a well-known violinist will appear and will be assisted by little Miss Agnes Logan. Miss Palmer was first a pupil then a teacher at the local Conservatory of Music and has completed two years under a prominent teacher in the Toronto Conservatory of Music She is leaving in a short time for Belgium where she will continue her studies. Silver collection which will go to the Conservatory Orchestra.

BUTTER DOWN THIS MORNING

Few Changes in To-day's Market Prices.

At the market this morning prices for farm produce were lower than last week which the farmers accounted for by the fact the cattle are now able to get grass.

Butter sold as low as 55 cents a pound but the bulk went at 58 cents

Eggs sold at 40 and 43 cents a dozen.

Chicken sold at 38 cents a pound and turkey at 50 cents a pound.

Potatoes sold at $1.90 a bag.

Apples of an inferior quality were sold at 70 cents a peck.

INSPECTORS WILL WATCH BORDERS

Undesirables to Be Kept Out of Canada.

Special to the Examiner:

WINNIPEG, Man., May. 3.—As a result of an Order-in-Council, signed yesterday afternoon by the Governor-General, prohibiting the immigration of Doukhobors, Mennonites and Hutterites in Canada, immigration inspectors at the border points in Manitoba were instructed to-day to debar the entrance of such sects. Instructions urged the inspectors to use the utmost vigilance in enforcing this regulation. The Order declares these sects to be undesirable and opposed to assimilating Canadian ideals of citizenship.

"AT HOME"

An "At Home" will be held, under the apspices of St. Anthony's Sewing Society of the Sacred Heart church, on Wednesday evening, May 7th, in St. Alphonsus 'Lyceum. There will be first and second prizes for both ladies and gentlemen. Good music for dancing and extra good lunch. 3d-104

THE PEACE CONFERENCE

Treaty is Almost Complete Except for a Few Details.

AUSTRIAN DELEGATION

(Canadian Press.)

London, May 3. — The Germans will be given a maximum period of 15 days in which to accept or reject the treaty of peace, according to a Paris despatch. There will be no oral discussions of the terms, but the Germans may present their written propositions to the allies, who will reply in writing.

The Germans must present all their counter proposals within the time limit, but if these are presented during the later days of the period, the allies reserve the right to exceed the time limit in making their reply.

Still in Balance.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, May 3.— Italian issue is still in balance, with Camille Barrere, French Ambassador, and Thomas Nelson Page, American Ambassador, both making efforts at Rome to find, by conversations with Premier Orlando, a formula which will heal the breach caused by withdrawal of Italian delegation to the Peace Conference. The Italian Premier is said to show a disposition to resume relations, but thinks that overtures should come from Paris.

Presentation of Terms.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, May 3. — Presentation of peace terms to the Germans will not take place before Wednesday, May 7, according to present indications. Important progress has been made, however, in solving problems remaining before the final shaping of the treaty. The Echo De Paris says that the Council of Three yesterday adopted the motion of the treaty dealing with Alsace and Lorraine, which are given to France, ownership of railways included. The Council also fixed the status of Luxemburg, this newspaper adds, completely severing the Grand Duchy from Germany. Now that the peace terms are to be handed over to the Germans, newspapers point out that the summoning of Austro-Hungarian delegates seems probable, and they voice the expectation that an invitation of an amicable sort will be sent to Italy, requesting the presence of her delegates.

"Cold But Correct."

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, May 3.—In a German wireless picked up in Paris the first meeting of German delegates with representatives of the Allies is described at length. The attitude of French officials is characterized as "cold but correct." The message declares that the French and British press treat the arrival of the Germans as a matter of minor importance, and American press has displayed similar indifference. June first is given as the probable date of signing the treaty.

Still Arriving.

(Canadian Press.)

VERSAILLES, May 3.—German delegation to the Peace Congress is rapidly assuming the position of equality, in numbers at least, with delegations of various Allied and Associated Powers. Twenty more suburbanites of delegation arrived in Versailles last evening and this morning, travelling on regular trains under escort. Their arrival brings the roster of the delegation to a total of 218, while still more arrivals are expected. A brisk interchange of telegrams is in progress with Berlin and couriers leave daily for the German capital.

Plant For Recharging Batteries Complete

Five Gallon Gasoline Pumper in Action Day and Evening.

We beg to announce that our plant for recharging batteries is now complete and in perfect working order. Also that our system is complete so that we can put air in the tires of three cars at once, that is on the street, ground floor and in the basement.

Our five gallon gasolene pumper is in action day and evening, with Mr. Bert Lucas in charge at all times, which assures strict attention and no waiting.

We handle only the highest grades of oils, greases and gasolene.

Soldiers Homes In Prairie Provinces

Plans Have Been Completed for Several Types That Will Meet Many Needs.

MODERATE PRICES

(Special to the Examiner.)

TORONTO, May 3.—Plans have been completed by the Federal Soldier Settlement Board for supplying standard houses to soldier settlers in the prairie provinces. Four types are contemplated, ranging in price from $300 to $775, beginning with a moderately convenient and comfortable two-roomed house, suited to the needs of a bachelor settler, which can be erected for $300. This house is 17 feet 10 inches by 14 feet, and is so constructed that as the home needs of the farmer increase he can add to it without waste of material used in the original construction.

This house is called type A. Type B is merely an extension of A, one room being added and basement excavated. This building, which has dimensions of 24 feet by 14 feet when completed, will cost approximately $590. Type C is B with a portion of the roof lifted and an upstairs bedroom added, at a total cost of $700.. Type D is the same as C, with the remainder of roof lifted and two extra upstairs bedrooms added, the cost complete of D being approximately $775. This type of house will give the farmer living-room, kitchen and parlour downstairs, and three bedrooms upstairs.

If in the course of time he requires a still more pretentious home, plans are being prepared by the Board for a wing, which will give him a much more commodious and comfortable structure. Great care has been given by the Board's architect to combine cheapness of construction with utility.

M'MURRAY FINED $500 AND COSTS

Prisoner Pleaded Guilty to Charge of Being a Defaulter.

Dan. McMurray, charged with being a defaulter, whose case was remanded until to-day, pleaded guilty to the charge. Mr. C. R. Widdifield conducted the defence. He pleaded for leniency because of exceptional circumstances, which rendered his presence on the farm absolutely necessary. McMurray admits that he received the notification to report for duty on May 10, 1918, but he has never been medically examined. He received exemption once as long as he remained on the farm, but this with all others was cancelled.

Magistrate Dumble refused to take any extenuating statements.

"What is the use of making criminals of our Canadian manhood when justice can be just as well served with a fine?" pleaded Mr. Widdifield.

"I am ashamed of these men," stated the Magistrate. "They are the land gentry of Canada to-day, and they should defend their homes."

"Let this be a lesson to the other young men who are hiding," said Crown Attorney Hatton. "They will all be punished sooner or later, and they might as well make up their minds sooner or later."

Mr. Widdifield—"The father said he couldn't make his boy go."

He was fined $500 and $14.10 costs, to be paid within 5 days, with an alternative of one year in Guelph Prison Farm.

NO CHANGE IN THE STRIKE SITUATION

There were no changes in the local strike situation this morning. Several of the men stated that they expected widespread report if necessary.

The city's labourers may go out on Monday it was stated this morning.

Last night Mr. John Noble of Toronto, addressed the machinists and electrical workers.

OFFER REFUSED.

Roumanians Continue to March on Budapest.

(Canadian Press.)

GENEVA, May 3.—Roumanains and Czecho-Slovak Governments, according to reports received here, have refused to entertain the offer of Bela Kun, Hungarian Foreign Minister, to accept territorial concessions providing that fighting be stopped on all fronts. The Roumanians and Czechs continue to march on Budapest.

Week's Business at the Labour Bureau

Thirty-five Applicants for Work Placed in Positions—Business for April.

FARM HELP

During the past month, of 278 applications for work the Labour Bureau placed 158 men, most of whom were unskilled workmen. One hundred and sixty-four applications from the employers for help were received at the bureau, and of these all were filled outside of six for farm help. Thirty-seven men were placed on farms in the county through the Bureau.

Week's Business.

Of 61 applications for work, 35 were placed during the week ending last night, while 58 vacancies were reported. One school teacher was transferred to the North-West and one woman found office work..

In the returned soldiers' department, it was reported that vocational training was becoming more and more sought, and during the week several applications were filed for such. Of 50 applications from returned soldiers for work, 23 were placed through Captain Morrison.

JOHNSTON ENTERED A PLEA OF GUILTY

A Fine of Five Hundred and Costs Imposed.

In the police court this morning, John Johnston changed his plea of not guilty, which he entered last Monday to guilty on the charge of having liquor in a place other than his private residence.

"He is an American," stated Mr. O'Brien, for the defence, who came over to Canada and fought with the British.

Johnston was apprehended last Wednesday by Inspector J. Stewart, in Otonabee township.

He was in charge of a democrat containing fifteen cases of whiskey, and was driving into Peterboro from Norwood.

A fine of $500 and costs, amounting to $18.14 was imposed. He paid the fine.

Service of Song at Trinity Church

On Sunday evening the choir of Trinity Methodist church will give a special programme of music. Mr. King will give an organ recital from 6.45 p. m. to 7 p.m. The pastor's evening theme will be, "A Remarkable Offer."

At the morning service the Sacrament of the Lord's supper will be celebrated, when the pastor will preach a short sermon on "The Death of Christ." A full attendance of both adult and junior members is requested.

NEW MEMBERS FOR BOARD OF TRADE

The Board of Trade will have many new members to record as a result of the efforts of the Retail Merchants in their membership campaign. The business section of the city has been laid out in sections and a team appointed to canvass each. The supervision of the campaign is in the hands of Mr. R. John Kidd, managing director of the Robert Neill Limited.

Eleven teams are at work in the several districts as follows: Messrs. Dickson Hall and Ernest L. Payne will call on the Retailers on Simcoe and Charlotte streets, while Brock and Hunter streets and East City have been assigned to Messrs. Michael J. Maher and H. Abrahamson. The merchants on George street will be visited by Messrs. Ernest F. Mason and H. E. Hodgens; Messrs. Alva W. Cressman and C. E. Smith; Messrs. R. J. Kidd and Wm. E. Conway; Messrs. Wm. D. Campbell and James H. Connal, and Messrs. Edgar J. Burnham and W. B. Warne. To Jos. J. Duffus and Coleman Moucur fall the duty of canvassing Water street. Brownton and the extreme south end of the city will be attended to by Messrs. D. M. Minnicola and W. J. Routley. Messrs. John W. McDermid, Robert G. Kingan, Jos. John, and Louis J. Picard have been assigned the territory not already mentioned.

Owner Wanted For Whiskey

Half a Million Dollars Worth of "Red Eye" Will Be Sold at Auction.

Special to the Examiner:

DETROIT, Mich., May 3.—Michigan has turned exporter of whisky, and within a couple of days will export at least $500,000 worth of the stuff to Ohio. This liquor has been seized by the Government within the last year, and has been held in the Government storage warehouse here. The warehouse is taxed to its capacity to hold the booze, and is to be sold, as it is illegal to sell whisky in Michigan. This great quantity of liquor will be sent to Toledo and sold at auction. Much of it came from Toledo originally, and after its many adventures is to find its way home again. Under the Government's method of procedure, the whisky, after having been seized, was advertised as having been lost and waiting for an owner to claim it. Naturally, no claimant presented himself, and the goods were labelled, and now are to be sold at auction as is the custom with seized goods of all descriptions.

PETERBORO'S NEW MALE QUARTETTE

New Organization Will Be Available for Concerts and Banquets.

This new organization will be known as the Electric City Male Quartette, and is composed of four of Peterborough's leading male vocalists, 1st tenor Mr. Edward Humpage, 2nd tenor Mr. J. G. Graham, 1st baritone Mr. Tom Ward, 2nd baritone Mr. Asa Huycke.

The quartette will be available for concerts, banquets, etc., and can provide an entire evening's entertainment if required. They have already several engagements and will make their initial appearance at the Murray street Baptist choir concert, Tuesday evening, May 6th. The quartette is under the management and direction of Mr. Asa Huycke.

ESCAPED PRISON IN GERMANY

The Only Canadian-born Officer Who Accomplished This Feat.

Lieut. Beverley Robinson, R.A.F., who joined the Royal Flying Corps in England in April, 1915, was captured by the Germans in November while flying in a storm crossing the German lines at 400 feet. His control and instruments were smashed, and his aeroplane riddled with rifle and machine gun fire from the German trenches. He himself had four bullet holes through his coat. He spent two and a half years as a prisoner of war in Germany. He was in nine different prisons in widely separted parts of the country.

After numerous attempts to escape, he finally accomplished it by reaching Holland.

On Friday evening, May 9th, he will tell the whole story in St. Paul's Church, under the auspices of the Great War Veterans' Association.

He is speaking from coast to coast, and an immense crowd will assuredly turn out to hear him.

Dominion Express Money Order for five dollars costs three cents.

CANADIAN ACQUITTED

Was Tried on Charge of Joining in a Meeting at Rhyl Camp.

ANOTHER CASE

Canadian Press:

LIVERPOOL, May 3. — Signaller Jas. Park Houston, of the Canadian Reserve Artillery, was yesterday acquitted on the charge of joining in the mutiny and failing to use his best endeavours to suppress the recent disturbances at Rhyl Camp.

Private Jno. Crane, of the Forestry Corps, is being tried on similar charges. He admitted he had been drinking previous to the trouble. The Court has called for character evidence.

FRANK JENNE Says:

"We naturally paused a bit when one of our returned soldiers looked at himself in the mirror and pronounced his satisfaction by saying, 'This is a ripping fine suit.' It wasn't just as flattering as we would wish — an inappropriate selection of the qualifying adjective 'ripping.'

"One thing about Semi-ready tailoring which has helped it to grow and grow for twenty-five years is the fact that we cheerfully make every suit give the service the wearer expects from it.

"No business could survive and prosper otherwise—no business could compete with and pass all others as Semi-ready has done, unless it has some sterling and outstanding qualities."

THE IMMIGRATION PROBLEM.

There will be many Canadians who will be inclined to agree with Dr. W. D. Cowan, member for Regina, that what the Dominion requires is not a permanent exclusion of foreigners, but rather a breathing space to give an opportunity of assimilating those who have already come in. In the early days of the settlement of the West, Dr. Cowan points out, the foreigners were anxious to learn English and to become Canadians. It was only when the numbers increased enormously and they were allowed to settle in communities by themselves that the trouble commenced. There seems no doubt that the permitting of Galicians, Austrians, and other Europeans to form groups of their own nationalities has had everything to do with the present unsatisfactory condition of affairs of the West. Education seems to be the solution of the problem, and in this connection the change in the educational policy in Saskatchewan will be welcomed. Hitherto it has been left for the people of any particular locality to decide whether or not they wanted a school. Now the province will in any case build the school and make provision for seeing that the children attend wherever possible. Regina itself has succeeded admirably in dealing with the education of the foreign children, and according to Dr. Cowan the results achieved through the school system of that city have been astonishing.

Incidentally the intemperate language used by such firebrands as Dr. Edwards in the House of Commons in describing foreigners as "cattle" is not likely to make the problem of their assimilation any easier.

WORK ON THE FARMS.
